

WENDBURG ON BEATTIE'S CRIME

"When the silence of that fatal night was broken by the screams of that poor, defenseless woman, as she realized that the man who had sworn to protect her was a head incarnate, and he silenced that scream with the report of that death-dealing gun, God frowned and the law shuddered."

"This man was left alone on the scene of the crime, left alone by that pool of blood—with the smoking weapon still in his hands. He threw the gun into the car and the body of his wife after it—like the body of a slaughtered beast."

"The learned and brilliant counsel for the accused have asked you on principles of sophistry how this man could have committed that crime. I say that a man who murders his wife is not only a murderer, but a fool."

"Beattie had to account for that gun, and he tells you of a big bearded highwayman, a giant who fired the shot, and of how he a mere stripling, goes up and wrests that gun away from the giant, not knowing whether he had a double-barreled shotgun and whether the giant would have given him the other load."

"Thank God, no scrubby farmer came along and picked up that gun. He threw it out in the high way of tramps, hoping that some tramp would pick it up."

"And yet Mr. Carter wants you to look for a bearded stranger. Why when the people read the papers the next morning, every farmer in Chesterfield ran for his razor to shave off his beard."

"I wonder how much of this man will go to heaven and how much will go below. God has given us means to procure evidence. The great power which moves all things appealed to the conscience of Paul and made him reveal all he knew."

"This is the cheapest murder I ever heard of. It has an element of cheapness about it."

"This is the greatest crime and the worst under the roof of heaven. This young man, gentlemen, has bound a band of blood around his name so that generations will slowly go by it until it is blotted out from memory. The dark and bloody annals of the past have nothing to equal this crime."

"But there is an inquisitive power somewhere, and that same power made Paul tell the balance of that secret in his heart. He had nothing to fear. He knew he was an innocent agent. But here he has been vilified, and the worst character has been attributed to him. But I tell Paul Beattie that God, who made him disclose that dreadful secret, will look after him. He has nothing to fear."

"A ministerial friend of mine suggested that the deeds of Henry VIII. of England formed the greatest blot on the escutcheon of England. And I say that this crime of Henry Beattie has formed the greatest blot on the escutcheon of Virginia!"

"They tell you to let him go free. Let him go free, and I tell you that every unprincipled murderer takes something away from the security of every man's life. Let this man go free, and I say to Virginia: 'Go to the grave of Cluervius; go to the grave of McCue, and to the grave of Jeter Phillips; dig up their bodies and apologize to them, and place a band around the escutcheon of Virginia, to remain there through all eternity.'"

"Justice must be satisfied, and a broken law must be vindicated. Go, gentlemen of the jury, and render your decision so that the verdict of this State will be: 'Well done, good and faithful servants.'"

Simple Theory.

"What is your theory about self-help?"

"Why, to help yourself if there is anything in sight."

Attendance at School Should be increased Prize and Certificates offered in County for Attendance

No business can succeed as it ought unless every department and detail of the work is carefully guarded and properly kept and maintained. More than one well established business has failed and others that were started did not rise and succeed because some one department or detail of the enterprise was neglected. We are fully confident that these fundamental laws apply to a school or system of schools as much as they do to any other institution whether that institution is of the business kind or otherwise. Hence it is our aim and sole purpose to provide proper adequate equipment for our schools, and to see that every factor and force, as near as may be, contributes its part toward complete success.

We well know that good commodious houses properly equipped with a supply of school apparatuses are very necessary. No man or woman can work without tools. There is a great deal of time and money now spent not only in obtaining the matter that is to be presented in school but also on the method of presenting this matter. This is necessary because wherever there is matter to be presented there must be a method; and whether or not the child obtains and retains the matter presented, depends very largely upon the method. But we believe the thing of most vital interest connected with our schools now and the thing that should claim our attention most just now is the question of attendance. We may have our handsome and commodious buildings with a full supply of up-to-date equipment and we may have our proficient well trained teachers, but unless the students come they will all amount to nothing. The houses are provided for the girls and boys. The teachers are employed and paid for the girls and boys. But unless the girls and boys come to get the benefit all our efforts and expenses are fruitless. Therefore I call upon every teacher, committeeman and patron to help increase our attendance the coming year. The rural school census for the white race last year for our county was 4563. The enrollment was 3153 and the average daily attendance was only 2555. These figures show the average attendance to be 77 per cent of the enrollment and only 56 per cent of the entire school census. That these percentages should be increased goes without saying. So with the hope that they may put more boys and girls in school during the coming session and be an incentive to keep them there more regularly I offer the following prize and reward: I will give to that rural school in the County that makes the best average attendance, as compared with its own enrollment $5 to be expended in books for its library. And I will give to every student that is neither tardy nor absent the entire session, a large printed certificate of honor.

I would like to ask through this medium that every teacher make these announcements on the opening day of school, that all may have a fair chance to win and that every student may use the days as they come so the result will be better attendance in our schools.

Among the other applicants for the position were Jacob A. Long of Graham, A. Wayland Cook of Greensboro and A. A. Hicks of Oxford.

GIRL MURDERED.

Hendersonville, Sept. 11.—The finding of the body of Miss Myrtle Hawkins, 17 years old and very pretty, in the blue waters of Lake Osceola Sunday morning deepens the mystery caused by the disappearance of the daughter of W. H. Hawkins a prominent business man of Hendersonville, since last Thursday. The body of the girl was found floating on the waters of the lake by a little boy. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from unknown causes. As a matter of fact, there are rumors of suicide and of a worse crime having been committed.

Miss Hawkins disappeared from her home last Thursday. A quiet search since then failed to locate her. The lake in which she was found is encircled daily by hundreds of carriages and automobiles. From the condition of the body, it is reasonable to suppose that she had been in the water for several days, but ample evidence is also there to show that the girl was dead before her body touched the water. Miss Hawkins' parents are very prominent here. The death of their young daughter is one of the deepest mysteries lately developed.

Street Cars Arrived.

The light of Saturday morning dawned upon two street cars in our town, which had arrived during the night while we slumbered. By Monday morning the number had increased to nine with one more to follow. These cars were shipped from Washington, D. C. five being motors which are pulled by the trolley and five trailers which are drawn by the motors. The cars are beauties in appearance and durable in construction and when the trolley wires and power houses have been completed will be joyfully saluted by the many hundred people who are waiting anxiously for the first appearance.

At present a generator is being placed in the Bellvue Mill which will enable the cars to start and be running for the fair.

The track which is eight and one half miles in length running from the Plaid Mills direct to Haw River with a line running from Hardins Junction to the Court House at Graham is being finished and the power house being pushed to completion at the earliest possible date. Thus when the cars are put in operation the name of J. W. Murray associates and friends who have stood by the undertaking however great it appeared to many, will go down on the historical pages of Burlington's record and will be lauded through out the coming generations, as one of the great undertakings of our town which was begun and not let perish in its infancy but pushed to completion.

Restaurant Sunday Hours.

TOBACCO MARKET OPENS

The Burlington tobacco market opened Tuesday, September 12th. The market which has been one of the best in this section of the state during the past several years promises to sell more tobacco this season than ever before. The market has all of the leading tobacco companies represented, among them being W. J. Martin for R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., R. J. Sartin, Richardson Tobacco Co., Mr. Spencer, American Tobacco Co., Mr. Lyons, British American Tobacco Co., Imperial Tobacco Co. and one or more independent buyers. The market opened with prices ranging from $1.00 to $3.00 per hundred higher than last year. Everything indicates a good season for our local market which sold two and one-fourth million pounds, and with bright prospects of easily reaching three million pounds this season.

We deem it unnecessary to mention the courteous treatment that will be extended every farmer who patronizes our local market. Our warehouse men are very busy and those who have patronized our market know they will receive every cent it is possible for Messrs. Hooker & Thornburg and Mr. Morgan to secure.

Visit to "Willowbrook"

Champeroned by Mesdames W. H. Carroll and T. S. Fauceett a very quiet and enjoyable occasion was last Friday night when "Willowbrook" was visited and after several hours of boating the crowd returned to the home of Mrs. Fauceett where they were entertained in a delightful manner.

Those present were: Misses Nonie Moore, Edith and Ella Ray Carroll, Annie Morgan Fauceett and Edna Graves.

Messrs. Schatz, Bob Lincoln Alton Moffitt, Jno. Lashley and Prof. Jno. Turrentine.

Young Man Instantly Killed.

Lacy Hackett aged nineteen son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hackett of Pomona was accidentally shot and killed late Wednesday afternoon by Gaff Smith an inmate friend while they with another companion were out hunting squirrels between Pomona and High Point.

The remains of the young man were brought to this city Friday morning for interment at Pine Hill Cemetery.

The young men had been hunting and were sitting beside the road when Hackett proposed that since it was getting late it was time to start home. This was agreed to Hackett rising to his feet facing the other boys who were sitting down. Smith, before getting up, unbreached his gun, having forgotten whether the shell was empty or loaded intending if it was loaded to remove it for safety. When he broke the gun it was discharged the whole load of shot entering Hackett's mouth and ploughing upward through his brain killing him instantly.

The whole community is full of sympathy for the grief stricken parents and for young Smith, who is frantic with regret.

Moonlight Outing

The serene stillness of the beautiful moonlight was made a chatter of gaiety Thursday night when a crowd of youngsters chambered by Mr. Ernest Holt and Miss Netta Daily drove to "Willowbrook" carrying with them dainty lunch and the expectation of having one of the grandest moonlight outings of the season which was not blighted in the bud but carried out to the fullest expectations of the moonlight riders.

The occasion was planned in honor of Miss Louise Guthrie of Raleigh who is the guest of her cousins Misses Ada and Mamie Guthrie.

Willowbrook with outstretched arms beckoned with a grim smile the arrival of the merry-makers and gladly extended her ancient boat of historic fame and her waves who could whisper the story of the number who have glided over them tickling the fancy of the dimpled cheek and silvery curled sweet sixteen who perchanced to enjoy the croak of Mr. Frog and the sweet perfume of the lilies.

Those who had the facinating privilege of enjoying the occasion were:

Misses Netta Daily, Ada and Mamie Guthrie, Ruth and Thelma Thurston, Bettie Lydy May, Sadie Montgomery, Flora Garrett and Louise Guthrie of Raleigh.

BEATTIE CONVICTED

Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., Sept. 8.—Twelve Virginia farmers knelt at dusk tonight in the obscurity of the small jury room of Chesterfield courthouse, praying fervently that they might pass judgment aright on Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., indicted for the murder of his wife. Grimly determined they arose a moment later and silently, one by one, recorded a unanimous verdict of "guilty."

Pausing in solemn contemplation for fifty-eight minutes, weighing carefully the meaning of their decision and once more on bended knees beseeching Divine assistance that they might not err, they filed into the hushed stillness of a crowded courtroom and with startling suddenness twelve voices, instead of the usual one of the foreman, spoke the single word "guilty." It was almost a shout. The spectre of death which stalked Middlethian turnpike on July 18, last, when the life of Mrs. Louise Owen Beattie was taken away with the single report of a shotgun, stared hard at the young husband, ready to claim its victim by electrocution on Friday, November 24, next. But the prisoner returned the gaze, unswerving and unafraid.

THE DIARY OF BEULAH BINFORD

Here is the little diary, given as Beulah Binford wrote it:

PREFACE.
My Darling Henry—I am going to write you a little note every day in this little book.

June 15, 1911.
My Darling Baby—I love you better than anything on earth. I did not mean to go out with P., and I will never do it again. Please love me and forget there ever was such a thing as old P. I hate him, and love you only.
Beulah.

Richmond, Va., June 16, 1911.
My Darling Baby—I am so glad you called me up last night, as I certainly did want to talk to my honey. I did not go out, as I said, because Irma waited until after nine, and I knew you would not want me to go out so late.
Henry, I don't think Claudia and Bennie are going to take me with them when they move, and I know you will stop coming to see me then. Honey, please talk to Ben yourself and ask him, for you know he would pay more attention to you than he would to Claudia or I. I am going to be a good little girl and love you just like you want me to. Yours only and always.
Beulah.

June 17, 1911.
My Darling Baby—Please be a good boy and don't flirt with the girls.
Beulah.

June 18, 1911.
My Own Sweet Honey—I am going to be a real good little girl and love you only.
Beulah.

June 19, 1911.
My Darling Baby—I want to go to housekeeping for myself, and you can come to see me and no one will have anything to do with it. Love and kisses.
Beulah.

Beulah.

DIARY CLOSED NIGHT OF MURDER.
It was on the night of July 18, that Mrs. Beattie was shot to death.
Beulah.

In the same little note book in which Beulah Binford wrote her diary was the following list of furniture:
Dresser, $16; Washstand, $5; bed, $10; springs, $4; mattress, $6; two pillows, $2; two chairs, $4; one rocking chair, $2.25; toilet set, $3.50; table, $1; safe, 65c; table, $1.25.
Beulah.

Such is the diary of this "woman in the case." Henry Beattie met her as a child, not yet thirteen years old, on Broad street, Richmond, and took her for a ride in his big automobile. She was fascinated and delighted.
Beulah.

Two weeks after she took that ride with Beattie she was on the down grade.
Beulah.

THIRTY FIVE THOUSAND MEN MAY WALK OUT
Chicago Sept. 8.—Reports that 35,000 shopmen employed by the Illinois Central, may be ordered to strike, because of the refusal of the railroad to recognize the recently organized Federated Union, were revived here today.
Beulah.

It is said that written notices instructed the men to walk out were sent to the various local bodies several days ago, to be held in abeyance until released by telegrams from officers of the Federated body. In the meantime the labor chiefs gathered here are awaiting another meeting of the executive committee of the International Unions in Chicago Sunday.
Beulah.

Get More Money.
Are you satisfied that your present position is equal to your ability, or do you think you are capable of something bigger? Many a man hangs on to a small position when a little training of the right sort would show him just how to make the change to more money and brighter prospects. The first step toward getting better equipped and a better position is to write for a catalogue of Draughton's Practical Business College, Charlotte or Raleigh, N. C., or Knoxville or Nashville, Tenn.
Beulah.

Colored Picnic.
Just honor is due Mr. J. M. Hayes for the valuable help given to his colored patrons of mail route No. 8 of this county last Saturday, September 2, 1911, in the annual picnic that was given on Mr. J. C. H. Kernodle's plantation near the Ireland bridge.
Beulah.

There were three principal features of the occasion, viz., speaking and eating, all of these Mr. J. M. Hayes enjoyed with us.
Beulah.

At one o'clock the people were called together by Chairman Jno T. Faucette and in a flattering way introduced the following speakers: First, Mr. J. M. Hayes who entertained us for about ten minutes with humorous jokes, concluding he gave us instructions on mailing letters.
Beulah.

Then Rev. S. Jones was introduced. He held our attention for five minutes. The summary of his remarks was the great change that now exists over that which existed fifty years ago.
Beulah.

Then Professor G. S. Mebane one speaker for the day was introduced. He gave us wholesome and logical instruction in a common and practicable way, telling us how we should imitate our superior race in many good ways they possess. Prof. Mebane further said we should be skillful workmen, that this was the reason many of us get poor wages as our inability to do things in a skillful way, and above all we must be men of good moral character. This would be a wall of protection in time of need.
Beulah.

It was a great day for us and after we had enjoyed ourselves heartily to the dantes of the day we returned to our respective places of abode with praises on our lips to Mr. J. M. Hayes our worthy Mail Deliverer.
Beulah.

A PATRON
Will Be Here Tuesday and Wednesday, and Thursday at Mebane.
Beulah.

Dr. N. Rosenstein will be at Burlington next Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 19th and 20th, at the Burlington Drug Co., and Thursday at Mebane, Sept. 21st, at the White House. With him every detail in fitting the glasses must come under his personal inspection. He has been in years attaining the reputation as the Optical Leader. If in need in glasses call to see him. His charges are very moderate, and work the best.

The prohibition election in Maine Tuesday was won by the drys by a very small majority.

The verdict of the jury in the Beattie case may have been circumstantial but that it was righteous can not be disputed.

It's not a question as to whether it pays a merchant to advertise but the question is can he afford not to advertise.

We have heard and read of many new games and plays but playing "Hell" at Blowing Rock during the past few days heads them all.

If all the convicts Governor Kitchin has pardoned support him for Senator he will be hard to beat.—Caucasian.

And if all the enemies he has made by not giving them the job they were applicants for oppose him he will be hard to catch.

In the naming of Judge Foushee for the vacancy recently made by the resignation of Judge Biggs Governor Kitchin had the pleasure of naming a man who was a very warm friend and who has stuck mighty close when friends were especially needed.

New life has been added to our town this week by the opening of the City Graded School. The youths in their gaiety and splendor are crowding our streets both morning and evening. As we watch them with their bright faces and cheerful smiles with the best opportunity of securing an education we are reminded of the great stream of knowledge which finds its source in the sparkling and babbling brook.

Speaking from a political standpoint Governor Kitchin made a grave mistake in the appointment of Foushee to succeed Biggs. By this appointment we are informed Granville county will swing into the Simmons column in the senatorial contest. Had Hicks been appointed this slice of the political field could have been saved. But then Foushee held a political debt the payment of which he was waging.

THE RALEIGH TIMES SOLD BY SIMMS & DREWRY

The sale of The Raleigh Daily Times for $25,000 is announced by J. V. Simms, president and general manager, and John A. Park and associates.
 In perfecting the reorganization of The Times under the new interests, a charter is obtained for The Times Publishing Company, capital $25,000 paid in, the stockholders are thirty six in number.

In connection with the announcement of the new management, it is declared, "This is a Raleigh newspaper for Raleigh people; its columns are open and its policies are also. We may be censured sometimes and we may censure other folks and things, but as long as our friends pay their subscriptions and advertising bills we will have no kick coming."

Mr. Park, president of the new company was some years ago city editor of The Times and has been in the automobile business for several years.

Mr. Simms expects to remain in Raleigh for sometime and has not perfected his plans. His sale of The Times stipulates that he must stay out of the afternoon newspaper field in Raleigh for ten years. He has been running The Times for four years and was previous to this a member of the business staff of The News of Charlotte.

The purchase price of $25,000 The Times was paid in gold, twenty dollar goldpieces being used.

The Chicago bookkeeper who stole $6,200 to give to charity evidently believed that it was not well to let the right hand know what the left was doing.

NOTED BLOCKADER CAUGHT BY POSSE AT SILER CITY

Siler City, Sept. 9.—Henry H. Hancock, a notorious blockader, was captured this morning by United States Deputy Marshal Sloan and Sheriff Lane with a posse of five men. Officers had been on the lookout for Hancock for a long time and yesterday found that he was operating a blockade still near here and laid plans for his capture. Last night the officers, with their men, surrounded the still and waited until his coming this morning. Soon after daylight Hancock was seen approaching cautiously. He had hardly reached the still when the men closed in upon him, and after a brief skirmish he was captured and brought here, where he had a hearing before United States Commissioner H. C. Reece. He was found guilty and bound in a $1,500 for his appearance in court. Being unable to give bond, Deputy Marshal Sloan left with him for the state prison at Raleigh.

WARNING

Delinquent Tax Payers

All who are delinquent in their taxes will take notice: I have met every requirement of the law as to township rounds for the collection of taxes; more than that, I have made several special rounds, and a number of special appointments at different places for the convenience of the people. My office at the court house is kept open all the time, I have made every possible appeal, general and personal, and have tried in the most courteous way to bring this matter to the attention of every one, at the same time exercising extreme patience and indulgence, giving every one the privilege of paying at their own convenience. All this should not be necessary. It would be much nicer if everybody would discharge their duty in this matter voluntarily, promptly, and cheerfully; and not wait to be dunned, dogged at and compelled. It really seems that in the matter of taxes patience has ceased to be a virtue.

Now these taxes are charged up to me and I am bound to settle. I must collect before I can settle. This is fair notice to all. In a few days from now I expect to put these books in the hands of my deputy with instructions to collect as the law provides. This is a matter of business and a matter of duty. Give this your immediate attention and save the costs.

Respectfully,
R. N. Cook, Sheriff.

TO CURE SORE BUNIONS

Treatment Marvelously Quick for This and All Foot Troubles.

"Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Caloide compound in a basin of hot water, soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. (Less time will not give desired results.) Repeat this each night until cure is permanent." All pain and inflammation is drawn out instantly and the bunion soon is reduced to normal size. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off and will stay off. Sore, tender feet and smelly, sweaty feet need but a few treatments. A twenty-five cent package of Caloide is usually sufficient to put the worst feet in fine condition. Caloide is no longer confined to only the doctors use. Any druggist has it in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. This will prove a welcome item to persons who have been vainly trying to cure their foot troubles with ineffective tablets and foot powders.

MET SUDDEN DEATH

Greensboro, Sept. 8.—Curtis Nall, of Revolution cotten mill village, near this city, a young man about twenty years of age, was instantly killed last night about 10:30 o'clock near Danville, Va., while riding on the top of a northbound freight train, his death being the result of contact with an overhead dry bridge. The news was a great surprise to his people here and to his friends and acquaintances of the mill village many of whom were not aware that he had gone away, he leaving last night for a brief visit to Danville and Richmond.

Nall, it is supposed, forgot the fact that there are several bridges across the railway tracks near Danville and failed to lie down when the train pulled under one the floors of which are not very high above the cars. It is thought that he was struck full in the face while the train was moving at a rapid rate of speed and that death came suddenly and before he realized it. Trainmen took charge of his body and carried it to Danville to an undertaking establishment where it will remain until arrangements are made by the young man's relatives for its removal to his home. Nall was an employe of the Revolution cotten mill, and on last Tuesday drew his pay, which amounted to $14. In his pocket was $3.50 in change, and also the pay envelope in which his wages were paid him. The envelope was the only means of identification on his person, and this enabled the authorities to follow methods for getting in communication with his people.

Nall was a young man being hardly more than 20 years of age. His death comes as a distinct surprise and shock to those who but a short while ago saw him in his natural self.

"I HAVE GONE CRAZY" SUICIDE WRITES FATHER

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 9.—J. H. Williams, aged 55 years said to be from Jacksonville, Fla., killed himself early today aboard the Clyde liner Iroquois while at sea.

A letter found in his clothing was addressed to A. S. Clement, Plymouth, Mass. Its text, in pencil read:

"I have gone crazy. I don't know where mother is. (Signed) 'FATHER.'"

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Alice Smith Clement, wife of H. B. Clement, a railroad employe living here received word tonight from Charleston regarding the suicide of J. H. Williams on the steamer Iroquois but it mystified as to the identity of the dead man. Mrs. Clement's initials correspond with those on the letter found on the suicide.

Mrs. Clement's father, William H. Jordan, sailed from Boston with his family two weeks ago on the steamer City of Memphis for Florida. Yesterday a letter was received from him saying that he had bought a farm at Brownsville, Fla., and that the family were well and contented in their new home, but the Clements are worried over the fact that the name given by the Charleston suicide suggested that of Mr. Jordan inverted.

Mr. Jordan was for many years in the tailoring business in Boston.

Sleeps Ten Days

Chicago, Sept. 4.—After a ten day sleep from which physicians were unable to arouse her, Josephine Gerbel, known on the stage as Genevieve de Forest died yesterday.

For three years the singer had suffered from ulcer of the stomach. Ten days ago while suffering much pain, Miss De Forrest fell into a deep slumber. First this was thought to be a good sign. Hour after hour passed, however and she continued to sleep. Efforts were made by nurses to awaken her. Physicians were called, but every effort proved futile.

GUILTY MINISTER QUILTS THE CONFERENCE

Clarence, Mo., Sept. 6.—A letter written by Reverend H. Hornwood Johnson to a young woman of his congregation, and a letter written to the minister by Oscar Callison, an official of the church it is believed are the causes of the pastors sudden withdrawal from the Southern Methodist ministry and his departure from Clarence.

"God knows my sin," was Johnson's explanation. In a letter to the presiding elder he wrote "I have not been guilty of immorality, but injudicious conduct through correspondence." Johnson's "injudicious" letter, it is said, was written to a young woman, who showed marked admiration for him and was a frequent caller at his home. The letter was found by the woman's sister and was shown to Callison. He wrote the minister later.

Helps the Farmer to Sell

THE FARMER was worried over the market reports. Cotton was rising. When it reached a certain figure he proposed to sell. The day before it had almost reached his price. What would it bring today?

The farmer needed firm-hand information at once. He stepped to his Bell Telephone. The Long Distance connection with the buyer in a distant city informed him that cotton had reached the top figure, and he sold his crop at a handsome profit.

The Universal Bell System enables the producer in remote rural districts to keep in touch with market conditions without the necessity of leaving home.

By the way, have you a Bell Telephone?

No Chinese Typewriters.

Typewriters are now made for use in nearly a hundred different languages, and they are sold all over the world; but there is still one great nation which, for a very simple reason, has no typewriters that write its tongue. That nation is China.

The English alphabet has 26 letters, the Russian 36. The typewriter produced for the Russian market is the largest made; but no typewriter could be made that would begin to be big enough for the Chinese language, which has no alphabet, but is represented by sign characters, of which there are about 50,000. Of the great number of words found in the English language only a small proportion are used for the ordinary purposes of speech, and the same is true of the characters used in the Chinese language; but the number of Chinese characters commonly employed is still far greater than could be put on any typewriter. So this nation of 400,000,000 people has no typewriter in its own tongue.

But that doesn't mean that no typewriters are sold in China. More and more Chinese are learning other languages besides their own, and Chinese merchants and resident foreign merchants use typewriters, and they are used in legations and in consular offices and in banks and shipping offices and colleges, and by missionaries, by various people. Altogether there are sold in China a good many typewriters.

ONE DAY ONLY.

From a Late Snapshot

To see all of his regular Patients and such new Cases, as may wish to consult him. Dr. Packard enjoys a wide reputation, among the profession and the Public of North Carolina, where for more than 25 years he has devoted his entire time to the Study, Treatment and Cure of Chronic Diseases. The Doctor has had wonderful success in his chosen work, that of curing chronic sufferers, Men, Women and Children. The Patients he has restored to Health after they had given up all hope of being cured are numbered by the thousands. He is a kind, generous, democratic gentleman to meet, of high scholarly attainments, and dignified personality. Coupled with a Brotherly interest, in all who seek his advice. He does not take a Patient for Treatment unless he can foresee a Cure of the Case. The most commendable feature of his work, and one that appeals to the ordinary sick person, is the fact of his charges being so reasonable and moderate as to make it within the reach of even the very poor. At no time do the charges amount to more than $7.00 a month or about $1.50 a week. He gives his own medicines, and there are no extra Charges. It takes him never more than from four to six Months to Cure a Case under Treatment. All Cases, even those who have been given up as Incurable or Hopeless, have been Cured and restored to perfect health by this Brilliant Physician and the wonderful methods he employs.

If you want to meet him and have him examine you, go to see him, and talk the matter over with him. It will cost you nothing if he does not put you under treatment. If he takes your case, it will cost you a very small sum to get well.

Remember the Date and come early.

THE BIG ONE

Alamance has never played second fiddle to anybody in any section, in any matter of Progressiveness.

This year's Alamance Fair is no exception to this well fixed fact. Of all the Fairs ever held here and of all the Fairs held in North Carolina this year, our Fair for will out-strip them all. Never before has the promotion and expectation of the Fair required the use of an extra typewriter. This is the case now.

The Midway will be made up largely, so far as the shows and features thereon are concerned, with attractions that come here direct from Coney Island. The present management of the Fair has secured the services of Mr. Harry Zejans, of the Theatrical firm of Wilson, Zejans & Ebarts, Zensington Walk, Coney Island, N. Y., to amalgamate these attractions and make one direct movement from Zensington Walk to the Alamance Fair Grounds.

The free absolutely free in front of the Grand Stand each day, will open with Millie Adgie and her performing lions of the Jungle. She will give two distinct acts, requiring five drops, concluding with "The Dance of Death Among the Lions." This act alone will be worth the price of admission. It will require an enormous platform and Tremendous steel arena for this sensational feature.

The next series of free acts will be given upon another platform by the Four Ghrovidies, the world's most celebrated acrobats and contortionists. This is the handsomest dressed and most finished act of its character now on the stage.

The next series of free performances will be given by the Flying Bartletts. These people are good enough as trapez artists that they have put on this feature of the show at the New York Hippodrome. In fact all of these Acts are booked direct out of New York and they are having played only a few engagements in our very largest cities.

Entirely New in This Country,

Adgie has a den of baby Lion Cubs, with which she amuses the ladies and children in the open.

On the midway will be daily demonstrations of Wireless Telegraphy.

Hines, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Eula Mae Bradley says: "I used to spit up all I ate. I was tired and sleepy all the time. My head ached, and I could hardly drag around. Since taking Cardui, this has entirely quit, and now I feel quite fit." Mrs. Bradley suffered from nervous indigestion. Cardui builds up the nervous system, and strengthens the womanly constitution. That's why Cardui helped Mrs. Bradley and why it will help you. Try it.

THE MEBANE TOBACCO MARKET.

Expects to Sell Three Million Pounds. Credit Given to Mr. Ben Duke for the Market.

Mebane, Sept. 9.—The Mebane tobacco market opens September 14, and believing that a few statements in regard to our market would be of interest, the following facts are submitted:

The Mebane tobacco market was established and our first sale was in October, 1909, and for the season of 1909-1910 this market sold five hundred thousand pounds. For the season of 1910-1911, this market sold one million pounds. The above results are phenomenal when we take into consideration that we only had one warehouse and none of the larger tobacco were represented except the American Tobacco Company, and the competing markets used this to fight the Mebane market. Notwithstanding all this, and we acknowledge this market was very badly handicapped, our market was a success so far as pleasing the farmers and increasing our business; in fact, our market was such a success that the Mebane Tobacco Warehouse Company decided to erect another large warehouse for the sale of leaf tobacco for the season of 1911-1912. The American Tobacco Company have placed on this market Mr. J. E. Bowling and the British-American Tobacco Company have placed here Mr. F. W. Graves. Both of these gentlemen know their business and are very courteous and we believe that not only the Mebane market, but these two big tobacco concerns, are to be congratulated on having two such buyers.

The Piedmont Tobacco Warehouse is in the hands of Messrs. J. N. Warren and Murray Furherson. And the people of Alamance, Orange and Caswell counties know them so very favorably that nothing can be said to what is known.

The Planters' Tobacco Warehouse has as its proprietor, Mr. E. W. Harris, who has been for the past fifteen years warehouseman of Reidsville, Greensboro, Dunn, and Snow Hill, and has been very successful as a tobacco man.

When we take into consideration that our crop for this season is far the largest crop that has ever been grown, and will consist largely of rich, red fillers, that is a good crop for the manufacturers, and that we will have two large warehouses in place of one, and in place of one regular buyer, and a few smaller ones, as has been the case heretofore, we will have buyers as above stated from the American Tobacco Company, the British-American Tobacco Company, and also, we have been informed, from the Imperial R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, and others. And this being the case, we believe that our estimate for the season of 1911-1912 will be over three million pounds, and the estimate that we are making for our market is, we think, a very conservative one.

We believe that we would be wrong in not giving Mr. Ben Duke credit for this market, as this market would not have been established and continued had it not been for Mr. Duke and his policy of treating all markets alike so far as prices are concerned, and we have heard a great many farmers of our section express themselves as being more than gratified at the kindness shown this section and this market by Mr. Duke and the American Tobacco Company.

Back From New York.

In a very quiet way Mr. M. B. Smith relates what he saw in New York and at Coney Island last week giving reference to his friend Prof. Garwood who tells in a very fascinating manner what he saw giving the story to Jim Montgomery who says it certainly does pay to go to New York while he and "Pete" Neese were together and "Pete" having been up there before under stands where to go to see the most. Mr. C. B. Ellis tells of the wonderful building he saw Mrs. Ellis was along. These gentlemen all went to Baltimore, Atlantic City, Philadelphia and several of the larger cities returning by the way of McLeansburg.

SHOT DOWN BY WOMAN

Chicago Sept. 7.—Robert Bruce Watson, member of most of the leading clubs here, a wealthy architect and active in the Republican party, was shot and seriously wounded today by Mrs. H. B. Coney. The shooting took place in front of Watson's home, to which the architect had refused Mrs. Coney admission. She was arrested and admitted having shot him.

Mrs. Coney called at Watson's home earlier in the day and is said to have been ordered away. She waited on the sidewalk however and when he left home an hour later, drew a small revolver from her hand bag and shot him. "I have known Watson ten years and I couldn't stand it when he turned me down," Mrs. Coney told the police. "He told me to get away from his home because his mother was there. It was more than I could stand and I shot him."

Mrs. Coney filed suit for divorce from her husband a manufacturer here, last February. It was dismissed and a counter suit filed by him was sustained. Although Watson's name did not appear in Coney's suit the former husband today said the architect's name had been coueled with that of his wife even before the separation.
