A REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE UPBUILDING OF AMERICAN HOMES AND AMERICAN INDUSTRIES.

VOL. III.

BURLINGTON, N. C., NOVEMBER 30, 1910.

NO. 29

FORTIFYING THE CANAL

Nations Must First Decide Question of Neutrality.

Panama, November 27.—The congressional party, who have been holding hearings in connection with canal appropriations, will sail for New York from Colon on the steamer Ancon tomorrow. The local newspapers publish a statement by Congressman Lawney, chairman of the committee, that the canal will not be fortified until the various nations have the opportunity for declaring themselves on the question of observing neutrality in the Canal Zone. The statement causes much comment.

A reception was tendered yesterday by President Arosemena in honor of the visiting congressmen. A large number of guests attended, including the diplomatic corps, the members of the cabinet and a number of ladies.

There has been discussion over the difficulties Americans experienced in acquiring land in Panama. A law was recently passed providing that foreigners will enjoy the rights conceded by the law for the exploitation of forests, and also by the law respecting the acquirement of land. This means that the former law prohibiting foreigners from obtaining land if the same rights are not accorded Panamanians in the country of the foreigner is annulled, thus allowing the holding of land by others than Panamanians.

It is reported that the president of the Boilermakers' Union of the United States has cabled to the boilermakers here requesting them to remain at work until President Taft passes on their petition for increased wages. Nearly all the men have quit work, and many of them have left the isthmus.

The American Family.

"Doctor Parkhurst went abroad last summer as usual to inspect the people of the other nations," says Edward Sanford Martin in WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION for December. "When he came home he said it was easy to tell them all at sight, Italians Irishmen, Frenchmen, Germans—an eye, he thought, did not need to be very carefully trained to identify any of them. "And as for the native-born, full-blooded American," he said, there is no human creature anywhere on earth that is like him or, as I say, that is the equal of him." It is certainly true that the American of the United States has come to have a distinct national identity. I hope Doctor Parkhurst's opinion of his superior quality is also true. There are reasons why it ought to be—reasons connected with breadth of opportunity and relief from various inherited handicaps that affect all of Europe.

But the greatest of all agencies to make it true and keep it true is the American family. Out of the family comes government; out of the family comes education; and all the magnificent apparatus for spreading and bettering it.

The indispensable product of a country that would be great is neither gold nor iron, copper, cotton nor corn, but effectual men and women, who know what is worth trying for and are fit to attain it. And this indispensable product is a family product. Only as families exist and are worthy can it be forthcoming. We see, and are impressed by enormous mills, astonishing city structures, tremendous examples of the power of the minds and hands of men, but these things are no more than the passing fruit of the trees whose roots are in the family. These things do not make men. Education itself does not make men. The family makes men; and given men of the right quality in the right place and time, all these other things will be added unto them.

Oklahoma rejected female suffrage at election, but a new aeroplane designed and built by a woman soared over Long Island last Sunday.

"Hereafter the Chicago police are to fire marked bullets when they charge obstreperous mobs. Presumably in order to improve

Cates-Rauhut.

Mr. Walter L. Cates and Miss Minnie E. Rauhut were quietly married at the historic old home of the bride's father, (The Holt Home) on Wednesday afternoon November 23rd.

The marriage came as a surprise to their friends and the young couple are to be congratulated on keeping their secret so well. Only the intimate members of the bride's family, her Uncle Lewis Holt and her cousin Miss Sallie Fox of Randleman and Henry C. Anthony, a friend of the groom were present.

The marriage was simple and beautiful. Promptly at the hour for the ceremony, 4 p. m. Miss Fox threw open the door and led the way into the spacious parlor, followed by the young couple to be made one.

As they entered the relatives and guest rose and stood during the brief and impressive ceremony, which was performed by Rev. D. McIver the bride's pastor.

After the ceremony the bridal party and friends were invited to the dining room where an elegant supper consisting of all the good things of the season were served.

Mr. Cates is one of Burlington's best known and most popular young men. He is a member of the Holt-Cates Co., a firm, of which he is manager.

Mrs. Cates is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Rauhut. She is a graduate of the Salem Female Academy and is greatly beloved of all her friends.

Their many friends extend to them all good wishes.

Burlington is fortunate in having these young people among us.

Hobgood-Hornaday.

Of times the people of our town have been surprised but never more so than Friday morning when it was learned that during the silent hours of night when most of her friends and companions were in the land of slumber Miss Annie Dare Hornaday had become the wife of Mr. Chas. B. Hobgood of Oxford. It was known by her friends that Mr. Hobgood was expected to call Thursday night but little did they think that this charming couple would allow cupid to wind up their matrimonial career, and place there upon the seal of happiness.

Miss Hornaday is a charming young lady with hosts of friends and admirers, who join in wishing her much happiness during her wedded life. We clip the following from the Durham Sun:

"Cupid went the limit when he aroused Rev. G. T. Adams from his bed this morning at 4 o'clock to perform the marriage ceremony that made Miss Annie D. Hornaday, of Burlington, Mrs. Charles B. Hobgood.

The young people came to the city this morning on the early eastbound train from the home of the young lady. Mr. Hobgood lives in Oxford and after talking the matter over with the young lady, they caught the train which passed Burlington about 1 o'clock.

They went immediately to the home of Rev. Mr. Adams and he performed the ceremony in the parlor of the parsonage at about 4 o'clock. The witnesses to the marriage were Messrs. K. C. Hayes, of Chase City, Va.; R. C. Cassell and J. D. Williams of this city. "Very pretty and very happy" is the description of the bride that Mr. Adams gives. What the ceremony lost in pomp and splendor of the usual wedding, was gained in the romance of the affair, for it is not many people that propriety allows to marry just as the chancellors begin to salute the approaching dawn."

Ford-Newlin.

Her many friends hastened to extend congratulations when it was first learned Saturday that Miss Lydia Newlin and Mr. John W. Ford had wedded. Miss Newlin formed the acquaintance of Mr. Ford during the past summer while spending her vacation at Hiddenite Springs. She is a beautiful and accomplished young lady and is admired by a large circle of friends. We clip the following from the Durham Sun:

Ford, a lumber dealer of Wilmington, and Miss Lydia Newlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Newlin, of Burlington came to this city and were quietly married at Trinity parsonage by Rev. G. T. Adams. The news of their wedding was kept quiet until late Saturday evening, when they arrived here to visit friends, and the groom telegraphed to his new father-in-law, announcing the marriage. So far the parents have not forgiven the bride, and after their visit in Durham they will return to Wilmington unless a message is received from Burlington saying "Come home."

Tainted Foods.

In the endeavor to enforce to provisions of the National Pure Food Law, the inspectors sent by Dr. Wiley, head of the pure food and drugs bureau of the Agricultural Department have unearthed in New York, a use for bad eggs, "rots and spots" which the consumers of baker shop dainties had never hitherto suspected. Investigation of New York bakeries showed that in over fifty concerns rotten eggs were used in the making of all kinds of cakes. So general was this use that there was a regular market demand in New York for "rots," great quantities being forwarded from Philadelphia where the state food law prevents the use of rotten eggs for any purpose. A general cleaning up in New York is now in process, the inspectors from the national Health Bureau working in conjunction with representatives of the New York Health Board. As a consequence the supply of "rots and spots" greatly exceeds the demand and in consequence the price has fallen from one dollar per case and a half and two to twenty-five cents per case.

It is a question whether or not eggs and meats advanced toward odorous stage of decomposition are deleterious to health. It certainly has not always been generally thought so. It is not necessary to journey all the way to China to find gourmets with tastes for partially decayed foods. Most any of the black Dinahs who preside over Southern kitchens will tell inquirers that game ought to be rather "high," high in technical meaning pertaining to the advanced stage of decomposition and not to the price. Venison, quail and rabbits are preferred by many after the flesh has softened and an odor taint has developed. There are even those who prefer their beef steaks a trifle "high" as to quality. If there is really danger in eating "high" meats, there are many people who do not know it.

Have we a Trust Law.

A subscriber requests the News and Observer to decide who won this wager:

"A bet B that North Carolina had a trust law, and B contended that there is no such law on the statute books. Who won?"

The man who bet that North Carolina has a trust law won. This state has a trust law—one that pleases the trusts as well as if they had written it themselves. Under this trust law every trust has been free to rob and oppress the people without even an attempt to protect the people from the sway of monopoly. The trusts prefer a pink tea trust law to no law, because if there is a trust law on the statute books it is easy to satisfy the people.

It may be, however, that the wager was as to whether there is a law in North Carolina against trusts. If so, the answer is that there is no such law. There is a statute that has been called an anti-trust law, but experience has shown that it is a pro-trust law. It is so impotent that no officer has invoked it, and its continuance on the statute books only burdens the laws and advertises that the State legislated so that the trusts could not even be troubled—News and Observer.

[Yet we are told that the Democratic party is the only party to make trust busting laws. They have showed their hand in North Carolina.]

Murder in Tennessee.

Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Murder has long been held a minor offence in Tennessee. In accordance with this theory, the courts now declare Robin Cooper not guilty of the murder of former Senator Carmack. Killing one's fellow-man in that state is not even a misdemeanor, particularly if politics be involved in the case.

Cooper and his father killed Carmack, both were convicted. Their cases were taken before the state supreme court for review. This court refused to take any action in relief of the elder Cooper and Gov. Patterson immediately pardoned him. Now the son escapes all punishment for what would be a capital offense in most other states.

The pardon of Cooper led to the complete undoing of Patterson; and in his fall he dragged down his party in that state. For Tennessee last week elected a Republican governor. Political events sometimes more swiftly when some act of peculiar flagrance incites a people to righteous indignation.

Thus ends the Carmack incident, so far as the courts are concerned. The primal right of a Tennessean to murder is established beyond cavil.

Tributes to Casey.

A good-sized squad of newspaper men, citizens and merry villagers flanked the entrance to the Taft summer home, at Beverly, and kept their eyes on the road back of the Secret Service guard for the approach of the carriage containing Col. Roosevelt and Senator Lodge. The wait was more than two hours long and conversation flourished at times. One knot fell to discussing Roosevelt.

"The secret of his success," said a villager, "is that he is a good man."

"That makes me think of the death of Casey," replied another. "When Casey lay in his coffin a neighbor looked long at his face and then said to the widow, 'He was a good man, Mrs. Casey.'"

"He was that," she replied. "It always tuk more than two cops to handle him."—Boston Traveler.

Death of Jno. T. Fogleman.

Mr. John T. Fogleman died Thursday at his home in east Burlington at the age of 69 years after a few days illness. Cancer of the stomach being the cause of his death. Funeral was conducted on the following day by Rev. C. B. Cox assisted by Rev. M. V. Stickley. Burial at St. Pauls Cemetery. He is survived by several children his wife having died about two years ago.

BEING TREATED IN JAIL

An Imbecile In Jail While Taking Pasteur Treatment. No Provision for Caring for the Unfortunate Man While Being Treated for a Mad Dog Bite—Will Stay in Jail for Twenty-one Days.

Author Mock, of Winston-Salem, was brought here last Friday to take the Pasteur treatment, and because there was no place for him to be kept he was placed in the Wake county jail, and unless some provision is made for his care, he will remain there until he has completed the course of treatment which will take twenty-one days. This is an unfortunate state of affairs. Though he has committed no crime, he must be incarcerated for three weeks in order to take a treatment that will save his life.

Mock is a white man, apparently about 45 years of age, and has been an inmate of the Forsyth County Home. Last Thursday morning he was attacked by a rabid dog and bitten in several places. He was brought to this city Friday by the county physicians and because of his mental condition, he being an imbecile, no place could be secured for him to stay during the treatment. As a last resort application was made to the county authorities for permission for him to stay in the county jail, which was granted.

Three other people bitten by the same dog are taking the Pasteur treatment, they being Mr. J. W. King, Miss Jurney and Miss Briggs.

(This from the Raleigh Evening Times shows a frightful state of affairs. Just suppose for a moment what would have occurred, had such a state of affairs existed under a Republican administration—there would have been a "howl of incompetency," that could have been heard from Murphy to Manteo. Yet, we are living under a Democratic good government and must not raise a protest. "The King can do no wrong.")

May Prove Fatal.

When Will Burlington People Learn the Importance of It.

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But when you know 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles follow;

That diabetes, Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Burlington citizen.

Mrs. Delara Stubbins, S. Main St. Burlington, N. C., says:

About three years ago I began to suffer from severe pains through the small of my back across my limbs. My body became bloated and the kidney secretions were unnatural. The doctor said I had symptoms of Bright's disease. I finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Freeman Drug Co., and began using them. In a short time my suffering was greatly relieved and I am now able to attend to my housework with ease. I advise all sufferers from kidney complaint to give Doans Kidney Pills a trial.

Charity That Went Wrong.

On one of these stuffy days last week a heavy ice wagon drew up near Chatham Square and the man in charge went in to see what the order would be. While he was gone several children clambered on the rear step and began to fish for small pieces. One little girl had just scooped out a handful when the iceman returned and chased her away.

"Sell me 5 cents worth of ice please," said a well-dressed woman, who wore a white ribbon and had seen the little girl crying from disappointment. The man weighed a fair-sized piece of ice and, wrapped it in a newspaper, handed it to the women.

"Here, little one, is a nice big piece of ice," said the woman loud enough to be heard by every one of the small crowd that had collected. "You need't cry any more. Take this home to mother and sick sister."

The child, instead of drying her tears, cried more and made no attempt to take the ice.

"It's too b-b-big, sobbed the child.

"Too big, and what did you want to do with it, my child,"

"We were going to put it down the blind man's back," replied the girl, bursting into tears again.—New York Sun.

New to Him.

Washington Post.

The hobble skirt was being discussed at the Colony Club in New York, and Miss Elizabeth Marbury, the famous dramatic agent, said, with a smile:

"You'd think the hobble skirt had penetrated everywhere, but listen.

In Camden the other afternoon a young girl in a brown hobble skirt hurried with short, quick steps to a football game. Her skirt was tight enough in all conscience, but a narrow black band encircling it just below the knees drew it still tighter.

"As the young girl tripped out Mickle street a coal heaver, laying down his shovel, ran after her.

"Say miss," he said in a low, confidential tone, "yer belt's slipped down."

Mr. O. K. Roberson of Elon College spent Sunday in town the guest of his aunt Mrs. O. K. Dorsett.

A day of lively bull fighting would do more to settle present difficulties in Mexico than anything else.

Randleman News.

Last Thursday evening about 6 o'clock while running his machine home Mr. J. O. Pickard came very near losing his life as well as that of Mr. J. A. Russell, who was riding with him. The auto was running down the Randleman hill at a pretty lively speed, apparently every thing was going well until the time came to make the turn going up the Ferguson hill, when the steering gear refused to work and the machine ran almost straight on and off about a four foot embankment. Mr. Russell was uninjured and so was Mr. Pickard, save a few jars and bruises, but the axles and wheels on the machine were pretty well twisted about. If the machine had run five feet further she would have been in the race ten feet below.

Greensboro Patriot

Mr. Mason W. Gant of Stokesdale has accepted the position of chief deputy in the office of the clerk of the Superior court of Guilford county, which will be filled by Mr. James W. Forbis after the first Monday in December. Mr. Gant is one of the most prominent young men in north-western Guilford, and his friends will be glad to know that he is to occupy a position that will bring him in closer touch with all the people of the county.

Raleigh Caucasian.

Ed. Sunday a ginger-cake color negro was arrested in Raleigh Monday charged with entering homes on North Blount Street. He would gain admittance to homes on the pretext that he wished to read the electric meters. One lady found after he had left that he had opened all the doors and unlatched all the windows upstairs. He was probably afraid to carry out some articles in the day-time and expected to enter the house that night and secure the valuables. The negro claims to hail from New Hill.

Lee County Times.

'Squire J. D. A. Secrest, of North Monroe township made on one acre of land this year 97 bushels of threshed oats and fed ten dozen bundles in the sheaf, and after the oats were harvested planted the patch in corn and made 100 bushels of good sound corn on it and Squire Secrest says that he is getting too old to farm.

Mt. Airy Leader.

Green Cundiff, an aged negro, was found dead in a meadow near Pilot Mountain on last Friday and it is supposed that he froze to death on the night of the 3rd of November when he disappeared. On that night he left home to attend a corn shucking but failed to appear at this gathering and his friends feared foul play.

However, Corner, William Marion held an inquest and the verdict of the jury was that he died a natural death. The body showed no signs of decay although it had probably laid where found since the night of the 3rd.

Reidsville Review.

Messrs. J. P. King, R. L. Somers, J. F. Oakley and W. L. Barnett, prosperous farmers of Alamance county, were on the Reidsville market Wednesday, selling tobacco at Leader Warehouse with Neal & Dixon and expressed themselves as being well pleased with prices. Mr. Oakley made an average of $15.32 for his load.

While driving from McIver to Reidsville Monday afternoon, Mrs. J. H. Rascoe and her sister Mrs. J. W. Jacobs, were thrown from the buggy by the horse running away and Mrs. Rascoe was considerably bruised up, but not seriously injured. She is now getting along nicely. The runaway was caused by the buggy uncoupling and the horse taking fright.

A force of thirty men is now busily engaged in changing the Southern Ry. wooden bridge over Deep river near Cumcock into an iron bridge. This work will require all the winter and most of next summer to finish. It is understood that when this iron bridge is completed the Southern will operate larger freight engines.

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a mortgage deed executed on the 20th day of June, 1905, by D. B. Tickle and wife, Selie Tickle, to Lindon Wagoner, and recorded in the public registry of Alamance County, in Book 33 of Mortgage Deeds, pages 61, 62, 63, inclusive, the said Lindon Wagoner will offer for sale at public outcry to the highest bidder, for cash, at the court house door in Graham, Alamance County, North Carolina, at 12 noon, Friday, December 23d, 1910, the following described tracts of land, lying and being in Alamance County, North Carolina, Mortons Township, and described and defined as follows, to-wit:

Lot 1. Beginning at a stone in Peter Troxler's line, running thence with the line of said Troxler, south 17 1-2 degrees west, 115 feet to a stone on said line; thence north 67 1-5 degrees west; 6 chains 66 2-3 links to a stone; thence north 17 1-2 degrees east, 115 feet to a stone; thence south 67 1-2 degrees east 6 chains, 66 2-3 links to the beginning, containing one and one-half acres, more or less.

This property will be sold to satisfy the payment of the debt for the security of which said mortgage deed was executed by the said D. B. Tickle and wife, Selie Tickle, of Morton's Township, Alamance County, N. C. This the 23d day of November, 1910. Lindon Wagoner.

A Lesson in Opportunity.

The Governor-elect, of Tennessee is Benjamin W. Hooper, less than 40 years of age, who does not know his real name, or who his parents were. He was found on the streets of Knoxville and committed to the care of an orphan asylum, whence he was taken 10 years later by Captain Hooper, of Newport, Tenn., who gave him his name and educated him. It is one of the splendid things about this republic of ours, that the name a man makes for himself is the only thing that counts; the thing he does, the only ones recorded, when the people look about them for their leaders. From orphan asylum to the Executive Mansion! From nameless waif to Governor of a sovereign state. The way is always open in this country to those who work and strive and keep the faith.

Champ Clarke's Mules.

Omaha Bee.

Camp Clark has said that if elected speaker of the House he would drive a span of mules down Pennsylvania avenue in Washington. It looks as if the Missourian would have the opportunity of making good on his firebreak promise. He is re-elected, his party has gained control of the House and he will probably be its choice for speaker.

But it is not distinction of this sort that Mr. Clark and his party will most need. On the contrary they will need to resist such tendencies. They have already been driving mules too much. They have been handicapped by mulish caprice too long. That is one reason they have not been entrusted with power more often. The country has feared their lack of dignity and their lack of stability. It has not in this temporary turn of the tide expressed any special confidence in the Democracy. The conditions by which Mr. Clark and his party gain the ascendancy in the lower branch of Congress cannot be construed into popular esteem of the Democracy and the things it has stood for. The result is rather negative in character, so far as the Democrats are concerned.

They will do well therefore, not to mistake this fact and conduct themselves accordingly. At best, they are only installed on probation. What is done in 1912 depends very largely on how they deport themselves between this and that. There will be enough mule driving and braying which Mr. Clark would like to prevent, and to it would ill become him to go out of his way to do any of it himself.

Republican Missouri.

St. Louis Globe Democrat.

State Chairman Morris refers to a fact of notable interest when he says that "This election proves conclusively that we have a sufficient number of Republicans to carry the state. All that is necessary is for all to get busy at the same time." There are more Republicans than Democrats in this state, and future campaigns will emphasize the lead. The Bourbon Democracy lost its hold on the state 16 years ago. In 1894, an off year, the Republicans carried Missouri by a plurality of a few thousands, but there was a separate Populist vote of over 40,000.

Two years later, in 1896, the Democrats and Populists fused under Bryan's leadership, and the so-called Democratic vote in Missouri reached its highest point. It fell off in 1900, and in 1904, when Parker was the nominee and the Populist element drew off, slumped to less than 300,000. The Republicans carried the state that year by 25,000. They won it again in 1908 though Bryan was the Democratic nominee. Now, in spite of what is termed a general Democratic tidal wave, but in reality is a time of ill-adviced Republican disaffection, the Republicans of Missouri again have a popular majority.

At the last three elections in Missouri the Republicans have had a majority. They are justified in claiming now that the state is in the Republican column and that the Republicans will hold it hereafter when they are united and cast a full vote.

World Growing Better.

Cleveland Leader.

Every issue of a newspaper which tries to record the most important events of the day seems to be on its face an indictment of a human race and modern civilization. Stories of greed, oppression, wrongs and crime often take up most of the space in the columns. The effect upon the reader is sometimes to make him think for the moment, at least that the world is growing more hard and cruel, and that society, as it is constituted, is a failure. But such a view is all wrong, and the thoughtful reader soon realizes it. The world is growing better all the time, and humanity is steadily advancing from one plane of life to another.

The reason there seems more wickedness is that the people of the earth are in closer communication with one another than they were only a few years ago. Crimes which once remained unknown to all but a comparatively few are now revealed to the entire civilized world, that it may be the sort of men it must suppress the extent of the harm they inflict and the manner in which once flourished because they were hidden are now dragged into the light of day and exposed in all their meanness in the pages of the newspapers. Modern civilization through its most powerful agency for progress, the public press, lays bare the hitherto hidden wounds inflicted upon society, that they may be cured and their repetition prevented. No, the world is not growing worse. There is less of poverty, crime and suffering than existed only a few years ago. Life is easier, more full of joy. The man with the shovel gets more out of it than did the man with the two handed sword in his castle, a brief remove back in the life of the race.

Bryan is sawing wood and saying nothing, but when it comes to a nomination for the Presidency, he is "Johnny on the spot."

Foreign countries are not alone subject to the "Pink eye" disease. It has closed a noted Southern institution of learning. What next?

If Prof Holt could get the ducks in a row, perhaps he might get some game, but he is not the man the Democrats want for Congress. The Prof. strikes 'em straight from the shoulder.

Our Democratic friends must not lose sight of the fact that their "Uncle William Jennings Bryan" is still to be reckoned with when it comes to naming a candidate for president.

We shall wait and watch eagerly for the next Congress to pass a bill appropriating a sufficient sum to erect a government building here. The Democrats have been great builders—of air castles.—See.

If this district has got to be represented in Congress by a Democrat, then we say give us a man like Prof. J. Allen Holt. A man who fights above ground and "hews to the line, let the chips fall where they may."

Prof. J. Allen Holt is making another bid for the nomination for Congress two years hence, by nominating Woodrow Wilson for President. He is getting into the lime-light again. Well, come in Prof, the water is fine.

The people knew full well how to reduce the cost of living. Elect a Democratic Congress. It never failed, and we are inclined to believe that it will turn out that way this time. But we be unto the producer, who has been living on the fat of the land.

What Will The Harvest Be.

Now that it is known beyond doubt that the Democrats will control the House of Representatives of the next Congress by a safe majority. The question naturally arises in the mind of the public—what will the harvest to the party be? It is a fact that cannot be controverted, that there is no unanimity of sentiment in the party on the leading economic questions of the country, to wit: The tariff.

Knowing the great diversity of opinion on this all important question in the ranks of the party, the Democracy over in our sister state—Virginia, is preparing to call a State convention of the party for the purpose of formulating a kind of platform by the means of which it will endeavor to control the action of members of Congress from the state and prevent them from supporting any tariff law that has the least squinting toward protection. The Daily News Leader a Democratic Journal published at Richmond, Va., in advocating the calling of a State Convention and commenting on the diversity of sentiment in the party on the subject of the tariff remarks:

"Some of our candidates though calling themselves Democrats, have unhesitatingly voted for protection; and not only voted for it, but boldly, or, we may say, brazenly advocated it, and sought to justify in public debate the bad faith that was in them. The declarations of the national platform do not seem to be of any moment. At least, they seem to have no binding authority upon or power to bind some of our members of Congress. The state organization itself should formulate and promulgate its views on this point, and those who cannot subscribe to them, or will not subscribe to them can then be called to order."

Here at home in our own state the conditions prevailing in the Democratic party are no better, and perhaps worse than they are in Virginia. Democrats have practically no platform in North Carolina, candidates have been writing their own political catechisms, and each has adopted and expounded what seemed good and expedient to himself, without reference to the views of his party associates. Hence we have seen most anomalous party conditions, and the widest divergence among men who belong to the same party and presumably hold the same general views in reference to party doctrine.

Really if the Democracy does not take some action toward disciplining its members of the House of the next Congress, the tariff bill that the Senate will have to contend will be a "crazy quilt" affair indeed, and the harvest a poor one on which to base its next Presidential campaign.

Alright Then, But—?

Plugs are dangerous, whether white or black. The negro pugilist, Jack Johnson, has been arrested, charged with an assault upon a white girl, who is a member of the company with which the prize fighter is appearing. The whipping post ought to be resorted to long enough for the brute to get his deserts.—News and Observer.

[This is the same Jack Johnson who made Democratic speeches in New York during the recent campaign. In the eyes of the old unreliable he was alright then, but now, well, that's something else?

What Did You Do With Yours.

Richmond gave us a goose egg. The price of eggs is high, and the one we got wasn't the best.

Mr. Taft had a 37-pound turkey for dinner yesterday. No wonder he is so fat, with such diet. If he had sent that turkey to the orphans and tried dry toast it might have been more in keeping with the way the election returns made him feel.—News and Observer.

[Wonder if Josephus Daniels sent his turkey to the orphans? We doubt it. The time is coming when he will feel like eating dry toast.

Miss Verna Cates a popular young lady of Kings' Business College Raleigh spent three or four days last week the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cates and friends in town.

Oakdale Notes.

Our community was greatly shocked last Sunday morning when it was learned that Cleave Blalock had been killed by Jacob Burton Saturday night at Cajor Burtons about one o'clock. There had been bad feeling between the two for some time. The body lay there until about 3 o'clock Sunday when the corner and sheriff arrived from Graham and took charge and turned the body over to his people. Jacob Burton was arrested and taken to Graham jail to await trial.

The school at Oakdale opened Nov. 7th, with good attendance, owing to sickness of Miss Zimmerman she did not arrive until the 21st, the school is still increasing with Mr. Woodburn of Pleasant Garden, Principal.

John Andrews has gone and left us and June Hornaday "another good family" has moved in. The people at Cross Roads school district have begun the addition to their school house they are progressing very slow it looks now like they will be late beginning their school.

Miss Birthis Murray has at last took her swing (Jesse) and gone with him to Kinesville to make life for the better or worse we hope for the better.

What has become of our Harts-horn No. 1 have they gone to sleep if so we hope they will wake up and give us some more good items.

Resolutions of Respect.

In the midst of life there is death, and whereas, the Great and Supreme Ruler of the Universe has, in his infinite wisdom, removed from among us, one of our worthy and esteemed fellow-laborers, William M. Loy, and whereas, the long and intimate relations held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties in the Burlington Methodist Protestant Sunday School make it eminently fitting that we record our appreciation of him, therefore, be it resolved:

First: That the sudden removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy, and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all the members and friends of this school, and will prove a serious to the community and its people.

Second: That the wisdom and ability which he has exercised in the aid of our school by service, contribution and counsel will be held in grateful remembrance.

Third: That the deep sympathy for the bereaved relatives of the deceased, we express our hope that ever so great a loss to us may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things well.

Fourth: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this school, that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, and copies sent to the Methodist Protestant Herald, and the local papers for publication. Burlington Methodist Protestant Sunday School.

2nd, that the class is in sadness feeling one of its brightest and best members has been taken. We shall miss him as the days go by, and will strive to imitate the Christian graces which adorned his life.

The Boll-Weevil Coming.

The Cotton Boll-weevil is still making steady progress through the cotton-growing area, and it gives every indication that it will eventually be present in every section where cotton is grown.

The Boll-weevil has not "disappeared" in Texas or any other section where once established. It is not "becoming harmless." It is true that many localities which once abandoned cotton on account of weevil have again begun to grow it, and in some sections they grow nearly as much as they ever did. Whether this is because the weevil is less destructive than formerly, or whether it is because the growers learn how best to escape its ravages, it is hard to say; but perhaps both these things are true.

But wherever the weevil comes in every State yet invaded, it has resulted in an almost complete demoralization of cotton-growing for from 3 to 5 years; and then when the community does settle back to cotton again, it is with more intensive methods on a smaller acreage, more reliance on other crops and live stock, and not such a complete dependence on cotton alone. It takes from 3 to 5 years to bring about this change, and in going through such a change the farmers must make considerable sacrifice.

The weevil fairly knocks the props from under the credit system, at least for a few years. The tenants and borrowing farmers who are never ready to face the new conditions are not able to meet their obligations in the fall, and the merchants fail or refuse to advance on cotton next year.

It is not our object here to discuss the appearance, habits and injuries of the Boll-weevil, nor to discuss the ways in which it is combated. These things have been placed before the public repeatedly, and any cotton farmer in North Carolina can get literature on the subject by writing to this office. But we do want our farmers to be looking ahead and planning the course they are to pursue when the weevil gets here. Go ahead with cotton if you wish, but all the time keep asking yourself: "Can I do this when the weevil comes? If so how? and if not, what can I grow to replace the cotton?"

Of course, we all hope that the weevil may not reach us. We hope that if it does reach us it will not be as destructive as in the other sections; but we warn you that we have no basis for believing that we will be favored in this way. So the only wise course is to be studying the methods of meeting the problem if it comes. In Mississippi and Louisiana some farmers have done this nicely. Beginning years in advance, they gradually turned their attention to other crops or to hogs or cattle, but kept on raising cotton up to the very year when the weevil was upon them, and then they were prepared to drop the cotton altogether and make a good living from the other things. When the community settles down to cotton again these farmers can return to cotton or not, as they wish.

The Boll-weevil now occupies all of Texas except the western portion, neighboring parts of Oklahoma and Arkansas, all of Louisiana, about two-thirds of Mississippi, and the southwestern corner of Alabama. Allowing for normal increase in the rate of spread for the future, it seems reasonable to believe it will reach North Carolina in from 6 to 10 years—that is, from 1916 to 1920. A few years ago we all thought that it would come more quickly, but while it is coming steadily it has spread only gradually, without any big jumps; so it seems that we will have several years yet in which to prepare for it.

Remember, I do not say that you must "quit cotton." I do not say that the weevil will of a certainty reach us at all. But I do say that it will probably reach us and that it is our business to be studying the methods by which we can best meet it when it does come. Meanwhile keep on growing cotton if that is your preference, but keep posted on the progress of the weevil, and see to it that you are not caught unprepared when the time comes.

Lion Fondles A Child.

In Pittsburg a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through Colds, Croup, and Whooping Cough. They slay thousands that Dr. King's New Discovery could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of Croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C., "We always give it to him when he talks cold. Its a wonderful medicine for babies. Best for Coughs, Cold, LaGrippe, Asthma, Hemorrhages, Weak Lungs. 50c. $1.00 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Freeman Drug Co.

Big Rascais, Little Fools.

Baltimore American.

One thing stands out strikingly in the remarkable story of whole sale swindling that has come to light through the efforts of Hitchcock and the men under him. It is the fact that big rascais thrive upon little fools. That a great confederacy of fraud should be concocted and send out its scoop nets through the United States and gather in the guillibies by multimillions is a curious commentary upon the caustic remark used by Carlyle with reference to the people of his own country—that they were mostly fools.

The same instincts of the weak and ignorant have been played upon that are always played upon men who seek wealth by ingenious fraud. Here is a chain of bogus corporations linked together and employed the services of persons to assist them in their fraud who were full of guilty knowledge of the real character of the concerns or who having such knowledge, became so involved in the operations as to make it hard for them to get out.

The multitude of investors in the engraved paper of the bogus group represent the host of weak boys who always come to light whenever there is a bursting of the inflated bubbles. The big boys plan the harvest and the little fools do the sowing. The big boys have the situation entirely in their hands, the others have as their asset their credulity. Some way they have the "suckers" dream in which their small funds are made to create vast revenues. The get-rich fever is in their blood and they remain awake all night to count their prospective gains.

Any kind of proposition serves to tell on those who, lacking the capability of earning money by application or being fortunate in the possession of easy wealth, seek to get ahead of their bank account by the alchemy of investments, the real nature of which they do not know. The only protection the United States can offer is to close the mails to such concerns after their real nature has been made known. In the meantime the mischief is done, and the "easy marks" have been separated from their money. Now that the Postoffice Department has gotten upon the trail of the rascals and rounded them up it is to be hoped that it will not expend its energies upon the minor agents and employer, but land the leading rascals of the aggregation in jail. Yet all the government can do to punish the big rascals will not avail to more than check the depredations, for as long as men are born in folly the shrewd and unscrupulous will make such their prey.

The Chief Justiceship.

Washington Herald.

The report is gaining currency in well-informed circles of the administration that President Taft has at once decided to appoint Justice and ex-Governor Hughes chief justice to fill the vacancy on the Supreme Bench created by the death of Chief Justice Fuller. Action is expected by the President on his return from Hanama.

The country, no doubt, would applaud the elevation of Justice Hughes to the highest place which any jurist in the world can reach. In the very nature of the Supreme Court, that tribunal must assume and exercise powers which are semi-political. It is so vital a part of the federal government that it cannot escape coloring more or less the development of American politics and the trend of American national life.

It is vital, therefore, that this high tribunal should be in sympathy with the soundest and most advanced ideals of the American people. It is essential also that the court should have the respect and the confidence of the people as an agency for the interpretation of the Constitution and the shaping of legislation under the provisions of our organic law.

Justice Hughes has both the understanding of popular ideals and the esteem and trust of the public, which every justice needs to make his services as valuable as they ought to be.

"The Chicago Tribune and the New York Mail are seeking a definition of exactly what a 'man about town' is." Not infrequently he is a loafer whose room would be better than company.

Admires Pastor Russell's Book.

Atlanta Constitution.—Bill Arp, the "Southern Philosopher," wrote the following review of "The Divine Plan of the Ages" some time before he died:

"It is impossible to read this book without loving the writer and pondering his wonderful solution of the great mysteries that have troubled us all our lives. There is hardly a family to be found that has not lost some loved one who died outside the church—outside the plan of salvation, and, if Calvinism be true, outside of all hope and inside of eternal torment and despair. We smother our feelings and turn away from the horrible picture. We dare not deny the faith of our fathers, and yet can it be possible that the good mother and the wandering child are forever separated?—forever and forever?"

"I believe it is the rigidity of these teachings that makes atheists and infidels and skeptics—makes Christians unhappy and brings their gray hairs down in sorrow to the grave—a lost child, a lost soul! * * *

"This wonderful book makes no assertions that are not well sustained by the Scriptures. It is built up stone by stone, and upon every stone is the text, and it becomes a pyramid of God's love, and mercy, and wisdom. There is nothing in the Bible that the author denies or doubts, but there are many texts that he throws a flood of light upon that seems to remove from them the dark and gloomy meaning. I see that editors of leading journals and many orthodox ministers of different denominations have endorsed it and have confessed to this new and comforting light that has dawned upon the interpretation of God's Book. Then let every man read and ponder and take comfort, for we are all prisoners of hope. This is an age of advanced thought, and more thinking is done than ever before—men dare to think now. Light—more light—is the watchword."

It contains no harmful ingredients, being a pure vegetable extract. If you suffer from some form of female trouble, get Cardui at once and give it a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. W. W. Gardner, of Paducah, Ky., tried Cardui and writes: "I think Cardui is just grand. I have been using it for eleven years. I am 48 years old and feel like a different woman, since I have been taking it. I used to suffer from bearing down pains, nervousness and sleeplessness, but now the pains are all gone and I sleep good. I highly recommend Cardui for young and old." Try it.

RURAL CARRIER ITEMS

Haw River Items.

The pendulum of time has swung around another Thanksgiving Day and found the country in quietude and plenty, abundant reasons to be thankful to the good Lord for his goodness.

Mrs. Grover Bivens of Hillsboro is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McClure we kindly remember Nettie.

On November the 23rd Mr. Arthur Neese of Lexington came to Haw River and took one of our esteemed ladies Miss Bessie Stuart and went to Durham in the presence of Rev. Barrett who spoke the words that made them one. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stuart of Haw River they returned to Haw River Friday where Mrs. Stuart had prepared a good dinner for them and some friends. Mr. Neese is a bookkeeper in Lexington, they left Saturday morning for Lexington where they will make their home for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Salisbury spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Smith's parents Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Smith and left Friday morning for Salisbury. Mrs. Smith remained until Sunday.

Miss Ruth Hughes visited Miss Blanch Faucett of Brown Summit Saturday and returned Monday and reports a most pleasant visit.

Capt. and Mrs. S. A. Vest and Master Sam visited his parents and spent Thanksgiving with them they reported the old people in good health and enjoying their visit.

Our esteemed operator C. R. Faucett left Saturday morning to visit his parents and returned Monday. There seems to have been some good attraction for Clifton near Brown's Summit.

Mr. and Mrs. Lea Henderson were in town bright and cheery. The Ladies of the M. P. Church gave an oyster supper Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. for the benefit of their church. They report quite a success with it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Long entertained the teachers of the Graded School and Miss Mary Brown of Burlington and J. E. Lashley of Burlington. After some contest and exercises on the blackboard they were invited to the dining room where a table was spread with as good things as eye could covet or appetite could crave and the occasion was enjoyed to the fullest extent. Mrs. Long knows exactly how to prepare a good meal. After supper some time was spent guessing at the counties this ended an enjoyable Thanksgiving evening and all returned to their homes.

We took off our hat and made our best bow to Mrs. H. H. Simpson for a nice mess of backbones and ribs, thanks to you sister.

Several of our people made war on the feathered tribe. Ask Major Brooks if killed any birds.

Miss Lola Franklin accompanied Miss Bell Murry home last Wednesday evening spent the night next morning great preparation was made for a big hunt Thursday, there were some tired people when they arrived at Haw River just in time to catch the train for Greensboro.

Rev. T. G. Vickers preached his farewell sermon Sunday and left Monday for Elizabeth City where the eastern annual conference convenes.

R. F. D. No. 7.

No foby was left out this time for if there was nothing else to be thankful over you could come in good and strong on the ideal weather that greeted you on that day.

Brice Garrett has enlarged his customary smile until it has spread about all over his face. It is caused by the arrival of a new daughter at his house.

Mr. M. F. Culler and daughter Miss Maude were both right sick last week but both are about well again.

Mr. Clarence Ingold had the misfortune to lose his purse while out hunting last Saturday, containing about $15 in money. He was out searching for it to-day but it was like searching for a "needle in a hay stack" to hunt for it but we hope he will succeed in recovering it for it is quite a loss to him.

Esq. John Dixon and his wife went over near Liberty a few days ago to visit Mrs. Dixon's sister, Mrs. Maurice Stuart who was quite sick but was better when they returned home.

By the way Esq. Dixon will have no excuse this fall for killing such small hogs for Claude Moser has raised an extra fine crop of corn for him this year. If he kills such small pigs this time we will all understand that he is saving his corn for some other purpose than making meat.

Landy Watkins is limping from a sprained ankle He was in a crowd of thirteen that went rabbit hunting last week and they got forty three rabbits one of them taking thirteen shots to kill. Landy must have had to run his share of the rabbits down to sprain his ankle like he did.

Our people must be tired of these items as they have about quite telling us any thing that happens.

Mr. Percy Isley has moved from No 7 to No 10. We are sorry to lose Mr. Isley as a patron but hope he will do well over on 10.

Mrs. L. E. Shaw from Raleigh

is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Albright. Mrs. Thomason Henderson of Pocomoke City Md. is visiting her niece Mrs. T. R. Harden this week.

Elon College No 1.

Most of those old time corn shuckings are over in this section.

Mr. Boston Coble visited at P. M. Cobles Sunday.

Jacob Patton was on No 1 Sunday. We think there must be some attraction for him over the way.

Claud Cable expects to move into his new house this week.

Mrs. Mag Cable has moved a part of her furniture to Greensboro, where she expects to make her home.

Who can beat this? Sunday, Nov. 27th, 1910, as Mrs. Ava Apple, Misses Ile Harris and Mollie Baldwin went out to hunt tooth brushes, they came across the strawberry patch of Henry Baldwin and found enough good ripe strawberries to make a pan pie. They were full grown.

J. D. Cook was a visitor at Henry Baldwin's Sunday.

The home of Henry Whitsell was saddened Sunday morning when they awoke and found their one month old baby dead in bed.

Christmas is drawing near and the wedding bells are ringing.

A number of young people attended the party at Mrs. Annie Faucette's Saturday night.
