

THE TWICE-A-WEEK DISPATCH

A PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE UPBUILDING OF AMERICAN HOMES AND AMERICAN INDUSTRIES.

BURLINGTON, ALAMANCE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1914.

PROGRESSIVES MEET SAT.

Progressives of the Fifth Congressional District meet in Courthouse in Greensboro Saturday.

Meet in Greensboro

Greensboro, July 3.—Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the fifth district convention of the Progressive party will be held in the court house. The convention will be called to order by James N. Williamson, Jr., of Burlington, chairman of the district executive committee and national committeeman from North Carolina of the party.

John W. Kurfess, of Stokes County, and Martin Douglas will be the principal speakers, and it is reported that among others to make speeches will be Major W. A. Guthrie, of Durham; Zeb Vance Walker, of Lexington, and Fredell Meares, of Wilmington.

Martin Douglas will be nominated for Congress from the Fifth District as the opponent of Major Charles M. Stedman.

Joe Barton, a Negro, Saves Lady and Baby.

Liberty, July 2.—Joe Barton, a negro, probably saved the lives of a lady and her baby near here yesterday in risking his own life to stop a runaway horse. The woman and child were in a buggy returning from Liberty and the horse became frightened when she raised an umbrella.

The animal had run at least a quarter of a mile and was just opposite the home of C. R. Curtis when Joe Barton and Will Carter, two negroes, saw the runaway. They tried to stop the horse by waving their arms and Carter struck at the horse as it was passing.

This failing, Barton gave a leap and caught the shafts where he held until he could get hold of the bridle, when he controlled the frightened animal. The act was the most heroic known in this section.

The Consumption of Whiskey Falling Off.

Washington, July 2.—Americans drank less whiskey during the past 12 months than they did the year before, but they consumed more beer and smoked more cigarettes.

Reports to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue made public today showed that receipts for the fiscal year just closed totalled $864,000 less than for the previous year, and most of this decline was due to the marked decrease in taxes collected on distilled spirits. Detailed statements for the month of June are not yet available, but in the first 11 months of the fiscal year there was a decrease of $3,734,857 in the income from the manufacture and sale of distilled liquor, due in part to reduction in the number of licenses. Estimates on the June receipts indicated the total decline in distilled liquor tax, for 12 months will probably be $4,250,000.

Receipts from tobacco taxes showed an approximate increase of $2,800,000 over last year. This gain is due almost entirely to a phenomenal increase in the cigarette sales. The gain in receipts from fermented liquor, beer and the like, was about $860,000.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO

Chief Wallace and Captain Dineen From Injurer Received at Explosion at Fire.

Fire Chief and Captain

Charlotte, July 1.—W. B. Glenn, captain of fire station No. 2, was instantly killed, Chief J. B. Wallace, of Charlotte Fire Department, was severely injured that he died in three hours; Fireman Randolph Erwin and Clyde E. Todd were seriously injured and half a dozen others were slightly injured, by an explosion of dynamite this morning at 8:45 o'clock, when they answered a call to extinguish flames in a barn belonging to J. B. Hawkins, a railroad and grading contractor, at No. 309 South Cedar St.

But for the fact that the chief when he arrived on the scene to direct the fire-fighting, ordered several firemen back some distance from the barn to straighten out a kink in the hose line several other firemen might have been killed and injured.

Windows were broken and plaster was knocked off the walls and ceiling in houses for several blocks surrounding the scene of the explosion. A number of bystanders were struck by flying pieces of timber that went in every direction, but none was seriously hurt. Canned goods and other materials in two grocery stores near the scene of the explosion were knocked into a heterogeneous mass on the floors.

OTHERS MAY RECOVER.

The injured were rushed to the Presbyterian hospital where Chief Wallace died at 12:20 o'clock. Fireman Todd and Erwin, both of fire station No. 2, are doing well and it is said they will recover. Erwin has a badly lacerated right arm and a gapping wound in his left leg, while Todd has a bad bruise on the head and a bad wound in the left shoulder. Fireman Barnes was sent to the hospital with a bad wound over his left eye, but left the hospital in an hour and promptly resumed duty at his station.

DYNAMITE OR POWDER.

It has not been fully ascertained, as the owner of the barn and his family were out of town, whether the explosive was dynamite or blasting powder, but it is believed both were in the small storage room ten feet from the side of the barn. Mr. Hawkins has been doing considerable grading and work of that sort about the city, and it is assumed that he had left a quantity of the explosive in the storage house under lock and key, in reservation for another contract.

SCENE OF WILD DISORDER.

The scene following the explosion was one of confusion and uproar. A crowd had surged forward toward the fire, but was prevented from reaching the scene of it because of several fences. When the explosion occurred there was a pell mell rush away from the place and several persons were more or less bruised up. Members of the police department arrived in answer to a call and kept the crowds from crowding round the injured until they could be removed to the hospital, which, however, was accomplished quickly.

CASTS GLOOM OVER THE CITY.

The tragedy, one of the most disastrous that has ever occurred in Charlotte, has cast a gloom over the city, as the dead firemen were men of universal popularity and very competent as firemen. The city hall and the three fire stations were draped in mourning after the disaster. Chief Wallace had been head of the Char-

WHITE SLAVERY CHARGED

W. B. Sandiford, Durham Druggist, Arrested and Held in Norfolk on Charge of White Slavery.

Durham Druggist in Jail

Norfolk, Va., July 1.—W. B. Sandiford, said to be a druggist from Durham, N. C., was arrested by Probation Officer Stevenson at 297 Cumberland street last night and Johnphine Cokerel, a rather pretty girl of 15 years, is being held on a charge of violating the Mann-White Slave Act.

Sandiford, apparently under no, had heard of the girl before he met her and was introduced to her last Saturday in Durham. They took an automobile, it is said, to Raleigh, where he spent the night at a hotel, occupying separate rooms, and on Sunday came to Norfolk.

Here they stopped at a house in Main Street and visited several reports, making application for the girl's entrance. After applying at the Cumberland street house twice they were admitted. In the meantime, Officer Stevenson had learned of the case and the arrest followed.

The girl, who is being held, at the poston's department at headquarters, claims not to have been harmed, and Sandiford makes the same statement. The girl whose mother is a widow, says that she wanted to leave Durham and get away to a larger place and was perfectly willing to come with anyone who would take her away. She says she has given her mother much trouble and that her mother does not want her there, any more.

When Sandiford was brought before United States Commissioner P. S. Stevenson this afternoon, at the request of the defense the case was continued until July 11. Sandiford claims to be well connected in North Carolina and expects to be able to pay bail for his appearance. He has written to his father at Durham but has not yet received a reply.

The Call of Love Takes Young Girl to Lover in West.

Elizabeth City, July 1.—A trip of many hundred miles alone, among strangers, did not deter Miss Lucy Only, a pretty little country maiden of Pasquotank country from starting yesterday afternoon on a trip to Columbus, Ohio, where she will marry her sweetheart whom she has never seen. This marriage will be the culmination of a romance which was begun by correspondence about a year ago between Miss Only and a gentleman in Tipton, Indiana.

A mutual friend introduced them by correspondence and they have written to each other continuously since then. An exchange of photographs convinced them that they were intended for each other. A few days ago Miss Only received a letter from her fiance enclosing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, and a piece of red ribbon, which she was instructed to wear when she arrived in that city that he might identify her.

Miss Only is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Only, in the Four Forks section of this county. She is a trimmed and retiring country girl and no one would suspicion that she would undertake a journey that stouter hearts would quail before.

Misses Claudie and Lessie Gattis were at home Wednesday evening to quite a large number of friends. The evening was very pleasantly spent in games and music furnished by Miss Marion Kirkpatrick. Refreshments, consisting of cream and cake and fruits were served. About thirty-five were present.

MEDIATION TAKES A RECESS

The A. B. C. Delegates, Huerta Delegates and U. S. Representatives Finish Present Plans.

Proves Indefinite Success

Mediators Take An Indefinite Recess at Niagara Falls, Ont., July 1.—Ambassador Da Gama, of Brazil, today formally announced the virtual settlement of the conflict between the United States and Mexico.

The ambassador explained that while mediation would take an indefinite recess pending the outcome of efforts by representatives of the two Mexican factions to solve the internal problems of Mexico, the task of mediation was not yet concluded, though an essential part of its work had been accomplished.

The ambassador spoke at a luncheon given by the three mediators to newspaper correspondents. The American and Huerta delegations were present, and the remarks of Mr. Da Gama, after careful revision, were made public later, constituting a formal statement of the mediation work thus far.

"It is a source of satisfaction for me," said the ambassador, "to be able to say that one of the essential points of our program, that dealing with the international side of the conflict is virtually settled. This does not imply that we go home with our task concluded, but we feel that so far we have averted war. We have established also through agreement between the parties most directly interested and in complete harmony with the sentiments of the government of the United States that it is a principle of American policy to have our national problems always given a fair examination and settled without foreign interference. We understand that if such a result is obtained we shall have created a more favorable atmosphere in politics in America."

Mr. Da Gama called attention to the fact that President Wilson personally had informed the mediators before they left Washington that the only way to solve Mexico's problem was "to aid the contending parties in Mexico to reach an agreement among themselves, thus obtaining a Mexican solution of the Mexican question."

In this manner the ambassador revealed that the course of mediation has taken was in President Wilson's mind from the beginning.

The speech served also as a definition for the world generally of the hitherto unsettled status of mediation. Ambassador Da Gama and Minister Naen had planned to leave tonight, but found many details to arrange and postponed their departure until tomorrow. The Washington government would have preferred that the mediation board remain here while the constitutionalists were urged to act quickly or the invitation already extended them.

The mediators tonight formally acknowledged the latest note from General Carranza. The answer expresses appreciation for Carranza's friendly sentiments toward peace and is courteously phrased. It will be made public tomorrow.

The American delegates today received word from Washington to leave her when they thought advisable, but they will be the last to go. The Huerta delegates received formal instructions from their government giving them plenary powers to discuss internal questions with constitutionalists. The Huerta delegation is anxious to know when and where the conference will take place.

No protocol has been signed indicating when the American forces will be withdrawn. As future meetings of the mediation

RURAL CARRIERS MEET

The eleventh Annual Session of the North Carolina Association—Held for the Benefit of the Service.

In Session For Two Days

The eleventh annual session of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association is being held here today and tomorrow, a program full of interest and educational looking to the advancement of the good of the rural carriers and their service.

The session opened this morning at 10 o'clock following the singing of "America" and devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Donald McIver, the address of welcome in behalf of the town was made by E. S. W. Dameron. The address of welcome on behalf of the rural carriers was made by J. M. Cook. The response was made by C. H. Howard. They followed the roll call of officers, the roll call of counties pending and adjournment for dinner.

At 2 p. m. the report of the executive committee was read and the sitting of delegates took place. An address was made by Postmaster J. E. Crowson and one by Rev. D. H. Tuttle. A talk discussion was held on "How Our Association Can Aid the Department in Making the Rural Delivery Service the Greatest Branch of the Postoffice Department."

At the evening session at 8 o'clock the officers will make their reports. Addresses will be made by E. B. Honeycutt, on "An Ideal Carrier"; T. C. Smith, on "An Ideal Patron"; W. C. Johnson, on "Organization and Achievement." The officers and national delegates will be elected and the next place of meeting and the state organ will be selected.

The devotional exercises of July 4 at 10 a. m. will be conducted by Rev. A. B. Kendall and the musical exercises led by Charles Hart. At 10:30 o'clock Clarence Fox will speak. He will be followed by an address by a representative of the Department. The closing exercises will be the song, "What Be With You Till We Meet Again," and the benediction by Charles Hart.

Chauffeur Out on Bail.

Asheville, July 1.—Fred A. Waldford, the chauffeur who drove the car used by the "Joy Riders" Sunday night who came to grief here Monday, was released under a bond of $500, the bail being reduced from $3,000, which was originally named. The reduction of the bond followed the recommendation of the solicitor.

That Charles E. Sorrels, the young business man who is charged with criminal assault, is preparing to wage a bitter fight for his life was evidenced today when he retained the law firm of Jones & Williams to be associated with Judge P. C. Cook in the defense of his case.

Valuation Order Issued.

Washington, July 1.—A physical valuation order issued today by the Interstate Commerce Commission requires railroads to take inventory of all materials and supplies some time during April, May or June of each year and adjust the inventory to June 30. For the year 1914, the inventory may be taken any time prior to September 1, but adjusted so as of June 30.

The commission also issued regulations to govern the recording and reporting of all extensions and improvements or other changes in physical property of common carriers.

Board and delegates probably will be held in New York or Washington, today's luncheon was in the nature of a farewell.

VANBERBILT TO DURHAM

There is a Chance that The City of Durham May Land the Great New University.

Will Be Plan Known Soon

Durham, July 1.—Methodists in Durham have been especially interested in the suggestion that Trinity College has a chance to land the great Methodist University which would be the capstone of the Church's educational system, since the court have decided that the Southern Methodists have nothing to do with Vanderbilt University.

"Of course nothing will be known about the plans of the commission appointed to settle this proposition," said one of the prominent members of the Methodist Church today, "until after their meeting, and an announcement." Bishop John C. Kilgo and Dr. Pharo T. Durham are members of this educational commission and if there is any chance to bring the big university to North Carolina, it will be located after by these two men.

In some respects Trinity College holds a unique position in this contest for the seat of the great Methodist university. It already has an endowment and a plant, as well as a well equipped faculty, and all of these things would help in bringing the university to Trinity College and Durham, were there any inclination on the part of the Southern Church or the commission to do so.

The bringing of this university to Trinity College and the establishment of the Women's Co-ordinate College there would make Durham one of the big educational centers of the South, and the Durham people are looking forward with a great deal of interest in the announcement of the plans of the commission, which is scheduled to hold a meeting sometime between now and the 15th of July.

Lunsford Takes Charge of Durham Postoffice.

Durham, July 1.—J. Otho Lunsford took charge of the Durham postoffice today, and has been shown over the work by former Postmaster J. A. Giles. Mr. Lunsford received a telegram yesterday telling him to take charge of the office on the first of July, which is the beginning of the fiscal year in the department, and also notifying him that his commission had been mailed. The commission arrived this morning on the first train.

Mr. Giles, who had been in the office a little over four years, will resume the practice of law in Durham and has already located offices.

This evening Mr. Lunsford gave a banquet in the basement of the postoffice building. Many employees of the office and prominent Democrats and Republicans, as well as the defeated candidates, attended this banquet.

New Passenger Station for Betsy.

Elizabeth City, July 1.—The first Norfolk Southern passenger train will stop at the new passenger station at 10 o'clock Saturday, July 4. After that date all passenger trains will stop there.

The new $1,700 station located at the head of Main street was completed the first of the week and the keys to the building were turned over to the railroad officials. The offices are now being moved from the old station in Pennsylvania Avenue. The new station is a handsome and commodious building, said to be the nicest station that the Norfolk Southern has on any of its lines. Its dimensions are such as to insure its adequacy to the needs of Elizabeth City for years to come.

No Interference By Any Foreign Nation.

Lauredo, Tex., June 28.—"Constitutionalist leaders who have the sympathy of all of the people of all Mexico, will not allow the dignity of the nation to be lowered by the interference of any foreign power in the internal affairs of the country." This declaration was made by General Carranza at a banquet at Monterey Saturday night, according to travelers who arrive here today.

Carranza, it was said, asserted the United States was assuming a dictatorial attitude. The 700 Mexicans who attended the banquet cheered him it is said.

"The constitutional movement has now proceeded to such a point," the first chief is quoted as having said, "that the party has nothing to fear except from the Judases in its own ranks." He mentioned no names.

Carranza, those who reached here tonight declared made no reference to mediation, but other constitutionalist leaders who spoke at the banquet expressed the view, that by international custom "the good offices" were strictly defined and were confined to bringing together the parties in dispute.

The mediators, however, they said, not only had tried to bring the disputants together, but had also attempted to dictate a policy in which they were to agree.

Governor Villareal, of Nacveton, defended the action of the constitutionalists in that state in closing the churches and burning the confusion.

High Point is Out-Growing Self.

High Point, June 27.—This town is becoming an immensely scattered one. As the residential section grows toward the north, so does the manufacturing settlements toward the south. To those who have not been in South High Point for the past few months the building growth is wonderful. Factories of different kinds which have been located just outside the incorporate limits because of local taxes, and for other reasons, have been the cause of innumerable homes being built all the way to the town limits beyond. Especially is this true of the western and southern parts of Third Ward, where have been erected the Highland and Pickett cotton mills, the Metallic Bed factory, the Globe-Parker Furniture Co., Southern Novelty Work, and several others, besides the impetus given to building by the new belt line through this section of over a mile built last year by the Southern in connecting its main line and the Ashboro road. South-east High Point is growing as rapidly and the section always known as Macedonia is stretching out beyond the corporate limits in the direction of Springfield. The silk mills, the South-Chain factory, the mirror works and other industries have done much toward the development of this section. In all this southern and western part of High Point land values are increasing and neat residential cottages are following fast in the wake of many varied industries.

Character Building on the Right Plan.

Taking as his scripture lesson the eighth chapter of Paul's epistle to the Romans, and basing his sermon on the text found in Romans 8:29, Dr. E. C. Fortines, of the M. P. Seminary in Westminster, Md., preached to an average size congregation yesterday at Grace M. F. Church.

It was one of those simple, straightforward sermons, full of strong admonition and profound earnestness. He impressed on his hearers the fact that simply because God has planned it so people may be saved would not save them: till first they do their part in conforming themselves to His will.

The central theme of this discourse was, "Our Mission in Life," and in his sermon he dwelt at length on the importance of right character building.

"It is left to us to determine which we will choose, evil or righteous forces. Both are here and it is a fact that we cannot harmonize with both, and when one chooses the evil his character is undermined and cannot stand out dominant as when it is equipped with righteousness. God has planned for us lives that count for something, and He behooves every one of us to do that for which we are intended, and in so doing conform our lives to the image of the Son of God. Our own characters must be shaped by us. God has given us the faculties to mould our characters, but does not give us character itself. Men are good when they are capable of doing good and then do it. So many of the people are capable of doing good, but in their greed for worldly goods forget their spiritual welfare, was in substance, a part of what the speaker said yesterday.

The minister did not fail to stress the fact that man's highest pursuit is the seeking of pleasure and that too often the pleasures sought are the kinds that produce evil effects. He said it is true that some pleasures have good effect and sound good, but men must not let pleasures stand above character. The pleasures that they should pursue are those that uplift character and avoid those that mar it.

That the Christian religion is a religion of warfare and that Christians must fight the evil forces which are prevalent in our land, was the contention of Dr. Fortines. In his definition of character and in telling how to build good sound moral men with the righteous forces dominant in their lives, he spoke of the relation of the body and mind and how good health is the rock bottom of good character. He declared that the mind and body are so closely related that the body cannot be affected without like effect on the mind. A good mind is the essential thing in building good character and the correct choosing in life is dependent on good thinking.

In conclusion, Dr. Fortines said that people who have an aim in life keep it constantly before their minds and press onward toward their goal; then just so should men have the image of Christ before their mind and be transformed into His likeness.

Dr. Fortines spoke for a few minutes of the work being done in the seminary at Westminster and how there they were turning out men for the ministry. He said that the young men needed assistance to get through the seminary and in helping them at the seminary they did not want to become too heavily in debt. A collection was taken yesterday to help defray the expenses of young men who are attending the seminary and a goodly sum was realized.—Greensboro News of Monday.

In surrendering their trust to the stockholders the voting trustees have the satisfaction of reporting a gratifying development of the system of railroads coincident with the extraordinary and steadily increasing growth in population, industrial development and wealth of the territory served, a development largely due to the activities of the Southern Railway Company in promoting commerce and industry along its lines."

Southern Railway Voting Trust Ended.

New York, June 30.—The Southern Railway Company, which has been controlled by a voting trust agreement since 1894 will be handed over to the shareholders July 31 next, according to a statement issued today by the surviving trustees. These are Charles Lanier and George F. Baker, who, with the late J. P. Morgan, comprised the voting trust.

In a notice to stockholders, announcing the approaching dissolution, Messrs. Lanier and Baker say:

"The voting trustees, under the voting trust agreement, have represented certificate holders primarily in the remuneration of the board of directors and in voting on propositions recommended by the board of directors for the provision of new capital for the

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF ALA- MANCE COUNTY.

It would seem from the way your losses (supposed to be your public servants) act that they do not know whether the big business firm, composed of Alamance County tax payers is making or losing money as between the old fee system and the new salary system, either they do not know, do not care, or that they intend to do something wrong with the amount saved, if anything is saved.
In plain English they do not want you to know how your affairs are managed, whether you as taxpayers are losing money by having your county officers placed upon salary or whether you are saving money, and if saving how much you are saving and if losing how much you are losing. They are your financial managers and yet they will not tell you how your business is conducted,
and whether it is paying you or not.
This stiffness, this inaction, this secrecy is there something behind it that you are entitled to know, is there some reason why you should not know how your affairs are managed? Are you as taxpayers satisfied with the way your affairs are conducted? Do you believe this secrecy concerning the salary and fee system is for your best interests as tax payers? Are you willing to trust people who are not willing to trust you with the knowledge of your own affairs? Your county officers have been upon the salary system now for two years or more? Have you ever had a report as to how the system is working? Are you losing money by this new system or are you making each year? If you are losing how much are you losing? Would you as tax payers like to know, if you would there is a way.
Some one is responsible. Do you know who that some one is? If you do not know there is a way to know this also. You have a county attorney. It is his business to see that you are informed in regard to how your county officers conduct their business. Ask him whose duty it is to tell you how your financial affairs are conducted? Whose duty it is to tell you how you are making or losing money as between salaries and fees. Other counties make these reports. Your sister county of Guilford makes them every year. Your county never makes them. Ask yourself why.
Then ask yourself the remedy. And when you learn the remedy apply it.

There is going to be a campaign this fall. Some one will be seeking votes. They will be shaking hands, putting you on your back, telling you what a good fellow you are. This same fellow is now holding office because of votes received at your hands.
This same fellow wants to hold office again from votes received at your hands, and yet he will not tell you how your business is being conducted.
This same fellow is running your business, handling your money, receiving good salary for doing this, and yet he does not want you to know how your business is being run. Do you want this fellow to continue to run your business, or would you prefer some one who will tell you how he is conducting your affairs?

Attention, Democrats!

Dear economical Democratic friend,
we pray thee listen to the following for Collier's Weekly on the Democratic platform, 1912. Read and the truth presents itself:
"The vulnerable point of the Democratic party in the Congressional elections this fall lies in the following quotation from their platform of 1912:
"We denounce the profligate waste of the money wrung from the people by oppressive taxation through the lavish appropriations of recent Republican Congresses, which have kept taxes high and reduced the purchasing power of the people's toil. We demand a return to the simplicity and economy which befits a democratic government."

"In face of this plan the present Democratic Congress has been the most wantonly wasteful in the history of the Federal Government. If we were in charge of the anti-Democratic campaign this fall we would set the statisticians and the investigators busy upon the Democratic "pork" bills and compare our campaign to them. Although it wasn't merely wanton wastefulness, it comes near being larceny on the part of individual members, for they are taking the money with a private motive—to buy their way back to Congress with public money."

Newspaper Men Need More Gospel.
Kansas City, Mo., July 2.—Education of newspaper and magazine writers in the teachings of Jesus is one of the first tasks before the Church people of this country. S. Eber Price, president of the Ottawa, Kansas, University, declared today at the convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, and the Baptist Young People's Union of the South.
"Our task is to seek out these men and women," said Mr. Price. "And train them in the proper way. Religion will be a determining element in their lives and they will be a tremendous influence for 'Christianity.'"
The Rev. R. L. Wimburn, of Louisville, Ky., declared "Christianity was entering into business more than ever before."

"Men everywhere now are called on to answer the question 'Is it right?'
Instead of 'Is it profitable?'" he said.
"Even in governmental affairs, the 'dollar diplomacy' is about to be discounted and our Christian President, for the first time in the history of national life, has raised the question
'Is it right?' instead of 'Is it profitable?'"—and this in the Panama Canal embargo."

A Free Scholarship.

Any young man or woman who is a bona fide patron of this paper may secure free instruction in Music or Elocution.
The Ithaca Conservatory of Music, with the desire to stimulate the study of these arts, offers two scholarships to applicants from the State of North Carolina, valued at $100 each and good for the term of seventeen weeks beginning with the opening of the school year, September 17, 1914, in any of the following departments: Voice, Violin, Piano and Elocution.
These scholarships are awarded upon competition which is open to anyone desiring a musical or literary education.
Anyone wishing to enter the competition or desiring information should write to Mr. George C. Williams, General Manager of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, Ithaca, N. Y., before September 1, 1914.

A STRANGE LETTER.

Mr. W. A. Phillips Asks That it Be Published—Said to Have Been Written by Christ.

A great many times during the past year The Dispatch has been requested to publish a strange letter, said to have been written by Christ and signed by the Angel Gabriel and deposited under a stone on the Mount of Crucifixion. The Dispatch has refused to do this, believing that publication would help along a fake and serve to disturb the minds of others of susceptible, but owing to the fact that many of these desiring publication of the letter have shown real distress at our refusal we are going to publish it just as Mr. Phillips sends it in.

THE LAST TIME.

We serve notice on our readers here and now that the letter will not be published again in this time is not Mr. Phillips alone, but for all our readers who are interested in the letter and all who may become interested in it. Remember this "publication" is for YOU.

MEANING OF PUBLISH.

Referring to the letter you will note that you are commanded to "publish" the letter. When that letter was said to have been written, 99 years after the Crucifixion, there were no newspapers and "publication" as we understand it, was impossible.

Now the word "publish" has more than one meaning. Printing the letter in a newspaper is only one way of publishing it. Publish means to "make public; to make known to mankind or people in general; to make known by posting or reading." See Webster's dictionary.

You can "publish" this letter by word of mouth. You can write it and "publish" by posting in a public place. You can "publish" by reading it in church. So, if you feel called upon to "publish" this letter, don't impose upon a friendly newspaper.
Use one of the other methods of publishing it.

Here is Mr. Phillips' letter:
Newspapers throughout the United States are printing what is alleged to be a letter written by Christ. In this letter was an injunction that it should be published to the world by whoever found it, together with the statement that misfortune and bad luck would follow the person having possession of it in the event that it was not given publicity. There was likewise a promise that whoever may have a copy of this in his or her possession will prosper and be followed by good fortune. According to the history of the letter it was written by Christ just after his crucifixion, signed by the Angel Gabriel, ninety-nine years after the Savior's birth and presumably deposited by him under a stone at the foot of the cross.
On this stone appeared the following,
"Whosoever works on the Sabbath day shall be cursed. I command you to go to church and keep hold of the Lord's day without any manner of work. You shall not idle and mispend your time in bedecking yourself in superfluities of costly apparel and vain dressing for I have ordered it a day of rest. I will have that day kept holy that your sins may be forgiven you."
"You will not break any commandments, but observe and keep them, they being written by my hand, and spoken from my mouth. You shall not only go to church yourself, but also your man servant and maid servant. Observe my words and learn my commandments."
"You shall finish your work every Saturday at six o'clock in the afternoon at which hour the preparation for the Sabbath begins. I advise you to fast five days in the year beginning on Good Friday and continuing the five days following in remembrance at the five bloody wounds I received for you and mankind. You shall love one another and cause them that are not baptized to come to church and receive the Holy Sacrament, that is to say baptism and then the supper of the Lord, and be made a member thereof, and in so doing I will give you long life and many blessings. Your land shall be replenished and bring forth in abundance and I will comfort you in the greatest temptation and surely he that doeth to the contrary shall be cursed. I will also send hardness at the heart on them and especially on hardened and impenitent unbelievers. He that hath given to the poor, shall and it profiteth? Remember to keep the Sabbath day, for the seventh day I have taken as a resting day unto myself. And be that hath a copy of this letter written by my own hand and spoken by my own mouth and keepeth it without publishing it to others shall not prosper, but he that publishes it to others shall be blessed by me and if their sin be as many as stars by night, and if they truly believe they shall be pardoned and they that believe not this writing and my commandments will have my plagues upon you and you will be consumed with your children, goods and cattle and all other worldly enjoyments that I have given you.

"Do but once think of what I have suffered for you, if you do, it will be well for you in this world and in the world to come.

"Whosoever shall have a copy of this letter and keep it in their house, nothing shall hurt them, neither pestilence, thunder nor lightning, and if any woman be in birth and put her trust in me, she shall be delivered of her child. You shall hear no more rewards of me except through the Holy Scriptures until the day of judgment.
All goodness and prosperity shall be in the house where a copy of this letter shall be found. Finished."

The story goes that the little child who found it passed to one who became a convert to the Christian faith.
He failed to have the letter published.
He kept it however, as a sacred me-moro of Christ and it passed down to different generations of his family for more than one thousand years.

During this period suffered repeated misfortunes, moved to different countries until finally one of them came to America, bringing the letter with them. They settled in Virginia then moved further south, still followed by misfortune when finally the last member, a daughter, approached her death bed and called a neighbor, Mrs.
Thompson, giving her the letter and relating its history for more than one thousand years. The Thompson woman began to attempt to have it published and it first appeared in the Home, Ga., Tribune, on October 31, 1891. It then appeared in the Dalton, Ga., Citizen, and Mrs. Wartman now living in Mason, Ind., clipped it and kept it in her possession for many years without an effort to have it published. She was followed by misfortune which she attributed to her neglect in trying to have the letter published.
Mrs. Ruby Crutchfield, of Trezavant, Tenn., is also said to have had a copy and failed to make an effort to have it published for three years, and was followed by a varied lot of misfortunes which she attributed to the fact of her neglect in this respect.

Burlington Defeats Mebane.

In a fast and snappy game of ball last Saturday afternoon the local team defeated Mebane by a score of 4 to 2. The game was well played throughout and the home team shows up better now than it has so far this season.

The local team will meet Swepsonville on the Piedmont Park diamond Saturday morning and afternoon in a double-header. The home boys say they are better prepared to handle Swepsonville than ever before.

It is the duty of our citizens to support our team and they are certainly due much better financial support than have received. They receive no salaries and all the support you are asked to give is the admission to the park to see the games.

Early Cotton Blooms.

We received June 30 a cotton bloom from Astor Coble, of Liberty, N. C., Route 2, which evidently must be the first cotton bloom of the season. Mr. Coble is a progressive farmer being a subscriber to The Twice-A-Week Dispatch.

We again on July 1, received another cotton bloom from Mrs. W. A. Tinnin, widow of W. A. Tinnin, relict of the present carrier on Rock Creek Route 2. It seems the farmers are making good crops in spite of the dry weather.

DR. P. H. FLEMING, RESIGNED.

Dr. P. H. Fleming, superintendent of the Burlington Graded Schools, having recently accepted the pastorate of a Christian Church in the state of New Hampshire, sent in his resignation as superintendent of schools to take effect as soon as his successor could be elected.

The Board of Trustees of the Burlington Graded Schools, in accepting the resignation of Dr. Fleming, desires in a public way to express their regret in losing Dr. Fleming as superintendent, and to extend to him their hearty appreciation for his ardent, faithful and successful services in the past and to extend to him their very best wishes in the new field to which he has been called, and to which he is so eminently fitted by a life of devotion to duty in his Master's service.

Therefore, Be it Resolved:

First: That while we accept with reluctance, the resignation of Dr. Fleming as superintendent of our schools, we will ever cherish his memory as a true and faithful friend of education, having at heart the very best interest of all our people, and our best wishes will accompany him to his new field of labor, where we feel assured his devotion to duty, his exalted learning and his high Christian character will crown his efforts with renewed success.

Second: That personally, as members of the Board of Trustees of the Burlington Graded Schools, and as representatives of the patrons and pupils of Burlington, North Carolina, we extend to Dr. P. H. Fleming our highest appreciation for the excellent work he has done as superintendent of our schools, and we have every reason to believe that the good seed he has sown in our midst will soon grow up in many young lives who have been made better by coming in contact with him, and which in due time will bring a greater harvest of real blessings to him than any words of commendation we are now able to utter.

Third: That our prayers and best wishes will accompany Dr. Fleming to his new field of labor, and while absent in person, we are assured that his love and affection will remain here among his friends who know and love him best, and for whom he has so long and so faithfully worked and labored.

Fourth: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, a copy sent by our secretary to Dr. P. H. Fleming and a copy given to the Burlington News and State Dispatch with a request for publication.

Respectfully Submitted,

Proposal to Limit Amount of Capital.

Washington, July 1.—An arbitrary legal limit on the amount of capital to be allowed in a single corporation engaged in any particular line of business was advocated in the Senate today by Senator Cummins in a speech supporting the Administration trade commission bill. The Senator announced he would propose an amendment empowering the commission to fix the limit and establishing the rule that no corporation should command an amount of capital which of itself tended to establish a monopoly.

Suggesting that the United States Steel Corporation, though its controlled only about one-half of the country's steel industry, through its capitalization of $1,500,000,000 had power to eliminate competition, the Senator said he would limit capitalization of any single company in the steel business to $300,000.

Senator Cummins also announced that he would propose amendments giving the proposed trade commission authority to eliminate interlocking directorates and holding companies. Both of these problems are dealt with in the Clayton bill, another measure on the Administration program, which has passed the House.

The determination of the Democrats to pass the anti-trust bills to a vote as early as possible was made clear today, when Senator Newlands sought an agreement to begin voting on the trade commission bill at five o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Senator Cummins objected saying the discussion scarcely had commenced.

A Mad Dog Ran Wild Near McLeansville.

Greensboro, July 2.—There was quite a mad dog scare near McLeansville yesterday when an unknown dog in that community bit several cows and hogs. The dog was first seen Tuesday afternoon by A. R. Thomas, when it bit two of his cows. The dog was seen no more till yesterday morning when it was seen going toward the farm of W. G. Garrison, who lives about two miles from Mr. Thomas. Before the animal could be killed it had bitten two fine hogs belonging to Mr. Garrison.

The men immediately gave chase and the canine was finally overtaken and killed by W. J. Anderson, A. R. Thomas and J. M. Payne, on Henry Cobb's place about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Five shots were fired into the dog's body from a distance of about 20 yards.

The dog was a large black and white spotted setter and was unknown in that section. Its head was sent to Raleigh yesterday to the state laboratory for inspection.

Thrashing Machine and Wheat Crop Burn Near Claremont.

Newton, July 1.—While Earl Boat's machine was thrashing at Eli Kale's near Claremont, Monday, a spark from the engine set fire to a stack of wheat. All at once beat their efforts to put out the fire and forgot to move the thrashing machine which was set between the burning stack and another. In an instant the fire spread over the whole surroundings, machine, straw, and everything.

The engine was moved away but that was all that could be saved. Only a few bushels of wheat had been threshed and it had not been moved. The loss was about 200 bushels. This was grown on the lands of Mr. Kale by Noah Barber and Cep Hufferman. Their loss is fully $400 and Mr. Boat's loss is $400 or more. Another thrasher was secured and Mr. Boat will finish up his contracts with other farmers.

Suffragettes Are Staying on the Job.

Washington, July 1.—Woman suffragists, determined to wage their fight before Congress in spite of President Wilson's refusal to aid, were busy today about the Capitol and the House office building, scouting and telephoning in vain efforts to assemble the house rules committee. They were informed that a meeting of the committee to discuss special rules for immediate consideration of the prohibition and suffrage question called for today had been postponed until August 1, but fearing a trap, remained on watch and sent out searchers for committeemen.

Among members of the House it was generally understood that the committee would not meet August 1, and that neither suffrage nor prohibition would get before Congress before December session.

The suffragists, many of whom came here yesterday for the visit to President Wilson, were headed by Miss Elsie Hill, of Newark, Conn. They took possession of the rules committee room, regardless of assurances of the clerk that the meeting had been postponed, and some held chairs while others were scouting.

Chairman Henry is campaigning in Texas for re-election, and Representative Pou, of North Carolina, the acting chairman, was not to be found. Though his office and the route to the capitol were watched and his telephone kept jangling steadily.

Finally the suffragists called in their sentiments and left Capitol, announcing that they proposed to continue their fight throughout the session.

Elon College's Fine Record—Many Distinguishing Characteristics.

Elon College opened its doors to men and women on equal terms in 1890. Twenty-four years have passed. It now has a $900,000 plant, including four magnificent dormitories, two co-operative boarding halls, two fine gymnasiums, one for men and one for ladies, central power plant, administration building, etc., and in addition an income on an endowment of $150,000, 385 students from seventeen states, and a faculty of 22 members. This is an unparalleled record of growth and progress.

There are three items about this thriving college which readily impress every one: Its unexcelled record for healthfulness—never having had a serious case of sickness; its exceedingly low rates for board and living for those who prefer them and reasonable rates for the very best hotel style of living with all modern conveniences in either case; and its moral tone and spiritual vigor, creating an atmosphere predisposing all in the direction of proper character ripening, and which Marshall A. Hudson recently declared to be the very finest he had ever seen for real spiritual power.

Those who are interested in higher education on such terms, where the highest intellectual, social, physical, and moral with spiritual culture can be had, would do well to write the president of Elon College for full particulars. Mention this paper, addressing their communication to President W. A. Linn, of Elon College, N. C.

Snakes Wouldn't Fight.

Mr. Marion A. Smith came to town this morning with a huge king snake and proposed a match between it and Mr. W. H. Liles' big rattler. Arrangements were soon made for the bout and the windows of the Blalock Hardware Co., were secured for the scene of action. Up to the time of going to press the reptiles, supposed to fight "on sight" had shown no willingness to amuse the great crowd of spectators. It is probable that the proper salutes were given by their snake-ship and this brought about peace between them.—Wadesboro Ansonian.

Now, we are betting our lucky penny on that king snake. The trouble was, his captor did not know how to manage a king snake. We have "hearn tell" a king snake is like a rabbit in one respect. You can catch a rabbit, rub your hand over him, put him down and he can't run. It seems to take all the go out of him. Same way with a king snake. If you want him to stay on the job, don't handle him. It makes him drowsy and sluggish. Besides that, they were penned up in too close a space. When snakes fight, they want room to maneuver. A window was entirely too close quarters for a decent scrap and hence the mutual snake agreement not to try it. Just take these snakes out on the ground and turn them loose. We will guarantee the rattler never leaves there. But that king snake is not going to show his prowess in no show window. The Reply for Big Business.
Believing, as we have said, that the conditions named by President Wilson are to be complied with, we expect to find main interest in other matters until such time as the business boom which the President has promised is due to arrive. Then there will be a business boom, or a business depression, or business will be just so-so. In the event of the boom, the prestige of Mr. Wilson as a business-doctor will be established like the rock of Gibraltar. The objects will be a minority hardly worth taking into consideration. In the event that business does not show a large improvement, the President will be discredited as an economist by his own expressions, and that will be all there is to it.

Nevertheless our readers no doubt will feel some degree of curiosity as to how Big Business meets this proposal for Big Business. It is emphatically opposed to the condition of the contract. Such a contract or other member of Big Business included in Big Business for the same reason. Big Business is opposed to the remaining number of the contract. It has retained the contract from the start. One of the acts of the Democratic administration which is fought by Big Business, with such intelligence and vigor, and influence as it could command. Perhaps this course has been in the interest of the greatest good for the greatest number. We do not know and do not expect to know the result. It is time to tell us. But we look to the New York Sun's revelation of the purpose of the President. The business world would like to see if the President is really a business-doctor.

The United States is in the habit of making itself a party to the world's affairs. It is a party to the world's affairs in that, as a party to the world's affairs, it is a party to the world's affairs. It is a party to the world's affairs in that, as a party to the world's affairs, it is a party to the world's affairs. It is a party to the world's affairs in that, as a party to the world's affairs, it is a party to the world's affairs.

Now it is time to see what the result will be. The result will be that the world's affairs will be a party to the world's affairs. The result will be that the world's affairs will be a party to the world's affairs. The result will be that the world's affairs will be a party to the world's affairs.

The United States is in the habit of making itself a party to the world's affairs. It is a party to the world's affairs in that, as a party to the world's affairs, it is a party to the world's affairs. It is a party to the world's affairs in that, as a party to the world's affairs, it is a party to the world's affairs.

But the place where the President and his informants on the one hand, and business leadership on the other are hopelessly apart is as regards the remaining forces. The business world feels itself fettered by the general attitude of political hostility to the higher mechanism of business, a hostility which the President is the principal exponent, the self-declared Mandi. The business world feels that the President's attitude renders the prevalent hostility not merely political but governmental and exaggerated its activity, what with prosecution and prohibitions, legislation and administrative interference and threats of still more stringent measures to come, into something in the nature of a holy war."

It may or may not pass without challenge that "the Business Interests" are incapable of coloring the truth and have no incentive for doing so. However that may be, at this point The Sun disputes the major premise of the President: Mr. Wilson fatuously says that there is nothing worse for business than to be kept guessing. If this were so, guessing could not be injurious. There is something far worse. In the present conjuncture, nor to put too fine a point on it, the passage of the national measures now in Congress known as the administration anti-trust program is worse, much worse, and it is because business knows this that business leaders will not move, will not risk their money or waste their efforts at the present time.

Further, business men are well aware that guessing will not end with the passage of these bills. The Sun says: "Behind them there is a new field of guess work. The spirit and the ends in and under which they will be applied furnish a disastrous prospect of guess-work, over which business must plead before it can realize what kind of free agency the President's new constitution leaves it. Beyond all this there is the menace of Mr. McAdoo with a new battery of impositions and Mr. Owen with a new set of regulations, reported to be drawn by trick and device, to pull the heart of enterprise and pulse the hand of progress."

And there is the argument. Speculation on the weather apparently has become a part of the scheme of things. At any rate everybody indulges in it.

Feeling of Final Peace.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 29.—The feeling tonight is in a most complex state. It is a feeling of final peace. It is a feeling of final peace. It is a feeling of final peace. It is a feeling of final peace.

That war has been exerted is generally admitted, but the actual participation of Mexico, few here see any visible signs of progress. The position already signed set forth to effect the conditions under which the United States will recognize a new government in Mexico. Everything, however, is conditional on the establishment of a provisional government which must be the result of an agreement between the two warring factions. These have not yet been brought together. Some of the mediators doubt if they ever will be.

Minister Naon, who is believed to be on intimate terms with the Constitutionalists as he recently has been in private and secret communication with their representatives in Washington, professes optimism. Minister Suarez and Ambassador Dagama are understood to be rather skeptical. The Huerta delegates are non-committal.

In the meantime, the widening of the breach between Carranza and Villa and the weak resistance is being offered by the Huerta troops to the Constitutional advance, are producing grave apprehension that a military conquest of Mexico City is likely while mediation is in session and perhaps will provoke the international controversy anew.

Tomorrow Ambassador Dagama will return from a brief vacation. The mediators are disposed to keep themselves free from entanglement in Mexico's international affairs. The answer sent to the mediators by Carranza last Monday is expected tomorrow.

No New Cases of Plague Develop.
New Orleans, June 30.—With the enforcement today of a rigid quarantine of the infected district and the failure of new cases to develop, local health authorities considered the bubonic plague situation here well in hand and ventured the prediction that but little trouble would be experienced in stamping out the contagion.

W. W. Wilkinson, who developed the disease Sunday following the death of Charles Lundene, was reported as improving tonight and physicians were hopeful of his recovery. Twenty-seven other inmates of the Industrial Home of the Volunteers of America, where Wilkinson and Lundene were stopping when stricken, are still at the Isolation camp, where they will remain until all danger of infection is past.

Four blocks of which the Volunteers of America Home is the radius were guarded today by 28 men in the employ of the city health department, only breadwinners being allowed to go and come as they pleased, and these were required to report for inspection. All places of amusement in the area were closed but business houses were allowed to continue shipments with the requirement that all merchandise be enclosed in rat-proof boxes. One merchant in the quarantine zone voluntarily closed his business through patriotic love.

Pensacola, Fla., June 30.—Because of the discovery of bubonic plague in New Orleans, the city of Pensacola today decided to pay a bounty of five cents on each dead rat delivered to the State laboratory.

The President and Speaker Clark will leave for Alaska tomorrow.

Washington, June 30.—After days of parliamentary wrangling both of the House of Congress today agreed to appropriate for a commission for Vice-President Marshall and Speaker Clark. Each will have a car costing $10,000. "I think," he said, "we ought to give him a slight reward for his great abilities as speaker, remembering that but for a chance he would now have been president, enjoying the privilege of many automobiles. It does not wish to draw comparisons, between the speaker and the president, but if Champ Clark had been nominated and elected president all would have been proud of him in that position."

The House cheered Mr. Merriam's tribute to the speaker, and passed the appropriation, already approved by the Senate.

Woman Chokes Children.
Baltimore, Md., June 30.—Mrs. Marie Finck, today choked to death two of her six children. Carroll, aged 2 years, and John, 4 months. The woman is believed to have become demented over religion. She told the police she was commanded by God to kill the children. The other four were absent from home at the time.

Sunday Joy Ride Ends Seriously.
Asheville, June 29.—A Sunday afternoon joy ride developed an unexpected feature and had serious results here today when Charles Sorrels, a prominent young business man of Asheville and a member of a well-known western North Carolina family, a married man, was bound over to the criminal term of the Buncombe County Superior Court without bail on a charge of criminal assault, while Fred J. Wadford, who drove the machine, was sent to the same court under a bond of $3,000 to answer to a charge of aiding and abetting in the commission of the crime. Mrs. Ernestine Hooper, who came to Asheville more than a year ago from Augusta, was the prosecuting witness in the case, the evidence being to the fact that she was wronged. Walter Hill, arrested on a charge of being an accessory to the alleged crime, was discharged while the other member of the automobile party, Miss Lula Barnes, a recent arrival at Asheville from South Carolina, was used as a witness in the case.

Evidence submitted at the hearing in the court of Magistrate E. L. Lyda was to the effect that the two couples and the chauffeur left Asheville Sunday afternoon at 7:30 o'clock and went to a point near Asenala; that at this point Mrs. Hooper asked to be allowed to return to Asheville and that Sorrels, her companion, drew a pistol from his pocket and refused to allow her to return. The chauffeur, Mr. Wadford, stated that his machine was out of order and that the return trip could not be made. Hill and Mrs. Barnes left the scene, it is alleged, and the chauffeur after promising to protect Mrs. Hooper went about thirty feet from the car, the alleged crime being committed in his absence.

And he is prepared to demonstrate it to his own entire satisfaction. "Rather than enter into any endless argument, why not admit that Bacon was the Elizabethan Age?" suggests the New York World. The theory has been advanced that Queen Elizabeth was really a man; why not admit that Shakespeare, Bacon and Elizabeth were one and the same person?—Greensboro News.

Press Association Visits Southport.

Wilmington, June 26.—With trip down Cape Fear River today members of the North Carolina Press Association ended their delightful sojourn of three days at Wilmington and at Wrightsville Beach. More than 100 editors and members of their families took the trip down the river on the steamer "Wilmington" as guests of the owner and master, Capt. J. W. Harper. At Southport they were entertained at luncheon by the Southport Commercial Association.

The address of welcome was made by C. E. Taylor, of the Southport bar, and he told the editors something of the important part Southport is destined to play in the development of the State by reason of its fine landlocked harbor. The editors also visited Fort Caswell and the quarantine station. They are leaving tonight for their homes.

Southport, June 26.—Southport to guests of Captain Harper, of Southport. The trip down the river was delightful. The visitors were first taken to Fort Caswell and then back to Southport, where the Commercial Association, the Civic Club and Southport generally, under the general direction of Mrs. J. Berg, had prepared a dinner.

Clam chowder, ham, deviled eggs, potato salad, coffee and home-made 150 guests were served. En route day has had as her guests the members of the North Carolina Press Association and other visitors. Early this morning editors boarded the Wilmington and all day they have been supping wine were the principal things on the bill of fare. More than home stop was made at the quarantine station, and refreshments were served.

Captain Buford Retired.

Salisbury, June 26.—In recognition of his faithful work during the thirty years he has been with the Southern Railway Company was honored by the retirement of Captain Andrew Buford from active duties as freight agent at Salisbury. For the past 11 years or more Captain Buford has handled the company's freight business here to the satisfaction of the company and the public. Capt. Buford had also been freight agent at Greensboro and Oxford and was at one time traveling freight agent. He is succeeded as agent by Mr. J. W. Phillips, a Salisbury boy who was advanced from cashier at this office to the Charlotte office several years ago. Captain Buford, while relieved from the work of the office, remains an official of the company with full pay.

ROOSEVELT OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR 1914.

Delivers Speech at Pittsburg, First Political Speech Since His Return From Brazil.

Pittsburg, June 30.—Former President Roosevelt here tonight made the first speech of the 1914 campaign. He spent five hours in Pittsburg, and was welcomed enthusiastically. In his address before the Pennsylvania Progressive League, he criticized the policies of the Wilson administration, attacked Senator Penrose and appealed for support for the Progressive ticket.

Colonel Roosevelt spoke with comparative ease after the first few sentences, but his voice was husky and persons in the rear of the building at times found it difficult to hear him. His gestures were less rapid and vigorous than of old, and as he neared the end of his speech he plainly was weary.

Colonel Roosevelt coined a new phrase tonight. It was what he called "Government by Convulsion." By this he said he meant the passing back and forth of power between the Republican and Democratic parties, which he said would continue unless the people entrust the power to the Progressives party.

The former President's speech was regarded by Progressive leaders here as an indication of the line of attack the party will follow in this year's campaign. The colonel held out no olive branch to the Republican party. He appealed to individual Republicans to support the Progressive ticket, but suggested no dealings with the party as an organization. He denounced Republican leaders, who he said, had misrepresented the people, and attacked Senator Penrose unsparingly.

CREATED BY GREAT CROWD.

The Wilson administration's policies, Colonel Roosevelt said were responsible for backward business and unemployment. No progress had been made he said toward solution of the trust question and on this point he later said was the most comprehensive statement of his position he ever had made.

The colonel was greeted on his arrival by a crowd of several thousand persons, who blocked the streets near the station and cheered him. He drove directly to a dining hall, where 1,700 Progressives were having dinner. He made a brief speech then hurried on to Exposition Hall, where he delivered his principal address.

When Colonel Roosevelt entered the hall he was cheered for several minutes. Bandana handkerchiefs were waved and the weird "Hull Moose call" was sounded. The band blared away a tune often heard in the first Progressive campaign and Colonel Roosevelt looked entirely happy as he stood in the center of the platform, waving his hand to the crowd.

After he had finished his speech, Colonel Roosevelt was told a crowd at an overflow meeting in an addition hall was waiting for him, but he did not feel like making another extended speech, and stopped merely long enough for a word of greeting. Gifford Pinchot, candidate for United States Senate, and William Draper Lewis, of Philadelphia, candidate for governor, also made speeches.

"PARTY AFRAID-OF-POWER."

Of the "bosses" Mr. Roosevelt said what he has heretofore—that they thwarted the rank and file of the Republican party by the nomination of Taft at Chicago and in so doing "deliberately put the Democratic organization and Mr. Wilson into power."

In conclusion the colonel sketched the Progressive idea of needed anti-trust regulation by properly empowered commissions, consisting of proposals with legislation now pending at Washington, which he found woefully inadequate. Such a program alone, he contended, proved the inadequacy of the Democratic party. "It is and always will be," he said, "the states' rights party, the 'Party afraid-of-power.'"

Boy Run Over by Auto.

Winston-Salem, June 30.—Newsom Baity, twelve-year-old son of Mr. I. I. Baity, was run over by an automobile last night about 10 o'clock on the corner of Fourth and Liberty streets and was seriously injured. He was taken to the Spencer Sanatorium immediately after the accident and after receiving treatment was removed to his home at 643 West Sixth Street. It was stated that the base of his brain was injured and that the optic nerve was affected so the young man could not see, one of the hind wheels having run over his head. It is not known whether the injury is permanent or not.

The car was driven by Mr. E. W. Scott and he was rounding the northwest corner of Fourth and Liberty streets when he struck the boy, who is reported to have been picking up some money in the street when the car ran over him. The accident was witnessed by a number of people and versions of the affair differ, some saying that the car was running pretty fast and others claiming that it was going at a moderate speed.

A Most Brutal Murder.

Charlotte, June 30.—Will Stevenson, colored, shot his wife, Sarah, five times with a pistol in the house where the couple lived on East Palmer street and then all but severed her head and both arms with an axe. After the five shots had entered the woman's body she was still able to crawl under the house. Her screams showed he was still not dead, as her husband thought, and then it was he picked up the axe and hacked her into a mass of torn flesh. Stevenson made his escape before the police arrived. He tore up several photographs of himself before he left, but overlooked one and his likeness has been printed on a circular sent to police authorities everywhere. The city has offered $50 for his apprehension.

NEGRO CAPTURED AT HICKORY.

Charlotte, June 30.—Will Stevenson, the negro who murdered his wife, Sarah Stevenson, here last Saturday morning by shooting her five times with a pistol and then mutilating her body with an axe and for whose apprehension the city offered a $50 reward, was captured yesterday afternoon at Hickory by Deputy Sheriff Gilbert, of Iredell county, and Chief of Police Lentz, of Hickory. Chief of Police Moore, of the Charlotte police force, went to Stateville in an automobile and met the officers who brought the negro to Stateville at the train.

The negro told Chief Moore a weird tale of how he had dreamed of killing his wife and of picturing himself found from head to foot in chains. He awoke to find his wife fussing with him, he said, and immediately murdered her. He said he had intended to come back to Charlotte and surrender, after he had gone to Hickory to see another woman once more, adding that he knew that he would be electrocuted for his crime here.

Annual Meeting at Thomasville.

Thomasville, June 30.—The twentieth annual meeting of the Thomasville Baptist Orphanage is now being held, the meeting this year occupying both Tuesday and Wednesday as heretofore. A large crowd is here in attendance today, and a record-breaking crowd will be here tomorrow. The annual sermon was preached under the orphanage pavilion at 11 o'clock today by Dr. Calvin Waller, of Asheville.

During the afternoon the Orphanage and Thomasville baseball teams played a very exciting 19 inning game. Tonight Lawn Tennis exercises of the children are being held. Tomorrow is the big day. The children will have exercises at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, after which the annual address will be delivered by Hon. W. F. Daniel, of Weldon. In the afternoon the Cooper carnival will hold the interest of everybody, after which another baseball game will be played between the Orphanage and Thomasville teams. The Orphanage buildings and grounds never looked prettier than just now. A whole day can be interestingly spent looking over the various plants, industries and farms of this wonderful institution. Modern methods are used in all departments. These meetings increase in interest and attendance every year.

The trustees are holding their annual meeting. Their work will be completed Wednesday when a full report will be given out. The weather is ideal for this meeting and all indications predict the greatest meeting of the institution.

"Do you know his wife well?"

"Not at all." "Would you like to be introduced to her?" "I don't think it would be safe. I'm the friend he always blames for keeping him out here." —Detroit Free Press.

Altamahaw No. 1 Items.
 We have been having some rain for the last week which was greatly needed throughout this section. Corn is looking well, but owing to the dry weather very little cotton has been set.
 Mrs. J. W. Fugate has been quite sick, but is better at this writing, we are glad to note.
 Also Mrs. John Durham has been on the sick list. We hope they may both soon be well.
 Miss Jessie Brinkley is spending several days at this time with Mrs. L. F. Shuman.
 Miss Kate Fugate and Miss Hunter Durham are at present with Mrs. L. F. Shuman. Sunday school is in session.

We were at the home of Mrs. Zerkie M. Smith. She has kept busy in her sewing and has seen time. As she has a good deal of work, she is a good worker.
 Mrs. M. W. Walker, George Boyd, Fred and Pete Walker, started on Uncle Sam's trip Sunday afternoon.
 Mrs. J. M. Smith and little son, Hunter, Miss L. F. Shuman and Master Fred Walker were in the village of Altamahaw Sunday afternoon.
 Miss Alice Smith spent Saturday and Sunday visiting her cousin, Miss Emma, Brinkley at Altamahaw.
 Ask Boyd's Smith if she still sends W. A. something to eat to the field. She will have to learn W. A. not to eat between meals.
 Will give the news again next week.

Hammer's Office.
 It was proper and right that District Attorney Hammer be permitted to move his office to Ashboro, his home. Of course he desired to do so. Who in the name of sense wants to live in Winston when Ashboro is on the map? Mr. J. E. Buxton, who for a number of years was chief clerk of District Attorney A. E. Holtz, has tendered his resignation. Mr. Hammer has secured Mr. Hal W. Worin of Ashboro, to succeed Mr. Buxton as chief clerk to the District Attorney and his appointment is now before the Department at Washington for confirmation.—Greensboro Record.

Courtroom Fight Causes Sensation.
 Raleigh, July 1.—Gavin H. Dortch, insurance and real estate man, and Robert L. Harper, similarly engaged, interrupted the civil proceedings in Justice J. E. Owens' court yesterday afternoon with a fight that resulted in the severe stabbing of Mr. Dortch by Mr. Harper.

The man who can write an account of it that will bring no reply or request for correction, could settle easily the dispute over the genuineness of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. Upon the fight, the flag, the bonds, and the trials, say in Justice W. C. Harris' court there is perfect accord.
 Mr. Dortch was suing Mr. Harper for two amounts of $40 and Mr. Harper was countering with a claim of $100. The court had not reached the material merit of the litigation. During the investigation Mr. Harper referred to a former dispute with Mr. Dortch over the same matter and pointing to his own statement and that of the court, said that if Mr. Dortch had been a man of honor he would have sent each some papers in controversy. Mr. S. B. Wood, Shepherd, representing Mr. Dortch, and Justice Owens that he would better hold up or quiet. Mr. Dortch replied that he had slapped Mr. Harper last year about the same matter and Mr. Harper retorted that he was sitting in his chair and that Mr. Dortch was a coward.

They went together. Mr. Dortch striking Mr. Harper, it is said, with his open hand, twice or three times. Judge Owens and Mr. Shepherd separated them and found that Mr. Dortch was stabbed. The wound was five or six inches long though not deep. Physician George Glenn took Mr. Harper who gave him in the sum of $500 and Mr. Dortch was taken to the office of Dr. J. W. Meeker. In the afternoon later he gave bond of $50 and the case was continued.

The wound in Mr. Dortch's neck was dull, otherwise it might have been fatal. Chief C. M. Walters has the case in the police station. He declared that last night he had not thought the wound a dangerous one and the head was large enough to take the attendance of Mr. Harper upon court proceedings today. Messrs. W. C. Douglas and J. R. N. Shuman represented Mr. Harper in the civil action.

Some of the men in the justice court room ran out to avoid being made witnesses in the case today. It is expected that this morning it is expected that both sides will be given.

Summer Thoughts.
 Farewell, farewell, you with of mine;
 The best that you should go away;
 But, oh, keep me a little line
 Every day—or every other day.
 Yes, I shall tend the rubber plant
 And feed the clock and wind the err;
 When lonely I'll call on your name—
 Yes I'll take good care of the flat.
 Oh, yes, of course, I'll lonely be,
 But you must have your summer joys.
 And then, sometimes, I'll have with me
 Joe Jenkins and the other boys.
 There, there! Of course, I did but jest;
 Those rowdies never shall come near;
 Go and enjoy a perfect rest—
 I'll manage to get on, my dear.
 We'd better go and catch a car;
 It fills my heart with grief and pain,
 But then, it isn't very far—
 For heaven's sake, don't miss that train!
 Goodbye, my love, a farewell kiss.
 There! She is gone. Oh, heart, be strong!
 My loved one's presence I shall miss;
 But, say, I think I'll get along.

 lotte fire department for 5 years and was esteemed one of the most competent as well as one of the most popular fire chiefs in the State. He was 32 years old and unmarried. Mr. Glenn was 43 years of age and had been a member of the fire department for 26 years. He was for several years chief of the department. He was married by a wife and two daughters.

TO HAVE DOUBLE FUNERAL.
 A double funeral will be conducted tomorrow at 4 o'clock at the Second Presbyterian church, of which both the dead firemen were members. The service will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. A. A. McGehee, assisted by other ministers of the city. The interment will be in Elmwood cemetery, with military honors.

MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE.
 Messages of condolence came today to the fire department and families of the two men from Mayor James D. McNeill, of Fayetteville, who is president of the North Carolina Firemen's Association and from others, one being from the secretary of the American Association of Fire Chiefs, of which Chief Wallace was a member.

William H. Osborne Makes Fine Record.
 Washington, July 1.—After having been in office only 14 months Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborne, of Greensboro, today was able to show the largest collection of government money in the history of the United States government for the same length of time and nearly 25 per cent. less cost to Uncle Sam than any other commissioner of Internal Revenue.

At the end of the fiscal year which closed yesterday Commissioner Osborne had collected $23,079,513.14 in corporate taxes, excise and income taxes, and other items amounting to $7,700,000—14 cents less than a year ago. Treasury officials are enthusiastic in praising Commissioner Osborne for having put the commissioner's office on a business basis. It will be gratifying to the commissioner's many friends in the state to know that he has refused to play politics here and has insisted upon efficiency and high duty measures of reform.

When Congress appropriated $800,000 for a lump sum and turned it over to Commissioner Osborne to collect the revenue tax, many politicians said that it would not be enough. Indeed many of them urged his assistants to use the money in some way. They argued that if any of this appropriation should be turned back to the government it would be a difficult matter to secure enough to run the office next year. Commissioner Osborne refused to spend the money except where it was needed. It is said by a high treasury official that a little over half of the $800,000 will be returned to the treasury vaults notwithstanding the fact that Colonel Osborne has collected more money than was ever turned over to the government by the office since its establishment.

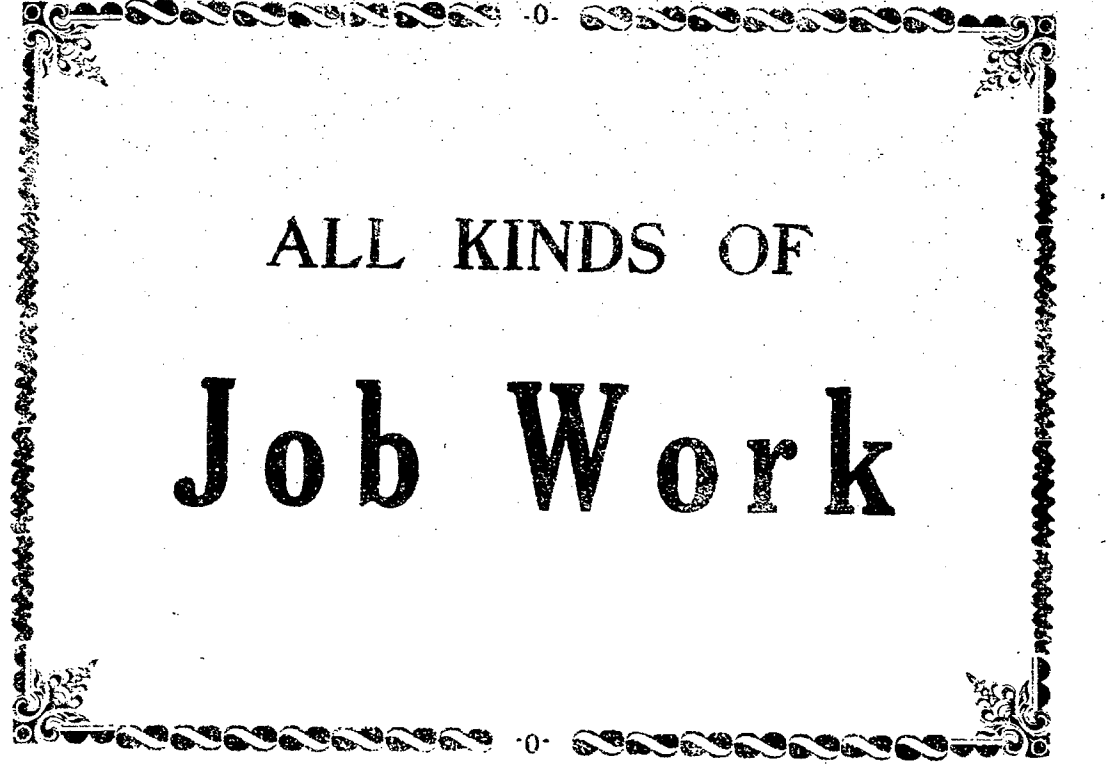

Colonel Osborne has never appeared before Congress to urge them to appropriate money for his department. "Put the office on a business basis," has been his motto in his weekly "cabinet meetings" with his chiefs. It has been done.

More than this, Congress has, without solicitation by any one at the treasury department, raised the salary of the commissioner. Only a few days ago the house voluntarily raised the commissioner of internal revenue's salary. It is said the increase is very substantial.

Few people besides Mr. Heflin call the organization to disturb Congress a conspiracy. Most of them refer to it as the Republican party.—Greensboro News.

The newspapers report that London is scandalized over the scantiness of the costumes worn at a charity ball to raise a fund for an institution for the blind. It might have been for the benefit of the blind, but we venture that the blind were far from being most interested.—Greensboro News.
