Subscription, One Dollar per year, payable in advance.

All communications in regard to either news items or business matters should be addressed to The State Dispatch and not to any individual connected with the paper.

All news notes and communications of importance must be signed by the writer. We are not responsible for opinions of our correspondents.

Subscribers will take notice that no receipt for subscription for The State Dispatch will be honored at this office unless it is numbered with stamped figures.

Entered as second-class matter May 20, 1908, at the post office at Burlington, North Carolina, under the Act of Congress of March 3 1879.

Wednesday, March 30, 1910.

There was once upon a time a land sale in a thriving city of six thousand inhabitants. The lots were beautifully situated, but those having in charge the marketing of these beautiful lots visited the city in whose domain these lots were situated. They did not take the pains to find out how many newspapers were printed in this city of six thousand people, so they selected a certain newspaper, and placed their ad therein, the day of sale came, but the sale was a failure. People who buy land was not there. Moral, when you have anything for sale, select a newspaper that circulates among the people who have money to spend. The Dispatch is that kind of a paper. Try it the next time and note the results.

The Dispatch prints the news, at least that part of it that it thinks will interest its readers. We do not cater to any faction or click. We will print any communication sent us by a responsible person provided it is fit to print, and the writers name is attached to it. Not for publication but for our protection. We do not pick out such matter as we think will tickle the vanity of our prohibition friends, neither do we select the matter that our anti-prohibitionists desire printed, but first, last and all the time we print what we believe to be the truth and of interest to the public regardless of who it hits or who it misses. We believe in the end, the public come to appreciate this policy and applaud us for it. Those who are too narrow and bogged to want this kind of paper has no use for the Dispatch and the Dispatch has no use for them. While we need money and need it badly we are not so hard up that we are willing to blow hot and blow cold just to please some faction, click or sex. If you like the Dispatch continue to patronize it, if you don't like it have it stopped. We will eat less and wear our old clothes a little longer, but barter away our convictions never.

Let the Truth be Told.

The Democrat's press of the State are very short of something to write about, when they have to resort to such rot as placing the ballot again in the hands of the colored brother by the Republican party, should they again get control of the affairs of the State, which at no great distant day they will. But so far since the constitutional amendment was adopted a large per cent of the negroes who have been allowed to register, have done so under Democratic influence and supervision. The following from the Raleigh State Democrat seems to be an honest confession of some of the rottenness that abounds in the ranks of the Democratic party, and the placing of the blame where it rightly belongs.

"Once when a certain minister wanted to get up against his congregation good and hard, and was looking for a suitable topic upon which to base his castigation, one of his deacons suggested that Judas Iscariot would be a good subject, as he had no friends in the church.

The Republican party is regarded in much the same light by many in the State. And so we frequently see it stated that one of the things which the party has in view is the giving back to the negroes the ballot they have lost. Passing by any discussion on this point, when the truth is told, it will be seen that most negroes who have been allowed to register and become voters since the passage of the amendment have done so through the efforts of Democrats and not Republicans. We dislike to say this, but it is true, and it's now a matter of record. And this is the unfortunate part, that it is a matter of record. The negroes who were put on the books for the sake of carrying some local matter are now on the books, and are there for all time, except some who may commit crime which shall disqualify them. The allowing of negroes to vote in prohibition elections in order to record a local victory has been the entering wedge, which, if pursued far enough, will destroy the safeguards and the blessings which came as the result of the Constitutional Amendment.

A negro can well afford to vote any way, once, in a local election, provided by this he becomes a voter in all subsequent elections. A negro who is qualified to vote ought to be allowed to do so, but to make an effort to have them come to the ballot box will lead to voting them indiscriminately, which simply means a return to former conditions.

We dislike to make a reference in this or any other matter to ourselves, for when an editor begins to print something about himself, he is about out of copy. But we simply want to say that in Raleigh a few years ago this writer, through the medium of another paper, made the best fight he could for the extension of the city limits; and while the effort failed, it was expressly stated that no effort would be made by the friends of extension to register negro voters. Those who have done so in the past, or do so in the future, will find they are "playing with fire."

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Washington, March 17. — President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, made an announcement today of the details of important orders for equipment and steel rails to be given by that Company and of other important improvements, to be undertaken by it and by the Mobile & Ohio Railroad Company. The Southern Railway Company is in the market for 75 new locomotives, including passenger, freight, and switching engines. The freight engines include two of the Mallet articulated compound type. This type of engine may be described as two locomotives combined in one. Those to be bought by the Southern Railway Company will weigh, in working order and including tenders, 520,550 pounds each, and will be used for heavy freight service. The Company is also in the market for 3,000 all-steel coal cars of 100,000 pounds capacity, 500 all-steel coke cars of 100,000 pounds capacity, 150 steel underframe stock cars of 60,000 pounds capacity, and 10 steel underframe combination passenger and baggage cars. These passenger train cars are in addition to 119 passenger train cars recently ordered and which have nearly all been delivered.

The Company is now building for itself, at its Lenoir Car Works, 1,000 steel underframe ventilated box cars and 200 steel underframe stock cars. It is also building at these works 205 steel underframe ventilated box cars for the Georgia Southern & Florida Railway Company. Upon the completion of this work, about the first of August, it will commence the construction, for the Southern Railway, of 1,000 additional steel underframe ventilated box cars of 80,000 pounds capacity. The Lenoir Car Works are also making car wheels at the rate of 120 per day, and this production is to be steadily increased to 300 per day, the full capacity of the plant.

Orders are to be placed for 46,000 tons of steel rail, of which 36,000 tons will be for the Southern Railway proper, and the remainder for the Georgia Southern & Florida, the Virginia & Southwestern, the Mobile & Ohio, the Alabama Great Southern, and the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railways. The larger part of this rail will be ordered from the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company.

The Company is about to begin the erection of a freight transfer station at the Inman freight yards, at Atlanta, Ga., such as it has at Spencer, N. C. At present package cars containing freight destined to be pointed in all directions, arriving at Atlanta, are handled at the Madison Avenue terminals, thus crowding these city terminals. The construction of the transfer station at the Inman yards will greatly facilitate handling this business and will relieve the Madison Avenue terminals.

The Company is also about to begin the erection of a large new boiler shop and a large storehouse at the Spencer, N. C., shops, one of the most important shops on the system. The new boiler shop will be equipped with modern machinery and tools.

The Mobile & Ohio Railroad Company will immediately begin the improvement of about 1,000 feet of dock property owned by it between St. Anthony and Adams Streets, in Mobile. This improvement is made desirable by the growing demand for additional room for docking vessels at Mobile, resulting from the rapid increase in export and import business through that port, and is in anticipation of the still further increase in this business that may be expected result from the dredging of the channel in Mobile harbor to a depth of 27 feet, as provided for in the Rivers and Harbors Bill now pending in Congress.

Oak Ridge and Elon College Tie.

Monday evening at 3:30 at Hardin Park what resulted to be one of the prettiest games of ball of the season was contested between Oak Ridge and Elon College. The shades of darkness caused the game to be called at the close of the tenth inning, when the score stood 3 and 3. The features of the game was the work of Hearne in the box for Elon College, who would have white washed the visitors had it not been for errors at second and third in the eighth. Fifteen were fanned by Hearne, while only three found the much sought for professional touch. Mayberry did good pitching for Oak Ridge, but was successful in striking out only four.

The crowd was large and enthusiastic, near 1000 paid admissions, which we dare say would have been 5000 had we had street car transportation. Both sides were enthusiastically cheered and especially when tip top plays were made.

The balmy breeze and clear sky made the weather ideal for the occasion.
 Batteries: Hearne and Hobbs; Mayberry and Moore.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASH., March 19.—One of the most interesting features of the campaign, the Democrats will still be hopelessly divided. The fact of the matter is that the Republicans without any boasting whatever, but simply on the conditions that exist, and that are liable to exist, expect to retain their present majority and hope to increase it by 15 to 20 members. They are sure of gaining at least 20 seats in the next House, and while of course some seats may be lost, yet it is believed that there will be a net gain sufficient to increase the Republican membership of the House.

This confidence of the Republicans is based upon the fact that the arguments that they can present to the people will be of such a nature as to not only hold the present Republican vote but to gain many Democratic votes.

While the arguments which the Democrats will have to present to the people, if indeed they have any they dare to present, must be wholly negative ones and of a nature to repulse rather than to attract, the Republicans, for instance, feel confident that the people will be glad to sustain the President and the Administration and give him a Republican House of Representatives for the second part of his term to carry out the pledges of the party and the promises of the President himself. A Democratic House would not only check all progress, but it would be a menace to business interests, and would undoubtedly create a feeling of anxiety in all avenues of finance and commerce nullifying to a large extent the splendid impetus we have gained already under the present Administration and stopping to a considerable extent the prosperity and progress which we are now as a nation and as a people enjoying.

In short, the Democrats are whistling to keep their courage up and making vain boasts which are unfounded and are wishing above all things that they had one or two strong leaders and one or two great policies with which they could go before the people. They have believed that by encouraging a small faction of the Republican party they could succeed in certain States in splitting that party in two, but they have found that it would not work, and have also found that the Republican party is going to be able to settle its own differences and to agree upon great National policies, leaving the smaller matters to regulate themselves at the proper time.

A. Hawkins, formerly round-house foreman for the Southern railway at Spencer, was shot to death last week while in a dispute with two foreigners at a small railroad station in Florida. The dispute is said to have been the result of family troubles on account of the attentions of Hawkins to the wives of his slayers. His body was brought back to North Carolina for burial.

FIRE INSURANCE RATES Too High

But the rates are based on the losses in the United States in 1908, excluding that of forest fires and marine losses (in themselves extensive), amounted to the enormous sum of over $456,485,000, a tax on the American people exceeding the total value of all the gold, silver, copper and petroleum produced in the United States that year.

The estimated cost of new buildings erected in the entire country for the same year was $1,000,000,000. Thus it will be seen that nearly one-half of the value of all the new buildings constructed within one year are destroyed by fire.

Rates cannot be lower as long as this awful waste continues, but you that read this can help to reduce this waste, by seeing at least every six months, that your flues and chimneys are safe, that matches are kept in metal cases, that no oily rags are allowed to remain in the house, that attics are from rubbish, that no ashes are piled beside the house or left in wooden vessels, and above all realize what a dangerous enemy you have should it once get started.

Out of the millions of dollars that will go up in smoke in 1910 your home, furniture, barn, store, mill or shop may be one to contribute to this ash heap.

Are You Protected?

It's too late after the firemen come to buy your insurance but you can now, and in the largest companies in the world at reasonable rates through our office.
