Comforting Words

Many a Burlington Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Burlington readers.

George Ledford, 200 W. Market St., Greensboro, N. C., says: "I think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills now as I did some years ago, when I gave a public statement, recommending them. I have had little or no kidney trouble since that time. For quite a while I suffered from pains in the small of my back and I was annoyed by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Sometimes I was confined to my bed and I knew that I was gradually growing weaker. Hearing of the benefit other people had obtained from Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box of this remedy and began its use. I was restored to health and strength in a short time and the symptoms of kidney complaint were disposed of."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Sad Accident.

The three-year-old baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Huffman of eastern Guilford was thrown from a wagon Friday evening and dangerously hurt which resulted in its death only a few hours later. Mr. Huffman and his boys had gone to the home of Mr. Tom Smith and while returning near Mr. Huffman's home the team became frightened, overturning the wagon bed and throwing all out. One of the wheels passing across the body of the little boy which inflicted severe internal bruises causing his death only a few hours later.

The little body was laid to rest Sunday evening at Low's church.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman are highly respected citizens of that community, he having a number of relatives in this city among whom are one sister, Mrs. Will Mebane of Broad Street.

Popular Fishing Outing.

Eighteen of our professional and business men took an old-time seining outing Friday, going to Back Creek, two miles below Haw River where the day was spent chasing minners. A popular fishing outing had been planned when it was thought that Dickey's pond would be drawn. But Mr. Dickey realizing the time it would require for the pond to refill decided best not to run it down, hence Back Creek was selected for the scene of amusement.

WANTED—Car load of Jersey heifers. If you have any for sale, see J. C. Squires.

Some Wonderful Old People.

Margaret E. Sangster, writing of youth and old age in the August "Woman's Home Companion," says:

"Oliver Wendell Holmes, who retained youth in its sparkling efflorescence to the very end; Edward Everett Hale, whose benignant wisdom and humor never suffered the slightest diminution; Julia Ward Howe, as exquisite in age as she had been charming in youth; Rebecca Haring Davis, strong, cultured and sincere through all the years till the last one came, are fine examples of the imperishable vitality of youth beneath the mask of age. There are plenty of people on the stage still, living and working and serving in the ranks, but they need no mention. As they look in the mirror, Time, peeping over their shoulders, gives them a glance of friendly greeting—Time, the immortal, always young, always old, always going forward."

Terrible Picture of Suffering

Clinton, Ky.—Mrs. M. C. McElroy, in a letter from Clinton, writes: "For six years, I was a sufferer from female troubles. I could not eat, and could not stand on my feet, without suffering great pain. I had lost hope. After using Cardui a week, I began to improve. Now I feel better than in six years." Fifty years of success in actual practice, is positive proof, furnished by those who have used it, that Cardui can always be relied on for relieving female weakness and disease. ATCHINSON BOUND OVER TO COURT

Greensboro, N. C., July 20.—Charged with rape on Clemmie Smith, a 16-year-old white girl, J. H. Atchinson, a man whose hair is gray with an age of more than 60 years, was yesterday arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Weatherly and Shaw at his home at Revolution, and spent last night in the county jail pending the result of the preliminary hearing, which will be held this morning. The alleged crime was committed Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Atchinson came here from Burlington and depends on the sale of patent medicines for his living. He firmly denies the charges of rape and says that he only followed a custom which was necessary to determine the medicine necessary for the girl, whom he said had made an application to him for treatment.

Atchinson was bound over to court under $300 bond in default of which he remains in jail.

[He is well known here, having sold patent medicine here for a long time.]

GIRL DRIVES 16-HORSE TEAM

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 21.—Miss Hazel Hawley, young and handsome, who, for the past two years, it is said, has been masquerading as a man and driving one of the band wagons with a well known circus, passed through the city today on her way to West Virginia to learn from her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Hallway, of Parkersburg, the whereabouts of her parents, Miss Hawley's identity was established last week when the circus played at Newark, Ohio, and the circus wagon driver was recognized by a man in that city.

Miss Hawley disappeared from Newark three years ago, following a quarrel with her fiancée, and her parents moved away last year, believing her dead. She had not been heard from, and when identified admitted that she was masquerading and that she had intended to continue her quarrel with her fiancée, and her secret been found out.

Miss Hawley will remain in the employ of the circus and will drive the sixteen-horse team with the leading band wagon garbed as a woman, it was stated today. This is the position she held while she posed as a man.

Shoots the Wrong Man.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 20.—Constable Walker Moore of Duncan, thinking that a negro who he had followed for a mile was John Huff, slayer of Policeman McConnell of Asheville, finally caught his man and later allowed him to escape. The negro fled and the amateur Sherlock Holmes took a shot at him. The bullet struck the fleeing negro in the arm and inflicted a flesh wound. The negro turned out to be Bud Montgomery, who stated that he had never been to Asheville. He was released.

The other question that might arise is whether the Buncombe county search and seizure law would make a man who possesses more than three gallons of said wines guilty of retailing.

Nova Scotia is having forest fires, but not for the purpose of warming up the climate.

MORE RUMORS OF HUFF'S CAPTURE PROVE FALSE

Asheville, July 19.—The latest burst of excitement created last evening over the "approaching capture" of the negro, John Huff, the slayer of Patrolman McConnell, has abated. The Asheville officers, who yesterday afternoon and last evening hurried to the vicinity of Tuxedo, in Henderson county, in response to a telephone message from that place that the negro had been seen and recognized and then darted into the density of the woods, have returned to the city tired, hungry and footsore without even getting a genuine "cold trail" of the man wanted. The near capture has again simply fizzled.

The Law as to Wine.

Raleigh, July 19.—Some question has arisen among the farmers as to the extent that the near-beer bill passed by the last legislature in an effort to stop some of the leaks in the leaks in the statewide prohibition law goes on the question of home-made wines and ciders. The section which applies to this reads:

"Provided further, that this act shall not apply to the sale of domestic wines when sold in quantities of no less than two and one-half gallons in sealed packages or crated, on the premises where manufactured, or to the sale of cider in any quantity by the manufacturer from fruits grown on his lands within the state of North Carolina or to the sale of wine to any minister of religion or other officer of a church when said wine is bought for religious or sacramental purposes," etc.

The other question that might arise is whether the Buncombe county search and seizure law would make a man who possesses more than three gallons of said wines guilty of retailing.

Crusade against Hookworm.

The physicians of the State are manifesting increased interest in the crusade against hookworm disease. Two-thirds of them have supplied information concerning the prevalence of the disease in their practice, and one-half of them have used the State Laboratory of Hygiene to have examinations made, and practically an equal number have treated anywhere from one to several hundred cases. So keenly are they alive in some counties that they are constantly distributing literature about the disease and its prevention where it will do good. Many have appeared before the county boards of commissioners to secure aid in the establishment of rural free dispensaries for the examination of the disease. Dr. Wickliffe Rose, Administrative Secretary of the Hookworm Commission, who visited the State Medical Society at its recent meeting in Charlotte, spoke in the highest terms of unusually high type of men who constituted the assemblage. When the physicians of the State are seen and known one will expect and receive their untiring and unselfish support in every movement for the uplift of the people.

Route Picnic.

The patrons of Route No. 2 are cordially invited to join in a picnic and fish fry near Stony Creek bridge on Union Ridge route, Saturday July 29. We hope every patron of the route will get out and all are especially invited to bring along a few surplus chickens, etc. A few small fishes might not be sufficient for the occasion. Bring out the ladies and children and let's have a big day's rest and recreation. We will also have some orators on the occasion to talk of good roads and big fish.

It must break the hearts of baseball magnates to think of London's 7,000,000 inhabitants out on the street with no where to go.

A Splendid Achievement.

With its usual spirit of enterprise, the Charlotte Observer will issue Wednesday, July 26th, a special edition of about 100 pages, telling the story of the present condition and future possibilities of the territory of the two Carolinas between Greenwood, S. C., and Durham, N. C. It is the story of staff correspondents and illustrated and will be executed in the best mechanical style. This paper will be sold by all news dealers and regular agents of the Observer at the regular price of 5 cents. Wrapped copies will be sent by mail postpaid from the Observer office in Charlotte to any address in the world for 10 cents each. News dealers and agents should send their orders in early. No matter where your friends live order copies of this edition sent to them. Wednesday, July 26, 1911.

Governor Kitchin will have little time left if he undertakes to make reply to every challenge handed out.

Only seven columns of the Sunday News and Observer were devoted to telling what Governor Kitchin promised to do for the trusts when nominated candidate for that office, and what he has done. "Weighed, and wanting."

A decision in one of the Greensboro courts is that a chauffeur may commit a simple assault with the auto he is driving. While the Charlotte Observer offers the opinion had duels not gone out of style autos might be used to settle unpleasant differences. But what we want to know is, what would the poor fellow do who does not have the dough?

Indeed Hoke Smith of Georgia must be a great man, Governor and United States Senator both. Many a hungry Georgia Democratic pie-eater would be glad of one.

Horrible and cold blooded is the scene which is pictured in our sister state, Virginia, as we see it with glaring headlines daily. It brings us to view man as being little more than the animals of the field, and not worth half so much as the sparrow, which is peaceful and harmless, not knowing right from wrong except as divinely guided.

The nicely gotten up Interurban Edition of The Charlotte Observer which covers nine sections, one hundred pages, reached us this morning. The purpose of this Edition is to tell the true condition of the Piedmont territory to the wider world of readers beyond the bounds of the Carolinas. The following towns are covered, starting at Greenwood, S. C.: Hodges, Donalds, Honea, Path, Belton, Anderson, Walhalla, Williamston, Pelzer, Piedmont, Greenville, Greers, Spartanburg, Gaffney, Blacksburg, Kings Mountain, Gastonia, Mount Holly, Charlotte, China Grove, Concord, Salisbury, Thomasville, Lexington, High Point, Greensboro, Burlington, Graham and Durham. The first thought of the edition sprang into the minds of the producers when news of this interurban line from Greenwood, S. C. to Durham was first made known. Its worth to the Carolinas as an advertising medium is untold.

"HURRY UP" TIME IS SHORT

Kimball Piano Exhibition will close Friday night at 9:30. Then the big sale of samples takes place. Will be sold at factory billing for these samples only.

THE GRANDEST EVER SFEN HERE

They all say it is the grandest display ever seen here. Factory experts are kept busy explaining details of manufacture. Come now. Look for the big sign next to W. E. Hay.

The factory exhibit of Kimball pianos is ready. The exhibit is now in full sway, and many enthusiastic admirers have called. They are surprised at one factory being able to produce so many artistic designs of pianos.

It is almost like going through a regular piano factory to see the pianos, because the gentlemen in charge take the greatest pleasure in explaining every part of it, and the minutest detail from the material to the finished product. It is the purpose to show these sample pianos to advertise them. The majority of people have never examined the inside of a piano and know very little of its vital parts and what is required to constitute a first class piano, hence the factory believes that the best way to have the public know these things is to show them by men who know, by factory experts who have acquired this knowledge by years of experience. Think of the opportunity to visit a fair or exhibit of this kind, right in your midst and every day life. You can become acquainted with these things free of cost.

Now in showing pianos at a county, state fair or national exposition, we cannot advertise our pianos as well as we can by this method.

When you go to an ordinary fair, you go to see the amusements and have a good time and you haven't the time to devote to mechanical details of piano construction, but when we exhibit one each of the different styles in your town, you can spare the time and it is better from every standpoint. Remember the pianos are not for sale yet, and you will not be confronted with a proposition to buy. We merely take great pleasure in showing you in order to secure your good opinion of our goods. However at the close of the exhibit all of the pianos will be sold and in order to make certain that a sample of each of the beautiful styles are left here, the price will be reduced according to the factory billing with liberal terms.

We want you to call and see these sample pianos even if you never expect to get a piano, we want you that have pianos to call as it is our pleasure to show you. We want the opinion of the best musicians in the city and we extend an invitation to the entire public as well.

Don't miss the exhibit call at once as the time is short. It closes Friday July 28th at 9:30 P. M.

AN ABLE ADDRESS

Knoxville, Tenn., July 20.—President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Directors of the Appalachian Exposition and business men of Knoxville, his subject being "The Development of the Appalachian Region." He emphasized very strongly the economic strength of the Southeastern section of the United States, growing out of its natural resources and climatic advantages, and expressed the opinion that no locality was more favorably located or better fitted by its natural resources for progressive development than the Southern Appalachian region. He pointed out the great advantage enjoyed by the South in its supremacy in cotton production, and urged the importance of constantly endeavoring to strengthen this advantage by bringing about the general adoption of methods that will result in the more economical production of cotton by obtaining larger yield per acre and that will enable the Southern cotton planters to keep pace with the ever increasing demand of the world. He did not advocate doing this by growing cotton to the exclusion of other crops, but rather by diversified agriculture and live stock raising as a means of conserving and building up soil fertility. After citing statistics showing the increased yields per acre obtained by Tennessee farmers during the past five years as compared with ten years from 1876 to 1885, Mr. Finley said: "This shows that the farmers of Tennessee have learned and are applying scientific methods of soil conservation. The averages for the past five years, including the bad with the good, fall far below the yields of which Tennessee soils are capable and far below the results obtained by the most progressive farmers. For the State as a whole, the average yields per acre are still far below what they ought to be and below what will speedily be attained when the great body of Tennessee farmers have adopted the methods now being practiced by the most progressive. Year by year, more farmers are adopting the best methods and, year by year, larger areas of soils are being benefited by scientific treatment. We may expect that, in individual years, some crops will suffer from adverse weather conditions, but I believe we may safely predict that each successive five-year period will show better results than the preceding five years for a long time to come. The reports of the United States Agricultural Department on the condition of this season's growing crops bear out this prediction. They show the condition of cotton, corn, and wheat in Tennessee as better than last year when the average yield per acre of each of these crops in this State was in excess of the five-year average." Speaking of the advantages of the Southeastern States for raising live stock and for the dairy industry, Mr. Finley referred to the accessibility of markets, to the mild winters and long grazing season, to the increasing demand for meat and dairy products, and to the fact that, as a result of the cutting up of the Western ranges into farms, a larger proportion of the meat supply of the country must be farm grown. He spoke of the cattle tick as having been, in the past, a handicap to the live stock and dairying industries of some parts of the South, and said: "The management of the railway company that I have the honor to represent, considers the development of the live stock and dairying industries in the Southeastern States of such great importance that we have recently appointed a Live Stock Agent and a Dairy Agent to devote their entire time to working in co-operation with the farmers along our lines for the development of these industries. In co-operation with the State Commissioners of Agriculture and the United States Agricultural Department, we are also aiding in the dissemination of information as to the importance of eradicating the cattle tick and the best methods of doing it." Mr. Finley spoke of the intimate relation existing between agricultural development and industrial development, pointing out that the best market for the farmer, especially for all of his perishable products, is a nearby city or manufacturing town, and that the merchants and manufacturers are vitally interested in the prosperity of the farmers, and the increase of their purchasing power.

Rock Creek, E. F. D. No. 1.

On the evening of the 15th, inst., Henry Andrew passed away, after several weeks of suffering. He had been in poor health for a long time but was not confined to his bed only a short time before the end came. The burial took place at Cane Creek church Sunday evening. The funeral was conducted by Mrs. Margaret Hackney. He was fifty-nine years of age, and leaves a wife, one son, W. R. Andrew, of Raleigh, and four daughters, Mrs. A. R. Wells, Mrs. J. M. Thompson and Misses Rosa and Roxie Andrew, of this community, and also a large number of relatives and friends. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family. We are sorry to learn that O. D. Holt is not improving very much. Miss Lois Hobson who has spent the last two weeks visiting relatives at Burlington, returned home Friday. Mrs. Margaret Hackney spent Sunday night at J. M. Thompson's. Misses Nancy and Lala Brown, of Graham, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt McPherson. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Miller, of Chatham spent Sunday night at Elwood Thompson's. Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Farmer and Kirk Scott, of Haw River, and J. C. Thompson, of Trolinwood attended the funeral of Henty Andrew at Cane Creek Sunday. T. E. Thompson, Erwin and Juohn Isley are still in the old way of thrashing by horse-power. If they don't get a hustle on they will get left in that business. We don't know what John A. cut his oats with this year, but they were so short he says he went to the woods to get mulberry bark to tie them with. Who can beat that? Soliloquy. Bridges Time and Space

IT WAS A QUESTION of life or death and the victim's life hung by a slender thread. A difficult operation was necessary. To be successful the operation must be performed at once. The services of a specialist were required, but he was in a distant city. The specialist was reached over the Long Distance Bell Telephone, the case described and the operation arranged for. The sufferer's life was saved through the ability of the Universal Bell Telephone Service to bridge time and space. By the way, have you a Bell Telephone? Things to Be Remembered.

1. That typhoid fever is a catching disease.
2. That it is a preventable disease.
3. That it is caught by taking something into the mouth—either food or drink, which has been poisoned by the germs of the disease.
4. That it is prevented by not allowing your food or drink to become poisoned. If you have reason to suspect them, they should be boiled or cooked before eaten and drunk.
5. That the only way to stamp out typhoid fever and prevent its spread, is to destroy the germs as they leave the body; so they will not pollute your water supply and through it your milk; so they will not contaminate the vegetables you eat raw; so they will not infect the shell fish you eat raw; so they will not be carried by contact, nor flies; that this can be done by properly disinfecting the discharges, and everything used in the sick room.
6. That the fly is responsible for many cases of typhoid fever, and other diseases; that he is a useless pest—the product of filth; that his presence indicates the sanitary conditions of your surroundings, and that all foods should be screened from him.
7. That no community can have a greater asset than a well organized and effective health organization to whom to appeal for protection against an ignorant neighbor, milkman and Superintendent of a water supply.
8. And above all things remember the following words:
"And let no one suppose that this is a matter in which he has no personal interest. This disease not seldom attacks the rich, though it thrives most among the poor. But by reason of our common humanity we are all, whether rich or poor, more nearly related here than we are apt to think. The members of the great human family are bound together by a thousand secret ties of whose existence the world in general little dreams. And he that never yet connected with his poorer neighbor by deeds of charity or love, may one day find, when it is too late, that he is connected with him by a bond which may bring them both to a common grave."

Stopped Those Pains.

Timberville, Miss.—Miss Gertrude Gutlin of Timberville writes: "I did not know anything could stop those womanly pains, from which I suffered for two years, until I tried Cardui. I had female ailments, but they were cured in a little while, thanks to Cardui." Cardui is especially adapted for use by ailing women. It relieves headache, backache, dragging feeling, irregularity, nervousness, misery and womanly weakness. It is safe. It is reliable. It does the work. Will you try it? Please do.

RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD

John D. Rockefeller is today reckoned the richest man in the world. Just how much of the world's goods this twentieth century Croesus possesses is not known to himself, for his money is invested in so many and such varied enterprises, that it is with great difficulty that he is able to keep track of it. He was born in New York State, but when he was still a boy his family settled in Cleveland. It was in this city that he was first employed in the grocery business at the small salary of $3 a week. He early demonstrated his commercial acumen, for in less than two years from his business start, he was cashier and bookkeeper in the grocery store, and a very short time afterwards, having accumulated $1000, and being able to borrow a like amount, with a partner, he engaged in the produce commission business.

Then came his first great opportunity—the discovery of oil at Titusville, Pa. With an additional partner the firm started in the refining of petroleum. Into this business Mr. Rockefeller was able to place $4,000, and his partner an equal sum. Within a year the advance to the refinery amounted to $120,000, and by 1865 the business had increased to so great an extent that Mr. Rockefeller sold out all his other interests and devoted his entire attention to the oil business, constructing the famous Standard Oil Works at Cleveland, O.

New York offices were shortly afterwards established, and in less than ten years the famous Standard Oil Company, with a capitalization of $1,000,000, was started. The business grew to such enormous proportions that in 1872 the company increased its capitalization to $2,500,000, and ten years later the Standard Oil Trust was formed with a capital of $70,000,000, and in a few years this gigantic octopus absorbed nearly all the oil refining companies in the United States.

In addition to his oil property, Mr. Rockefeller owns extensive tracts of land in several states, iron mines, a number of vessels playing on the Great Lakes, close to ten thousand grocery stores in different parts of the country, so much of the New York Central Railroad that he could take absolute control and turn the Vanderbilts out tomorrow, and huge blocks of Pennsylvania, Lake Shore and a dozen of the other big railroad companies of the country.

Wife a Somnambulist Kleptomaniac, Says Hubby.

Chicago, July 21.—Mrs. Bertha Frank was described by her husband, Jacob Frank, as a somnambulist kleptomaniac in the Municipal court today.

He testified that his wife while walking in her sleep not only searched his trousers pockets and extracted small change, but frequently make nocturnal visits to neighbors' homes and rifled the pockets of sleeping occupants.

She was arrested last night while pilfering the trousers pockets of John Keider. Other neighbors told today of losing small change while they slept.

The woman said she had no recollection of the matter, but admitted that she often walked in her sleep. She will be examined by a physician.

Caught in a Rain.

Douglasville, Tex.—"Five years ago I was caught in the rain at the wrong time," writes Edna Rutherford, of Douglasville, "and from that time, was taken with dumb chills and fevers, and suffered more than I can tell. I tried everything that I thought would help, and had four doctors, but got no relief. I took Cardui, the woman's tonic. Now, I feel better than in many months." Cardui does one thing and does it well. That's the secret of its 50 years of success. Try Cardui.

Was that raid on the Evanston Sun Parlor inspired by some coal man who wouldn't tolerate a rival?

Spit, Quit, Fit.

Hines, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Eula Mae Bradley says: "I used to spit up all I ate. I was tired and sleepy all the time. My head ached, and I could hardly drag around. Since taking Cardui, this has entirely quit, and now I feel quite fit." Mrs. Bradley suffered from nervous indigestion. Cardui builds up the nervous system, and strengthens the womanly constitution. That's why Cardui helped Mrs. Bradley and why it will help you. Try it.

"A Welcome Chance to Those Who Suffer."

Coming to Burlington, N. C. On Monday August 7th. 1911. To Stay at Hotel Ward.

Dr. Francis S. Packard of Greensboro, N. C. One Day Only Consultation and Examination Confidential, Invited and FREE.

From a Late Snapshot

To see all of his regular patients and such new cases, as may wish to consult him, Dr. Packard enjoys a wide reputation, among the profession and the Public of North Carolina, where for more than 25 years he has devoted his entire time to the Study, Treatment and Cure of Chronic Diseases. The Doctor has had wonderful success in his chosen work, that of curing chronic catarrhs, Men, Women and Children. The Patients he has restored to Health after they had given up all hope of being Cured are numbered by the Thousands. He is a kind, generous, democratic gentleman to meet, of high scholarly attainments, and dignified personality. Coupled with a Brotherly interest, in all who seek his advice. He does not take a Patient for Treatment unless he can foresee a Cure of the Case. The most commendable feature of his work, and one that appeals to the ordinary sick person, is the fact of his charges being so reasonable and moderate as to make it within the reach of even the very poor. At no time do the charges amount to more than $7.00 a month or about $1.50 a week. He gives his own medicines, and there are no extra charges. It takes him never more than four to six Months to Cure a Case under Treatment. All cases, even those who have been given up as incurable or hopeless, have been Cured and restored to perfect health by this Brilliant Physician and the wonderful methods he employs.

If you want to meet him and have him examine you, go to see him, and talk the matter over with him. It will cost you nothing if he does not put you under treatment. If he takes your case, it will cost you a very small sum to get well.

Remember the Date and come early. Monday August 7th.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

You say you would own your home if you had a chance and that you could make monthly payments? Well to meet these conditions we are going to see if you will do anything and for just two weeks from the date of this issue, we will offer the following property at a low price and allow you to pay 1 per cent cash and the balance 1 per cent per month until paid, that is a house and lot that you can buy from us for $1000.00 you can pay us $10.00 down and balance of $10.00 per month, with interest on deferred payments until paid.

What Does This Mean.

If you are paying $6.00 per month rental for your house now by adding to this $4.00 more you can get you a home of your own, or if the property is less your payments are less. Is this fair? Would you take any chance, or could you ask for a better proposition?
