Alamance County.

Supt. J. B. Robertson Says That School Libraries Grow and That Attention is Paid

Boys and Girls Club.

Alamance county has 80 rural schools—54 white schools and 26 colored. These schools are all housed in frame or brick buildings. Last year the last log house for the white race was abandoned and a most excellent modern frame took its place.

There are five town graded schools in Alamance—Mebane, Haw River, Graham, Burlington and Elon. All have a good system of schools, well housed.

Thirty-two of the rural white schools have two or more rooms and teachers. The value of the rural school property is $62,000. The houses are nearly all furnished with modern desks and other school room equipment.

Alamance has 25 local tax districts. These local tax districts add more than $20,000 annually to the revenue for the schools.

The number of rural libraries in Alamance has grown steadily. There are now 44. And a large part of these have been added to them from time to time by valuable supplements.

These libraries are kept in nice clean bookcases and a classified record made of all the books.

Alamance has a school population in round numbers of 10,000. About one third of this is colored. The terms for the various rural schools for the past year averaged 93 days.

There are in the county three public high schools. And there has been instituted a regular system of graduation from the public schools to the public schools. Last year 70 pupils graduated from the public schools.

The schools of this county do not neglect the boys and girls clubs. The boys' corn club numbers 46 members. Last year, although Alamance helped to make up the extremely dry season, the boys raise from 17 to 102 bushels per acre. The Alamance girls led the state in the production of tomatoes per club member.

Alamance awards a certificate of honor to every student in the county who is neither absent nor tardy each school session. She furnishes a monthly report card to every student that the parent may see monthly the record his child is making. A course of study graded to suit the short rural terms is furnished each and every school.

Alamance employs a superintendent for all his time. Next year she will employ also two assistant superintendents.

Graham, N. C.

grant such recognition. It is, therefore, nothing short of defiance of this country. Many men in President Wilson's position would respond with immediate preparation for intervention.

Discussion of the affair in the Senate discloses the fact that many Senators, including the foremost supporters of the administration, take a very serious view of the situation. Senator Clark, of Wyoming, introduced, and pressed vigorously, a resolution for a Senate investigation of the situation. It required a long and serious appeal by Senator Bacon, Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, the natural spokesman for the administration on such matters, to prevent immediate action on the resolution. In the course of his appeal Senator Bacon admitted that Governor Lind's mission was likely to fail and that its failure almost inevitably meant armed intervention.

General Huerta's official announcement, that Governor Lind's presence in Mexico would not be desirable, is followed by an astonishing official statement by the Governor of the Federal District, in which Mexico City is situated, to the effect that he can provide no guarantee for the personal safety of Governor Lind in that city. These two formal announcements by high Mexican officials present a situation which may easily and shortly compel this government to resort to armed intervention.

President Wilson is Meeting with slow but steady success in his legislative program. Discussion on the tariff bill in the Senate is dragging along its weary course at a speed or lack of speed which indicates that we shall be fortunate if the final vote is reached before the latter part of September. This is the fourth week of the entangled consideration of the bill by the Senate and discussion has not yet been concluded upon fourteen schedules. The most controversial are yet to be taken up. In those schedules which have been considered, numerous items have been passed at the request of Senator La Follette, who is evidently preparing to submit his own tariff propositions at one time. It is not at all unlikely that Mr. La Follette's attempt to impress his views on the tariff legislation will consume at least a week.

Rev. A. T. Wright of Red Lion, Pa. preached at the Reformed church Sunday afternoon before a large congregation. He has just returned from the World's Sunday School Convention held this year at Zurich, Switzerland.

Friday last a meeting of the committees from Bethel and Springwood Presbyterian churches was held here. There were present C. A. Wharton, John Paisley, Walter Wharton, Ed. B. Wheeler, John W. Summers, A. Beal and Rev. R. E. Redding. Three locations were considered for the new pastor's manse, and by unanimous vote the location here at Whitsett on Oak Street on the Whitsett-Springwood road was agreed upon. This lot has two acres and beautiful grove. It is hoped to begin work upon the manse at a very early date so that it may be ready for occupancy by the first of December. A local building committee to have the active charge of the work was selected, consisting of W. H. McLean, C. A. Wharton, Ed. B. Wheeler, John W. Summers and Rev. R. E. Redding.

R. O. Walker of Goldsboro is here looking around for a location for a residence. He has part of the material now ready, and will begin building as soon as he has made a choice of a suitable lot. He was once a student here and his return as a citizen gives pleasure to his many friends.

Grover C. Moore of Burlington spent Sunday here with his son. Numbers of our people went to Bethel church Sunday to attend the protracted services now in progress there.

Greeson at their home near Brick Church last week in honor of the home coming of their son, Mr. Horace Greeson who has just returned from Alabama bringing with him his bride. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by the large gathering present.

Whitsett.

At the meeting of the county board of education in Greensboro last Saturday Walter H. McLean of this place was elected as school attendance officer for Rock Creek Township and he will begin taking the census at an early date. All children whose nearest birthday is eight years or more are required by law to attend school for four months continuously from the beginning of the term of school. None of the public schools will open later than October 13th this year, and many of them earlier in order to get in the longer term as provided by law.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and frustration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

Constipation, if Neglected, Causes Serious Illness

Constipation, if neglected, leads to almost innumerable complications affecting the general health.

Many cases of typhoid fever, appendicitis and other severe diseases are traceable to prolonged clogging of the bowels. Regarding the effects of constipation, C. E. Ayers, 6 Sabin St., Montpelier, Vt., says: "I was afflicted with constipation and biliousness for years, and at times became so bad I would become unconscious. I have been found in that condition many times. Physicians did not seem to be able to do me any good. I would become weak and for days at a time could do no work. Not long ago I got a box of Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, and after using them found I had never tried anything that acted in such a mild and effective manner. I believe I have at last found the remedy that suits my case."

Thousands of people are sufferers from habitual constipation and while possibly realizing something of the danger of this condition, yet neglect too long to employ proper curative measures until serious illness often results. The advice of all physicians is, "keep your bowels clean," and it's good advice.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory, your money is returned.

Value of Cover Crops.

1. It prevents loss of soil fertility by washing. Lands that lie bare during the winter may lose more plant food by leaching than is used by the crop that grows there during the summer.
2. It furnishes grazing to stock at a time when food of all kinds is scarce. It also produces health and vigor in animals and keeps up a good flow of milk of dairy cows.
3. If we establish an enduring and prosperous agriculture in the State we shall have to get humus (vegetable or organic matter) into our soils. Growing a winter cover crop is one of doing this. All farmed lands should grow at least two crops per year, a sale crop and a soil improvement crop whether this is left on the land or first fed to the stock and then returned there. A decline in soil fertility is not always due to the absence of nitrogen, potash or phosphoric acid. It is often due to the absence of humus.

There are ten or twelve plants that are suitable for winter growing in North Carolina. One or more of them is adapted to the various soil types and sections of the State. We shall be pleased to enroll all farmers who will carry forward this all important movement.

Cordially yours,
 Raleigh, N. C. C. R. Hudson

Vital Educational Questions Discussed. Publication Bristling With Interest. Free While They Last. New Buildings Approach Completion.

Elon College, N. C. August 8, 1913.

The Vacation Number of the College Bulletin is just from the press of the publishing house here. It is dedicated to the outgoing senior class and stamped blue, the class color. This number is beautified by bright new views of the College building and grounds. The views that will attract most attention are those of the new $26,000 gymnasium for men and the New dormitory for the young ladies, which is to furnish board on the cooperative basis at cost.

But the most remarkable thing connected with this number is the straightforward, frank, masterly way in which the most vital questions of the modern day are discussed. The elective system, specialization, practical education, vocational training, spiritual development these and kindred themes make it a most valuable addition to educational thought.

Dr. W. W. Staley discussed a trite theme in his article on Christian Education, but the discussion is not at all a trite. He gives a new interpretation to the matter and grips the readers interest from the start.

Information from the Presidents Office authorizes your correspondent to state this publication may be had free postpaid while the issue lasts. The Opening Number of the Bulletin is now in the press.

The work on the New West Dormitory is rapidly forging ahead and will be completed before the opening of the fall term. Most of the rooms in it have already been engaged and it bids fair to be most popular centre of college life and spirit. The new water tank is also nearly completed.

Preparations are being made for the Farmers Institut here August 21. It is to have the picnic feature and the farmers' wives and daughters will also have parts of interest to them and helpful to their work, aside from the big dinner they will prepare. The picnic will be on the College Campus and the institute will be held in the Administration building.

Compulsory Education.

The conditions of our education system has reached that point where the people were of the opinion that it was necessary to force an attendance at our Public Schools for the Children ranging from eight to twelve years of age, for a period of four months during each year. This should not have been necessary in as great an industrial nation and as a progressive people as we are, but it is necessary. This law must be enforced, because it is a very necessary condition that now confronts us. It is a sad spectacle to see loafing upon our streets during the regular school months a large number of boys that should be in school attendance. However, additional trouble is confronting us, because many of these boys are over twelve years of age and there is no authority exercised for them except that of their own parents, which in many cases is far lenient. We have carefully observed for the past year and numbered by the hundreds boys of our town and county ranging from the ages of twelve to eighteen who are yearly dropping out of our schools with an incomplete High school education. Not enough to fit them for college much less prepare them for life. When they reach their maturity as far as years in concerned they begin to search very diligently for some good job that extends good pay. There is no job with with good pay for them because they are not qualified for any work except that of the usual day laborer and in many cases they have not been trained for daily toil, or being to unkind treatment of an unthoughtful Father or Mother. The result of all this is a large class of regular loafers that are now lounging upon our streets, being supported by their Father, Mother or gambling acts or low lives of vice nature. Harvest time will come soon or late and will gather the tares, which will be burned by the Judge Supreme. Many a Father and Mother will spend night after night in sleepless agony grieving over the wayward steps of an untrained, non educated, lazy ambitionless boy, with the final exclamation that they cannot understand why it is that he should appear in a gambler's resort or a drunken broil or harbored in a den of vice. This is not an unfair or overdrawn picture
 but one of daily occurrence.
 It does not have the sting of pain or a life touch except when it comes to our own community and takes some young man, or the hand of disgrace is thrust upon the brow of some fair woman.

There is only one conclusion,
 Boys must be energetic in mind, trained in hand and truthful in spirit and the desired reward will be the result.

INTEREST OF PRESS SAME AS RAILWAYS

DECLARES PRESIDENT
FINLEY TO N. C.
EDITORS.

RAILWAYS AND PRESS ALLIED

Mr. Finley, at Asheville, Discusses Mutual Interests of Press and Railways and Their Aid in Community Development.

Asheville, N. C., July 24.—At the meeting of the North Carolina Press Association in Asheville today President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, delivered an address on "The Relations of the Press and the Railways and the Value of their Co-operation in Community Development."

Mr. Finley pointed out the natural basis for co-operation between the press and the railways growing out of the substantial identity of their interests in community development and prosperity, bringing to the newspapers additional subscribers and advertising and to the railways increased traffic and making it logical that the press and the railways, in their respective fields, should work in close co-operation for community development. He recognized that, while the newspapers and the railways were thus natural allies in community development, it did not follow that there should not be fair criticism of the railways, and said:

"Fair and just criticism is a proper function of a free press, but criticism of the agencies which provide the transportation facilities of the community should take account of the economic conditions under which those agencies must work and should aim, in respect to a factor so essential to community development, to be helpful and educational rather than being along lines tending to create unreasoning prejudice.

"Personally, I am a great reader of the newspapers. I appreciate at its full value the work they are doing and recognize in their editors, in many cases, the spokesmen of their communities. I do not ignore what is said in the newspapers relative to our policies. I always take note of newspaper criticism on matters that it may be within our power to remedy and all such matters are given attention so far as it may be practicable to do so."

Referring to the fact that a railway can not win the support of public opinion through the exercise of political influence or in any other way except by the intelligent and effective performance of its functions as a carrier and by its responsiveness to fair criticism, Mr. Finley pointed out that its position can only be secure when the economic conditions surrounding its operation and the importance of its functions to development and to the enlargement of opportunity are appreciated by the people of the community, and that this appreciation was dependent upon enlightened citizenship. He spoke of the moral responsibility of the press in this connection and of its power, by presenting fully and fairly, the economic situation of the railways and the interest of all of the people in their prosperity and efficiency, to bring about that mutual good understanding which is indispensable to effective co-operation.

As, in an economic sense, production is not complete until goods are put in a position for consumption, Mr. Finley spoke of the railways as creators of value and as an indispensable part of the producing equipment of every community and of every farmer and manufacturer in it and said that unjust criticism directed against farmers and manufacturers would be just as logical as against the railways.

Speaking of the right of the railways, just as of any other business enterprise to present their cause, fully and freely, before courts, administrative tribunals, legislatures, and the ear of public opinion, Mr. Finley said: "Enlightened public opinion in the United States will not justify the relegation of the railways to the status of the Jew in England in the Middle Ages, when, as we read in Madore's History of the Exchequer: 'Josec Quartebuch gave forty marks that his son Hekelin might be dealt with according to justice'; and 'Jurnet of Norwich gave 1,800 marks that he might reside in England with the King's good will.'"

"The railways are asking for no special favors. They ask only that their importance in the development of the country and that the interest which each individual has in their efficiency shall be frankly recognized. They ask that differences which may arise between them and individuals or communities shall be subjects of full and free conference to be adjusted in accordance with sound business principles, or that, failing such adjustment, they shall be adjudicated by the tribunals constituted by law."

Having outlined the conditions which he believed to be necessary to the most effective co-operation between the press and the railways for community development, Mr. Finley expressed the opinion that such co-operation was essential to the fullest development and prosperity of any community because intelligence and transportation were fundamental factors in development, it being the function of the press to disseminate the first and of the railways to provide the second. He outlined the work which the Southern Railway Company is doing to aid in the development of the territory traversed by its lines, expressing the opinion that it could be said, without boastfulness, to be more comprehensive than similar work being done by any other railway organization in the United States. He said:

"In our work for community development it is our policy to co-operate closely with individuals and organizations. That it may have been more effective in some localities than in others has been due largely to local conditions, including the degree of co-operation that we have received. We believe that it has been particularly effective in Western North Carolina where we have participated in the organization and activities of the Greater Western North Carolina Association, the single purpose of which is the development of this part of the State. We should be very glad to participate in other territorial movements or in a State-wide movement of the same kind, if carried on directly under the auspices of the State or through a responsible organization similar to that in this region.

"In all of the development work that we are doing, we look upon the newspapers of the Southeast as our helpful allies. With very few exceptions we have found them ready, at all times, to publish information relative to our work and to give space in their columns to matter that we have sent them from time to time which we believed might be helpful to their readers. They have very generously given space to the publication of our views on subjects relative to the upbuilding of the Southeast. Many of the newspapers have gone farther than this and have commended our policies editorially."

Suggesting methods in which the press could be of aid in community development, Mr. Finley spoke of the publication of matter that would be helpful to the people already living in the Southeast, emphasizing the importance of farm papers and of devoting space in the daily and weekly papers to information as to the best farm methods. He suggested that each newspaper should be a booster for the Southeast as a whole and for its own particular community, not exaggerating or overstating advantages and opportunities, for the truth about the Southeast was good enough. He suggested that newspaper men acting as correspondents of papers published in other localities should embrace every proper opportunity to incorporate in their news letters and despatches matter that would attract favorable attention to their communities. Speaking of the exceptional opportunities for community development in the Southeast, Mr. Finley said:

"It is a field in which intelligently directed efforts are sure to bring results. In no State are the opportunities greater than in North Carolina. In no State has progress with in recent years been more rapid. The members of this Association have been among the most effective workers for community development in the past and I know that your efforts will be continued. I wish each one of you the largest measure of success and assure you of the hearty co-operation of the Southern Railway Company in community development."

Good Roads in Durham.
Durham—The county road force has completed that part of the central highway in Durham county and when Orange county connects with this road leading out of West Durham there will be a good road from this city to Greensboro. One gang of the convict force is now working on the Durham end of the Quebec and Miami road, which is known as the Oxford road. It will take something like three months to get a four-mile gap in this road put into the proper condition for travel.

Held On Serious Charge.
Greensboro—W. C. Tise, a Winston-Salem business man, and his stenographer, Miss Lillie Tess, are under bonds of $400 to appear in police court and answer to charges of immorality. Some time ago the woman came to Greensboro and took apartments and to her a child was born. After the birth, man, woman and child left in an automobile. The child was left with a woman in the suburbs of Winston-Salem, where it died. Investigation when a burial certificate was requested furnished the clue.

To Start Drainage Work.
Fayetteville.—The Breatt Engineering & Construction Co. of Wilson has been awarded the contract to do the excavating work in connection with the drainage of the swamp lands of Flea Hill township. The work will be begun as soon as the commissioners of the drainage district sell the bonds. The property will be assessed according to the classification of the lands which will be made before the sale of the bonds. The Breatt Company was given the contract at 6.5 cents the cubic yard.

Winter Cover Crops.

The Farmers' Cooperative Demonstration Work is asking for the names and addresses of all farmers whom he can induce to join a Cover Crop Club. It wants the names of farmers who have never grown a cover crop and of those who will increase their acreage of this crop. There are no fees or dues attached to the work. All that is asked in return for the assistance rendered is that the farmer give a report of the crop. In counties where there is a Demonstration Agent, applications should be made to him. In other counties names should be sent to the State Agent at Raleigh. Be sure to state the number of acres you propose to add and the crop you wish to grow. Instructions will be sent to who apply for them.

Progressive News.
Munsey Building, Washington, D. C. August 9, 1913.
Relations with Mexico have reached a stage so extremely critical that, reluctant as the administration and nation are to proceed to the last resort, of armed intervention, that course may be forced upon both in the comparatively near future. The Mexican situation is the subject of principal attention in Washington just now. President Wilson has displayed very great patience with Mexico and is exerting himself to the utmost to obtain a peaceful solution of the difficulty. His last move, however, has served to put an exceptional strain upon our relations with the disturbed republic across the Rio Grande. The announcement that he had sent former Governor John Lind, of Minnesota, to Mexico as his personal representative, and as advisor to the American Embassy, there has been met by the official statement on behalf of President Huerta that unless Governor Lind comes with proper credentials and with full power to recognize the Mexican government his presence in Mexico will not be desirable. Going as personal representative of the President, however, Governor Lind needs no credentials. He is not accredited to the Mexican government, he is not even an official of the American Embassy in Mexico, and the demand of Huerta that he be formally accredited might properly be construed by one less patient with the turbulent Mexicans than President Wilson to be a deliberate affront to this government. Moreover, Huerta's demand that Governor Lind shall come empowered to recognize the present defacto government of Mexico is made with the full knowledge on Huerta's part that President Wilson has determined not to (Continued on page 1.)
