Democrats Launch The 1914

Washington, May 16.—The campaign for the Democratic supremacy at the polls in 1914 and 1916 was opened here today when the executive campaign committee of the Democratic national committee organized and discussed preliminary plans. The committee agreed upon permanent headquarters in Washington, the organization of an educational campaign and harmonious cooperation with the Democratic Congressional committee, with a continuous militant party organization from now until after the next presidential election at least. Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, caucus chairman of the House and organized as the President's spokesman in that body, was made chairman and Rolla Wells, of St. Louis, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, treasurer. At permanent headquarters Thomas J. Pence, of North Carolina, the former correspondent who conducted the Wilson Press campaign, will be in charge as manager of Publicity. With him already is Colonel John I. Martin, of Missouri, sergeant-at-arms of the last, and other national conventions of the Democracy. Plans agreed upon today contemplate the sending of Democratic Washington letters to approximately 10,000 weekly newspapers and 2,000 daily papers that have no special correspondents at the national capital. All this will require a large fund, and the committee decided to appeal to the states for contribution.

The situation generally and the need for immediate, organized campaign work were discussed at the two sessions of the White House tomorrow. The committee, accompanied by Mr. Pence, called at the White House and explained the plans to President Wilson, who voiced his hearty approval.

At the outset of tomorrow's meeting the committee will confer with Representative Loyd of Missouri, chairman, and Representative Page, of North Carolina, secretary, the retiring officers of the Democratic congressional committee, who were directed at a recent meeting to consult with the nation committee the President and Democratic senators regard the President's proposal that the numerical strength of senators on the congressional committee be increased.

It is probable that the congressional committee will be asked to name three representatives and two senators to serve on a joint executive campaign committee for conducting the political battles during the next four years. The party leaders contemplate sending out speakers unattached to the joint committee

Origin of the First Curved Ball in 1874.

New York, May 23.—Statisticians of athletics at Princeton University have entered a claim for J. M. Mann, '76, as the discoverer of the art of curve pitching. According to baseball lore available at Princeton, Mann was the star pitcher of the college team known as the Nassau nine at that time.

During the fall of 1874 Mann pitched several games in one week and his peculiar delivery wore the skin from the tips of the fingers. In the final contest of the week he was obliged to play third base. Late in the game he was forced to relieve the pitcher in order to save the game. Owing to the tender condition of his fingers, Mann was obliged to throw the ball with little or no grip.

He immediately noticed that his delivery was breaking in an odd manner which caused opposing batters to strike out. During the winter months he continued to experiment and in the spring blossomed out as a pitcher with a real outcurve at his command.

Governor Craig Returns to His Office For Work.

Raleigh, N. C., May 23.—Governor Locke Craig has returned to his office and was at work yesterday as though he had not been ill.

Governor Craig's illness was not in the least serious. He had suffered some rheumatic tendencies and had been called upon for so many extra duties over the State that he was not in the best of shape but his illness was in the nature of a protest against overwork. He has had not only a hard official life but he has been doing many things outside the office.

Governor Craig's coming to Raleigh from Asheville made necessary a period of acclimatization and during that time he has not been at his best. He was decidedly improved yesterday and will be in his office again today.

A Good Resolution.

Colonel Osborne says the people of North Carolina have spoken in favor of prohibition and that he intends to drive all the moonshiners in the state out of business. Should he succeed in destroying the liquor business in North Carolina, he might ruin the business of his Keely Institute at Greensboro. We hope he will succeed thereby making his Greensboro institution an unnecessary one for North Carolina.—The Times Leader.

No Wedding Fee?

An Illinois pastor has announced that he will not accept fees for marriages in the future, as he regards these fees as a sort of graft which he believes should be abolished. "The minister who does not need a fee should be ashamed to take it, and a Church whose minister needs a fee should be ashamed and immediately raise his salary. No minister should be forced to stand at a wedding with his open hand behind him." This declaration might be regarded as more perfectly altruistic if no mention has been made therein of the advisability of raising the minister's salary, but it nevertheless has the ring of self-renunciation about it. It means not a little to the parson whose salary rarely reaches into the large figures, and whose wife is generally supposed to look upon these fees as a heaven-sent re-

TWELVE MONTHS ON ROADS FOR CLAUDIUS

Asheville, N. C., May 18. — Henry F. Claudius, found guilty last Thursday of obtaining money on false pretenses, was sentenced by Judge W. J. Adams yesterday to serve 12 months on the county roads. Claudius, who has been under bond of $3,000 to appear for sentence, gave notice of an appeal and his bond was fixed at $2,000, pending appeal.

Claudius was placed on trial last Thursday on the charge of obtaining money on false pretenses by selling notes of a fictitious value to Frederick Rutledge. According to the evidence, Claudius sold a piece of property on Merrimon avenue to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna Cruse, taking payment, according to the story told by him to Mr. Rutledge $1,000 in cash and six notes for $1,000 each, which notes he sold to Mr. Rutledge for $5,500.

According to statements made at the witness stand by Mr. Rutledge, Claudius came to him with an inquiry as to whether he could handle some notes for him (Claudius) stating that the notes amounted to $6,000 and that they were secured by property worth from $7,000 to $8,000. Mr. Rutledge took the matter up by mail with B. F. Rutledge, of Charleston, S. C., finally told Claudius that he could handle the notes. Claudius then produced the six notes, each for $1,000, signed by Mrs. Anna Cruse and made in favor of "Henry F. Claudius, New York, city, N. Y.", Mr. Rutledge purchased the notes, paying for them $5,500 and explained on the witness stand that Claudius carefully failed to inform him that the notes were signed by Claudius' mother-in-law.

The case went to the jury Thursday afternoon and after being out only a short time the jury reported a verdict of guilty. Claudius was held under $3,000 bond to appear from day to day for sentence. Last night, after Judge Adams had charged the jury in the case of Elbert Carr, he pronounced sentence on Claudius, fixing the penalty at 12 months on the county roads.

Claudius appealed and his bond for appearance was fixed at $2,000.

The Chamber of Commerce a Live Organization.

The location of a Business school in our midst within the next few days is largely due to the effort of our Chamber of Commerce which is a real live organization ever alert and on the watchout to make Burlington grow. The movement to locate a hospital at this place was organized by the Chamber of Commerce and at present this same organization is steadily working on the proposition of securing the new telephone system, a thing which seemed to be out of the question, but now appears to be assured through the efforts and none other than the Chamber of Commerce. We might name a score of other things that had been done through this same organization, but space will not permit. Instead of kicking the Chamber of Commerce we should all pull together and make Burlington grow.

Stamps have been disappearing from the post office department for the last three years. Inspectors, secret service agents have worked to no avail. Every clerk in the office have been watched. One clerk was called upon to replace a shortage of $75.00 in stamps or lose his job. The mystery was cleared when workmen began to tear down the walls in the post office last week when they found rat nests built of stamps. The clerk will ask for reimbursement.

Henry M. Flagler.

The death of Henry M. Flagler Tuesday at West Palm Beach removes from the financial and industrial world a remarkable man. Mr. Flagler's work will be chiefly remembered by construction of the Florida East Coast railroad from Miami to Key-West one of the great engineering triumphs of the age. He became interested many years ago in the development of the resort business of Florida, and to him as much if not more than any other individual is due the opening of Florida to Winter tourist. Having conquered the Florida swamps, Mr. Flagler set his heart upon the conquering of the Florida Keys by the construction of a railroad, over the sea to Key-West. The opening of this line was recently the cause of a great celebration in Florida and this remarkable engineering feat will stand for all time as a monument to his energy and his desire to accomplish the seemingly impossible. — Greensboro News.

Gov. Johnsons Belief.

"We of California believe firmly that in our legislative dealings with this alien land question we have violated absolutely no treaty rights. We have shown no discrimination; we have given to no Nation, the right to be justified in taking offense. So believing that a strong reliance on the justice and the righteousness of our cause and with due deference and courtesy and with proper consideration for the feelings and the views of other, we had hoped the authorities at Washington would have seen the situation in this state as we in this state have seen it—as we are forced to see it or be blind.

And with all the respect and courtesy, the state of California feels it is bound in duty to its citizens to do that which the interests of its people demand; that which the conscience of its people approves, that which presents no discrimination and than which can give no just cause of offence.

"Was suggested to delay but the question was very sincerely and earnestly presented by you to our Legislature and the legislature determined to proceed. Our people are represented in the Legislature, have overwhelming expressed their desire for the present alien land bill. The vote in the Senate was 35 to 2 and in the Assembly 72 to 3. With such unanimity of opinion even did I hold other views, I would feel it my duty to sign the bill, unless some absolutely controlling necessity demanded contrary action. Apparently no such controlling necessity exists. It is with the highest respect for yourself and the President that I feel my duty to State compels me to approve the action of the Legislature.

Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1908, at the post office at Burlington, N. C., North Carolina, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Wednesday, May 28, 1913.

Why is the Dog Law not enforced in the town and county?
Hello Central! How is the new telephone system? O. K. Thank you.

Do your duty. Kill the flies and save the life of yourself and that of others.

Alamance County has more rural telephones than any other county in North Carolina.

We would suggest to the Greensboro fans to clean out the cellar, for it appears to us, on the outside, that they have gone in for the season.

The charity institutions of Illinois have ordered their soup kettles cleaned and prepared for use. We don't know the reason why?

Store Close.

We understand the merchants have decided to close their stores at 6 P. M. beginning June the first. This is a very wise step, indeed. It gives the merchants and all their help shorter hours, to which they are justly entitled. In fact there is a very small amount of goods bought after six P. M. We congratulate you on this very progressive step.

Save the Babies.

Last year in North Carolina there died over three thousand babies between June the first and December the first. There were three chief causes for this great loss to our State, viz: summer complaint, fever, and malaria. Add to this loss the grief brought to fathers and mothers. Science tells us that these three diseases are the direct result of germs carried by flies.

If you love your children you will screen your house and see to it that these little death devils do not contaminate the food of our children.

If we would spend more in cleaning up our houses and lots and thus remove the birthplace of the fly, we would spend less for medicine and doctor bills.

If you do not know the best step to take in fighting the fly, write the State Board of Health Raleigh and begin now this most important fight.

Six Years.

With this issue we begin the sixth year of our career as a newspaper. What we have done and what we have not done during that time is a matter of public record. At times the future has been so dark that it presented few rays of light to open the way for future activity, at other times the sun has shone out in all its glory and blessed our hands in all our undertakings.

Often has the wolf knocked at our door and it was with great difficulty that we prevented his entrance, but the Dispatch has fought bravely and heroically against want and persecution in a faithful effort to overcome many unjust criticisms that have been heaped upon it. The industrial sunshine is now in our face as bright as you could possibly expect under a democrat administration, because there is little real hope abroad in the land at the present time. The woolgrowers of the West, the sugar planter of the South, the cotton farmer of the Atlantic States and the cotton manufacturer of the East are equally discouraged and justly so. We are casting no lingering look behind, but are meeting face to face the issues of the day and expressing views that we believe to be the correct stand on the great questions of the hour and we know that as we grow older we shall gain more wisdom and that our friends will be led to the one and only conclusion that there is no fight worthy of entering and no battle we can claim any glory, save those that are in behalf of the right.

Our Duty.

What our duty as a newspaper editor seems to be the duty of every other person to inform us what to do. Within the past few days we have been approached by a number of citizens and asked why we have not exposed the supposed mistake in connection with the election of the Chief of Police for our town. We have answered in words plain and simple, we know is simply, what the rumors that we hear from day to day. If, however, facts are as they are claimed, it is our duty to give them as much publicity as possible, but we have lived so far a simple life, with a simple faith with a single hope that we may never knowingly or intentionally say or do or be a party to any act or transaction that will directly or indirectly injure or bring shame, humiliation, or disgrace upon any one regardless of his station in life.

We have been requested by many for a long time to write some very profound editorials on many very insignificant matters and in many cases, they were things that do not pertain in any sense to the public good. In fact these gentlemen that have made these requests in many cases were not friends of the Dispatch, in a substantial manner. Many of them belong to the opposition in political matters, a majority of them are not even subscribers to the paper and some that are subscribers do not even want to pay their subscription, but still they demand of us the building of a great and powerful medium for the suppression of evil, the uplift of humanity, and the promotion of a wealthy municipality.

There is little honor less glory and the want of a lucrative income from the publishing of a weekly newspaper. If the people of our town, county and state could ever realize that it is the local paper and not the Saturday evening Blade, the Kansas City Star, The Rural Weekly, and many other papers that are published beyond our borders, that shapes the destiny of our town, county and state, they would be more loyal to our local industries.

We would, therefore, suggest and ask for the loyal support of every citizen of our county and state in our humble effort to build a large town, a wealthier county and a greater and better state in which to live and enjoy the blessings of life. This aim and hope can be accomplished only by your co-operation, give us the news, give us the kicks, subscribe for our paper, and pay your subscription, advertise in our columns, because we already have a host of increasing friends that are true and loyal. With your help and aid we promise in coming months to make a more zealous fight in behalf of good

The first and second greatest institutions of any land is its churches and its newspapers, if you are fighting these two organizations you are out of harmony, with all that is good, pure, and noble and it is only a question of a short time until your career will be numbered with the failures of our own generation, therefore, our last appeal is that you may join hands with the instrumentalities and organizations that are fighting the real battles of life.

Religion and Medicine

a loving Father controls the destiny of mankind are a great deal better prepared to meet the vicissitudes of life and to overcome disease than the one who has no such faith. A truly religious man makes a better patient than an irreligious man.
In using the word religion I am not referring to any particular kind of religion. The Jew and the gentile, the Catholic and the Protestant, each have a religion in which they believe. They also agree in the essentials.
A religious man may believe that it is necessary for him to use every means in his power to get well. He may believe that it is perfectly proper for him to employ doctors and take medicines. But he also believes that when he has done the best he can there is a higher power that has charge of his affairs, that no evil thing will be done him, that no evil thing can befall a good man. He goes forward with confidence, sick or well, rich or poor, and gets a great deal more comfort out of life than the man who has no religion.
I have found myself saying many times to people who have a chronic ailment, "You need religion as well as medicine. You need faith in an overruling providence that guides everything to wise ends; that the affliction of disease teaches a lesson that every one should strive to learn."
This does not mean that sick people are to sit down and trust that an overruling providence will do everything. Nothing of the sort. He is to use remedies guided by his best judgment, but in the use of them he can believe that all things are well and that in the end all things will come out right. Any medicine has a better chance to cure a man who holds such a faith.
Some men are so faithless and unbelieving, so restless and desperate, that their minds so unsettled, that even the best of medicine has little chance to do them any good. Therefore I say that religion is often quite as necessary as medicine, that the want of religion frequently defeats the action of the best medicine.
Many a chronic invalid has searched in vain for a physical remedy because he has lost his grip on religion, the religion that not only provides salvation in the world to come, but soundness of body and mind in this world that is.
Yes, there is a most intimate relation between medicine and religion. Other things being equal, the religious man stands a poor chance of getting well when he is sick, while the irreligious man frequently gets well in the most astonishing way after the doctors have all given him up to die. With firm faith in a rational religion and an obedient use of the right remedy, great many hopeless invalids could be restored to perfect health.
Well, you have made it clear as to what you mean by religion. But what is the remedy you would recommend?
Of course I would recommend different remedies for different conditions. But the particular remedy that I am interested in at this time, the remedy that meets more chronic ailments than any other remedy I know of, is Pen-slar. Pen-slar is a remedy for that multitudinous group of ailments that are dependent upon catarrhal derangements.
I am furnishing a book on catarrhal diseases which I send to any person free. In this book I explain quite fully the uses of Pen-slar. Those who do not care to wait to send for the book at this time will find information and instruction as to the general uses of Pen-slar explained within the wrapper of each bottle. PENSLAR IS FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.
SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons are making inquiries for the Pen-slar. To such persons we would say that this formula is now put out under the name of KA-TAR-NO, manufactured by KA-TAR-NO Company, Burlington, N. C. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.
Is there any intimate relation between religion and medicine?
Yes, there is. The old-time healer was also the priest. Theology and medicine have not maintained a separate existence very long. They used to be one. Yes, there is an intimate relation between religion and medicine.
It is well known of a person who eats with unthankfulness and ill-natured spirit, that his food will not have the same effect as if he were in a kindly mood. The same is true of medicine. If a person swallows a medicine with suspicion, has no faith in its action, is more or less afraid of the one who gives him the medicine, it cannot do him as much good as if he had unwavering faith in it.

Advisory Committee to Meet. A meeting of the Advisory committee of the various wards of the city is called to meet with the Board of Aldermen Friday night for the discussion of matters concerning the town.

Mr. and Mr. G. W. Davenport of Burlington moved here last Thursday. They will make this place their permanent home, and will open up a new boarding house at the beginning of the Fall Term. They have lived here once before and are heartily welcomed back.

Dr. and Mrs. Whitsett have just returned from Winston-Salem where they were called by the death of a relative. While away they attended services at Friedberg Moravian Church which is the oldest and largest church in America. It has a membership of about five hundred, and is about one hundred and forty years old. The original "Old Stone Church" in which the first service was held is still standing about one mile from the present church building.

Rev. J. D. Andrew of Burlington preached here Sunday afternoon. For a dozen or more years he has been pastor of a church at this place. It is thought by his friends that his election to the presidency of Catawba College at Newton, N. C. is now an assured fact. The Board of Trustees will meet next Tuesday, and it now seems a certainty that he will be chosen. It is believed he will accept if elected, but this is not known for a certainty. He will make a most excellent man for this place, and his friends will be glad to see this honor come to him.

Mr. B. D. Clapp of Saxapahaw is spending his vacation of three weeks here.

Several from this place have been attending the commencement at Greensboro Colleges for Women and the State Normal College for the past few days.

Mr. R. K. Davenport of Durham was a pleasant visitor Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Swift spent some time Sunday in Greensboro with friends.

Applications are coming in every day from students who are asking information as to the coming school year. The school has just closed a very fine year, and every outlook points to a splendid school the coming year. The teachers are all here yet, and will likely spend the most of the summer with occasional short trips away.

Rev. C. J. Sox was a visitor to our place Monday. He has for some time been pastor at Friedens Lutheran Church, but recently resigned his work there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hicks of Danville who were here for commencement have returned home after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Greeson.

It seems to be the general verdict that the commencement this year was the finest yet held by the school, the exercises were of a very high order, and the crowds were larger than for many years. The Whitsett Band furnished music for the entire three days. Plans are under way to enlarge the band for the coming year.

Mr. Ed. B. Wheeler who has been listing taxes of this township this year has about completed his work.

Mr. L. A. Carmon has not been well for some days, but is much improved at this writing.

Saxapahaw.

Messrs. Carl and Hower Boone and Percy Lindley gave a party Saturday night in honor of Miss Esta Walters at the home of Mr. Ed. Thompson. All present seemed to enjoy the occasion very much and went home rejoicing that they had attended. Ice cream and candy was served after which a game of tap-hand was played.

Rev. Goodman preached at the Union Church Sunday night at 7:30. A very good crowd was out. He preached a good sermon. We are always glad to have him with us.

Miss Maud Mann and Mrs. D. B. Simpson and children have gone to Chapel Hill on a visit will stay until after the commencement at the university.

Mr. Rhesa Newlin returned home Saturday night from Guilford college where he has been in school the past year.

Holiday Notice.

Respectfully,
J. Zeb. Waller, Post Master.

Improving An Opportunity.

They were talking about improving an opportunity the other afternoon. When Mr. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, contributed to the conversation, relates the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

"Makes me think," he smilingly said, of a youngster who lives in our town.

One afternoon he was invited to a party, where of course refreshments were bountifully served.

"Wont you have something more, Willie?" asked the pretty hostess toward the close of the feast.

"No, thank you, replied Willie, with an expression of great satisfaction, 'I'm full.'"

"Well then," smiled the hostess, 'put some fruit and cakes in your pocket to eat on the way home.'"

"No thank you," came the rather startling response of Willie, "They're full, too."

BOTTLE FEEDING.

An Earnest Request From the State Health Officer Of Mothers Who Cannot Nurse Their Babies.

When bottle feeding is, of necessity, adopted, the mother should fully recognize the risk assumed for her child. Ten times as many bottle-fed as breast-fed babies die. Many mothers—10 to 15 per cent of North Carolina mothers—take the risk, and are justified in doing so; but, no mother who can read is justified in adopting bottle feeding for her helpless infant without thoroughly posting herself as to approved methods of bottle feeding the dangers incident to bottle feeding and the means of avoiding such danger.

The State Board of Health stands ready, upon the receipt of a postcard to place without cost, in the hands of any mother the necessary literature, that it will not take more than half an hour to read, for instructing her as to the best methods of bottle feeding.

Now, the writer is not going to have anything further to say about this, except to ask you, in the name of your baby, to read what Rev. Milton Barber has to say about the sin of presumption in the article following.

WHAT MATERS if everybody on earth turns from you, if you have a bank book?

ALAMANCE COUNTY'S OLDEST BANKING HOUSE CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, $137500

It Is A Splendid Thing

To have friends in whom you can place absolute confidence, but when it comes to appointing an Executor for your estate it is better to name a strong Trust Company.

A few reasons why are:
The Trust Company, besides being created for this very purpose, never dies, never becomes old or infirm, is never incapacitated by illness or accident, does not abscond, does not lose its reason, is always to be found when most needed, is never too busy to give proper attention to the trust and does not resign.

And the charges are the same in either case.

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled, a little, for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fincher, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and able to do all my housework."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fincher did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists.

Man Burned Alive.

Pulaski, Va., May 17.—Mack Whittaker, aged 30, married, and employee of the Dora Furnace was literally roasted alive today when the contents of a ladle of molten lead tipped over on him.

The ladle was being moved by a switch engine to a dump heap when a sudden stop of the engine caused it to tip.

Whittaker's head was burned from his body. He leaves a widow and two children.

Sutton Is Acquitted.

Kinston, May 22.—Leon J. Sutton a prominent farmer, was exonerated in Superior court here of the killing of Milton D. Creech. Sutton was charged with manslaughter. The men were participants in a shooting match several miles from here late last year, and Creech, while drinking attacked Sutton with a deadly weapon during a dispute over the ownership of Turkeys which had been given as prizes. Sutton struck Creech with a cart round in self-defense, inflicting injuries from which the latter died.

They Sent Threatening Letters To President.

Newark, N. J., May 20.—Seeley Davenport and Jacob Dunn, mountain wood-choppers of Wharton, N. J., were convicted by a Federal jury tonight of sending threatening letters to Woodrow Wilson while he was President-elect. In the case of Davenport the jury recommended mercy. The communications mailed to Mr. Wilson were received by his secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, in May and November of last year and demanded money in sums of $1,000 and $5,000 under a penalty of death.

ISSUES ADVICE

ON PARCEL POST

All is not running as smoothly with the new parcel post system as the postoffice department would wish, and Second Assistant Postmaster-General Stewart has issued special instructions to postmasters and others upon the subject. He says in most instances the investigation of complaints that the contents of parcels have been damaged in the mails is found to be due, first to the failure of the senders to properly wrap them for safe transmission, and second, to the failure of postmasters or their employers, to see that the parcel post regulations are complied with.

Steve castings, plow points, pieces of machinery and the like," the circular received by Acting Postmaster Southward states, "should be wrapped to prevent damage to the mail and the equipment and clothing, shoes, dry goods, etc., should be so put up that they will reach destination in unbroken packages.

"Parcels containing fragile articles must be securely packed and marked 'fragile,' 'eggs,' or as the case may be, but parcels which are not fragile, even though the boxes in which they are inclosed may be, must not be so marked."

Postmaster, railway postal clerks, mail messengers and other postal employees are cautioned to handle the mail carefully and not to throw it from cars, wagons or trucks on platforms floors or on the ground. Those who disregard these instructions are to be reported to the department for discipline.—The Richmond Virginian.

FIVE MAY ENTER THE SENATORIAL CONTEST

Washington, May 22.—A man who is generally well posted on politics in North Carolina made some very interesting predictions for the state while on a visit here a few days ago. This man, who, by the way, is a staunch Democrat, says that not only will former Governor Robert B. Glenn and E. J. Justice of Greensboro, enter the senatorial race next year, but that he knows of at least two other gentlemen who have signified their intention of contesting the seat now held by Senator Lee S. Overman. Just who these other two men are the informant refused to say.

He declared that an effort is being made to line the prohibition crowd up behind Mr. Glenn and that prohibition will be his battle cry from one end of the state to the other. E. J. Justice it is said, will run as a progressive Democrat and upon his effects to obtain better freight rates in the state. At least one of the other two candidates, so the rumor goes, will be backed by the cotton manufacturers and other allied interest who are opposing the present Underwood tariff bill.

It is known that E. R. Preston, of Charlotte is being groomed to run for Congress from the ninth district against E. Y. Webb. It is said, too, that Preston is the man whom the cotton manufacturers are backing for Mr. Webb's seat. It is true that there are more cotton mills in the ninth congressional district than any other, but the man who beats Webb will have a hard job before him. The Webb liquor bill, coupled with his eviable reputation which he has made in Congress as a member of the house judiciary committee, will be hard nuts to crack when an opponent goes after his scalp.

Bingham School Closes.

Bingham School, Mebane, May 21.—The session of 1912-13 of the Bingham school Mebane came to a close with the delivery of 11 handsome gold medals, ten prizes, the awarding of valuable university scholarships and the delivery of other honors to cadets.

Certificates of proficiency in various classes were delivered to the following cadets: Randolph Graves, Hassell Gibson, L. H. Gose, Jophua Garrett, Lee Huntsman, Leonard Hayes, Fred Blakley, Frank Harris, Hogan Bentley, Kesler Cobb, Wm. B. Compton, Robert Dunn, Leroy Johnson, Landon Dulaney, Robt. Lee, Bingham Gray, Herbert Large, Preston Gray, Willie Morgan, Mason Mebane, John Mikee, McCallum McSwain, Wilbur McFarland, Leland McConnell, Landon Phillips, Charlie McCutcheon, Herbert Gray, Arthur Preston, Knott Proctor, George Slover, Merton Summerville, Herbert Smith, Will Scarborough, Hobson Sigmon, John Swain, George Wheeler, Robert Gray, Earl Wolfenden and John Wallace.

After a violin solo by Major J. D. E. Meyer the school prizes were delivered as follows:

In the department of penmanship to Cadet Frank Harris, by Captain Jorgenson.

The prize to the neatest cadet, to Willie Morgan, delivered by Major A. Nalle.

The prize in the department of music to Cadet Willie Morgan by Captain Spiker.

The prize in the commercial department to Wilbur McFarland delivered by Captain Jorgenson.

Died.

Near Siler City, May 19th 1913 at the age of 53 years, 5 months and 20 days, Mrs. Cornelia Teague wife of Richard Teague to whom she was married March 18th 1885. Her husband, two sisters, her mother and four children survive her. A good christian woman and a kind and affectionate mother. Funeral and interment at Pleasant Hill church conducted by Rev. J. W. Holt, assisted by Rev. Mr. Bowman.

A READER says: "I want to get some long-leaf pines on my lawn. Is it safer to plant the seed or the young trees?" If you will go into the woods and mark a lot of young trees that have just made a long plume above ground, and with a sharp spade run under them about six inches, so as to cut the tap-root. Then let them stand another year, and they will have developed later roots and can be lifted in the spring and transplanted. But you cannot take a young long-leaf pine from the woods at once and have it live, for they have nothing but a straight tap-root. But after the tap-root is cut they will put out lateral roots, and can be transplanted. You can grow them from the seed by sowing in a shaded bed. They will not stand the full sun when young. In the woods the wire grass shades them till they are strong enough to stand the sun. Nurserymen who grow pines and other coniferous trees from seed sow the seed under brush arbors, cut the tap-roots and transplant into nursery rows and develop a strong mass of roots for the final transplanting.—Progressive Farmer.

McNinch Hears that Gov. Craig May Run.

Washington, May 23.—"I have heard a great many people in North Carolina speak of Governor Craig as a possible candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Lee S. Overman," said F. R. McNinch, of Charlotte, who is here attending to legal business before the interstate commerce commission. "Whether the governor really enters the race or not, I should think, would depend upon what success he has in securing better freight rates in the state. Should the governor and E. J. Justice be successful in their efforts along this line and decide to run for the senate, there are a mighty heap of people who would vote for either one of them."

Mr. McNinch said he did not know that Governor Craig would run. His information was obtained from numerous sources, mostly among merchants and shippers of freight, who are talking the governor for the senatorial toga now held by the junior senator. Mr. McNinch does not believe however, that it will be an easy matter to defeat Mr. Overman.
