Greensboro Defeats Burlington.

After a wait of about one hour and a half due to a punctured tire the Greensboro baseball team arrived at the Piedmont Park last Saturday afternoon and played the local team to the tune of 4 to 1 in favor of Greensboro. The game was really better than the score would indicate and while the pitching of Mitchell for Burlington was fairly good had Evans been able to have been in the box we would have won the victory, and like Commodore Perry of historical fame returned and announced the glad tidings. "We have won the enemy and he is ours." The Greensboro team played snappy ball and deserved much praise for base stealing. The game was umpired by James Rosemond of Hillsboro.

LaFayette Cox Killed By An Electric Shock.

Salisbury, N. C., June 15. — La Fayette Cox, aged 30 years, engaged in helping erect an automatic signal line for the Southern Railway between Spencer and Charlotte, was electrocuted eight miles south of this city today by touching a live wire on a pole which he had climbed. Forty-four hundred volts passed through his body when he grasped the wire. His home was at Paw Creek, near Charlotte.

There were no burns or bruises on the body, but it is the general opinion that the man came in contact with a heavy voltage of electricity. A death certificate signed by a physician, gave electric shock as the cause of death. Mr. Cox lived at Huntersville. His father came here tonight to look after the body.

Mr. L. W. Cates Loses Nice Colt.

Mr. L. W. Cates while leading his beautiful bay colt on Front street Saturday evening happened with a very serious accident when the colt became frightened and reared, being tightly reigned with an overcheck became overbalanced and fell fracturing his skull from which it died instantly. The colt was very beautiful of which Mr. Cates was very fond having fed it with a bottle.

Dr. Crawford is pharmacist and manager of the City Drug Co. and although he has been a resident of our town only about a year has many friends who wish him much happiness during his married career. Mrs. Crawford will be extended a most cordial welcome to our town.

Woman and Her Hat.

(London Opinion)
Woman cannot stick a hat on her head as you stick a stamp on a letter. There is an ingenious machine that sticks stamps on letters at the rate of several thousand an hour. But nobody has invented a machine for sticking hats on the heads of women.

A man can buy a hat in five minutes, but no woman would dream of buying a hat in less than an hour. Often a woman will acquire a splitting headache in an attempt to find one hat to suit her out of a hundred, and not seldom she carries away the headache without a hat on it.

The hat hunt is only a small part of the daily agony of shopping, and yet a man would rather cut his throat than engage in a hat hunt as a dispassionate spectator. Men prefer to hunt for fox on the stag, the tiger or the lion, the grizzly or the grouse. A tiger hunt is not nearly so perilous as a hat hunt.

Fifteen Gallons Seized.

Spencer, June 16. — Acting upon information that a shipment of liquor had reached the depot at Spencer, Sheriff J. H. Mc Kenize and Deputy James Krider this afternoon seized fifteen gallons of whiskey in the office of the Southern Express Company here. The shipment was addressed to John Carr and others. Carr declined to own the shipment and escaped. Sheriff Mc Kenize is working on a clue to several other parties supposed to be implicated as the shipments exceeded the amount allowed by law.

R. F. F. D. No. 8

Miss Daisy Wyatte of No. 8 spent Saturday and Sunday visiting Miss Mary Hayes. Glad to have the young lady with us. She must get her good looks from her mother, for she certainly did not get em from her "Daddy."

Miss Grace Somers has been on the sick list for a few days. Hope she will soon be able to be out for. We miss her.

Thanks to our good friends who remembered that our cabbage patch is late.

Seems like we heard a noise from Altamahaw No. 2 last week. That carriers passes. Frank Barbers box about 1-2 hour a head of us. That accounts for the fact that we failed to get any rabbits or anything out of that box for the last six months. He beats me to it every time. We wonder what he does with the stuff, he gets. He has no wife and orphans to carry it home to. We will have to investigate.

Miss Addie King spent last on No. 2 visiting her uncle, Wm. Boon. We are sorry to hear that Mr. Boon still continues very sick.

E. W. Ross is painting his house. Hulps the looks quite a last.

J. D. Simpson is home looking after his wheat crop and other things.

Mrs. J. P. King is spending a month in Danville, Va. with her husband who is painting there. She returned home Tuesday.

The farmers on No. 8 have about finished cutting their wheat. Wheat is better this than the ark age.

Mrs. Frank Clark of Greensboro spent Sunday at J. O. Elington.

Mrs. Jack Hughes of Greensboro is visiting at John Meachems this year.

We hope our friends will look after some of those bad mud holes ruts in our road now. They are getting very bad.

With The City Father.

The Board of Alderman met Monday night in their regular semi-monthly meeting. In compliance to the request of numerous citizen for improved telephone service Mr. Sphere of Charlotte was present and submitted a formal contract to board for their approval or rejection. The board did not accept the proposition submitted but left it off for further investigation. Just believing that not only should the common Battery be placed in our town but also the wives should be put under ground to this request the Southern Bell telephone company answered that the remuneration received from the service at this place would not justify them in putting in this under ground wire system. A petition was raised asking that a concert side walk be placed on Webb Ave. extending the present side walk to Webb Av. church, the property owners agreed to pay half the expense for same petition was granted an application was read asking of all boarding or Hotels with ten or more rooms be granted license to operate a pool room and that this be granted Piedmont Hotel. The board left this matter unsettled till another meeting. The matter of paying Gilbert C. White, the balance of $32.00 due for engineering caused much discussion certain member of the board believing that gross errors had been committed by Mr. White that this amount should not be paid other member believing that it should be paid.

The raising of the salary of certain officers was next taken up it was agreed to raise the Mayors salary from 400 to 600 per year and allow him fees as here to fore.

Greatly increasing his present duties the Chairman of the Water Light Power & Commission was allowed $6.00 per month the other two members each $4.00 being necessary by the board to pay the officials in order to keep wood men on the board as was expressed by one of the fathers "the reason we don't get any thing done we don't pay anything for it." A motion was made by Mr. Jas. King that the Mayor's Hall be put in an sanitary condition and that two nice offices be arranged in the rear for the conveniences of the Mayor the tax collector and that the office of the Water Light and Power Commission be moved to this place as was advised by the Secretary the finances were in good shape at present but that certain expense would be necessary the first of the month and in his opinion would be necessary to borrow $1,000.

Rev. J. D. Andrew made a short speech to the board thanking them for pass courtesies and placed the board in their dignity keep the town in a good moral condition and high standing of city righteousness.

The First National Bank

Nice Deposit.

The Secretary of the Treasury of the United States recently announced that his department would increase the deposit of public money of the Government in National Banks. Last week this bank having been designated a "Depository for Public Funds" of the Government received from the Treasury of the United States the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars as a first deposit. Only seventeen banks in the state were so designated and received a portion of the amount distributed. We are glad to know that, in distributing this money over the country, the Treasury Department at Washington, recognizing the strength and progressiveness of this bank and the importance and prosperity of this Country, saw proper to allow this amount to our National Bank. Since their organization in 1907 no bank in the country has shown more rapid and substantial growth than this bank. They have a capital of $60,000.00 and assets around $350,000.00, or about six times their capital. They own their four story banking and office building the largest, best equipped and most beautiful building of the kind in the county. Their Board of Directors is composed of some of the very best business men of the City, men who, by their own efforts, have been successful in business and accumulated property. A great deal of their time and personal attention is given to the bank and its interests. This bank has been of much benefit to the community in assisting public enterprises as well as deserving individuals. Their progressive, liberal and conservative methods of business have won for them the good will and patronage of a large number of friends. An institution of this kind, always looking and striving for the upbuilding of the town and county as well as their own individual profit, appreciating and assisting the small customer or borrower, realizing that the small farmer or business man is as much entitled to credit as the man of larger means, is of great value to any community and should be liberally patronized. We congratulate the officers and directors of this good bank, who by their untiring efforts, have built up such a strong and popular business and we believe that greater prosperity is ahead of them.

33 persons about equally divided six took, the civil service examination Saturday in the room of the Carolina Business College over the Holt-Cates Store. The examination continued for 4 hours from 9 to one civil many of those who took examination finished the work in much shorter time, the examination as is generally reported by those who took it was comparatively easy. The examination conducted by the local examiners organization and was under the direct charge of Mr. J. C. Jones and Miss Maude Gunter. This examination was held for the purpose of securing eligibles from which to select or more clerks in the Burlington Post Office.

Mrs. A. C. Coble, of Burlington, R. F. D. No. 10 who has been the guest of her son, Mr. R. A. Coble and family, has returned home.

Immensity of Big Camp Makes

Enormous Amount of Work and Expense, But Everything Will Be in Readiness for Reception of Veterans of the Blue and Gray.

The days are fast approaching for the great encampment of the Blue and Gray at Gettysburg and in the battlefield town all is bustle. Great are the preparations being made and weather permitting, the biggest crowd will be on the field since the battle. An idea of the provisions being made may the following items:

Every item connected with the celebration runs into startling figures when provision has to be made for 40,000 veterans. For example it was at first contemplated to spread tables at which all could be seated, but it found that this would require 40 acres of ground, which would have to be leased from private owners. The tables alone would cost $75,000. Therefore tables alone 40 feet long will be established in the rear of each two rows of tents and connecting with the kitchen. These will seat 20 on a side, with one on each end, and with the meal hours extending over an hour and a half for each, all can be served without crowding or hurry.

Fourteen refrigerator cars will be required to bring the meat and other perishable food and serve as storehouses during the Encampment. It will require three carloads of ice cream to furnish all that will be supplied on the Fourth of July. The amount of fresh beef contracted for is 130,000 pounds, with 20,000 pounds of fresh pork, 15,000 pounds of bacon, 20,000 pounds of corned beef, 165,000 pounds of flour, 180,000 pounds of potatoes, 10,000 pounds of onions, 14,000 pounds of coffee and 35,000 pounds of sugar.

There will be two basins supplied for each tent, and 30,000 pegs will be required for these alone. Each tent will require 56 pegs, making over 30,000,000 for the 5,500 tents. There will be 70 miles of ditches around the tents and 70 miles of main ditches connected with these, making altogether 140 miles of trenches.

A brigade of 1,900 cooks will be required to prepare the rations. At the head of these will be cooks from the regular army, trained in preparing great quantities of food and in handling the culinary force. Not enough cooks could be spared for the camp, and it is expected to bring in cooks who have had experience in National Guard encampments, and others of similar experience. The head cooks will arrive June 27 and begin their preparations, and other cooks June 28, and the work of issuing rations will commence with supper, June 29. The washing of the dishes will be an immense job and will be provided for by a crew especially selected and assigned to the work.

Gettysburg Menu

That the old soldiers will be well cared for in the matter of eatables is a foregone conclusion. The bill of fare is one of good substantial food, different from wartime menu in many ways, having a greater variety and not such an abundance of beans. Just glimpse this list that will be in fashion from supper of Sunday, June 29th, to breakfast of July 6th Monday.

Salmon, Beef, Chickens, Muttons, Pork, Cold and Cured Meats, Beans, Peas, Onions, Tomatoes, Turnips, White and Sweet Potatoes, Prunes, Apricots, Oatmeal, Rice, Tapioca, Apple, Sauce Puddings, Fried Mash, Eggs, Macaroni, Cucumber, Pickles, Bread, Butter, Cakes, Pie, Coffee, Milk, Iced Tea, Ice Cream, Cigars.

Just Pie.

Progressive News Service.

Munsey Building,
Washington, D. C.
June 13, 1913.

The Progressives in the House of Representatives have promptly seized the opportunity offered by President Wilson's insistence upon the enactment of a currency bill at this session to emphasize the fight they are making for genuine publicity in the public business. At the first meeting of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, Mr. Lindbergh, of Minnesota, the only Progressive on the committee, submitted a motion that all meetings of the committee thereafter should be open to the public. This included the publication of the record of all votes in the committee. This committee is composed of fourteen Democrats, six Republicans and one Progressive Mr. Neeley, of Kansas, a Democrat, promptly moved to lay Mr. Lindbergh's motion on the table. There has been so much agitation on the question of publicity, however, and the Democrats are so thoroughly committed by their promises and their declarations to the principle, although in practice they have steadily disregarded it, that the majority members of the committee were not ready to take the drastic action proposed by Mr. Neeley. They sought to get around it by appointing a sub-committee composed of Mr. Bulkeley, of Ohio, Mr. Wingo, of Arkansas, Mr. Seldomridge, of Colorado, Democrats; and Mr. Platt, of New York, and Mr. Smith, of Minnesota, Republicans, to hold hearings on Mr. Lindbergh's motion and recommend a course of action to the full committee.

The sub-committee met on June 10th, with four of its members present, Mr. Seldomridge being in Panama. Mr. Lindbergh spoke for the better part of an hour in behalf of his proposition. He urged the adoption of his motion on the broad ground of the right of the people to know what their representatives in Congress are doing at all stages of Congressional work.

It is, of course, well known to persons familiar with the work of Congress that a very large and important part of it is accomplished in committees, it has been possible to accomplish a great many undesirable things in years gone by which would never have been possible if committee meetings were open and if the public were able at all times to know what went on in committee meetings.

The fight the Progressives are making for open meetings is the first consistent and sustained effort that has been made along this line. It aims to accomplish probably the greatest single reform in Congressional procedure that could be accomplished, the reform which will be of the greatest benefit to the whole country in the way of securing honest, faithful and disinterested consideration of public measures.

After having spoken some time, Mr. Lindbergh was subjected to a considerable cross-examination by the Democratic members of the full committee who were present. Mr. Korbly, of Indiana, who is the ranking Democrat on the committee, spoke for some time in opposition to the motion. He had a difficult task in view of the general Democratic pronouncement in favor of publicity and especially in view of the repeated declarations of the President and of the Cabinet that the policy of the Administration was "pitiless publicity" as to all governmental affairs. Mr. Korbly argued at some length that the physical difficulty in the way of opening the meetings of the Banking and Currency Committee to the public was such as to preclude the possibility. He contended that the meetings would be overrun with all kinds of ideas on the currency and that the committee would never be able to accomplish any work. Although Mr. Korbly did not say so, this comes in fact very close to the heart of

Just Freight Rate Fight.

The chamber of commerce decided on a separate organization to carry on the fight for just freight rates. Nash and Edgecombe counties were assessed $300 to carry on the fight. There is little doubt but that this amount will be quickly subscribed for Rock Mount in the fight. —Rocky Mount Telegram.

Outrageous Tax on Industry.

Five million dollars a year collected by the railroads out of North Carolina in excess of what they earn is an outrageous tax upon industry and enterprise. It adds tremendously to the high cost of living and it ought to be ended. The fight to secure justice is a fight which concerns the whole people and they should be active in their work to secure and end the intolerable conditions which affect this state. —Raleigh News and Observer.

Why Popcorn Pops.

Why does popcorn pop? The Department of Agriculture answers the question which was propounded to it by a small boy. Popcorn pops by reason of the violation of the oil contained in the kernel by heat. Field corn does not pop because the outer portion of the kernel is more porous, permitting the escape of the oil as it volatilizes, while in the case of popcorn, a great pressure is developed in the kernel by the confined oil and the kernel is suddenly turned wrong side out. —Boston Herald.

THE ROOSEVELT LIBEL

SUIT

The last summer during the Presidential campaign reports in the form of personal gossip were widely circulated throughout the country to the effect that Mr. Roosevelt habitually drank to such excess that he was frequently incapacitated for work. Some of this gossip was the product of malevolence, some of it the product of foolish ignorance and credulity and some of it the product of political malice. When the rumors were circulated from the latter motive, they unquestionably had some effect, for many of the supporters of Mr. Roosevelt who did not know him personally were greatly disturbed by these stories. Scores of letters were received by The Outlook during the campaign either anxiously inquiring about these rumors or bitterly attacking Mr. Roosevelt because of them. Honest inquirers were always answered with a statement of the facts, but personal letters and personal assertions were powerless to put an end to the gossip.

In the latter part of the summer Mr. Roosevelt came to the conclusion that it was his duty, however unpleasant, to put an end to this unwholesome gossip by having the question settled once for all in a court of law. This seemed to him to be not only his duty to himself and his family, but a duty to the country. It has been a matter of shame and regret to all decent Americans that their Presidents from the time of Washington down to the present have been victims of insidious gossip against their private and moral characters. In our own time Grant, Garfield, and Cleveland were marked sufferers in this respect. Mr. Roosevelt discussed this matter frequently and in detail with his associates in the office of The Outlook and it is therefore possible for the writer of this article to say definitely just what Mr. Roosevelt's attitude was toward this libel suit even before the libel suit was brought.

Before the slanders were brought into court it was necessary to wait until some newspaper of recognized responsibility made a definite charge. The occasion came in October, 1912. In that month George A. Newett, of Ishpeming, Michigan, the editor and publisher of a weekly newspaper in that small but prosperous city, stated editorially in his paper that Mr. Roosevelt habitually got drunk and that all his intimates knew it, and added that he was also guilty of habitual and disgusting blasphemy. Finding on investigation that Mr. Newett was a man of responsible standing in his community and was a man of property, a libel suit was immediately brought against him by Mr. Roosevelt.

The case came to trial on Monday, May 28, in the Circuit Court of Michigan at the city of Marquette, county seat of Marquette County. The defendant, Newett, charged not only that Mr. Roosevelt was guilty of habitual drunkenness, but that all his intimate friends knew it. When the court convened on Monday afternoon, a party of nearly thirty of Mr. Roosevelt's most intimate associates and friends were present, eager to testify that they did not know of his drinking to excess but did know that he was an unusually abstemious and temperate man. Since Judge Flannigan, who presided over the trial, in his charge to the jury at the conclusion of the case, referred to the testimony in behalf of Mr. Roosevelt as coming from "a long list of witnesses of high character and unimpeachable credibility," a record of the case would not be complete without the brief summary of the names and standing of these men. They included Jacob A. Kiss, the well-known sociologist and philanthropist; Dr. Alexander Lambert, for many years Mr. Roosevelt's family physician; Dr. P. M. Rixey, Surgeon-General of the United States Navy retired; James R. Garfield, son of President Garfield and ex-Secretary of the Interior; Robert Racon, ex-Secretary of State for the United States and ex-Ambassador to France, who was a classmate of Mr. Roosevelt at Harvard and has been his lifelong friend; Gifford Pinchot, ex-Forester of the United States; Truman H. Newberry, ex-Secretary of the Navy; William Loeb, Jr., Collector of the Port of the City of New York and formerly Mr. Roosevelt's private secretary while he was Governor of the State of New York and while he was President; Lawrence F. Abbott, President of the Outlook Company; W. Emlen Roosevelt, the head of one of the oldest banking firms in the city of New York, and a cousin of Theodore Roosevelt; Gilson Gardner, a well-known newspaper correspondent, who was familiar with every personal detail of Mr. Roosevelt's Presidential career, and who traveled with Mr. Roosevelt during his European trip in 1910; Lucius F. Curtis, a representative of the Associated Press, who in that capacity had accompanied Mr. Roosevelt on many of his political trips in this country during the last three years; Judge A. Z. Blair, a noted temperance worker of the State of Ohio, who achieved distinction a year or so ago by disfranchising while on the bench a great body of voters of Adams County, Ohio, for bribery and corruption; John Callan O'Laughlin, formerly an Assistant Secretary of State and now Washington correspondent of the Chicago "Tribune"; Philip Roosevelt, a young cousin of Theodore Roosevelt, who has accompanied him as an aide on many of his political trips in this country; Edwin Emerson, Jr., formerly a member of the "Rough Riders," who had acted as regimental clerk for Mr. Roosevelt in the Spanish War; Oscar K. Davis, one of the best known of the Washington newspaper correspondents, now Secretary of the National Progressive Committee in Washington; Charles W. Thompson, a representative of the New York "Times"; Edward Heller, the Naturalist at the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, who accompanied Mr. Roosevelt on his African hunting trip to prepare the skins and specimens obtained for that institution; Andrew W. Abele, an Ohio business man, at one time a miner and a locomotive fireman, who had traveled with Mr. Roosevelt on some of his political campaign trips; Frank H. Tyree, formerly the United States Secret Service when Mr. Roosevelt was President and now United States Marshall in West Virginia; William P. Schaufele, a railway man of Ohio, had charge of the special train that carried Mr. Roosevelt through the State of Ohio last year on a political speaking tour; James Sloane, of the United States Secret Service, who had been associated with Mr. Tyree as a member of the President's personal body-guard during the Roosevelt Administration; and Regis H. Post, ex-Governor of Porto Rico, who was a member of the New York Assembly when Mr. Roosevelt was Governor and has been actively associated with him in recent political campaigns.

In addition to the personal testimony of these witnesses de-by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, the sound vibrations are intercepted, and it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Present Prosperity.

From childhood, we have learned from our teachers and by example that a National administration of government by the democratic party always means trouble with industrial conditions and financial stability. During the past week Mr. J. Bryan Grimes, Sec. of State offered to the bond buying public $140,000.00 of N. C. 4 per cent non taxable improvement bonds, but we fear they should be called deficit bonds to cover the three-fourths million dollars deficit that was incurred during the last two years of Governor Kitchen's administration. Let's go back to the first question. Of this bond issue, only $154,000.00 was sold, this amount being taken by North Carolinians and local banks, not one subscription was received from beyond the boundaries of our own State.

The strongest thing of it all is that Mr. Grimes before he has even been approached by any of his opponents he goes into an elaborate explanation in an effort to defend the present depressed condition of the money market in America. He explains this condition by saying that it is not near so bad as conditions were in 1907, when "Scrip" was issued by many of the banks of N. C. to tide them over their then financial condition. He adds further that France, Germany and England are even more handicapped at the present than ever before, and if it was not for these depressed conditions abroad we would have no trouble at home, although conditions are not so bad here as we think they are to be. In other words he follows the theory of the Christian Scientist. They believe that no person ever becomes sick. Sick-ness being only a condition of the mind, the remedy is therefore believe yourself to be well and all trouble at once passes away. So is the Secretary of State. He says to the money interest of America believe everything to be safe and sane and you will buy N. C. bonds and all other good securities that may be offered from time to time. In other words he is preaching the doctrine that faith will perform the same mission with the Soul of the money king and will in the heart of a consecrated christian believer. We have read lots of funny explanations and uncalled for statements but we have never read or heard of any that is so ridiculous and uncalled for as that made by Mr. Grimes.

It is said that a guilty conscience need no accuser, we believe that this statement applies in this case with full force. We are still living in hope that the day may dawn and the sun shine bright and fair on a people that are true enough to their country and honest enough with themselves to cast aside all their prejudices that they hold against former conditions, and step into the light of this new day and save our State and Nation into a just and worthy people who are in the majority but now controlled by a minority.

Our Nine.

For over a year Burlington people have been making a continual request with the Southern Bell Tel. Co. to place in our town a Central Battery Telephone System. After much delay this company has acceded to this request. In granting this request they have offered us the best equipment that money can buy and we believe have made a very liberal proposition as affecting telephone rates to local subscribers, but strange to say when presented to the Board of Aldermen for a ratification of a new franchise the matter has been referred to a number of committees and been unnecessarily delayed. After the facts had all been stated again at the meeting last Monday night the board without any consideration for the company without any regard for the people they served moved the tabeling of this franchise until the next meeting of the board. Why this was done they did not explain, but the only presumption that can be drawn is that they wish to waste another meeting of the board and nothing be done.

The new board of aldermen has now been in power about six weeks, and what they have done towards reform or retrenchment in not a matter of a record, all that we can find is that they have wasted these meetings in oiling the old machine, and putting on the same old cranks that were on this instrument in former times and creating new officers and supplying these new vacancies and we understand are now considering the advisability of increasing the salaries of several of their present officers which will continue the increase on the floating indebtedness of our town annually, but wise indeed they are, they have decided in Tammany Hall if not in regular session to meet this continuous deficit it is necessary to increase the tax rate 25c on the hundred, thus making our total tax rate for the town $1.75.

It seems to us that the importance of the situation demands of the Board of Aldermen that they hold out every inducement possible to cause increased capital to invest within our borders. If present conditions continue and the present efficient board continue to administer our municipal interest. It is only a question of time when failure shall walk in at the front door of every property owner in Burlington. If the policy of the Board is to continue for the next twenty-two and one half months as it has for this beginning period, we are in favor of paying their salary now discharging every member and turning over the affairs of the town to some outside party. The putting off of any important matter is a serious mistake, because it means a loss of that much development along the line proposed and it prevents just consideration being given to other matters that should have the attention of the Board.

We are speaking this to the Board of Aldermen as a friend, who is interested not only in their individual but collective welfare, therefore, any mistake that the Board of Aldermen makes reacts not only upon themselves but upon every citizen of the town. Therefore, gentlemen you must be zealous in your business progressive in your acts and enthusiastic in the cause if you wish to reap a just reward.

Trusting that you may never again serve as nine lost sheep wandering upon the hill sides of a municipal Mountain Range filled with many canyons and crowded with many snow capped peaks to which we presume you are wending your way but we hope you may take new heart and press forward a little more zealously than you ever have before.

Severe Strain on Farmers.

Old farmers can hardly recall a year in which the strain upon the cotton crop has been greater than that which has marked this spring. Yet, though the crop is easily two weeks late, possibly three, it looks well and needs only the renewal of hot weather, with plenty of sunshine, to make it a good one. The phenomenally cool weather which has prevailed for two or three days has been the third strain upon the crop, late planting being the first and the May drought the second. But the farmers are in good spirits and they know what a hardy cotton is, to stand all the hard knocks it gets. -Raleigh Times.

Real Examination Was Held.

That must have been a real examination that the examination board of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical association provided to fail 42 out of 72 applicants for license. -Rocky Mount Transcript.

the matter from the Democratic point of view. They know that among themselves there are a great many different ideas as to what ought to be done. The President has recognized that fact and is himself directing the preparation of the currency bill which in due time will be brought to light in the House as the Administration measure and which the Administration will endeavor to force through as it is now forcing through the tariff bill.

Mr. Murdock, the Progressive floor leader in the House, and Representative Kelly, a Progressive from Pennsylvania, also supported the Lindberg motion in rather extended arguments. Mr. Woods, of Iowa, a Republican and a member of the Committee on Banking and Currency, gave half-hearted support to Mr. Limbergh's motion. He argued that at least the committee should provide for the publication of all votes taken in the committee.

The Senate investigation of President Wilson's charge that a strong tariff lobby is at work is a good thing as far as it goes but it does not go far enough. It ought to include also the pre-poration of the bill in the House. There have been numerous indications that special interests were potential in the preparation of the bill in the House, although in this case they represented importers, whereas in the preparation of Republican bills they represented manufacturers. The principle is, of course, the same. The method employed by the House committee was such as inevitably to lead to a good deal of pressure upon Senators for changes in the bill. Numerous small manufacturers who were unable to secure any information as to the provisions of the bill touching their business until after it had left the Democratic caucus, found when they came to Washington that it was impossible to secure any change in the House, but they were told, upon appealing to Mr. Underwood and other members of the Ways and Means Committee, that no opposition would be made by the House to the adoption of reasonable amendments by the Senate. Naturally, this turned all these manufacturers to the Senate, where they are now met by the investigation instigated by the President. This adroit manipulation of the matter by the Democratic leaders is calculated to give the appearance of a genuine effect to put through a bill uninfluenced by special interests while, in fact it covers up any special work that may have been done in the preparation of the bill in the House. It would be extremely interesting to see a thorough and conscientious investigation of the making of the bill in the House as well as of the alleged lobbying in the Senate.

Maj. Hale The Guest of Secretary Bryan

Washington, June 14. - Maj. E. J. Hale, of Fayetteville, the newly appointed minister to Costa Rica, is here the guest of State William Jennings Bryan. Maj. Hale will remain in Washington until his confirmation is made by the senate and will then receive his instructions from the state department.

He will not sail for the South American country for about six weeks.

Maj. Hale expressed great delight with the assignment picked out for him by his personal friend Bryan.

He said tonight that he had much rather have the Costa Rican post than any other assignment that could have been offered him.

"I am a poor man," said veteran editor, "and an appointment to most any other country would have been an impossibility for a man of my means. The cost of living in Costa Rica is not high and the climate is most delightful."

Is it Safe to Trust A Trust Company?

That is the first thing you would ask if you thought about appointing us as Executor of your will.

Here are a few reasons why the answer is "YES":

In the State of North Carolina a trust company is under the constant supervision of the North Carolina Corporation Commission.

Four or five times each year, upon call, a full statement of the company is made to the Corporation Commission.

Twice a year a thorough examination of the company is made by the State Bank Examiners, appointed by the State for that work.

The Trust Funds handled by a trust company in this State are required to be kept entirely separate from its other assets, thus insuring absolute safety at all times.

We will give you other reasons next week. In the meantime come in to see us.

Charged With Crime He Often Punished.

Durham, June 10.—The trail of the case against A. W. Moye, former United States commissioner, charged with retaining, was continued this morning for another week, the State requesting that the continuance be made on account of the absence of one of the witnesses. The case has been one of the most interesting that has been called for trial before the recorder in that the defendant is a prominent citizen of the city and held the Federal position before the appointment of B. S. Skinner and has probably tried more retailing cases than any other man in the city, expecting the recorder.
Mr. Moye is charged with soliciting orders for a whiskey and beer supply house in Richmond and the warrant also brings in the charge of retailing in that Mr. Moye delivered the bill of lading and made the collections for the whiskey. The evidence in that case came out during the recent trial of one of the keepers of the beer-beer saloons.

Deputy Collectors.

Asheville, June 12.—Reuben McBrayer, of Asheville and Briscoe R. Boulden and George P. Crutchfield, of Greensboro have been appointed deputy collectors in the internal revenue department and have been assigned to work under the direct of Internal Revenue Agent R. B. Sams, the supervisor of the two Carolinas.

Eugene Maggi and his wife believed to be the wealthiest persons in Switzerland committed suicide, their act being actuated by sheer lack of interest in life. The joint estate of the man and woman were estimated some time ago at $10,000,000. They retired to their villa here turned on the gas and were found dead in the morning.

Armless Girl Does Things.

(From Popular Mechanics.)
A remarkable demonstration of the control the mind has over the body is provided by Miss Kittie M. Smith, an armless Chicago girl, who uses her feet to do the things the average person accomplishes with the hands. So adept has Miss Smith become that she makes cabinets, book-cases, desks, and like furniture, using with skill all the necessary tools, such as saws, chisels, planes, &c. In nailing, however she uses a hatchet instead of hammer, as the shape of the handle is better adapted for a tight clutch between the toes. Miss Smith also sketches with pen and pencil, does excellent needlework and uses a typewriter for her correspondence. The daily task of making a toilet, including brushing her teeth and washing her face, is done with comparative ease. She is also an adept gardener, using all ordinary implements with her toes, in the garden of the home for disabled children, which she has founded at Maywood, a Chicago suburb.

It's Burlington testimony. It can be investigated.
Mrs. Bertha Stanfield, 1015 Dixie St., Burlington, N. C. says: "The endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills before, was correct. I am glad to confirm it now. I was in bad shape with backache and had trouble in straightening after stooping. I was also bothered by nervous spells. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and got some. They helped me in every way. The pains left and my kidneys became normal."

Burned Money is A Real Sign of Frost.

Blaine, W. V., June 12. Despite the growing confidence of the public in the stability of banks, thousands of people of the United States, still incredulous, bury their savings in the ground or hide them in the oven of cookstoves for safe keeping according to United States Treasurer John Burke in an address before the convention of the West Virginia Bankers' association.
"Every fall," said Mr. Burke, "the treasurer's office receives many fragments of burned paper money which had been stored in stoves during the warm weather and the hiding places forgotten until the awful discovery of the charred bits raked out after the fires have been built with the approach of frost. About 2,000 such cases are received yearly. This is the treasurer's means of tracing the frost line from Canada to the gulf."

TROUBLES OF BUSTER

Mailing Clerk Tells Why his Dander is Up.

Paul H. Brown, better known in Charlotte as "Buster Brown" who is connected with the circulation department of The Observer, is in trouble. When the bunch hit the male pen last night they found the Pilot Mountain giant occupying three chairs and slinging proof sheets in every direction.

"What's wrong, Buster?" asked Groome, the latest addition in the city room.

"I'm mad—fighting mad" answered Buster, as he bit a cigar half in twain.

"Wherefore?"

"Well, it's this way," answered the modern Goliath. "You know we have two or three subscribers on our mailing list and during the run of a week a few people will want their address changed from some place to another town, and here tonight I get two letters signed by the same identical name of Brown—just like my name—same initials one wanting his paper to go to Montreal and the other wanting his at Hendersonville. I have looked over our entire Brown list and we have over a hundred and there are seven initials but where the trouble comes in is that they don't say where they want their paper changed from. They just say:

"Please change my paper to" and leave the rest for me to guess.

"I know they just forget" and don't intend to cause trouble but I have to write each person a letter asking him where he came from. Sometimes we get 20 to 30 a week just like the one we got tonight and it is some job looking them up."

After unburdening his mind in the above fashion, Buster waded up his proof sheets, pulled his hat down over his eyes, kicked over the chairs and waded out into the dark.

Keep Still

Keep still. When trouble is brewing, keep still. When slander is getting on its legs, keep still. When your feelings are hurt, keep still, till you recover from your excitement at any rate. Things look different through an agitated eye. In a commotion once I wrote a letter and sent it, and wished I had not. In my later years I had another commotion, and wrote a long letter; but life rubbed a little sense into me, and I kept that letter in my pocket against the day when I could look it over without agitation and without tears. I was glad I did. Less and less it seemed necessary to send it. I was not sure it would do any hurt, but in my doubtfulness I leaned to reticence, and eventually it was destroyed.

Time works wonders. Wait till you speak calmly, and then you will not need to speak, it may be. Silence is the most massive thing conceivable sometimes. It is strength in very grandeur. It is like a regiment ordered to stand still in the mad fury of battle. To plunge in were twice as easy.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Household.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and depression, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my household work.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I finally believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

Write for Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on how to use Cardui. This is the only reliable information for women's health.

Building and Loan Hold Tenets

Meeting.

The annual meeting of the North Carolina Building and Loan League was held at this place Wednesday and Thursday at the Piedmont park and the Piedmont hotel. Owing to the inclement weather only about 40 per cent of the delegates were present. First business session of the day was delivered by Hon. E. S. W. Dameron who told of the achievements and advancement of our enterprises. Hon. Heriot Clarkson of Charlotte made a good address by telling of Greater Charlotte and gave statistics about same. The president of the league was the next speaker Mr. E. L. Keesler of Charlotte made a splendid address emphasizing the selection of delegates to the United States League and helping to defray their expenses, the importance of all associations join the State League and the need of exemption of building and loans from taxation.

The secretary and treasurer Mr. A. G. Craig of Charlotte gave his annual report which showed an increase in receipts of $1,541,000.26 the total number of 131 associations and 17 new members during the year. An interesting talk was made by Mr. J. R. Pharr of Charlotte telling of the benefits received by attending the League. Messrs. J. C. Allison, Raleigh Heriot Clarkson, Charlotte; W. E. Sharpe, Burlington; John Dunn, New Bern; L. A. Martin, Lexington; and E. K. Keesler, Charlotte, were appointed as committees to report on taxation and other important matters.

Messrs. J. M. Cook of Burlington; A. W. Colson of Mooresville, and W. E. Webb of Statesville were appointed to make arrangements for the securing of new members. At this period Mr. Clarkson made quite an interesting response to address of welcome.

Hon. Heriot Clarkson, in his response to the address of welcome said, among other things:

"Now we have a contest before us that should enlist every home lover. To exempt building and loans from taxation. We should get the present Legislature to submit a constitutional Amendment for that purpose. The building and loans should pay no tax. The money is never on hand, but immediately loaned to shareholders and is amutual association, each investor and borrower liable to the losses that may occur. In 1898 I took the case of the Charlotte Building Loan Association against the Building and Loan Association against Commissioners of Mecklenburg County (See 115 N. C. Rep. page 410) to the Supreme Court, claiming that the Capital stock on the mutual holdings was not property, and not subject to taxation. The Supreme Court decided against my contention required that it be taxation. The Supreme Court decided against my contentions, and that the Constitution required that it be taxed. While in the Legislature in 1908, with the help of that able jurist and gentleman, Judge H. G. Connor, we had put in the Revenue Act, and it has been in the act ever since, the following money:

The entire amount of money paid on the shares of stock is calculated and from that is deducted the amount of money paid on the shares of stock borrowed and the balance is returned. This gives us about a 66 2-3 per cent basis for taxation. The night is far spent, the day of redemption is at hand. Taxation on building and loans should be wiped from the statute books of the North Carolina by constitutional amendment. It is right, it is just."

After adjournment the night session began with an address by T. A. Adams of Charlotte, several interesting addresses were delivered at this session which was shown that the chief aim of the Building Loan is to enable the poor to be owners instead of renters and the difference between banks and Building Loans is that banks have capital owned by few while Building Loans profits are shared by all.

On Thursday morning Hon. J. R. Young of Raleigh delivered an address on "The Value of a Uniform System of Accounting." J. M. Cook of this town made an address by telling that every association should become a member of the State League. Quite a number of other interesting addresses were made.

It was decided to send three delegates to the convention at Milwaukee, August 7 and 8, proident to name them later. The committee on resolution expressed their thanks to the local Building and Loan Association, the Piedmont Railway & Electric Co. for the royal entertainment accorded them, and to the local papers for their publicity given them. Especially did they thank W. E. Sharp, J. S. Scott, J. W. Cates and J. M. Cook, committee on arrangements. After the closing session the visitors were banqueted at the Piedmont hotel where a barbecue and Brunswick stew was served.

The automobile procession which was held Wednesday evening was greatly marred by the inclement weather.

The Cultivation of Corn.

Successful corn culture depends as much upon the "know how" as does success in any other business. Of course, a deep, humus-filled soil is the first consideration, but much depends upon the cultivation given the corn after it is up. The farmer who understands and practices the best principles of corn growing, who knows the root-system, the movements of soil moisture and the uses of soil mulches, will make a good corn crop in spite of adverse seasons of rainfall and drought. The one who does not understand these things attributes his failures to the wet weather, the dry weather, the hot weather, the cold weather, or something else the effects of which he should be able to obviate. In the Farm Demonstration Work last season some big crops of corn were made where no rain fell from the time the corn was planted till it was mature. Yet the yield of corn in this country are more dependent upon rainfall during the growing season than upon any one thing else. This should not be.

But let us see that we understand what proper cultivation does. Every good farmer knows that cultivation is to save the moisture, to destroy germinating weed seeds, to liberate plant food and to warm and aerate the soil. If the first two are accomplished the others are too. The successful farmer never allows his soil to become crusted over because he knows that it is then, losing moisture. To prevent this crusting also destroy weed and grass seed that may be coming up in the soil. So we see all that is necessary is to cultivate often enough to keep the soil loose on top. One of the Experiment Stations has found that during very dry hot weather a single corn stalk will take from the soil and evaporate as much as ten quarts of water in one day. It requires about 300 pounds of water to produce one pound of dry matter. So we learn that corn is a crop that requires immense amounts of moisture. Yet, throughout this section, we have sufficient rainfall every year to produce two or three corn crops on all our land. The wise farmer is he who has learned how to catch the rainfall and keep it in the soil until it is needed.

As to depth of cultivation, we must remember that corn belongs to the grass family and therefore has a fine fibrous, extensive root system. By the time corn is a foot high the roots may be lapping between the rows. The roots grow onward through the soil from two to four times as fast as the stalks grow upward. To destroy these roots in cultivation is to cut off the feeding powers of the corn. It very often happens that the soil needs a rather deep stirring while the corn is small and before the roots get out far. If this is the case, it should be given, but care must be taken not to cultivate deeply later. The Indiana Experiment Station has shown that corn cultivated about two inches deep yielded 42.32 bushels; while that cultivated four inches deep yielded only 37.92 bushels. Another station found that shallow cultivation yielded 81.8 bushels per acre, but deep cultivation gave only 74.1 bushels.

As to the number of times to cultivate corn, this will depend upon conditions. The thing to keep in mind is to keep a mulch on the surface until the corn has fully tasseled. In many cases it will pay to cultivate until some of the "silks" begin to turn brown. It is a critical time with corn when it is maturing the grain. It should not be neglected then.
