

PASTOR CHARGED WITH KILLING

Boston, Oct. 20.—Rev. Clarence Virg., Richardson, pastor of Emanuel Baptist church of Cambridge, Mass., was technically arrested this morning and taken to police headquarters in connection with the mysterious death of Miss Avis Linnell, a student of the Boston Conservatory of Music. Miss Linnell was found dying in a bathroom Saturday night after swallowing cyanide of potassium. The pastor who is 33 years of age, was arrested at the home of Miss Violet Edmunds whom he was to marry October 31. Seven hundred invitations had been issued for the marriage and these were called in today by the father and mother of Miss Edmunds.

A druggist of Newton, Mass., has communicated with Chief Inspector Dugan of this city, claiming that he personally sold to Rev. Richardson a package containing cyanide of potassium, the kind of poison that killed Avis Linnell. The purchase was made four or five hours before the girl returned home from the Boston Y. W. C. A. Girl told friends that she took the poison believing it was medicine. She had also told a number of friends that she was engaged to the pastor. Rev. Richardson denied this after the girl's death. The arrest of Richardson was sensational. He was aroused from a bed at the home of his fiancée before dawn by the police. The police, after putting him through the third degree, declared that they will perform the charge of murder against him.

Boston, Oct. 20.—Rev'd Dr. Richardson, pastor of the fashionable Baptist church of Cambridge was formally charged with the murder this afternoon. In less than a fortnight he was to lead to the altar the beautiful heiress Miss Violet Edmunds. Miss Avis Linnell, who believed she was to be the bride of the prominent minister, was buried this afternoon, her wedding gown being used as the burial shroud. The warrant for the formal arrest was issued by Judge Duff of the criminal court, after William Dugan, the Newton druggist, had positively identified Richardson as the man to whom he sold the poison last week. It is further known that Richardson met Miss Linnell at the South Boston station last Saturday night, and that she loved the pastor desperately. There are two theories for the murder, one that fearing Miss Linnell might interfere with the marriage of the minister to Miss Edmunds, Richardson purchased the drug and with rare cunning skill gave it to the dead girl as a headache remedy. Another is that the drug was purchased for Miss Linnell so that she could kill herself when the announcement of the wedding to Miss Edmunds was made. The police claimed that they have a strong case against Richardson and that the drug was given to the girl purposely and that she swallowed the poison believing it was headache medicine.

ALMOST ROUGH HOUSE

Trouble at Durham Over Attempt to Exhibit Binford Pictures.

Durham, Oct. 23.—The Binford picture muddle assumed ominous proportions tonight when Manager Wilkinson locked his operating room doors, warned officers not to enter it and threatened to shoot Sergeant Pendergrast if he interfered. A bursting over crowd was present and twice Manager Wilkinson mounted the stage and announced that the pictures would go, while the crowd cheered. He had previously required officers to buy tickets and said: "The first show is over. You officers can buy tickets for the new one if you want to. Beulah Binford pictures will go." Sergeant Pendergrast sent Sergeant Cadle for the top of a hatbox, which he had constructed into a blind to cover the projectoscope. He thought he could not enter the operating room to serve a warrant on the operator. When Wilkinson saw his device, he said: "If you put that thing up over that hole, I hope God will strike me dead, if I don't put a bullet through you."

He stepped into his private office then and Commissioner Claiborn Carr remonstrated with him. Men in the audience ran out and others gathered to caution both officers and manager. Chief Freeland advised that the device of Pendergrast be not used and a warrant was issued at once for the manager and operator. In the meantime the reeling off of the picture went along until officers arrived and served a warrant and stopped the show in the middle of the performance. Manager Wilkerson then went to the police station, put up a $200 bond and returned to the show; having announced that he would not attempt to present the Binford pictures any more. He was followed by a cheering mass of men. He declared that his sole purpose had been to vindicate himself and the house, and he left it to the public. The case will be heard tomorrow morning in the Recorder's court.

Malone—Willis

Mr. Albert Malone and Miss Attie Willis were happily united in marriage at the home of the brides father Mr. H. H. Willis on Washington Street Wednesday evening October 18th at five o'clock. The wedding was a quiet affair only a few relatives and friends being present. After the ceremony which was pronounced by Rev'd D. McIver the bride and groom left for Raleigh and have been spending several days at Greensboro with relatives. They will board with her father at present.

Mothers and Teachers.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. S. L. Morgan, next Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. R. M. Morrow, Supt. of the Mothers and Purity department, will conduct the meeting. It is earnestly desired that all the mothers and teachers of the town be present, as this will be an interesting and helpful meeting to those engaged in child-training. No mother could spend a more profitable afternoon than in a meeting of this nature, where the vital subject, "The Moral Problem of the Children," will be discussed.

Baraca Day.

At the Methodist Protestant Sunday School on next Sunday morning, the Baraca class of the school will have charge of the exercises. The class has prepared a special program, consisting of music, addresses etc., and are expecting a great occasion. They especially invite the men of the city to be present, and also every one else who cares to attend. A pleasant hour of Sunday school work is guaranteed all who attend. Go, and help make the day a success. Exercises will begin at 9:30.

Smith—Ingle

Mr. Herman Smith and Miss Queen Ingle were united in marriage at the home of her brother Mr. John V. Ingle Tuesday evening at six o'clock.

Shortly before six o'clock quite a number of her friends assembled in the hall and parlor which was beautifully decorated with ferns and evergreens, and at the appointed time Rev. J. D. Williams pronounced the ceremony taking the ring from his hand and giving it to the groom, who placed it on the hand of his bride. Many congratulations and best wishes were expressed and the happy bride and bridegroom went on board train No. 139 en route for Washington and other northern cities.

Miss Ingle was attired in a beautiful brown coat suit with gloves and hat to match. The groom wore a black broadcloth. Miss Ingle is known by a large circle of friends in Burlington who attribute her with a lovable and kind disposition. She has been clerk for Jos. A. Isley & Bros. Co., for the past three or more years where she had charge of buying for the ladies department.

Mr. Smith is a flagman for the Southern whose home was formerly near Effland.

They will be at home at Greensboro after November 15th to their friends.

Corrects Report.

There seems to be a story going the rounds to the effect that I was a United States soldier during the war between the North and South. If the Dispatch will kindly publish a few lines for me I will correct that little mistake. The reason why I was not a United States soldier was, because I was living in Virginia when the war broke out, and I didn't feel disposed to join the Northern army. I wanted to stay out of it entirely. But the conscript act took me into the Confederate army, in April 1862 I think it was. I was allowed to choose my company, so I went to Co. D, 29th Va. Infantry. That company was made up in the neighborhood where I lived. Notwithstanding the fact that my company officers and men knew that I was a Union man I was quite popular with my company. Could have been elected to a Lieutenancy alright, but I told the boys that I didn't wish to assume any responsibility. I stayed with them about two and half years, did my duty (so called) when I had to, I never was excused from duty, never was in hospital, never missed many roll calls and never was in the guard house. I was captured near Kingston, North Carolina in April, 1864. Was taken to Fortress Monroe, and from there to Elmira, N. Y. where there was a prison camp. I have a very tender feeling for the old soldier because I know what he suffered. I was with him two and half years. Although I didn't espouse the Confederate cause, neither did I take up arms against them.

Respectfully,
Saul Hughes.

Largest Woman on Earth.

Alton (Ill.) Dispatch to New York World.
Miss Gertrude Burk of Chicago, largest woman in the world, is visiting at the home of Mrs. H. W. Hayes here. Miss Burk is 22 years of age, weighs 825 pounds, stands 5 feet 7 inches, and some of her measurements are: Arm, 28 inches; waist, 54-bust, 75. She wears No. 4 shoes and No. 7 gloves.

When she was born Miss Burk weighed 45 pounds, and at 8 years of age weighed 250. At the Hayes home she sits on two chairs placed facing each other. Miss Burk goes through doors by turning sideways, and it is a pretty hard squeeze at that. Efforts have been made by showmen to get Miss Burk to exhibit herself, but she was never tempted. Her parents left her an estate, and she does not need the money.

Mr. Carnegie was not even consulted before Italy declared war.

'YOURS TRULY B. MINER'

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 19.—"Old Bill" Miner, the train robber, who escaped from the state prison at Milledgeville on Tuesday and who also is wanted by the Canadian authorities that he still is at liberty. A note from him was received today at the offices of the prison commission thanking them for their kindness. The note read:

"My Dear Sir:—I write to thank you for your kindness in putting me at Milledgeville. My dear sir, don't trust a prisoner, don't matter how sick he is or makes out he is. Yours truly, "B. MINER."

The note was dated October 17 and bore the postmark of a railroad postoffice evidently being mailed from a train on the Georgia railroad.

A reward of $300 offered by the Southern Express Company for his capture has been supplemented by a reward of $50 offered by the prison commission. No clue to Miner's whereabouts has been reported.

Italians Take Another Town.

Benghazi, Tripoli, Oct. 20.—The Italian expeditionary force landed here yesterday after the town had been bombarded by the Italian fleet. At 6 o'clock yesterday morning the Turks still refused to surrender and the Italians carried out their threat to shell the port.

Four thousand troops were landed and a sharp battle followed. It is admitted officially that several Italians were killed, but no figures are available. The Italians captured twenty-one guns.

The Italians now hold a part of the city in addition to the barracks in the village of Sidi Houssein, which they took by assault. The Italian fleet is composed of seven battleships and two divisions of torpedo boats.

Flew From Dallas to Waco, Distance 160 Miles, in 95 Minutes.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 19.—C. P. Rodgers, the aviator, en route from the Atlantic to the Pacific flew from Dallas to Waco today, 100 miles in 95 minutes, landing at Gurley park at 4 o'clock this afternoon. His only stop was at Hillsboro, 34 miles of Waco where he replenished his gasoline supply.

Before alighting Rodgers circled a downtown office building twice, made a perilous dip and flew around to just above the house tops.

He will resume his journey tomorrow morning with Austin 108 miles distant, as the next stopping point.

A dinner was arranged in the aviator's honor at a local hotel tonight.

Cook Loses $1,200 Worth of Diamonds.

Asbury Park, N. J., Oct. 20. The police got a hurry call from the Tenney House yesterday that burglars had stolen $1,200 worth of diamonds belonging to the cook. The police gasped and their condition became still graver when they found the call was true. Miss Agnes Burns, the cook being engaged in duties incompatible with the wearing of her gems had left them in her room, and burglars broke in while dinner was being served. Miss Burns told the officers she had a mania for diamonds, and the whole of her collection representing her entire wealth was gone.

The splendid roads of North Carolina cheered the tourists mightily after the tribulations of early part of the week. The 138 miles of Thursday's run were such excellent going that when the noon stop was made, more than 90 miles had been covered and everybody got to Charlotte—the end of the day's journey—by the middle of the afternoon. Without road-racing, the cars easily covered 34 miles in the first hour out of Winston-Salem, whence they started in the morning.

What the Governors Wire Us About Cotton

"Assuming that 15,000,000 bales will be marketed, cotton should sell for not less than twelve cents,"—Governor Cruce of Oklahoma.

"Fifteen cents should be obtained. Our crop is undoubtedly short in Arkansas."—Governor Donaghey of Arkansas.

"Crop heavily curtailed by boll weevil depredation and reduction in acreage incident thereto."—Governor Saunders of Louisiana.

"Let the farmers refuse to sell at present prices, and do just as they would with a colt or piece of land—hold until a satisfactory price is offered."—Governor Kitchen of North Carolina.

"I am confident that Federal Government estimate of Texas crop is too much."—Governor Colquitt of Texas.—Progressive Farmer.

What The Virginian Thinks.

If Mr. Taft is wise he will not assume that he has the Republican nomination cinched. That convention of progressive Republicans in Chicago a day or two ago was no slouch of an affair. Behind the delegates there are thousands whose attitude they represent. The fact is, unless some of our Democratic brethren get in line with progressive ideas, these insurgent Republicans will outstrip them in the race towards the goal of a true interpretation of the public mind.—Richmond Virginian.

MAN.

Man, that is born of a woman is a son-of-a-gun. He cometh forth with a mad love for riches, yea, as a hound pup loveth a hunk of liver. His early years are spent squandering his father's earnings and bellyaching for things he does not need. Vanity fillet his soul, and Mary Ann his heart. Sundays bring visions of Paradise and work days wind-galls of displeasure. Day by day on the scroll of his face he writeth the analysis of his nature. Verily he straddled off into bad company, and his manhood is tainted with the evil deeds of his youth. He deviseth all manner of devilment in his slumbers, and sleepeth with one eye open, watching, lest he steal his own breeches. In his early years he knoweth much more than a judge, and his mind is a walking encyclopedia of useful knowledge. He hangeth out great chunks of advice free of charge, remembering that it is more blessed to give than to receive.—Laws' Lash.

Fire at the Burlington Hosiery Mill caused the fire boys and a number of our citizens to be early risers last Thursday morning. The fire is supposed to have caught from a red hot poker in the engine room. The flames were extinguished by some heroic work on the part of the foreman, Mr. L. M. Bently. Little damage was done.

Don't you think, Mr. Class Secretary, that your class would do well to turn you off and hire you over again, or get someone else. Please hand in your reports Monday, if you want the association to serve you.

John H. Vernon, Secretary

Every farmer who is forced to sell a bale of cotton for ten cents a pound this year is losing $25 a bale at least. If he is forced to sell cotton at nine and a half cents, he is losing $27.50 a bale, for a fair price would certainly be fifteen cents a pound or more. If farmers were receiving fifteen cents a pound for cotton, it would not hurt so bad to pay the increased taxes which they will be forced to pay on account of the extravagance and incompetency of the Democratic State machine. The time has come for every man to look the facts straight in the face and think what can be done to remedy the same, or at least to prevent a recurrence of such a calamity. If you want to keep taxes from going up and stop cotton from going down, then put the Democratic machine out of power in North Carolina and don't send any more Democratic Congressmen to Washington.

Is The World Growing Better?

Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers, everywhere, to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble, she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully." They'll help any woman. They are the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at Freeman Drug Co.

May Prove Fatal

When Will Burlington People Learn the Importance of it?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But when you know 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles follow;

That dropsy, Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

'Tis the honest statement of a sufferer who was cured.

Mrs. R. C. Phillips, Graham, N. C., says: "I am glad to continue to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in a public way. Since this remedy cured me three years ago, I have had little cause to worry about my kidneys. I suffered a great deal for several years from dull pains across the small of my back and I was often very nervous. I felt weak and at times my sight was blurred. Soon after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I improved, and it was not long before I was well."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Stopped Those Pains.

Timberville, Miss.—Miss Gertrude Gutlin of Timberville writes: "I did not know anything could stop those womanly pains, from which I suffered for two years, until I tried Cardui. I had been troubled with various female ailments, but they were cured in a little while, thanks to Cardui." Cardui is especially adapted for use by ailing women. It relieves headache, backache, dragging feeling, irregularly, nervousness, misery and womanly weakness. It is safe. It is reliable. It does the work. Will you try it? Please do.

An Alabama Corn Record.

Jerry Moore of South Carolina had better arrange next year to plow his corn patch once more than he ever did. E. A. Kimbrough, aged 16 years, of Alexander City, Ala., this year grew 224 3-4 bushels of corn on one acre of ground. Jerry Moore's world record last year was 228 bushels.

Alabama's champion corn grower will get a $250 Alabama raised mule as a prize at the State fair next week. Other contestants haven't turned in their reports, and it is not a foregone conclusion that young Mr. Kimbrough will get the mule, although he is entitled to a couple of mules. Through the various boys' corn clubs of Alabama our young farmers, and others, will probably gather enough of the stuff this year for Alabama's use during the next year.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Mr. Bryan has no word to say for that distinguished Democrat whom he once supported, Alton B. Parker.

Geyser Restored.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Referring to-day to recent publications relative to the restoration of the large fountain or geyser which for many years played at Round Knob, N. C., in sight of passing trains on the Southern Railway, President Finley said:

"There seems to be some misapprehensions as to the restoration of this geyser. On a trip which he made through Western North Carolina several months ago, Mr. George F. Baker, of New York, noted that the geyser was no longer flowing. Inquiries having satisfied him that it would be practicable to restore it, he arranged to have the work done entirely at his expense as a testimonial of his high appreciation of the great service rendered by his friend, Colonel Alexander B. Andrews, of Raleigh, N. C., First Vice-President of the Southern Railway Company, in the development of Western North Carolina.

"The restoration is now under way and the new geyser will soon be in operation, throwing a column of water 250 feet in the air."

Charlotte, Oct. 19.—Following a dispute over the question of fare on Southern train No. 40 late last night, F. W. Johnson, assistant conductor and collector shot and seriously wounded William Wilkins, a prominent citizen of Cowpens, S. C. Wilkins was en route home and quarreled with the conductor as to the mileage to be pulled to Cowpens, finally offering to fight the conductor if he would get off the train. When Cowpens was reached both men alighted at the station and, it is said, Wilkins immediately attacked the conductor. Seeing that he was getting the worst of it, Johnson drew his revolver and shot Wilkins, the bullet entering above the heart. Johnson continued his run, but returned to Cowpens on No. 35 this morning and surrendered. He is in jail awaiting the result of his victims wounds.

Gliddenite Tour

There has been some comment on the unreasonableness, as most of the drivers considered it, of obliging the Glidden tourists to keep to a twenty-mile schedule with the frightful road conditions encountered going out from Staunton, Virginia, Tuesday. The thirty miles to Roanoke, over red clay that had been made soapy by the heavy rainfall, brought disaster to many machines. Several were ditched, one overturned, and two small cars were swamped. The big cars were seriously handicapped by inability to pass the small ones on the narrow roads.

Charles Glidden, the donor of the trophy for the tour, said that in all his experience he had never seen such a bad strip of highway for a scheduled run as the thirty-eight miles between Natural Bridge and Roanoke.

The Stevens-Duryea team went through in good shape, two of the three cars making perfect scores. The rain storm which drenched the tourists to the skin, and made road-ruts two feet deep with pasty mud, seemed to be a series of cloudbursts, and the referee finally allowed a twenty-six minute extension of time. Had it not been for this, less than a dozen cars would have made perfect scores. The Stevens-Duryea machines arrived in perfect mechanical order.

The Postmaster at Charlotte Indicted

Yesterday—The federal grand jury yesterday returned a bill of indictment against Postmaster J. B. Spence of Charlotte on the charge that he held mail matter in the post-office. The charge was brought against him by Jno. A. Smith of Bessemer City, who charges that during the campaign three years ago, when he, Smith, was a candidate for congress on the Republican ticket, Spence held in the office copies of the Bessemer City Messenger, in an attempt, presumably, to injure his candidacy. The evidence before the grand jury was sufficiently strong to warrant the return of the bill.

This matter is said to be a sequel to a case which was started some time ago, in which Spence had Smith indicted for soliciting campaign subscriptions in the federal building at Charlotte.—Charlotte Observer.

36 Roses on One Bush

Confederate Veteran L. B. Burgess, who is an ardent lover of flowers and spends much time in their cultivation, this morning brought to this office some splendid specimens of roses. One, a small white bud., Mr. Burgess says was grown on a very small bush and is one of 36. A red rose, bud, one and one-half inches in circumference is the largest Mr. Burgess says he has ever seen.—Union Progress.

Seventy-Five Pound Pumpkin

Our good friend Mr. H. D. Lineberger of Terrell was in Newton Tuesday. He says he has a pumpkin at home, raised this year in spite of the dry season, that weighs 75 pounds. There is a lot of good corn on Mountain creek, he says, but the cotton crop is fully as short as people expected it to be.—Newton Enterprise.

Pains All Over!

"You are welcome," says Mrs. Nora Guffey, of Broken Arrow, Okla., "to use my letter in any way you want to, if it will induce some suffering woman to try Cardui. I had pains all over, and suffered with an abscess. Three physicians failed to relieve me. Since taking Cardui, I am in better health than ever before, and that means much to me, because I suffered many years with womanly troubles, of different kinds. What other treatments I tried, helped me for a few days only."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Don't wait, until you are taken down sick, before taking care of yourself. The small aches and pains, and other symptoms of womanly weakness and disease, always mean worse to follow, unless given quick treatment.

You would always keep Cardui handy, if you knew what quick and permanent relief it gives, where weakness and disease of the womanly system makes life seem hard to bear. Cardui has helped over a million women. Try it.

Wonderful Praise Accorded Peruna the Household Remedy

Mrs. Maria Goets, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes: "My husband, children and myself have used your medicine, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my household work alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

"I have regained my health again, and I cannot thank you enough for your advice. May God give you a long life and bless your work."

Wednesday, Oct. 25, 1911.

If Wilson or Clark are nominated will harmony exist or does it exist at present?

Senator O'Gorman of New York has been picked by Col. Bryan for the Democratic presidential nomination. Wonder where he will be dropped?

We are told consulting a milliner will cure the worst case of feminine headache. And we are sure this is very applicable in Burlington.

If the spooks take charge of your house and home and play havoc with the baby remember Tuesday night October the 31st. is Halloween evening.

We wish to refresh the minds of our hearers lest they forget that Mr. Bryan will not be a nominee for the presidency in 1912.

The thought has been suggested to us and we were just thinking about it, that Burlington needs an Opera House where a good first class up-to-date opera can be seen.

Thirty-six of the students of the Negro Agricultural and Mechanical College Greensboro have gone on a strike and the president of the school moved their trunks out into the streets. The trouble seemed to have been Saturday study hours. We frequently hear of railroad employees going on strikes for higher wages, or old maids for lack of sweethearts but this heads the list.

Former Governor and Senator elect James K. Vardaman of Mississippi who spent Monday and Monday night at Greensboro predicts that two of the three Clark, Wilson, Taft will be nominated for the presidency in 1912. And we predict that one of the three will be elected. While we conscientiously believe we could name the winner we remain null and void.

While Mingo boasts of being the banner Republican township in the county, she claims the distinction of having the champion cotton picker in the county or State so far as we know. Tuesday October 10th John Tew the young son of Mr. L. G. Tew a prominent republican farmer, of this section picked for Mr. H. L. R. Draughon 505 pounds of the fleecy staple. The boy weighs 68 lbs. What boy of his size can beat it? Messrs. H. L. R. and Joel Draughon and L. G. Tew will vouch for the truth of the above of the above statement. DINAH - The News Dispatch.

That this is an excellent record for a boy of your weight is undeniable. The only wish we have to express is that your Republican father voted for a Republican Congressman in his district and was not like many of the dear brethren of his and our faith who did not go to the election because they were too busy, or either went and voted the Dem ocratic ticket and are now selling this fleecy product which has cost many a hard hours toil not at fifteen cents per pound but nine. MORAL - Vote the straight Republican ticket and sell your cotton for fifteen cents.

May Justice Reign

Another sensational tragedy is being spread abroad throughout our United States and other nations in the death of a young woman in Massachusetts whose life might have been sunshine and influence stood for much good.

The accused being a man whose vocation should stand for uplifting fallen humanity from the bottomless pits of degradation and not that of robbing life of happiness, pleasure and all that this world possesses.

May justice reign supreme and may our laws be enforced until the guilty will flee from their dens and the noble and good which has been created in man shine forth as a beckoning light.

Off Year For Elections

This year is an off year for elections, only thirteen states will hold elections and only five of the thirteen will elect Governors. To say nothing of a few municipal elections which will be held in November this is a decided off year in national politics. The chief issues of the elections are of a local nature and national politics will hardly be discussed, speaking from a general standpoint. New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Kansas, Nebraska and Tennessee will elect Congressmen to fill the unexpired term of vacancies caused by death.

The greatest interest will be attached to the states of New Mexico and Arizona, as not only the governor and other state officials are to be chosen in New Mexico but also the Congressmen and a legislature. The Arizona election will not be held until December. Results in these two states will be watched with interest.

Consult Your Father About Your Sweetheart

I have a notion, though--and I say it with a degree of trepidation, too--that it would be a wise act for every girl in love with a young man to take some man close to her--father, brother, uncle or some very close member of her family--into her confidence. I confess I like the way men look at men, and a man's opinion of a man when it comes to that man's marrying, a sweet young girl, is a pretty safe guide. I mean by this that a man knows another man so much better than a woman possibly can, and if he is the right sort of a man he can generally give a girl wonderfully clear portrait of the man of her heart. It never hurts a girl to see the man she thinks of marrying through the eyes of another man.--Ladies Home Journal.

We have recently noticed in several of our exchanges comments on the starting of matrimonial school to teach the young men and women to love each other with a view of lessening the divorce cases which fill our courts and cause many heart throbs of sorrow where joy should reign supreme. But instead of these schools the above clipping meets our ideas to a far greater extent "Consult your father about sweetheart." As a rule he is the last one to be consulted, but first when the divorce case is entered.

Quite a gloom settled over our town last Saturday when it was learned that James H. Anderson was dead he had a stroke of paralysis Friday morning and lived until Saturday morning when the Great Archer garnered him for the skies. He was a good husband, a kind father, a good neighbor, and just such a citizen that it takes to make a good country. His home abounded with plenty at all times. When the bugle sounded its call for men to take up arms and go to war he was among the first to respond and he went with that valient commander Col. Fisher who lead the Sixth N. C. Regt. He stood firm and true to the last and when the war ended he returned home to be as faithful to rebuild the country that had been wasted in time of war.

He married Miss Bettie Boswell and to this union were born seven children one who preceded him to the celestial city. He had passed the 66 mile post in life he left a wife and six children to mourn their loss and also a wide circle of friends. He was laid away at Longs Chapel in the presence of a large concourse of people despite the threatening weather. Rev. G. L. Curry of Graham conducted the burial services. Thus another Vet has answered the last roll call. Our Masters work will soon be done then we will join you in one sweet song. Messrs Sam Hughes and wife, H. H. Simpson and wife and Diphtheria.

Now that we are in the midst of an epidemic of Diphtheria in our town, it behooves us to be on our guard, and to know something of the insidious onset of the disease. Every mother should know the more prominent symptoms of diphtheria, for upon its early recognition, the success of the treatment largely depends, and the earlier the treatment is administered the less liable complications are to arise. It is said by physicians that diphtheria can be not only the severest of diseases, but it can also be one of the mildest. It is usually the mild and unrecognized case that spreads the disease. Below we give some of the symptoms of diphtheria as stated by authority.

SYMPTOMS OF DIPHTHERIA.

As a rule, the patient first complains of sore throat, which gradually grows worse, and in a few hours fever is noticed. In some cases the throat is not complained of until fever makes its appearance, the child grows drowsy and is inclined to sleep; the drowsiness in severe cases soon going into a stupor from which the child is hard to arouse. This stupor and drowsy condition is brought about by the absorption of a poison known as a "toxin" which is the product of the action of the germs on the cells of the body. It is this poison—this toxin, which gets into our blood, that does the harm. The germs themselves are not generally circulated in the blood, but grow in masses in the throat, causing first a small whitish speck on one or both tonsils. This speck of membrane, or ulcer, as they are called, though they are not ulcers, may spread so rapidly that in a few hours it will be the size of a dime or larger. In other cases the spread may be very slow, and the deposit may not spread beyond a very small patch. However, any deposit on the tonsil or other part of the throat, and certainly when attended with fever, no matter how slight, should arouse suspicion, and a physician should be consulted. Diphtheria is certainly a disease in which delay in treatment cannot be afforded. Certainly such conditions should be carefully watched if diphtheria is in the community. Diphtheria of the lining membrane of the nose, "nasal diphtheria," is frequently mistaken for an ordinary cold. A condition of this kind, especially when diphtheria is prevailing, should be regarded as suspicious. Direct infection is the cause of the disease in the great majority of cases. It should be remembered that direct infection may occur from persons convalescent from diphtheria, whose throats still contain virulent germs, or from persons suffering from a mild form of the disease which is not recognized as diphtheria. In the latter way it is often spread in school. Certain conditions predispose to diphtheria, that, render a person more liable to contract it. Such conditions are enlarged tonsils and adenoid growths which frequently give rise to chronic catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. Diphtheria is in every sense of the word a preventable disease. In the prevention and control of no disease is accurate diagnosis more essential than in this. Frequently it is impossible for us to tell on the first visit whether or not we have diphtheria to deal with, but if we have reasons to suspect that such might be the case, the patient should be isolated and, from the standpoint of prevention, regarded as one.

Next week our subject will be "ANTITOXIN"—HOW IT WAS DISCOVERED AND WHAT IT IS.

SOLD IN TOWN

COTTON TO GO HIGHER

Ex-Senator Butler, Just Back From South, So Declares.

Washington Post.

The movement on the part of the Southern cotton growers to hold their cotton for higher prices was discussed yesterday by Marion Butler, former senator from North Carolina, who has just returned from his plantation.

"I think the growers are right," he said, "and I for one shall hold my cotton for a better price, and I expect to get it. The crop cannot possibly be big enough this year to justify the present low price."

"The law of supply and demand ought to make prices rise at this time instead of fall, even if there is a 14,000,000-bale crop, because the demand for cotton all over the world today is more than twice what the demand was when the South raised a 9,000,000-bale crop."

"Today there are twice as many people wearing clothes either made entirely of cotton mixed with wool as were doing so ten or fifteen years ago. This is true not only in Europe and the Orient, but it is also true even in the United States."

"The area in the world where cotton can be raised is limited. The bulk of it is now, and always will be, raised in the South. The territory over which cotton can be raised successfully can never be increased, while the demand is increasing rapidly and will continue to increase. Cotton today should be at least 15 cents a pound or more, and it should never be under that figure in the future. Within ten years the price of cotton should be at least 20 cents a pound."

"In my opinion, the chief cause for the present low price is the election of a Democratic House, and their effort to close the cotton mills of the United States by tearing down the wall of protection. The cotton mill men have not been running their factories at full time, and have not been buying raw cotton, because no wise man would manufacture no a large quantity of cotton clothing and then have the tariff protection removed, so that this country could be flooded with cheap cotton goods made by cheap foreign labor, where labor can be employed a half the wages paid here, and foreign cotton mill men can buy our cotton, pay the freight to their mills, and then pay the freight back, and undersell an American mill."

"No one can blame the cotton mill men. If they did not exercise caution they would become bankrupt if the next Congress should do what the Democratic party has threatened to do. I know that there are many Democratic politicians who are trying to divert the attention of the farmers and the cotton mill men from the real truth by declaring that the low price of cotton is due to a big crop, over-production, if you please, and that some of them are even charging that the crop is not so big as shown by the government statistics."

"The statistics have little to do with the present price of cotton. The cotton exchanges and the cotton men have their own sources of information, upon which they rely more than they do upon the government statistics. The government, in securing its data, must depend upon voluntary reports of farmers and others who should know, but often inaccuracies creep in. The reports made to the cotton organizations are by trained men, and, as a rule, should be more accurate."

"I am going to hold my cotton, simply because I have enough faith in the American people to believe that they are already frightened at what the Democratic Congress attempted to do at the last extra session, and that by January 1, or early in the spring, it will become clear that thousands and tens of thousands of farmers and business men, who voted the Democratic ticket last fall will indicate that they will not do so at the next election."

"The farmers are today better off than they have been in a quarter of a century, and therefore they are in a better position to hold their cotton than ever before. There are, however, a very large number who are more or less improvident, or who have spent their easily earned money for the last few years, instead of laying aside a bank account, and also thousands who have been more or less unfortunate who will not be able to hold their cotton, unless some business plan or method can be inaugurated and properly financed. Whether or not such a plan can be worked out successfully at these farmers' meetings depends largely upon the wisdom of those who attend the meetings. It is noticeable, however, that every person who favors holding cotton is looking for some plan by which their cotton can be stored in warehouses, and by which the farmers can then borrow as much money as they may be forced to use upon their warehouse receipts.

"This plan, crudely stated, is nothing more or less than the subtreasury plan worked out and advocated by the Farmers' Alliance a number of years ago."

"I admit that such farmers' organizations and meetings may be technically obnoxious to the letter of the law, but every one knows that it was never intended that the law should prevent such measures on the part of farmers and laborers to organize and properly protect their interests. The fact is that the Sherman law was drawn for conditions as they existed in this country 33 years ago. Since that time there has been a wonderful evolution in our commercial and industrial life. The Sherman law, while containing the seed and essence of a great antitrust law, today should be remodeled so as to strike more effectively against the criminal trusts and monopolies, and at the same time prevent it being used to persecute the farmers and laborers of the country and other people who unite their thought, energies, and capital for honest and legitimate purposes which would hurt no one, but bless all mankind."

"What we need is proper regulation and control of these corporations by the State and Federal governments. The first and greatest reform to prevent the abuse of corporate power is to prohibit any individual, firm, or corporation from owning or controlling any natural monopoly which is an instrument of commerce. A natural monopoly in the hands of any one individual or any corporation is sure to be abused, and besides the individual or corporation having control of such a monopoly is liable to become more powerful than the government itself."

"The solution is to have every natural monopoly taken charge of and used as a public function for the public good. The Constitution of the United States clearly and expressly makes it the duty of Congress to control the instruments of commerce. Therefore, Congress can at any moment by the simple enactment of a statute take charge of all the natural monopolies that are instruments of commerce. Indeed, the wording of the Constitution makes this the duty of Congress, and it is a mandatory duty that has too long been neglected."

Straightened Beggar's Crippled Arm

New York, Oct. 20.—A quick and sure cure for a certain form of paralysis was discovered by Magistrate Breen in Essex Market Court. A forlorn looking man, who gave his name as Joseph Horn, No. 67 Catherine street, one hand and arm doubled up and to all appearances, paralyzed. He had been arrested by Detective McCarthy for begging.

"It's a shame to arrest a poor cripple like this fellow, even if he is begging," said the Magistrate, glancing pityingly at the prisoner's helpless limb.

When the detective insisted that the man was not crippled the Magistrate asked Horn what he had to say for himself.

"All I got ter say, yer Honor, is since I was injured helping to rescue a mate during the Spanish war."

The prisoner emphasized the "Spanish war" with a gesture, carelessly using the injured arm. The magistrate noticed the gesture.

"Straighten out that man's arm," he ordered an attendant. "Yes, you're paralyzed all right," said the Magistrate, "but paralyzed drunk, not lame. One month in the workhouse."

RAY ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Durham, Oct. 20.—The Durham attorneys and witnesses in the Ray murder case at Hillsboro returned this afternoon bringing the news of acquittal this morning, a thing expected.

Ernest Ray was on trial for murder which had considerable interest here. It started in a fight last spring at Chapel Hill. Henry Jones, the dead man, and one of great physical strength, with the tendency to fight great developed, received the wound which resulted in the arrest of Ray. It seems that the son of Jones and Ray had a little trouble and that Jones accused Ray of cursing his boy. He struck Ray and backed him into a store where Ray shot him.

Sympathy was entirely with the young man. The opinion was freely expressed that Jones would have killed Ray, though there was no weapon in his hands. The officers regard him as a desperate man and looked for trouble to overtake him. He was much more powerful than Ray.

It was this circumstance that gave the defense a fighting chance, also gave the State its cause for prosecution. As there was no deadly weapon shown in the hands of Henry Jones, the State fought the contention that there was necessary such force as the defendant resorted to. The case caused a great deal of excitement at the time.

The jury took but a few minutes to decide the matter and returned a verdict of not guilty within ten minutes after retiring.

RURAL CARRIER ITEMS

R. F. D. No. 8.

J. P. King who is painting in Danville, Va. spent a few days at home last week.

Mrs. Della Ross is on the sick list this week. Hope she will soon recover.

Miss Ludie Lewis who has been visiting in Guilford county for several weeks has returned home.

Thanks to our good patrons for nice potatoes and turnips since our last notes.

Roger Ross who is working in Oxford, N. C. spent Sunday with his family on No. 8.

Mr. J. M. Story and wife spent last Wednesday and Thursday in Raleigh visiting the State Fair. They report a nice time.

Miss Mary Hayes spent Sunday in Gibsonville, N. C. visiting Miss Brown.

Thanks to our friend for working that bad road between W. A. Lewis' and R. A. Matlocks. They did not finish it but every little helps. There are some more bad places that should be worked. They need it badly. It looks like the patrons will have it to do for the county force dont do anything. There are some parts of Morton's Township that has not had a fair deal. The road from John N. Sutton's all the way to Burlington need work and the county should look after it. There are places that are almost impassable. If there is not something done soon, the present county officials will hear something drop some day. Send the convicts and the scrape and help out the taxpayers on that side.

R. F. D. No. 7.

We have been from these columns for some time and some of our readers intimated that we could not "come back," but here we are again.

Since our last "epistle to the Philistians we have attended the Alamance fair, where our buff

Wyandotte chickens, "Meshack, Shadrack and Abednego" all won prizes. "Shad" won first, "Shack" second, and Abednego third prizes. Shad's sisters, "Minnie, Mary and Maggie," also won 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes in the young ladies class (Pullets).

We went to Greensboro to see the Curtiss airship fly, and it was fine, too. We also went to our sisters on Snow Camp No. 1, and struck an old fashioned corn shucking the evening we got there and helped shuck out over a hundred barrels of corn, then helped to crib a lot of good rations. In fact they had so many good things cooked that the shucking force could not eat, that we decided to anchor there for a season and stayed over until Sunday. Mr. Holiday is a practical, progressive farmer and lives at home with plenty of good things to eat.

While down there we visited that clever and genial rural carrier, Esq. John G. Griffin and spent a night with him. The Squire is well fixed for a rural and had plenty of good rations, but if he is like most of us he had to make an extra plea to his patrons a day or two before hand so as to gather in a supply for the occasion. The Squire seems to think lots of his youngest son, John, Jr., the 16th. Think of it. A family of 16. He ought to be recommended to "Teddy" for promotion.

We brought our mother, who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Holliday for several weeks, home with us.

Our next excursion was with the "widow" and some of the smaller "orphans," to Orange county to visit some of her brothers and sisters. We visited her brothers J. J. and W. G. Freeland and sisters Mrs. A. H. Rimmer and Mrs. Earl Ray. Their brother, Mayor Freeland of Burlington, came down on a short visit while we were there.

These people are all good, substantial citizens and we enjoyed our visit very much. The "widow" took advantage of the opportunity while down there to go over her 70 acre farm and give it a close inspection so if any one wanted to purchase it she would know how to set a reasonable price on it.

Dr. P. A. Dixon and family who have been visiting his father for several weeks, returned to Roanoke, Va. last Saturday. The doctor stayed as long as the scuppernong grapes lasted, anyway.

Mrs. Emily Sharpe is very low at present and her friends have abandoned hope of her recovery.

Mr. J. P. Sharpe is constructing a merry-go-round and expects to have it in readiness by Christmas, anyway. Uncle Jim devises many ways to entrap the nickles that the sports desire to spend.

Mr. Boyd Sheppard and Miss Bertie Shoe were married last Sunday at Bellemont, Rev. J. A. Burgess speaking the words that made them one.

Who Can Beat It?

Ed Gearer of Rock Creek No. 2, reports the best turnout out of same amount in seed of any cotton we have heard of this year.

Out of 1005 lbs. in seed he gets 414 lbs. of lint. Who can beat it?

"Conservative estimates show Mississippi crop less than last year."—Governor Noell of Mississippi.
