Normal Girls to Meet.

The State Normal College Alumnae Association will meet in the auditorium of the Graham Graded School on Monday afternoon, July 30, at four o'clock.

Every Normal girl in Alamance County is urged to be present at this meeting.

If you have not paid your Association fees of $1.00, please make special effort to pay it to Miss Julia Holt, secretary and treasurer, before the 20th. We are trying to raise our pledge for the McIver Loan Fund.

The City of Greensboro has had to pay out $60 for damages done by a runaway waterwagon. Virginia anti-prohibition editors take notice.—The Greensboro News. Did the driver get hurt bad when he fell from the above-described conveyance?

MISS BUCK ENTERTAINS

Very Novel Entertainment

On Friday evening, July 10th, Miss Helen Buck entertained at her home on Means street in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. W. Dameron. The party was a novel affair and was enjoyed by twenty-four invited guests.

The company arrived at eight-thirty, attired in traveling clothes and carrying traveling paraphernalia, consisting of suit cases, grips, umbrellas, hat-boxes, bird-cages and the like. Soon after their arrival the train whistle blew, and as bells were ringing, they entered the hall en masse to purchase their tickets at the ticket window with money provided for them by the hostess.

They were ushered into the parlor which was equipped as a coach, the chairs being arranged accordingly, and the walls bare, save for Railroad Maps and calendars.

Mr. John Lasley, the conductor, appeared most dignified in his uniform, and kept the guests constantly in order. Mr. Summie Sharpe played his role as train boy (train butch) most interestingly as he sold papers, magazines, candy, peanuts and pop to the guests as they journeyed.

The many stops were made at only those places Mr. and Mrs. Dameron had visited on their bridal trip, and when the train stopped at the various points of interest, the guests were provided with appropriate amusement. At Washington City they visited a most unique art gallery, at Philadelphia, they visited the Zoo, at which time they tore animal out of papers, and tried to duplicate their natural calls; at New York City, they left the coach, and were directed to Coney Island, which proved to be a trip around the house where Miss G. Marshall Buck and Summie Sharpe served "Coney Island Refreshments," consisting of Coney Island red hot, all kinds of fruits, candy, salted peanuts, watermelon, ice cream cones and pink lemonade. The booth was beautifully decorated in tapestries, crepe paper, flags, etc., and with the many electric illuminations the yards appeared an imitation on a small scale.

Walker Height.

Mr. Charles A. Walker, of this city, and Miss Eva Height, of Greensboro, were married Sunday morning at 11:10 o'clock at the home of Rev. H. E. Fountree, pastor of the Christian Church. A large number of friends attended the wedding.

Miss Height is well known in our town having been milliner for Whiteley Bros., for several seasons and made many friends while here.

Those who attended the ceremony from here were: Miss Ruth Browning, Messrs. Clyde Hornaday, Gen. May, George Isley, Dr. Hornaday and Miss Ruth Dameron, of Durham.

The New York Sun is calling for a limitation of the Presidential service to one term. That is a matter that must await the slow process of constitutional amendment, but the Sun, in the absence of the recall, would like to have it now.—Greensboro News.

EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETS

Buy's New Concert Piano

Eion College, July 11.—The Executive Board of Trustees consisting of Messrs. Kemp B and J. Paul Johnson, of Cardenas; Dr. R. M. Morrow, of Burlington; Dr. J. W. Wellons and Dr. C. S. Watson, of the Hill, with President Harper, ex-officio, held a called session last evening at which routine matters were discussed. It was decided to purchase a concert grand piano and to install it at once. The college Music Department has grown to such proportions that this instrument seemed a necessity. The board voted to accept the magnificent instrument made by a well known Chicago manufacturer, an exact reproduction of the concert grand used in her recent American engagements by Miss Myrtle Elvyn. Miss Elvyn used this type of instrument in her performance last winter before Kaiser Wilhelm and Kaiserin August and several others of the royal family of Germany. The instrument is to be placed in the college auditorium where the recitals of the music department are always given.

The mid-vacation number of the College Bulletin is just from the press. It contains 24 half-tone views of the college, depicting its life and spirit from the organization and departmental standpoints. There are 10 contributed articles of more merit— one being Dr. Tagg's baccalaureate sermon before the class of 1914 and the other a newspaper impressionistic "scoop" of the college as the intellectual center of Alamance county, written by "The stroller, the student" of Mr. J. O. Barrett, which article appeared in the "Forward Edition" of The Burlington News. President Harper contributes two articles, entitled "The Making of Men," and "The Contributions of College Life." The most remarkable item of this number however is Marshall A. Hudson's monogram in his own handwriting on the Eion spirit, written in appreciation of what he discovered to be during a recent visit. It will be a delight for Baracas and Philathen, everywhere to read this message from their founder.

Mr. M. E. Winston, former general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for Tennessee and at this time financial secretary of the Blue Ridge Religious Summer Conferences, has been elected publisher.

Christian Convention. He has accepted and will have his office located in the publishing house here. He is to enter upon his duties September 10.

Prayer Meeting Wednesday Night.

The Democrats of the Senate might agree to one or two business men on the reserve board and then have enough politicians to prevent them doing anything.—Durham Herald.

REFORM OF SPELLING

No Radical Change Necessary

Chapel Hill, July 13.—It takes the average Italian child 1,200 hours to learn to spell; the German child 1,300 hours; an American child 2,300 hours. Dr. M. E. Fulton, Professor of English at Davidson College, and speaker from the Simplified Spelling Board of New York, gives the above figures as his chief reason for advocating simplified spelling. He addressed the Summer School Saturday night on the above subject. The chaotic and illogical rules of spelling so bewilder the child that it takes it twice too much time to learn the fundamentals of education. Dr. Fulton stated that the Board proposed 300 logical changes in spelling, and that they are working for a reform in spelling and not a reform of spelling, and that opposition to this move is more prejudice and inertia of custom. Already thirty colleges and nine state legislatures have endorsed the move, and such publications as Current Opinion, Literary Digest, and The Independent, use the simplified words. No radical changes are made. Typical changes are then for through, doubt for doudt, discuss for discussed, dread for drend, telephone for telephone, program for programme, and catalog for catalogue. The principle is to drop the useless silent letters.

Dr. F. P. Venable, who was compelled by poor health to resign from the presidency of the University this spring, addressed the teachers Friday night on the subject, "The Upbuilding of a Nation." He discussed the recent wonderful growth of Germany. Dr. Venable attended a German University thirty years ago and was in several classes with the present Kaiser of Germany. He spent the past year in the Empire and the wonderful changes impressed him greatly. He said: "The reason for the wonderful growth of Germany is due to the fact that she has had one great man and one thing he has unfailingly used as the teacher. When he meets a problem to be solved he sends for his teachers." There are practically no differences in Germany. She undoubtedly has the best school system in the world.

Prof. E. L. Starr, English teacher in Salem College, said in a lecture last Wednesday on "Dinner; No. 1. Carolina's first Man of Letters," that this state is decidedly not a literary state. If it were it would be impossible for it to have allowed Northern funds to move Boner's body to its present resting place in Salem. He charged the people of the State with neglect of the work of the authors of the State. In spite of this neglect it is the opinion of Mr. Starr that the author of "Poet's Cottage at Fordham," are "We Walked Among the Whispering Pines" is sure to survive.

Domestic Science, a new course for the Summer School, has been started under the direction of Mrs. J. S. Cunningham, of Durham, who was at one time Government Demonstrator in the Department of Agriculture. This course will run for three weeks and will include actual preparation of staple dishes and lectures on the theory of cooking. About 75 are in the class.

The Summer School is rapidly becoming the largest in the South. The registration has reached 579 and is still growing. Last year the number was exactly 500. Two years ago the total was 463. Each year for some time has seen a larger number than ever before. Probably four-fifths of the enrollment are women.

KIDNAPPED GIRL CAUGHT

Pair Held in Lexington

Raleigh, July 13.—Mrs. Charles Ross, of Lillington, attorney for Mr. W. H. W. Holder, of Harnett county, whose daughter, Nettie, 12 years of age, left home with I. M. Petty, Sunday, July 5, and who has not been heard of since was in Raleigh yesterday and states that the parents will probably request the governor to offer a reward for the apprehension of Petty.

Mr. Holder, the father, has just received word that a couple answering the description of the two were seen in Wilmington the latter part of the week. But an attempt to trace them has failed.

Petty, according to the story of Mr. Ross, was a widower of 50 or 60 years. He has been an itinerant music teacher in Harnett county for a number of years. He has been engaged as a music teacher for Nettie Holder for the past three years. He represented to the family that Nettie had unusual music talent. He appeared to be a firm friend of the family, even asserting that as soon as he had put through a large lumber deal he was then working on, he intended to do something for the girl to better her advantages. He had frequently asked the mother of the little girl to let her go with him on trips for a day's length. Occasionally she had permitted this. There had been nothing to arouse suspicion in the conduct of the man. On last Sunday Nettie, who plays the organ at the country church, left the church after services in the buggy with Petty. She was seen later in the afternoon in the same buggy. The parents were not uneasy when she did not return at night, since she had been in the habit of going to a relative's home for the night occasionally without announcing such an intention. Her failure to return on the next day brought inquiries and the result was the discovery that she had not been seen in that part of the country since Sunday afternoon, when she was in the buggy with Petty.

Every effort was used by the parents to locate the couple. Mr. Ross was retained as lawyer and he is conducting the search. It was thought that Petty might have gone to Fayetteville. But he had not been located there yesterday. The search will continue.

LATER REPORT.

This morning's Greensboro News gives the information that the pair were caught in Lexington yesterday. Chief of Police W. F. Thomason has been held for information from Tarboro.

Uncalled for Letters.

Ladies: Mrs. Lula Covington, Miss Estelle Shepard.

Persons calling for any of these letters will please say "Advertised" and give date of advertised list.

TWO WOMEN ARE MISSING

The Atlanta Women Who Disappeared at New Orleans Have So Far Covered Tracks.

No Clew to Whereabouts

Atlanta, Ga., July 10.—Information was still lacking here tonight as to the whereabouts of Mrs. Eloise Nelms Dennis believed to have signed a letter received here saying that she had murdered her sister in New Orleans, was preparing to kill her brother in San Francisco and then would commit suicide.

Police officials in San Francisco, New Orleans and Houston, Dallas and San Antonio, Tex., where Mrs. Dennis and her sister, Miss Beatrice Nelms, planned to visit failed to find any trace of them.

Mrs. John W. Nelms, mother of the missing woman and recipient of the mystery letter, continued to believe that her daughters were the victims of a conspiracy. She had a draft for $1,500 cashed in New Orleans on June 13, after their departure from here the proceeds of which were to be used in completing Mexican investments made by Mrs. Dennis.

Warrants Issued For Grand Arson.

Greensboro, July 11.—Mrs. Mabel Thompson, a well known young woman of this city, is under guard at St. Leo's Hospital charged with arson, and as soon as she recovers from suffocation, caused by fire in her room early this morning, warrants will be served on her.

The Benbow building, in which the fire was discovered, is occupied as apartments, and the charge against her is a capital felony under State law.

When the firemen reached the building this morning they found Mrs. Thompson lying unconscious on the floor of her room. The bed clothing, window curtains and clothing hanging on the walls of the room were all fire. Due to the prompt discovery of the fire the results would have been terrible.

Deputy Fire Insurance Commissioner Seale was here and began an investigation that resulted in the issuing of warrants for Mrs. Thompson's detention. Whether she was intoxicated or had a grudge against her neighbors as a cause for her action is not known.

Advantages of the Parcels Post.

The Parcels Post is now in this section and the people really know very little about it, and have not tried it sufficiently to appreciate its value and convenience.

We believe that as its value and convenience are seen that it will be used more and more. In fact the day is coming when the busy farmer will send his eggs, his butter and produce to market by Parcels Post, while he and his team will go on with the work on the farm. The saving in his time and that of his team will be much greater than the cost of sending by the old system.

The merchants of this town will find that the system will be of great value to them. In this county we have telephones, almost throughout the county. It has been the custom for the farmer living many miles from town, if he wants an article to hitch up a team and come or send after the article. To-day he can call up the merchant and tell him his wants and within a few hours the mail carrier will deliver the article at his door.

The Parcels Post is a wonderful convenience that has not yet been appreciated by our people, and when its convenience is appreciated it will be used more.

The International Sunday School Lesson for Next Sunday, July 19, 1914.

BLIND BARTIMAEUS.
MARK 10:46-52.
46 And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the highway side begging.
47 And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.
48 And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me.
49 And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they called the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee.
50 And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.
51 And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight.
52 And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

GOLDEN TEXT.
"Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing." (Isa. 35:5-6.)

GIVING SIGHT TO THE BLIND MAN.
The city of Jericho was a rich and important center of trade, situated in the valley of the Jordan about five miles north of the Dead Sea. It was on a highway of commerce between the Mesopotamian countries and the valley of the Nile and therefore brought within its borders men of all classes. A commercial center always presents a cosmopolitan population, combining the best and the worst in the business, intellectual, and moral world. Jericho had its proportion of successes and failures, rich and poor, respectable and outcast. The city is very frequently mentioned in both the Old and the New Testament, and was the home of Jew and Gentile. So far as the public record gives us information, Jesus was in Jericho only once during his public ministry, although he mentions the city in one of his parables. On his brief visit, however, he put upon the Gospel roll the names of Zacchaeus and Bartimaeus, a publican and a beggar, both of whom he blessed with his kindness and love.

THE NEEDS OF THE BLIND MAN.
It is worthy of special notice that in Mark's Gospel the thought which introduces the story of blind Bartimaeus is in the words of Jesus: "Whoever will be great among you, shall be your minister: and whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all. For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many." The incident in the lives of the disciples that called forth these words might lead us to suppose that they would be eager to act upon the principle contained in these wonderful words. But not so eager were they to imitate the Master's spirit, and it is not certain that we are pupils more apt in the Master's school of service. The lesson is better learned by the power of a great example, the contagion of a great personality. By the highway, over which passed warrior, merchant, and pilgrim, sat a famous beggar. His father was doubtless well known, since his name is mentioned along with that of the afflicted son, and his constant appeals for help were heard at the place of greatest advantage. There was nothing for a blind man to do but to beg for a living, and the religious life of the day had nothing better to offer him than a pittance of money and food cast to him by his more fortunate fellow men. The problem before him was to gain his daily bread, and this he did by crying loudly and piteously enough to make passers-by hear him.

No one thought a poor blind man desired anything more than enough food to live on, and the passing throng was content to help feed him, if, indeed, any attention was given him at all.

THE HUNGER OF THE SOUL.
If it is only food that man wants, it is as well to be blind as to have good eyes, for even a blind beggar can live. But it is as true of the blind as of the seeing that "man does not live by bread alone." No one had ever suspected the truth about Bartimaeus, but deep in his heart he desired something more than the feeding of his body. He felt a great longing and a calling for light, even if it was to be had at the cost of the coins and crusts that people threw him. Who would really suppose that even a blind man would be fully satisfied with a favored place of begging?
When Bartimaeus heard one day that Jesus of Nazareth was passing by he threw out the almost frantic yearning of his soul in one long, eager, piteous cry for mercy. Not for crumbs and pennies did he plead, but for mercy suited his case better than anything else. A man is made up of soul hunger, not body hunger. Bartimaeus was unfortunate, not unhuman, and the blessings that made life sweet and joyous to the shouting multitude passing on the highway were just as desirable and imperative in his own soul. We are prepared, therefore, to appreciate the words which he began and continued to cry out: Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me."

When we understand what the real hunger of human life is we do not marvel at the insistent cry of the blind man. Nor are we greatly surprised that the multitude thought his plea for mercy an intrusion, for every man is prone to think that his deepest wants are peculiar to himself. But it is disappointing to find the disciples entering into the conspiracy to silence the blind man's request, for only a short time before Jesus had said to them, "Be servants of all men," "I am the minister of every man," "I am the ransom of the many." These words had silenced their ambition, but they had not learned their meaning of love. The disciples doubtless had a new idea of life, but they had no practice in loving the unfortunate. They were as ready to check the blind man's plea as the most ignorant in the multitude. Their attitude toward a man crying for light was just the same as that of a stranger who had never seen the sweet courtesy of the Master's love. But, being associates of the Master, there was strong hope that their spirit would one day be transformed into the likeness of their Lord.

A WORK OF HEALING.
Above the tumult of shouting and singing Jesus hears these penetrating words: "Thou Son of David, have mercy on me." Louder than the praise of angels and redeemed spirits is the prayer of a troubled soul for mercy. To gain access to the high court of heaven nothing more is needed than to cry "mercy." Jesus has an ear peculiarly sensitive to the plea of a troubled heart. He stood still and commanded the blind man to be called into his presence, and they called him. Those who a moment before chided the blind man for his persistence now rush to him with the glad message: "Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee." In the presence of the Lord of light and of life the blind man confessed his one great, all-embracing desire: "Lord, that I might receive my sight." His faith saved him. Who can doubt that a more profound blessing than eyesight came to him through his faith? He was made whole, and he followed Jesus with a soul full of light.

MAGAZINE MEN ARE ARRESTED.

San Francisco, Cal., July 10.—Warrants for the arrest of Charles K. Field, editor of the Sunset Magazine; Robert J. Fowler, an aviator; Riley A. Scott, a writer; and Ray S. Duhon, a photographer, were issued today at the request of John W. Preston, U. S. Attorney here. The charge against them all four is the disclosure of military secrets. The penalty is 10 years imprisonment or a fine of $10,000 for such disclosure if made abroad and one year, or a $1,000 fine if made in the United States.

In April The Sunset published an article entitled "Can the Panama Canal be Destroyed from the Air." Reproductions of photographs taken from an aeroplane and showing some of the fortifications of the Canal Zone and of the San Francisco Presidio accompanied the text. As soon as a copy of the number was called to the attention of the War Department it requested Preston to investigate.

STATUTE PLAINLY FORBIDS.
Mr. Field's defense today was that the photographs showed no actual fortifications, only preliminary work for a fort. To this Mr. Preston replied: "By the act of March 3, 1911, Congress made it a violation of a plain statute for a civilian to take or publish photographs of any fortification construction."

Field, Fowler, Duhon and Scott were served with the warrants and taken before United States Commissioner Francis Krull. They were released on their own recognizance.

At a special session of the grand jury tomorrow, the government will present its evidence and ask for indictments.

EDITORIAL OBJECTED TO.
The editorial comment of the magazine on one of the photographs against which the War Department particularly complained, was as follows:
"This is one of the most significant photographs ever published in this country. Below the aeroplane from which the picture was taken lie the Naos Islands, in the Bay of Panama, in which the United States government is mounting batteries of the heaviest artillery in the world to protect the Pacific approach to the Panama Canal."

"On the island, almost directly under the aeroplane, can be seen the emplacement for the most powerful weapon ever constructed, the first 16-inch disappearing gun, which has an effective range of about twelve miles. "Here is the significance of the photograph: The aeroplane might have come in time of war from a battleship out of range of the big gun, flying a safe height and carrying five hundred pounds of high explosive instead of a camera. Would not a big gun be helpless against such a foe?"

The editor described the circumstances under which the photograph was taken and who took it, adding: "Shortly afterwards President Wilson issued an executive order forbidding such flights under heavy penalty. The photographs made on this flight probably are the only pictures that ever will be taken of the canal from the air, except for purposes of war."

No recent death in North Carolina has caused as much newspaper comment as that of Major Watlington, who died just a week ago. Papers all over the State knew him and liked him, and he probably knew more newspaper men and politicians than any other North Carolinian. Yet he was stricken ill in a county court house where he sought refuge, and died a day later. Only three white men were present at his funeral, the good minister of the gospel who had charge of the religious rite, the kind-hearted undertaker who did his services gratis, and a brave Confederate Veteran.—Durham Sun.

Weak Kidneys Often the Result of Overwork.
On several occasions I have been unable to work and suffered severe pains in the back, due to my kidneys. I called on a doctor of Ripon, Wis., but received no relief.
I tried Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which gave me instant relief. I was then able to resume work. Swamp-Root is the only relief I can get from kidney disease which I am subject to in the spring of the year. I am writing this testimonial through my own free will that sufferers of kidney and bladder diseases will know of the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root. I recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root whenever I can and always have a bottle of Swamp-Root in my house.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS J. LYNCH,
225 Newberry Street, Ripon, Wis.

I have read the above statement that Thomas J. Lynch bought Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root at my store and made oath the above statement is true in substance and fact.

Another Death Results from Bubonic Plague.
New Orleans, July 10.—Following the death here today from Bubonic Plague of Leon DeJean, aged 28, a negro, health authorities began an investigation to ascertain if a new focus of infection exists. Although DeJean resided three miles from the Industrial Home of the Volunteers of America, where two cases of plague were discovered, he was employed at a produce house well within the zone first placed under strict quarantine regulations. Dr. William C. Rucker, assistant surgeon general of the Public Health Service, who is in charge of plague eradication work here, stated tonight that he could not determine the existence of a new focus of infection until epidemiological studies had been made.

DeJean was placed under observation in an isolation hospital on July 5, but his malady was not confirmed as plague until today, following bacteriological tests. Two negroes and one white man have died from plague since the contagion was discovered here on June 27. W. W. Wilkinsor, a white man, is recovering. No other cases have been reported.

If it would be a paying proposition for the federal government to build good roads through North Carolina it would pay us to do it ourselves.—Durham Herald.

MR. SHARPE TELLS OF HIS TRAVELS.

Trip Through Marble Quarries in the State of Vermont and Many Other Interesting Places.

We doubt if there is any more desirable place on the continent to spend a summer vacation than in the green mountains of Vermont. After two long years of hard toil without a vacation, we find ourselves on a business and pleasure trip among the Green Mountains, of Vermont, and entertained by the officers and their wives, of one of the strongest concerns in the world, the Vermont Marble Co.

We hear very little of this business down here, but those who do not feel interested, would become interested, with a visit to their plant. The main office is at Proctor, Vermont, in the heart of the Green Mountain district with quarry possessions covering a area of several counties. The town of Proctor being made up entirely of the employes of the company. We were told that there was not a single family living in the town of 15,000 population except those connected with the business of the marble company, which business employs 4,800 men. The town has all modern conveniences at the expense of the company, together with hospital which gives free treatment to their employes and a splendid Y. M. C. A. built of marble. In fact they use marble there where we use brick and wood.

The white marble drives and waxes laid with marble slabs winding around through the mountains bring you in view of the well kept homes, scarcely in view of more than one or two at a time.

The company operates 480 gangs of saws night and day. The lumber required to box their annual output for shipment amounts to three million feet. 600 cubic yards of sand is used daily in the sawing of the marble. They have ten shifting engines for handling their own cars together with 500 horses. They also have a number of the largest traveling cranes ever built. They keep a dozen automobiles for their use and the entertainment of their visitors.

We were down in one of the quarries 550 feet below the entrance, following this quarry for a half mile you come out at another opening on the off side of the mountain.

The company has offices and stock yards in all the large cities in the United States. If we could, we would tell you about that exhilarating atmosphere found there in June and October. This is of note the world over, and one will have to go there and breathe it to appreciate it.

On leaving Proctor we went via Lake Champlain to Montreal and from there up the St. Lawrence, through Thousand Islands and Lake Ontario to Toronto. From Montreal to Toronto by boat is 450 miles, or 24 hours run. Then, leaving Toronto it is 60 miles southward across Lake Ontario to Lewiston, N. Y., where the boat lands and you take a trolley car up to the falls. In the Niagara Falls literature we read that one tenth of the electric power generated in the United States was made here at the falls.

When you leave the falls, don't fail to return to Buffalo and there take the Black Diamond Express over the Lehigh Valley route to New York or Philadelphia. This is said to be the best train in the country, making 450 miles in ten hours through Alleghany mountains.

We would not close without saying that we were not only royally entertained while at Proctor, but we were met at Washington by a representative of the Philadelphia branch of the Vermont Marble Company, and his friends accompanied us all the way around and back to Philadelphia, together with a side trip to Atlantic City, where you meet life at its height. After fifteen days we returned home, to the best town of them all—Durham.

NASH AND UPCHURCH FOR THE STATE SENATE.

The Democrats of This Senatorial District Met in Hillsboro Last Saturday.

Hillsboro, July 11.—The Democratic Convention of the 18th Senatorial District of North Carolina, composed of Alamance, Caswell, Durham and Orange Counties, was held here today with all of the counties represented except Durham.

The Caswell delegation, which secured one of the nominations, was composed of Messrs. R. A. Mitchell, A. Y. Carr, J. A. Massey and Arthur Findley.

Dr. R. A. Freeman, of Burlington, was made chairman and called the convention to order at 12:30 p. m.

Mr. Joseph Harris, secretary of the senatorial district committee acted as secretary and also presented the name of Mr. Frank Nash, of Orange county, for nomination as one of the two senators from this district.

Mr. Arthur Findley presented the name of Mr. E. F. Upchurch, of Yanceyville, for nomination as the other senator of the district. Both were nominated without opposition. Mr. Nash is well known throughout the district. Mr. Upchurch is a promising young man who came originally from Wake county and was most earnestly supported by the delegates from Caswell county.

The following committee was selected for this senatorial district: Messrs. Freeman, of Alamance; R. L. Mitchell, of Caswell; R. O. Everett, of Durham, and Joseph A. Harris, of Yancey.

Who Is Getting the Money.

It is among people who are either your customers or would like to be.

The dealers who are alert to let the public know they have these goods, who display them in their windows, who advertise the fact bring this business their way.

And more important than making sales is the fact that these dealers are also making customers.

They are adding to their asset of good will.

"Nobody can get any water by breaking up a chunk of ice with an ax, not a drop; you have got to thaw it out gradual, just like men's and women's prejudices."

Quick-Witted Youth Saves Life of Child.

Tarboro, July 12.—The quick wittedness of the youth today was demonstrated here on the street one afternoon last week when Carl Rosenbaum, soda dispenser for MacNair's drug store, made a flying prag and barely saved a little girl from being run over by a runaway horse attached to a wagon. Mr. Rosenbaum was standing on the corner of Main and Church streets and the little girl was riding down town when all at once he saw the horse almost upon the child. Without losing a second he jumped for the child and dragged her, with her wheel to safety, just as the wagon flew past, barely escaping being run down himself. But for his prompt action and ready wit the little girl would have undoubtedly been seriously, if not fatally hurt.

A queer coincidence was the fact that the runaway horse was blind and the driver a negro man, was totally deaf. It appears that the horse became frightened at something which he could not see and which the driver could not hear and bolted down the street wach to the surprise of the dusky Jehu. The wagon struck a post before it had gone far and the driver was precipitated to the street and bruised up somewhat, but not seriously injured. The horse and wagon continued up the street for about another block and came to grief when the horse attempted to negotiate a turn and ran into some trees, tearing the wagon apart in several places. The horse was not hurt.

If the Senate is not careful it will overdo the thing in the matter of swatting their ists.

Sign of the Politico-Business Times.

Indicative of how many business men feel are the explanations given by President W. R. Janeway, of Janeway & Co., New Brunswick, N. J., the oldest wall paper manufacturing concern in the United States, of the corporation's purpose to quit. Janeway & Co., have done a prosperous and growing business since 1844. They have survived all sorts of ups and downs, including complete destruction by fire, when two Pennsylvania Railroad oil tanks exploded at their door 30 years ago. They hold as good an opinion as ever of the country's economic strength and greatness. They are not afraid of competition, although they find it tending to become severe. Mr. Janeway blames "foolish legislation," business uncertainty and resulting hazards and expenses. Ready to retire at little past 60 years of age because of these conditions, he "could easily have sold the business to other parties who would carry it on were it not for the fact that legislation is such that men do not feel justified in investing money in a new venture now." What deters him from continuing deters them from taking hold. He lays special stress upon the pending legislation which not only recognizes the freedom now accorded labor unions to make the manufacturers' burdens as onerous as they can but especially licenses the methods employed by them on a scale which may be countrywide to destroy any vulnerable manufacturer who falls under their ban. On the other hand, he complains "ever now the very moment the manufacturers make the least move toward cooperation, and making a profit that would benefit them and would not injure the public at all, they are threatened with fine and imprisonment." The prospect of having such conditions rendered inoperative is too much for him.

This public expression by Mr. Janeway comes parallel with an announcement that the House of Representatives, after having voted the labor union exemption parts of the Clayton bill, will again specifically exempt manufacturers from the preparation for law a few months back in the same civil bill. It is interesting to note that President Wilson's personal opinion last year was that he would have voted for the exemption of the manufacturer as an essential part of the bill. It is for the fact that he was rather timid at his own words. Several times Mr. Janeway is by far the only one in the Senate who is in the act of tempering the law that leads to the much-worried business man. We trust that the more precise definition of the anti-trust laws, letting him know just what he may or may not do lawfully, will afford ample compensation for any new restrictions. President Wilson's attitude is very far from being one of protection to the struggling and hard-pressed business man. He is strongly and loudly believing that the sooner business gets pulling with the new taxes the better it will prove for everybody. A change of the present restrictions upon "business" too many writers overlook the fact that in most cases they restrict it by seeking to ensure thousands of business men protection against it. The chief difficulty at present, as we said yesterday, is the continuous succession of important measures affecting business. It is primarily the resulting unsettledness and hesitation which cause numbers of reasonable business men to feel as Mr. Janeway does—a feeling not much lessened for immediate purposes by the fact that tariff revision was moderate and that currency reform will come to American business men as perhaps the greatest boon then have ever had. Hence our earnest hope that President Wilson will rest on his laurels, after the pending trust bills have become law.—Charlotte Observer.

APPLY DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES TO POLITICS.

President Wilson Thrills Huge Crowd in Independence Square in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, July 4.—Advocating and moderating of the Declaration of Independence by applying its principles to the business, the politics and the foreign policies of America, President Wilson today thrilled a huge crowd assembled in Independence square within a few feet of where the original declaration was signed. The President touched on Mexico, the Panama Tolls Repeal controversy, his anti-trust program, business conditions and his ideals of modern patriotism. Pounding his fist on the table on which the Declaration of Independence was signed, he declared Americans today must manage their affairs in a way to do honor to the founders of the nation. There are men in Washington today declared he whose patriotism is not shown, but who accomplish great patriotic things. They are staying in Washington doing their duty, keeping a quorum in each House of Congress to do business. "And I am mighty glad to stay there and stick by them," he added.

Touching on business conditions of the country, President Wilson said a great many allegations of facts were being made, but that a great many of these facts do not tally with each other.

"Are these men trying to serve their country or something smaller than their country?" the President asked. "If they love America and there is anything wrong it is their business to put their hands to the task and set it right."

TOUCHES ON MEXICO.

Eighty-five per cent. of the Mexican people, the President said, in both Mexico and the United States, never have had a right to have a "kick in" on their government, while the other 15 per cent. were rendering it.

"Now the American people have a heart that beats for them just as it beats for other millions," Mr. Wilson continued. "I have a great deal about the property loss in Mexico and I regret that with all my heart, no man of it all is a struggling in watching the people. Let us not forget that we are in watching what is going on in Mexico."

"I would be ashamed of the flag if we did anything outside of this country which we would not do in it," the President declared.

Speaking on Panama tolls, the President said the treaty with England should be a mistake, but its repeal should be a mistake, and he believed in keeping the nation's flag in the United States unquestioned and undivided.

When the President got his speech well under way the crowd surged forward in such confusion that a panic was threatened. Two companies of marines and sailors stood before the speaker's stand and the President was forced to stop several times but finally got the crowd under control.

True Christianity, a Religion of Joy.

Rev. W. O. Goods, pastor of Spring Garden Methodist church, preached last night on the influence of the Holy Spirit on men. The men first filled with the spirit went forth into the world and he acceptance of their messages was followed by joy. True Christianity, said the speaker, is a religion of gladness.

In part he spoke as follows: "Immediately following the resurrection of Jesus Christ this wonderful pentecostal blessing falls upon the church. He said, 'They will kill me, but on the third day I will rise again.' Death could not hold Him. Can you stop an earthquake? By placing your hand over the mouth of a burning volcano could you stop it? You could easier than the grave hold the son of God. Ours is an historical religion, first the incarnation, then the life, the death, the resurrection, and ascension of Jesus Christ. When Christ finished His work on earth He returned to the Father. The Holy Spirit then came to be His personal representative.

"Let us notice some results that follow. Those who were about to receive His were able to get all barriers out of the way. He delayed His coming until this was done. Then, 'they were all filled with the spirit.' Accompanying His coming were some striking symbols, 'mighty wind'—tongue-like flames. The wind and tongues of fire were more incidents—they were but the trailing clouds of His glory. He got an expression in the world of sense, but in its innermost essence it was a spiritual transaction. For He comes to administer a finished redemption.

"Another result is that He gave both intellectual and spiritual illumination—a most striking example is seen in the experience of the Apostle Peter, before his Lord's death and after His resurrection. Before the cross Peter is continually misunderstanding the Christ—but after the resurrection and Pentecost, he can no longer doubt, because his mind and soul is now flooded with heavenly wisdom and light. He immediately becomes a preacher of marvelous power.

"Then we notice how easy it was for Peter to help those who were deeply convicted. He could now preach to them a great gospel deliverance. He said to them, 'Repent and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.' For the promise is unto you and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call."

"Not only did the Holy Spirit illuminate man's mind. He brought also a moral regeneration. 1st, preaching; 2d, contribution of money; 3rd, institution of Lord's Supper; 4th, prayer.

True Christianity is a religion of gladness. These spirit-filled men went everywhere preaching the good news—and in every city where they preached, there was great joy.—Greensboro News of Monday.

It seems to us that if there is any profit to be derived from building up a merchant marine to extend our foreign trade some one would have taken hold of the proposition and if it cannot be made to pay the government had best let it alone.—Durham Herald.

CONFESSES KILLING HUSBAND.

Tarboro, July 9.—"I am going to tell the whole truth about the matter. I killed my husband because he had made life unbearable for me by constantly accusing me of infidelity.

"I am sorry I did not say this at first, but I was afraid and felt that I was alone in the world without a friend to whom I could turn."

The foregoing statement was made by pretty Mrs. Elizabeth Early Johnson to your correspondent this afternoon at the conclusion of a three-hours' interview with her in which every phase of the case was discussed. The interview took place in her cell in the county jail at Williamston and the confession was the first one made by the woman who on Saturday night, July 4, according to today's confession, killed her husband as they were riding along the road on their way to church in Martin county.

STUCK TO FIRST STORY TWO HOURS.

Up to this time the officers had been at a loss to find a motive for the crime. For two hours Mrs. Johnson, who is about 22 years old, and an extremely pretty blonde, stoutly maintained that an unknown man killed her husband and told a well connected story of how it took place. During this recital she showed very little emotion though stated that she was grieved at the death of her husband.

CONFESSES EVERYTHING.

As soon as she stated she would confess everything, Sheriff J. C. Crawford, of Martin County, was called into the room and listened to her story. The main fact as she stated there is about as follows:

"Since I have been married I have parted from my husband three times and on each occasion went to live with my mother. After each separation he came to me and begged me to again live with him and I consented.

"VERY SUSPICIOUS."

"He was very suspicious and constantly accused me of being too familiar with other men in particular his brother, Arch Johnson, who for some time lived in the same home with us. Several times lately he has said that he would kill me the first time he saw me with any man other than himself. I was afraid that he would carry this threat into execution.

FINDS PISTOL IN BUREAU.

"Saturday afternoon I looked into one of the drawers of his bureau and found there a pistol. The same afternoon later he said he was going to take me to church and told me to get ready. I was dressed in a black skirt and white shirtwaist that buttoned up the back. I took the pistol and wrapped it up in the shawl which was around my baby and carried it in my arms. As soon as we left home he started talking about me and I stood it until I thought I had rather be dead than to live like I was doing. My husband was slightly stoopshouldered and was leaning forward in left arm and unwrapped the pistol with my right hand and held it close to the side of his head and pulled the trigger. The explosion frightened the horse and awoke the baby who began to scream. My husband fell to the road and the horse started running and was stopped at the church and then I told some people that somebody had

TRIED TO BE A GOOD WIFE.

"I went with my sister to her home from church and remained there until next morning when I appeared before the coroner and was released. After that I went to my mother's home near Speen and stayed until Sheriff Crawford and Deputy Thomas came and arrested me. Mr. Crawford then took me to Oak City where I was bound over to the Superior court and then he brought me to this place. He had been very kind to me and I think he is a clever gentleman. I always tried to be a good wife to my husband but it was impossible to live with him in peace.

THINKS ONLY OF BABY.

"There were times when I was separated from him that he talked about me worse than a negro and his reference to my infidelity were absolutely untrue. One time he got so mad at me that he attempted to choke me and his brother prevented him from doing it. My baby is fifteen months old and OH I am so sorry for his sake. He is now with my mother and it is awful to be separated from him like this. He is our only child and I suffered deeply when I had to come away and leave him."

SHE IDENTIFIES PISTOL.

It was when she referred to her baby that her great gray eyes filled with tears, though she did not break down. At one time during the confession Sheriff Crawford brought into the room a handbag containing two pistols and when she first one, a Savage Automatic 32-calibre, was shown her she said it was not the one she used. This one was put back and a United States 32-calibre nickel-plated pistol was shown her and she identified it as the one with which she killed her husband, taking it in her hand and examining it closely. She said that she had never seen a prior to the time she saw it Saturday afternoon and said she did not know to whom it belonged. She also stated that no one else was connected with her in the matter and that no one offered her any suggestions.

Following the confession your correspondent and Sheriff Crawford went before Clerk of the Martin County Superior Court Peel and made affidavit that Mrs. Johnson had confessed to killing her husband and that she identified the weapon with which the killing was done.

Several tenants in an apartment house at 85 Grand street, Williamsburg, were in the rear yard the other afternoon when they heard a child's screams. Glancing up, they saw Albert Fritz, 1 year old, fall from the fourth floor fire escape.

Instinctively the women threw up their hands. They caught the child and saved its life. Mrs. Fritz was hysterical, and fell down a flight of stairs in her efforts to reach the yard. The infant had only a few bruises.
