County School News.

Teachers Association meet Saturday, Feb. 1, 1913, 11.00 A. M.

PROGRAM:

Honor System in School - Supt. L. J. Smith.
Discipline in Primary Grades - Miss Pearl Robertson.
The Student that is Graded too High - Prof. H. C. Stout.

UNION DINNER.

The County Board of Education and the Supt. went to Elon Monday evening to a formal opening of the New Graded School building. The Elon people have just built a very handsome two story brick building containing recitation rooms and a large auditorium. This house is a handsome and well arranged building and is great credit to the community, County & State.

The teachers are now at work to put in a complete water system with lavatories and drinking fountains at Elon.

Another good building that has just been finished is the Hammer Memorial Academy at Snow Camp. It is a brick two stories 64 feet wide by 75 feet long. It stands on a high elevation and makes a handsome appearance. The cost of the building is about $7,000. This school was recently endowed by Mr. Isaac Hammer of Kansas and is named in his honor.

Sydney school of Pleasant Grove township and Center school of Newlin township have recently installed water fountains and individual drinking cups and made other school improvements. Spring School gave a box party on the 28 of Dec. and made a sum of several dollars. This will be used for oiling the school floors and other interior equipment.

Belmont School has just purchased and installed 42 extra good steel frame desks. This valuable asset was secured by private subscription. Belmont has two teachers and local tax. Glenwood, the new school at the Alamance Mill, raised money before the holidays in the community by subscription and painted the house. They painted pure white without trimmings except green blinds. The new house looks clean and good.

The County Board of Education met in regular session last Monday.

Letter From Mr. White.

Mebane, N. C. Jan. 3, 1913.

Mr. Editor:
I have just learned that our County officials are going to petition the legislature to increase their salaries. Of course, we all know that our County officers went on a salary basis December 1st, 1912. These salaries were fixed by the last session of the legislature and our present County officers knew the salaries that were named in this bill, and of course, these salaries were satisfactory to these County officers or they would not have stood for re-nomination and re-election.

I want to say that this is not a personal matter at all, but simply a matter of business. I am very interested as a citizen and as a taxpayer, and further, because of the fact that I was the first one to agitate salaries for our County officers as I believe it is the best thing to do, and I believe now that the present salaries, which I think are fair and liberal, will mean a saving to the tax payers of from four to five thousand dollars annually. I believe that I have voiced the sentiment of the majority of the people of the County in saying that they are opposed to any increase, at least I think that the matter ought to be discussed before such a measure is put through the legislature.

I was advised by one of the County Commissioners that Alamance County went in debt the past year about $16,000, and of course if we increase the salaries of our County officers it will mean this additional expense. I want to suggest to the County Commissioners that before they endorse this increase in the salaries that they call a mass meeting of the tax payers of the County to discuss this matter. Of course, I always acquiesce with the majority, but under present conditions, I for one am inalterably opposed to any increase, and as stated above, I believe the salaries as made are liberal, and I do not think it is an exaggerating to say that there are hundreds of good citizens of our County who would be glad to serve the County at the present salaries.

I want to say further that we have as clever and accommodating set of County officers as in any County that I know of, and they are all friends of mine I believe, and I do not criticize those officers for wanting more money, however, as a taxpayer and with the present financial condition of the County I am opposed to the increase and I believe that the majority of the tax payers of the County will take the same view that I have taken in the matter.

Yours very truly,
W. E. White.

Interurban Contract Awarded Will Pass Burlington.

Last week's issue of the Traction Weekly carried a statement saying that a contract has been let by the Southern Power Company for the construction of an interurban line from Winston-Salem to Durham, by way of Greensboro, Burlington and Chapel Hill. The article further states that the work will be done in sections. Movements are already afoot in Chapel Hill and Durham to get the work begun on that end of the line first. We are quite sure a squad will be placed to work between Chapel Hill and Greensboro this squad should come near our town. Think how fine it would be to take a street car ride to Durham or Winston-Salem. We are waiting for the first ride.

Vuncannon-Mebane

Miss Pearl Mebane, daughter of Mr. J. R. Mebane of this city very pleasantly surprised her many friends Saturday morning when she and Mr. Colon Vuncannon of High Point were married at the home of her father.

Rev. D. E. Bowers of Waughtown brother in law of the bride officiated. Those present other than the family were Rev. J. D. Andrew, Mrs. Chas. Staley of High Point and Mrs. D. E. Bowers of Waughtown sisters of the bride.

Miss Mebane is a very attractive young lady with many friends while the groom is held in high esteem by his many friends in his home town.

Lights on Corner.

The Chamber of Commerce of pleased to announce that the town is now erecting the cluster of lights on the corner of Front and Main Streets donated by it to the town. So far as is known this is the first of its kind in any city in the State.

Sunday's Greensboro Daily News publishes that the contract for the interurban Road from Winston-Salem has been let.

We also understand that work has been resumed on the Greensboro Northern and Atlantic Railroad from Greensboro to Pittsboro and will be pushed to a finish.

It can be seen that our Chamber of Commerce is a live one and is spacing nothing in the upbuilding and growth of our city.

DUBLIN MERCHANT GOES TO CAROLINA

S. A. Thomy To Locate In Burlington After Three Successful Years In Georgia.

Mr. S. A. Thomy leaves Dublin this week for Burlington, North Carolina, where he has located and is running a mercantile business. His large stock of goods already has been shipped and in a few days Mr. Thomy will leave for his new home.

Mr. Thomy came to Dublin about three years ago and showed his good business judgement and progressiveness from the start, with the result that he has secured one of the best store buildings in the city, the old Laurens Banking Company stand, and carried a line of goods and practiced such methods as soon won for him a large share of the dry goods and notions business of Laurens county.

Mr. Thomy is bound to succeed in Burlington if he is received into the confidence of the buying public as he was in Dublin, and his friends believe that he will be. Mr. Thomy's record as a merchant, together with his personal traits, won for him many friends during the three years he has spent in Dublin.

Laurens County Herald
Mr. Thomy although he has been in our midst only a short while has made a fine impression and is receiving a goodly patronage at the Corner Store opposite the Alamance Loan & Trust Co. His cleverness and genteel manner of dealing with the public is to be commended. His selection of Burlington as a progressive business town shows a marked choice which might be wisely followed by many other merchants.

Progressive Leagues.

The National Progressive Conference in Chicago is an event, not a beginning in the progressive campaigns of 1914 and 1915. The beginning was made before the votes were counted in half the States showing that the new party had become one of the two leading parties of the nation.

Already enthusiastic State meetings have been held, and State leagues formed in furtherance of the Progressive cause. In Pennsylvania it was announced that a State league would be formed with a membership fee of one dollar, some time following the national conference. But as soon as this announcement was made for application for membership accompanied by the fee, came pouring in and it was necessary to organize the league at once without waiting for the national meetings.

In other States enthusiastic meetings have been held. It is epochal, even revolutionary, in the history of politics, this girder for the battle before the smoke of the last battle has cleared away. It shows the principles behind the movement. It refutes all the sneers of the enemies of good government, terming it a one man movement, its principles, terming it a one man movement, its principles, nostrums, and its followers, neurotics.

The spirit of preparation for the next campaign should be developed in every State leagues formed, based on the "contract with the people" entered into by the leaders of the crusade of 1912. At one leap the new party has gone over the heads of Prohibitionists, Socialist and Republicans to second place. It should be a much easier step to first place in States, Legislature and Congress in 1916.—Sioux City Daily Tribune.

"THOSE THINGS WHICH ARE BEFORE"

But this one thing I do forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before.—Philippians, iii, 13.

In themselves, the words taken for a text form no unusual sentiment. Many persons proceed along much the same line, "forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before." It would be well for all persons to do, since this is the wise and sane way to live.

When we stop to think that St. Paul wrote these words while in prison, they become more impressive. It is one thing to hold to certain principles while free to do as we may choose; quite another to remain steadfast when deprived of bodily freedom or harassed by the consciousness that we are being unjustly punished.

The greatest of Christians was not to be swerved by bonds and fetters. Vigorous of mind and body—a vertebrae giant for good—he found his faith in his Master sufficient for every need, and from his cell sent out to friends and converts those inspiring letters which still strengthen the faith of those who believe in the same Master.

So when he speaks of forgetting things that are past, and reaching forth to things that are to come, the words bear to us a message that is manifold by the state of the writer and his unusual past.

He had to forget doubt and grief. He had to forget persecution of those who were martyrs to the cause in which he himself now was leader. He had to forget too much more than the average individual is trying to remember that surely no one of us should feel it impossible to follow in his steps in this particular.

St. Paul knew, as does every one who seeks knowledge through experience, that one of the most burdensome of loads is that composed of past deeds and misdeeds. He knew, as any one may learn, that this load is not only heavy, but galling because of the fact that it is borne to no worthy purpose. It does not permit the bearer to keep his eyes on the road in front, hence he constantly is stumbling and falling.

One of the commonest criticisms aimed at the doctrines of Christianity has to do with their emphasis of the future. This like many another criticism is based chiefly upon personal or denominational construction of these doctrines. For many years, in certain churches, too much emphasis was laid on a "heaven beyond" too little attention was paid to a world here which was much in need of uplifting and purifying influences.

This was not the fault of Christ's teachings, but of their faulty construction by men. Certainly none ever taught more fully and clearly or lived more completely the lesson of living first for what we can do and be in this life. And in these days of greater enlightenment and larger feeling of brotherhood, Christianity is being made more and more a matter of the Now and less and less as we are urged to think only of "mansions in the skies."

Yet always it has been, and always it must be the religion of the Better Tomorrow. And to attain to this better tomorrow we must cast away constant concern over things that have gone into the past and fix our aims upon that future where our hopes abide, not necessarily a future in some other life but the finer and higher possibilities of this existence.

To the real Christian, like Paul, there always is light ahead however dark the past may have been; however dull and cheerless the immediate present may be. From the prison cell of whatever sort of imprisonment ours may be seen the dawn promise of at least another chance or two to be of use, and while we know we can be of use we cannot despair.

Before us lie great opportunities to help; greater now, perhaps, than at any previous time in the history of the world. For men and women are beginning to sense the social spirit of Christianity, and the field for such effort is as broad as the world itself.

So, aside from the personal application of the text, there is a wider reading of it, and to look behind now, when we are so able to answer some of the calls for help, would be to desert the Master's work. For he lived and died for those things which still are before us.—North American.

Another Editor Goes to The U. S. Senate.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 6.—J. N. Heiskell, editor of the Arkansas Gazette, of this city, today was appointed United States senator by Governor George W. Donaghey to succeed the late Jeff Davis. The appointment is for the short term ending March 4.

John Netherland Heiskell is 40 years of age and is a native of Tennessee. For a member on years he was engaged in newspaper work in Knoxville and Memphis and served in an editorial capacity in the Chicago and Louisville offices of the Associated Press before coming to Little Rock as editor of the Gazette of which he is part owner.

Mr. Heiskell has never held a political office and today said with the election of a senator at the coming session of the Arkansas legislature he will return at once to Little Rock and resume his editorial work.

Connor Is Likely to be Speaker of House.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 6.—Geo. W. Connor, of Wilson, tonight seemed assured of the nomination for speaker of the house at the caucus tomorrow night, many representatives saying that it was doubtful if any other name would be presented.

In the lobby of the Yarrowborough, where the politicians have congregated. Mr. Connor was the center of interest, which amounted almost to an ovation. Mark Spires, of Leora, tonight telegraphed his withdrawal as candidate for reading clerk of the senate, leaving R. M. Phillips, of Greensboro, without opposition.

Many senators and representatives, place hunters and perennial hangers-on have already arrived, and the hotel lobbies have the old-time appearance. It is a jolly crowd assembled here, and there are no disappointments yet, because candidates for the various offices have not received any jolts. It is safe to say that there are at least five applicants for every position.

Parcel Post Information.

The act of Congress authorizing the establishment of a parcel post system provides that on and after January 1, 1913, fourth class mail matter, including farm and factory products, not now embraced by law in either the first, second, or third class, not exceeding 11 pounds in weight nor greater in size than 72 inches in length and girth combined, nor in form or kind likely to injure the person of any postal employee or damage the mail equipment or other mail matter, and not of a character perishable within a period reasonably required for transportation and delivery.

The law requires that on and after January 1, 1913, the postage on all matter of the fourth class must be prepaid by distinctive parcel post stamps affixed (see sec. 3). Postmasters can not receive for mailing parcels that do not bear such stamps.

Parcel post stamps are not valid for the payment of postage on matter of the first, second, and third classes, and, when used for that purpose, the matter to which they are affixed shall be treated as "held for postage," as prescribed in section 3. Parcels must be prepared for mailing in such manner that the contents can be examined.

A parcel must not be accepted for mailing unless it bears the name and address of the sender, preceded by the word "From."

Postmasters will refuse to receive for mailing parcels not properly indorse or packed for safe shipment.

Parcels must be mailed at a post office, branch post office, named or lettered station, or such numbered stations as may be designated by the postmaster, or delivered to a rural or other carrier duly authorized to receive such matter.

Parcels collected on star routes must be deposited in the next post office at which the carrier arrives and postage charged at the rate from that office.

A mailable parcel on which the postage is fully prepaid may be insured against loss in an amount equivalent to its actual value, but not to exceed $50, on payment of a fee of 10 cents in parcel post stamps, such stamps to be affixed.

The following matter is declared non-mailable by law (see secs. 211, 212 and 217 of the Criminal Code of the United States, approved Mar. 4, 1909):

1. Matter manifestly obscene, lewd or lascivious; articles intended for preventing conception or for procuring abortion; articles intended for indecent or immoral purposes; all matter otherwise mailable by law, the outside cover or wrapper of which bears any delineations or language of a libelous, scurrilous defamatory or threatening character.

Spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented or other intoxicating liquors of any kind; poisons of every kind and articles and compositions containing poison (except as prescribed in sec. 19); poisonous animals, insects and reptiles; explosive of every kind; inflammable materials (which are held to include matches, kerosene oil, gasoline, naphtha, benzine, turpentine, denatured alcohol, etc.); internal machines, and mechanical, chemical or other devices, or compositions, which may ignite or explode; disease germs or seeds (except as prescribed in sec. 36); and other natural or artificial articles, compositions or materials of what kind which may kill or in any wise injure another (or damage the mail or other property).

Pistols or revolvers, whether in detached parts or otherwise; live or dead (and not stuffed) animals, birds, or poultry (except as a prescribed in sec. 29 and 34); raw hides or pelts, guano, or any article having a bad odor shall not be admitted to the mails.

A parcel post map and guide for determining postage rates may be obtained by remitting 75 cents by money order to the chief clerk, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C.

Be careful to specify the city or town where the map is to be used.

Further information may be obtained at any post office.

NO CABINET BERTH OFFERED THUS FAR

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 5.—President-elect Wilson tonight made it clear that nobody in the United States knew as yet who was going to be in his Cabinet, or what would be the program he would suggest for the next Congress. He declared that he had not offered a single Cabinet portfolio to anyone thus far and had as yet reached no conclusions as to plans for the extra session.

Mr. Wilson said that while he canvassed a variety of subjects and had talked over many names with Democratic leaders, he had not given a definite intimation in any direction, either as to what his selections or his course with respect to legislation would be. He indicated, however, that he expected the extra session would not be devoted exclusively to tariff making and said he would in a special message specify some of the subjects upon which he would like to see legislation enacted.

The President-elect admitted that he was finding the task of Cabinet-making very difficult. He said he would delay any announcements until he could name his entire Cabinet.

"I don't like to make scatter-announcements," he said, and it may be that I will not announce the Cabinet until the last minute. Sometimes I hear something about a man whom I had not considered that makes me prick up my ears and want to know more about him. The field of choice is constantly widening."

It was suggested to Mr. Wilson that if he delayed his announcements till the last minute, some of the men chosen might find themselves embarrassed for time in winding up their business affairs.

"Oh, I probably shall choose men who are foot-loose and then even if they should need time to wind up their affairs, they could be sworn in on March 4 and spend a little time on it after that," said the Governor. He indicated that he intended to occupy as much of his time as possible between now and March 4 canvassing the field from which he will pick a Cabinet. He said his mind was still open and that as soon as he reached decisions as to all the men he wished, he probably would make all the offers simultaneously. The President-elect was asked if he intended to deliver his inaugural address extemporaneously.

"I think I'll prepare the inaugural address," he said as those addresses are more like documents than speeches."

The only speech the Governor has prepared in advance since his nomination at Baltimore was his speech of acceptance, as he does not like to read speeches.

With respect to appointments in the foreign service, Mr. Wilson let it be known that he had not given them definite consideration. He had been shown a newspaper dispatch concerning the appointment of a new Ambassador to Mexico.

"I haven't any more idea who is going to be Ambassador to Mexico than I have as to who will be the first man I'll greet when I reach Washington," he said.

It is known also that Mr. Wilson has not considered whom he will appoint as Ambassador to Great Britain. The Governor was asked if he had read President Taft's speeches in New York yesterday.

"I only saw the head lines," was the reply.

Mr. Wilson spent the day at home with his family.

Two Conferences.

The Republicans of Illinois held a reorganization conference the other day in the same hotel where the great Progressive conference was held a week ago. That was the only phase of similarity between the two conferences. The list of attendants upon the Progressive conference bristled with the names of men who less than a year ago were unknown in national or state politics. The roll of attendance upon the Republican conference reads like a roll of the managers and delegates to the fraudulent convention in Chicago last June. The Progressive conference was to all who came. The Republicans met behind closed doors. The Progressive conference gave to American politics two brand-new ideas, both of incalculable scope of benefit. One was the appointment of a commission to go abroad to study what other countries have done in the way of legislation for social and industrial justice. The other was the adoption of the first comprehensive scientific scheme for the education of the people of the country in matters pertaining to human rights that has ever been put forward by any political organization. The Republican conference devoted itself chiefly to the praise of the Republican Ichabod whose glory is departed and to the old familiar denunciation of Theodore Roosevelt. Then like the Tailors of Tooley Street, the Republican conference voted unanimously that they are the people and went home. The Progressive conference adjourned to go wholeheartedly and enthusiastically into the work so well mapped out at the conference.—The Progressive Bulletin.

The Moose Call.

The 4,000,000 moose have heard the call and are traveling toward the feeding grounds of the larger good. Woe unto any progressive donkeys and progressive elephants who do not travel ahead of this mighty herd. Frontier of destruction beneath the feet of trampling millions will retold in settings of today.

The larger good, born of the new sense of right and wrong, is to be put into such form that the promises of social and industrial justice will assume the concrete state of legislative bills offered for passage into laws.

Get up or back up is the challenge to those who are progressives for votes, but standpatters in action. If they back up, they will get run over, because this American people, by an overwhelming majority, have made up their minds that they will get results or scalps until they do get results.

Four years of educational endeavor, fighting for the passage of progressive bills into teeth-containing laws and the election of free men to enforce them, will bring an irresistible presence to bear that no cunning or counterforce can dam back or dissipate.

Do you hear the earth rumble with the trampling hoofs of the mighty herd on its way to the feeding grounds of the larger good? Listen.—Sioux City Daily Tribune.

Dr. Hartman's Plain Talk to Young Men

My plain talk to young men in my last article certainly brought out many responses from young men. I take this means of answering them briefly, for the benefit of other young men who did not write me. One writer says: "I was greatly interested in your talk to young men. I wish I was strong and well as you describe yourself to be. I am going to begin at once and follow your advice and take care of myself as I ought to. I will quit the use of all stimulants, tea and coffee, go to bed early. I will take the cold water towel bath every morning. I want to live to be old and useful, like you. And I shall also keep Peruna at hand, in case of slight ailments as they may arise. I thank you in the name of thousands of other young men, like myself."

To this letter I replied:

My dear Boy:—I cannot tell you how much good your letter has done me. To know that I am arousing the young men in matters of right living fills me with gratitude and enthusiasm. I want to help you. Write me any time you wish and I will consider your letter strictly confidential and give you prompt reply. Follow the advice I gave in my article. Whenever you have occasion to consult me further do not hesitate. Let us be friends. If you will be obedient to me as a son ought to be I will be faithful and true to you as a father ought to be. Yours Sincerely, S. B. Hartman, M. D., Columbus, Ohio. PERUNA IS FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

Naturally Can't Help It

North Carolina is the most prosperous of the Southern States because her resources are greater and her industries and agriculture are more diversified than those of other States. This holds good even to this State's marvelously diversified climate and soil. North Carolina can't help being prosperous, because she is a great producer and is within a few hours run of America's biggest markets.

Is Peruna a Laxative?

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

I am in receipt of a letter from a mechanic who is at the head of a prosperous household. Peruna has been used in his family for a good many years. He writes as follows:

"As you know, we have used Peruna in our home for a number of years. We find it a reliable household medicine in catarrhal conditions, coughs, colds and grip, and many other ailments to which the family is subject. But since the change in the formula of Peruna I do not find it quite as useful to myself. My bowels are naturally very active. I cannot take a cathartic of any sort. It does me injury to do so. The old Peruna contained no cathartic ingredient and was therefore a very useful medicine to me. But I notice that the new Peruna has a slight laxative action, which almost makes it prohibitory for me to use. I was wondering if there was not some way in which I could obtain the old Peruna as you used to make it."

To this letter I made the following reply: "Yes, the new Peruna does contain a laxative element. You should therefore take the old Peruna (KA-TAR-NO) which has no laxative quality. While prescribing the old Peruna I found it quite necessary frequently to prescribe the laxative Manalin in connection with it. Therefore Manalin was combined with Peruna, in order to meet those cases that require a laxative. But in case no laxative is required the objection to the new Peruna you speak of arises. Many of the people who used to take the old Peruna found difficulty in taking the new Peruna. To meet those cases I am having manufactured the old Peruna under the name of Katarno, and if you are anxious to get the old Peruna exactly as it used to be made you can do so."

PERUNA IS FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES. SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons are making inquiries for the old-time Peruna. To such would say, this formula is now put out under the name of KA-TAR-NO, manufactured by KA-TAR-NO Company, Columbus, Ohio. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.

Sixty Counties of State Fight Hookworm Disease Conference of the Fighters at Little Rock Campaign Now on Six Counties.

The County Commissioners of Haywood, Hoke and Union Counties made appropriations Monday for procuring the State and County dispensaries for the free examination and free treatment of hookworm disease. This campaign has swept the State as the three counties named together with the fifty-seven which have previously procured this work total sixty counties. The actual visual results of the work it seems are truly wonderful.

The campaigns have been conducted in fifty-four counties with the results that more than 150,000 microscopic examinations have been made, exceeding 100,000 persons have been treated, and an entirely new idea with regard to home sanitation created.

The health work is now in progress in Anson, Franklin, Lee, Henderson, Iredell and Scotland Counties.

The seven North Carolina physicians, Drs. Ferrell, Pridgen, Stronsider, Covington, Hughes, and Jacocks, who are devoting their entire time to the hookworm campaign of the State will go to Little Rock December 18th to attend a conference with the sixty odd representatives of other Southern States.

Elon College Notes.

Heavy wind here last week blew a large portion of the tin proof from the New Dormitory and Gymnasium and from the Christian Publishing Association building. Fortunately the rain was not heavy enough to do much damage to walls and lumber stored within. The New Gymnasium is being pushed to completion rapidly.

The College began the work of its matriculation for its winter Term this morning at 8 o'clock. Many of the students have not returned from the holidays season yet, but will be in by Saturday at 4:00 P. M., except a few who are detained at home for various causes. Many new students have already arrived and others are expected to arrive today and tomorrow. Every indication is for a large enrollment and good work.

The Faculty voted in called session last week to have recitations every week-day for this year, as an experiment. The varied and growing curriculum, combined with the free and elective system in operation in the Junior and Senior classes, has made it all but impossible to arrange for the recitation work in five days. According to the new arrangement recitations begin at 8:00 A. M. and close at 1:10 P. M. leaving the afternoon for laboratory, library and gymnasium work.

The annual mid-year reception to the students and citizens occurred in the West Dormitory corridors and reception rooms from 8:00 to 10:00 P. M. this evening. The Faculty received, being assisted by the Senior Class.

Backache, headache, dizziness. Kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

A Burlington citizen tells you how to cure them.

C. F. Oakley, Davis St., Burlington, N. C., says "I suffered from kidney complaint for two or three years, brought on by hard work and heavy lifting. The trouble began with sharp twinges in my right side, extending into my limbs and at times I became so lame and sore across my loins that I could not sleep. My kidneys were also disordered and I was miserable in every way. As soon as I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, I felt better and before long this remedy cured me."

"How about your gemetry? I want you to do something in that."

"Worth More Than it Costs"

Lots of farmers declare their telephone service is worth more than it costs. J. W. Harris, a well-known farmer living near Choccolocco, Ala., writes:

"I had occasion to call our doctor not two hours after my telephone was connected with your exchange. My mother, who is very old, fell down the door steps and broke her arm, and I called the doctor. He was at my house before I could have gone to his residence, as he has an automobile.

"We would not be without our telephone for more than it costs and appreciate the assistance you rendered us."

Our free booklet tells how you may have telephone service on your farm at small cost. Write for it today. A postal will do.

The Supreme Court Refuses a "Corner."

The United States Supreme Court by a division of six to three held that no man or set of men have the right to buy up the corn, wheat or cotton crop and then boost the price to make for themselves an unjust fortune. The court held that the parties indicted in the Federal court in the State of New York for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law should be tried under this act according to the facts in the case.

All Want A Job?

It certainly does seem a strange thing that the Democracy's loyal supporters are aching in the stomach for a small piece of national property to satisfy a vacancy that has existed for sixteen long years, when congressmen and senators are attempting to devise a plan to remove all Federal employees appointed by the president, by July 1st, 1913. Some may suppose that this is a new scheme, but it seems to us that just such a dido was cut in North Carolina several years, by abolishing the office, and later created a new office, but for the same purpose, and filled it with men of their own choice. And if we are not mistaken Locke Craig was a leader in trying to impeach some supreme court justices for no other motives than a political end. We had hoped, but in vain, that men of that stripe had passed forever.

North Carolina Furniture Men Win.

It must be exceedingly good news to every Tar Heel to learn that after a long and hard battle by the furniture manufacturers Association of North Carolina the unjust discriminating freight rates on furniture in car load shipments from North Carolina to the Pacific states have been ordered reduced by the Interstate Commerce Commission to the same basis rate given Va., New York and all Eastern states. Consequently our furniture manufacturers are at least on the same freight rate basis with all competitors. However, its a well established fact that for a long time our manufacturers have been making a better and finer product than many of the eastern and western makers. As an evidence of this fact the White Furniture Co., of Mebane have been for years selling a large part of their product in the extreme west with odds in freight against them.

And in justice to Mr. W. W. White of Mebane we must note that this ruling reducing the North Carolina rate is largely due to his untiring efforts assisted of course by many other large furnishing manufacturers.

This victory is only beginning to the removal of the many other discriminations that exist on nearly every product shipped into North Carolina. Its the duty of every citizen of the state to support loyally and liberally every organization that is fighting, the retarding of business by freight discriminations.

Is It So?

A few days ago some one brilliantly remarked that Mr. Woodrow Wilson would be a good president for all until his inauguration on next March. The statement carries with it much truth. So far he has had no trials, that the result could cause division. Can you conceive of any trouble, dissatisfaction or disappointment, if he appoints Josephus Daniels to the cabinet, W. J. Bryan to the Secretary of State over the protests of Champ Clark and his friends, or ignores Wall Street when he appoints a secretary for the Treasury? These are problems that he must solve and let the decision be right, as we hope it will be, he will make enemies. And assume that he does not make a Wall Street selection for the guard of Uncle Sam's funds, it means a financial disturbance. There are many things to cross the President-elect's pathway that will torment him by day and haunt him by night.

He has acted wisely so far in living up to his own rule of being a good listener, but the day is not far distant when he must mount the stage, with the lights on and the real play will begin

Rockefeller too Sick to Appear at Hearing.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Affidavits that William Rockefeller has "Gouty inflammation of the Larynx and windpipe" which has necessitate six operations, the last of a "serious nature," were recorded with the House Money Trust investigating Committee today as evidence why the much-sought oil magnet should not appear before the committee.

The affidavit by Walter F. Chappelle, Mr. Rockefeller's physician, said Mr. Rockefeller cannot speak above a whisper and must take the so-called "silent treatment."

Dr. Chappelle swore that to force Mr. Rockefeller to testify "would not only be an act of inhumanity, but actually would endanger his life."

Another affidavit by Dr. Samuel W. Lamont was much to the same effect. When the affidavits were put into Money Trust Committee's record Chairman Pujo announced that the committee would investigate the situation "through its own agencies."

Brought Baby's Body From California.

(From the Statesville Landmark)
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mahaffey and a child, who have been making their home in the state of Washington, passed through Statesville yesterday enroute to their old home near Hiddenite. Mr. Mahffey and family went from Washington to California some weeks ago expecting to spend the winter there. Their six-months-old baby became ill and died in a hospital at San Bernardino, Cal., December 26. It was then decided to come to the old home in Alexander for a visit and take the baby their for burial. The little coffin was with the other baggage of Mr. and Mrs. Mahaffey.

National Corn Exposition.

Columbia, S. C. Jan. 1 1913. (Special) From three thousand miles across the continent there will be brought to the Fifth National Corn Exposition here next month an exhibit in which corn will not be featured. This exhibit will come from the agricultural experiment station in the state of Washington, and among other things, will feature modern methods in the growing, handling, packing and marketing of fruit, including a demonstration of the penetrating system of spraying; the plant breeding work at the station in wheat, oats and barley; and some of the work on moisture requirements of crops.

This exhibit is a striking illustration of the fact that the National Corn Exposition is not strictly speaking a Corn exposition, but deals fundamentally and educationally with all phases of agriculture, demonstrating graphically the results of experimental and research work of various State agricultural institutions, the Federal department of agriculture, and other agencies in rural improvement work. The Exposition will open on January 27th.

The Washington exhibit is being prepared under the supervision of Mr. R. W. Thatcher, director of the experiment station. Mr. Thatcher is president of the American Society of Agronomy. He is being assisted in making up this exhibit by Mr. Alex. Carlyle, station cerealist, and Mr. J. L. Dumas, who is extension force of the college, a director of the National Apple Show, a former president of the State Horticultural Society. The two last named gentlemen will accompany the exhibit to the Exposition, to demonstrate it and explain to all visitors points of interest and value.

Columbia, S. C., January 3. (Special) With six feature days, each carrying a special program of addresses by distinguished speakers, the opening week of the fifth National Corn Exposition will offer a splendid variety of topics of special interest to every visitor. This great agricultural event, stressing every phase of agricultural progress, and the culmination of two years' careful planning and preparation will open on the 27th of this month. With only three weeks remaining before the building will be thrown open to the public, the hundreds of details are rapidly nearing final perfection.

The National Corn exposition will continue two weeks, closing on February 8th. Like the first week, the second will have a number of feature days, but it will also be characterized by conferences on rural life and community work, which are expected to prove of great benefit to all visitors interested in the social development of the community.

Monday, January 27th, will be strikingly celebrated in a significant manner as the Opening Day of the Exposition. Tuesday will be South Carolina Day, when special events representative of this state will be featured. Wednesday will be National Live Stock Day, Thursday, National Farmers' Union day, and Friday National Education Day. On each of these days there will be special addresses by prominent speakers on pertinent topics. Saturday will be Boys' day, marking the close of the Exposition school for Prize Winners, to be conducted during the first week of the Exposition.

The program for the second week is rapidly being completed, and the full list of speakers for the second week will be announced in the near future.

Kitchen Will Live in Roxboro.

Sunday—Governor Kitchen said that his family will leave Monday for Roxboro, where he has had considerable improvements in his home place. The Governor will occupy the mansion alone from then until the inauguration of Governor-elect Craig on January 15.

Governor Kitchen says he still has made no definite arrangements as to where he will locate for the practice of law. He has received some flattering offers from Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Raleigh, but there is a chance that he will resume his residence and practice in Roxboro.

There is report also of a co-partnership between he and Judge S. Mornings of Durham, with possibly offices in both Raleigh and Durham.

The Jubilee Celebration.

The colored people of the county met in the Court House on January the First, to celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, which to their freedom as a war measure.

The exercises consisted of a carefully arranged program, to wit:

Devotional opening, music, the reading of well prepared papers; and an address by the Rev. P. S. Lewis, D. D., of Charlotte, N. C., the speaker of the day. Before the doctor was seated a good sized audience comprising the intelligent and enterprising class of negroes from all parts of the county. The address was a masterpiece, pregnant with sound, wholesome and timely advice to the attentive hearers. The speaker said that the negroes' presence in this country is providential, and that slavery existed in this country because the laws of this country favored it, and that the negro had not been damaged by it. And that some of his best assets were in consequence of his having been a slave. That the mannerly conduct of the old ex-slave outweighed in point of achievement the accomplishment acquired in schools by their children. That the civilization, education and evangelization of the American Negro and his African kinsman would be in consequence of his being brought to this country, that the negroes' best friends were here in the South, and that the negro should buy homes in the South, and that he should seek to cultivate friendships between themselves and their white neighbors. That they stop dying so fast, by observing the rules for health and better sanitation. To avoid fine and costly funerals. To attend churches and pay their preachers, and refrain from going to places where white people have prepared for themselves, to vote for principles and not parties or men. And many other points of such advice were given the hearers. At the close of the address the following paper was adopted by the body as mass meeting of the colored citizens:

And Whereas: The today's gathering of the Negro citizens of Alamance County, in common with those of other counties all over this broad Southland, do unmistakably manifest the evidence of their enjoyment of the freedom which our national Government guarantees to every individual citizen.

And Whereas: The today's gathering of negro citizens is for the purpose of celebrating the Fiftieth Anniversary of Jubilee Year of the American Negro's Freedom; And that the time intervening the First and Jubilee years, has been variously occupied in labors, nurturing, developing and improving the condition of the American Negro race in this country, and,

Whereas: A proper and safe knowledge of progress of things or events, can only be had by occasional review of methods, materials and means employed, and comparison of results obtained; and that the half Century marked by the Jubilee year, is a fitting period of which to record progress and deduced comparisons.

Therefore: The negro citizens of Alamance County in mass meeting assembled, Graham, N. C., Jan. 1st, 1913. By vote recommend that the following named persons constitute a committee: (To-wit: S. G. Walker, T. M. Duck, D. A. Murray, A. T. Graham, B. E. Webb, J. F. Faucett, M. L. Lea, J. E. Simpson, Edw. Turner, Jno. Faucett, M. E. Coble, Geo. Holmes, G. S. Mabry, A. S. Hunter, W. A. Rogers, and J. F. Gunn) to gather from data obtainable all facts respecting the American Negro, Alamance County, as they relate to his growth and progress along all lines; the First Fifty years of his freedom; and to properly collate, prepare and publish the facts thus obtained as "The Jubilee Year, Souvenir of the American Negro's Emancipation and Progress in Alamance County, North Carolina," which will contain all obtainable data of the Negro in Agriculture, Manufacturing, Artisanship, Commerce and Professions, Intellectual Development, and Religious growth. Statistics of the negro population in the county, the number of homes owned by negroes, their school houses, churches and lodges, farms and other enterprises owned and operated by negroes.

The same to be illustrated by nice engravings and cuts of the leading negro men and women, their sons and daughters, their homes, and landscapes; their churches, school houses, and other enterprises. The volume will also contain short biographical sketches of leading negro men and women, reminiscence essays, poems, orations and addresses, also sermons of the able and more distinguished sons of the county. Also patents, and Copyrights of negro genius will be included among its contents.

Every self-respecting, ambitious negro should have a write-up in this book, also a beautifully engraved cut showing a picture of him or herself and their families and their belongings.

This is an opportunity unparalleled in next Fifty years.

$37,000 FIND WAS JESSE JAMES' LOOT.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 5.—Kit Dalton, former member of the James boys and Dalton gang of bandits, said today that the $37,000 found by George Hardsook, a laborer working on a pipe line trench near Claremore, Okla., was part of $37,000 taken in a Missouri Pacific train robbery in 1874 near Moscret, a town that has been abandoned.

"The robbery was made one night in October," said Dalton. "The gang was led by Jesse James and with him was Dick Little, Jim Cummins, Jim Collins and four others. Collins and Little boarded the train at a water tank just west of Moscret. They got nearly $70,000, most of it being in $20 gold pieces, considerable in silver and the remainder in greenbacks.

"They escaped to a ravine, where the swag was to be divided. Deputies pressed them so hard, however, that they separated to meet at an Indian camp, Claremore, I. T. United States marshals got wind of their whereabouts and began to surround them.

"The silver and gold was so heavy it was troublesome, and as all had to get away quick, Jesse James buried the money near a big tree. The remainder was taken to a place on the bank of the Little Blue river, Mo. Some of the gang returned to Indian Territory after the swag, but the markers had been moved and as it was not safe to dig around there much, they gave it up."

The demand for photo plays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100, and more, for single scenarios, or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photo-plays, are located in or near New York City. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our Sales Department has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as Vitagraph, Edison, Essanay, Lubin Solax, Imp. Rex, Reliance, Champion, Comet, Melies, etc., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we will gladly teach you the secrets of success.
