Getting Ready to Be Happy.

Too many of us are looking forward to happiness in the future years instead of getting all the enjoyment possible out of the present. It is well to remember that the time will never come in this world when we shall have everything we want, just where and when we want it. The only way to be happy is to enjoy all we have to the utmost, just as we go along. It is right to lay up for old age in youth; prepare for a rainy day for it will surely come, — sometime, somewhere but it is not right to bend all our energies to this end and put off until the future the happiness we might enjoy every day. It is far too common to see people working and saving, denying themselves all recreation and many comforts to lay up money to buy more land, to build a larger and finer house, or to save for their children, thinking that when they have accomplished this they will be happy and begin to take comfort. The hoped-for point may never be attained or if it is sickness and death may come first and the dear ones we expected to be happy with may be gone forever.

How much better to use some of the good things of life as we go along; make our homes as bright and cheerful as possible now. Don't starve today, either mind body or soul, thinking you will riot tomorrow. Don't hoard and scrimp through all the best years of your life, that you may be generous in your will. Life is uncertain, and it is better to make your children happy while they are under the home-roof; to call to that home every agency that will make their lives sweeter and better, than to deny them these, that you may leave them a large bank account when you are gone. Don't keep the parlor shut up and live in the kitchen, unless you want the boys and girls to be anxious to leave you. Take time to read and rest and to enjoy the society of friends. Especially take time to enjoy the companionship of your children. It will be only a few years at best that they will be with you, and these ought to years of happiness to both you and them.

If we are ever happy in this life we must enjoy what every day brings us. We must be grateful and glad for the good that comes into our lives, and patiently bear our trials, believing that all, if rightly used will fit us for the enjoyment of perfect happiness hereafter.

Picnic Outing

The Junior Philathea Sunday School class of the Christian Church went to Coble's Pond on a picnic Thursday. The class was chaperoned by the teacher Mrs. A. B. Kendall. The day was spent observing the beauties of nature and playing interesting games. A dinner prepared by the Junior Philatheas was served at the noonday hour as a very pleasant repast.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Kendall, Misses Ella Rhea Carroll, Sallie Foster, Pearle Fogleman, Iris Holt, Chloe Freeland, and Lois Workman.

New Knitting Mill.

Mr. W. Jess Thompson has placed an order for twenty machines which will be installed within the next thirty days in the building near his residence on Davis Street. Additional machines will be added when necessary.

Sunday Concerts.

After a friendly conference with the managers of the Street Car Co., as to the proposed use of the park on Sunday, we, the Burlington Ministerial Association, desire to express our conviction that the present policy of the Company tends to the Lord's day of its sanctity. We therefore call on our people to all in their power to discourage Sunday concerts and Sunday traffic, and in every way was possible to stand for a quiet, sacred observance of the Lord's Day.

S. L. MORGAN, Secty.

Notes from Elon

Miss Eula Long of New York City has been chosen Director of the Art Department in Elon College and has accepted. Miss Long will also teach mechanical drawing in the courses in Mathematics of the Literary Department which require such instruction. She enters upon her duties September the first.

Miss Long is a native North Carolinian, her home being in Chatham County, N. C., and is the sister of J. Adolph Long, Esq. Graham, N. C. Miss Long received her literary education at Elon and also studied Art most successfully here, but later went to New York to study in Cooper Union. For the past four years she has been doing graduate work in Art under the world famous Art specialists who are connected with Cooper Union and has also taught Art in that institution.

While there is regret here that Miss Cornelia Bryan, who for three years has filled with such genuine success the position as Director of Fine Arts, is not to return, because of her recent marriage to Mr. J. T. Hobby, Raleigh, N. C., yet there is universal satisfaction that she is to be succeeded by such a gifted and talented successor as Miss Long is.

Elon's Art Department includes instruction in freehand drawing, water colors, pastel, crayon, sketching, crafts, normal training, china painting of all kinds including tinting, flower painting, figure painting, miniature, and ornamental work, and gives courses in the history of art, architecture, and sculpture. The Department issues a Teacher's Certificate after three years' satisfactory work and a Diploma after four years' such work. An excellent china kiln has just been installed and a new and commodious studio provided. Three diplomas in Fine Art and two certificates were awarded at the recent Commencement as follows:

Diplomas: Mrs. J. L. Foster, North Carolina; Miss Helen Haywood Machen, Virginia; and Miss Margaret Jewel Michael, North Carolina. Certificates: Miss Bertha Virginia Garrison, North Carolina; and Miss Lucy Rebecca Gregory, Virginia.

Rives-Green

News has been received from Asheville that Mr. W. S. Rives of Graham and Mrs. Nellie B. Green of this city were united in marriage in Asheville Tuesday. Mr. Rives went to Asheville Monday, Mrs. Green going some days before in company of Dr. and Mrs. Taylor.

Mr. Rives is a successful merchant of Graham with many friends.

Mrs. Green is a member of the firm of Morrow Bason & Green, milliners and is very popular in this town and country.

They will be at home at this place after their honeymoon. We hasten to extend congratulations.

Out Of Politics Says Hughes.

New York, June 14.—To friends who spoke to him of the reports from Chicago in which he has been mentioned as a possible nominee for the presidency, Justice Charles E. Hughes, of the United States Supreme court today declared that he was completely out of politics and would not permit the use of his name under any circumstances. He gave his friends clearly to understand that they must regard this as final.

Scott-Brigham

Mr. Edwin Scott of Graham was recently married to Miss Tullia Brigham of Augusta, Ga. The ceremony took place at St. James Methodist Church of Augusta. The decorations and attire were very elaborate which proved the popularity of the contracting parties.

"Everything I touch seems to turn to money." "Then I hope you don't touch me, as I don't want somebody to point to me as a vulgar display of wealth."—Satire.

Death of J. H. Tarpley

John H. Tarpley Supt of county Home died Thursday morning at seven o'clock, having been stricken with paralysis only a few minutes prior to his death. He was about his morning work when the end came, but had not felt real well for two or three days.

Mr. Tarpley had been Supt. of the County Home for several years. He was kind sympathetic and very faithful in the performance of his duties.

He was seventy years old and is survived by his widow and three children. Chas. A. Tarpley of Greenville, S. C., Geo. A. Tarpley of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Andrews a widow of this county. All the children are of a former marriage.

The remains were laid to rest at Stoney Creek Presbyterian Church of which he was a life long member.

WALKED WITH BROKEN BACK.

New York, June 13.—Bertha Kininsky, a young girl bent on suicide, today jumped from a six story building in Brooklyn. She landed on her feet and although her back was broken she walked some distance before she dropped unconscious. Miss Kininsky was taken to the hospital where she died a few minutes later.

An examination showed that the patient died of a broken back. It is said the girl killed herself because her sweetheart, said to be a Brooklyn youth of good family, had gone away a short time ago and failed to write.

"Miss Chuggly," said Mr. Lingers, "I would never tire of gazing into your eyes." "I believe you are sincere in what you say," replied the fair one, "barely suppressing a yawn," but

Sunday Concerts.

The Editor generously opens his Columns to me and to all our other pastors to discuss this subject.

At present I oppose Sunday concerts and Sunday traffic to the park on humanitarian grounds. I grant that possibly a necessary minimum of Sunday traffic has to be assumed. But all Sunday work should be reduced to the minimum. Our street car men should not be forced, as they now are, to work harder on Sundays than on other days. And our car company should not be permitted by a tolerant public sentiment to make a distinct bid for Sunday business, as it does when it advertises Sunday concerts. My position, as expressed in The Burlington News of last week is considered liberal. If other ministers and other citizens have more pronounced views than I have I trust they also will express them through the columns of our newspapers. We are now in a transition period as regards the use we shall make of Sunday. We are in danger of losing Sunday as a day of rest and worship. We shall save it only provided we shall create and keep alive an intelligent, wholesome public sentiment in favor of the proper observance of the day. To save the day will require the combined effort of pulpit and press, of school and home. Unquestionably the coming of the street car, with its Sunday traffic and its park, has introduced a new factor in the civilization of our community. It presents a grave problem indeed. The future of our community in morals and religion will be determined very largely by what shall be the sentiment of the public toward Sunday traffic by our Street Car Co. I shall endeavor in every proper way to keep the subject before the public mind. For a time I shall frequently have something to say in the columns of our papers, when others do not wish to use the space offered. Since it cannot be fairly said as yet that the Sunday traffic to the park has become disreputable, and since most people have thought little as yet to have any decided conviction on the subject, I shall for the time being speak with moderation, trusting both the Car Company and the public to be amenable to reason. I still trust the Car Co. to abolish Sunday concerts by and by; I prefer that they shall do so of their own free will; but if they will yield only to pressure. I shall trust an enlightened public sentiment shortly to supply the pressure.

Last week I gave what to many will appear conclusive reasons against Sunday concerts and Sunday travel—except possibly a necessary minimum—without touching upon the more distinctly religious argument. This latter argument, by agreement of the pastors will be presented next Sunday from most of our pulpits.

A Pleasant Evening

A very pleasant evening was spent by a number of their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Montgomery Tuesday evening when their daughter Miss Grace entertained. Crocodile, fliach ect., substituted by a number of other games "wink" for instance caused the evening to pass all too fleetly. A delightful course of refreshments consisting of cream, cake and fruits was served.

Chicago, June 12.—Patrick Door and his wife of Westville, Okla., arrived last night, the former prepared to do battle in the interest of Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Door to support President Taft. They agreed before leaving home not to argue politics with each other.

John H. Vernon, Secretary

Kicker—So Jones has a great invention? Rocker—Yes, an umbrella handle that retains the finger print.—New York Sun.

Chicago, June 14.—President Taft received six delegates at the hands of the Republican national committee in contests with the forces of Colonel Roosevelt. To that number the committee added 8 by the settlement of logical fight between Taft rival delegations. Opposed to the day's gain of fourteen by President Taft was another empty sheet for Colonel Roosevelt.

When the committee adjourned at 2:50 o'clock this afternoon, the Texas, Virginia and Washington contests remained at the struggles in which the Roosevelt leaders are to center their strength tomorrow. Up to tonight the committee's labors have resulted as follows:

For Taft in contested with Roosevelt, Oklahoma, first district 2; Tennessee, second district 2; ninth district 2. In contests between rival Taft delegations:

South Carolina first district 2; Tennessee first district 2; tenth district 2; Alaska 2.

Total contests decided 186. For Taft 173; for Roosevelt 13; remaining undecided 63.

None of the contests today brought out the strong partisan feeling that has characterized many of the arguments and decisions in the committee room.

In the three districts where Roosevelt contestants appeared, the Colonel's partisans on the committee voted against the seating of the Taft delegates, but the only strong comment was on the decision of the ninth Tennessee case which Francis J. Heney asserted was a "clean steal."

A contest from Alaska that had not figured in committee's lists was disposed of without argument just before adjournment. Credentials from a contesting delegation elected at Valdez May 29, had been received by Secretary Hayward, but the committee declined to consider them.

The sudden and early termination of the day's proceedings resulted from the desire of President Taft's attorneys for more time to prepare the cases involving the thirty contested delegates from Texas. Col. Cecil Lyon, the Texas committeeman, declared the Roosevelt forces were prepared and desire to continue, but former Senator Dick asked and was granted a continuance until tomorrow morning.

An attempt to take up the Virginia and Washington cases met similar opposition from the other side. Ormsby McHarg, the Roosevelt contest attorney, said his side was prepared to present the Texas cases, but would not argue the others.

By an agreement to consolidate the Virginia contests and to attempt a consolidation of the Washington cases, it was made possible to present all the remaining contests tomorrow, it is believed. The remaining contests include those of Texas, Virginia, Washington, the District of Columbia and the third district of North Carolina. In the fourth North Carolina district both delegations are understood to be for Roosevelt.

In Virginia the chief issue is whether or not the convention electing Taft delegates were held in districts or buildings, at which negroes were excluded. The Washington contests center about the control of the Washington State convention.

The contested delegates in Texas number thirty; in Virginia, 20; in Washington, 14; in the District of Columbia, 2; and in North Carolina, 2.

Editor's Circulation.

An editor was dying—the few he had—were around his bed weeping. Not so much about his dying, but how his family was to live. The doctor tiptoed in. He felt his pulse. He put his head to the editor's heart—where it should be. The doctor drew a wise sympathetic breath, and, in a low, professional tone, said: "Poor man. He will soon be dead. His circulation is all about gone." The dying editor jumped up and yelled: "You are a liar! We have the largest circulation in the country." The doctor took what is called "pellagra" and has not been heard of since.—Ex.

Dangerous.

Congressional legislation to prevent shipment of liquor in the prohibition States is recommended by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church. Perhaps the gentlemen of the cloth do not realize that if they try to inaugurate the sort of prohibition which prohibits, the public will stop voting for it. A local instance of the joys of dodging prohibition is the arrest this week of a number of persons at Azusa on a charge of conducting blind pigs and of patronizing them. The same community which does this probably wouldn't buy half as much liquor from the open saloon.—Los Angeles (Cal.) Times.

Is Man A Luxury?

(From the New York Tribune)

"Is woman a luxury?" Well I like their nerve! Isn't man a luxury? So they talked us all over behind our backs, did they, at their old stag dinner and decided we were expensive? It never occurred to them I suppose that we had to pay dearly for the pleasure(?) of their society."

The speaker punched a soft pillow savagely as if mistaking it for one of those masculine luxuries of which she was discoursing. She other bachelor maids at the Sunday morning breakfast party leaned back in their armchairs and stirred their coffee lazily.

"Go on, Polly. We're with you," they murmured.

"Luxuries! Humph! We're not costing any man anything just now, but a man would cost us a lot if he were here. We couldn't make a feast of coffee and fruit and rolls. We'd have to have eggs at 50c. a dozen, and steak and mushrooms at Heaven only knows how much, and the man would probably expect whichever one of us was his wife to have risen early and baked biscuit for him. We couldn't sit here in kimonos, either, if we had a lot of men around; and we couldn't talk about the things we wanted to do, because the men would be doing the all talking. If that isn't paying dear for the privilege of masculine society I don't know what it is?"

"But men really do cost a girl a lot of money, too," protested the young and pretty one of the company (who had had experience). "The kind of a man who complains that it costs him $10 to take a girl out for the evening is just the one who won't look at a girl unless she is hobble-skirted and patent leather-pumped and long-white-gloved, and usually he prefers the kind that is false-haired and painted. Even if he isn't quite so particular as that, he'd rather die than go to restaurant with a girl in a shirt-waist. Which means that if a girl wants to be invited out by young men she must own an evening gown, and an evening wrap, a picture hat to match and three or four pairs of gloves at $2.50 a pair during the season. If it is only once or twice a year that she is invited out that makes it all the worse, because she probably doesn't have the necessary things on hand. If it costs him $10 it may cost her $20 or more."

"Not only money, either, my child," said the older sister. "It costs her mental anguish. A man jumps into his dress suit or goes and hires one for the occasion, but the girl likely as not, remembers only too well that her party frock won't do for such an occasion as this. So she has to buy material for another, sitting up nights and rising with the milkmen for two weeks beforehand to make a pretty dress. Consequently she is tired all the time, doesn't work well and loses her reputation as—temporarily, we hope—as the best little stenographer in the place."

"Yes and in the meantime, maybe she has to give up her suffrage lectures the glee club at the settlement and her before-dinner walk in the park with the other girls. All for one theater party with one stupid young man. She could see that same show with some girl on Saturday afternoon and have just as good a time at half the price in money and in effort."

"Then maybe, he wants to call Sunday afternoon. She has to let him of course, though she is nearly dead for lack of sleep and had just been looking forward all the week to a good long nap. Sunday morning she had planned to wash her hair, but you can't have a man when your hair is flying in all directions. So there is another day spoiled all for a silly man."

"Yes," interrupted another bachelor girl, "and she's lucky if she doesn't have to feed the man too. Of course a chafing-dish supper doesn't cost as much as a restaurant dinner but it makes a big hole in a poor girl's purse. And men are so fussy! They won't eat store cake! You have to buy homemade cake at 60c. a loaf at some woman's exchange, or else make it yourself which is even more expensive, especially if your landlady charges you for the use of her gas range and stands staring in the doorway until you get so nervous you drop her best mixing bowl, which cost her 50c., but it is the associations for which she values it, it belonged to her husband's mother, so she'll only charge you 60c. for breaking it, and is sorry to do that because she knows what money means to a girl that's working for a living, but times have changed so: you can't get mixing bowls like that now in these degenerate days. She supposes you won't mind, perhaps, after all, if that young man that came home with you, so late the other night—

"Oh, mercy! stop that flow of words! She'll choke herself!" A sofa pillow flew through the air, then another and another. The company rose as one woman depositing its coffee cups on the bookcase and smothered its hostess in her own drygoods and upholsteries. Presently she emerged, chastened in spirit.

"A man's a man for a' that," she murmured, and they all fell to washing dishes.

Bryan's Bag Of Schemes.

Baltimore, Md., June 14.—Although William Jennings Bryan has not arrived for the democratic convention, democratic leaders who are on the scene, and who are closely watching developments here and elsewhere in advance of the convention, say he will come with a bag full of schemes.

First they declare, he will make a desperate effort to repeal the unit rule in force in several state delegations.

Second, he will attack the two-thirds rule if he finds it stands in his way.

It is the general opinion of visiting democrats that Bryan is veering to Gov. Wilson, and that when the psychological minute arrives he will be found to be in the camp of the New Jersey candidate, all the time hoping and scheming that lightning will strike him.

It is declared that the unit rule is in Bryan's way because in several state delegations, including that from Ohio, are Bryan's friends who are tied up, and who cannot follow him. It is declared that Bryan is anxious to abrogate this rule in order that, as he expressed it in the national convention in St. Louis, in 1904 he may free his supporters, from "the fetters of local bosses."

Without his followers whose hands are tied Bryan realizes, it is asserted, that he cannot dominate the convention. Whether Bryan will be, or will not be, a candidate in the convention, later events will have to determine, prominent democrats declare. With the unit rule out of the way he would have a formidable following.

Roosevelt for Woman Suffrage.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt recently announced through Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, who favored him with a visit that he, Roosevelt was in favor of woman suffrage and that Roosevelt will incorporate a woman suffrage plank into the platform which he will submit to the Chicago convention.

News From Chicago.

Chicago, June 16.—William J. Bryan was a center of attraction in the pre-convention today and though appearing at the headquarters of leaders of a rival party as a newspaper reporter, was given a demonstration by the throng of visitors and delegates. Mr. Bryan had a personal chat with Theodore Roosevelt late in the day after he had interviewed Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt campaign director, and Managing director McKinley, of the Taft bureau.

As he entered the hotel lobby elbowing his way through the crowd some one shouted, "Hurrah for Bryan," and the Nebraskan was given a demonstrative welcome. He was cheered for several minutes and continuous cries of "speeece, speech," came from all parts of the lobby. Mr. Bryan waved his hand to those near him that he had come "merely as a newspaper reporter," and not seeking presidential nomination from a Republican convention.

"I came to see your steam roller," said Mr. Bryan, as he shook hands with Congressman McKinley. "Is it anywhere in sight?" "No, we have laid it aside," said Mr. McKinley, "but would be glad to lend it to you if you would like to have it at Baltimore."

"Oh no, we Democrats do not need it," Mr. Bryan laughingly responded. "We are going to hold a model convention."

Headed by "Dynamite Ed." Perry, its chairman, the Oklahoma delegation arrived today. More than 600 are in the party and the first arrivals headed by a brass band marched through the streets to their hotel, waving Roosevelt banners and singing a Roosevelt "houn' dawg song."

The New Jersey delegation also paraded behind a band when it arrived, it swung down the street singing:

"Rah, rah, rah, who are we? We are the delegates from New Jer-see."

Are we in it? Just you wait Till we give Teddy 23 straight."

The delegation came into town already organized.

Virginia's delegation arrived late in the afternoon and will caucus tomorrow.

The rival delegations from Massachusetts both came in today and opened headquarters in the same hotel.

Roosevelt delegates stated tonight that there would be no change in the complexion of the Massachusetts delegation as to support of the rival candidates.

"There will be 18 firm for Roosevelt and 18 firm for Taft," said Charles L. Baxter, of the Roosevelt delegation.

The Connecticut Taft delegation of 14 arrived bringing with them nearly 100 enthusiasts including the alternates, Republican state leaders and visitors to the convention.

Gov. Robt. P. Baas, of New Hampshire, a supporter of Roosevelt, accompanied the Taft delegation from that state. The Nevada delegation, with its six delegates instructed for Taft, arrived today.

An addition to LaFollette forces was the North Dakota delegation, a solid ten votes, they say for LaFollette from the first to last ballot.

Iowa delegates assembled in their headquarters here today and cheered a telegram from their candidate for the Republican nomination for President, Senator Albert B. Cummins, expressing appreciation of their support.

The telegram directed to Senator Kenyon was as follows:

"I deeply appreciate the efforts for me at Chicago and I want you to express my profound gratitude I have been in a continuous struggle for progressive principles for many years and know you will hold the colors high, so that no man can mistake where I stand. There are other good fighters in Chicago, but there can be none more valiant, none more faithful and loyal than the army of Iowa soldiers."

A Woman Who "Hired Out" to Her Husband for a Vacation

The following letter won a prize of $25 offered by The Woman's Home Companion for the best account of a vacation. It was written by a woman who lives on a farm in Wyoming:

"To begin with, then, I'm a rancher's wife, and a farmer's daughter, so I know what it means to get up early and work till late. I've read a great deal about vacations but not much about vacations for the woman on the ranch.

"Most women who live on a ranch know something about horses, and can harness and drive a team. Now everyone knows that to people who have always worked with their hands, idleness is not rest, and recreation comes quicker and surer from a change of work; so I 'hired out' to my husband.

"We have seventy-five acres of alfalfa, and here in the West men are scarce and wages are high, so I hired a girl to do the housework and take care of the children, while I donned a pair of overalls, a jumper, a broad brimmed hat, and a pair of stout gloves, and went forth to take my vacation.

"The first day I mowed, and the first night I kicked levers and drove horses all night. I wasn't so enthusiastic the second morning, but I mowed some more and raked some, and that night I slept and I slept every night that followed during the harvest, for I stayed with it till the hay was in the stack doing team-work altogether, and when we were thru my husband said I was the best man on the job.

"I was decidedly a better woman, for I had gained five pounds of flesh, stronger nerves, harder muscles, and a coat of tan that hasn't all worn off yet.

"I told the girl that I was not to be consulted about anything, so I shifted the whole responsibility of the household, and did just as the men did; washed at my meals and then rested till time to start to work again.

"My girl cost me four dollars per week, and I made twelve, which left me a clean gain of eight dollars per week in cash, besides the other good things. I felt so rested when I took up the reins of the household again that what had before been a task was now a pleasure. Really, it did seem good to cook a meal once more, and I had not thought it possible.

"And next year I'm going to do it all over again."

Thursday Picnic Outing.

Miss Anna Morgan Faucette gave a picnic outing Thursday in honor of Misses Kate Meadows and Allouise Guthrie. The crowd about twenty in number were carried to Coble's pond where the day with its pleasures was spent. A picnic dinner was intermingled with the good things of the day.

Salisbury Stirred By Murder And Suicide.

Salisbury, June 16. — A tragedy when Frank D. Chunn sent a ball through the heart of his sweetheart tonight shortly after nine o'clock, Miss Burnadette Roueche and then turning the pistol on himself sent a ball crashing through his brain.

The young couple had attended services at Sacred Heart Catholic church together and had returned and were on the porch of the residence of an uncle of the dead girl where the shooting took place.

Charles Gable and Miss Hortense Roueche were with them at the time but had gone behind the house to a well to get water when a pistol shot was heard. Gable ran around to the porch and saw Chunn with the smoking pistol in his hand. On being asked what was the trouble Chunn pointing the pistol at Gable told him to stand back and turned the weapon on himself with the result as stated.

Miss Roueche died instantly while Chunn lived a half an hour but never regained consciousness. The shooting was done with a .38 caliber pistol. A wound was found on the temple of the dead woman and many are inclined to believe that she was struck before being fired upon.

Miss Roueche was the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Roueche and a niece of J. X. Roueche one of the proprietors of The Salisbury Post. She was only 19 years old and was stenographer for the Salisbury Realty and Insurance Company, and was well liked and popular in the city. Chunn was 23 years old and a boiler at Spence. He was a quiet, young fellow and no one suspected that he was capable of the awful crime committed. His mother, Mrs. Blorinda Chunn lives in Asheville and he is a nephew of Misses Sallie and Maggie Chunn of this city.

Jealousy is supposed to be the cause of the affair. It is known that Miss Roueche refused to marry Chunn six months ago, although she still allowed him to pay her attention merely as a friend. What transpired between them tonight will never be known.

Coroner West, Dr. Spencer, Sheriff McKensie, and Rev. Father Leo, were soon on the scene but nothing could be done as it was plainly a case of murder and suicide.

Hundreds of people were on the streets at the time of the occurrence returning from church and the news spread like wild fire and created intense excitement. On account of the prominence and high standing of both parties the affair is much deplored.

Snow Camp Items.

Last Monday night June 10 Snow Camp Woollen Mills was burned. The fire was discovered about 11:30 o'clock. Nothing, however, could then be done to extinguish the fire for in a very few minutes the entire mill was in flames. All the books and goods, in fact everything in the office was saved. The origin of the fire is unknown but is supposed to have caught from the engine room. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

The Rev. Albert Peele of Guilford College preached at Cane Creek Sunday.

Last Saturday night the girls of Snow Camp gave a "Leap Year Party" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Durham. Those present were Misses Flora Stout, Mary and Annie Mcvey, Mary Dixon, Myrtle Coble, Lena and Florence Fogleman, Messrs. O. C. Stuart, S. H. McPherson, E. S. Durham, E. L. Hillard, A. H. R. F. D. No. 7.

"Dan" has been very busy on No. 7 for the past two or three years but from what we learned recently, some of his work is not standing the "test of time." Our advice is, don't keep your wife's nose to the grind stone too long for you will only succeed in sharpening her tongue and that may lead to the undoing of all of "Dan's" work.

Mr. Temus Petto and family of Gibsonville visited Mrs. Petty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lud P. Sharpe, Sunday. They took their little daughter Nova, who has been staying at Mr. Sharpe's, back with them but left little Miss Ruby to cheer up Lud for a few weeks.

Mr. Geo. C. Dunn is off on a vacation visiting friends in Guilford and Orange counties.

Mr. Jim Coble is still looking for a girl. His friends wish him every success in the business but as this is leap year it looks like he would let the girl do some of the looking too.

Mr. Jesse Isley has a nice saddle horse now and he seems to take pleasure in showing his friends the many different gaits the horse can travel.

We did the ball club an injustice in our last week's report of the game. The score was 7 to 1 in favor of Swepsonville instead of the old ratio of 16 to 1.

Harvest is about over and there will only be about a half of the usual crop of wheat in this section, this year.

The Farmers Union expect to have a big meeting at Eureka school house on the 4th of July.

Swann Captured.
 Hamlet, June 17.—George Swann the negro, who shot C. C. Gibson superintendent of the oil mill at Red Springs, 2 yrs ago and who died from his injuries in a Fayetteville hospital, was captured yesterday morning in an old barn two miles from Hamlet by Chief of Police Tatlock of this place and Ernest Sims. Swann offered no resistance and when taken admitted that he was the man wanted. A reward of $900 was outstanding for his arrest which will be paid to the Hamlet officer.

The sheriff of Roberson was notified and came here for Swann, leaving with him on the evening train. On account of intense feeling in Red Springs against the prisoner it is thought that Swann will not be carried to Lumberton, but will be taken to penitentiary at Raleigh for safe keeping.

Mr. Taft sees a crisis in the nation's history. It wears glasses and shows its teeth.

Lots of chickens are on their last legs just now—camp meetings are beginning to open.
