Couldn't Walk!

"I used to be troubled with a weakness peculiar to women," writes Mrs. Anna Jones, of Kenny, Ill. "For nearly a year, I could not walk, without holding my sides. I tried several different doctors, but I grew worse. Finally, our druggist advised Cardui for my complaint. I was so thin, my weight was 115. Now, I weigh 163, and I am never sick. I ride horseback as good as ever. I am in fine health at 52 years."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

We have thousands of such letters, and more are arriving daily. Such earnest testimony from those who have tried it, surely proves the great value of this vegetable, tonic medicine, for women.

Cardui relieves women's sufferings, and builds weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a trial. It should help you, for it has helped a million others. It is made from pure, harmless, herb ingredients, which act promptly and surely on the womanly organs. It is a good tonic. Try it! Your druggist sells it.

MARYLAND MOUSERS ORGANIZE A LEAGUE

Baltimore, Oct. 3.—Prominent Democrats and Republicans of Baltimore who will support the Progressive ticket organized today the Progressive League of Maryland, which will be statewide in its scope and influence and will work in harmony with Colonel Edward C. Carrington, Jr., Progressive national committeeman and state Chairman.

The organization was effected at a meeting called by General N. Winslow Williams, who was secretary of state under Governor Crothers. General Williams was unanimously elected temporary chairman.

A strong "declaration of principles was adopted, headquarters for the league were obtained immediately and a call was issued for new members.

It was decided that the league should take an active part in a red-hot campaign for Roosevelt and Johnson.

OHIO'S PROGRESSIVES APPEAL FROM RULING

Columbus, O., Oct. 3.—Attorney Thomas H. Clark, representing the progressive state committee, today filed a motion in the supreme court for permission to begin a mandamus suit against Secretary of State Graves, compelling him to allow candidates' names to appear on the ballot at the fall election under more than one party designation.

In many counties the Progressives have indorsed candidates of other parties and placed their names on the Progressive ticket. Secretary Graves has held that the placing of a candidate's name on the ballot more than once would be a fraud upon the voters. He declared that the law requires nominating petitions to state party principles and that a candidate would be sailing under false colors to petition for election on two opposite platforms.

ASHEVILLE BUSINESS MAN OF PROMINENCE TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Asheville, Oct. 4.—F. Roger Grant, president of the Grant Realty company and socially prominent, shot himself twice in the head just after noon today on the outskirts of the city and two hours later died in the Mission hospital. He was found lying in the woods near St. Dunstan's road by A. L. Reed, a piano repairer, who had been driving with Mr. Grant. Mr. Reed was closely questioned by the officials, who came to the conclusion that Mr. Grant committed suicide. No inquest will be held. Overwork and nervousness is assigned as the cause.

Mr. Reed told that he and Mr. Grant had been near Baltimore to look at some property Reed wished to buy. Returning Mr. Grant expressed an intention of driving out St. Dunstan's road to look at some property he had recently acquired. He left Mr. Reed and walked some distance into the woods. Mr. Reed waited nearly an hour and becoming alarmed, went to look for his companion. He said he had heard two muffled sounds but did not think of them as shots. He came upon the man bleeding and being frightened, ran to a house nearby and telephoned officers and physicians. Mr. Reed was not arrested.

Roger Grant, as he was favorably known in Asheville, was about 40 years of age and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Grant. For many years he was associated with his father in the real estate business here and after his father's death became president of the Grant Realty Company. He is survived by a wife and daughter, Miss Nellie Grant, and three sisters, Miss Rosa Grant and Mrs. Sinclair, of Asheville, and Mrs. J. B. Huntington, of Wilmington.

Roosevelt, First; Taft Fourth.

Whitefish, Mont., Oct. 3.—A poll of a Great Northern transcontinental train's passengers, taken between Glacier Park and this place, resulted as follows: Roosevelt, 36; Wilson, 24; Debs, 18; Taft, 8.

accident. It's his capital. It's as though my plant should burn down without insurance. In most States he must go to law. It's the only recourse he has. After he's lived, God knows how for three or four years, a jury gives him $5,000—perhaps. And he gets $500. The rest goes to the lawyers. But a decent workingman's compensation act is unconstitutional. The Supreme Court says so, and the Supreme Court rules us. I never heard a squarer and truler thing from Roosevelt than when he said that the loss to workingmen by injury should be a tariff on the business to be paid by the public in increased prices if necessary."

"I haven't talked much about one of my main reasons," he said. "That's Theodore himself. If we're putting a factory to rights, a factory that's gone wasteful and behind the times, we try to learn the up-to-date method of setting it right, and then we get the best manager we can find. And that's Roosevelt. We never needed a big leader more. We want a strong, forceful man with ideas. He's all that. He's proved it. Most people don't consider, I guess, what a situation a President finds in the White House. All the crooks who've grown up in this curious period are after him to fool him one way or another. They fooled Taft badly. They even fooled Teddy now and then—but not a second time. Do you know one thing I like about Roosevelt personally? He doesn't—what do you call it?—preserve the amenities!"

I laughed at that, and broke "Has it ever occurred to you how hard those other people have worked to get something on Roosevelt, and how he comes out right every time? Again and again they've laughed in their sleeves and said, 'We've caught him now—and the next thing Roosevelt has beaten them to a pulp. They don't get anything because there's nothing to get. It's like a man on the witness stand. If he's telling the truth, the best lawyer in the world can't do anything with him. But let him tell one a little lie, and they'll raise the Dickens with him.'"

"Suppose I've rambled around a little," he said, "but I guess I've made you see why I'm a Progressive. First, it's the only square bid I've seen to begin at the foundation and rebuild, and last, and just as important, it's T. R."

Sellers Hosiery Mill Adds 25 Machines.

A deal was closed the latter part of last week in which Sellers Hosiery Mill purchased twenty-five machines from Mr. W. J. Thompson of this city. These machines are practically new and will add to the already large output of this mill. This additional supply of machine, under the very clever management of this mill will make a very desirable opening for a number of new employees. This also assists in increasing our record as one of the greatest Hosiery Mill towns in this state.

Let The Present Political Campaign Be Conducted On A High Plane

I take this opportunity to insist that this political campaign be conducted upon the high plane of intelligent and patriotic citizenship. The time is at hand when the best citizens, regardless of party affiliations, should unite as one man and forever stamp out the political evils that now exist in our country. It can be done if the good citizens of Alamance will unite and say it shall be done. Many good men of both political parties have talked with me very freely and mentioned some of the evils they personally knew to exist, and some even went so far as to name some of the guilty persons. These facts together with the public statement referred to in my announcement as an independent candidate, caused me to enter the political field though I did it very reluctantly. I have taken the risk all alone, having conferred with no one in regard to the matter. When the Progressive Party endorsed my candidacy it was done voluntarily without my having made any request or expressed to any person a desire to receive such endorsement. The Progressive being a new party just launched forth upon the political arena and at present clean and free from political corruption, I very gladly accepted the honor conferred upon me.

The platform I have announced is composed of two Progressive measures—short term of office, and clean policies. Everybody may not agree with me in regard to the former measure, but I am sure every good citizen will agree with me fully in regard to the latter. Whether he supports me or not he is bound to admit that political reformation is badly needed. The life tenure of office is a very dangerous thing. When men think they have become securely entrenched in office they take great risks and yield to temptations that otherwise would not affect them. If we are going to pension a man, we ought not to pension him in office. Give him a short term and thus remove from him the temptation to wrong his rival out of a nomination or use unfair means to defeat an opponent in an election. I don't ask any man to vote for me simply on personal grounds. If you don't believe in the cause I advocate the principles I represent in the two progressive measures above mentioned then you are under no obligations whatever to support me. But on the other hand if you do believe either in a short term of office or in clean honest manly dealing in politics and are willing to give every man "a square deal" I earnestly solicit your support, regardless of your political preferences in the past. I contend that in trying to bring about a political reform. I am working in the interest of parties the Democratic as much so as the Republican or progressive. I request my fellow candidate to join in with me in making a clean manly fight. Let no one become so cowardly as to resort to any low vile means to accomplish his purpose. And right here I want to say very emphatically that I don't want the support of any man who will maliciously attempt to malign the private personal character of my opponent.

The fellow that will take undue advantage of a candidate who will slip up behind him and stab in the back, who will secretly and clandestinely circulate rumors, or aid in such, calculated to besmirch or in any way injure the private personal character of a candidate is very dangerous element in politics—a menace to society and should be strongly condemned by all good people. I don't want sustain any political relationship to such persons. I had rather be defeated than to take any undue advantage of my opponent.

Now my opponent has an official character which may be entirely different from his personal character. If he had prostituted his office to accomplish his purposes if he has rested to undemocratic methods to secure his nomination for office; if he has taken undue advantage of a rival candidate for nomination made promises to a rival and not fulfilled those promises used money to purchase votes either directly or indirectly, made any present loan or gift in order to secure political aid, he should not only be severely criticised but strongly condemned by all good citizens. If he is not guilty of any of those things no one should dare say anything against him. If he guilty the worst that can be said with reference to his official character is none to bad. If you know anything don't be afraid to tell it. If you can't tell it hand it over to me and I will sugar-coat it a little and try to persuade him to take the dose. In conclusion, fellow citizens, let us make a strong hard fight for clean honest politics, showing respect for the rights and feelings of all good men and do it in a fearless man way openly and above board. Hit hard but strike above the best.
