PRESIDENT W. W. FINLEY DEAD.

Mr. Finley Was Elected President of the Southern Upon Death of President Spencer 6 Years Ago.

Washington, Nov. 25.—William W. Finley, president of the Southern railway and a leading figure in movements for the development of the south, died here today as a result of a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered a few hours before. He did not regain consciousness after he was stricken.

Mr. Finley's family, friends and associates were wholly unprepared for his sudden death. Scarcely past the prime of life, he was vigorous and energetic and seemingly in the best of health until a moment before he was stricken by the stroke. He passed yesterday evening quietly and peacefully in the best physical and mental condition. When he awoke this morning he was stricken by a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered a few hours before. He did not regain consciousness after he was stricken.

Miss Bettie Vann Ward, assisted by Mrs. Chester A. Smith, entertained the Embroidery club at the Ward Hotel Friday afternoon at 3:30. Interests centered around Mrs. Sam Gantt, a bride of two weeks, who has just returned from a short bridal tour, and is a member of the club. This is her last meeting with them for some time as she leaves next week, with Mr. Gantt, for their future home in Beaumont, Cal.

Norman Hackett Entertains at the Home Dr. J. W. Page.

The beautiful residence of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Page was thrown open Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for the lecture of Norman Hackett, on the life of O. Henry. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, and the Round Dozen Club, the Embroidery Club and the Graded School Teachers were invited. While the affair was primarily in honor of the famous actor who did honor to the memory of Carolina's gifted son, yet a social turn was given it that proved very delightful. The president of the club, Mrs. W. R. Sellars, received the guests and introduced them to Mr. Hackett. The folding doors were thrown open, and the hall, parlor and dining room thrown into one large room so that all were in close proximity to the speaker. Decorations of potted plants were used everywhere.

Whitsett News Notes.

The Athenian Society has fixed December 18, as the date for their senior debate. The Dialectic Society will have the evening of December 19. Much interest is being taken in these two events.

Dr. Long preached a strong sermon at the Reformed Church Sunday, after which the Lord's Supper was administered to a large congregation.

Miss Margaret Whitsett and brother, O. M. Whitsett, of Route No. 4, Greensboro, were here over Sunday. The lecture Sunday evening was attended by a large audience. The topic was Dreams and Visions, with special application to the growth and development of the United States. It was in connection with the Thanksgiving program of the Y. M. C. A., which had discussed Gifts and Giver at the morning meeting.

The new Presbyterian Manse is going up rapidly. The roof will be put on this week, and the work rushed to completion, as the pastor hopes to move into his new home by the Christmas holidays.

Mr. H. R. Carmon and family spent Sunday here with friends.

Many applications are being received for rooms for the Spring Term and the outlook is now that numbers of new students will enter at that time. The present term is splendidly attended and the work of the school was never more prosperous.

After an absence for some months in South Carolina and elsewhere, Miss Ava Clapp is again at home.

Mr. Levi D. May and Miss Carrie B. Straughn were married Sunday afternoon at the parsonage here by Rev. Robert E. Redding. They will live in Gibsonville.

There will be service at the Springwood Presbyterian Church at 11:00 o'clock, Sunday and at the Reformed Church at 3:00 o'clock.

Coburn's Greater Minstrels—The International Four.

For several seasons Manager Coburn, of the Coburn Greater Minstrels has been encouraging, and organizing one feature in the big fun show, which is greatly appreciated by all lovers of male chorus, vocal and harmony numbers. His quartettes of soloists in the vaudeville numbers of the program have been first class, up to the minute and enjoyable. His is almost the only minstrel company carrying the quartette set of old, in the present days of modern minstrelsy. Unfortunately indeed is the chap who does not appreciate and enjoy the music of a first class, old time, male quartette. There is not a performance in the season that the question is not asked by numberless patrons, "Have you got a good quartette?" Manager Coburn believes in giving his patrons a new show every season—but also what they want and ask for in certain features of the performance. The International Four this season are superior to any male quartette he has ever carried, the voices blending splendidly—each singer a soloist, dancer, yodler, and musician. Don't forget the date, next Friday, November 28, at the Piedmont. Seats now on sale at Presb. ch.

SPENCER YOUNG LADY CHOSE THE TAR HEEL.

Principal Street of the Town Scene of Impassioned Courtship for Hand of Miss Tucker.

Spencer, Nov. 22.—With tragic declarations of love, pathetic appeals of devotion and the vow that "thy people shall be my people, and what is mine shall be thine, and thine, mine," pretty Miss Maud Tucker, of Spencer, on Thursday became the blushing bride of C. R. Cates, a well-known young man of this place, whom she chose in preference to Earl Farris, of Indianapolis, while the two men stood side by side in one of the principal streets of Spencer. Each vied with the other for the heart and hand of youngwhommemi—22W. . . hand of the young woman, each pressing his claim for a place at her side. While in this attitude and facing the two suitors, Miss Tucker took her place by the side of the Spencer man and the three walked to the parsonage of the Spencer Baptist church, where the marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Vipperman. Mr. Farris came to the state Thursday morning for the purpose of marrying Miss Tucker. He was surprised to find his claim for a bride strongly contested by Mr. Cates, who has been for months an admirer of the bride.

North Carolina Thanksgiving Proclamation.

By Governor Locke Craig.

"After the harvest is the day of Thanksgiving. Toil has been rewarded in manifold abundance; the nation triumphs in progress and power. An altruistic awakening has quickened the conscience of our time; it has commanded the men in high places to nobler conceptions of public duty, and inspired the people with the hope and determination for advancement.

"Therefore, I, Locke Craig, Governor of the State of North Carolina, in obedience to the custom established by our fathers, and in accordance with the Proclamation of the President of the United States, do proclaim Thursday, the 27th day of November, a holiday.

"I call upon all the people to do no work upon this day; to make this a day of rest and rejoicing, and, in reality, a day of Thanksgiving.

"I earnestly hope that the day will be fully observed by the farmers, merchants, mechanics, manufacturers, and by the men, women and children in all ranks and occupations.

"I call upon the people to assemble in their places of worship that they may in reverence express to the Almighty their gratitude and faith, that human sympathies may be enlarged and the bonds of brotherhood acknowledged and strengthened.

"Let us remember the poor and the unfortunate, and realize that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

"We are the heirs of a precious heritage, and let us hope and strive that in this commonwealth righteousness may be exalted, and that to all men may come a full measure of justice, which is grander than benevolence, more august than charity.

"Done in our City of Raleigh (Seal) on this 12th day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand five hundred and thirteen, and in the one hundred and thirty-eighth year of our American Independence.

LOCKE CRAIG, Governor.

"By the Governor: Jno. P. Kerr, Private Secretary.

MRS. J. M. SMITH, MARTHA MORTON, LYDIA APPLE, J. W. HOLT, Committee

Description of The White House Wedding.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Francis B. Sayre and Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, second daughter of the president, were joined in marriage late today at the White House before a company of distinguished officials of the United States government, members of the diplomatic corps, close friends and relatives.

It was a scene of rare brilliancy, touched, through the ten minutes of ceremony, with a grave solemnity as the President of the United States stood by his wife, their faces a study in deep emotion, as they gave in marriage the first of their children. It was an intensely human sight as the meaningful words of the service were spoken before an altar of palms, ferns and white lilies.

With a pretty double ring service the couple were united and the assemblage spoke the Lord's Prayer in monotone. When the Marine Band struck up the wedding march of Mendelssohn from that moment the White House was transformed into a scene of gay animation and joyfulness.

A reception for the guests by the President, Mrs. Wilson and the wedded couple followed. The East room was cleared of its carpets and the young folks danced well into the evening, brilliant uniforms and elaborate gowns gliding gracefully over the glistening floor.

When the guests had gone the bridal party sat down in the breakfast room and the bride cut the wedding cake with the sword of Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., the President's physician and companion.

Then there was a merry dinner, an affectionate good-bye and the couple whirled away in a White House automobile on their honeymoon. Their destination was kept secret, but in a few days they will go to Europe and return early in January to Williams-town, Mass., where Mr. Sayre will be assistant to President Garfield, of Williams College.

WEDDING DAY EVENTS.—The wedding day events moved with smooth precision. Promptly at 4:30 o'clock all guests were assembled in the East room, members of the cabinet and justices of the United States Supreme Court, the diplomatic corps, residents in their uniforms being gathered in the South half of the room.

In the other half, North of the green carpeted aisle marked by white satin bands, were the close friends and relatives, in all about 300 persons in their elaborate afternoon toilettes of blue, violet, pink and green and with many in black velvet, the ladies gave the picture a brilliant lustre of fashion.

First Mrs. Wilson descended the main staircase, escorted by Col. W. W. Harris, chief aide to the President. She was followed by Joseph R. Wilson, brother of the President, and his wife, and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, a cousin of the President, escorted by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, Commander Needham Jones, U. S. N., escorted Mrs. Sayre, mother of the groom. They took their places on the left of the dais, where the bridal party stood.

The Rev. Dr. Sylvester W. Beach, of Princeton, N. J., attired in a collegiate gown, with a master's hood of white silk, entered next with the Rev. John Nevin Sayre, a brother of the groom. The latter's white surplice of the Episcopal form, was in marked contrast to the dark vestment of his colleague. There was a moment and soon the Marine Band spread through the White House the strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, and the groom, accompanied by Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, his best man, walked slowly to the altar.

The ushers led the bridal procession in two—Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., and Dr. Gilbert Horrax, then Dr. Dewitt Scovill Clark and Benjamin Burton. The bridesmaids, the first two gowned in deepest pink and the others in pink of a lighter shade, followed in slow step.

Miss Eleanor Wilson, the youngest of the President's daughters, and Miss Mary White were followed by Miss Adelaide Mitchell Scott and Miss Marjorie Brown. All wore piquant little bonnets with upstanding frills of silver lace. Miss Margaret Wilson, the eldest daughter, and maid of honor, wore the palest pink. All carried pink roses. Every eye was turned toward the procession as the bride, leaning on the arm of her father came with measured steps down the aisle and stepped upon the oral altar. The

PRES. T. M. EMERSON DEAD.

President Emerson of Coast Line Stricken in Georgia, Died in Wilmington.

Wilmington, Nov. 25.—Following an attack of acute indigestion suffered Sunday night at Dupont, Ga., while on a trip of inspection of the system with the board of directors, Thomas Martin Emerson, since November 21, 1905, president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, died tonight at 11 o'clock at his home in this city.

Mr. Emerson was brought home from Waycross, Ga., on a special train, arriving early today and was attended by his family physician, an improvement having been noted in his condition until toward midnight, when an attack of angina pectoris caused his death, while surrounded by his family physicians and members of his family.

He rose to the presidency of one of the south's greatest railroad systems from the very ranks, by successive steps, first as clerk in the freight offices, later as chief clerk in the general freight and passenger office, then general freight agent, and until July, 1902, general traffic manager, being accounted at that time one of the best trafficked men in the entire country. He later became third vice-president of the system in charge of traffic, and in November, 1905, was elected president to succeed the late R. G. Erwin, of Savannah, Ga. He was of the constructive type of railway presidents and encouraged the development of the country through which the system passed as the surest and safest policy of the road. He was prominent socially, a Mason of high degree and took an active interest in the life of the community in which he lived. Born March 29, 1851, in Preble county, Ohio, he was in the 63d year of his age. He first entered the railway service as a clerk in the freight office at Hagerstown, Ohio, and in Marion, Ind., becoming later chief freight and ticket agent at Fort Wayne for the Muncie & Cincinnati Railroad. He was later general traveling passenger agent of the Detroit & Indianapolis Through Line. He came south in January, 1875, and was first clerk in the general freight office of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta railroad in Columbia, S. C. Five years later he became chief clerk in the general freight and passenger department of the Atlantic Coast Line in Wilmington, advancing successively to assistant general freight agent, remaining continuously in the service of the Atlantic Coast Line, except for a year spent as assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway. In 1882 he became general freight and passenger agent of the Atlantic Coast Line at Wilmington, advancing to the presidency by successive steps.

"Fifty thousand dollars? That is a lot of money. But it's not enough. I can't think of a sum large enough to induce me to leave Connie Mack, the man who made me."

That was the answer Eddie Collins, king of second basemen, made to an offer of $50,000 for three years' labor in the Federal League. Abe L. Einstein, a Philadelphia, who represents the outlaw baseball organization, made the proposition to the Athletics' star.

The contract which was presented to Collins called for a yearly salary of $15,000, or $45,000 for the trio of seasons. To guarantee the payment of this princely stipend, the $45,000 was to be placed in any bank designated by Collins, where it would draw interest. At the same time, an arrangement was to be made by which he could write semi-monthly checks for $1,250 during the playing season. When the three years had ended, it was pointed out to Eddie that the interest would increase the amount to more than $50,000.

Killed in Auto Wreck. Hollidaysburg, Pa., Nov. 26.—Three women were killed and another woman and a man probably fatally injured near here today when a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad struck an automobile in which the party was riding.

Spain Will Not Sell Warship. Madrid, Nov. 26.—The Spanish cabinet at a meeting this afternoon discussed the Mexican situation and, it is reported, decided to send a warship to Mexican waters.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

MISS JESSIE GETS HER WEDDING GIFT.

Congressman's Diamond Pendant Was Sent to the White House Yesterday.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Miss Jessie Wilson, the White House bride-elect received her $2,000 present from the house today. The sparkling diamond pendant, resting in a satin lined jewel box with a tiny jewel dangling from its heart shaped lock was taken to the White House by a member of the Washington jewelry firm which has been preparing the gift.

The sentiment inscribed upon parchment accompanying the present read:

"The representatives of the people in Congress send this gift to Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson with their sincerest and best wishes as an evidence of the tender interest and hearty good will of all the people, on the happy occasion of her marriage to Mr. Francis Bowes Sayre November 25, 1913."

The names of the committee of the house signed to this sheet of parchment paper, identical with that on which Congress prints its legislative work, were Speaker Clark, Democratic Leader Underwood, Republican Leader Mann, Progressive Leader Murdock and Representatives Cooper, Wisconsin; Henry, Texas; Campbell, Kansas; Hardwick, Georgia; Page, North Carolina; Johnson, Kentucky; Palmer, Pennsylvania; Austin, Tennessee; Townsend, New Jersey; Fowler, Illinois, and Chandler, New York.

Secretary and Mrs. Bryan's gift was among those received and it will be uncrated today. The present consists of an inlaid mahogany tea table and chair. Among the other gifts were a dozen silver plates from Andrew and Mrs. Carnegie and a handsome silver bowl from the Spanish minister and Mme. Riano.

Miss Margaret Wilson, it was learned today, has taken personal charge of the musical program at the wedding celebration. In addition to the music by the full Marine Band, a choir of boys will sing during the ceremony. A compliment will be paid by the bride-groom by the rendition of several of the compositions of his cousin, the late Ethelbert Nevin.

A WAY OUT.

A Resident of Burlington Shows the Way.

There's one effective way to relieve kidney backache.

Liniment and plasters may relieve it;

But they seldom reach the cause. Backache is cause to suspect the kidneys.

Doan's Kidneys Pills are for disordered kidneys. Burlington people back them up.

Read a case of it: Mrs. Sarah Andrews, Webb Ave., and Anthony Street, Burlington, N. C., says: "I suffered a great deal from pains in the small of my back. I had such bad headaches at times that I could not get about. I was dizzy too. Finally, I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and got some from the Freeman Drug Co. They relieved me."

RE-ENDORSEMENT.

When Mrs. Andrews was interviewed by our representative on March 15, 1912, she said: "All I have ever said about Doan's Kidney Pills holds good. I know that they are the best of all kidney medicines."

HUERTA SAID TO BE IN HIS CUPS.

Mexican Government Orders all Gunboats from Ports Where they Have Been Anchored.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 22.—It has been authoritatively learned that Provisional President Huerta has been drinking heavily for several weeks past. Realizing that a drunken man can not be held responsible for the Washington government, which daily receives reports of Huerta's condition, has simply matched Huerta's statement with his condition and let it go at that.

In pursuance of the fixed policy of the United States of keeping the situation clear and avoiding every possible chance of clashes Envoy John Lind today advises Prof. Tossier, the Harvard Archaeologist against going to Mexico City with his wife urging him to drop his research work in Mexico for the present.

The Mexican government today ordered all her gunboats from the ports where they have been at anchor. They are sailing under secret orders and it is reported that they will hide at sea.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Secretary of State Bryan issued a statement today bitterly condemning newspaper "fakes" in the Mexican situation, and emphatically denying the morning paper story that the United States had protested against Great Britain's sending two vessels to the Mexican waters.

Secretary Bryan said: "Surely in international affairs there ought to be the aptitude desire to promote friendly relations with other nations and these cannot be promoted by the reckless publication of false statements with regard to the acts of public officials. I desire to condemn all publications of this kind without inquiring into the truth or falsity of them."

Consumptive

A cough that bothers you continually is one of the danger signals which warns of consumption. Dr. King's New Discovery stops the cough, loosens the chest, banishes fever and lets you sleep peacefully. The first dose checks the symptoms and gives prompt relief. Mrs. A. F. Mertz, of Glen Ellyn, Iowa, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery cured a stubborn cough after six weeks' doctoring failed to help." Try it, as it will do the same for you. Best medicine for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Money back if it fails. Price 50c. and $1.00. All druggists, by mail, H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION IMPORTANT TO EVERYONE

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention, as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poison and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood. During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich, heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brick-dust sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble. Many physicians claim that an herbal medicine, containing no minerals or opiates, has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Burlington Weekly State Dispatch.

Twenty Four Bodies Taken Out of Mines

Acton, Pa., Nov. 19.—When searchers ended their work early today 24 bodies had been removed from Acton Mine No. 2, of the Alabama Fuel and Iron Company here, the scene yesterday of an explosion. Six men were injured and 13 of those cut off by the explosion escaped unhurt. All parts of the mine have been explored. C. H. Nesbit, chief mine inspector for Alabama, is here to investigate the explosion, said he was uncertain whether it was caused by dust or gas.

New Telephone Line.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 23.—Vice-President T. C. Powell of the Cincinnati-New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railway, (Queen and Crescent Route,) announces that a telephone line will be immediately constructed between Oakdale, Tenn., and Chattanooga, a distance of 34 miles, upon the completion of which the telephone will be used in dispatching trains on the entire line between Cincinnati and Chattanooga. The telephone service was inaugurated between Oakdale and Danville, Ky., in 1912 and between Danville and Cincinnati in October 1913. The line between Oakdale and Chattanooga will be constructed as quickly as possible and work will begin as soon as the necessary material can be assembled.

The C. N. O. & T. P. has extended the telephone system over its line for the reason that its use has been found to increase both safety and facilitate in handling trains. The telephone can be used more rapidly than the telegraph and the sender and receiver of messages are brought into direct contact which often proves of great benefit. The 338 miles of the C. N. O. and T. P. from Cincinnati to Chattanooga are equipped with automatic block signals and about one third of this distance is double track. The extension of the telephone dispatching system to cover the entire line will add further to facilities for handling the very heavy volume of traffic between the south and the west which moves over the Queen and Crescent Route in connection with the Southern Railway.

REPUBLICAN GAINS AROUSE DEMOCRATS.

Chairman McCombs Declares Progressive Party Will Be Absorbed in 1916.
Washington, Nov. 21.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, after a conference today with President Wilson, announced that he believed the Republican party would be the chief contender with the Democratic party for the presidency in 1916. "The recent elections," said Mr. McCombs, "have served to strengthen a conviction I have had since the last national election that much of the progressive party would be absorbed either by the Democratic or Republican parties and that the next national political conflict would find the Republican party the principal opponent of the Democracy."

WEDDING AT ELON.

Miss Myrtle Leocia Cox Becomes the Bride of John Oswin Sutton.
Elon College, Nov. 25.—The lovely home of Rev. and Mrs. L. I. Cox, of Elon College, was the scene of a beautiful event Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when their second daughter, Miss Myrtle Leocia Cox, became the bride of John Oswin Sutton. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Rev. L. I. Cox, treasurer of Elon College, assisted by Rev. J. F. Morgan, pastor of Graham Christian Church. The impressive ring ceremony of the Christian Church was used.

The music was beautifully rendered by Miss Hattie Belle Smith, playing the wedding march as the bride and groom entered and changing to "On the Holy Mount," which was rendered softly throughout the ceremony.

The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate families of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends. The home was tastefully decorated with beautiful ferns, flowers and potted plants.

The bride wore a beautiful tailored suit of blue, with accessories to match. She is an honor graduate of Elon College and is a young woman of many accomplishments, and is admired by a wide circle of friends. The groom is a member of a prominent family of eastern North Carolina and is a capable business man now connected with the Norfolk-Southern railway at Lillington.

Many wedding gifts attest the popularity of the young couple. After a trip to Washington, Baltimore and other northern cities for ten days, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton will be "at home" at Lillington.

DEATHS.

The three-months-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. James Lovelace died at their home Saturday and was buried Sunday at Pine Hill cemetery. The two and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sutton, of Altamahaw, died Saturday and was buried Sunday at Bethlehem church.

J. Robert Burch died Tuesday evening at the home of his mother, Mrs. Nannie Burch on Park Avenue and was buried Wednesday at Cooper's graveyard, Orange county. He was twenty-two years of age.

"Thanksgiving's Coming."
"Thanksgiving's a coming!"
Rings over the land,
College chaps preparing—
For a battle grand.

"Thanksgiving's a coming!"
Children clap their hands;
Thinking of the "goodies,"
The occasion demands.

"Thanksgiving's a coming!"
Mother begins to bake;
Pies, cakes, and all goodies,
That—only she can make.

"Thanksgiving's a coming!"
The turkey gets suspicious,
For he's sure the cook
Is up to some mischief.

"Thanksgiving's a coming!"
So do your best,
To remember the poor—
Who with goodies—may not be blest.

Postmasters Prophets, Think Bureau Heads.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Issuing the forecast that the coming holiday season, the first one under the new parcel post law, will witness the heaviest postal business that the service ever experienced, the postoffice department today called on postmasters throughout the country to see to it that they did not run out of postage stamps.

At the same time while postmasters were warned not to let their stock run out they likewise were cautioned not to order too many. Therefore the department endowed its postmasters with powers of divination and prophecy.

Steals to Visit Sister in Home.

With a love for his sister that had grown greater every day in the last few years they had been separated, eleven-year-old George Brooks took a little money belonging to his stepmother in an up-state town and worked his way to Philadelphia, where he not only found the sister he loved and sought but was allowed to spend a day with her through the efforts of a charitable institution.

The girl the little fellow had sought is named Virginia. She was placed in an institution by her stepmother, who had charged the child with a crime that the little brown-eyed girl knew nothing about, according to the brother's story. The bond between the sister and brother grew the stronger after the death of their mother, and this bond was even strengthened when the father married the second time and brought a woman to the former happy home who did not love, or even like her stepchildren. It was a short time later that Virginia was accused of stealing a ring and sent away from the brother she loved.

"I did not steal a great deal of money," the little fellow said yesterday as he told his story to an officer in the charitable institution. "I knew that I would be hungry on the way and I did take just enough to buy me something to eat." In New York George met a newsboy who had worked on the trains and told the lad his destination. Newsboys have not always had the easiest life in the world and the one that George met was no exception. He brought George to Philadelphia, found the institution where the boy's sister was confined and took the boy to the Children's Aid Society, who arranged for the children to see each other.

The society investigated the boy's story and an officer said yesterday that if it turned out as the boy said that they would make arrangements to bring the children together again and find a home for them here.

For the present George will be taken care of by the Children's Aid society, who said yesterday that they hoped they would be able to prove that the story the boy told was not only true but that they should try to bring the children together before the holidays and find them a home where the love and devotion that both have known so little of might at least find its way into their lives.—Philadelphia Press.

"Underneath the Tennessee Moon."

An absolutely new and novel dancing number has been produced by Manager Coburn for the big all new Coburn's Greater Minstrels next Friday night, the 28th, at the Piedmont. Introducing an entirely new idea and illusion, this act has been received with great enthusiasm, and is a much more pretentious act than the Dance of the Bogie Men of last year. Featuring Mr. Harry L. Ford, premier soft shoe dancer formerly of the Al. G. Fields and the Dockstader Minstrels, assisted by an octette of soft-shoe, eccentric and buck and wing corps hard to beat. "Tennessee Moon" a beautiful schottisch love song number of the darkey and his sweetheart, courting in the pines of Old Tennessee, gives an opportunity for Mr. Ford's singing and solo dancing to be appreciated, as well as the harmony and ensemble movement of the chorus. Mr. Ford's dancing is clean, neat and clever, after the manner of the premier of them all, Mr. George Primrose, appearing this season enroute. Don't forget the date Friday, November 28th.

The Bride of the White House.

This is the day of wedding bells at the White House. To the President we tender our best and sincerest compliments of his day; to the bride the wish that there be naught but sunshine and roses. To-day the nation's eyes, and its heart as well, are at that marriage altar in the wonderful historic East room.

It is fitting that the people of the nation turn to this ceremony the smiling face and extend the hand of fellowship. In his rise to power and place the President has not left behind him the home circle and the hearthstone. In the palace of the President there is the same splendid atmosphere of the family fireside that there was in the home of Mr. Wilson, citizen. Today the head of a nation is but the head of a delightful family, with all the mixture of emotions that attend the first departure of a member of that family through the wedding door, out into the world beyond the fireside.

It is a marriage, too, of which all of us can say to the President in Shakespeare's words:—

"The match
"Were rich and honourable; besides, the gentleman
"Is full of virtue, bounty, worth and qualities
"Beseeching such a wife as your fair daughter."

It is an American marriage in which hearts are joined, not estates nor titles. It is a simple, homely, sincere ceremony in a real home, even though the place be the power house of the nation.

So today the noise of politics is hushed. There is but one party all the country over, and that a wedding party. To the bride the whole nation wishes a prosperous life, long and ever happy, and with no sound in the future more inharmonious than the mellow wedding bells of to-day. Tuesday's Philadelphia Press.

SANTA ANSWERS LAME GIRL'S PLEA.

Cripple, Who Told "Press" Readers Her Story, Will Get Toys Christmas Day.

To the Children's Bureau:—I read in the morning "Press" of the little cripple who has asked for a doll, ball with a string on and a pocketbook. It would give me the greatest pleasure to provide this little child's Christmas for her, if I may do so, and I would also be very glad to help any other children if you will let me know about them. Would you mind letting me know if I may help the poor little kiddie and believe me.

The above letter, which came in response to the appeal of little Josephine Lawson, whose story appeared in last Saturday's "Press" tells its own story, and assures the little girl who has never known the love of a mother, that the few Christmas gifts that she hoped Santa Claus might bring her will be found in the stocking she will hang by the fireplace when she tiptoes in on the morning of the greatest day in the year to all children.

Santa Claus' agents were not sleeping, for Josephine's letter in which she asked for a doll, a ball and a pocketbook, was read by one kind-hearted woman, whose heart was touched by the appeal of the little homeless child.

The attendant at whose knee the little girl has knelt each night and who told the little child that it would be all right for her to ask God to bless Santa Claus too, has told Josephine that she feels sure that the old man who drives the reindeers will not forget her Christmas morning.

The little girl's eyes shown all the brighter last night as she asked the attendant over and over again if she really thought that Santa Claus would remember her this year, which is to be the first time that the child has ever known what it was to receive Christmas presents.

Toys will not be the only gifts to greet Josephine on Christmas morning, for the little girl has been a cripple all her life. A kind-hearted doctor has promised Josephine that by Christmas she will be able to take off the braces in which she has been encased for nine years, giving her the greatest of all gifts, the use of her limbs.—Philadelphia Press, Nov. 25.

Bit His Mother, But He Loves Her Still.

New York, Nov. 19.—"There's good in that boy, and it's too bad he has such a temper," remarked Clifford, an attendant in the Brooklyn Children's court, when an officer of the House of Refuge started away with Antonio Tutroni, 14, of No. 90 Carroll street.

Antonio was convicted of having bitten his mother, Rosalie, because she wanted him to attend school. She was not in court when he was sentenced to the House of Refuge.

"Here, take this to the old lady," said the boy as he handed 75 cents to agent Teats of the Brooklyn Children's society. He entered the corridor leading to the detention cell, but stopped.

"Say, mister, give me a minute more," he said. "I want to send the rest to her." He unlaced and pulled off the right shoe. A half dollar fell to the floor. Off went the left shoe; another half dollar appeared.

"Take 'em to her," said the boy. "She wasn't very kind to me, but gee!—a feller can't help loving his mother, can he? Say, mister, won't you tell her so?"

The agent said he would and Antonio was led away.

National Thanksgiving Proclamation.

By President Woodrow Wilson.

"The season is at hand in which it has been our long respected custom as a people, to turn in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His manifold mercies and blessings to us as a nation. The year that has just passed has been marked in a peculiar degree by manifestation of His gracious and beneficent providence. We have not only had peace throughout our own borders and with the nations of the world, but that peace has been brightened by constantly multiplying evidences of genuine friendship, of mutual sympathy and understanding and of the happy operation of many elevating influences, both of ideal and of practice.

"The nation not only has been prosperous but proved its capacity to take calm counsel amidst the rapid movement of affairs and deal with its own life in a spirit of candor, righteousness and comity. We have seen the practical completion of the work at the Isthmus of Panama, which not only exemplifies the nation's abundant resources, to accomplish what it will, and the distinguished skill and capacity of its public servants, but also promises the beginning of a new age, of new contacts, new neighborhoods, new sympathies, new bonds and new achievements of co-operation and peace.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, and peace on earth, good will toward men" furnish the only foundations upon which can be built the lasting achievements of the human spirit. The year has brought us the satisfaction of work well done and fresh visions of our duty, which will make the work of the future better still.

"Now, therefore, I Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the 27th day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship, render thanks to Almighty God.

"In witness whereof, I have (Seal) hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington, this 23rd day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and thirty-eighth.

"WOODROW WILSON.
By the President:
"W. J. Bryan, Sec. of State."

"In the Face of Death." Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 21.—"In the face of death I am trying to do something to put an end to the traffic that sends girls to hell," this, said Ruth Steel, a nineteen-year-old mountain girl, is why she came twenty miles on a cot from her Paint Creek home to testify against George Jordan, a Charleston business man who was charged with white slavery. The federal authorities allege that the girl was forcibly held in a resort where she was placed by Jordan because of his constant threats she attempted to commit suicide by taking bichloride of mercury.

Chapel Hill Items. Chapel Hill, Nov. 25.—That the relation of the banking interests to the agricultural interests is such as to indicate that the North Carolina farmer is a thrifty class of people is the observation made by Dr. C. L. Raper, head of the department of economics of the University, and official representative of the United States Rural Organization Service for the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Maryland. The government representative of this new bureau of the national department of agriculture arrived at this conclusion after making a field investigation into farmers' credits in twenty representative North Carolina counties, visiting the rural banking centers in each of the counties. Two divisions of the State were visited—Dr. Raper making a personal tour of the counties in the central section, and Prof. W. R. Camp, professor of rural economics in A. & M. College, and in charge of the markets for the North Carolina Experiment Station, making investigations into conditions in the counties of the northeastern section of the state. The counties visited by the two economics professors interested in conditions of rural life included the following: Pitt, Beaufort, Washington, Chowan, Perquimans, Pasquotank, Gates, Hertford, Bertie, Edgecombe, Orange, Guilford, Mecklenburg, Union, Anson, Richmond, Moore and Lee. The facts relative to the size of loans made to farmers; the rate of interest; the commissions charged; the cost of abstracting the title to land, etc., are furnished the department of agriculture. From the figures gathered Dr. Raper has formed some very definite impressions as to rural conditions, particularly the relation of the banks to the farmer:

(1) That the farmer in a number of rural banking centers has become a comparatively important depositor in banks, especially the banks that pay four per cent. interest; (2) That the farmer in a number of banks are fairly important shareholders; (3) That the farmers are in a number of places large borrowers from the banks; (4) That the farmers in many places receive the same banking facilities as the business men, as to rate of interest and nature of security; (5) That they can in a number of places borrow from the banks more than they do or care to borrow; (6) That the tenant farmers are the ones that borrow little from the banks and usually only when their notes are signed by the landlords; (7) That the farmers, especially the one-horse farmers, are not desirous of borrowing from banks as much as they really need for the most effective cultivation of their soil or the most economical handling of their crops. The greatest obstacle to the farmer in borrowing on farm mortgages is the cost of abstracting the title to lands, is the observation made by Dr. Raper. The average cost for such a service (usually performed by a lawyer) is from $5 to $10, and in a few cases as much as $50 to $80, when the title is complicated. As a remedy for this extortion from the farmer the government representative suggests the adoption of an official survey and registration of every piece of land. The adoption of such a system would work to the advantage of the farmer in that he would always have in his possession an official certificate of his land. This would save all the cost of abstracting the title and could borrow money at a much smaller cost at the regular rate of interest.

THE HOME OF A GOOD CLOTHES MAN

The White House Wedding.

bride wore a diamond brooch on a long platinum chain, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bride's train was rather long and finished square. It was of soft lustrous white satin that blended well with her blonde hair and fair complexion.

The service was a unique combination of the Episcopalian and Presbyterian forms. In the latter the word "obey" is not included in the promise of "to love, honor and obey," but upon the bride's especial request it was inserted.

Rev. Dr. Beach spoke the service in a low even tone. As the two pledged their troth, the President and Mrs. Wilson stood hand-in-hand to the left on the platform.

"Who giveth this woman to be married by this man?"

The President stepped forth, took the hand of his daughter and placed it in that of Mr. Sayre.

"I, Francis Bowe, take thee, Jessie Woodrow, to be my wedded wife," repeated the groom after Dr. Beach, "and I do promise and covenant before God and these witnesses to be thy loving and faithful husband in plenty and in want, in joy and in sorrow, in sickness and in health as long as we both shall live."

The bride repeated the same, except that to her response was added "to be thy loving, faithful and obedient wife."

The minister took the ring from Dr. Grenfell, the best man, and handed it to Mr. Sayre, who placed it on the bride's third finger and repeated the pledge of "constant faith and abiding love." The bride took her ring from the hand of her maid of honor and as she, too, repeated a pledge of faith and love, placed it on the finger of her husband.

As they knelt on a white fur rug, the gift of the Minister from Peru, the Rev. John Nevin Sayre pronounced the benediction. The couple rose, shook hands with the clergymen, and the bridal procession moved to the Mendelssohn strains along the great corridor again, but turned in at the blue room to receive the guests.

For nearly an hour the guests proceeded through the blue room to offer congratulations, greeting first the President and Mrs. Wilson, standing at one door, then passing on to Mr. and Mrs. Sayre.

Among them were many old friends from Princeton University and Williams college, the majority of the guests except for the officials being from points outside of Washington.

The informal dance in the East room after the reception was not planned for, but became one of the most delightful parts of the affair. The Marine Band moved into the East room where the tango and other steps were gracefully danced by the young folks.

Refreshments were served in the State dining room. The bridal party gathered in the breakfast room. The bridesmaids wore gold bracelets, gifts of the bride, while the ushers wore gold stickpins, given them by the groom.

The bride and groom eluded the curious by going through the kitchen and the executive offices to their automobile. The bridal party were the guests during the evening of the Misses Margaret and Eleanor Wilson at the White House.

THE BRIDAL GOWN.

The bridal gown worn at the White House wedding today was of white atin, a soft weave, but of a light and very lustrous quality. Real point lace, orange blossoms and embroidery added elegance and beauty. The skirt was the modish draped one, the fullness showing most on the left front. The neck was cut out a little and the embroidery, of an orange blossom design, outlined the opening and also extended down the front of the bodice and the skirt. The sleeves were finished off with frills of point lace.

The lace also appeared in the draped waist and where the folds were caught, it was with tiny clusters of orange blossoms. The bridal flowers also held the draped folds on the skirt. The train was very long—long enough for regulation court use—and was cut square at the end.

THE BRIDAL VEIL.

The tulle bridal veil almost fell the length of the train. It was held to the coiffure by a cap of point lace similar to the lace trimming the dress. The Dutch cap style of veil arrangement was exceedingly becoming to the bride, whose fair hair, very smoothly dressed in coils close to her head, gave just the right effect. Orange blossoms sprayed the lace, and formed something of a wreath around the head.

DRESSES OF BRIDESMAIDS.

The tulle bridal veil almost fell the length of the train. It was held to the coiffure by a cap of point lace similar to the lace trimming the dress. The Dutch cap style of veil arrangement was exceedingly becoming to the bride, whose fair hair, very smoothly dressed in coils close to her head, gave just the right effect. Orange blossoms sprayed the lace, and formed something of a wreath around the head.

The dresses were all of charmeuse and the chiffon over-draped was in the exact shade. Chiffon and silver lace also draped the waists and the tunics were of the silver lace. A very sheer creamy lace was used in the high, flaring Marie Antoinette collars and in the flowing sleeves.

These costumes were worn with moderate sized hats trimmed with silver lace and made of pink moire.

THE MOTHER'S GOWN MOST BECOMING.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of the President, wore the most elaborate gown in which she has thus far been seen in the White House. The shade was cerise, a color very becoming to her because of her clear skin and rosy cheeks. The material was velvet brocade chiffon with cerise lace and mink tail trimming. Under the lace a band of old blue and gold brocade showed and the soft colors in this combination were reproduced in the corsage bouquet worn at the left waist line. The lace which was very supple fell in a cascade from the waist to the hem in front and caught back the drapery at the left side. A sash also made of the lace fell at the back, ends being bordered with mink tails.

The bride's going away suit was a girlish costume of hunter's green zibeline with a waist in the same shade of charmeuse. The latter was ornamented with embroidery in green tones and a brightening shade. Her hat was of green moire and stiff bows of velvet made the trimming.

SOME OF THE GIFTS.

Although the White House has expressly refused to make public any list of gifts received for today's White House wedding, it is known that a great number of beautiful and costly articles have been received. For the last two weeks express trucks have unloaded scores of boxes and crates containing furniture, bric-a-brac, table service, cut glass and household articles generally while messengers from jewelry stores both here and throughout the country have brought many valuable presents in the form of gold, silver and jeweled articles. Miss Jessie Wilson has been busy during the last two weeks writing personal letters of acknowledgment but within the past three or four days the presents have come in such great numbers that the task of correspondence had to be deferred.

Among the many notable presents received may be mentioned the following:

The House of Representatives gave a pendant made up of one canary diamond weighing six and one-half carats surrounded by 85 smaller diamonds in a pear shape and attached to a neck chain in which smaller diamonds were set. The senate gave an extensive silver tea service suitably engraved.

The Supreme Court of the United States gave a center piece in the form of a silver boat. It was inscribed as coming from the members of the court and their wives.

The class of 1879 of Princeton University of which President Wilson is a member, sent a large silver bowl. The sophomore class at Goucher College of which Miss Wilson is a graduate gave a silver cake plate.

It is understood that much furniture, silverware, china, and fittings of the cottage at Williamstown, to be occupied by the bride and groom, were furnished by the immediate families of the bride and groom.

Members of the cabinet sent individual gifts. Secretary Bryan and Mrs. Bryan sent an inlaid mahogany tea table and chair.

While many of the diplomats sent flowers a number gave the couple gifts of silver. The best information obtainable as to the gifts of the diplomatic corps include the following: The French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand—a beautiful large silver tray of the Louis Quinze period.

The Italian Ambassador and Marchesa Cusani—four massive silver candle sticks of rare design and workmanship.

The Ambassador from Germany and Countess Von Bernstorff—two heavy antique sugar bowls in antique case.

The Russian Ambassador and Mme. De Peno—a beautiful jewel box of silver and tortoise shell.

The Siamese Minister and his wife—a specimen of Siamese handiwork silverware, gilded with panels containing a lotus plant and blossom design.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie—a dozen large size dinner plates of heavy silver, hand work wrought in a design of roses and lilies.

A silver service was the gift of women voters of Northern California. Many odd gifts were among those received. William West, an inmate of the Aid Association Home for the Blind, personally presented Miss Wilson with a white knitted hammock. Most of the presents were being prepared today for shipment to Williamstown, Mass., where the couple will make their home. There were countless other beautiful presents, details of which, however, are kept within the privacy of the White House circle.

CHIMES RUNG IN BOSTON

Boston, Mass., Nov. 25—The chimes of the Old North Church were rung today in honor of the Wilson-Sayre wedding in Washington and a direct telephone wire was arranged so that the notes were clearly audible in the White House.

The 1913 All-Star cast employed by The Chicago Sunday Tribune proves that this paper stands SUPREME—at the top of the list of the world's Sunday newspapers.

Never, since the first Sunday newspaper was printed, has there been gathered together so great a staff of star writers and artists.

These world-famous contributors are not, nor can they be, duplicated in prominence and achievement in any ten Sunday papers published on the American continent.

If each copy of The Chicago Sunday Tribune were made in a size to correspond with the standard magazines of today it would require and would be three times the size of the regular standard magazine. Then, remember that The Chicago Sunday Tribune costs less than one-tenth of what you pay for three magazines.

But, never did any ten magazines offer you such a galaxy of headlines. Look through the pages of the leading magazines, compare their authors and artists with those of The Chicago Sunday Tribune, and satisfy yourself on this point.

In addition to the contributions of this all-star cast of writers and artists in every issue of The Chicago Sunday Tribune, you get fifty to sixty feature articles by from fifty to sixty writers whose words are an admitted authority upon the themes on which they write; every item of interest worth printing from every spot on the globe—the cream of the world's doings, both in our own America and foreign lands, furnished by every reliable news-gathering agency known to modern newspaperdom.

For nearly 65 years The Chicago Tribune has been the ideal newspaper of newspaper makers and the discriminating EVERYWHERE.

Buy It Every and Sunday Too!

From the first page to the last The Chicago Sunday Tribune is perfectly printed from large, clear, easily-read type; its color work, of which there are many pages, is a beautiful example of rapid press work and the many striking half-tone and line drawings with which its columns are illustrated are surpassed by no newspaper published in the English language and are equaled by few.
