A PROGRESSIVE NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE UPBUILDING OF AMERICAN HOMES AND AMERICAN INDUSTRIES.

BURLINGTON, N. C., SEPT. 24, 1913.

NO 12

The Burlington Tobacco Market A Record Breaker.

Every indication points toward having a record breaking tobacco market at Burlington this year. Never before in the history of the market has so much interest been taken by the people of Burlington as is being manifested this year. Large prizes are being offered each week as can be seen by reading the large ad in this issue. The Burlington market offers you a better price for your tobacco than any other market. The courteous treatment on the part of the warehousemen and a nice prize given by our merchants. Who can ask for more, are we not liberal people. Do you not feel Mr. Farmer that we want you to bring your tobacco to our market. There are numerous reasons why the farmers should sell his tobacco on the Burlington market. A large scope of territory around Burlington can reach this as a central market much easier and with less trouble than any other market. These people are especially interested in and extend an invitation to every tobacco raiser in Alamance and adjoining counties to come to Burlington with tobacco.

A Bigger and Better Fair this Year Than Ever.

We are proud to know that the management of the Alamance Fair promises us a bigger and better fair this year than ever before. The farm exhibit promises to be good. The racing judging from the number of races already booked will be excellent. The free attractions promise to be better than usual. And a new feature has been added. The Southern Railway Company will have an exhibition display showing the different kinds of soil, how to get rid of the different kinds of insects and bugs that destroy your crops, and with this display will have experts who know and will demonstrate these things. These gentlemen of knowledge and experience will also gladly answer all questions that may arise. Heretofore these large exhibits have only been given in the Northern and Western states and Alamance Farmers should feel themselves especially proud to have this convenience at their disposal this year, and should come out and prove to the Railway Company that they appreciate the expense that they are paying to our people. In fact it will be an educational fair in many respects. If you enjoy good exhibits you certainly cannot afford to miss the Alamance fair which will be pulled off at the fair ground near this place September 7-8-9-10. The Management of the fair are expecting a much larger crowd than ever attended at any previous fair. The exhibits promise to be better.

Notice Farmers.

The Dixie Milling Co., will pay $1.25 per bushel for good wheat for the next ten days.

Ministerial Association Meets.

The Ministerial Association met Sunday with Rev. T. A. Buck, Secretary of the Association, to take the place of Rev. J. Andrew who was secretary of the association prior to his departure. A schedule was arranged whereby each pastor will take his term each week during the opening exercises of the Graded School. The regular monthly meeting will be held in the Methodist Church Parsonage the second week in October.

The Scuppernong and The Youth of 21.

"For several days the juicy scuppernong has been on the local market. But the man who pays his nickel and carries the over ripe or half ripe, sticky berries home in a paper sack, little realizes what the scuppernong is.

"The scuppernong is at its best when you are 21. Youth and manhood are fusing in nature's great crucible; hope runs high and sordid care finds no resting place in the young heart, where each throb is a pulse of promise and optimism reigns without question.

"The Sunday dinner with chicken pie and comb honey, is over, and with various wiles, perhaps not entirely understood, you have enticed her out to the seclusion of the scuppernong arbor, where early fall is already turning the leaves to various shades of brown.

"Dainty and sweet she is in her dress of white or maybe it is pink, or blue or brown, or gray—whatever the color, it is all right, because she wears it.

"With many jokes and much silly nonsense, you pluck from the vines overhead a golden globule, filled with priceless nectar. After many false starts and putting lips and with a slight pressure the contents are emptied into her dainty mouth—sweets to the sweets, nectar to the goddess.

"Emboldened, perhaps after awhile you take one of the most tempting grapes in your mouth and, blushing fiery red, bent towards her. After due tribute has been paid to the proprieties by way of sundry blushes and much twittering, her mouth is upturned and—

"Did you ever?"
"If not, you do not know what a scuppernong is. And now you never will. Youth and the days of 21 are not to be reclaimed at any price. But if you were so fortunate, the incident remains a green oasis in the desert of life. Perhaps she is now fat and past 40, if no longer fair; perhaps she is a frail and weary mother, bent with labor and care; perhaps she sleeps on the green hillside, where the sun kisses the earth and coaxes the flowers to perennial bloom; the soft southern breeze sigh a requiem, and bending pines murmur a lullaby.

No matter where she is or what she is, if you stood under the scuppernong arbor in the early days of manhood, you never see a scuppernong now, no matter where near under what circumstances, but what for an instance the heart is young again, and sings briefly a paean to love which is life."
—Tifton Gazette.

Card of Thanks.

Please allow me space in your paper to return thanks to the good people and friends who were so kind during mother's sickness and death, and also the floral offerings. May the blessings of God rest on them.

FRESH fish and oysters L. B. Gross Fruit stand Saturday.

To Our Friends and Readers.

It gives us pleasure to announce that beginning Oct 17" or sooner if possible, The State Dispatch will be issued Twice a Week. The paper will be improved in every respect, but the subscription price will remain the same, One dollar per year. The present management has contracted for four thousand dollars worth of new machinery, every piece of the old machinery will be thrown out, and replaced with the best that money will buy suitable to our needs. We ask the support of every person who appreciates live progressive and up to date methods in the newspaper field. In politics this paper will be Progressive Republican, but independent enough not to be subservient to the party lash. The expenditure of four thousand dollars is a huge undertaking, but we are relying upon the loyalty of our three thousand subscribers to make the task a success, we shall make a personal appeal at some future date, just now we are too busy with the new arrangements to outline fully all our plans, but we promise you the best, cleanest, and newsiest Semi-Weekly paper in the Old North State.

Progressive News.

Washington, D. C.,
Mansey Building,
September 20, 1913.

"We are in this fight to a finish, regardless of results. We have just begun to fight."

This is the message which Colonel Roosevelt sent to the Progressives in the House of Representatives upon the organization of their Congressional campaign committee. This committee was organized to take special charge of the Congressional campaign next year. Representative Wm. H. Hinebaugh of Illinois was elected chairman; Rep. A. R. Rupley of Pennsylvania, secretary; and Representative W. J. Hulings, also of Pennsylvania, treasurer.

The new committee emphasized its organization by immediately announcing its determination to see that a Progressive candidate for Congress is nominated in each of the 435 districts in the United States next year. It proposes to make the fight all down the line. In this determination the congressional committee is in hearty accord with the Progressive National Committee, which has repeatedly announced precise the same purpose.

Chairman Hinebaugh went to New York the day after the organization of the committee for consultation with Colonel Roosevelt and brought back to his colleagues the message quoted above.

The new Progressive Congressional committee will work upon different lines from the committees of the old parties. Every Congressional district will be entitled to representation, so that the members of each state will form an effective local committee. Between the Congressional committee and the Progressive National Committee the closest relations will be effective co-operation.

Two interesting and significant incidents marked the passage of the Democratic currency bill in the House on September 18th. One was the refusal of the Democrats to fulfill one of their favorite promises to the country by adoption of an amendment aimed at preventing interlocking directorates among banks eligible to membership in the Federal reserve banks created by the bill. There is no special significance attaching to this refusal of the Democrats to fulfill a public promise, however. They have sinned notoriously in this respect during the whole life of the Wilson administration. It is, in fact, rather to be expected now that they will disregard the promise they made so lavishly during the campaign last year than they will undertake to fulfill them by legislative enactment. Representative Murdock, floor leader of the Progressives in the House, had pointed out in an able speech during the debate on the currency bill a considerable number of specific instances in which the measure failed to meet such promises. And inasmuch as the bill includes among those responsible for its language and its provisions President Wilson, Secretary Bryan, Secretary McAdoo, and members of both Senate and House, it is obvious that this disregard of public pledged obligation is charged directly to the entire Democratic administration.

In no single feature has Democratic denunciation of Wall Street power and the iniquitous Money Trust been more sweeping and savage than in its wholesale condemnation of the system of interlocking directorates which is the very center and life of the machinery by which the Money Trust maintains its control. But from some curious and unexplained reason the Democrats from first to last have refused to include a prohibition of interlocking directorates in their currency bill. The only attempt at explanation of this refusal that has been made is the statement that to deal with the problem in its application to banks would be to handle merely one phase of it, and the further promise at some indefinite and unfixed future date they will deal with the whole problem in a separate measure.

The question arose on September 18th through a motion submitted by representative Walters of Pennsylvania, a progressive, to recommit the bill to the Committee on Banking and currency with instructions to report it back with an amendment forbidding interlocking directorships. The Democrats promptly precluded debate on the amendment by ordering the party whip defeated the amendment by a vote of 265 to 100.

The other incident, more significant, if not important, was the vote on the amendment submitted by the committee specifically reaffirming the gold standard pledge of March 14, 1900. 67 Democrats revolted against the committee leadership, and the caucus authority, and voted against this amendment. The special significance of this refusal is in the showing it makes of the hold which free silver still has among the Democrats. These 67 rebels against the authority of the caucus insisted that the reaffirmation of the gold standard pledge was a gratuitous slap in the face for a large number of Democratic voters. The committee had submitted the amendment in response to the charge widely made by those opposed to the bill that its language as originally proposed was liable to be construed as in effect repealing the gold standard pledge. This language has been employed for purpose of pacifying the silverites, whose leader is still William Jennings Bryan. Chairman Glass of the committee hotly denied that the criticized language was vague or ambiguous or that it was capable of the suggested interpretation. The committee refused to change it, but got around the difficulty by submitting an amendment specifically reaffirming the gold standard pledge.

Saxapahaw Items.

Mr. Robert Isley spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents at Swepsonville.

A party of the Holiness ministers have pitched their tent just out on the suburbs of the village. They hold two services daily. In the afternoon and evening. Large crowds attend the services.

Mr. Chas Lindley spent Saturday at home, accompanied by Mr. George Wayne of Elon College.

Miss Beulah Durham will leave this week for New York City where she will enter college.

Mr. Herman Penland returned to Ashville N. C. Wednesday after spending a few days visiting at Mr. J. D. Durhams.

Mr. H. Boyd Pickard will leave next week for Moncure where he has been re-elected principal of the graded school for another year. His sister Miss Bertha Pickard will accompany him as one of the assistant teachers.

Misses Avh and Sarah Durham spent a part of last week visiting their parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. Durham.

Rebels Lost Heavily in Engagement With Federals, Says Report.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 19.—Three hundred rebels of Francisco Villa's command were killed on Friday in a battle with the federal forces of Generals Marcelo Caraveo and Antonio at Bustillos, Chihuahua, according to the official federal messages received today at Jarez from General Mercado of Chihuahua. Several rebels were made prisoners by the federals. Among them was Col. Porfirio Talamantes, Villa's chief of staff. One hundred rebels who had been wounded in the recent San Andrews battle, and who were being cared for at the Bustillos ranch were captured by the federals. The buildings of the Bustillos ranch which belongs to Alberto Madero an uncle of the late president of Mexico were set afire and destroyed by the federals.

Gen. Jose Ynez Salazar with 400 federal troops, left Juarez today on a special train to intercept Villa and the remnant of his force, who are marching toward the border. Villa is reported to be nearing Casas Grandes.

New Custom Established.

At the Church of the Holy Comforter a custom was established last Sunday night which will no doubt be very acceptable to the music loving people of the town. The Rector announced that immediately after the service, the organist, Mr. Scott-Hunter would extend the Postlude by playing two or three music numbers and would continue to do this until further notice. No one is supposed to remain unless they so desire. The numbers played were "Simple Aven" by Thome and Barcarolle (from fourth Concerto for Piano and Orchestra) by Sir William Sterndale-Bennett (arranged for the Organ by G. Scott-Hunter.) Next Sunday night he will play "Cavatina" by Raff. "Second Organ Sonata" by Mendelssohn.

Death of Mrs. D. D. DeMoss.

Mrs. D. D. DeMoss died Thursday at her home in Southeast Burlington. She has been a resident of our town for about three years and has made many friends who have learned to love and respect her by her kind disposition. She leaves four sons and four daughters, one sister and one brother. The remains were shipped to Bell, La. her former home for burial. She was sixty-two of age.

DO IT NOW

Burlington People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders any the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders. They act where others fail. Over a hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home.

Mrs. Mary E. King, opp. Fairgrounds, Burlington, N. C., says: "From my own experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, I advise anyone having kidney troubles to take them. I had weak kidneys and at times I was nervous and dizzy. Backache often bothered me and I could not sleep well. Doan's Kidney made me strong and well."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Post-Office Box 100, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

CIRCUS VANGUARD ARRIVES.

Battalion of the Downie & Wheeler Show Decorate Town With Picturesque Posters.

One of the pleasant things for a newspaper is the announcement of a first class circus coming and this we have the pleasure of doing for the Number One Advance Car of the Downie & Wheeler Shows was in our city today and the small army of men in white overalls and jumpers pasted every billboard, deadwall and available barn in and about Burlington with flaring posters of wild animals, petite ladies, highspirited horses, wonderful trained ponies, athletic men and goodness knows what all. The "kiddies" are thrilled with joy and the "grownups" gaze at the pictures and remember the happiest moments of their happy childhood days. Baseball is a national sport but the circus is the national amusement and it will never grow wearisome as long as managers and special agents scour every corner of the globe for new and strange beasts and snappy death defying acts.

The Downie and Wheeler Shows have grown large through sheer merit and the everlasting diligence of the management. Every act must stand the most critical test and each performer, musician, official or attache must be a lady or gentlemen under all circumstances or seek employment elsewhere. This is an iron clad rule with the Downie and Wheeler Shows and to this feature they attribute the greater part of their wonderful success.

We will publish further details and all we care to say now is for the "kiddies" to save their pennies and for the "grownups" to arrange to go to the show and make the management prove that the statement "there is nothing new under the sun," is untrue. The date for the exhibition here is OCT. 2nd.

Be a child again and enjoy the day from the arrival of the first gaudy train to the loading of the last baggage horse at night for circuses do not come every day and a good one like this is not to be missed.

Most Children Have Worms.

Many mothers think their children are suffering from indigestion, headache, nervousness, weakness, costiveness, when they are victims of that most common of all children's ailments—worms. Peevish, ill-tempered, fertile children, who toss and grind their teeth, with bad breath and colicky pains have all the symptoms of having worms and should be given Kickapoo Worm Killer, a pleasant candy lozenge, which expels worms, regulates the bowels, tones up the system and makes children well and happy. Kickapoo Worm Killer is guaranteed. All druggists, or by mail. Price 25c. Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis

The Southern Railway Co. will have an educational exhibit at the county fair. This will give dirying and horticultural demonstrations.

We desire to call the attention of our readers to the date of our county fair which will be held Oct. 7th to 10th. arrange to be present.

One of the things we are looking to with much interest is the Alamance County fair Oct. 7th to 10th.

Don't Sleep Well No Good Reason Just Can't Sleep

Some people can't sleep. There seems to be no special reason. They have no disease of the nervous system. Digestion is fairly good. Their habits are pretty good. They may smoke a little or drink a little, yet their habits are fair. Still they can't sleep well.

Just a little unbalanced in the nerve centers. That is all. They should have a little "righting up."

A tonic will generally do this. The right sort of a tonic. Peruna is exactly the tonic. Digestion is hurried by Peruna. The stomach is empty and ready to rest for the night. The circulation is equalized. The brain is relieved of all congestions and irritations.

The Peruna acts on every blood vessel in the system. It acts on all of the nerve centers. One begins to sleep and hardly knows why.

Take a teaspoonful to one tablespoonful of Peruna before each meal. Sometimes another tablespoonful at bedtime is necessary, where the sleeplessness is very pronounced.

Just try it, neighbor. You will be glad if you do. One bottle will convince you. Peruna is no sleep medicine. It is not a narcotic. It contains no narcotics. It is nothing of that sort. It is simply a regulative tonic.

Every home should be provided with the last edition of the "Tills of Life," sent free by the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

We welcome to our exchange list, The Creedmore News, a bright clean and newsie sheet published at Creedmore, Granville County, N. C. Mr. John E. Hart formerly with the News at this place is the Editor and as everybody knows John gets out a good paper. Because he was a long time Editor of the Dispatch. The Creedmore News announces its political faith as Democratic but adds a saving clause by saying that it has no axe to grind and will be independent in thought and expression, regardless of its political affiliations. We wish it well upon the uncertain sea of Journalism. May each and every issue be as bright and clean as its first.

Mr. Joe E. Frazier, a bright and deserving young man from Swepsonville, this county will solicit and collect for The Dispatch, beginning October 1st. Any courtesies extended him will be appreciated by this paper. Have your dollar ready when he calls, then watch Joe smile, because if there is anything Joe loves better than a dollar, it's another dollar if you doubt this just try him.

Just watch some of those who are talking the longest and loudest about the rate discrimination against North Carolina, lay down and surrender to the Railroads just when the right time to stand firm arrives and the indications are that it will be a high state official at that. We are not calling any names but you will know who he is when the time comes.

Dynamited His Home In Effort To Wipe Out Entire Family.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 19. — Mack Hurst, a stonemason, dynamited his house here early today, killing himself and one daughter and fatally injuring two other daughters, in addition to demolishing the house. Mrs. Hurst, in a remarkable manner escaped injury. Hurst is believed to have been insane.

The dead:
Mack Hurst, 50 years old.
Maud Hurst, 16 years old.
Fatally hurt:
Fannie Hurst, 13 years old; one leg blown off and body mangled; almost unrecognizable.
Elizabeth Hurst, six years old, body mangled.

The noise of the explosion awoke the whole city. Police and firemen hastened to the scene and at once began a search of the ruins. The bodies of Hurst and his dead daughter were found in another part of the ruins. The other two daughters were both unconscious and it was some time before they were revived. Neither was able to tell anything of the occurrence.

The shock of the explosion wrecked the house and was felt in the whole immediate neighborhood. Every pane of glass for a block around was broken and other minor damage done to homes in the immediate vicinity. Hurst, who was a stonemason, but had not been working for some time, had been acting strangely of late and an inquisitorial body had declared him insane.

It was not thought, however, that his insanity was of a violent kind and no preparations for his custody had been made. It is supposed that he suddenly became worse and while in a frenzy committed the act. Hurst had been separated from his wife for six weeks and yesterday she refused to take him back. It is believed that he then, in a fit of insanity determined to wipe out the entire family consisting of his wife and eight children.

The dead girl met the fate intended for her mother and the fact that they had changed beds for the night cost the daughter her life. Hurst, after stealthily, in the darkness, planting a stick of dynamite under each of the three beds in the house, tied two sticks to his own body, crawled into the bed which he had formerly occupied with his wife, but which last night contained the three daughters, Maude, Fannie and Elizabeth. Fannie spoke to her father.

"Lay still," Hurst replied. "We will all die together." Before the girl could make a move the explosion rent the house and aroused the entire city. The police and fire department rushed to the scene, sent the two injured girls to the hospital and cleared away the debris.

BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUS AT GREENSBORO

Great Spectacle of "Cleopatra" Begins Regular Performance.

The Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth and newly added spectacle of "Cleopatra" will exhibit in GREENSBORO on OCT. 10. The spectacle in itself is an attraction that should fill the big tent at each performance and draw thousands from the surrounding districts. It is beyond question the greatest production of its kind ever seen in America.

The world's most skillful scenic artist, costumers, property builders, chorus directors and stage managers were engaged to mount the production. A stage bigger than a hundred ordinary theatres was built and made portable so that it can be conveyed from town to town and erected each day in the main tent. The circus proprietors have made it possible for those who live in the contributory towns, even the farmers and their families, to see the magnificent wordless play that is an immense attraction in the largest cities. It is enacted with a cast of 1,250 actors, a grand opera chorus, an orchestra of 100 soloists, a ballet of 350 dancing girls, 950 horses, five herds of elephants, caravans of camels, and a trainload of special devices, costumes, and scenery and electrical mechanism for producing such effects as lightning, thunder, sand storms on the desert, volcanoes in action, sunrise, floods, and mirages.

The realism of scenery is perfect. It is as though the audience was looking into the streets of Alexandria in the day of Ptolemys. The streets throb with their strange cosmopolitan life. In the middle distance flows the Nile, the mighty pyramids and the sphinx looking down from past ages. Beyond them stretch endless wastes of sand. The laureats of a dead race speak from forgotten tombs. The walls of time fall down and we see the court of Cleopatra during its years of extravagance and revelry, and hear the story of the betrayal of Rome and the undoing of Marc Antony, told in a vividly realistic way. The incidental music was arranged by Faltis Effendi, late bandmaster of the Khedive of Egypt. The ballet is under the direction of Ottokar Bartik, balletmaster of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company.

The regular circus program is the finest the Barnum and Bailey management has ever offered. Thrilling acts are presented by Katie Sanwina, the strongest and most beautiful woman before the public; Mae Wirth, the greatest of all riders; a company of Japanese wrestlers, athletes, swordsmen and jiu jitsu experts. Winston, riding seals, and Victoria Codona, queen of high wire performers. There are 400 performers. In the menagerie will be found the only baby giraffe on exhibition in the world. There will be a parade at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

An exception to this inactivity on the part of the doctors was seen in the cases of Dr. R. G. McPherson, of Saxapahaw, and Drs. Wilkins and Sterrett, of Haw River. These physicians visited the dispensaries every day we were at their places and did a great work in getting the country people interested. The efforts of Dr. McPherson along this line are shown by the large attendance on our second day at Saxapahaw, when more than 300 people were examined.

During the entire time the dispensaries were conducted the newspapers aided us greatly. They published weekly news items regarding the success of our work and also urged the people to take advantage of the opportunity the State and County were giving them. As a whole, our work in examining people for intestinal parasites was highly successful despite the difficulties and the lack of cooperation. And in addition to this quite a number of people became interested in private sanitation and have built sanitary privies at their homes. Three or four of the mills are arranging for improved sanitary conditions at their tenant houses and I believe that much good will result from this phase of the work.

From a sanitary point of view, the position of a majority of the homes and villages, as well as of the larger towns, in Alamance County is most melancholy. Taking the county as a whole, the greatest evil against the public health is the type of dirty, loathsome, unsanitary, open-back privies found in so many homes. This type of privy is not limited to the country homes or to the mill villages, but is also found at a majority of the homes in the suburbs of Burlington and Graham. A conservative estimate would be that more than 9% of the homes in the county have privies of this grade. Aside from polluting the soil, being unsightly and permeating the atmosphere with foul odors, these privies permit the breeding of countless myriads of flies which carry filth and disease to the homes. It is in this way that the majority of cases of intestinal diseases, such as typhoid fever, many forms of diarrhea and bowel complaints, and hookworm disease are spread. A great many homes have no privy of any type and the sanitary condition of such a place usually beggars description. Fully 50% of the schools we visited were without privies of any kind. It is at school that children from all classes of citizenship meet and mingle and the significance of this fact needs no comment. At no place in the country did we find any effort being made to destroy the breeding places of mosquitoes or to limit the spread of malaria. The conditions of public health and sanitation at many of the cotton mills is abhorrent, due to the fact that "what is everybody's business is nobody's business". At some of the mills the houses are owned by the individuals while at the other places the company owning the mill also owns the tenant houses. I believe close observation will show the conditions worse in the latter places. If any sanitary laws apply to Alamance County they should at once be invoked and the owners forced to remedy such conditions. When a corporation takes a family's time and labor and uses it for profit the family is entitled to and should have by law, if necessary such arrangements at their homes as will protect them from preventable diseases. Such conditions as now exist are little better than a form of slavery.

In speaking of sanitation, it is not necessary to mention any of the mill villages in detail. Some of course, are worse than others but all are bad enough. If you want to see these conditions for yourself go to any of them.

Everyone in the county knows the degree to which typhoid, a preventable disease, has ravaged during the past months and so no mention will be made of the epidemic.

Having taken a retrospect of the sanitary conditions in Alamance County, let us turn from such a gloomy aspect and pass to a constructive attitude and decide the question of how these conditions may be improved. The great trouble in getting sanitary measures carried out is that so many of the people do not understand anything at all about the nature of diseases. There are many people in Alamance County who do not know that malaria is spread by mosquitoes, or that a person who is only slightly ill may be carrying the germs of typhoid. There are still a greater number of people in the county who do not know the way in which infectious diseases are spread; who do not know that tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diarrhea, many bowel complaints in children, and hookworm disease are all spread by filth and unsanitary surroundings at home and at the schools. It is these people that do not realize the value of sanitation, of destroying the fifth breeding places of flies, or of ridding a community of mosquitoes. The great problem of sanitation and public health is how can the masses be made to realize the importance of keeping clean and of having sanitary surroundings. The answer is by EDUCATION. Everyone, therefore, who spreads a knowledge of diseases and their causes is helping the sanitary condition of the community, for where there is knowledge of diseases the fear of them and the effort to escape from them will soon follow.

As stated in the beginning of this report, it is impossible for the State to reach every citizen and instruct him. That is the duty and privilege of the county. The public health movement is not a temporary affair, but a movement that is gaining force as the months and years go by and as more of the citizen learn the value of personal sanitation. The greatest force in this work is the instruction given to the school children, and to the people at large the common people who are not reached by the newspapers and health bulletin. The only way to accomplish these ends is to employ a capable and experienced physician for his whole time to look after the health of the county. It is not necessary to mention the numerous duties he would have to perform. The greater part of his work would be constructive teaching the laws of health to masses and seeing that they observe them.

Since the law requiring the registration of the vital statistics has gone into effect the health officer is made more responsible to the people than any officer in our government. The progress of his work is measured year by year and if his results are not positive he is not making good. Then too, this officer's work is made more effective since the State Board of Health has established a Bureau of County Health. A physician is in charge of this work and it is his sole duty to cooperate with the whole time health officers, keeping them in touch with similar work being done in other counties.

The need of a whole time officer in Alamance County is so apparent that Dr. P. W. Covington, Head of the Bureau of County Health, was invited to visit the County and lay the proposition before the officials. At a joint meeting of the Board of Education, Health and Commissioners Dr. Covington explained the duties of the whole time health officer and gave in detail the attitude of the State Board of Health. Talks in favor of this move were made by Drs. Stafford, Walker and Pickett, Mr. Robertson and Mr. J. L. Scott, of the Board of Education, the Rev. Mr. Buck and several others. The Boards of Education and Health were unanimous in recommending that the Commissioners make provision for employing a physician for his entire time.

There is not space to give in detail the points brought out at the meeting but will only mention one fact shown by Dr. Covington. Statistics prove that aside from the educational and constructive parts of his work, a county health officer, getting the minimum results, would in his first year reduce the death rate 1 in every 1000 of population. This means that in Alamance County, the health officer would save 30 lives during the first year of his work. The United States Government places a value of $885.00 on every immigrant that lands on our shores. This means that every poor, illiterate foreigner, who in many instances cannot speak our language, is worth to the government $885.00 in the increased taxes which his work will turn to the treasury. The salary for a whole time health officer is $2500.00 per year, an increase of taxes of a very few cents on the hundred dollars of property. If 30 lives can be saved by this investment the cost to the County would be less than $85.00 each. The County Commissioners, however, said that the County is too poor to pay this price to save the lives of its citizens and that the people would not stand for the increased taxation. The proposition was rejected, only one member being in favor of it.

Thaw Spends Quiet Sunday In Coaticook.

Coaticook, Que., Sept. 7.—No word has come to Coaticook tonight from the Department of the Interior at Ottawa as to when Harry K. Thaw will be taken to Montreal for his hearing there Sept 15 before the King's Bench on the writ of habeas corpus obtained by his counsel. The quarters here are comfortable and the immigration agents in charge said today that Thaw might be held until the last moment.

"The Department does not desire to stir up any more excitement about the Thaw case than is absolutely necessary," said T. B. Williams, one of the immigration officers. "There has been enough already and when Thaw is removed it will be as quietly as possible. We don't want any fuss."

Thaw's Sunday was perhaps the most uneventful day since his arrival in Canada. He had only two callers, his stenographer and his local counsel, W. L. Shutreff. Most of the day the prisoner spent reading about himself in the newspapers. The officers volunteered to take him for a walk, if he felt in need of exercise, but Thaw declined.

Streams Swollen.

Kinston, Sept. 11.—Every stream in this section of the State is affected today by heavy freshets and Tuesday and early yesterday most of them by abnormal tides. A rise of several inches has been noted in Neuse River here, and the stream is expected to be high considerably above the normal stage when the crest of the heavy freshets coming from upstate strike this point.

This is due to the exceedingly heavy rain recently.

Two and three quarter inches was recorded as the precipitation of last Wednesday. The Moccasin River at Snow Hill is rising rapidly. At Greenville the Tar River is out of its banks though the height of the rise is believed to have been reached. The stream is higher than in many months. At Greenville during last week's storm the river rose four feet from the tide in Pamlico River, the second time in history, it is said that it has been affected by the tide at that point. No loss of stock has occurred but farmlands in the vicinity are inundated.

Tuesday a brisk northeast wind similar except in velocity to the gale that caused such damage last week, drove water from the sound into Neuse and Trent-Rivers at Newbern until those streams rose two feet above the usual high-tide mark. In Pamlico River with its greater width the rise was not so great but with considerable. Many people feared a repetition of the recent storm at points near the south but this failed to occur and the water gradually receded before midnight.

Raise More Cattle.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 14.—If the Southeast is to become the great cattle growing section that it should in view of its natural advantages and the present and growing demand for cattle with commensurate prices, farmers must quit selling their female and immature stock, declares Dr. C. M. Morgan, dairy agent of the Southern Railway, who sounds a warning against a continuation of the wholesome depopulation of cattle from the South.

"Farmers should keep their heifer and build up the quality of their stock by the use of pure bred bulls of dairy of beef type as desirable," says Dr. Morgan. "This is the only way to increase the number or the quality of cattle in the Southeast. The scarcity of cattle is world wide and it will never be possible to secure enough pure-bred cattle to develop the industry in the Southeast.

"Farmers who sell calves are simply giving the dealer a good part of the profit they should have themselves. If calves were fattened on the farm, using cotton seed meal as a concentrate, a higher price per pound would be received and the farmer would not only profit by this and the additional weight but would have in the manure 85 per cent of the fertilizing value of the cotton seed meal.

"With the good grazing furnished by Bermuda grass and Burr clover and the abundance of forage crops that yield plentifully in the Southeast, this section should be the great source of the country's beef and dairy products supply. The dairy division of the Southern Railway will send a man to help build a dipping vat or silo and to cooperate with persons in the dairy business or desiring to enter it. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has offered to cooperate with farmers who have eradicated ticks and will send an expert to aid farmers in choosing desirable bulls of either dairy or beef type."

Report of Hookworm Campaign in Alamance.

It is only in recent years that there has come into the world a new knowledge that it is possible to save a man from a great part of the sickness that has heretofore afflicted him. This new knowledge is the science of sanitation. So important have the teachings of this science become that every progressive government is making an effort to have the results of sanitation, and the means of obtaining these results, known to all their citizens. For a state to increase the public health and sanitary conditions of its citizens is economical, because health means the ability to work and earn good wages; and a healthy community means more business, more money, and more comforts. It is a significant fact, and one every citizen should be proud of, that North Carolina is working with other progressive states of the Union to accomplish this end.

It is manifestly impossible for the State Board of Health to reach every individual within its borders and educate him regarding the laws of health. But it is trying to interest the counties and let them in turn interest and educate the people. It is to this end that the Hookworm Campaign is being carried on in the State. The question at once arises "Why does the State Board of Health, if it wishes to interest the people in sanitation, carry on a campaign against hookworms and intestinal parasites?" No one can deny the great value of the campaign to those infected with intestinal parasites, but the greatest value is the work of demonstration in the counties where the dispensaries are being conducted. This demonstration work has been applied time and again to other fields of endeavor. In aiding educational work in the South money was spent in establishing, in different sections of the State, special tax schools as demonstrations. In these schools the people saw increased facilities, longer terms, better teachers, and modern schoolhouses replace what they had regarded as all they could afford. As a result there has been voted in North Carolina, in spite of the aversion to increased taxes, a special tax for schools in more than 1500 districts. In agriculture, assistance to all crops has not been given, but definite demonstrations. Money has been supplied for boys' corn clubs. The results have been an awakening in agriculture and the yield has been improved until now 100 bushels of corn are grown on an acre by mere boys, a thing undreamed of ten years ago.

It is this principle that is now being applied to public health work. A class of diseases—intestinal parasites—has been chosen to serve as a demonstration. Hookworm disease is very prevalent and is found in every county of the State during every month of the year. It is preventable and easily cured, and such marked results follow treatment that it appeals to everyone. In conducting the Hookworm Campaign the State Board of Health is showing what can be done in progressive health work in six weeks so that the counties may form an estimate of the value of such work when applied in a systematic manner to all preventable diseases.

The free medical dispensaries for the treatment of Hookworm Disease and other diseases due to intestinal parasites were conducted in Alamance County for 6 weeks, from August 8 to September 20, 1913. This work was under the charge of the Hookworm Commission of the North Carolina State Board of Health, and was made possible by the Commissioners of the County cooperating with the State Board of Health. It may be of interest to State and the County. The County appropriated a sum not to exceed $250.00 to pay for the medicines used, the advertising, the containers for bringing in specimens, and the expenses of an assistant. By cooperating with the State in this way, the County paid less than one fourth of the actual cost of the campaign. (The exact amount expended by the County was $230.34.)

During the six weeks it is estimated 9000 people visited the dispensaries, saw the exhibits, heard the talks and received literature on vital topics of public health and sanitation. Of this number, 3105 were examined for intestinal parasites and of these 703 were found to be infected and were given treatment. The following tables will give in detail the number examined at the different dispensary points, the number of children examined, as well as the numbers infected and the kind of infection:

Each person infected was given three and in some instances, four treatments.

The campaign was conducted by visiting points selected by the county commissioners and establishing temporary dispensaries which the people could visit and be examined. The conditions of life in Alamance are different from those of many of the other counties of the State and for this reason the problem of interesting the people in public health and sanitation is different. The chief industry of the county is manufacturing, there being cotton mills and a number of other industries each employing from 50 to several hundred operatives. These people, or at least the heads of the families, spend the day at their work and cannot be reached so easily as in counties where the chief pursuits are agricultural.

In order to successfully work the mill towns more dispensary points than usual had to be selected, and since the dispensary work was limited to six weeks only two could be given to each point. Eleven points were established and at these we were able to reach 17 cotton mills and several furniture factories. Aside from the regular dispensaries, lectures and demonstrations on hookworm disease and sanitation were given at night at five churches or schoolhouses. Through the kindness of Mr. Vernon we were enabled to give a public demonstration at the Masonic Picnic at Piedmont Park, on August 16.

The mill people as a rule were hard to get interested and by the time they learned the nature of our work the dispensary had to be moved to other points. During the latter part of our stay in the county this difficulty was overcome by the assistance of several progressive mill managers. We had a circular letter printed that

The Telephone and Good Roads

The telephone goes hand in hand with good roads.

The telephone overcomes many of the obstacles of bad roads and makes it possible for the farmer and other rural residents to transact business in the city and with neighbors when the roads are impassable.

Progressive farmers are insisting upon good roads and telephones. These two agencies of modern civilization are doing more than all others toward eliminating the isolation of country life. You can have a telephone in your home at very small cost. Send a postal for our free booklet giving complete information.

Report of The North Carolina Gettysburg Battle Ground Commission.

Raleigh, N. C., July 14, 1913. To the Governor.

SIR:—The Commissioners appointed by your Excellency under Joint Resolution 51, Public Laws, 1913, respectfully make the following report of their actions and proceedings:

In relays the members of the Commission, between June 19 and July 3, 1913, visited Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, and the fields around the place upon which were fought the great battles of July 1, 2 and 3, 1863. The Commissioners had no difficulty in identifying the several points and positions on those battlefields where North Carolina soldiers marched and fought, and they are satisfied after a careful examination and inspection of the grounds, of official reports of those battles made by officers, Union and Confederate, and after the examination of witness who were participants, that North Carolina's claims that her troops bore the brunt of the first day's battle and suffered greater losses in killed and wounded in the three day's battle and suffered greater losses in killed and wounded in the three day's battles than did the troops of any other State; that on the late evening of July 2nd, they pierced and broke the Federal infantry lines on East Cemetery Hill and captured several pieces of artillery; and that they advanced as far, or further, than any other troops engaged in Longstreet's Assault on the afternoon of the third day's battle are all founded.

To mark by substantial tablets the several positions of the North Carolina troops which the Commissioners wish to emphasize, was denied them by the Gettysburg National Park Commission under their regulations concerning the location of tablets and monuments proposed to be erected on the battlefield and the inscriptions on such tablets and monuments. The decision of the Gettysburg National Park Commission was not made on the ground that North Carolina's claims are not accurate and true. That question was not considered.

The Commissioners had gone to Gettysburg with tablets of a temporary character already prepared for the purposes above mentioned to be substituted afterwards by more permanent ones of stones or bronze. They carried with them also other material and things necessary for the carrying out of the above mentioned resolution.

Co-operative County Educational Conferences in Buncombe County.

A series of six joint educational conferences has been held during the past week in Buncombe County in which educational agencies of State, county, community, and city made plans and received inspiration for fuller cooperation in the great work of education.

State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner was present at the last two of these conferences and was greatly pleased with the conferences and their results. He states that it is almost impossible to estimate the great benefit which will be derived from these meetings.

He highly commends the county of Buncombe on the degree of educational progress which these meetings reflected, on the work and spirit of its Board of Education, and on the efficiency of its County Superintendent; and he promises that similar cooperative educational conferences will be planned and held in a number of other counties of the State.

These conferences were held in six different localities of the County so as to reach all the Buncombe people. Mr. L. C. Brogden, State Supervisor of Rural Schools, attended and took part in the discussions of the four first meetings, which Superintendent Joyner was prevented from attending by conflicting engagements.

The meetings were thoroughly advertised and largely attended. The teachers and children of the schools most convenient to each meeting-place were present, and a feature of each conference was a parade of the children as they marched, with banners flying, around the school grounds.

The school committeemen also attended and the meetings were in reality conferences between teachers, children, school-committeemen, parents, and other interested citizens. The County Superintendent and the entire membership of the Board of Education attended every meeting.

Every phase of educational work was discussed and the sentiment of all the meetings was expressed in the slogan: Better Homes, Better Schools, Better Farms and Better Farming, Better Citizenship. Especial emphasis was laid upon consolidation and local taxation, and special discussions of the correlation of the work of the rural schools with the life of the country people were made by representatives of the State and County Departments of Education.

Mr. Millsaps, District Supervisor of Farm Demonstration work; Mr. Brown of the Corn Club and the Tomato Club work for boys and girls; and Mr. Weaver, Demonstration Agent for Buncombe County, were all present at each meeting to discuss better farming and agricultural education. Representatives of the State Board of Health and the County Board of Health were present and discussed health and sanitation and their relation to the schools of the county.

HOWE'S GREAT LONDON SHOW.

When the Howe Great London Show exhibits in Graham Sept 29 the people of this vicinity will not only be given the opportunity of seeing the grandest array of equestriennes, gymnasts leapers tumblers and performers generally, but at the same time the opportunity of seeing the most complete zoological collection ever assembled. In connection with both will be a museum fairly teeming with wonders from every section of the globe. The magnitude of this sterling aggregation is well worthy of consideration, and while doing so the merit must not be overlooked.

The three rings, aerial enclave, sporting plaza and various modern amusement devices are far greater proportioned than those of any other similar traveling organization in this country. There is absolutely nothing that this show has not, and a whole lot more than the other shows have.

The courteous treatment that is given patrons is commendable, and the management at all times consider their comfort first and their own interest as secondary. Seats with the most modern and comfortable backs and foot rests are provided, and a corps of fifty uniformed ushers are in constant attendance to answer all civil questions promptly and politely. The same ushers are under strict and imperative orders to provide seats for every holder of a ticket, for standing room is never sold with this show. No matter how great the crowd may be, the management has wisely decided that it is better to discomode some than to inconvenience many. The people have at all times an unobstructed view of the performance.

The True Wife's Kingdom.

Home is the true wife's kingdom, says Dr. Miller. There, first of all places, she must be strong and beautiful. She may touch life outside in many ways, if she can do it without slighting the duties that are hers within her own doors.

Very largely does the wife hold in her hands, as a sacred trust, the happiness and the highest good of the hearts that nestle there. The best husband—the truest, the noblest, the gentlest, the richest-hearted cannot make his home happy if his wife be not in every reasonable sense, a helpmate to him.

Home happiness does depend on the wife. Her spirit gives the home its atmosphere. Her hands fashion its beauty. Her heart makes its love. And the end is so worthy, so noble, so divine, that no woman who has been called to be a wife, and has listened to the call, should consider any price too great to pay to be the light, the joy, the blessing, the inspiration of a home.

The woman who makes a sweet, beautiful home, filling it with love and prayer and purity, is doing something better than anything else her hands could find to do beneath the skies.

School Teacher Ran Amuck.

Muehlhausen, Ga.
—Fifteen persons are dead here as the result of a school teacher named Wagner running amuck last night with several revolvers and a plentiful supply of ammunition. Eight persons died shortly after Wagner opened up his murderous fusillade and seven others of 20 wounded succumbed today. Four more persons are in a precarious condition.

Landmarks of Typewriter Progress

Such are all the recent developments of the

Remington

(Visible Models 10 and 11)

Among these developments are:

The Built-in Decimal Tabulator—which makes the decimal tabulating mechanism an integral part of the typewriter.

The Tabulator Set Key—which eliminates all hand setting of the tabulator stops.

The Column Selector—which determines, by the stroke of a single key, the exact point on each line where the writing is to begin.

The Adding and Subtracting Remington (Wahl Mechanism)—which combines in one typewriter, and in one operation, the functions of the writing machine and the adding machine.

Every one of these new developments is an evidence of the perpetual leadership of the Remington Typewriter. Illustrated booklet descriptive of all recent Remington improvements, sent on request.
