GRAHAM SOCIETY VERY BUSY

Quite a Number Entertain in Honor of Young People Visiting in the Village.

House Guests Enjoying Life

The home of Mrs. Edwin D. Scott was the scene of the most elaborate party of the season when she entertained Wednesday night at a dice-party and dance in honor of her sister and brother, Miss Dorothy and Roscoe Bingham, of August, Ga. The guests were composed entirely of the "younger set" and the occasion was a most delightful one. Misses Marie Goley and Blanche Scott assisted the hostess, serving punch in the dining room, where pink roses and crepe myrtle were in profusion. First the guests were entertained with dice hearts, after which refreshments consisting of ices were served, and after that the big porch was converted into a pavilion and all the new dances were indulged in. Music was furnished by Miss Rebecca Scott and Graham Haroon. Miss Dorothy Brigham delighted the crowd with recitations. A voting contest then took place and Miss Mary Holt Spencer, of Martinsville, Va., was voted the prettiest girl present and presented with a box of correspondent cards. Those invited were: Misses Margaret and Mary Holt Spencer and James Spencer, of Martinsville, Va., Miss Bonna and Ethel Williamson, George Williamson, Williamson and Doc Williamson, of Saxapahaw, Miss May Creighton, of Atlanta, Miss Faucette, of Norfolk, Messrs. Russell and Cecil Gant, of Burlington, Thomas Wharton, of Raleigh, and Allen Mebane, of Greensboro, Walter Holt, of Fayetteville, Misses Lorena Kernodle, Martha Holt, Minnie Long, Helen Simmons, Frances Moore, Michael Holt Kernodle, Herbert Long, Willard Goley, Hank and Steve Simmons, Charles Malone and Graham Harden, of Graham.

Thursday morning Miss Rebecca Scott was hostess to a number of the "younger set" complimentary to Miss May Creighton, of Atlanta. Bridge was played at four tables, after which refreshments consisting of cantaloupe, salads and ices were served.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. J. L. Scott, Jr., entertained at a needle party in honor of Mrs. Post, of Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Gilchrist, of Philadelphia. Salad and ices were served. Those present were: Mesdames C. B. Erwin, Adolph Long, M. R. Rives, J. D. Kernodle, J. Harvey White, C. P. Albright, Frank Moore, J. C. Simmons, J. V. Pomeroy, C. B. Rankin, A. K. Hardee, W. R. Goley, McBride Holt, Edwin D. Scott, Miss Mamie Parker, of Graham, Mrs. Banks Williamson, of Glencoe, J. Mel Thompson, of Mebane.

Friday night Graham Harden gave a street car ride complimentary to his house guests, and a large number of friends enjoyed a trip to Burlington, moving picture shows and refreshments at the drug store. Mrs. Edwin D. Scott and Mrs. Junius H. Harden, another of the hostess, acted as chaperones.

Monday night Miss Naomi Hocutt gave a rook party in honor of her guest, Miss Helen Brown, of Chapel Hill. Ices were served by Mrs. R. L. Holmes. Misses Rebecca Scott and Minnie Long furnished music; also Miss Ruth Thurston, of Burlington. CHARLOTTE OFFICERS SHOT

Authorities on Their Mettle Effect a Speedy Capture of Notorious Gang of Gunmen.

Four Gunmen Are Arrested

Charlotte, July 19.—With the arrest of the four men who fired from ambush upon Assistant Chief Neill Elliott and Officer A. Ban Moore, of the Charlotte Police Force, during the early hours of yesterday morning, seriously and possibly fatally wounding both of them, the confession of all four as to the party they payed in the melee near the intersection of the Seaboard and the Norfolk Southern tracks in Ward One and the removal of the four, all bearing notably bad police records, to Greensboro, for safe keeping pending the determination of the injuries of the wounded officers—all of this constituted one of the busiest days that the Charlotte police has known in years, and following so closely upon the heels of the distressing tragedy in which Fire Chief J. H. Wallace and Fire Captain W. B. Glenn met death in the pursuit of duty, gave the city a shock such as it has seldom before experienced.

ARRESTED RED-HANDED.

Hardly had the city realized that another tragedy had been narrowly averted when it became known that all of the men responsible for the shooting had been arrested, the officers capturing them almost red-handed, for all of them when taken bore the marks of the late obstinate fray in which they had engaged. They were Jim Knotts, Jess Helms, alias Jess Hartis, Will Stamey and Hiram Sikes, all members of a gang of musicians who have been giving the police much trouble during the past several years. Knotts, Stamey and Sikes have all been arrested in the past and sentenced to varying terms for car-breaking and store robbery. Some idea of the character of the men may be gained by the statement that Knotts had served 20 months on the roads since February, 1910, while Stamey, in addition to breaking rock at various times, has served a portion of a term in the United States Federal prison in Atlanta, and was only paroled several months ago on good behavior.

THREE CONFESS.

When arrested yesterday morning in that section of the city near the Highland Park Mill No. 1, Knotts, Sikes and Helms all confessed to their share of the assault. Knotts declaring that Stamey was only a spectator by reason of the fact that he had no gun. Sikes when captured at the home of a Mrs. Mauney, on Caldwell street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, was found with a flesh wound in his right thigh, which explained the blood marks observed on the porch of the vacant house from whence came the fusillade of shots when Assistant Chief Elliott and Officer Ban Moore appeared on the scene in search of the men who had held up Andy James and Haywood McCoy, two colored men.

SPLENDID WORK.

The arrest of the men and the weaving of the strongest sort of chain of evidence against them which resulted in the confession of the two was a splendid piece of detective work and the manner and precision with which the plans of those in authority moved to a successful conclusion was nothing short of marvelous. Within two hours after the shooting, the officers were confident of the fact that

DR. KILGO AT GIBSONVILLE

Preached Dedicatory Sermon in the New Methodist Church Recently Built There.

A Splendid New Structure

Gibsonville, July 19.—The dedicatory sermon at the Gibsonville Methodist Episcopal Church, South, this morning at 11 o'clock by Bishop J. C. Kilgo, of Durham, brought to a close a successful and uplifting conference which has been in session for the past few days.

The sermon by Bishop Kilgo was heard by a large congregation. The whole seating capacity of the church was taxed to its fullest extent.

The text, "Verily, Verily, I say Unto You," was found in the third verse of the third chapter of John.

The sermon was a masterful one, and the bishop made a strong plea for the following of the dogmatic principles in religion and was strong in the emphasis of the fact that salvation does not come through science, but only through Jesus Christ. The central theme of the sermon was based on the necessity of everlasting endurance in the church of Christ.

In the dedicatory ceremony at the close of the sermon, Bishop Kilgo congratulated the members of the church for the splendid building they had erected, and said that while he realized that the splendid work of the little flock had been accomplished with persistent toil and with no little pain that they had come out in the end and built a house for God.

He invoked the blessings of God on the church that it be preserved from injury and desecration, and that the members might be influential in training young men and women for the church.

At the beginning of the service resolutions were read expressing hearty and sincere thanks to the town of Gibsonville for its gracious entertainment of the conference, also to Rev. W. S. Hales, pastor of the church, and his loyal congregation on their success at paying off the church debt and now being ready for the dedication of their splendid new church. To Rev. J. E. Thompson, president of the conference, resolution of thanks were offered and congratulations extended for the successful manner in which he steered the affairs of the conference.

The new church is located in the western part of the village and is a neat brick structure which would do credit to any town. The first efforts in establishing a Methodist Episcopal Church in Gibsonville were begun in October, 1906, by Rev. A. S. Roper, then pastor of the East Greensboro Circuit. It was at this time the first Methodist Episcopal sermon was delivered in Gibsonville with an eye to the establishment of a church. A church was organized there in 1907 by Rev. Mr. Roper, and an old store building was used as a meeting house.

The number of members, though small, set about at once to raise funds to build a church and have worked faithfully from then till the past week when the last cent of the debt on the new church was provided for with individual notes. The new church has cost a total of approximately $5,500.

The pastor, Rev. W. S. Hales, and his congregation spared no pains in the raising of the money in order to have the debt paid by the meeting of the conference during the past week.

No little credit is due Rev. S. T. Barbour, who was the pastor in charge in 1911 and 1912. It was during his ministry there that the church building was erected. He was succeeded by Rev. E. W. Fox, who, while in his one year's stay in that circuit, assisted greatly in the raising of funds to pay off the debt on the building.

The church, though just in its in-

WILLIAMSON BOY IS BETTER

Raleigh Victim of Powder Explosion is in a Very Serious Condition.

Injured by Powder Explosion

Raleigh, July 17.—There is some hope today for the recovery of Master W. H. Williamson, Jr., son of W. H. Williamson, the well known cotton mill man here, who was dreadfully injured Saturday evening by a powder explosion at the old Tucker home on Hillsboro street. The little fellow found a number of cans of powder that had been stored for many years in the attic of the Tucker home and took them out into the yard and was playing with them in some way that has not been explained and there was a terrific explosion that literally stripped the clothing from the upper part of the lad's body, burning him terribly. He has been unconscious much of the time since, but physicians today report hopes for his recovery.

Death of Mr. James P. Albright.

Mr. James P. Albright died suddenly Friday at his home in Greensboro on Frisco street. Mr. Albright had been in poor health and had not completely recovered from a recent illness. He had just stepped out of his room and down the stairs when he fell. A physician was summoned. Apoplexy is given as the cause of his death.

Mr. Albright was 56 years old and was a resident of Burlington until last November when he moved to Greensboro and engaged in the real estate business.

The funeral was held from the Episcopal church at ten o'clock and interment at Pine Hill cemetery.

Graham 3; Burlington 1.

Saturday afternoon at Piedmont Park Graham defeated Burlington by a score of 3 to 1. The game was very fast and the boys showed to be of excellent trim. The Burlington boys did not see into getting "on to" the Graham pitcher in their batting and by a few errors lost the game.

The same teams will play again Saturday afternoon at Piedmont Park at 4 o'clock.

The game Saturday promises to be quite interesting as the local boys have "something better" than on last Saturday.

Miss May Garrison Much Better.

Mr. George A. Garrison received a card from Miss May from the hospital in Richmond saying that she was able to sit up every day and was feeling quite a bit better, and hopes to be home real soon.

The many friends of Miss Garrison will be glad to hear of her improvement in health and also to see her at home in the near future.

fancy, has already increased its membership to somewhere between 75 and 100 members. The sermon yesterday afternoon and the services there were also attended by a large congregation. "The Blessings in Giving" was the central thought of the sermon and the preacher dwelt at length on the real honor and pleasure that comes to those who are true givers.

GOVERNOR ASKS FOR HELP

Governor Craig Says the People of the State Should Help Sufferers From Hail.

Three Counties Damaged

Raleigh, July 18.—Being assured that many farmers in Mecklenburg, Gaston and Cleveland counties suffered great loss, many of them having practically all their growing crops wiped out, stock and poultry killed and houses unroofed by the terrific hail and wind storm that swept that section on July 7, Governor Craig issued to the people of the State an appeal that they come to the relief of these people in a substantial way and show them that North Carolinians of different sections of the State are neighbors to those of all the other sections. The Governor points out that the losses sustained by these North Carolinians in the stricken sections are just as real and just as serious as those that befell Salem, Mass., recently being swept by fire that constrained Congress of the United States to make a special appropriation of $200,000 for their relief. The Governor declares that North Carolinians should hasten to the relief of their fellows and that by doing so they will receive a benefit surpassing that which will come to those who they help.

The appeal by the Governor follows:

"Information has reached me that the hailstorm which swept Mecklenburg, Gaston and Cleveland counties, on the evening of July 7 or 8, was really more destructive than the newspaper accounts indicated, Gaston county suffering perhaps more than any other section. It seems that hundreds of farmers, many of them tenants, with no reserve to fall back upon, literally lost every growing crop and in some instances stock and poultry were killed, and residences and barns unroofed. Gastonia, I am glad to see, has not only contributed liberally to their relief. Every section of North Carolina is neighbor to these stricken people, and I sincerely trust that they will be made to feel this fact by receiving aid from all over the State. The calamity that has befallen these good people is just as real as that which befell a Massachusetts city a short time ago, and which caused Congress to appropriate $200,000 for their relief. North Carolinians should hasten to aid their fellows—by doing so they should receive a benefit surpassing that which will come to those they help."

Miss Frazier Gives Party.

Miss Winnie Frazier entertained at her home on Davis Street Friday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock celebrating her 19th birthday.

Book was the chief feature of the evening. Other games were played which made the evening more enjoyable.

Instrumental music was rendered during the evening by different members of the party.

Refreshments consisting of cream, cake and melons were served. The table were beautifully decorated in white and red roses.

The guests were the following:

Misses Maude and Winnie Frazier, Lura Foster, Mittie Jeffreys, Minnie and Alice Ivey, Myra and Fannie Black, Eula Hinshaw, Clatie Petty, Elsie Newlin and Joy Steels.

Messrs. Charlie and Thomas Stafford, Bural and Homer Frazier, Lawrence Black, Willie and Jim Coble, Rex and Henry Ivey, Fletcher McPherson and Henry Jeffreys.

RAILROAD MEN SATISFIED

Will Not Strike, it is Thought

Nurse Accused of Killing Her Partner to Get Insurance.

San Jose, Cal., July 15.—Eva J. Rinehart, a nurse, was arrested here today charged with having killed her companion and partner, Mrs. Kathleen Bluet, to collect her life insurance.

The two women conducted a hospital in Auburn, Placer county. Last January while disinfecting clothing Mrs. Bluet suffered burns and died. Shortly before that she had taken out three life insurance policies aggregating $15,000. The will named Miss Rinehart as sole heir. Miss Rinehart took the body to Reno for burial although Mrs. Bluet's relatives lived in Alameda, Cal. They did not learn of the death until three months later.

At the investigation of the insurance companies the body was exhumed, the brain and viscera were taken to San Francisco for chemical analysis as to poison, and a warrant for Miss Rinehart was sworn out in Auburn.

The woman was arrested at the apartments of R. I. Kinkaid, a rancher, to whom she said she was secretly married last year. A baby was born to her several weeks ago, and she is still in the care of a nurse.

Railroad Men Ready for Strike in West.

Chicago, July 14.—The threatened strike of engineers and firemen on 98 Western railroads still was in the balance tonight, although the employees announced today that the men had voted nearly unanimously to strike if necessary to sustain their demands and that arbitration under the Federal law would not be accepted.

The railroads, through their General Managers' Committee, contended that to grant the employees' demands would mean an increase of $27,000,000 annually in wages. The engineers and firemen say that their requests are fair and equitable.

It is expected that further conferences will be held. Should negotiations fail and the employees stand by their demand, the resulting strike would directly affect 55,000 employees and 17 million and indirectly a much larger number of workers.

The principal requests made by the employees of the road were:

Increases in the rates of pay of engineers and firemen in all classes of service.

Number of hours after which overtime will be paid in freight service be reduced from ten to eight hours and in passenger service from 10 to 8 hours.

Overtime be raised to a basis of time and a half in freight service and double time in passenger service.

Engineers and firemen to be paid an arbitrary 30 minutes preparatory time for each trip, instead of computing service continuously from actual time of reporting for duty.

Allowances be made for the terminal delays in additional payment for the miles or the hours of the trip.

Differentials paid for running mail engines be increased.

Differentials between local and through freight service be increased.

Two firemen be employed on large coal burning engines regardless of the character or length of the run, the tonnage hauled or the work required of the firemen.

Mr. Bryan is assuming a whole lot of credit for his management of the Columbia question. We leave it to him to designate the amount of credit he should receive in this matter, but Billy, the miserable botch, you have made of the Mexican matter will hardly be wiped out, you are a splendid statesman to talk but thoroughly impractical to act. LEGISLATION TO REGULATE THE TRUSTS.

President Insists on Passage of Anti-Trust Bills Before Congress Can Take a Recess.

Washington, July 15.—President Wilson insists on the passage of the administration anti-trust bills before congress adjourns. Many congressmen and senators who strongly urged an early adjournment are "hearing from home" and they are now realizing that their constituents are backing up President Wilson in his program, because it is best that these bills be passed and then business can have a long rest without fear of molestation as long as it abstains from monopolization of trade and industries.

SUGGESTION OF CAUTION.

The President is very wisely consulting the leaders of the great industries throughout the country, so that the proposed bills may not disturb or injure legitimate industries, nor hamper the activities of business men of large abilities. For instance it is proposed that interlocking directorates be prohibited. For instance that no man be allowed to serve as a director in a railroad, and also in a coal company whose coal is hauled by that road, or in a steamship company that is competing with the railroad. It is urged that the bill be not so drastic however as to limit the services of any one man to a directorate in one company; discretionary power should be vested in the interstate commerce commission or in the Department of Commerce and Labor or some properly constituted authority, which shall say how many and which corporations any one individual shall serve as a director in. If such a man as James J. Hill, who built the great North-western railroad and much of the N. & W., should be compelled by law to confine his services to a single company, it would be a misfortune. The law shall be careful drawn, so as to prohibit or minimize monopolistic tendencies, but not to hamper the industry and services of such a man as Hill or the late President Frick, of the Southern system, who did so much to develop agriculture and manufacturing all over the south. The issue of railroad securities should also be carefully regulated so as to prevent the shameful watering of stock which has prevailed in the past.

WHEAT CROPS AND BOGGING BUSINESS.

The great wheat crop now being harvested and marketed is estimated to reach the enormous total of about one billion bushels, or 250,000,000 bushels greater than the largest crop ever produced here. This and the high output for a big corn, cotton, oats, tobacco, potatoes, hay and fruit, is acting as a tremendous tonic to business all over the country. The railroads are rapidly putting their idle freight cars and men to work, and placing large orders for iron and steel, and it is now believed that this fall will see the biggest boom in business this country has ever known.

Shot His Wife and Committed Suicide.

Wilmington, July 14.—After shooting his wife twice and inflicting painful flesh wounds, Everett Brice, 35 years old, switchman on local yards of the Atlantic Coast Line, shot himself through the forehead, and died instantly tonight. The only witness to the shooting was a sister of Mrs. Brice, who states that her husband had been making an earnest plea that his wife would come and live with him. There had been trouble between them for some time and they had been separated for several months.

After firing two bullets from his pistol at his fleeing wife, Brice turned and ran into a neighboring yard where he shot himself. He was well thought of generally and had many friends here. He came to Wilmington from Watha where his people live.

State May Lose Medical College.

Charlotte, July 17.—That North Carolina needs and should have a grade A Medical College, where students may be accorded the same instruction as that given along other lines with the added facilities of added hospital accommodations, clinics, etc., was the unanimous verdict of a group of Charlotte business and professional men who held an informal meeting here yesterday to discuss the matter. The proposition came up as a sequel to arrangements entered into some time ago between the North Carolina Medical College located here and the Richmond Medical College at Richmond looking to the merging the two institutions, which would move the North Carolina institution to Richmond as related by your Charlotte correspondent some time ago.

This would leave the two and a half million people of the state without a medical college in their midst and would cause young men from this state to seek their medical training in other states as they have done in the past. The arrangements for the merger of the Charlotte institution with that of Richmond have not been completed in all details, but it is likely they will be carried out unless something unforeseen takes place at once. The Charlotte gentlemen who conferred yesterday will probably take some steps at once to sound the minds of leading citizens in other places in the State, with a view to starting a campaign for State aid for a class A medical institution with the local institution as a nucleus. It is the idea of some of the promoters that the proposed institution be made an adjunct of the University.

Durhamite Plays Dead for Money.

Durham, July 17.—Information regarding alleged killing of Tom Stanley of Durham, in Norfolk, turned out to be a fake scheme of Stanley to get money from his uncle, J. B. Stanley, of Durham. Several telegrams came to the uncle yesterday saying that Jim Stanley was killed in a fight with officers when he and Will Jones, another Durham man, resisted arrest. The telegrams were signed by Joseph Mangum, a former Durhamite, asking that money be sent to dispose of the body.

Stanley and Jones are well known police characters of Durham, and this was a case of lunch to the story. Stanley had been killed resisting arrest, J. B. Stanley telegraphed Joseph Mangum telling him to ship the body to Durham and to pay up at once. The money being sent was the only way he could get here. Mr. Stanley sent another telegram to Mangum. This message reached him and it was then that the uncle learned that his nephew was trying to fake him out of money by pretending that he had been killed. Mangum telegraphed back that his name had been forwarded to the telegrams first sent.

Weak Kidneys Often the Result of Overwork.

On several occasions I have been unable to work and suffered severely pains in the back, due to my kidneys. I called on a doctor of Ripon, Wis. but received no relief.

I tried Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which gave me instant relief. I was then able to resume work. Swamp-Root is the only relief I can get from kidney disease which I am now free from in the spring of the year. I am willing this testimony through my own file to be will that of many and makes a record of the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root. I recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root who ever I can and always have a bottle of Swamp-Root in my home.

I purchased Swamp-Root of Mr. C. J. Burnside, Druggist, of 202 Main St., Ripon, Wis.

Very truly yours,

POOR P

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

Full Pleated Over-Skirts Vie in Popularity with Narrow Pleated Underskirts.

DayFrocks Decollete

New York, July 15.—Now that the stores are beginning to sell their goods at reduced rates, preparing already for their fall and winter stock, is it not time for you to take advantage of the bargains and buy yourself a new dress?

Just the thing you need to keep your wardrobe in the vanguard of the proper thing to wear at the right and proper time in my first illustration—a dress of eponge and linen. The waist and tunic are of pleated eponge, which is mottled blue and white. The lower skirt, collar, cuffs, and girdle are of coarse white linen. Blue cloth-covered buttons fasten the front of the waist and the girdle. When this dress are worn white stockings and shoes of dull blue to match the blue in the eponge.

Many of these new skirts which appear wider at the bottom are made with a yoke or a yoke effect with a long and pleated tunic, the underskirt having a circular or pleated flounce. A wide sash is often worn with these skirts of silk or of the same fabric high in front and is tied in the back with a dip.

For the evening gown the flounced skirt is very popular. In lace, tulle, or organdy these many ruffled skirts are most alluring and reminders of what our sweet young grandmothers wore.

There is a new gauze organdy made of silk and of the quality of chiffon, with the durability of voile, which is most attractive when made up in these gowns of the crinoline days.

What was considered decollete a short while ago and only suitable for evenings are now thought to be perfectly correct and proper for afternoon and other informal occasions. A dress I saw not long ago had a waist which was composed principally of two pointed pieces of Nattier blue satin draped up to either shoulder, front and back. For an instant I stood aghast and thought that was all these was to the waist, but let over the arms and shoulders was the thinnest blue tulle, which served the purpose of covering the arms with long and tight sleeves, and to give a coating of conventionality to the waist, as it came up to puritanically high neck-line. The skirt was of black satin, with a long tunic of blue tulle embroidered in gold thread.

Mottled Blue and White Eponge Combined with White Makes a Costume Dainty, Serviceable and Smart.

The waist which cuts low in front and with which is worn a guimpe or vest is very good this season. The armhole droops very low on the shoulders of these blouses and a full little bishop sleeve of organdy is attached.

The circular redingote tunics are the latest thing in the long tunics. They are open in front, or buttoned, and sometimes show the underskirt.

Among the new materials which will be shown for the late summer are heavy soft faille silks and a new grosgrain taffeta in wonderful shot and changeable effects. This new taffeta has much more weight to it than the taffeta so commonly used this summer.

Vests are a necessity in the wardrobe of even the woman who does not always try to keep up with the latest whims of fashion. Charming ones can be made of cretonne, whose colors blend or artistically contrast with the colors of your suit. This is also used for collars and cuffs on suits. The large figures are sometimes outlined with black in a heavy silk or cotton, which brings out the coloring in a striking manner.

Charming little dresses are made of crepe which have jackets of the same, and the waist sometimes the same and sometimes of organdy. A bit of embroidery in black and red woolen thread is most effectively placed in the corners of the jacket the collar and the cuffs. If there is a sash of the same, which is often the case this year, this same embroidery is placed on either end. The hat worn with this costume should be of white and trimmed with a band of white, which is also embroidered in these colors.

Not petticoats are a charming addition to the summer lingerie. They are made with very little fullness and are pored a little so that they flare around the bottom. The lower edge is either scalloped or bound and each panel is made dancier by the addition of embroidery. A heavy thread lace is often used to connect the seams.

A Cannon Which Will Shoot Sixteen Miles.

Washington, July 15.—A cannon which will shoot sixteen miles! That is what the army will use to defend the Panama Canal. This giant gun will be the most powerful in the world. It will also fire the heaviest projectiles. Within its 16-mile range it will be able to shoot with the greatest accuracy any approaching foe.

There is still a year's work to be done to complete the mammoth cannon, which is to have a 16-inch bore. The Watervliet and Watertown arsenals will give it the finishing touches. An elevating groove will be cut in its breech at Watervliet. It will then be sent to Watertown to be installed in the immense gun carriage, which is nearing completion. It will be given a "shock" test at Watertown and will be shipped afterward to Sandy Hook for a final test.

Progress in building the disappearing carriage for the great gun is being watched with the greatest interest by American and foreign army officers. Many nations will have representatives at the Sandy Hook for a final proving ground firing tests. Final tests at Sandy Hook of the 14-inch guns for the canal fortifications are nearly completed. Ordnance officers are pleased with the remarkable record of accuracy made by the guns in long range firing.

As between the gun you didn't know was loaded always take a chance on the gun.

Yet great philosophers delight to stretch their talents most at things beyond their reach. And proudly think 'em unridable every cause. That nature uses, by their own by-laws. —Butler.

Kind words do not cost much. They never blister the tongue or lips. We never heard of any mental trouble arising from this quarter. Though they do not cost much, yet they accomplish much. They make other people good-natured. They also produce their own image on men's souls and a beautiful image it is.—Pascal.

It has been figured out $50 at interest with amount to $15,000,000 by the year 2254. We'd rather have $50 now than 115 million in 2254.—The Greensboro News.

Morgan Will Not Talk.

New York, July 14.—J. P. Morgan & Co., today refused to discuss the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission severely censuring the directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, under the administration of Charles S. Mellen, for "reckless and profligate" financial operations estimated to have cost stockholders from $65,000,000 to $90,000,000. J. P. Morgan's office denied that they had refused the right to examine the books concerning New Haven affairs in this office.

The New Haven situation, it was pointed out, now is out of the hands of the commission, and what action, if any is taken on recommendations that the directors be prosecuted, lies with the Department of Justice and the district attorneys in the States in which the system has lines. Prosecuting attorneys at New York, Boston, Hartford, New Haven, New London and other points today had received no copies of the evidence.

Directors and former directors of the road generally have refused to discuss the commission's report. Mr. Mellen, however, branded it as "a report of a political tribunal, made for political purposes." Mr. Mellen's counsel, J. W. H. Crim, also issued a statement defending Mellen's actions. He said Mellen's private fortune when he took charge of the New Haven was $1,000,000. Now, he added, it was far less than that.

Postmasters Urged to Hustle for Business.

Washington, July 14.—The old-time ruling that postmasters must not solicit business for their offices because the increased business meant an increased salary is no longer held valid by the postoffice department. Certainly not so far as the parcel post department is concerned.

Doing Their Duty.

Scores of Burlington Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak. Backache and other kidney ills may follow.

Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy. Proof of their worth in the following:

N. Foster, shoemaker, Mill Street, Graham, N. C., says: "I am never without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house. I know that they are the best kidney remedy to be had. I was rheumatic. My joints and back were stiff and lame and my kidneys acted irregularly. The kidney secretions contained sediment and were painful in passage. Finally, I took Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me more good than anything else I had ever used." The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Foster is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Foster had. 50c. at all stores. Dr. Randolph and His Family are Poisoned.

Elon College, N. C., July 15.—On Sunday Dr. E. E. Randolph, head of the modern language department, and his wife, together with the wife of his brother, Prof. A. G. Randolph, of the University faculty, and his infant daughter were poisoned by eating ice cream or some other food. Prof. Randolph ate some of the ice cream, but did not eat other food and he is the only member of the family who escaped. The attending physician has issued a bulletin that their condition is not alarming and within a week they ought all to be well. Dr. Randolph is one of the most popular members of the Elon College Faculty and his many friends scattered throughout this and other states will be glad to know that his speedy recovery is assured. He was in charge of the Elon exhibit for the Sunday School and Christian Workers' Chautauque to be held at Virginia Beach next and it is hoped that he will be strong enough to fulfill the duties of this position.

Washington, July 14.—The old-time ruling that postmasters must not solicit business for their offices because the increased business meant an increased salary is no longer held valid by the postoffice department. Certainly not so far as the parcel post department is concerned.

R. C. Chance, head of the parcel post division, told the Daily News correspondent today that the officials here hope that every postmaster from the first class office down to the lowest paid fourth class office will get out and hustle for business.

"Many small postmasters can put their towns on the map," said Mr. Chance. "If they will get out and hustle for business for the parcel post. They will not get only a larger salary for their work but they will be doing a great service for the government."

CHARLOTTE OFFICERS SHOT.

they had spotted the men they wanted and every energy was directed towards preventing them from skipping out on one of the early trains.
A half-dozen automobiles were requisitioned for service and not only was every avenue of escape watched in Charlotte but officers and deputies were dispatched to various nearby towns within a walking or driving radius of the city and each outgoing express and freight was scrutinized.

And then having made sure of their quarry, a systematic house-to-house search in the city was begun shortly after daybreak and by 10 o'clock all four of the men wanted were in custody and all of them had confessed to their share of the shooting.

WOUNDED LOOKED AFTER.

In the meantime, every attention
had been given the wounded officers,
had been given the wounded officers,
and whatever medical skill or science could suggest was employed to afford them relief. Assistant Chief Elliott was found as stated so adequately in yesterday's morning's Observer, to have been shot through the chest, the bullet entering near the heart on the left side and going clear through. The ball was a steel pointed missile and therefore made a clean hole, to which doubtless is due the fact that he survived the shock. His lung was pierced and some trouble was experienced yesterday from the flow of blood in the pleural cavity. Officer Moore was shot through the upper lobe of the lung and also in the leg, his wounds being even more serious than those of Assistant Chief Elliott. Moore's iron nerve and strong constitution was standing him in good stead last

A White Youth Was Victim of Rocking.

Greensboro, July 19.—Charlie Meechem, a young white man, underwent serious injuries late Friday night when he was assaulted by a rocking party near Proximity village. Twelve young men, charged with the offense, were rounded up yesterday and placed in the county jail under a bond of $200.

The young man, whose home is at White Oak, had gone with two others to Proximity to make a call, and it was soon after he left that the rocks began to fall. Meechem ran and in his flight fell over into a railroad cut. By the fall both bones of his thigh were broken and he received other injuries.

His cries of pain aroused the people who lived in houses nearby and aid was given.

Yesterday through information given them, the authorities were able to issue warrants against 12 young men, whose names are as follows: Alvin Self, Thomas Deibel, John Scott, Howard Delaney, John Westbrook, Gideon Vaughn, Gilbert Lacey, Bud Maness, Ernest Parkison, Jesse York and two others named Leonard and Hall.

Up to date, last evening Maness was the only one who had provided the $200 bond required.

Salisbury Party Has Narrow Escape Near Charlotte, Sunday.

Charlotte, July 19.—A car belonging to S. B. J. Ludwig, of Salisbury, in which were riding several young men, and able men that town, was struck by a Southern Railway train at Newell when it pulled from here this afternoon. All members of the party escaped without injury. The automobile was on a siding when the train was approaching, and a short distance down the track. The motor car was backed but did not entirely clear the track, the effect of the engine striking it being to push it off the front wheel from the track. The party, it is said, was near the Salisbury when the accident occurred. Some of them in the car were named, but not others.

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS TO BE CUT DOWN.

Money for Bath, Laundry, Shoe Shine, and Flowers Not Proper Allowance.

Washington, July 17.—There will be no more tips for bell-boys, no daily bath, creased trousers, laundry, flowers for friends, dead or alive, shoe shines for representatives of the State Department if Secretary Bryan has to OK the bills.

That is the edict formulated in the name of Mr. Bryan, and to be handed down the line to all subordinates. All personal items will be stricken from the expense accounts of travelers for the State Department.

This crusade was started several weeks ago, and it is sweeping like a whirlwind. "Actual expenses for subsistence and transportation" are all that will get by the keen-eyed auditors now.

The Secretary of State has decided to eliminate the laundry, bath, tips, postage, tailoring, flowers, newspapers, shoe-shines, shaves, drinking water, and haircuts out of the expense accounts of the traveling employes of this department. Hereafter, while Mr. Bryan is at the head of the State Department, no more bills for personal expenses can be approved by chiefs of bureaus and heads of commissions. That is the order already formulated in the mind of Secretary Bryan.

The State Department is given more latitude in the expenditure of money appropriated for its various services than any other department of the government because of the peculiar nature of its work. Rules and regulations for the making out of the expense accounts of persons connected with the State Department have not been filled with the Commissioner of the Treasury. There is but little check on employes who travel for that department. It is estimated that within the next decade several millions of dollars have been spent on account of, at least, by State Department officials for "laundry," "tailoring," "baths," "newspapers," "drinking water," "shoe shines" and "shaves."

One expense account handed in by a government employe, who had been on a four months' trip, contained a bill of $50 for baths. A bath was taken every day for four months at the rate of 50 cents a day. Many days of the 120 days this man was out he never left the train.

Another expense account included a bill for flowers for a dead friend of the employe.

One account charged up for many "trousers creased" three or four times on a short trip, and "50 cents for drinking water in New York."

"Laundry, $250" appeared in the expense account of a man who made a long trip for a department.

These are the sort of expense accounts that Secretary Bryan and his associates will strike out before they reach the final auditor.

Mr. Representative John W. Gaines, of Tennessee, new commissioner for the United States of the Rio Grande commission, started the movement for economy in the executive departments, which is now sweeping the State Department.

Asked about the campaign against padded expense accounts Mr. Gaines said: "Yes, I shall cut out anything that looks like a personal item to me. What right has an employe, Chief of a Bureau, Commissioner, clerk, or what not, to expect the Government to pay for his morning and evening newspapers, shoe shines, his drinking water, or his hair-cuts, or shaves or the creases in his trousers?"

"I for one," said Mr. Gaines, "will not approve any such expense accounts. Such charges are in violation of the law, and I believe in observing the law."

July 1, the law, limiting the expenditures of Government officials and employes to $5 for "subsistence" and requiring them to account for everything that went into effect.

It turned out about as we expected, though we might have preferred it otherwise. —Durham Herald.

As there is nothing much for our legislators to do we are always in favor of electing men who look the part. —Durham Herald.

Churches Disputing Over Young Minister.

Charlotte, July 19.—The congregation of First Avenue Presbyterian Church which had extended a call to Rev. W. T. Thompson, of Lexington, to become pastor of the church and which had cause to think Mr. Thompson would accept, has a grievance against the First Presbyterian Church of Knoxville, Tenn., is that while Mr. Thompson was here Sunday last, preaching at Tenth Avenue Church, looking the field over, as ministers say, the Knoxville church sent a committee here to offer Mr. Thompson a call. The Knoxville committee, the Tenth Avenue Church says was directed here through the influence of a prominent Presbyterian minister of the state, and the church isn't feeling very kindly to him or the Knoxville committee. The Charlotte churchmen think that the Knoxville church should have presented its call when Mr. Thompson was at the "home plate," and when he was at a church which had put in a call for him. The Knoxville church is one of the oldest and wealthiest in the southern assembly. The Tenth Avenue Church naturally feels that its more powerful rival will win. The Knoxville committee waited on Mr. Thompson Sunday night after service at the church. He has both calls under consideration.

Charlotte Will Have to Pay More Coal Freight.

Washington, July 17.—In a supplemental order today, the Interstate Commerce Commission held that joint through rates of bituminous coal over connecting lines from the Kanawha and fields in West Virginia to Eastern and Southeastern points may exceed by 20 per cent the rates in effect on a route entirely over the through lines of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway. The commission previously had held in its order establishing through rates on the connecting lines, that those rates must be identical with those of the Chesapeake & Ohio.

The principal Southeastern destination to which the increase allowed today will be applicable are: Clifton Forge, Covington, Richmond, Norfolk, Petersburg, Alexandria and Danville, Va.; Greensboro, Durham, Wilmington, Monroe and Charlotte, N. C.; Columbia, Charleston, Aiken, Darlington and Camden, S. C.; Atlanta, Savannah, Milledgeville and Augusta, Georgia, and Ferrisburgh and Jacksonville, Fla.

Railroad Men Not Expected to Quit.

New Bern, July 15.—Several months ago a number of the men employed in the local shops of the Norfolk Southern Railway Company, became dissatisfied with the amount of remuneration they were receiving for their work and this dissatisfaction grew to the propensity of a near-strike. However, the men finally decided to arbitrate the matter and a delegation went to Norfolk, Va. to confer with President Hix and General Superintendent Witt. After discussing the entire matter at length the committee was informed by the officials that just at the time it was impossible to accede to their requests but that some action would be taken within the course of six months. The general understanding of the men was that at the end of this period, which falls on the first of next month, they were to have an increase in their wages and they accepted the report of the committee upon their return.

During the five months which have elapsed since the committee conferred with the officials, President Hix and Superintendent Witt both have severed their connections with the company. Just what the men will do at the end of the period is not definitely known. It has been rumored that they have discussed the matter at length during the past few weeks and they will probably send the committee to Norfolk again on the first of next month to confer with the officials. However, it is not believed that a strike will result, even if their demands are not granted just at this time. The officials have been using all surplus cash in making improvements on the road during the past few months and are endeavoring to get it in good shape. It is believed that the men, realizing this, will take a drastic step.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

The International Sunday School Lesson for Next Sunday, July 26, 1914.

THE POUNDS AND THE TALENTS.

LUKE 19:11-27.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

12 He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man; thou takest up that thou laydest not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 And he said unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knowest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow:

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

26 For I say unto you, that unto every one which hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but from him that doth not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But these mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

GOLDEN TEXT.

"Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord." (Matt. 25:21.)

EVERY MAN'S SERVICE REWARDED.

The parables which compose our lesson have points of resemblance and points of difference. Matthew's account speaks of talents, valued at about twelve hundred dollars of our money, while Luke speaks of pounds, in value not exceeding twenty dollars each. Matthew describes the servant receiving different sums of money, Luke gives the same to each servant. Matthew rewards the faithful servants with admission into the joy of the Lord. Luke assigns them proportionate authority in responsible positions. Matthew connects his parable with the destruction of Jerusalem and his record on the way from Jericho to Jerusalem. But these differences are of small importance in the light of the common lesson taught by both evangelists. Our Lord confers gifts upon his servants according to their ability to serve him, and he rewards them in proportion to their fidelity to the trust. His rewards are just, and according to his loyalty will be our joy or our fear at his coming in judgment.

THE GIFTS DISTRIBUTED.

Luke account of the parable is almost two stories in one. The first concerning the nobleman who went into a far country to receive authority from the emperor to enter upon the rule of his subordinate kingdom. Some of his citizens plotted against him in his absence and attempted to overthrow his authority. The second story tells how some of his citizens did not rebel against him, but employed their time in their master's business. Every citizen was given the opportunity to take part in the affairs of their lord. There was no difference in the opportunity; the money was put in their hands, the business world was open to them, and there were no restrictions upon their labors. The difference between the men was in their mental and moral energies. But each man could do the best that lay within his power.

THE SERVANTS WORKING.

While the lord was absent the servants labored. They put their money out in the channels of business looked carefully to their investments, put their intelligent interest and the force of their wills behind every effort. They knew their lord was concerned in what they accomplished, and they labored with an eye to his judgment. The result was an increase of prosperity. One man saw his original capital increased ten times, and another man saw his increased five times. Each man had done his best and had the assurance in his heart that he had not trifled with his lord's trust.

One man, however, acted by a different law. He was jealous of his master's power. He looked upon his master as one who took the profits of other men's labors. If he succeeded, the increase went to his over-rich lord; for it was his principle, said this man, to keep where another man had not. He presented his lord with a pound of gold. The very next day he received gifts at his hands, but after that to spend his authority except his own will.

THE REWARDS OF SERVICE.

The lord of the kingdom finally returned with increased power and dignity to rule over his own subjects. His first act was to call his servants to him to whom he had intrusted his money and to inquire into their success. The first man came with a report of a tenfold increase. "Well, thou good servant," said his lord, "because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities." An exceedingly large reward for so small a service. But intelligence, loyalty, intense application, and unselfish devotion are the qualities that shall dominate the rulers of cities. The second servant came with a report of a fivefold increase. The lord approved his moral qualities and gave him as much additional labor as he was able to discharge, and that is sufficient reward for any honest man. The third servant came with his original gift wrapped up in a napkin. He made no use of it because he did not wish his master to claim the increase. If he had been incompetent, no harsh word would have been uttered against him. But he was able to work, and the opportunities were before him. He simply did not care for his lord's glory in the kingdom. Because he could not claim the glory for himself he had no disposition to work for the good of others.

THE UNPRODUCTIVE SERVANT.

What judgment should be pronounced upon such a servant? He failed in the glory he desired for himself, and he deprived his lord of no authority because of his jealousy. He was a wicked servant because he did not put more good works into operation. He was unprofitable because unemployed. Out of his own mouth he was condemned. If he thought his lord exacted a strict account, why was not he attentive to business? If he thought his master claimed the increase, why did not he make an increase possible? In the judgment he was not even permitted to claim the first gift as his own. Only that is our own which we use for the good of others. Our Lord stated the eternal law or spiritual ownership in these words: "Unto every one which hath shall be given: and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him."

Religious unemployment is one of the greatest problems of our own day. The Church has many members who are doing nothing for the glory of the Lord or the blessing of their fellow men. The opportunities are more numerous than ever before in the history of the world. At home and abroad men who can do little and men who can do much have opportunities for the investment of life with the promise of most astounding results. The need is as great as the opportunity. Materialism, greed, vice, and selfishness enter the doors through which our Lord and King ought to pass into the life of nations, and many victories are lost to our Lord because his servants do not work for him.

Men fail in their life work because their devotion to the Lord's work is not complete. They do not serve with a perfect will and a perfect love; they give their Lord a divided attention and a half-hearted earnestness. In a certain city there are three buildings. One is the center of a great religious activities reaching around the world. Another is a powerful educational institution with business interest of world-wide reputation. Between them is a plot of ground with a small, antiquated building of for a junk shop and cheap refreshment. Both of the great houses of prayer have considered from time to time the question of buying this plot to enlarge their business. But the title is not active, and they cannot put money into an uncertainty. Neither can our Lord intrust the great affairs of his kingdom to men whose spiritual life is clouded by a defective consecration.

Alleged Slayer of Brown is Arrested.

Fayetteville, July 16.—Wednesday night Sheriff McGeachy arrested at Walkies mill a few miles north of Fayetteville, a negro identified as Aaron Dupree, murderer of Mark Brown, on his farm in Dandarrach last December. The prisoner denied being the right party but he is now safely locked in jail.

The county coroner today held an inquest over the body of J. R. Sholar, a merchant of Rockfish, this county, who was found dead in his store Wednesday afternoon. It was evident that he was slain by an axe, but the tragedy is shrouded in mystery and the meagre evidence at the inquest has

This morning a negro laborer, taking a short cut through a small swamp in the southern suburbs of this city, was assailed by a terrible odor, the scurry of ground animals and the beat of the wings of birds, bats, etc. Upon investigation he found the body of a man who had been dead about two weeks. The man was a negro about 30 years old. His skull showed where something had hit him bursting it for about four inches. The body was probably carried in there and hidden.

Laura Davenport, a negro woman who takes boarders nearby, said his name was Arthur Clayton, and that he had only been here a short time. He had only been to her house once. She had not seen him in three weeks.

Coroner McCougan being out of town, Deputy Coroner Floyd B. Sanders gathered all the evidence that could be procured and on account of the body, ordered it buried in the thicket where it was found.

Mrs. Carman a Free Woman for Present.

Freeport, N. Y., July 17.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, indicted today on the charge of first degree manslaughter in connection with the killing on the night of June 20, in her doctor husband's office of Mrs. Louise Bailey, came back to her home and her family here tonight, temporarily a free woman. She was released for trial under $20,000 bail 15 minutes after the grand jury made known its finding.

When Mrs. Carman was led into the court room late today for arraignment she plainly showed the strain she had been under since her arrest. When the clerk of the court asked her how she would plead her lips opened to answer but Mr. Levy, her counsel, interrupted her. Upon the understanding that his client would have the right to withdraw her plea within two weeks and file a demurrer and a motion to quash the indictment on the ground of insufficient evidence, Levy entered a plea of "not guilty."

After the plea had been entered and the jury sworn, Mrs. Carman was led to an anteroom and there she collapsed.

"I can't talk," she said later to reporters. "I am too overcome. I still fail to understand why the grand jury declined to feel my plea to tell my story."

While she was on her way to the district attorney Smith's apartment he had new evidence which indicated that the finding of a super-heated instrument clamping Mrs. Carman with a higher degree of force. He sent detectives to a man's house a mile from the Carman home to dig in a place an informant said he had seen a man bury a revolver the day after their order.

No revolver was found there, however. The district attorney also asserted that if certain clues were developed a member of the Carman household would be placed under arrest as an accessory after the fact.
