Roosevelt's One Supreme Talent.

A man who has filled thirty years of maturity with such varied social and political activity as Mr. Roosevelt has shown can hardly turn in any direction without meeting with pleasant reminders of friendships and associations that give enrichment to life. It is a favorite idea of one of our most talented contemporary philosophers that few people make effective use of more than a very small percentage of their power to acquire and to achieve. Mr. Roosevelt's supreme talent has simply been the gift of will power enough to cultivate and develop such talents and opportunities as had been vouchsafed him. This is the real lesson that his career thus far ought to teach the average young American. He was plucky and did his best, beginning with the thing closest at hand. The young man who would like to be a useful citizen can find plenty of opportunity in his own neighborhood. If he would also like to be more of a scholar, he can read and study and fight against the habit of wasting spare moments. Mr. Roosevelt reads many books on new subjects, in order to widen his knowledge, every year of his life. He does what he can in odd moments to get more knowledge of foreign languages, both for reading and speaking. He plans deliberately. — From "The Progress of the World," in the American Review of Reviews for May.

The Robin's Lament.

The cherry tree wears a disconsolate look. A robin visited it yesterday, gazed about for a moment shook its head and flew away. We fear this is a bad sign. Perhaps it saw Jack Frost footprints on the blossoms and went off with sorrow in its heart. It had counted on that tree. It had been there before. Last year it left us just three cherry pies out of a treeful.

Well, it is all right. God was raising those cherries for the robins, and if Mr. Frost came and killed them all, it is only because stores of good things are provided elsewhere. God takes care of the robins all right. But what about the cherry pie? Oh, there will be cherries enough for that, drafted hither on a South wind, filled with the fragrant air of the tropics. Frost isn't everywhere. Nor does he kill everything. There is the raspberry. People who have sworn off on pies will always except the raspberry pie. That is the sun-crowned summit of the cherry heartwarmer. Its glance emanate from the cherry bush. But we did want to see the robins feast on cherries again.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, May 7. — It is very evident that the pretended Democratic glee over the outlook for the year's elections must very soon change to doubt from the Democratic standpoint and to great confidence and hope on the Republican side. This change has come about through one, but many causes. In the first place the general grumbling against President Taft, which after all has been very similar to all first year experiences, is changing to hearty commendations and endorsements of the President personally and his administration. Lincoln and Grant and Harrison and McKinley, and in fact every Republican President were found fault with during a portion of their terms, but this eventually gave way to merited applause which came when the people found out the truth. The people are now finding out the truth about President Taft. They are learning in the first place in spite of Democratic misrepresentation that the tariff law is most successful. No honest man, be he Democrat or Republican, can say that the result of the operation of that law has not been most beneficial in every way, both from a revenue standpoint and from that of employment and wages, and it is very evident that Mr. Taft knew what he was talking about when he said that — "It is the best tariff law we have ever had."

But this is by no means the only credit that can be accorded to the present administration. In every department of the government good business management has been practiced, to such an extent that expenditures have been cut down in every direction and millions of dollars saved to the government. This has not been done with a great flourish of trumpets, but in a quiet business-like way, and is only being found out as public statements are made in the usual course of events. At the end of the fiscal year all these results will be very apparent in the annual statements, and then the people will to this administration credit for a degree of economy that has not been seen for many years.

With all fair-minded men President Taft has been one of the most popular Presidents we ever had and this popularity is going to extend to many of those who have seen fit to criticize him. As regards the legislation yet to be enacted during the present session of Congress, it will depend upon the course taken by some of the so-called insurgents. Undoubtedly they have the power to delay or prevent the so called administration program, and it is to be seen whether they will exercise this power, or will vote and vote with the regular party majority in adopting as many of the President's measures as possible.

As the return of Col. Roosevelt comes nearer and nearer, there has, of course, been much speculation as to what his attitude would be toward the administration. No one of his friends has doubt as to where he would be found, and yet because he has not seen fit to make any definite statement an impression has gone forth largely fathered by the Democrats, that he would not be found with his old party associates. It is now known, however, from private letters just what his stand will be. He will support the administration in every particular. He will announce that he will not be a candidate for President in 1912, that he will not be a candidate for Senator or Congressman from New York, or any other position whatever. He will, of course, take an active part in New York State politics, and will undoubtedly be glad to see his former Secretary and the present Collector at the port of New York, Mr. Loeb, made candidate for governor. This program would undoubtedly reunite all factions in New York State, and lead to victory next November not only in the election of the State officers, but in the return of the present delegation to Congress.

Lowering Prices.

Milwaukee Sentinel.

Like the swing of the pendulum and the ebb and flow of the ocean tides, recur the periods of the rise and fall of prices. The periods of high prices and the periods of low prices have respectively their distinctive advantages and drawbacks. Somehow the complaint of the losers is always louder than the satisfaction of the gainers. High prices or low, the discontent is always local.

At periods of low prices there is the complaint of dull times from the producers and wage-earners, when high prices rises, the angry voice of the consumer is heard in the land. In 1879 and in 1897 low prices ruled, and there was a chorus of complaints in 1890-93 prices were up again, and again they complained. And for the past year or so there has been a terrible outcry against the high prices as if they were an evil per se and with no compensating or correlative gain to anybody. But the farmer is thriving like the green bay tree, and we hear no complaint that the price is high from the fellow who does the selling. But the general rise and fall of prices is rhythmic and automatic, one period following the other with tidal certainty, if the teaching of history is to be relied upon.

A Death Near Stoney Creek.

Mr. A. Pinkney Foster died Friday April 6th, at the home of his nephew, Mr. J. H. Walker, of near Stoney Creek church, with whom he made his home. Mr. Foster was a veteran of the Civil War and has suffered with rheumatism ever since the war, being unable to walk without the aid of crutches. About a year ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, since which time he has been helpless. Although a great sufferer, his life has been spared to the ripe old age of sixty-nine years. He was a devoted member of the Union Ridge Christian Church. He leaves one very aged brother and two sisters, besides a large number of other relatives, he was an uncle of our townsman Mr. John R. Foster. The funeral and burial services were conducted at Stoney Creek Presbyterian church Saturday by Rev. J. W. Holt.

be one of the most important battle grounds of the year, the Republican party is more harmonious than for a quarter of a century. Governor Harmon is losing strength every day, and a large portion of the Democratic party is opposed to his nomination, which, however, will not be prevented, but it seems now that the Republican candidate will be victorious and no Republican seats will be lost in the Buckeye State. There might arise an exigency where Col. Roosevelt will take an active part there: he will undoubtedly make several speeches during the campaign, and in these speeches he will indorse the tariff law and will indorse Mr. Taft in every particular and his allegiance to his own so-called policies, which will be continued as far as possible by the present administration.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Special to the Dispatch.

Raleigh, N. C., May 9. — The Democratic row in Wake has attracted state-wide attention not simply because it is one of many county rows in which Democracy is now involved, but largely because of the fact that prominent State officials claim Wake county as their home and because the News and Observer, the Democratic Bible and Josephus Daniels, the editor and Democratic National Committeeman, are involved.

Heretofore Editor Daniels has not had the actual control of Wake County Machine, though he has helped to make it what it is today. J. N. Holding, Bart Gatling and Armistead Jones have controlled the actual running of the machine, and while Editor Daniels played the right tune on his tom toms, he was allowed "a voice in party councils."

Now the machine refuses to run according to his liking, and it is said that part of the trouble lies in the fact that Frank Daniels, of Goldsboro, is a candidate for Judge of the Sixth Judicial District, that the machine refuses to support Frank Daniels, who is a brother of Josephus, preferring to support J. C. Clifford, of Harnett county. An open letter appears in The State Democrat, demanding the withdrawal of Frank Daniels for the sake of harmony in the party.

Last Monday was a busy day for the leaders of the two factions. Negotiations for a compromise or settlement were kept up way into the night, but nothing could be agreed upon. However, it is believed that Daniels, Bailey & Co. are showing signs of weakness, for after the sensational demand to "Smash the Machine; the Machine is cotton, the party is all right" the News and Observer has changed horses in the middle of the stream and now cries "Don't smash the machine. Get another engineer. Smash the ring that bosses Wake county." It is apparent to all that Daniels, Bailey and Company, while demanding that the "Ring" be smashed are busy trying to make a little ringlet for themselves.

An Anti-Ring mass meeting has been called for May 14th, and will meet in Metropolitan Hall (over the city market and police station) where police protection can be had. It is said that only those to whom passes will be issued can gain admittance. It is said on the street that the machine Democrats have already formulated a plan to take charge of this meeting; that part of the plan is to turn in three fire alarms, thereby calling off the police and leaving the meeting open to all the Democracy.

Report has it that Daniels, Bailey and Company have already framed up a tentative slate to be put through at the meeting on the 14th, as follows: Senator — R. H. Battle, President of the Good Government Association and a prohibitionist. Representatives, R. W. Winston, who is said to be entering politics to become a candidate for Congress in place of Edw. W. Pou two years from now, Walter Clark Jr., City Attorney and Eli T. Scarborough, Postmaster at Eagle Rock, Wake county, about whom there was such a stir in the last Legislature when he held his seat as Representative while at the same time he was Postmaster at Eagle Rock, this being in violation of the Constitution which prohibits the holding of two offices. J. W. Bailey was counsel for Scarborough before the Legislative Committee. Sheriff — J. P. Stell, Chief of Police of the City of Raleigh. Clerk of the Court — Alexander Stronach, Police Justice of the City of Raleigh.

Among the sensational charges brought against the machine is the one that they paid the railroad fare from Wake Forest and return and from Apex and return for a large bunch of rooters to break up the meeting on April 30th. It is said that twenty or more were bought for seventy cents each — the price of a return ticket from Apex to Raleigh.

In this family row, in which the "morally stunted" are vigorously resisting the dose of "purity" offered them by Daniels, Bai-

CHANGE IN POSTAL SERVICE

Rural Delivery and Star Routes to be Consolidated.

It is announced from Washington that the rural delivery service and the star route service of the Postoffice department are to be consolidated and the combined service is to be taken as the division of rural mails. The change will take effect July 1.

For some years past the two services have provided practically the same kind of mail facilities, but the management of each has been distinct. The star route service had been conducted by the division of contracts under the second assistant postmaster general and the rural delivery service by a division in the bureau of the fourth assistant postmaster general.

The new division will have immediate supervision over annual appropriations aggregating close to $10,000,000. It is claimed that the consolidation will prevent conflicting management, avoid duplication of postal facilities and result in material economies.

The change is the result of a recent investigation which showed that the rural delivery system was costing about $28,000,000 more than the revenues derived from it. Plans were set on foot immediately to reorganize this service and place it on a more business-like basis. It is believed that the change will have the effect of cutting down the expenses of operations by several millions of dollars without any loss of efficiency.

Tide of Immigration.

Philadelphia Press.

As indicating the swing of the pendulum of prosperity, the rise and fall in the immigration figures is to a certain extent a measure of existing conditions that is not without value. Hence it is interesting to note that the tide of immigrants coming to this country in the fiscal year ending June 30 bids fair to exceed one million people. This limit has been reached but in three years during the existence of our government, those years having been 1905, 1906 and 1907. The panic of the last named year reduced the figures in 1908 to 782,000 and in 1909 to 751,786. That the incoming tide promises so well shows a degree of confidence in foreign lands in our institutions and industrial development that is most satisfactory and so far as can be told, is fully justified by the outlook. Of the 136,745 immigrants admitted in March of this year Italy furnished more than any other nation, as she also did in 1909, although during that year Austria-Hungary and the Russian Empire followed closely in her footsteps. The net immigration cannot be known until the return emigration to Europe has been checked off and deducted.

By the exercise of a strict, but kindly, oversight, no imbeciles, or those physically or morally unfit, or who are likely to become public charges, are admitted, and only those who are likely to become useful citizens are allowed to land. This wise restriction prevents our land from becoming the dumping ground of the off-scourings of European communities and guards against the dangers that would arise in case unrestricted and unguarded immigration were allowed or encouraged.

Rev. J. D. Andrew asks us to remind the members and friends of the Reformed Church of the appointment of Rev. C. E. Lchaaffer of Philadelphia to speak in the church here at 8 p.m. Thursday May 12. Every one is urged to hear him.

ley and Co., the untrigged are sorely perplexed. They see plainly that some thing is to be "smashed," but Josephus and Josiah have so mixed things up that just what it is that is to be smashed is not clearly understood. In fact it is now generally believed that these would-be patriots are the victims of "confusional politico-insanity" — nothing short of a "brain storm."

"At the time I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I was having sinking spells every few days. NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES

General Interest Clipped from our Exchanges.

Congressman Cowles has succeeded in having daily service on rural route No. 2, out to the Knob. The route was on daily service, but was later changed to every other day. The new service went into effect Monday morning.

A disastrous forest fire got out in Lewis Fork section the last of the week. It burned over more than a mile of territory, destroying and damaging considerable timber. Several lumber piles belonging to different parties and James Triplett's home had narrow escapes. The fire, it is said, started from a saw mill.

This talk of building a new court-house in Wake might be all right if they had only finished building for the old one. It is more of a disgrace not to pay the county's debts than it is to put up with an old court-house.

The Electric Shoe Shop in the Evening Times Building on Harbottle Street is something new in Raleigh. The soles are sewed on by electric machinery and it is done in a very few minutes. It is a sight worth seeing to those who never saw one of the machines in operation.

Weather conditions have been good for farm work this week and farmers have been busy preparing their tobacco lands. A great deal of fertilizer is being hauled out which shows that preparations are being made for a big crop of tobacco. Wheat is looking well.

County Observer.

Limore Faucette, aged about 60 years, died at his home three miles north of Hillsboro Tuesday and was buried at Cedar Grove Wednesday afternoon the funeral services being conducted by Rev. C. R. Ross. Mr. Faucette was a Confederate veteran, a well known farmer, and was one of the county's best citizens. He is survived by his wife, two brothers and a sister and a large number of other relatives.

Local Express.

Two citizens of this county, one of them a banker and the other a lumber dealer, recently bought a tract of land on Deep river for $7,500. A little later these gentlemen sold the timber on this land for $15,000, reserving the land for themselves. A wealthy Northerner who recently moved into the county purchased the timber. This gentleman has made several other purchases since moving to the county and has earned some many thousands of dollars among our people.

Wilkesboro Hustler.

Dr. J. M. Turner was coming down the hill in Wilkesboro Sunday evening about sundown in his automobile when one of the axles of his machine broke off close to the fore wheel causing a dangerous wreck just this side of the Isley residence nearly throwing the doctor out over the fore of his machine but fortunately not injuring him. Monday he was again on the roads.

My Leader.

Rufus King, a former Rural carrier from this city and well known in this section, died last Saturday at his parents' near Greensboro, Va. He was about thirty years old and leaves a wife and child. His remains were buried at the King family burying ground on Sunday.

Reports are true there is something doing in Pilot Mountain for down there, the postmaster H. W. Gordon is not only in the office but is very likely to lose his official head. It seems that some of the patrons of the office have preferred charges of incompetency, neglect of duty, and dereliction in the postoffice, and that it is, that these charges have been sustained and it is expected that in a very short time he will be required to walk the streets.

City Patriot.

Five patients were received at St. Leo's hospital during the month of April, thirteen of them being charity patients. Patients were discharged during the month. There were three deaths during the month. There were twenty-two patients in the institution May 1st.

cated in Greensboro These plants are to be used in the event of the failure of the water plant on the Catawba river, in South Carolina at any time and will represent a big investment. It has been decided to erect one of the plants in Greenville, S. C., and it is believed that Greensboro stands a chance of securing one of the others.

Lexington Dispatch.

Last week more than 3,000 cross ties were purchased by the buying agent of the Southbound railroad, this being the largest number for any one week. Most of the ties bought here are for the road between Lexington and Winston, where the timber is scarce. Below Lexington there is an abundance of timber. The price paid is 40 cents a tie.

Zeb Ray, of Yadkin College, whose leg was broken last October while he worked in a glass factory at High Point, underwent an operation here last Wednesday which was necessitated by the failure of the bone to knit. Drs. Hill and Hill, of Lexington and Dr. Reitzel, of High Point, performed the operation.

Union Republican

The day prior to the Boone Memorial gathering, at the Boone Cave, in Rowan county, which was held Saturday, as noted elsewhere, a dispatch from Marietta, Ga., April 29th, stated that on that day, Capt. R. W. Boone, the last descendant of the famous hunter, Daniel Boone, and a prominent banker of that city, died at his home after an illness of several weeks. He was a native of North Carolina.

Winston-Salem has a mulatto woman whose name is Mary Summers and who gives her age at 115 years. She was born in Virginia in 1795. This fact is verified by a family Bible where the date of her birth was written by her old master. She is in good health, and converses intelligently and especially upon things concerning the past. She resides at 110 E. Third Street and any one doubting the above can call on her to verify it.

Handelman News.

Guy C. Hayes left Tuesday for Panama, where he has accepted a position in the Government drug dispensary. He will go via New York.

The plant of the Deep River Chair Company, which was at a standstill a few days last week, on account of the pump being out of fix, is now running in full blast with orders a month ahead.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robt. Madsen, of West Burlington Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. It's positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c. at Freeman Drug Co.

JOHN M. COOK,

Administrator of the estate of Mary Carter deceased. This the 20th day of April 1910.

An old couple lived in the mountains of eastern Tennessee; he was ninety-five and she ninety. Their son, a man of seventy, died. As the old folks crossed the pasture to their cabin after the burial the woman noticed a tear roll down her husband's cheek. She patted him tenderly on the arm, and said: "Never mind, John, never mind; you know I always said we never would raise that by."

Another Mile Post.

With this issue THE STATE DISPATCH completes its second volume. Its pathway thus far has not been at all times rosy-tinted and strewn with flowers, such was not expected in the first place, but we feel proud of the fact that we are gaining strength with age. During the past year we have added near a thousand new subscribers, and we start upon our third volume with a determination to reach the three thousand mark before our third volume is completed.

We shall not boast of what the paper has been in the past, that we have made some friends, we well know, and at the same time we have made some enemies, but not intentionally. We have convictions of our own and dare to speak them. Those who do not agree with us, should be charitable enough to accord us the same liberties that they take, if they would see both sides of the question instead of one, we feel sure they would do so.

We have from time to time made some improvements in the office equipment and it is our purpose to continue these until we have a first-class outfit. Now while we are making these improvements we beg you not lose sight of the fact, it requires an outlay of cash to do this, and in order that the the good work may be kept up, will require the assistance of every subscriber and every patron of whatsoever nature. Therefore we ask you to stand by us as loyally in the future as you have in the past, and we will do our best to give you the best weekly paper in this section of the State.

Among the improvements made in the equipment may be mentioned the new face of type that has been bought during the present year. We are now, installing a mailing machine that will enable us to get off our mail in much less time than having to write the name upon each paper, and at the same time it gives every subscriber an opportunity to see exactly how his subscription stands upon our books. Therefore we urge you to examine the address on your paper, if it is printed, and if the figures indicate that you are in arrears, send us a remittance, it will aid us materially. Another feature, we are installing electric power that will also help us to be more prompt in getting our paper to our readers.

In closing these remarks we wish to thank each and every one who has contributed to our progress, and earnestly solicit your hearty co-operation in the future.

The condition of Affairs in the Democratic house hold in Wake county reminds us of the story of the Irishman went hunting and the only game he found was an old wood cock sitting on a limb hammering away for dear life. Pat made ready to shoot, but was restrained from doing so by his brother Mike, who exclaimed, Don't waste your ammunition Pat he'll beat his own brains out if you will let him alone. So with those warring factions down in Wake county. Just let them alone they will complete their finish to the Queens taste.

No one would think of accusing Josephus Daniels and followers of stealing but when they are caught red handed with the goods what then? We have reference to the plank of the Republican platform of Wake county which they are trying to force upon the Democrats of that county. Who would have thought it of the emaculate Josephus.

The Republicans of Alamance can carry the election in the county in November if the proper effort is put forth and a good strong ticket nominated. The Dispatch will not boost any candidate for the nomination, but after the convention we shall use every honorable means to bring about the election of the entire ticket from Congressman to township constable. In this connection we desire to say that we will publish announcements of candidates for any office from now until the convention meets, and for this we will make a uniform charge of $2.50. If you desire the nomination for any office send us your announcement together with the above stated amount, so that your friends may know your wants. There is nothing like being on time in such matters.

An Admission of Defeat.

Wilkes P. triot.
 Some of the State Democratic papers are already at work trying to figure out how the next Legislature will redistrict the State and gerrymander the counties so that ten Democratic Congressmen or more—if the increase in population will give us greater representation—may be elected. This is, of course, a frank admission, on their part, that they do not feel that they can get a full delegation from the districts as they are now constituted and that, if they are to have ten or more Congressmen, they must hit upon a better plan than they have heretofore been able to devise. One paper of that faith has risen to declare that all this speculation is premature that they may possibly have a solid delegation with gerrymandering the counties. We admit that it is in a measure premature, not that there is any likelihood of a solid Democratic delegation being elected to Congress this fall, but because it may rest with a Republican Legislature next spring to say how the districts shall be constituted. The opposition still remembers very vividly how, a few years ago, it attempted to make the Eighth district solidly Democratic but made two districts Republican instead, and if it again has an opportunity to rearrange the districts, it will try to avoid the mistake, it inadvertently made at its least gerrymandering escapade. But how that party is to do this, is the all important question with it. After all the various speculations and ramifications the nearest approach toward making the districts Democratic, would be, it is found, to cut the State up in a series of shoe string districts, and even such a performance, as this, would not leave all of the districts far removed, if removed at all, from the danger mark.

Yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon at the home of the brides mother near Altamahaw, Mr. Francis J. Winn of Richmond, Va., was united in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Mattie Iola Gilliam, one of Alamance county's fairest daughters, Rev. J. W. Holt, of this city officiating. The large number of valuable presents received by the bride attests the popularity and esteem in which she was held. The Dispatch joins the numerous friends in extending hearty congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy life.

Death of Vann D. McClure.

Mr. Vann D. McClure died suddenly Friday night at his home in North Burlington. He was 49 years old, leaves a wife and several children, all of whom are at home except Herbert, who has been working at Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. McClure for a number of years was engineer for the Southern, having worked in the old company shops prior to his becoming engineer. He leaves one brother, Mr. Ben McClure, of High Point, and two sisters, Mrs. Bettie King and Catherine Boland, both of this city. Funeral was conducted Sunday evening at the home by Rev. P. H. Fleming, burial taking place in Pine Hill cemetery.

A Query Oft Suggested.

Cleveland Leader. Detective Frank Wood was walking up Prospect avenue last summer when he was halted by a merchant, who led the popular policeman into a hallway and looked him over from head to foot. Wood wore duck trousers, a lilly white vest with pearl buttons, a navy blue cutaway coat, ox-blood shoes, a purple cravat, a soft hat of some delicate texture, and in his left hand he swung and twisted a cane.

After the merchant had completed his survey and started away, Wood asked somewhat petulantly: "Well, sir, what does all this mean?" "Oh, nothing," said the merchant, "only I wanted to find out why whp they call you a 'plain clothes man.'"

The beautiful gold watch on exhibition in Stewarts show window will be given away in our voting contest.

Now, brethren, I know it is very popular to be called Baptists, Christians, Methodists, and so on, although the entire list of human named churches, not but there are devout Christians in each of them; but my objection is only the church by Jesus Christ throughout all ages world without end.

Now listen: Gal. 4:67, because ye are sons God hath sent forth the spirit of His son into your hearts crying abba Father, wherefore, thou art no more a servant, but a son, and if a son then an heir of God through Christ.

Now, if we are sons and heirs, ought we not take the name of our father instead of some name foreign to our heirship? or could we inherit from him who was not our parent, not having a right to his property until we are adopted in his family and take his name upon us and henceforth be called by his name?

The name, Christian, is the name the disciples were first called at Antioch (Acts 11:26). We will admit that, says one, but they were called by that name in derision. Why so? did not the Prophet Isaiah speak concerning or allude to this time and circumstance when he says Isa. 62:2 and the gentiles shall see thy righteousness and thou shall be called by a new name. Now the disciples at Antioch were converts from the gentiles, that city being a city of the gentiles; the name Christian would be a fulfillment of the Prophets, declaration for not only the Jewish, but also the gentile disciples were called by that name. Well, says one, how do you know the Jews were called Christians? Please turn to acts 26, 27, 28, 29. Were the apostle making his defense before a Jewish King? He says King Agrippa believest thou the prophets; I know thou believest, thou Agrippa said unto Paul: "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian." Now listen at Paul's answer! And Paul said: "I would to God that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day were both almost and altogether such as I am except admitting that he was indeed a Christian, for he suffered himself to for that name, and for preaching the gospel." Gal. 3:27 for as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ, what is it to put on Christ but to take on ourselves the name of Christ and become His heirs indeed according to the promise made to Abraham; Christ being the seed of Abraham. Now if there is nothing in the name why did the apostle, when he came across certain disciples of which he made inquiry if they had received the Holy Ghost, they were surprised and answered him: We haven't as much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost. Well, says the apostle, unto what then were ye baptized? And they said unto John's baptism when they heard what Paul said about what John baptized for. They were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus thereby accepting his name as theirs to henceforth be called by his name (acts 19:2, 3, 4, 5.) The apostle Paul, 1 Cor. 1 chapter, verse 13, 14 was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized into the name of Paul, then he adds: I thank God that I baptized none of you, (for the reason) lest some should say I had baptized in my own name; giving them not the least excuse for calling themselves; (as we would say in our day) Paulites, or if any of us delight to be called Cambelights according to Paul's argument Alexander Camble would have had to be crucified for us and we would have to be baptized into Campbell's death and to take on Campbell's name. The same is true of Martin Luther or any other man's name, but thank God we are not baptized into any name but our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ's name. There the name Christian is sufficient for us. Why, says some one, Paul wrote letters to the Corinthian, Colossian, Ephesian and other churches, but did not call them Christians, certainly not, but how did he address them? Col. 1:11: Paul an apostle of Jesus Christ Verse 2 to the Saints and faithful brethren in Christ, at Colosse 1 Cor. 1:12 Paul unto the church at Corinth. &c. Eph. 1:1 Paul to the Saints at Ephesus &c. denoting the cities in which those brethren lived and not that they would be called Corinthians, Colossians, as we would call ourselves Camblesters, Methodists, or any other human name. But he called Christians and which would be reasonable and sensible.

Now, brethren, I know it is very popular to be called Baptists, Christians, Methodists, and so on, although the entire list of human named churches, not but there are devout Christians in each of them; but my objection is only to Christ's followers taking to themselves and diving as though we were not willing to honor our Lord Christ with the honor due Him by being called by the only name given in Heaven or among men whereby we must be saved. When we are reaproached for Christ sake let rejoice that we are accounted worthy to suffer for His name sake, but let us not suffer as Peter says, as murderers, thieves, or buisyboddes (and I might say, babblers) but let us watch and pray that we may not enter into temptation, that we may use hospitality one to another without grudging above all have fervant charity among ourselves, for brethren that the end of all things is at hand. Be sober minded and watch unto prayers, to the coming of our Lord Savior Jesus Christ and be ever ready to give an account of our stewardship and if any of us suffer as a Christian, let us not be ashamed, but let us glorify and praise God that we are not ashamed to be called Christians. Oh, how glorious it will be when Christ comes to make up His jewels and take His own unto Himself, that we may be of that number and be bailed by His new name. Oh, dear brethren, then it is impossible for us to think what good things God has in store for us, eye hath not seen nor ear hath not heard nor has it entered in the heart of man what things God hath prepared for them that love Him. Oh, what a glorious thing it will be when we shall be permitted to see Jesus and to dwell with Him forever. Oh, that we may live and reign with Him throughout eternal ages. God forever more. Amen.

P. S.—Please don't any on I am writing to criticize anybody, but to try and persuade the brethren to adopt the only name given in the scriptures, which we should receive and be called by.

Forget the Other Side of It.

Some laboring men were discussing the high cost of living, and one of them was heard to remark:

"Say, do you know what I was doing when Cleveland was President? I was a sandwich man tramping the streets carrying advertising signs, and I'd get job at that. Prices were low enough to keep me and the old lady alive. Now I'm getting $4 a day, and we don't have to go ragged and hungry. Maybe I'd be kicking more if I hadn't seen the other side of it."

Plenty of the kickers of today against Protection have seen the other side of it but they have forgotten. It is so easy to forget!

So easy, too, to find fault with the tariff. Not so easy, however, to undo the mischief that invariably springs from tariff reform.

Our town was severely shocked Monday morning when the phone message came from Greensboro that John Spoon was dead. His mother Mrs. E. J. Spoon and W. N. Freshwater went to Greensboro Saturday evening to see him, he died with measles. He was born and raised at Haw River and he had many friends here. He was buried at Mt. Zion cemetery beside his father who passed over the river many years ago.

The series of meeting was a glorious one Rev. J. M. Arnett of Durham brother of the pastor did the preaching to say it was good is not telling it, there have been twenty-five or twenty-six professions and twelve have applied for baptism, one restored when Uncle Jessie Williams came forward to be restored it seemed that heaven came down to greet us, it was an impressive scene every one was glad, all denominations rejoiced, and then these noble young men who came up to the help the Lord against the mighty we surely could say, bless the Lord O my soul. Bro. Arnette left Monday to attend the Southern Baptist Convention in Baltimore.

The Baracca Classes of the Baptist and M. E. Sunday school crossed bats last week but we did not hear how the game was.

Mothers day services were held in the Baptist church Sunday evening and they were very impressively conducted by Rev. J. W. Arnette and Rev. A. H. Bryans. The M. P. dismissed their services Sunday and came and worshiped with the Baptist.

Our friend No. 7 said last week that his "sub" wrote his items. We think he had better let the "sub" do it all the time. There was a great improvement in the items.

Miss Minnie Montgomery, who taught school at Gibsonville this year, returned home Sunday for her vacation.

The metals that were offered at Friendship this year were won by Henry Murray and sister, Miss Bulah.

There will soon be a new concrete church in course of erection at Friendship.

Friday evening after the commencement was over at Friendship quite a crowd stayed over for the moving picture show.

Our friend, J. K. Isley, of No. 7, being so enthused over the show he could not eat any supper.

So after the show was over brother Isley made for his buggy, good and hungry, but all to his surprise he found that supper basket and all was gone.

After searching all about there, save the cemetery, he started for home without supper.

Next morning he renewed his search and found his basket by a large tombstone in the cemetery.

The trespasser had left Mr. Isley a knife, fork, plate and tablecloth while he carried away a fine linen tablecloth, 4 dishes and all the supper. This is nearly as bad as our friend No. 7 trying his slight of hand on that "billy barlow" over at Rock Creek.

A Peculiar Code of Honor.

Philadelphia Times.
"Some men," said Al Trotter, well known clubman at a banquet recently, "have very queer ideas of honor."

"I was riding from Pittsburg to Philadelphia in the smoking compartment of a Pullman. There were perhaps six of us in the compartment, smoking and reading. All of a sudden a door banged and the conductor's voice cried

"All tickets, please?"

"Then one of the men in the compartment leaped to his feet, scanned the faces of the rest of us and said slowly and impressively:

"Gentlemen, I trust to your honor."

"And he dived under the seat and remained there in a small silent knot until the conductor was safely past."

In order that he may give his entire attention to the drug business, Mayor A. F. Barrett, who has served the city of Burlington for five years as Mayor, has tendered his resignation to take effect at the next regular meeting of the city aldermen, Monday night, June 6th. Had it not been for the bulk of unfinished business caused by the putting in of water works and sewerage, Mr. Barrett would not have accepted the renomination and election one year ago. He has made the city a very efficient officer and has a large number of friends and supporters who regret to see him resign.
