

New Organist—Choirmaster Coming.

(Communicated.)

Mr. George Scott Hunter a native of Starling, Scotland, and who has been in this country three years has resigned the position of organist choir-master of St. Michael and All Angles Church, Washington, D. C. and accepted a similar position with the Church of the Holy Comforter, in this town and will arrive Thursday morning of this week.

Mr. Hunter has taken the full Collegiate and Cathedral training of England, which consists of a thorough knowledge of the organ, piano, singing, choir training and conducting, harmony, counterpoint, Fugue, orchestration, acoustics, etc. At the age of sixteen, he won by competition the position as organist of the large North Parish Church of Starling. He was afterwards appointed as organist of the South United Free Church of Elgin, Scotland, where he remained ten years. His last engagement before coming to America was that of organist choir-master of St. Mary's Church of Elgin, Scotland. Mr. Hunter is the possessor of many excellent testimonials from people prominent in Art and Society of the old and this country. He has had valuable experience in the training of boys' voices, and his services in this department cannot be overestimated. He was director of the Banchory "Musical Association" which consisted of a chorus of one hundred and twenty voices. He himself being a Barytone soloist. This Association in a testimonial states that "As a musician he merits the highest praise. He is complete master of both the organ and pianoforte, and his playing gains for him marked distinction and attracts special notice from all who appreciate the artistic in music. As a Director, he takes a place in the foremost rank. Our public performances as an Association trained under his baton gave evidence that as a choir-master he excels in the highest degree. He also succeeds without effort in maintaining excellent discipline while his genial bearing and painstaking efforts command the loyalty and esteem of his choir. Mr. Scott-Hunter also possesses vocal abilities of a distinguished order, his solo singing alike with his instrumental performances giving evidence of the thorough artist. "Mr. Frank Croxton solo bass of Brick Church, 5th. Ave. New York City, says in a testimonial that "I consider Mr. Scott-Hunter one of the leading organists and choir-masters of America. Indeed I doubt if we have in the entire country half a dozen men so well equipped." Mr. Charles Belt-Curr, L. Mes., A. R. C. O. late organist of Haddington Abbey, Scotland and to Mr. George Vanderbilt U. S. A. among many things says, Mr. "Scott-Hunter is well read in all branches of musical culture, and is gentlemanly in every way." Dr. Charles E. Allum Mus. Doc. Trinity College, Dublin, L. L. C. M. E. T. C. L. etc. in a personal letter to Rev. Mr. Gibble, Rector of the Parish, says "I have known Mr. Hunter since his boyhood. I found in him all that I could wish in anyone. Few organists have been blessed with the experience he has had. He is an extremely good organ player and a refined accompanist, etc."

Other testimonials state that his organ playing is brilliant and scholarly with very artistic registering power.

We congratulate the proper authorities of the Episcopal Church in securing such a good man and know that he will prove of inestimable benefit to the music lovers of this town.

Board of Aldermen in Session.

At a semi monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night steps were taken to widen Worth St. to sixty feet. Mr. B. R. Sellers was appointed by the Board to represent the town. The property owners will be asked to name a man and the two will name the third man. Secretary Montgomery was authorized to give a note for $900.00 in payment for indebtedness of Water Light and Power Commission.

It was ordered that the salary of Mr. J. A. King who has charge of the cleaning up of the streets around the business block be raised to $8.00 per month.

The mayor who has been appointed to get a estimate of the cost of improving Main Street between the Southern depot and Alamance Loan and Trust Co., reported that it would cost approximately $4,200.00 half of which should be paid by the city and the other by the property owners. It is hoped to get something definite at the next regular meeting. It has been suggested that the present layer of rock be removed and placed on Main Street beginning at Alamance Loan and Trust Co.

The proposition of removing partitions from the various cafes was discussed and left to the City attorney to draft an ordinance to be submitted. Ex. Alderman Apple asked that the steam engine on Holt Street be moved. It was ordered that twenty four hours be given to the owner to move the engine.

S. B. Thomas was granted license to do plumbing in the city.

Philatheas of Front Street S. S. Entertain.

The Philathea Sunday School Class of the Front Street Methodist church gave an entertainment at the church Monday night in honor of the new members who have recently joined the class.

A program consisting of solos and addresses was much enjoyed. Miss Ruth Thurston and Miss Bentow music teacher at the Graded school each sang a delightful solo. Short addresses were delivered by Messrs. E. S. W. Dameron, W. E. Sharpe, Jno. Lloyd and Rev. T. A. Sikes. A contest in which bottles of medicine were passed and each one present asked to tell what was in the bottle by the touch of smell. Rev. Sikes and Clarence Freeman tied.

Refreshments consisting of punch cream and biscuits was served.

Deaths.

Rev. J. W. Holt was called to Forsyth county last Thursday to conduct the funeral of Martin Haizley one of the oldest citizens of that county who died in the ninetyeth year of his age. He was buried at Salem Chapel Christian church.

Mrs. Sarah Lancaster died on the same day in the same community at the age of seventy five years. Funeral and burial services conducted at Bethlehem M. E. Church by Rev. J. W. Holt.

Health And Hygiene.

Last Monday at the regular session of the Board of County Commissioners, Orange County made an appropriation of $250 for the purpose of co-operating with the State Board of Health in establishing a public health and hookworm campaign in that county. Randolph and Davidson counties recently made similar appropriations for the same purpose. This makes ninety nine of the one hundred counties in the welfare of their people. Human lives and human suffering have appealed to the commissioners of these counties above dollars and cents. The value of good citizenship has been rated above live stock, in contrast to the custom existing in North Carolina in the days gone by. This is a most remarkable situation in the health work of our State. But for the failure of the Ashe County board to take favorable action it should have been reported that every county in North Carolina is interested in its health conditions, and had co-operated with the State Board of Health, and provided funds to better the health and sanitary conditions of its people.

No other state in the Union has reported such a marvelous awakening of its people, and it is to be hoped that at the next meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Ashe County they will reconsider their decision and thus make the counties of North Carolina unanimous in their action and attention to health and sanitary matters.

Dr. C. L. Pridgen, of the Hookworm Commission of the State Board of Health, is hoping to report before long that an active health campaign has been conducted in every county in the State. This will give North Carolina her usual place as the first of all the states of the Union to accomplish this.

Dalton—Thurston.

At high noon Thursday at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. W. C. Thurston the marriage of their daughter, Miss Imogen Thurston, to Mr. Robert E. Dalton, Jr., of Greensboro was solemnized. On account of critical illness in the bride's family the marriage was very quiet and informal, only the immediate families of both parties being present. The ceremony took place in the parlor, which was decorated with roses and cut flowers. The bride and groom entered together and stood before Rev. T. A. Sikes, her pastor, who gave the sacred vows. She was dressed in a going-away suit of blue and carried bride's roses.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Dalton drove to Greensboro in an automobile and will remain there until November, when they will take an extended trip to Florida and Cuba. They will reside in Greensboro, where Mr. Dalton holds a responsible position with the Van Lindley Nursery Company.

Those present from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dalton, Mr. Frank Dalton and Miss Lillian and Serena Dalton of Winston-Salem; and Mrs. N. DuBois, and Miss Ann DuBois, of Raleigh.

The groom is a splendid business man, popular, and is one of the best families of the State. The bride is one of the town's sweetest, most charming and most accomplished young women. She is prominent in the church and social life of the town an alumna of Greensboro Woman's College, and has taught one year.

White Farm Communities Should Have Right of Self-Protection.

To the Editor: Will you be kind enough to give me space—since the idea is so new, since so many people are ignorant of my exact purpose—to explain to your readers just what I propose by the policy of race segregation I have been advocating for the rural South?

But to begin with, let me say a word as to the imperative need for such remedy as I have been urging. I knew when I began this agitation that thousands and thousands of white farmers in all parts of the South were being forced from their homes for social reasons by the growing number of negroes around them (as my own father was) but I did not then know how widespread are the evils resulting from our present indiscriminate sandwiching of white and negro farmers.

The hundreds of earnese messages from farmers and even more earnest from farmers' wives and daughters, have opened my eyes. A white farmer may have bought land in what he expected to remain forever a white community, may have built a good home with this expectation, ordering his whole life accordingly. And yet some non-resident owning land adjoining him may put any kind of negroes on it, terrorizing the farmer's wife and daughters, destroying the social life of the community, depreciating the value of the farmer's land, and finally forcing him to move for social reasons—leaving the negroes to gobble up the farm for half its real worth.

This is not a fancy picture but a literal report of what is actually happening all over the Cotton Belt. Almost every section of the South feels the blighting effect of such conditions. Worthy settlers refuse to come, and farmers already in a community hesitate to build worthy country homes because they have no assurance that they or their children will not be forced to leave the place in order to find plenty of white neighbors.

If we are to save the rural South to the white race, we must find some remedy, and I have become convinced that an aroused public sentiment is not enough. We must have a statute which will enable any white community that wishes to do so to take steps to insure its remaining white—a statute framed not in a spirit of injustice and persecution to the white man.

Briefly, I propose a simple law which will say that whenever the greater part of the land acreage in any given district that may be laid off is owned by one race, a majority of the voters in such a district may say (if they wish) that in future no land shall be sold to a person of a different race. Provided such action is approved or allowed (as being justified by consideration of the peace, protection, and social life of the community,) by a reviewing judge or board of county commissioners.

It may be argued, I know that such a law is unjust because with the government of the South as it is, it should be utilized by white people to keep their community white, but the negroes would rarely or never be able to use it to make a community wholly negro. All of which I admit, and yet I believe it is just. I believe it is just because the white man needs the social protection of such a law and the negro doesn't. If a majority of his neighbors are white, the negro doesn't care. His land is made more valuable by the predominance of neighbors of a different race; the chances of selling it for its worth are better; his family are not uneasy or unsafe; they don't mind running off day or night to see neighbors or kinsfolk miles away; and his money-making facilities are better. But with white man surrounded by negro neighbors exactly the contrary conditions exist. So I am confident such a law as I propose would be just, and eminent lawyers have assured me it would be constitutional.

As for its practicability, that is apparent on its face. It is not a radical measure. It would not be forced on any community that doesn't want it. But whenever any white community does wish to keep itself white and does want protection of such a law as I propose, I believe it should have that privilege.

I shall be glad to send further information to any interested reader who agrees with me.

Sincerely yours,
Clarence Poe,
Raleigh, N. C.

High Point Officer Can Hardly Survive.

Greensboro Sept. 15.—A telephone message from High Point Sunday night stated that Mr. Witcher, who was shot Saturday night about 10 o'clock by an unknown negro, was not expected to live through the night. His condition was known to be serious immediately after an examination of his wounds were made, the bullet passing through his arm and stomach. Chief Ridge, who was shot on the finger, was able to be out yesterday, and although suffering much pain his condition is in no wise serious.

The bullet was fired by an unknown person from a crowd of from 175 to 200 negroes. The shooting occurred near a moving picture show on the eastern side of High Point and after the officers had arrested a negro. It was while holding this negro that Officer Witcher was shot, the bullet first striking Chief Ridge and tearing through the top of his little finger.

No one has been arrested for the shooting, and coming as it did from such a large crowd the authorities fear it will be impossible to apprehend the guilty party.

Held Up Sheriff and Stole $16,000.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 5.—Three men each armed with two revolvers late today, held up a deputy sheriff and two employes of the J. G. White Construction Company at Parr Shoals, twenty miles from here and took from them $16,000 in currency which had been intended to meet the payroll of the company which is building a huge power dam here. Tonight seven hundred employes of the company, together with the sheriffs and deputies of four counties with bloodhounds are hunting for the robbers. J. C. Joyner, the deputy sheriff, resisted the bandits and was shot, the bullet taking effect in the high. His wound is not serious.

The robbery occurred just after Paymastered Mahar, with Fred Bultman, assistant cashier and Deputy Joyner had taken the money from the express office at Parr Shoals. To reach the construction company's office where the money was to be distributed, they had to go down the railway track through a rather deep cut. As the three were passing a box car which was standing on the railway track a trio of men their faces blacked to disguise them stepped out and covered the money-bearing party. Deputy Joyner reached for his gun and the robber opened fire. Joyner fell, shot through the thigh, and others realizing the futility of resistance with their assailants in so strong a position yielded. The robbers took the sack containing the money and made off into the woods.

Former Priest Who Killed Girl

New York, Sept. 15.—Hans Schmidt, the priest who confessed that he killed Anna Aumuller with a butcher knife as a "sacrifice to be consummated in blood," tonight is at the observation ward of the Tombs prison under the watchful eye of Dr. McGuire, the prison physician. Warden Felton, of the Tombs declared the man is insane—one of the most dangerous men ever confined in the prison, and in this view he was upheld by Deputy Commissioner of Corrections Wright.

From far off Mainz, Germany, there came today to Monsignor Joseph F. Money, Vicar General of the Arch Diocese of New York cablegram from the secretary of the bishop which said that Schmidt had been declared insane there and suspended by the bishop. The message read: "Schmidt born at Aschaffenburg Priest of Diocese of Mainz-Ran away from Mainz because of attempted frauds; arrested by police declared insane by court and discharged. Suspended by bishop for acts and for presenting falsified document regarding.

ARRIVES.
Battalion of the Downie & Wheeler
Show Decorate Town With Picturesque Posters.

One of the pleasant things for a newspaper is the announcement of a first class circus coming and this we have the pleasure of doing for the Number One Advance Car of the Downie & Wheeler Shows was in our city today and the small army of men in white overalls and jumpers pasted every billboard, deadwall and available barn in and about Burlington with flaring posters of wild animals, petite ladies, highspirited horses, wonderful trained ponies, athletic men and goodness knows what all. The 'kiddies' are thrilled with joy and the 'grownups' gaze at the pictures and remember the happiest moments of their happy childhood days. Baseball is a national sport but the circus is the national amusement and it will never grow wearisome as long as managers and special agents scour every corner of the globe for new and strange beasts and snappy death defying acts.

The Downie and Wheeler Shows have grown large through sheer merit and the everlasting diligence of the management. Every act must stand the most critical test and each performer, musician, official or attache must be a lady or gentlemen under all circumstances or seek employment elsewhere. This is an iron clad rule with the Downie and Wheeler Shows and to this feature they attribute the greater part of their wonderful success.

We will publish further details and all we care to say now is for the 'kiddies' to save their pennies and for the 'grownups' to arrange to go to the show and make the management prove that the statement "there is nothing new under the sun," is untrue. The date for the exhibition here is OCT. 2nd.

Be a child again and enjoy the day from the arrival of the first gaudy train to the loading of the last baggage horse at night for circuses do not come every day and a good one like this is not to be missed.

Progressive News.

Munsey Building,
Washington, D. C.

September 6, 1913.

The long drawn out contest over the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill is still dragging wearily on in the Senate, and despite the professed optimism of some of the leading Democrats as to an early termination, the end is not yet in sight. The Republican standpatters have been playing a peculiar game. From the first it has been apparent that they had no hope of defeating the bill, even if all the so-called "progressive" Republicans, who have voted for many of its individual provisions, should join the old guard against the bill on its final passage. They have kept up their chorus of wails from day to day. Most of them talk as if they really believe what they say. It is obvious, however, that if they are sincere in their predictions of woe, and desire to turn what they describe as a Democratic blunder to their political advantage, the best thing they could do, from a partisan standpoint, would be to cease their tactics of delay and permit the measure to become law, because if it is destined to produce disaster the sooner it gets to work in that way the quicker and more pronounced will be the reaction against it.

But it is extremely doubtful if even the most hide-bound standpatters, like Senators Gallinger and Penrose, really believe that the measure will produce the commercial distress they have so steadily prophesied. As a matter of fact, the general business conditions of the country are against such a result. The steel trade, which is universally accepted as the most accurate business barometer, is undeniably prosperous, and it is so firmly established that the leading men in it have for several years openly declared that it would not be affected by even greater tariff reductions than are contained in the pending bill. Moreover, President Wilson has managed most adroitly during the summer to discredit this standpat calamity howling, and it now appears that he has successfully discounted the probability, if not the possibility, of any material degree of fulfillment of these dire predictions.

It may be that the tactics of the standpatters are inspired by the recognition of the fact that their prophecies of disaster are false and unfounded and that they are really seeking by this delay only to give their tariff beneficiary friends a little longer enjoyment of the Payne-Aldrich rates.

The Democrats in the House have devoted most of the week to consideration of the scandalously belated Urgent Deficiency bill, which contains provision for the payment at last of the charwomen and page boys at the Capitol, whose wages for May and June are long overdue. No excuse is even attempted on the part of the Democratic leaders in the House for this indecent disregard of the just obligations of the Government to a number of its humblest employees. The fact that the scandal is the natural and inevitable outcome of the disposition of the House leaders to play petty ward politics with the most important business of the greatest corporation in the world—the United States Government. The House leaders have demonstrated in the colossal "pork" bills which they have put through, and in the long list of outrageous public willingness to vote scores of millions of the public money for their own political graft, and they are seeking vainly to cover up this graft by a pretense of economy in other lines. In order to make this false showing economy, they have so cut down the appropriations for the litigations of the Government as to render imperative the passage of large deficiency bills. And it is in this political juggling with the just obligations of the Government that a considerable number of its employees, who work for the smallest salaries on the whole Government pay roll and who most need prompt payment of their wages, have been made to suffer this inexcusable delay.

This week has been so unusually placid in Washington and there was only one flurry of excitement. That was occasioned by an outburst on the part of some radical Democrats against certain provisions of the income bill as reported levied sufficiently high tax upon large incomes. The result of their protest was the holding of a Democratic caucus, in which an agreement was reached for a revision of that part of the bill with a slight increase in the rates of taxation on large incomes. The new paragraph provides a tax of 1 percent on all incomes over $3,000, with a graduated surtax, by which there is to be levied 1 per cent additional on that part of an income exceeding $20,000 and not exceeding $50,000; 2 percent additional on that part of an income exceeding $50,000 and not exceeding $75,000; 3 percent additional on that part of an income exceeding $75,000 and not exceeding $100,000; 4 percent additional on that part of an income exceeding $100,000 and not exceeding $250,000; 5 percent additional on that part of an income exceeding $250,000 and not exceeding $500,000; and 6 per cent additional upon all in excess of $500,000.

For example, take an income of $550,000. Its possessors would be entitled to the general exemption of $3,000. He would pay 1 percent on $547,000 or $5,470. He would pay 1 percent additional on the sum between $20,000 and $50,000, or $300; 2 percent additional on the sum between $50,000 and $75,000, or $500; 3 per cent additional on the sum between $75,000 and $100,000, or $750; 4 per cent additional on the sum between $100,000 and $250,000, or $6,000; 5 per cent additional on the sum over $250,000, or $3,000. Thus his total tax would be $28,220.

The Democratic Senatorial caucus has also adopted an amendment, submitted by Senator Clark of Arkansas, providing for a tax on cotton futures of 50 cents a bale, with a stipulation that the tax is to be refunded where it is shown that actual deliveries have been made. This is intended to prevent speculative gambling in cotton, which has been so detrimental to the cotton growers of the South.

Fourth Week of Hookworm Campaign in Alamance.

Last week was the fourth week that the State and County Dispensaries for Hookworm Disease have been conducted in the county, and a larger number of examinations were made than during any of the preceding weeks. Of the large number who attended the dispensaries 511 were examined for intestinal parasites and 106 were found infected. Of 106 found infected 71 had hookworms, 20 had roundworms, 12 had dwarf tape worms, 2 had pin worms, and one infected with the whip-worm. During the fourth weeks that the dispensaries have been conducted in the county nearly 2,000 people have been examined and the number infected has been between 20 per cent and 30 per cent of those examined.

The dispensaries will be conducted in the county for about ten days longer and anyone wishing to be examined must visit the dispensaries during this time.

$71,900 Stolen From Express Company Safe.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 11.—Currency amounting to $71,900 in transit from the Chase National Bank of New York, to the Savannah Bank & Trust Co. and to Brunswick and Valdosta banks was stolen from a portable safe on the Atlantic Coast Line train No. 89, between Jersey City and Savannah. It should have arrived Wednesday morning. Its loss became known Thursday.

Fifty thousand dollars of the amount was consigned to the Savannah Bank and Trust Co. here. The money was shipped by the Southern Express Company. W. F. McCauley, the president of the Savannah Bank & Trust Co. confirmed the loss of the $50,000. It was shipped out of New York on Monday on Train No. 89 of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway. When the sealed steel trunk in which it was supposed to have been shipped was opened it was found that the money had disappeared.

"All that I know about it," said President McCauley, "is that the money was started to us from New York and that it never reached here."

The Southern Express Company has hurried its best men to undertake the recovery of the money or to locate the thieves.

The seals on the outside of the steel trunk or safe did not show they had been tampered with, but the sealed envelopes in which the money was contained when it left New York were slit open.

The shipment was sent out of New York by the Adams Express and delivered to the Southern Express Company at Washington D. C.

New York Sept 11.—Samuel C. Miller vice president of the Chase National Bank in charge of currency movements, said today that his bank had shipped a large amount of currency to banks in Georgia by the Adams Express. "If this money has been stolen," he said "and is not recovered the loss will fall not upon the bank, but upon the express company."

Mr. Miller said that the $50,000 package was only one of those in the shipment made by Chase National. He declines to give further details.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 11.—Officials of the Southern Express Company tonight were reticent as to the disappearance of currency amounting to $71,900, which vanished from a portable safe on Atlantic Coast Line train No. 89 while in transit from Jersey City to Savannah. The loss of the money became known today when $50,000 of it was to have been delivered to the Savannah Bank & Trust Co. The remainder of the money was consigned to banks at Brunswick and Valdosta. The currency was shipped by the Chase National Bank of New York.

Won't Pay In Advance.

Greensboro, Sept. 11.—J. Ed Albright, formerly a member of the Board of Aldermen, and a contracting plumber, was before the City Commissioners this afternoon complaining of the Southern Bell Telephone Company in charging telephone rents in advance, and asking that the matter be investigated. Mayor Murphy promised that the city would investigate.

Mr. Albright went to the office of the telephone company a few days ago and tendered the rent for August for telephones in his office and at his house but the company refused to accept same unless he would pay also for September. This Mr. Albright declined to do, and as a result the telephone company discontinued his service. He has forbid the company and its representatives from entering his office or his house to take out phones. Mr. Albright will fight the matter to a finish.

Slit Skirts In New Bern.

New Bern, Sept. 13.—When a well known young lady of this city appeared on the streets of this city a few days ago attired in a gown, the skirt of which was divided on each side for twelve inches or more, affording a glimpse of the wearer's lower limbs which were incased in silk hosiery of a transparent variety, it can well be imagined that those who were on the scene at the time displayed unusual activity in reaching some point of vantage where they might view the spectacle without seeming discourtesy. The young lady appeared unconscious of the excitement she was creating and calmly strolled around the business section of the city. A few of the more prudish were apparently shocked by the affair and openly voiced their opinions, even going so far as to say that the cause of all the excitement should be taken under arrest. However, there are no laws in the ordinance books of the city prohibiting the wearing slit skirts and the young lady was not molested.

No Refunding State Debt During His Term.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 11.—Governor Blease says he will not sign any stocks or bonds, and there will be no refunding of the State debt during his term of office. He bitterly scored the Supreme Court for its decision in upholding the validity of the refunding act and pays his respects to Associate Justice Hydrick who wrote the opinion. Says the Governor: "No, I am not disappointed as the result of the decision of the Supreme Court. I rather expected it. I regret very much, though, that they doxed the main point in the case and did not decide fairly and squarely the question of a quorum as to whether or not a member of the House or Senate can serve on any commission of which he was a member by virtue of his position in the House or Senate after his term expires or as the Constitution express it after the term of his successor begin."

Entered as second-class matter May 28, 1908, at the post office at Burlington, North Carolina, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Today a week the Central Assembly of North Carolina meets in extraordinary session to consider the proper means for the forcing of common carriers of North Carolina to give us just freight rates. We have already said that this legislature will amount to nothing unless the people at home determines within themselves that this relief must be had. So far the people of Burlington and Alamance County have played MUM on this all important industrious question. Any business or any other person who is willing to live in North Carolina and pay twice the freight rate of his Virginia neighbor is not entitled to success and nothing but failure should crown his slothful acts. We therefore, say that the people of Alamance County must administer their interest in freight reduction if they have any, if not, let them uphold the hands of the Railroad Company in robbing our state of Five Million Dollars annually in excessive freight rates.

Many Will Save.

The beginning of September marks an intensified activity not only in the world of trade and of real estate, but with the building and loan associations as well. Not all of the local associations open their new series at the same time as a interval of a month intervening between some, but shares for the new series are purchasable now in all the different offices. The Mecklenburg, the Charlotte, the Mutual, the Mechanics and the Home are all confident of a large business. Those which do not begin the new series until the first Saturday in October meet the competition of those who open in September by placing shares on the market and by giving applicants for loans the advantage of their priority. One association which began its series Saturday has already sold more than 2,000 shares of stock which will be worth more than $200,000 in less than six years and a half from now, and practically every cent of that $200,000 is to be earned and saved in this period.

The above was clipped from the Charlotte Observer of some days ago, merely to remind our readers that there is a splendid building and loan association at Burlington, Graham, and Mebane, also at Hillsboro, N. C. and what these associations are doing for Alamance and Orange counties possibly not upon so large a scale, yet they are helping thousands to save and build homes of substantial character, making better and more prosperous citizens, and teaching them to save who heretofore have been spendthrifts and careless about their future prosperity, let the substantial business men get behind our local building and loan associations and teach those who are not familiar with their working how easy it is to save and own homes all free and clear from encumbrance by the time their shares mature. There is no higher duty any one can perform than to teach their fellow man how to save and own homes at a large outlay of cash at one time. The Building and Loan Associations are doing much good and should be encouraged to the end that they may do more and more for those who cannot and will not lay by their savings unless compelled to do so in order to not forfeit their chances to build and own their own home. So many of us start in with the intention to save, but soon become careless and spend what we have already saved unless we are shareholders in some good building and loan association, take out what share you can carry and the local secretary will do his best to encourage you to keep them up to the end that you may own your own homes.

The Street.

The street of this town is Park Avenue, or what was formally known as Railroad Avenue, it is made from sand clay, and we understand cost about one thousand dollars, it is the only street in town where it would seem we got our monies worth, and yet we understand that this street has not been paid for, simply because two enterprising citizens went ahead without written contract with the city, and constructed the street with a gentlemen understanding that it was to be paid for at some future time, this paper is not interested in these two citizens any father than we are interested in any other two good citizens, but we want to go on record in favor of paying these parties for constructing this street, and we are further in favor of making a contract with them to construct all the other streets out of the same material and in the same manner, taking the cost of this street as a basis we could make every street in this town just as good for about six thousand dollars; this would be money well spent and the streets would be a credit to the City. Allow us to suggest to the street committee that they get busy and give this matter the consideration that the merits of the case demand.

We are glad to note that the civic league is getting busy, my we hope that this spurt of life will not be of a short duration as formerly, there are so many things demanding attention that the members of this league can remedy, and we trust they will not let the zeal die so easily. The columns of this paper are at the service of the league, let the good work proceed.

The right spirit prevailed at the Mass Meeting held Monday night in the ware house. If this degree of enthusiasm and co-operation could have been demonstrated years ago in our town, we would not only have larger sums of wealth, but we would have more harmony in business and more co-operation in public enterprises. However, there is a woeful lack of interest in the tobacco market on the part of some of the warehousemen and that these gentlemen should learn that the movement to make Burlington one of the best tobacco warehouse towns in the State, is the primary interest of the warehousemen and only secondary to other interest of our town and county. Therefore the warehousemen must give their united support to this laudable movement.

For I've made love in Labrador,
In Cairo, and in Rome;
I've kissed the girls in London

And sweet to kiss were they,
But Burma girls are just as sweet
And Frisco girls as gay!
There's always eyes to sparkle bright
And hearts a-beating warm,
There's lips the man who's bold

And waists to fill an arm;
The maids are fair in Argentinie
And dainty in Japan,
There's girls to love in all the

The Split Skirt.
The Red Springs Citizens hits the nail and the head thus:
"The split skirt with scanty apparel underneath, is receiving hard knocks from the Wilmington Star and Raleigh News and Observer. Home is the place to correct the evil, and mothers should be held responsible for the sins of their daughters in this respect. Anyhow, girls don't make the fashions, but only put them into effect and they could not wear such notorious garments unless they were furnished by their home folks. A rational law or an appeal to the home is the only remedy for any girl who wears a split skirt such as those said to be worn in Wilmington, cares very little for the newspaper man's opinion but rather enjoys the write up."

HOWE'S SHOW COMING.

The colossal menagerie connected with the Howe Great London Show, which is to be at Graham Sept. 29 contains the finest zoological collection ever assembled for exhibition purposes. The idea to have the animals surrounded as much as possible with the atmosphere of their natural homes has been carefully carried out, and the result is that the students of natural history are given an opportunity to study the habits of beasts that has never before presented itself.

Traveling exhibitions often seek patronage by calling attention to the number of cages the menagerie contains, regardless of what these cages contain. Duplication has always been resorted to and it has not been an unusual sight to find several cages containing the same specimens. It will not be found so with the menagerie connected with this show. There is positively no duplication. Every cage will be found to contain different species of the animal kingdom. Not only is this true, but it is also a fact that they are rare specimens.

Nature, during the time the show was in winter quarters, delted generously with the animals, and almost every known specie of animal that will propagate in captivity may be seen with their young by their side. There are lionesses with their young, tigers with their still nursing and cubs on through the entire menagerie. Children find particular pleasure in watching the antics of these little strangers and the older ones find them particularly interesting. There is no menagerie touring the country today where the collection of infantile and matured wild beast are more completely assembled. The four quarters of the globe have been scoured to obtain them, and as far as is known every known specimen of the animal world not yet extinct has a representation.

The Young and Vice.
(Union Republican)
The statements made by Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary of the state board of health of Wisconsin, before a legislative vice committee, ought one would think, to startle parents. They are so extraordinary as to suggest that we may be on the eve of a radical change in our moral standards and ideals. Certain it is that we are more free and easy than ever before. That there is an alarming disregard of the old restraints of boys and girls we are all know. Dr. Harper charges that this disregard has gone far. He said.
Take the situation among the students in the Madison high school a year ago, when the community was astounded to find that twenty young girls of respectable parents were guilty of indiscretions. It was charged that a coterie of boys in the school had banded together and ostracized from the social life of the school virtuous girls who would not submit to their demands.

Perhaps if we paid just a little less attention to red-light districts and to their more spectacular aspects of vice and more to home conditions, we should be more successful in elevating the general moral tone. It is at least as necessary to save the innocent as it is to reclaim the guilty. The Wisconsin expert places much of blame for the deplorable conditions in Wisconsin on the parents. He speaks openly of "the social evil among the better class of citizens of Wisconsin." He attributes to lack of watchfulness on the part of chaperons, social ambitions of parents, late hours, suggestive dances, immodest dress, automobile rides, telephones, stimulating food and drinks and—most amazing of all—"organization of boys to ostracize girls from society who refuse to submit to their will." Dr. Harper says:
It is generally recognized that there is a general wave of immortality passing over the country. It is partly due to our standards of living and a deadening of the moral sensibilities. We are living too high, going too fast and disregarding the balances which made for moderation and moral uplift.

Possibly to these might be added the weakening of religious sanctions. Many parents have turned their backs on the church and many others fail utterly to provide any fit religious instructions for their children.—Indianapolis News.

Goldsboro Visited By Fire, Wind and Storm.

Goldsboro, N. C., Sept. 3.—The worst storm in the history of Goldsboro which made its a-dent about midnight last night, suddenly broke over the city again this afternoon, accompanied by a wind of cyclonic proportions which littered the streets with telephone poles, limbs of trees, fences and electric light wires. The storm seems to be a general coastwise disturbance, reaching far inland.

Up to a late hour tonight the passenger train from the coast at Beaufort had not arrived and the Norfolk Southern train which left here this morning for Beaufort did not get beyond New Bern doubling back from that city.

People coming in from New Bern report that storm has been terrific in that section, cutting off all telegraph and telephone connection. The county bridge over the Neuse River at New Bern, it is stated, has been lifted by the high water and jammed against the Norfolk Southern bridge so that no train has been operated over this line to New Bern today.

An engineer of a freight train which arrived here at 6 o'clock this afternoon from New Bern states that another bridge has been washed away and that the city of New Bern was under four feet of water when he left with his engine for this city.

In the midst of the storm's violence here an alarm of fire was turned in from the plant of the Bitulithic Street Paving Company but heroic work of the firemen who reached the scene promptly prevented serious damage.

Reports of great damage, however.

Physicians Discuss Pellagra.

Pellagra, its agencies of dissemination and possible preventatives, formed the subject of a conference of southern physicians in Spartanburg, S. C., last week. Nearly 200 students of the disease coming from practically every southern state, were present. Dr. Louis M. Sambon, head of the School of Tropical Medicine, London, was the principal speaker. Dr. Sambon, who is chief exponent of the insect theory of dissemination, declared that pellagra is rapidly becoming a subject of world-wide concern. Fifty-three cases, he said, had been discovered in the British Isles. Hundreds of others, he added, probably existed, but had been unidentified because of the general ignorance of physicians in regard to the disease.

Although extensive research work had convinced him, Dr. Sambon said, that pellagra is transmitted by insect, he had reached no definite conclusion as to the identity of the transmitting agent. He suggested that the Buffalo gnat seemed a likely suspect, drawing his inference from the fact that the disease spreads most readily along flowing streams.

Dr. Sambon urged thorough and immediate investigation of the whole pellagra problem, whose magnitude, he said, has not been generally recognized. He declared that many cases of insanity, in his opinion, have had their origin in pellagra infection.

The conference was held under the auspices of the Thompson McFadden pellagra commission of the New York postgraduate school of medicine, and the local medical society.

Harry Endicott and Little Girl Killed.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 5.—Harry Endicott, of Anderson, Ind., a brother of "Farmer Bill" Endicott, the noted automobile racer and Mary Sarata, of Jackson, a 10-year-old spectator were killed and three persons injured here this afternoon when Endicott's automobile crashed through a fence at the race track when one of the front tires blew up.

The injured are George Benedict of Los Angeles who was acting as Endicott's mechanic; Mrs. Mabel Walters and Frances Hall, 13 years old, both of Jackson. Benedict's condition is serious. Neither Mrs. Walters nor the Hall girl were seriously hurt.

Endicott was driving a 100-horse power car preparately to an exhibition race against Benedict here tomorrow when the accident occurred. Benedict was at his side. The machine turned a sharp curve as it swung into the home stretch and with a report like a pistol shot the tire burst. Before the crowd, which lined both sides of the track, could realize what had happened the machine skipped about 20 feet, swerved and plunged directly at a flimsy fence to the side of the course. Endicott was crushed to death against an iron railing. Benedict was hurled from the car and one of the rear wheels passed over his body.

The Sarata girl was instantly killed. The car bounding from a road scraper rushed here.

Panama-California International Exposition.

San Diego, California, Sept. 5.—San Diego, California is to see the reproductions of the carvels of Columbus, the Santa Maria, the Pinta and the Nina and the harbor of San Diego is to be the first one on the Pacific Coast of the United States to hail them, after they have passed through the Panama Canal.

These reproductions of the carvels of Columbus, constructed for the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893, have been in Jackson Park, in Chicago ever since that time, but on the fifteenth of the present month they left the Jackson Park lagoon, and really started on their long journey to the Pacific Coast. They were first taken to the drydock at South Chicago, where they will remain until they are made entirely seaworthy.

From Chicago the little fleet will proceed to Boston and there they will tie up for the winter. In the spring they will be manned by crews of students from Harvard and begin their long cruise. It is planned to skirt the Atlantic, stopping at San Salvador, the first land discovered by Columbus, and then on to Panama and through the canal.

Doubtless the little vessels will be compelled to stop at some Pacific port on the west coast of Central America or Mexico for supplies, but the first stop on American soil after their passage through the canal will be at San Diego.

Andrew Kaul, of Boston, a Harvard man, is behind the movement to bring the carvels to the Pacific Coast for the expositions in 1915. He has furnished the Jackson Park authorities a sufficient bond to insure their return to Chicago. Winfield Hogaboon of the San Diego Exposition, has taken up the matter of entertainment of the crews of the ships while they are in San Diego harbor, with Mr. Kaul and has been assured that the fleet will stop in San Diego harbor for a sufficient time to permit of proper and fitting ceremonies, in connection with the Panama-California Exposition in San Diego.

Wireless From President Opens Conservation Congress.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 1.—The first National Conservation exposition was formally opened here today. Organized labor joined with exposition officials in the day's program, which included a celebration both of Labor Day and of the opening of the exposition.

A pageant in which thousands of persons participated was the opening feature of the days exercises. Many displays to be exhibited at the exposition grounds were carried through the streets on large floats, followed by hundreds of members of labor unions and others employed in Knoxville's factories. The parade proceeded from the downtown section to the exposition grounds.

President Woodrow Wilson, through a wireless message extending congratulations and expressing hearty sympathy with the undertaking formally opened the exposition. His message was received in "joy street" the midway of the exposition city where a wireless station had been improvised.

At the meeting which followed the receipt of the President's message Gov. B. W. Hooper and Mayor S. G. Heiskell welcomed the exposition officials and visitors for the State and city. Both predicted great educational benefits from the exposition.

President T. Ashbury Wright of the exposition responded. He outlined the purpose of the undertaking as the promotion of conservation of natural resources particular reference to be paid to forests and streams.

While city detectives Monday night and Tuesday morning searched the city for Miss Clara Bell Griffin, aged twenty-three, of 265 North Ashby street, she lay in the Grady hospital recovering from an illness which had suddenly attacked her.

Her whereabouts was discovered shortly before noon after members of her family and the police had begun a systematic search of the city. Miss Griffin was an employee of the National Pencil factory and the coincidence led to the beginning of another investigation of the building. City Detective John Black late Tuesday morning, together with Louis A. Griffin, a brother, were ready to start a tour of the factory when attaches of the Grady hospital, who had heard of the disappearance, telephoned that she was in that institution.

Although her mother and brothers were greatly agitated over her absence, the girl considered their hunt a joke when Louis Griffin talked to her at the hospital early Tuesday afternoon. "It was nothing," she laughed. "I just didn't want to worry mother, so I didn't tell her I was sick."

Miss Griffin, who is the daughter of Mrs. Alice Griffin, left her home at 6:20 o'clock Monday morning, telling her family that she was going to work as usual. She had been employed in the pencil factory since July 10. When she did not reappear in the evening, as usual, her brother went to the pencil factory. He was told that it had been closed all day, Monday being a holiday. He immediately notified the police. A preliminary search was made by plain clothes men Monday night. This was continued by the detectives Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Griffin was deeply perturbed over her daughter's absence. She feared a repetition of the Mary Phagan murder.

When told that her daughter had been found in the hospital she pictured an attempt at suicide recalling the death of her sister by this means last fall. She was soon reassured that her daughter's illness was not serious, however.

At the hospital the girl told her brother that she had worked at the pencil factory until 10 o'clock Monday morning and then feeling faint had gone to the hospital on a street car. This is in contravention to the statement of Manager N. V. Darley, of the factory, who declared that the plant had been closed all of Monday.

Seeks Job and Finds Lose Husband Instead.

Mrs. M. B. Wallace, of Anderson, South Carolina found her husband who she says, deserted her several weeks ago, by a peculiar coincidence Tuesday morning. As a result Wallace is locked in the police station on a charge of desertion. He probably will be arranged before City Recorder Pro Tem Prestom Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Wallace had last seen her husband in Anderson last August she told the police. He had left her and their two children to go to Lindale to seek work. She never heard from him again, she said and finally she came to Atlanta where she intended to find employment and support her children.

Wallace, it has been disclosed went to Lindale but remained there only a short time. He then came to Atlanta with the intention of getting a job here.

Tuesday morning both went to the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills. The husband arrived a few minutes before his wife. It is required of persons who apply for positions at the mill that they sign their name on a register before they enter the mill. As Mrs. Wallace was affixing her name to the book she discovered that of her husband on the line above.

She immediately communicated with the police. Probation Officer Hollingsworth was sent to the mills. He arrested Wallace at the gate.

To Prevent Blood Poisoning
Use once the wonderful old reliable DR. POWELL'S ANTISEPTIC HEALING OIL, a surgical dressing that relieves pain and heals at the same time. Not a liniment. 25c. 50c. $1.00

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 6.—Fire which started in a negro's cabin at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon is slowly dying out at the foot of West Mountain, the southern extremity of Hot Springs, at midnight after reducing to a smoldering mass of wreckage an area more than a mile in length and from seven to ten blocks wide in the eastern section of the city. An accurate statement of the monetary loss is not possible tonight but it is roughly estimated at $10,000,000.

Governor Hayes arrived in Hot Springs late tonight and will probably order a military patrol of the burned district tomorrow morning. United States troops also are expected from Little Rock to add to the guard on the military reservation.

In the path of the flames were manufacturing establishments, hotels a number of the more pretentious residences and public buildings. All were destroyed. It is estimated that 2,000 persons are homeless.

So far as can be ascertained there were no fatalities and the few that were hurt suffered only minor injuries.

Among the buildings destroyed were the city's light, water and power plants, the county courthouse, the high school building, the park Moody and Princes hotels, St. Louis Iron Mountain and Southern railroad station, and shops and the Ozark sanitarium. Smaller buildings by the hundred were reduced to ashes.

But few of those whose homes were burned saved any of their belongings, and guests of the hotels gave little heed to their valuables and luggage in their effects to escape with their lives.

The fire originated within several blocks of the United States army and navy hospital and took a south and east course.

Choice Of Several Sites For Hospital.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 7.—The chamber of commerce Tuesday night will offer the United States government the choice of five sites for the location of a proposed hospital for the treatment and study of pellagra in this section. Several citizens have come forward with locations and these will be submitted through the business organization here. Jno. C. Dewey is president.

Not until the State Supreme court determines whether or not the city had the right to sell its sidewalks will the sale of the market house property to the Tucker estate be confirmed. There is little doubt of the city's right to sell sidewalks and the case that will be carried up will be for the purpose of forever securing the title. It is expected that work will begin on the new market house site by the last of the month.

Neither President Finley nor Vice President Andrews of the Southern railway will be able to attend the hearing here tomorrow for the purpose of investigating the sale and dismemberment of the old Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad. The president of the Coast Line will be on hand, however President Finley will be unable to attend and Colonel Andrews is indisposed. For this reason it is expected that the first session will be short.

One of the largest fall dockets to confront the officers has been placed on the docket in Wayne county for this week 125 cases being enrolled. All these will have to be disposed of in a single week. Included in the number are two murder cases. The remainder run the gamut from larceny to assault with deadly weapon.

Football practice has started at the A. & M. College and the prospects are bright for the best team in six years.

Milk Cow Without a Calf.

The unusual case of a cow which gives a plentiful supply of milk, although she has never had a calf, is reported by Mr. W. E. Benbow, of Oak Ridge, who is experienced in the industry of dairying. He says that he owns such a cow and that she is at the present time giving a gallon of rich milk daily. Mr. Benbow ascribes the remarkable result to the pasturing of the young cow with a calf. The foster mother being with the calf of another cow developed the ability to give milk in the copious streams that she does and in so doing has set a new record for her sister cows. The animal is a year old.—Greenboro Record.

You can see for yourself that he must be hard for me to manage. He weighs 250 pounds, while I weigh only 95. He is out every night carousing, calling on women, and I cant do anything with him."

"I tell him he'll ruin his constitution if he keeps on the way he's going, but it does't make any difference. He always has been a wild, headstrong boy. I want you, judge, to help me make a man of him." He's got to sign the pledge.

William signed.

He's Young At 101.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 13.—Looking young at 101, J. M. Phipps, of Shenandoah, Iowa, passed through Kansas City, traveling alone to Ponca City, Okla. Active and straight as an arrow, Mr. Phipps had the appearance of a well preserved man of 60.

"I haven't eaten meat in 10 years and I take a cold bath every morning. My diet consists of fruits and vegetables," said he. "I have 48 great-grandchildren, all of whom are in good health and bid fair to make good family traditions of longevity."

"About a year ago I began to believe that I wasn't seeing enough of the social side of life.

Just to keep from going to seed while still young, I joined the Elks. There's nothing like the company of fellows to keep a man from feeling his age.

"How long will I live? Well I should reach 125 anyway. So far as I have been able to observe my own condition I haven't aged appreciably in the last 20 years. Why not live to be 125 or 140?"

Foot-Washing In Rowan.

Spencer, Sept. 15.—The semi-annual foot-washing took place at Piney, a noted Primitive Baptist church, in Davidson county near Spencer Sunday. While cool weather interfered to some extent with the attendance there was a large crowd present coming from all parts of the countryside and many from Lexington, Spencer, Salisbury and other places.

Loosed Elephant Is Captive Again.

Durham, Sept. 11.—The elephant which escaped from the little circus which showed in Hillsboro last Monday afternoon has been captured and the farmers in the northern and western section of the county feel very much relieved. The big animal has been ranging from Hillsboro to South Lowell in this county and was finally caught near Hillsboro, after a number of trainers and hundreds of other people had been on its trail for the past three days.

A lot of the negro farmers in Durham county have been half afraid to get out of doors and many reports of the feats of ferocity performed by the escaped brute. The elephant has been seen in many sections of Durham county and last night the trainers went out to the northern section of the county but got there just about an hour after the elephant had taken its departure. Other than tearing down a number of pasture fences and eating up some of the corn in many farmer's fields the damage done by the escaped animal will amount to nothing.
