Digging Graves With Teeth.

The grim old saying that half the people in the world dig their graves with their teeth has been substantiated by the health department of New York City public school system.

With a view to determining scientifically the effect of bad teeth on physical and mental health, thirty-nine thousand children were examined. It was found that those whose teeth were required twice the time of the other children to graduate cost the city twice as much.

From this it has been concluded that as a mere matter of business the city can better afford to employ dentists than to go on struggling blindly with the defective youth.

The incident is of local interest for the reason that Atlanta has been trying a system of medical inspection of her schools for nearly two years. The results here are comparable to those in New York. The discoveries made through the system are equally valuable and the good effects are equally as gratifying.

One of the most interesting characteristics of the present time is its increasing attention to the simple matters of health. To prevent rather than to cure disease is coming to be the principal mission of the doctor today; and it might be added, one of the most important phases of his work is to teach the people how to prevent disease.

No feature of this movement is more vital to public health than that which deals with care and preservation of the teeth. The whole thing is so elementary and simple that it has heretofore been regarded as unworthy of serious notice. Yet, the investigations in New York and in Atlanta have unquestionably that one of the greatest factors in the welfare of men, women and children today is an intelligent use of the tooth brush.

This statement made by the Atlanta Journal sounds a serious warning. Not cities alone does warm but individuals and parents. Cleansing the teeth should be cultivated into a habit. In childhood this should be done. After children have become men and women it is about as difficult to cultivate new habits as to break old ones. To wait until teeth are gone and health undermined to cleanse the teeth is worse than the police after the thief has gone.

We meet many young people whose decay teeth present a horrible appearance. Many of them have not been trained to care for their teeth by parents whose duty it was. Now, feeling unable to pay large dentist's bills they let them become worse.

The school teacher is not out of place. If others have neglected this important training, he should endeavor to correct the error in the training of his students.

Watermelon Feast.

Roanoke, Va., July 30 1910. A free watermelon feast for every one who attends the Ohio Valley Exposition in Cincinnati, August 29 to September 24 inclusive. These watermelons will be the gift of the state of Georgia to the exposition and each one to weigh at least eighty lbs.

In addition to this the fruits, vegetables and farm products of all kinds from each state along the line of the Norfolk & Western Railway will be shown and a competent lecturer will be on hand to tell the large crowds all about these products and the possibilities of the localities from which they are taken.

Special rates will be given by the N. & W. Railway. These rates are higher than those in force this season. How about that? There is no tariff on watermelons, is there?

Mr. Roosevelt has only cracked the silence, but one could hardly say he has broken it.

Do You Sing or Howl?

I have been reading in different papers about the cost of living in fact do not have to read to now the cost of living. Now the blame has been put on tariff Teddy Taft & Co., and everything else most, but lets not send spies to heathen lands to find the cause let us look in our town and country. Let us do as the merchant take inventory see where we stood prior to 1896, and where we are at to-day 1910.

Back in the good days prior to 1896 when the country was at a stand still, when we had not discovered a new south. When the cry was go west young man and take up government land if you ever intend to own land. We have gone West in an air ship and what do we find the story is too serious to tell. We find them sending our rations back to N. C. for us, so let us hasten home and see how they are being dealt out to us now and back in the days.

We used to love to visit the town store and hear the drummers talk telling yarns, we could listen half day and go home feeling that we had gained knowledge of the faraway world. We have often asked ma if we could be a drummer when we got grown up. The merchant loved to talk with him and his tales of wonder. They were good days alas we are grown up now but we don't want the drummers place. The cost of selling is more now than in the good days. Our merchant used to send into his house once a week for the things needed. Now it is very different. We have a man to come every day to see if we need any western fat back. We have a different one to see us about our flour every day and another about hay and grain, we could go on and name them one by one, but space and time forbids. We must pay for this and not put it on the tariff.

Back in the good days when we wanted to be a drummer there was not so many on the road, but now ask any merchant about how many call to see him each day. We would not pass this without telling the part we played when in the wonderful days that the paper tell how cheap we lived ma used to send us to the store after all the supply for table in way of sugar, coffee, spice and other little things, pa would always go at night and bring the flour. We learning to be a merchant trading this may but now lays don't have that pleasure, they learn business ways at school. The schools being longer terms than in the cheap days that have past. Ma goes to the telephone tells the store keeper to send a peck of meal and get it there at once, an half hour later tells him to send her a spool of thread.

Does this add the cost of living or shall we cuss our President and congress for all this. Does it make meat cost more for the drummer to come after our orders and mail it to house or for us to mail it? Does it cost more to ask for what we want over 'phone and have it sent at three different times or let the boys go after it. Other things we intended mentioning but will not now in regard to high living, friends can you name a paper in our good state that has raised a yell when the school term has been lengthened or when the telephone wire was being stretched over the country. Do you know one that has howled at our little towns being turned into cities. Look at your house and see my neighbor if your cost of living can be reduced, if can be reduced if can or cannot come on and sing and whistle that great song with us.

Carolina Carolina heavens blessing attend her. WHISTLING BOY.

One advantage in taking a vacation late in the summer is that one may learn from his friends of a lot of places not to go.

Wednesday, August 10, 1910.

Somebody is going to look like thirty cents before the thing is over.

No matter who wins, the chances are they will wish they hadn't.

The State Chairmanship is not the soft snap that most people think it is.

The man who gets it will want to turn it loose long before his time is out.

The way to keep down factional strife is to read the Dispatch and heed its wholesome advice.

It might be alright to run the steam roller over the other fellow, if you knew you were not going to need him any more.

Are you a subscriber to the Dispatch? If not you are missing some mighty good reading these days.

The campaign is on, if you want to keep posted subscribe for the State Dispatch. We give the news for all factions.

The man who wins the State Chairmanship may be very ambitious, but he will have his arbor cooled before he can turn it loose.

The Dispatch is for all factions. The advice is wholesome, and the reading good. Try it a year and if you don't think so, you can stop the paper.

The Democrats of Caswell county actually nominated an old Confederate soldier for County surveyor at their county convention a few days ago.

Major Steadman got the nomination for Congress, but my how they did try to outfigure the grand old man, as he is familiarly called by his friends.

The old Confederate soldier is all right as long as he stays in the fighting ranks of the Democracy, but when ever he wants a sure enough office he is sent away back to sit down.

Those who are bent upon seeing their favorite for State Chairman win should remember that when this contest is settled, that the real contest will have just begun.

Those who are bent upon seeing their faction win the Chairmanship must bear in mind that it takes all the factions together to win an election, and then some more.

The Democrats of the State find themselves on the run for recruits, they have brow-beat the old Confederate soldier until he is a back number in their ranks. Now they are trying to satisfy this element by nominating one or two for the legislature. They cannot fool anybody by this ruse.

The Republicans of the State have been reading too much Democratic literature, hence the many wrangles in the party councils. Boys you better let it alone it is catching.

Those who were successful in capturing the delegates for their favorite for State Chairman, at the county convention should give the election of the county ticket some attention now.

Are the men who are making the fight of their lives to have their favorite elected State Chairman, doing so because they believe he is the best man, or is there some other motive?

Subscribe for THE DISPATCH.

The Republicans down at Raleigh tried to out wrangle the Democrats the other day, but they couldn't do it and had to give it up. It can't be done boys, no use trying.

We are in receipt of the 1910 issue of The Dauchy Co's Newspaper Catalogue. This work is issued annually and has become so familiar to advertisers, newspapers publishers and others who are interested in the periodical publications of the country that it hardly needs extended notice from us. It is no faint praise to say that this edition is fully up to those of previous years. The book is a large volume of 752 pages, well bound in cloth, printed from large and clear type, and on heavy paper. The statistics are very conveniently arranged, and the peculiar feature of a ruled space for memoranda against each paper makes this catalogue probably the most useful one published. Advertisers and others who have occasion to use a newspaper directory regularly, know how necessary it is to make memoranda as to contracts changes, etc., against the names of papers, and this purpose. This Newspaper Catalogue is a credit to its publishers, The Dauchy, Co., 9 Murray St., New York, from whom it can be obtained or from booksellers.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES

"GO YE ALSO INTO THE VINEYARD."

Matthew 20:1-16.—August 14.

"Many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first."—Matt. 19:30. GRAPE culture was one of the main industries of the days of the Great Teacher. The stony hillsides of Palestine were once terraced and extensively used as vineyards. On our recent visit we noted with particular interest the revival of this custom, as one of the evidences of the beginning of restitution of the Holy Land.—Acts 3:19-21.

The grapevine was honored of the Master, in that he used it in a parable, to symbolize himself and the Church, saying, "I am the Vine, ye are the branches." "My Father is the husbandman;" "Herein is my Father glorified that ye bear much fruit;" "Every branch in me which beareth fruit he pruneth it that it may bring forth more fruit;" "Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away."

Our present Study, the Parable of the Laborers, is in full accord with the foregoing, but shows the matter from a different standpoint. It shows how each one of the Lord's consecrated Church, each heir of the Messianic Kingdom shortly to be established, is privileged to be a co-laborer with his Lord and Master and with the Heavenly Father in the vineyard work—tending the vine, looking out for the injurious pests, keeping the soil in good condition, assisting every way in the production of "much fruit" and of fine quality. Evidently many Christian people do not appreciate the privilege of being laborers in the Church of Christ—"building one another up in the most holy faith" until we all come to the full stature of a man in the Anointed One.

St. Paul appreciated this privilege greatly, saying, God hath made us qualified servants of the New Covenant. So then we, as ambassadors for God, beseech men. Be ye reconciled to God. (2 Corinthians 5:20.) Whoever is negligent of his opportunities to serve others who manifest a hearing ear, a humble heart and a teachable spirit shows his own lack of appreciation of God's message. He thus indicates that he has not come to a knowledge of God nor to a knowledge of the Truth respecting the Divine Plan. And indeed the Scriptures declare that a deep knowledge of God, his Word and his purposes, is attained only as a gift of God, bestowed only upon those who are in a humble, faithful, zealous attitude of mind—"To you it is given to know the mysteries of the Kingdom of God."

The things pertaining to God's Kingdom, in its future operation toward the world for a thousand years, will be openly manifested to every creature, shortly. But now it is appropriate, and is the Divine will, that these things should be known only to the Church, the consecrated, the spirit-begotten sons of God. Likewise there are important truths pertaining to the Kingdom class, the Church, which is being prepared to be the Bride of Christ and his joint-heirs in the Kingdom. And these things are likewise intended to be comparatively secret—to be clearly and fully understood only by such as have made a covenant with the Lord by sacrifice. (Psalms 50:5.) "The secret of the Lord is with them that reverence him, and he will show them his Covenant." (Psalms 25:14.) All such in close sympathy with the Divine purposes will be anxious to serve the Lord, the Truth and the brethren. And such from time to time will be specially sent into the Vineyard, and will be specially used of the Lord for the assistance of his consecrated people in various ways.

The word "penny" here is from the Greek denarius, a silver coin of about 17 cents value. But the value of money has so changed in recent years that today a laborer's wage in proportion to other things would be considerable more. The denarius was the Roman standard of that time, as the lira is the Italian standard, the mark the German standard, the franc the French standard, the shilling the English standard and the dollar the American standard. It is worthy of note that in one of the fine old English cathedrals the records show that its excellent chisel work, superior to anything of today, cost "A penny a day and a bag of meal for each laborer." The parable of our lesson is evidently intended to teach that God will give all that he has agreed to all who labor—that he may in generosity give more than he has stipulated.

At the close of the day, we read, those first hired murmured against their lord. We cannot suppose that any who would be counted worthy of a share in the Kingdom would murmur against the Giver of all Good. The rewarding is to be expected at the close of the harvest day and the murmuring may be expected there also. The "penny" or reward would thus seem to be something of the joys, blessings, honors and privileges of God's people in the present life, at the close of this age. Those who murmur that they do not receive a sufficiency of honor and distinction and of Divine acknowledgment will be thereby proving themselves unfit for the future service "beyond the veil," as members of the Church in glory. This would seem to point a warning to those of God's people who have been long in the Truth and who have had great privileges of service, that if they murmur against the blessings and rewards coming to them, it will mean that they were laboring for the reward merely and not appreciating the privilege of being laborers with Christ and with the Father; it would imply that they had failed to enter into the spirit of the wonderful privileges granted them of serving the Lord, the Truth and the brethren. The right spirit, the proper interest in the Father's work and in the brethren should prompt all to rejoice with every new laborer and to be glad that all such should receive of the Lord's favors, blessings and enlightenment as fully, as freely, as themselves. Surely any who have not this spirit have not the spirit of Christ on this subject.

The general lesson is that God is so just, so generous, so bountiful, in his dealings that all those who appreciate matters from his standpoint will rejoice in the blessings which overflow upon others. A failure to appreciate the Lord's generosity was one cause of stumbling to the Jews eighteen centuries ago—they were offended that the Gospel message should go out beyond them to the Gentiles. Similarly today some Christian people are stumbling over the fact that the Word of God shows that, whereas Divine blessings are now continued to the Church, "the elect," the servants and handmaidens of the Gospel Age, yet the time is near at hand when "God will pour out his spirit upon all flesh," and when all the families of the earth shall be blessed.

All who have the privilege of bearing the labor and heat of the day in the Lord's service must be glad of the privilege, in order to be worthy of participation in the Kingdom. Thus some who seem to be first in their promptness to respond to the Lord's call for laborers may be amongst the last to receive special blessings of grace and Truth and this may serve as a special test upon them—as respects their loyalty, and the motives which actuated them in engaging in the Vineyard work.

OUR Annual Clearance Sale

This Sale Continues till August 15th. Clothing, Shoes, Dry Goods and Hats will be sold at a great Reduction.

Owing to the fact that many people have already taken advantage of these wonderfully low prices, there are yet many who wish this Sale to continue awhile longer so as to give them a chance to secure bargains.

During these few days of extended Sale of all Summer Clothing, Dry Goods, Hats, Shoes and Furnishings, our established policy not to carry goods over is well understood and fully appreciated by our numerous patrons who have profited in the past by our sales, full well knowing that when we begin to apply the knife it is with rather a reckless disregard of all former prices.
