Death of Mrs. Parks.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ellen Parks died Saturday April 16 at the home of Jno R. Michael and was buried Monday at Friedens Lutheran church, funeral conducted by the pastor Rev. C. B. Cox, assisted by Rev. J. D. Andrew. Mrs. Parks was 73 years of age and a conservative member of the Lutheran church. She leaves one son W. C. Parks of China Grove, three daughters Mrs. Mary J. Burke of China Grove, Mrs. Wm. Howell and Mrs. Jno. R. Michael of Burlington. Also one brother of Chatham county, Jessie M. Carol. Mrs. Parks has twenty grand children and one great grand child living.

Death of Mrs. King.

Mrs. Martha Fannie King, widow of the late William King, died Sunday evening at the home of her son Mr. John G. King, of this place, at the age of 77 years. Mrs. King was twice married, first to Mr. C. A. Duffer, later to William King. She was the mother of ten children, three of whom preceded her to the great beyond. Mrs. King was a faithful consecrated Christian woman, a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, Mr. John G. King, superintendent of the Elmira cotton mill, with whom she made her home is the only child living in this city. The funeral was conducted Tuesday from the M. E. Church by her pastor, Rev. J. A. Hornaday, assisted by Rev. E. L. Ogilby, the interment was in Pine Hill Cemetery. The large number of floral designs presented by many friends showed a spirit of love for the one whose form lies cold in death. We join the many friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.

The New M. E. Church.

Excavation for the foundation of the new Front street Methodist church was begun this week. The church is to be a handsome modern structure 85 x 115 feet, built of pressed brick and stone, at a cost of about $25,000.00. We dare say no time or money will be spared to make this one of the most elaborate churches in the city. It is hoped to have this handsome edifice ready for worship by the latter part of the year. As will be remembered by our readers a cut illustrating the architectural design of the church appeared in our paper only a few weeks ago.

Miss Alvina Guthrie, who was operated at St. Leo's Hospital at Asheville Sunday to be operated for appendicitis, underwent the operation Monday and at the time was doing nicely. We expect a speedy recovery.

An Open Letter to the Republicans of Burlington.

I write you this letter because I have neither the time or opportunity to see each one of you in person. The object of this appeal is to ask and urge your support for the pending bond issue. In as much as there is no politics involved I must appeal to your patriotism, rather than your Republicanism. The Republican party is a progressive party, and it is this progressiveness that has made and keeps it the majority party Nationally. The Democratic party is a negative party, and therefore a minority party Nationally. If the Republican party desires to become a majority party locally (and I am sure it does), like our brethren in the Nation, we must not be a negative, but a progressive party, we should not oppose measures merely because they are proposed by Democrats, but rather from the standpoint of right and wrong. We should adopt such a policy as will appeal and bring to our aid the broad, liberal and fair minded conservative men of all parties.

A bond issue for Burlington is inevitable, in fact the conditions make it imperative, it is bound to come sooner or later, or taxes greatly increased. Now which do you prefer, good streets and sidewalks and a moderate rate of taxation, or no streets and sidewalks and a high rate of taxation. This is a cold blooded business proposition, and one you should settle now and for all time to come. No use to argue how matters have been conducted heretofore, but how they must be conducted hereafter. Some Republicans say defeat the bond issue in order to humiliate the present city administration, because it is Democratic, and after we have done this, then we will vote a bond issue and thus relieve the situation. Now from a political standpoint alone, this might be a good policy, but it is cheap politics to say the least.

Will such a policy appeal to the element necessary to make us a majority party in the future, and can we as loyal and patriotic citizens afford to play cheap politics, when the credit and future reputation of our town is at stake. It costs money to hold elections and the condition of our city treasury is such that there is no money to waste. The open indebtedness of the city is about forty thousand dollars and may be more, certainly no less, twenty-five thousand of this was borrowed to do permanent street improvement, and for which the city finds now that in order to renew the loan they must pay an exorbitant renewal premium in addition to the legal rate of interest. The city administration asks us as citizens and tax payers to come to their aid, vote sixty thousand thirty year, five percent bonds, pay off the twenty-five thousand dollar loan, stop the excessive renewal premium, divide the remainder of the bond issue equally between the four wards of the city, the small ward getting just as much as the larger ones, and not less than one-third to be spent in sidewalk improvements.

Now we are all citizens of Burlington, each striving in his own way for the upbuilding of the city. Are you going to allow your prejudice to influence your vote to your own hurt and the detriment of your neighbor? Suppose war should be declared between this country and some foreign power, what would you think of the Democrats if they should sympathize with the foreigners, and against this nation, and refuse to help defend their country because the Republicans were in power? We would call them traitors and say they deserved to be shot, as they no doubt would be. Now because the city government is in the hands of the Democrats are we going to be disloyal, and vote against the bond issue? Are we not a part of the city government and should we not come to the rescue of those who are charged with the administration of the city affairs. There may have been mistakes made and will continue to be made until the end of time. But we should profit by the mistakes of the past. There has been appointed a commission to have full charge of the money derived from the bond sale, composed of Joseph Holt, Winslow W. Lasley, James G. Holt, and Ernest H. Murray, together with Mayor A. F. Barrett, as chairman, whose duty it will be to have all permanent work done as long as the money lasts. To vote against the bond issue, virtually says that you have no confidence in these men, and that you care nothing for the reputation and good name of your city. The proposed arrangement is the best proposition ever submitted to our citizens, and it is the earnest desire of Dameron, Hoffman, Brown and myself that this measure receive the unanimous support of every Republican in the City of Burlington. If the bond issue is defeated let it be done by those Democrats who say they have no confidence in their own city administration and not by the stalwart progressive and loyal Republicans who care more for the city's future welfare than for any temporary advantage over our political opponents. And we will not only have built wisely but well.

Yours for progress,
J. ZEB WALLER.

The Hospital Question.

To the people of the cities of Burlington, Graham and Haw River, and to the people of Alamance county in general.

At a regular meeting of the Alamance county Medical Society, in accordance with a resolution unanimously adopted, we, the undersigned committee, were appointed to announce to you that you are cordially and earnestly invited to meet with us at our next regular meeting on Monday the 9th, day of May 1910, to take steps looking towards the erection of a hospital at some appropriate place in Alamance county. This meeting will be held in Graham, N. C., on the day stated at half past one o'clock, sharp, and all who feel interested in this movement are requested to come and take a part in our deliberations. We wish to get started in the right way to compass this most beneficent and necessary enterprise; and so your counsel will be valuable to us as well as your contributions.

We have said this most beneficent and necessary enterprise. There is nothing in contemplation or actual course of erection that will compare in importance to the people of our county with this, the erection of a hospital within her borders. For numbers of patients are taken to institutions in other counties every year, and every month in the year, who could and ought to be cured here. Many are thus transported who are in no way fit for such transportation, and their lives jeopardized in the journey; and in other cases sacrificed because we have no safe place in which to treat them.

Then, there is the way-faring man and the stranger within our gates, for whom we are commanded to care as much as for our own people. How can we egectively care for him if we have no place for him? We all know that a hotel is a poor substitute for a hospital.

And there are hundreds of our own people stricken with diseases other than surgical, to whom a good hospital would be a blessed boon. Cases of fever, of pneumonia, of chronic troubles requiring persistent and skillful attendance and special conveniences, can thus be cared for in the person of the poor as well as of the rich. Last and least for our consideration, is the fact that many, many dollars of our money go away from us that should be kept here.

Come and meet us, and let us build a hospital which shall be a blessing and a credit to our people.

WHY HE PAID FOR PROTECTION

Victed Blind Tiger Causes a Sensation—Startling Accusations.

Wilmington, April 12.—Marion Finner, a middle aged white man, convicted in the Superior court Saturday night of selling whiskey and sentenced to six months on the roads, Judge Cooke affirmed the judgement of the court's court, today made a national affidavit in which he made a full confession and declared that there are more than a hundred holders of government liquor license in Wilmington the "blind tigers" have a rough organization known as association No. 6, that he has regularly into the coffers of the association $5 a month to be used for political purposes and otherwise; that the members had been given to understand that if arrested and carried before the court the severest punishment would be a fine and costs; that a public sentiment was such that it would be necessary to give a hard sentence the members to be warned in ample time. Finner then sets out that he was not warned, and that he has made a scapegoat of by his other pretended friends. Inclusion and exposure of those who have deserted him is made the sole purpose of aiding in his effort to have his sentence stricken out or reduced. Finner's attorney will go before Judge Cooke tomorrow and for a hearing of the matter. It is understood that many rank and file members will give their moral support in view of affidavit.

Isn't this a pretty how do you do, and right in dear old democratic Wilmington are they shoot negro's to keep their democracy regular, and to maintain their party standing, would be delighted to have the opinion of the NEWS upon your doings. Or will it content you to merely say that we are all in our power to bring disrepute the prohibitionists. Fishing for Fun.

York World.
If there be a time for everything this is the time for fishing for fishing for the market, but fishing for fun. To most men fishing means hard work with a hook or dull work with a hook line. Fishing for sport is done with a rod and reel. The streams of the northern lakes and streams but their waters are clear. Fish that live in them are firm, quick, pugnacious and in their intelligent. The man who gets a few of them must know where they live, understand their habits, possess an aptitude of approved fitness and be alert in its use. Angling in warm waters for a fish and indifferent fish, a weary man can hardly forget business, for there is not enough excitement to occupy his mind. Angling in a northern lake or brook in early spring, with the assistance of a good guide, his mind is intent only upon fish. There are no anxieties of trade, no professional perplexities, no social domestic worries, no troubles of any kind, for a man whose eyes the flashing sunlight is reflected and in whose mind the reel is ringing. This would be a better world if a good many respects if every man would do a little genuine fishing once a year.

Gill Sharpe Takes A Shot At The Aldermen.

To the Editor State Dispatch:
Please make room in your valuable paper for a few thoughts along the line of city government.

I am glad that my old man did not get to be one of the city aldermen. If he had, and voted for all this trouble—if he had not resigned his position I would have left him. I would not live with a man that could not have done much more than these men are doing. I blame the citizens of the town for letting these men go on like they have. If these are the best men in town I think they had better elect women next time. If we would not do any more than these are doing we think it would be a poor do. If the women of the town will help we will run the town commissioners out of town, and the civil engineer too. They are not fit to stay in this town where civilized people live.

Mrs. G. A. SHARPE.

From the looks of this town it looks like these men are wasting a sight of money. They are moving a sight of dirt unnecessary. I can't find out who is the boss of this road. The town commissioners say old man Carter is supposed to be the boss, but he don't claim to be the boss. He has ruined the road. I would not claim to be the boss either. It is the first job I ever saw without a boss. The farmers say we have got the men running the town who have got the least sense of any men in the world, their work has proved it if you will look at this road. They say we must have plenty of money the way we are spending it. It looks like it to look at the road from where I live to Laytons store. It is all sunk down water on top nearly half knee deep. That's a nice road, isn't it? The farmers say they don't see how they are going to make nice roads out of that. I say myself that they will have to tear it up like everything else they have done. When they have got anything good enough they won't let it alone. The road is completely worn out, it is in worse fix than it has ever been. When people over it they go che-bump, che-bump. Now they want another election to get more money, they want it to waste like they have been wasting it. They don't think about interest that has got to be paid, and the principal sometime. I think these men have handled enough money no better than they are using it. If they are let alone they will borrow all the money, that is in the North. For gracious sakes, men go and register, pay your poll tax vote against the bonds. We don't know how much money they have borrowed. They don't tell anything about the money matters. Anybody can go before commissioners meeting, they keep no order, people laugh all the time. The aldermen set up there and whisper. It looks like they would talk so people could hear. It's a secret business. They don't tell where the money goes, you need not go before them to ask about the money. People who have eyes can see where it is going out in the vacant lot. They contract to men and turn them loose in the town. They don't care how many fences they tear down or how many corners they destroy. It looks like it's dangerous for a man, woman or child to go along these high banks with big cakes of dirt sliding down. It is a shame and a scandal the way they have damaged the people in this town.

G. A. SHARPE.

The reports compiled in Revenue Agent R.B. Sams' office at Asheville, N.C., shows that during the month of march deputy collectors working from the Asheville office destroyed a total of 41 stilleries and bound over to United States District court 29 men on charges of illicit distilling. The collectors also seized 3,267-5 gallons of whiskey. The value of the seized and confiscated property for the month is $5,470.

Prosperous Uncle Sam.

Like the railroads and the great industrial corporations and like the vast majority of small business concerns, the Federal Government is enjoying a great increase in income and is finding it much easier to keep its outgo down nearly to the limits of its receipts. There is a fair chance that the balance will soon be on the right side.

The growth of the national revenues is many-sided. It is greatest in the customs receipts, but it is large in internal taxes, especially on spirituous liquors. There is a remarkable gain, likewise, in postoffice income.

The indications are that the fiscal year which ends with June will close with only a small deficit by comparison with the figures for the preceding year. The actual difference between revenues and expenditures may be reduced to almost nothing. At the end of March it was only about $12,000,000, and there had been a large surplus for that month.

As for the Postoffice Department, at the end of the first half of the fiscal year there was a deficit of a little more than $4,000,000 against a deficit of more than $10,000,000 in the corresponding part of the previous fiscal year. The second quarter had shown a good surplus, and the end of the year may find the receipts and expenses of the department nearly balanced.

All this is absolute proof of national prosperity. Such things cannot happen in time which are not rich in expansion and progress.

Woman Suffrage Question.

Washington Star.

Nothing more forcibly shows the growth of the woman suffrage movement than the situation in the South. That section under the old regime was the paradise of the housekeepers. A plantation life and the life in towns—there were few cities in the South then—were not favorable to club organizations for women, or platform appearances for them of any kind. It was not good form for a woman to occupy herself, except by reading, with matters political or governmental. All of that was set apart as "men's business."

But in the South now, as elsewhere, the new note is sounded. As able and as earnest advocates of the ballot for women may be found in the Southern States as in any of the other states, and in the great temperance wave which has been sweeping over that section the women, although without votes, have been leaders in the contests and quick learners in the arts of party organization and vote-corralling.

The cause is still a long way from goal. Some of its most vigorous and determined opponents are women themselves, contented with their present sphere of activity and of opinion that it is by no means sufficiently improved. They, as well as their suffrage sisters, are in action, and between they are waking up men to a new and larger view of the whole question.

Sounded Best When Silent.

In a railroad office in West Philadelphia there is an old and trusted clerk of Celtic extraction, who keeps his associates in a constant state of good humor by an unending series of witticisms, interspersed occasionally with "bulls," so glaring that even he himself has to join in the laugh that invariably follows such a "break" on his part.

There was some trouble on the telephone one day recently, and Mike, as he is called among his friends, lost much of his usual good nature in his efforts to get the gist of a message that was being sent from another office. The man on the other end of the wire finally became exasperated and asked Mike if he was losing his hearing.

"I can hear you all right until you begin to talk," said Mike, "and then I can't understand a word you say."

Tonic or Stimulant?

There is an immense difference between a tonic and a stimulant. Up one day, way back the next; that's a stimulant. Steady progress day by day toward perfect health; that's a tonic. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic, a strong tonic. The only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. Do not stimulate unless your doctor says so. He knows. Ask him. Do as he says. J.C. Items From the University Arrived to late for publication last week.

On Thursday night two victories were added to Carolina's debating record. Messrs. C. E. McIntosh and F. N. Cox won a unanimous decision over a team representing the University of Georgia after a most spirited contest held in Gerrard Hall. At the same time Messrs. H. E. Stacy and Mr. Edmonds measured arms with representatives of Washington and Lee University before an audience which taxed the capacity of the Grand Opera House in Greensboro. The decision in this debate was also unanimous in favor of Carolina. In these debates Carolina championed the negative of the question Resolved: That all corporations doing an inter-State commerce business should be required to take out Federal Charters under such conditions as Congress may by law provide. Constitutional-ity granted.

Carolina, in thirteen debates, with the University of Georgia, has won all but four. Out of two debates with Washington and Lee she has lost one and won one. Out of the three-collegiate debates in which she has engaged this year, the third being with the University of Pennsylvania, she has won three. Carolina holds the distinction of having won twenty-one out of twenty-eight contests during her debating career, and of having never lost a series. Among her rivals have been Johns Hopkins, George Washington University, Tulane, Vanderbilt, Washington and Lee, and the Universities of Georgia, Pennsylvania, and Virginia.

Good Work

Done Daily In Burlington. Many Citizens Tell Of It.

Nearly every reader has heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Their good work in Burlington still continues, and our citizens are constantly adding endorsement by public testimony. No better proof of merit can be had than the experience of friends and neighbors. Read this case: Eli G. Isley, Webb Ave., Burlington, N. C., says: "I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Freeman Drug Co. and they gave me prompt relief from severe pains through the small of my back from which I had suffered for a long time. My kidneys, which had also caused me a great deal of suffering and annoyance, have become strong and give me no further trouble. In view of the benefit I obtained from Doan's Kidney Pills I have no hesitation in advising their use to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Prohibitionists still contend that liquor was responsible for Senator Carmack's death, but the peculiar part is that the liquor was on the outside and not on the inside in this particular case.—Wilmington Dispatch.

The Burlington Choral Union.

The choir singers and people of Burlington feel the need of a choral organization. The city came together in Oct. 1908, and organized the Burlington Choral Union with a membership of sixty selected and elected Mr. Wade R. Beeson as director. The first season was a fine success and the first annual concert was given in March before a large and enthusiastic audience which pronounced the union the best choral organization ever heard in this part of the State. During the past season these same singers have performed faithfully under the direction and will present a number of the great choral works of the second annual concert in the Graded School Auditorium, Friday evening, April 22, at 8 o'clock. The society bespeaks a cordial and earnest support from the citizens of the city and adjoining towns in its laudable undertaking in placing Burlington among the musical pro towns and cities of the State.

Death From Pellagra

Miss Daisy Beeson, daughter of Postmaster Beeson, of Erville, died early last day morning at the home of her father at the age of 25 years. The deceased had been in ill health for several months and the direct cause of her death was pellagra. Two months ago she underwent operation at a hospital in Greensboro for appendicitis. Her removal to the home of her father pellagra developed and she steadily grew worse until she died.

While Mr Bryan may be too far from his eyes to the person of the ticket, it is scarcely conceivable that he will leave his platform to be fashioned by other hands than his own. He cannot be persuaded to give Parson free hand in 1904, and it does not appear that he will in a different mood in 1912. The principles of Jefferson and Jackson as interpreted by Bryan are certain, as things now look, to have been in 1896, 1900, 1904, and 1908.

If Attorney General W. C. Clegg had held all the corporate jobs attributed to him by political enemies, he would be able to look a trust-buster in the face.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known. To the medical fraternity, Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.  "Denver is the Paris of America," says the WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION for April, "but Paris in the making. Only fifty years old, it has all the audacity of youth and, more especially, a lack of discretion which is simply intoxicating."

When first that peculiar 'nothing-matters' takes possession of you, quite naturally you blame the altitudinal Denver is five thousand feet above sea level. You argue that in a few days you will become acclimated and sane. You will stop spending your money recklessly, stop thinking that the very air is champagne all a-sparkle, stop thinking that life matches the champagne in sparkle, and that whatever goes wrong to-day will be righted by the morrow.

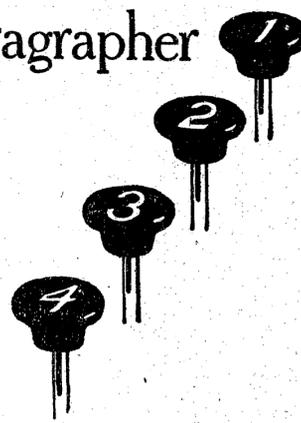

"The 'few days' pass and you still spend money more freely than your bank account warrants. You still feel that life is a very glorious thing. And then you begin to understand why Denver is called a city of spend-thrifts, of carnival three hundred and sixty-five days in the year. Then you begin to look about for the solid men who handle the great affairs of the city, build up its individual fortunes, make its laws and plan its wonderful future. And you find them in large numbers and in the highest quality.

"The altitude is credited with the peculiar optimism and buoyance in Denver, and the altitude is blamed for almost every extravagance found in the city. For instance, a wife pushes her husband almost to the wall by her extravagance in dress. Denver sets her husbands on his feet again, saying the altitude makes women irresponsible—but charming."

ton, North Carolina, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Roosevelt will hardly know Congress when he gets back, if that body keeps on reforming itself.

The efforts of the Alamance county Medical Association to erect a hospital in the county is a commendable one and should have the support of every loyal citizen in the county.

William Jennings Bryan says the Democratic party is going back to the principles of Jefferson. This may be true, but it is noticeable that Mr. Bryan and a large number of the leaders in the party are going the other way.

The Democrats couldn't even take advantage of so small an opportunity as selecting the minority members of the Rules Committee without quarreling among themselves. How could such a party govern if it had the power.

Have you paid your poll tax for the year 1909? The last day upon which you can pay this and preserve your right to vote is Saturday April 30th. If you desire to remain a voting citizen, you must qualify yourself by paying your tax.

In the death of Hon. R. Z. Linney of Alexander county last week the State loses one of its foremost citizens, and the Republican party one of its brainiest leaders. The "Bull of the Brushes," as he was known was a power in the party.

We have never been able to learn where that convict, who was killed some time ago in the prison at Raleigh, got his liquor.
It is said that he was in a drunken condition when killed by a guard, who was recently acquitted in Superior court of the crime of murder.

Our esteemed contemporary,
the Raleigh News and Observer, deserves much credit for the recent Robeson county edition.
Such editions do a vast amount of good and the example is worthy of being followed by other county editions. There is no question about the results.

There are only a few more days in which to pay your poll tax.
The law says that unless you pay on or before May the first you cannot vote. Remember that May first come on Sunday, therefore if you would preserve the elective franchise you must pay by Saturday April 30th. Note this, lest you get caught.

Governor Kitchin played a good game of politics last week when he appointed Hon. Geo. P. Pell, of Winston-Salem to succeed Judge E. B. Jones, who resigned to run for Congress. Had he appointed either of the aspirants who will be a candidate for the nomination, he would have lost friends. When you head off our governor in a game of politics, you have done something.

More Misrepresentation.

Under date of April 9th, there appeared in the Burlington News an article entitled, "More Republican Prosperity." In this article the News says that the number of cotton mills, or spindles idle in North Carolina are 49 per cent, or nearly one half of the total spindles or mills in the State.
Just why our neighbor would want to print such a base falsehood as this we are unable to understand. Every body knows it is false and it seems to us that aside from trying to make political capital out of such a wilful misrepresentation of facts, that our neighbors conscience would smite him.

Not only are all the mills running, but a great many are running both day and night time.
As proof of this statement we refer our neighbor to his "prayer book," the Raleigh News and Observer, dated April 17th, (Sunday edition,) wherein the leading manufacturers of the state are calling for a meeting to be held in Greensboro, N. C., April 19th, to devise ways and means to curtail. In this call the manufacturers set forth that not only are a large number of the mills not curtailing, but are running both day and night, which they say is their worse curse. This call is signed by some of our own county men, and a large majority are former Alamance county boys.

Now if nearly one-half of our cotton mills in the state are already standing, as our neighbor would have you believe, what is the use of these manufacturers issuing this call for the purpose of taking some action looking to curtailment. From this it will be seen that the News would not hesitate for a moment to print anything no matter how false, if it would in any way discredit the Republican party, and yet this same party enables him to wear forty dollar tailor made woolen jeans. We have always been told that it was a mighty good idea to praise the bridge that carries you safely over, and we pass this up to the New for what it is worth.

Another Sure Sign.

Yesterday we had occasion, delightful occasion it was to note that one of the plainest and most convincing signs of North Carolina's progress is the frequent bond issues being voted by the towns of the State, for improvement. Another good substantial sign is the report that comes that residences are scarce in a number of the towns of this state.
That they are scarce is to be regretted, but nevertheless it is conclusive proof of the advancement of those towns. In the last issue of the Lumberton Rob-esonian it was noted that houses in Lumberton were scarce; that there was a big demand for houses and that the building of more residences would undoubtedly prove a paying investment. Now comes the Mount Olive Tribune which calls attention to the existence of a like state of affairs in its thriving town, saying:

"Our attention has been called to the fact that there is at present a great need and demand for houses to rent in Mount Olive.
With the location of the big industrial plant of the Enterprise Lumber Company here, a number of families desire to locate permanently in the town, but cannot do so because of the scarcity of houses for rent. A very bad situation this and one that should command the immediate attention of our business men and property owners."

All this goes to show that North Carolina towns are going ahead by leaps and bounds, and it is especially gratifying to note that this is particularly so with towns of Eastern Carolina—the great trucking belt of the State and one of the greatest in the country.
The need of more houses shows increasing population and, of the community demands that,
but, aside from this, it seemingly offers a fine investment.—Wilmington Dispatch.

What is true in Eastern North Carolina is true in every section of the State. The towns are enjoying an era of prosperity the like of which was never before heard of in the history of the State, the calamity howling contrary not withstanding issues are being made

you find this condition you will see a healthy con-
a healthy spirit of opti-dominates. You will see

Browning-Burke.

Two of the most popular young people of Burlington surprised their many friends Wednesday night at eight o'clock when Roy O. Browning and Miss Flossie Burke were united in marriage at the home of R. G. Rogers on Mendenhall Street. Rev. J. D. Williams pastor of M. P. Church officiating. Owing to objections on the part of the brides parents Mr. Browning was forced to steal his bride in which undertaking he was quite successful. Mr. Browning is a native of Alamance County having resided in our town near two years, during which time he has been connected with the B. A. Sellars & Son Dry Goods Co., and has a bright future.

Miss Burke is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burke and is held in high esteem by the social circles of our town. Her beauty and social disposition is hard to excel. Hence Mr. Browning is to be congratulated upon winning her for his companion.

The STATE DISPATCH extends congratulations and best wishes to this happy couple.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent. Crowded out last week. Washington, D. C., April 9.—When Representative Fitzgerald recently introduced an amendment designed to bring about the repeal of the present tariff law, he did the Republican party in particular and the whole people of the Nation in general a favor that can hardly be overestimated. The amendment was voted down, and the present tariff law upheld by a vote of 150 to 116. Every Republican of the House of Representatives, without exception, voting to sustain the present law, while every Democrat voted in favor of its repeal. It must be understood that some 20 Republicans voted against the bill on its passage last August, and now not one can be found to vote for its repeal. This is the most complete vindication of the new law that could be had, and the Republican party can henceforth go before the country hand in hand with the President with the tariff as the chief issue of the coming campaign. The benefits that have occurred to the country under the operation of the new law are more and more apparent every day. Attention has already been called in the columns to the success of the measure as a revenue law. The receipts so far during the present fiscal year, ending June 30 next, being some $500,000,000 more than during the corresponding months of last year, while the deficit of about $70,000,000 a year ago is now only about $14,000,000, and there seems to be no doubt that this deficit will be wiped out by the end of the fiscal year. Again there is a full volume of employment all over the country, and our people were never so prosperous as now. It is true we hear much about high prices, but it has been shown beyond question that these high prices are in no way attributable to the tariff. But the best news of all which we are having is the constant and voluntary increase of wages by the great corporations and railroads of the country. Nearly all of the Eastern Trunk lines, including such roads as the Pennsylvania, Philadelphia and Reading, the Baltimore and Ohio, the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Boston and Maine and others have increased wages recently. And this increase has been by no means confined to the railroads—the United Steel Corporation and various other large corporations have followed, and the adjustment now made in mining centers will no doubt result in widespread increase to all the coal miners of the country. As regards the present business situation, it can be summed up in the recent statement of R. G. Dun & Co., who say: "While the trade development is irregular, revealing diversified conditions in different sections of the country, volume as a whole has made such steady gains over last year that there can be no question as to its substantial character."

To these splendid results of the new tariff law in all the avenues of finance and business which is effected by the law, can be added the splendid progress now being made in Congress to carry out the pledges of the party and adopt the recommendations of the President. The large appropriation bills are now practically out of the way, and for the next few weeks Congress will be engaged in passing laws, strengthening the Interstate Commerce Commission, providing for better regulations as to the railroads, providing for postal savings banks, a so-called anti-injunction law, admitting the two new States of Arizona and New Mexico, and, in short, fulfilling as far as possible the promises of the party and the President. Thus the issue of the coming Congressional campaign will be clearly defined, and the Republicans will go before the country with the utmost confidence that the President and the party will be sustained through the return of a Republican majority to the next House of Representatives. Governor Harmon of Ohio, in a recent interview, which was practically an announcement of his policies and beliefs, has made the issue with the Democrats very clear, and it seems to be the old issue of Democracy, which consists simply of opposing everything the Republican party stands for. Governor Harmon on the tariff question is a practical free trader, and announces that he is for a tariff for revenue only. That would close thousands of mills throughout the country and throw millions of men out of work, and even if a Democratic House of Representatives should frame a bill in accordance with the views of Governor Harmon and should send it to a Republican Senate, where it would be quietly pigeonholed, still it would bring about a check to our prosperity and an anxiety in business circles which would do untold harm. Mr. Harmon might better have kept silent. His interview shows that he is not only ignorant on National affairs, but would play the part of a demagogue in appealing for the votes of the people to place him in the Presidential chair. His interview has weakened him most materially before the voters of the country, and will no doubt have much effect in defeating him for his race for governorship in Ohio this Fall. While the Republican party has been facing many unpleasant situations during the past few weeks it is emerging from the clouds into clear sunshine and long before the 8th of next November it will be found that in every State and in every section of the country there is a united party backing up the President, and quite willing to rest its case before the people upon what it has done and upon the record of the administration up to that time.

President Taft Prefers Results. President Taft has placed a definite program of legislation before Congress and although sectional and factional interests have been the cause of much bickering and delay, yet the program steadily is making progress with but little and unimportant changes. President Taft knows that his administration will be finally tested by results, and with characteristic eagerness he has been pushing the forces at his command to keep all the party promises that have been made. He is not blind to the fact that the public has been put in a suspicious and critical attitude toward him. Although his way of doing things may not be exactly the same as those to which the American people have been lately accustomed, that they are not thoroughly practical. His efforts have been to the point and he has been constantly pushing to have the entire program carried out that nothing of real importance on the administrative slate may be left over for the next session. In seeking to get results President Taft has not undertaken to be a trouble hunter, nor yet make himself a source of contention. Because of this he has been called weak-kneed and gullible, both of which statements are without foundation in fact. Although he does not court antagonisms to his proposed measures; yet he is steadily guiding the great federal legislative machinery and hopes to be able to stand before the people, when Congress adjourns, with a finished program and promises transformed into real reform laws. Mr. Taft did well to decline a controversy with Chancellor Day if for no other reason than that the chancellor would insist on doing all the talking.

Our Tariff and Others.

Philadelphia Press. If anyone in this country is still in doubt as to the effect in promoting our trade of the maximum and minimum rates of the Payne tariff no one abroad has any question. The London Times points out the radical change made in our tariff negotiations by these clauses and the application of preference rates generally. The use of high and low rates in a tariff to exert concessions began 30 years ago in Europe. Our trade was defenseless. France put extra duties on our wheat and meat, Germany attacked our petroleum. From 1885 to 1905 pretty much every large European country bit our products by rate or regulation. The United States was defenseless. Reciprocity was negotiated, but this took time, and before they were negotiated our trade suffered. When the German commercial treaties fell due, three or four years ago, and tariff relations of Europe were recast, every rival of American trade and products won some advantage. The oil of Russia, the pork of Serbia, the cattle of Hungary, the wheat of Roumania and Russia and the products of Southern Europe all won some advantage in duty over American products. Still more, whenever a government in Germany or France, our two largest customers, wanted to placate the farmer or landholder, some way was found to place a burden on American imports. This is over. President Taft's administration has already secured immediate results in improved rates on American products for all Continental Europe, by rates whose effect will be seen in increased imports into the food-importing countries.

The Worst Speaker.

Assemblyman John C. Hackett, New York, recently told this story in a speech:

All along the line Republican prospects are improving. The divergencies in the party are ended, so far as the country can see at this time.

It will be recalled that the Democratic outlook took on a rosy hue when William Jennings Bryan was abraded before, but changed in a twinkling when he set foot on his native soil.

Dental Hygiene; It's Real Significance.

Until recently the necessity of for the mouth and teeth of children has not been a matter of public interest.

The care of the teeth is an important factor in the care of the child. The mental and physical efficiency of school children can be greatly aid by the proper care of the mouth and teeth.

There dental infirmities connected with the school have been in operation for a sufficient length of time to demonstrate:

First. That the time expended in putting the teeth in order was far less than the time formerly lost from tooth ache and disability caused by diseased teeth.

Second. That the cost of keeping the teeth in order was more than compensated for by better health and a consequent reduction in medical expenses.

Third. That the child became physically stonger secured a higher average in his studies, was easier to control and was apparently happier.

The condition of the teeth is a tell tale as to diet. They are the guards which stank at the gateway to the body, ready to divide the food into manageable portions to bring peace of mind and healthful bodily activity.

Cancer of the stomach is notoriously disease of gross feeders. Eighty per cent of the cancers of the stomach arise from balted food.

It is in large measure a problem of economics. Health is needed for great industrial production. Every case of disease involves an immediate economic loss to the community in which such events occur.

Dental hygiene is an important part of a broad, a universal movement for better care of the public health through a more complete knowledge of the conditions that promote health.

Through the practice of their knowledge and their service, life can be made more effective, more useful and fuller. It can be lengthened in years; it can be given more enjoyment and pleasures; and some of the obstacles which prevent clean living can be levelled.

A Motion Picture Fake.

There is a film which has lately been sent out all over the country that marks the climax in the art of motion picture faking. It is so cleverly done, however, that the chances are not one man in a thousand who sees it will have the least idea how it was done.

Thus at the end of six hours he had a film showing the changes for every quarter of an hour. At the end of that time the tide had receded so that the sandbar could be seen.

That was only half of the work. Later in the day, when the tide began to rise, he returned and began again to take a few more pictures every fifteen minutes.

We had a "grape vine wireless message from "Shantyville" over on No. 8 conveying the following information: Albert Simpson owns a very fine hound pup and it seems that carrier No. 8 coveted his patrons property and more especially the pup so he hatched out a scheme to get the pup unbeknownst to its owner. He used John Moore's receipt as follows. One morning not long ago No 8 raided his good wife's soap grease jar, and fished out a large meat skin and put it in his shoe and wore it there until he got a chance to work the scheme on the pup. He tolled the pup to George Barkers, measured its tail, clipped a bunch of hair from the end of its tail, then put the measure, hair and meat skin under Georges door step to keep the pup there until Mr. Simpson quit hunting for it, when he expected to bring the dog home for his little son "Hal" to hunt rabbits with."

Meat is so high that we may have to work some scheme or buy our salad without any "greese" to make it lay down and huddle close together.

Landy Watkins, Ode Isley, Will Rich and Paul Isley were the ring leaders and Maude Isley, Flossie Isley, Daisy Watkins, Blanche Boon, Permelia Watkins and Carrie Boon went along to keep the boys from getting lonesome. They went to Burlington and Graham, everything going along all right until on the return trip just this side of Bellemont "Dan concluded to have some fun out of it too, so he pulled off a wagon tire and while the boys were getting the tire back on the wheel he called up a heavy rain and baptized them all in the faith, so you may listen for him to pull the belt cord most any time now. The crowd would have been complete if Jacob Sharpe and Sidney Russell had been along to take their medicine with the others.

Good rain fell Saturday night and all day Sunday. We people were glad to see it for we were in need of rain.

Uncle Buck Faucette was out night-riding Saturday night, and he got wet too.

J. M. Jordan has got him a cook at last. On the seventh he married Miss Mary Eliza Somers of Caswell county, and brought her to his home. He had a few of his neighbors invited and we sit down to a nice supper. We are glad to have Mrs. Jordan with us, Mr. Jordan will be so nice and kind to her. We wish them a long and happy life.

G. W. Cox brought in him an old lady one day last week. Good luck to George and his wife.

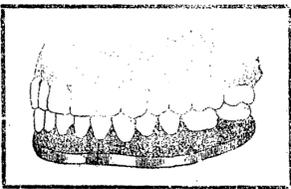

Really the only satisfaction we honest folks would receive from the enactment of a low tariff law would be that a herd of muckrake newspapers and magazines would be forced to the wall. In the general disaster, however, we would all suffer, but there would be a sweetness even to our misery.
