Items of General Interest Clipped From our Exchanges.

Orange County Observer. News reached Hillsboro Sunday of a very serious accident that happened to Mrs. William S. Strudwick, of Hillsboro who is visiting her nephew, Joe Waters, on Orange street, Wilmington, N. C. It seems she was out in the yard and was going up the steps into the house, when she fell fracturing a hip joint. Mrs. Strudwick is about 74 years of age and she has a host of friends here who are very much concerned about her and will pray for her speedy recovery. Sheppard Strudwick and sister, Miss Annie Strudwick, are attending the bedside of their mother.

Alamance Gleaner. L. Banks Holt has sold his Oak Grove Farm situated between big Alamance and Stinking Quarter creeks. The purchaser is the Alamance Insurance and Real Estate Co. at the price of $23,000. This magnificent farm embraces about 900 acres, is one of the largest in the county.

Greensboro Patriot. Dempsey Brown who left Guilford county for Missouri soon after the civil war, is back on a visit to his brother-in-law, Dr. J. G. Ector, of Guilford College, and other relatives and friends in this section. Mr. Brown settled in Pettis county, Mo., and is one of the most prominent farmers in his section of the state. His friends of former days are glad to see him back in Guilford on a visit and are pleased to know that he has prospered in his adopted home.

The whiskey prescription business in Greensboro during the month of January broke the record since prohibition went into effect and the city authorities began keeping "tab" on the amount of intoxicants sold legally. During the first month of the year 859 prescriptions were filled, this being an increase of 176 over the previous month. The January prescriptions called for 126 gallons as against 68 gallons in December. From which it appears that there was a lot of sickness in Greensboro last month.

At. Airy Leader. During last week fifteen inches of snow fell beyond the Blue Ridge Mountains in Carroll and Grayson counties, Virginia. It is learned that the snow is still twelve inches deep on a level and the drifts, in some instances, are at least ten feet deep.

Belton Republican. There is some interest being manifested over the Kernersville Postoffice, this county, and Mr. Beeson, who is a candidate for re-appointment we learn will find other candidates in the persons of Messrs. Lowery, Pegg and Edwards.

Wilkes Patriot. A small child belonging to Vira Church, whose home is near Vannoy was burned to death some days ago, by accidentally falling into an open fire place. The child was burned completely and the body was burned almost into a crisp. No one happened to be present who could render the child assistance, until too late to save its life.

Charged With Discriminating. Ohio State Journal. The amplitudinous female hat has become a subject of discussion in the Interstate Commerce Commission. The express companies consider the size of the box that carries the millinery rather than the weight of it, and charge accordingly. They have done this for three years, but now the hats have become so much larger, and the boxes, and the cost of carriage, too, that the millinery people have appealed to the aforesaid commission.

Struck A Rich Mine. S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala. says he struck a perfect mine of health in Dr. King's New Life Pills for they cured him of Liver and Kidney Trouble after 12 years of suffering. They are the best pills on earth for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia, Debility. 25c at Freeman Drug Co.

A Thrilling Detective Story Free. Another of the Famous Series of Mystery Stories in the New York Sunday World Fiction Series begins Sunday, Feb. 13. The title of this story is "The House Opposite." It is, if such a thing be possible, a more dramatic story than "The House of the Whispering Pines" or "The Leavenworth Case," both of which have appeared in the book section given free each Sunday with The World. This story, "The House Opposite," begins with an installment of about 15,000 words, and 20,000 words will be issued each week until the story is completed in five fully illustrated installments. The plot of "The House Opposite" is laid in NEW YORK; that is, in the million-dollar apartment house district of the upper west side. The demand for copies of the Sunday World containing this story will be great. To secure a copy, order from newsdealer today.

several days ago, died Sunday afternoon, after several days of intense suffering. The age of the unfortunate man was about forty. He leaves a wife and four small children. The body was buried at Shady Grove Monday afternoon.

Chapel Hill News. Earnest Smith who was hurt in a wreck on the Southern road, some time ago, left Monday for Washington City, to consult a specialist about his condition. Mr. Smith has never fully recovered from a wound he received on the head.

Raleigh Caucasian. Two houses on South West st. were destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. The wind was blowing a perfect gale, and for a time the houses in the entire neighborhood were in danger. While going to this fire, the rescue wagon was overturned, and the driver, Pete Hinnant was thrown violently to the ground and received serious injuries on the head, he was carried to Rex Hospital and is gradually improving.

There were fifty-three applicants for law license to stand the examination before the State Supreme Court in Raleigh Monday. Four of the number are negroes. Fifty-five had registered to take the course, but two of the number did not show up. About fifteen had certificates from the State University, and Wake Forest sent down twenty. It will be several days before the names of the successful applicants will be announced.

Wednesday, February 16, 1910.

It is not the high cost of living, but the cost of high living that is worrying the country.

We presume the little sarcastic squibs in the last issue of the Burlington News were intended as a prelude to some more juggling.

The ground hog may have been knocked out, but the weather last Friday indicated that the pesky thing was getting in his work in dead earnest.

In view of the present condition of our streets and side walks do you think we need a bond issue. Make up your verdict and take your stand accordingly.

We wish to remind our contemporary, the Burlington News, that during the Cleveland panic the people did not eat meat. It was soup dear contemporary, and served at a public soup house at that.

If prohibition would prohibit, then not near so many people would favor it. It is the fellow who knows he can get his and does not want the other man to have any, that bleats loudest for prohibition.

Whether you are for bonds or not, you must pay your poll tax before you will be allowed to vote. Pay early, do it today. If you put it off until the last minute, something may happen to prevent you from paying, and then you will be disfranchised.

In the days of the 18 to 1 era the Democratic press were clamoring for the relief of the poor down trodden farmer. Now since that brother sits at the head of the table, they are again clamoring for the public soup houses. The hog will return to his mire, and the dog to his vomit.

Since our friends, the Democrats, have opened the campaign, we thought we would do a little proselyting upon our own account. Therefore Mr. Republican, have you paid your poll tax for 1909? Remember you must do this on or before May 1st, or you will not be allowed to vote. Don't put this matter off, but pay it today.

Charges and counter charges of greed graft and wrong doing are hurled thick and fast at some of the municipal officers of Greensboro these days. Who would have thought such a thing could have happened in the banner Democratic stronghold of North Carolina, and yet they say that the Democrats are the only people that can give good government. What rot.

Rev. R. L. Davis seems to have stirred up a little life in our sister town Mebane, in his address on "How to kill the blind tiger." Brother Foy does not mince matters in his, more than a column, account of the address and he in no uncertain language very aptly says that the whiskey problem has not been solved by the enactment of the prohibition law. The figures of expert jugglers to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Burlington News should be a little more consistent and get his arguments closer connected. In one breath he blows hot and in the next he blows cold. But this is about as near as the average Democrat can get to a fixed purpose, in fact they have no fixed purpose, the leaders are just drifting from one thing to another, and do not know what they want. Just any old thing, so it favors of socialistic or 16 to 1 features and they jump upon it like a hungry dog on a bone.

We feel that our position in regard to the prohibition question has been misconstrued by some of our over zealous friends. We desire to say right here, once for all, that the fact of the non enforcement of the law has led us to take the stand we have in the matter. So long as there is no effort, save from the pulpit, to curb the liquor traffic, we shall not change our position. When such laws are so flagrantly violated we shall continue to assail them, not only the prohibition law, but any other law that may need the censure of an outraged public.

One would suppose from reading our esteemed contemporary, the Burlington News, that we were living in times of a panic, when people had to be fed at public soup houses and armies of stalwart men were tramping the country in search of employment. But thanks be to a wise administration of our national affairs, such is not the case. We are living in a land of plenty, and there is plenty of work too, no one is idle, who wants employment. It makes no difference to the wage-earner if the necessities of life are high, when he has the price, but if they are cheap and he has not the price, then what? To the soup house dear contemporary.

Call It What You Please. In the last issue of the Alliance Gleaner, a well wisher in the juggling feature of our neighbor and esteemed contemporary, the Burlington News, gets off the following pithy local in regard to what he is pleased to term a sparring match over the county finances:

The Burlington News and State Dispatch are having a sparring match over the expense accounts of the Democratic Board of County Commissioners and the last Republican Board. Of course the people of the county will watch with interest the result of this wordy combat. We must say it's mighty cool weather now to warm up over politics, but we hope the News will hold its ground and lay the Dispatch in the shade, though a bit cool to take the shade."

Well, neighbor we admit it is a little cool for such a combat, but we will make you all think you are living in a tropical climate if you persist in juggling the figures on us. We propose to try to keep history straight, and if you get in the wrong path, we shall endeavor, with facts and figures to set you aright. We shall not allow such departures from the paths of truth, as was attempted by our neighbor, the News, to pass unchallenged and unbranded as a falsehood intended to deceive the unsuspecting.

High Cost of Living, The Reason. Much interest is being evinced and much discussion coming on regarding the high cost of living, but the discussions are mostly such as are presented by the politicians along demagogue lines, for the sake of making political capital to serve the purpose of discrediting the present wise administration of the affairs of the government by the Republican party.

To get at the real cause of the advance in the cost of living let us take up the several causes which contribute thereto and examine them separately. The first cause for the advance in the price of food stuff—such as are the necessities of life—is the increased output of gold—which is the standard of value the world over, and which increase has lessened the purchasing power, just as the free and unlimited coinage of silver would have lessened the purchasing power of that currency.

Next, through and by the means of the wise protective tariff system of the Republican party, the demand for labor of all kinds has been greatly increased, thereby greatly raising the wage scale of the laboring classes. An increase of wages has increased the power of the wage earners to purchase the products of the farm, garden and orchard, and just here the law of supply and demand steps in and takes a hand in the business of the country. Increase the demand and consumption of any product of the farm or factory and at once the supply will diminish and prices advance.

Now these are the two prime factors for the cause of the high cost of living. To these may be added several minor causes, all of which plays a part in the advance of the prices of articles which are considered the necessities of life. One of these minor causes was pointed out by Secretary Wilson in a speech delivered at Philadelphia not long since, when he stated that the farm, garden and orchard was being abandoned by the young men of the country for the more attractive pursuits of the factories and other industries of the cities, whereby the products of the farm were not keeping pace with the demand.

Then again, the American people are the best housed, the best clothed and best fed people in the world. Every year they take a step forward and reach up higher in the way of living. What is more than a half century ago was considered luxuries are now looked upon as the necessities of life.

The conditions that now prevail throughout the country are just those that Bryan and the Democracy clamored for and promised in 1896, if they were given the power. The poor down trodden farmer and the low prices of farm products were their slogan in that memorable campaign. Now that the farmer is coming in "for his own" the Democracy is still disconsolate and raises a great hue and cry against the high cost of living.

Merchants Association Meeting

The regular meeting of the Merchants Association for February will be held Thursday night February 17th. at 7:30 p. m. in the Swananoa Club room. Every member is urged to attend. Important business for your consideration. Jno. R. Hoffman, Secretary.

Telephone Improvements.

The new directory of the Southern Bell Telephone Company has been delivered to the subscribers in Burlington by Manager R. S. Williams. The new directory is attractive in appearance and contains all the changes and corrections in listings that have been made since the last directory was printed. The number of new phones appearing in the list would indicate that there are constant additions to the number of subscribers in Burlington and vicinity and the telephone development is continuous.

The Southern Bell Company has evolved a plan whereby it furnishes telephone service to farmers and other rural residents on an economical basis. As a result the telephone is now the rule, rather than the exception, on the farm and farmers in all sections of the State are installing telephones in their homes.

The plant of the Southern Bell Company in Burlington is maintained at a high state of efficiency and the subscribers are well satisfied with the service they are securing.

Mr. Knott is survived by his son and one sister, who extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

Strong Endorsement.

Mothers and Fathers, for the Lord's sake and your sake, read the following:
My wife, on Dec. 10th, contracted pneumonia and she gave birth to a child in the meantime. The Doctor told me to see her two or three times during the day and did so, but she could not get up, but she seemed to grow worse. She had a terrible pain in her right side that sometimes would cause her to faint. We tried everything for that we knew of, but nothing seemed to do any good. She was suffering so much I went after the Doctor again and he remarked to me that it was not worth while for him to come, he had done all he could. He also told me of some friends that she was bound to see, but as a good doctor will do, he came over and wrote a prescription for my wife. I had it filled and gave it to her, but it did not do her any good. When we had given up hope Mrs. Steed came and told me to get a box of Mother's Joy and rub my wife and she believed it would cure her. I gave her the box of Mother's Joy and she rubbed it on as directed and in fifteen minutes she was asleep and slept all night, had not slept any in five nights before applying Mother's Joy. I sincerely believe that it had not been for Mother's Joy my wife would have been dead. I have sworn to this statement that every mother and father should know what Mother's Joy is.
