After a Brave Struggle Mrs. Wilson Passes Away.—Hope for Recovery Vanished Early in the Day Yesterday.—The End Came at 5 O'clock in the Afternoon.—Family at the Bedside.—President Was Told Yesterday Morning that Mrs. Wilson Could Live But a Few Hours.—For Her Husband Welfare all the Time.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President of the United States, tonight lies at the point of death.

Four months of almost unbroken illness, a complication of nervous ailments and Bright's disease, have sapped the vitality of the First Lady of the Land. The end is regarded as a matter of days, perhaps hours. Her husband and three daughters are at her bedside and relatives have been summoned. Physicians have been in consultation for days but it was admitted at the White House tonight that hope for her recovery had almost vanished.

Conscious only at intervals, Mrs. Wilson has been cheerful and has called for her husband constantly. Every moment that could be spared from urgent official duties have been devoted by the President to his wife. At the side of his constant helpmate and adviser, he wrote the tender of good offices appealing to the European monarchs to stay their conflict.

From the sick room he has been giving directions to the various department heads for the relief of thousands of Americans stranded abroad. The press of domestic legislation, the European war and Mexican situation and the flurry over financial conditions throughout the country have weighed heavily on the President as he has maintained his day and night vigil.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President of the United States, died at the White House at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Death came after a brave struggle of months against Bright's disease with complications.

The President was completely unnerved by the shock and his grief was heart-rending. He bore up well under the strain, however, and devoted himself to his daughters.

The end came while Mrs. Wilson was unconscious. Her illness took a turn for the worse shortly before one o'clock this afternoon and from then on she gradually grew weaker.

Kneeling at the bedside at the end were the President and their three daughters. Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., and a nurse were in the room, and just outside a door were Secretary McAdoo and Francis B. Sayre, Mr. Wilson's sons-in-law, and Mr. Tumulty, his secretary.

Both houses of Congress adjourned when Mrs. Wilson's death was announced for a brief time the wheels of the government virtually stopped.

BEGINNING OF THE END.

The beginning of the end came at 10 o'clock this morning when Dr. E. P. Lewis, of Philadelphia, who had been called in for consultation, realized the time or hope had passed. He took the President into the Red room and there in a broken voice told him the truth. Mr. Wilson's face blanched but he bore the shock well. He was informed the end was a question of a few hours.

Mr. Wilson then took his daughters, Mrs. McAdoo, Mrs. Sayre and Miss Margaret Wilson, aside and told them. Until then they had thought there was a chance for her recovery.

From that time on the President and his daughters remained constantly at the bedside. The President held his wife's hand, and the three daughters were grouped nearby. Until she became unconscious Mrs. Wilson frequently nodded to one or the other and smiled cheerfully.

HER HUSBAND FIRST.

During the day Mrs. Wilson spoke to Dr. Grayson about the President of whose health she thought more than she did of her own.

"Promise me," she whispered, affably, "that if I go, you will take care of my husband." It was the same touch of devotion which she so many times had repeated—her constant anxiety having been that the President might not worry about her or be disturbed in official tasks.

The President returned to the sick room from the last conference with the doctor, his three daughters leaning on his arm. Francis B. Sayre and Secretary McAdoo and Secretary Tumulty stayed outside the door.

Mrs. Wilson lapsed into unconsciousness but rallied. By 1 o'clock she began to sink rapidly. She still could recognize those about her, and looked cheerfully toward them and smiled.

At 2 o'clock Mrs. Wilson still was conscious, but her strength almost had departed and a few minutes later she sank into the sleep of unconsciousness from which she never awoke.

For three hours the President and his daughters gazed longingly into her eyes in the hope that she might speak again but she could not. The sun was casting its long shadows from the Potomac to the South grounds, coloring the fountains, gardens and elms.

There was hushed stillness in the upper apartments. All eyes were turned toward the southwest corner of the house.

Just at the hour of 5 death came. The President and his daughters were in tears. Secretary Tumulty walked slowly to the executive offices, his head bowed. Quickly he announced to the correspondents that the end had come.

Funeral arrangements have not been made. The place of burial will be either Rome, Ga., or Princeton, N. J., where the family lived for 25 years. Dr. S. W. Beach, of etatin

Several Thousand German Troops Killed by Belgians in Attack on Liege.—Belgians Hurl Back German Invaders after Kaiser's Troops Bombard Liege, which is Gateway to Paris.—German Cruiser Sunk and Two Captured in First Battle in Mediterranean Waters.—Succumb to Attack of Allied British and French Squadrons.

Brussels, via Paris, Aug. 6.—1:35 a. m.—Several thousand dead and wounded is the toll paid by the German army of the Meuse for its attack on Liege.

The Belgians made a heroic defense, repulsing the Germans after heavy and continuous fighting.

The fortified position of Liege had to support on Wednesday the general shock of the German attack. The Belgian forts resisted the advance fiercely and did not suffer. One Belgian squadron attacked and drove back six German squadrons.

Eight hundred wounded Germans are being transferred to the city of Liege where they will be cared for.

Prior to the attack on Liege, General Emmich, commanding the German army of the Meuse, issued a proclamation calling for an open road through Belgium for the advance of his forces and suggested that prudence would show it to be the duty of the Belgian people to accede to this, to avoid the horrors of war.

The Germans committed reprisals against the civil population of the town of Vise, eight miles northeast of Liege, burning the city and shooting many residents.

LONDON REPORT.

Brussels, via London, Aug. 6.—Official dispatches report that the Belgians have repulsed all attacks by the Germans in the neighborhood of Liege. The Belgians delivered a vigorous counter attack, killing all the Germans who had passed the forts.

The fortifications afforded admirable resistance to German shells. Everree fort, which was in action all day, was absolutely unharmed. The Belgian aviators proved every whit as good as the Germans. Several civilians have been shot at Vise and the town has been burned.

Russian frontier patrols, driving enemy's cavalry before them, penetrated ten miles into Germany below Lyk Bala.

Boy Badly Hurt.

Wilhe Apple, son of Mr. A. A. Apple, suffered a severe cut on the foot Wednesday. He was coming down town with his dog and near the Mayor's Hall his dog got into a fight with the dog of Mr. N. A. Ward.

Mr. Ward was near and had his knife open cutting at something in his hand. He started toward the dogs to separate them at the same time young Apple did. Forgetting the open knife he threw out his hand just as the boy kicked at the dogs. His foot came in contact with the knife and a gash three inches long was cut in the top of his foot.

He was rushed to the doctor's office and the wound dressed and he is getting along nicely. Mr. Ward deplors the accident deeply and there is no doubt that it was a pure accident.

LETTERS THAT WERE NEVER WRITTEN.

From a Resident of the National Capital to a Solitary Stay-at-Home.

Dear Ed:—
When were you read out of the Democratic party? I take it for granted that you are out, seeing that I haven't seen you here within the past fortnight, while all the rest of the party has been hanging around almost continuously.

We have had some little difficulty in making the party in the State understand exactly what is necessary; indeed, we have had to summon all four quarters of it to Washington, one after the other, in order to make sure that the situation was thoroughly understood. Truly, it is a notable gathering that we have had here, or rather, a notable procession, for of course, they didn't all come at once. First there was Warren, the Democratic party of the extreme east; he got his and was succeeded by Bailey, the Democratic party of the middle east; then came Watts, who rules the broad democracy between Salisbury and Asheville; and finally, Charlie Webb, the Old Man of the Mountain. All four now having visited Washington, the Democracy of North Carolina may be said to be cocked and primed—that is, unless you insist that you, too, are still a member of the Democratic party; but in that case, why haven't you been to Washington to get your orders?

I really think that you must have been excluded from the list of those summoned. Why, even McLean, the fair-haired child of destiny, was among those present. Indeed, Ed, you are no longer a member of the Democratic party; you have been relegated to the herd of mere voters, whose opinions don't count.

To you, then, a rank outsider, let me give the information that there are going to be big doings in the State before the robins nest again. In fact, a movement has already been begun to pound the fear of the Lord into the hearts of the dissolute. In the beginning Bailey, Josiah Torquemada Bailey, has been sent out as a sort of Grand Inquisitor to smell out the heretics that appear to infest the land. With bell, book and candle he has already cursed the Greensboro schismatic; but don't imagine for an instant that his work will stop there. He is given power, not merely to purge the system but also to examine into the extent to which the doctrines of this heretic have taken hold on the minds of the populace, so that if necessary we may bend our energies toward reconciling them with the doctrines of the true faith. If the world has, indeed, run after this heresy we must make the best of a bad bargain, and by propagating it ourselves with vast tumult, we may be able to hoist the engineer with his own petard—(to overcome the devil with fire!

At any rate the Democratic party in all its sections—that of the far east, that of the middle east, that of the middle west and the trans-Atlantic contingent—has been to Washington and received detailed instructions and admonitions. Henceforth all things should work together for good to them that held the jobs.

Once more I must give expression to my grief that you are no longer numbered in the party fathered by Jefferson, fostered by Vance and foster-fathered by Farnifold M. Simons.

Sorrowfully yours,
A. WASHINGTON MANN.

Cow Attacks Automobile.

Dr. W. B. Murphy, a well known Snow Hill physician is having to pay for damages to his automobile from an unusual cause. The physician and his driver glimpsed a heifer coming down a road on which they were driving. The animal was evidently in a penicky condition and the chauffeur stopped the machine to avoid a collision. The heifer didn't put on her brakes at all, though, and ran straight for the automobile and crashed into it head first. The shock rendered her non-combatant and the crazed heifer walked to the roadside and lay down.

More "Traitors."

About a fortnight ago the Dispatch sounded a warning to the Democratic party in North Carolina, admonishing that unless progressive principles were supported the party would lose in the State. This due warning, this prophesy was taken by some few, who had never bestirred themselves for the progressive principles already adopted, as treason. Their argument or spirit could not stand against the argument of men like William Jennings Bryan in time past, pointed out dangers that beset the path, instead of remaining quiet and allowing the party to be hurled to the rocks, made no impression upon them as precedent. But the army of "traitors" grows, which will, of course, terribly sock these inert souls.

Harker, of the Maxton Scottish Chief, a life-long Democrat, sounds a similar warning and in doing so copies an extract from the speech of Editor R. F. Beasley, of the Monroe Journal, delivered at the recent State Press Convention. Beasley stands high in the temple of Democracy, was the great mainstay of the party some time like four years ago, when our staff was to be leeled off by the Democratic press bureau, and it will be by men of the Beasley and Harker stripe that the party is going to be preserved, making those who did not see before now behold the true light and prodding those who do not want to see, to action, for self preservation even if not for true reformation. The extract copied from the Chief follows:

"In our State we have consigned to the keeping of one political party the welfare of a whole people throbbing with new and generous impulses, aglow with radiant hopes, touched with the spirit of progress, and craving us never before a wise and righteous leadership. This party cannot prove worthy of its great trust by standing still. It cannot satisfy the conscience nor challenge the intelligence of a noble people by dodging issues nor hiding behind the fallacy of letting well enough alone. It cannot fill a great mission by mistaking defeat as an end instead of an instrument. Its leaders will betray the principles of a party and a greater people if they think and act in terms of power rather than in terms of service. The Democratic party is today on the danger line. Remember that those of us who sound a warning speak not in hostility, but in love, not in criticism merely, but in friendship. We must face the stern truth that no party can sacrifice obligation for even party welfare. Individual office holding and party power are not materials upon which faith and fidelity long survive, and we do not have to go back three years in history to learn that though a party may seem impregnable, it can, when drunk with power and deadened to obligation be wiped off the political map in a twinkling."—Wilmington Dispatch.

Rescued Once, He Drowns.

After having been once rescued by other bathers, and warned to keep in shallow water, Louis Schlet, 23, of Bristol, climbed to a spring board this afternoon and dived boldly into Lake Campounce, the famous bottomless lake in Southington, certain parts of which have never been sounded.

Schlet did not appear, and his first rescuers dived after him several times. After several minutes the body re-appeared in another part of the lake. Though a pulmoner and other methods of resuscitation were employed vigorously, it was impossible to arouse any spark of life. Medical Examiner Stedman, of Southington, gave out a verdict of death from heart failure, rather than drowning.—Hartford, Conn., Dispatch to the New York World.

A Marked Difference.

The esteemed Raleigh Times thinks the Lessee can predominate the primary unless the people are aroused. Absolutely, but there is a marked difference—of right and chance. The convention system is wrong in principle while the primary is right. Under the convention form the people, if aroused, would have no chance, where under the primary they would. And we have generally found that the people, as a rule, measure up to their responsibilities. At any rate, if they don't it is up to them, and it is hard for a minority to logically preach that a majority is wrong. Besides, majority rule is Democratic, and the convention allows no chance for exercise of such, while the primary does.—Wilmington Dispatch.

No More Free Bus Rides.

A curious effect of the "psychological" depression, now existing was the recent discontinuance of free bus rides by Nugent's, Scroggs-Vandervoort-Barney, Famous & Barr and Grand-Leader, leading department stores of St. Louis. These stores had been operating several machines to and from the Union Station and the McKinley Station. Average cost had been $250 a month or $3,000 a year for each bus, bringing the total up to $21,000. The stores a few weeks ago started to keep tabs on the passengers, whose average number was found to be 14, of whom four purchased merchandise from the store.

Suburbanites, it is said, brought the discontinuance on themselves, some not even taking the trouble to enter the stores, but going directly to their offices. Nevertheless, an investigation would never have been started had not there been a desire to curtail expenses.—Wall Street Journal.

Weak Kidneys Often the Result of Overwork.

On several occasions I have been unable to work and suffered severe pains in the back, due to my kidneys. I called on a doctor of Ripon, Wis., but received no relief.

I tried Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which gave me instant relief. I was then able to resume work. Swamp-Root is the only relief I can get from kidney disease which I am subject to in the spring of the year. I am writing this testimonial through my own free will that sufferers of kidney and bladder diseases will know of the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root. I recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root whenever I can and always have a bottle of Swamp-Root in my house. I purchased Swamp-Root of Mr. C. J. Burns, Druggist, of 202 Main St., Ripon, Wis.

Wake County has saved $35,837.95 in three years by the adoption of the salary system as against fees. How much has Alamance County saved? Those whose business it is to say will not tell. It is public information. In fact it is the duty of the county officials to publish it for the information of the tax payers, but they will not do it. Just why no one knows. Read what Wake saves:

"By reason of the operation of the Salary and Fee bill passed in 1911, Wake County has effected a saving of $35,837.95 in three years. These were the figures submitted yesterday at the second meeting of the county commissioners by Auditor H. G. Holding. The commissioners received the report with gratification. It was known that the bill had resulted in greater economy in the government of the county but it was not known that the saving was represented in such large figures.

"County Auditor Holding's report in detail was as follows: 'I beg leave to submit herewith the statement showing the net balance for savings to the county of the several offices through the operation of the salary and Fee Bill of 1911 for the years 1911, 1912 and 1913:

C. H. Anderson, register of deeds, net balance	$ 6,274.55
Mills J. Mial, clerk, net balance	6,775.78
J. H. Sears, sheriff, net balance	19,694.84
G. T. Norwood, treasurer,	2,694.48
	$35,837.95
Less net expenses of auditing	1,702.40
Total savings	$34,135.55

The Dispatch is engaged in making a fight in the interest of the tax payers of Alamance County. There is nothing political about it. Certain laws are being violated and our county officials seem careless or do not want to comply with the law. The county's books should be audited, the law says they should be, but it is not done. The tax payers want certain information in regard to the salary and fee system. They desire to know whether we are saving money from the adoption of the salary system as against the fee system. If we are not saving money then we should go back to the fee system. If we are saving money we should stay upon the salary system. We do not know how we stand financially. The county officials will not tell us, just why, no one knows, but the voters are going to take the matter in hand and elect officials who will do their duty and tell them the things they want and should know. The present officials will find this out sooner or later.

If Mr. Taxpayer was to walk into his bank and ask the cashier how much money he had to his credit in his account with the bank, and the bank man would refuse to tell him, what would happen? Mr. Taxpayer asks Mr. County Official how much money are we saving by the adoption of the salary system as against the fee system and Mr. County Official refuses to tell him, what will happen when Mr. Taxpayer gets a swipe at him at the ballot box?

We have a law in this county that all county officers books must be audited every six months and the result of said audit made public, how long has it been since the books have been audited? Some one is neglecting their duty. Attention voters!

THE SALARY SYSTEM DISCUSSION.

Several Voters in the Various Sections of the County Are Very Anxious to Know About it.

Rock Creek, N. C., Route No. 1.

Editor Dispatch:

Our people are with you in this neck of the woods, in your efforts to make the county officials give out the figures showing the difference between the salary and fee system. We are greatly surprised that officials claiming to be Democrats and holding office under a Democratic administration will act in a way to reflect seriously upon themselves and our party. I am a loyal party man and hope to always remain so, but unless our county officials give out this information I cannot support some of these officials. Keep up the agitation until the information is furnished, and unless furnished and that very soon count upon good support from this section for a part of the Republican county ticket.

Thanking you for the interest you are taking in behalf of the tax payers of our county, I am,

Yours for publicity,
A LIFE-LONG DEMOCRAT.

Hartshorn, N. C.

Mr. Editor:

This is the first time in my life I ever tried to write for a newspaper but I am interested in your fight to have our county officers give out the information regarding the saving to the tax payers by the adoption of the salary system in place of the fee system. I do not want to do anything, or help you do anything that will hurt our party still if our officials are not doing their duty by refusing to give out this information, I am against those who are responsible for this condition of affairs. Please inform us whose duty it is to furnish this information so that we may know who to hold responsible.

A DEMOCRATIC TAX-PAYER.

Graham, N. C., R. F. D. No. 2.

Editor: Twice-A-Week Dispatch:

As a tax payer, I am interested in knowing whether the salary system is a saving as against the old fee system, and how much. I notice your interest in this matter, and I trust you may be successful, with best wishes in this effort, but no farther I am,

AN OLD TIME DEMOCRAT.

Burlington, Route 3.

Dear Sir:

I am not much on writing, but I am a hard working farmer Democrat, and I want to thank you for your efforts in behalf of the tax burdened farmer. I do not like the way our county officers are acting in this matter, and yet I don't see how I can go back upon the Democratic party. If I could get over to Graham I would give some of these officers a piece of my mind. I hope you may be successful in your efforts to turn on the light as to how much we are saving by the new salary system.

DEMOCRAT.

Altamahaw, N. C., Route No. 1.

Editor Republican Paper:

You can count upon me to support your county ticket this fall. I cannot support people who want to hide things from the tax payers. I hope to live and die a Democrat, but I cannot support men who will not do their duty to those who helped elect them. Please do not publish my name.

Yours for good county government,

A SMALL TAX PAYER.

Snow Camp, Route 1.

The Dispatch:

As a Democrat I have been a subscriber to your paper ever since it started, and you have done and said things that I approved of, and a great many things that I did not approve of but you are doing something now that I am heartily in favor of, namely, trying to make our county officials give out the figures showing the saving or loss of the salary system instead of the fee system. Our officials are in their own light in refusing to make this information public, and may live to regret it. I hate to give encouragement to our enemy the Republicans, but as an honest Democrat I cannot uphold the present county officers in withholding information that properly belongs to the public, as long as you battle in the interest of the tax payers you can count upon my moral support, but no help for partisan purposes.

Yours in confidence,
HONEST DEMOCRAT.

SEES THE SCHEME.

Burlington, N. C., Aug. 6.

Editor Dispatch:

I am a subscriber to your invaluable paper, but I think I see your scheme in agitating the salary and fee system, you hope to make votes for the Republicans, but if our county officials were wise in their day and generation they would nip your little scheme in the bud by giving out this information showing how much the county is saving by adopting the salary system in the place of the old fee system. You do not seem to have any complaint about anything else, and if our people would come across with the statement you would be robbed of an issue, just why they cannot see it, I am at a loss to understand. It is a short sighted policy and one that will injure us unless immediate steps are taken to furnish the information, but I want to tell you that you will not get any comfort from me. I am going to stand by my party no matter what happens. I am a Democrat of Democrats, and a little secrecy like our officials are maintaining will not drive me from the party. I know it is a good thing to harp upon and you will mislead a great many good people, of course, their refusal to make public how much the county is saving looks bad to an independent or a weak-kneed Democrat, but it does not affect me. I hope our people will see their mistake and publish the information and stop your howling. I told one of our men only yesterday that you were making capital out of it and that they ought to stop it, but he said that they could not afford to let your party force them to furnish this

MASS CONVENTION

There will be a mass meeting of REPUBLICANS, PROGRESSIVES, INDEPENDENTS, and all others who want good honest county government, at the Court House in

Graham, N. C., August 15th, at 2:30 P. M.

For the purpose of selecting delegates and alternates to the various Republican conventions to be held this year. We invite all regardless of how they have voted heretofore, who are opposed to the management of the present county government to attend this convention and to take part in its deliberations. We will welcome advice from all good citizens and tax payers whether in person or by letter as to the best method of getting together for a solid front to the end that our county government may be administered in the interest of the tax payers and those who have the largest burdens to bear in county and school matters. This convention is not for the purpose of nominating ticket at this time, but its organization and conduct may have an important bearing upon this future result. All good men who attend this meeting will be consulted in matters affecting this re-organization of the Republican party. Come and bring your neighbor with you; we extend you a most cordial welcome.

Miss Georgia E. Clapp is here for a visit of some weeks. She is just from Asheville, where she attended the Boston-Emerson School of Education. For six years she has taught in Cleveland County, but goes next year as a member of the faculty at Catawba College. Her uncle, the late Dr. Jacob C. Clapp was for a long time president of that school.

The protracted services are in progress in Springwood Church this week. The preaching is being done by the pastor of the church, Rev. R. E. Redding.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Davenport have had a number of improvements in the way of re-papering, painting, etc., made at their home here, "Rosemere Cottage."

Dr. Edward Clapp and family have moved from Gibsonville to their farm near here where they will make their home.

The Salary System Again.

To the Editor of The Dispatch:

As a tax payer of Alamance County, I am surprised that our county officials absolutely refuse or ignore the request of the tax payers of the county to give them the facts and figures as to the amount of salaries and fees of our county officers. As a tax payer I have a right to know—and I suppose that every other taxpayer of the county feels as I do about it. We see Guilford, Durham, Wake and other counties giving their tax payers these figures, and some counties report a saving of more than $10,000 a year. We do not know whether Alamance is saving or losing. If our county officials continue to ignore and refuse to give the taxpayers this information, I ask, Are you going to submit (?) and re-elect these same officials? I found the warning: What are you going to do about it?

information, that it would do you more good to force them to give it than it would do harm for them to refuse, and therefore they were going to refuse to furnish it. I did not see his logic then, and I do not see it now, but that is our attitude and we are going to stand by it. I am a regular party man, and right or wrong, I remain true, of course people will think there is something rotten in Denmark because we will not furnish the information the tax payers are asking for and while I would like to know just how much we are saving, yet I am not willing for my party to allow you radical to put anything over us, keep on howling you may catch a few but you won't catch me.

TRUE BLUE.

You may publish my name if you want to, but I would rather you wouldn't, as this is the first time I have written for papers, especially for a radical paper calling itself a Progressive Republican paper, but it is nothing but a Radical paper I know it by its howl against Democrats.

Appreciates Mr. Vestal's Action.

To the Editor of The Dispatch:

I am glad to know that Mr. G. W. Vestal, Chairman of the Alamance County Republican Executive Committee, has taken the initiative in calling a Mass Convention of Progressives, Republicans and all others who are opposed to the present rule in our county, to meet in Graham on Saturday, August 15th, to discuss ways and means to unite all opposition to the Democratic party, on a county ticket. I can see no good reason why every tax payer and voter in Alamance County who is opposed to the present condition of our county affairs, should not attend this mass meeting and express his views. We have a great many bright, intelligent young men in our county who are worthy and capable of filling any office in the gift of the people of our county and I believe that the tax payers of Alamance county are anxious for a change. I urge and beg of you to come to the Mass Convention.

Mebane, N. C., Aug. 4, 1914.

I TOLD YOU SO.

The manufacturers of Coca-Cola, the popular soda fountain beverage, have had an excellent chance in recent years to laud the public with the old glib, "I told you so." When the product was first put on the market the manufacturer frankly told the public its composition and explained that it was composed of spruy (sugar), caramel and caffeine with fruit flavors.

It seems however, that some people preferred to believe the slanderous reports rather than the actual facts; and as slanders travel fast they soon came to the attention of the Government. In order to ascertain the exact character of the product, the Government seized a shipment of Coca-Cola at Chattanooga, Tenn., and brought a suit against the Company in the Federal court. Expert scientists were summoned from all parts of the country and labored on the case for nearly four weeks at a cost to the government which has been estimated at approximately $100,000.

It was another case of the "mountain laboring and bringing forth a mouse." They found the sugar and the caramel and the caffeine and the fruit flavorings. That's all.

A Net Saving to Another County of $35,837.95.

To the Editor of The Dispatch:

I notice from today's News and Observer that Wake County saves in three years $35,837.95 salaries versus fees in three years, and the county officials give out this information to its tax payers. What has our county saved? Will our county officials give up this information? Don't they think that we are entitled to know? Why is it that they refuse to take us into their confidence?

At a considerable expense we have made special arrangements to have Miss Nettie Stephens, special demonstrator for the H. W. Gossard Corset Company, assist us in a demonstration of Gossard Corsets. This will be the style event of the season in Burlington and it is our desire to have every woman in this city visit our Corset Department some time during these days. Styles are different this season—very different—and you must have accurate and authentic information if you are to obtain the utmost from your corset and other wearing apparel. During this demonstration you will not be importuned to buy. All we ask is that you avail yourself of information and style news which is at your disposal. A fitting can be arranged by appointment. This should be done, if possible. We shall count it a privilege to serve you during this demonstration. Gossard Corsets at $2.00, $3.50, $5.00, $6.50 and up will be shown. Come in and be fitted.

COTTON STATES WILL BE HURT MOST.

Cotton Merchant Says Banks and Individuals Must Stand Together to Hold Products.

Greensboro, Aug. 1.—In a comprehensive interview yesterday following the announcement that the stock exchanges had closed, J. E. Latham, a large cotton merchant of this city, made interesting observations on world conditions, business in this country, and especially in the south. That the cotton producing states will be hurt more by a war in Europe than any other part of this country is the belief of Mr. Latham. He gave the following statement:

"We are in the face of conditions which have had no precedent in the world. The conflict between these countries as indicated by the compacts and alliances with which the various ones have bound themselves makes the situation very dangerous. No man may say at this time how widespread or far-reaching it may be.

"Here in the United States we must regard things from the same standpoint. We must not have a panic. It is unfortunate that this should arise at this period because there has been an effort the past two years to put into use so many reforms that the great public have not become acquainted with them; namely, the reserve banks were to have been in operation September 1st, but it seems unlikely that they will be put into operation before January 1st.

"At this stage it is not becoming for any good American citizen to criticize the administration too harshly as there is no feeling among business men who are suffering the most that Wilson's intentions have been anything but the best. His policies have been questioned after and perhaps if he had given more heed to more experienced business men the country would have been in better shape to withstand such shocks at the past few days have brought us.

His approval in Europe comes at a time when business is bad, when over $500,000,000 worth of interest-bearing securities are in default, but it is the duty now of everybody to look forward to a recovery, and this can only be brought about by standing together, both by banks and individuals.

"The failures so far have not been many and while some deserving firms will no doubt be thrown down, it is by a far more will be limited very much. The board of directors of the New York Cotton Exchange, the New York Stock Exchange, the New York Cotton Exchange, the New Orleans Cotton Exchange and the Baltimore and Philadelphia Stock Exchanges closed their doors today until next Tuesday. And in foreign exchanges located in Berlin, Vienna, Havre and other European cities, very wisely closed some days ago.

"A great conflict between Russia and Germany will hurt the cotton area of the world more than any other part of the country. For the reason that even 10 per cent. of the American production of cotton is exported and probably 50 per cent. or more of this exportation is sent out in foreign ships under foreign flags. Even if American commerce is not interfered with we do not own enough ships to make much headway in selling cotton or grain afar. Therefore, it is the duty of all our American bankers to provide as much money as possible so crops may be held until the situation clears so that the great staple products may be again sent to Europe."

Wise Precaution.

A tourist in Scotland came to a wide ferry, and the wind was constantly increasing. The Scotch ferryman agreed to take the tourist across, but told him to wait until he had first taken a cow across.

When he had returned and started across with the traveler the latter became curious.

"Will you tell me why you took the cow over and made me wait?" he asked.

"Well, now," explained the ferryman, "I see, the cow was valuable, and I feared the wind would increase so that her might upset on the second trip."

PECULIAR AFTER EFFECTS OF GRIP THIS YEAR.

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition.

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kiltner's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals, and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kiltner & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root on receipt of ten cents to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

The Basque and the Wide Girdle Dominate the Styles—White Reigns Unrivaled.

System For The Wardrobe

New York, Aug. 5.—How few women realize the economy of a wisely planned wardrobe. Instead, they allow themselves to purchase each garment in a hap-hazard manner. This is the cause of more worries, more failures and more heartaches than women realize.

A woman usually receives but little preparation to fit her for managing a home. She takes it for granted that because her mother did it and her grandmother did it, that she, also, will be able to do it—when the time comes! This same lack of forethought extends to a woman's wardrobe. Clothes she must have, and pretty ones, and she buys regardless of whether or no, a thing is suited to her particular style or figure. Some special occasion arises which requires a gown, lacking in her wardrobe. Thereupon she rushes from shop to shop, finally buying (as her time is limited) something which costs more than she intended. The dress has to be altered; this again depletes her pocketbook, and as a finale she realizes that the hastily bought, hastily altered gown, did fairly well for the affair for which she bought it, but it is too elaborate for some occasions, too perishable for economy, and last, but not least, that it does not suit her style.

Another, insidious, deceitful and crafty enemy to the proper wardrobe, and to that feeling of well-being which is associated with being smartly and suitably gowned, is the unwise use of the bargain counter.

Its temptations are responsible for many an ill-chosen outfit. Money that should be saved for some really good thing is spent on something which is cheap, but has no value in the specific wardrobe. It may be a collar which is worth 50 cents and you get it for 35, but you have no dress with which to wear it; it may be a belt that is not appropriate or a pair of shoes the wrong color, or an array of conspicuous stockings when the frocks and shoes to suit are lacking. Colors, fabrics and accessories are constantly changing, and the temptation of getting something for little or nothing is a feminine characteristic much catered to by the wily storekeeper wishing to get rid of his stock.

A Striking Dress With Fitted Waist and Long Tunic Skirt.

In other, and shorter words, system and thought must be applied to the wardrobe. The few absolutely necessary clothes, suited to the occasions which your position in life calls for, are all that the well-dresser woman's wardrobe should contain; then, when the styles change, you are not forced to wear out-of-date frocks.

In every gathering of well-dressed women, mingling freely, unobtrusively, with coy gravity, among the loose kimono styles, is the basque of 1880. Not quite so tight to be sure, but with seamed and fitted back, and buttoning snugly down the front. Wine colored poplin is used for the attractive model illustrated, with collars and cuffs of white satin. The back is fitted, but the fronts are unseamed except under the arm. The lower line of the waist is conservatively long, fitting closely over a skirt with a snug-fitting long tunic. The pleated lower section of this skirt gives ample fullness. To finish the smart stand-a-way collar is a narrow black moire ribbon tie, with flowering ends. The large hat in sailor effect is well suited to the costume with which it is worn, and accents the trimly picturesque effect of the costume.

The day-time dresses are often so low-cut that they seem most inconsistent. But the ways of arriving at these low neck dresses are like observing the letter of the law. The satin slip is cut very low, but is worn with a long sleeved bodice, of lace or maline, thin and transparent, which is cut high enough, however, to cover the collar bone.

Although color is conspicuous in the sash, stockings and hat of the tennis costume, in the lining of the cape coat, or in the development of the embroidered afternoon dress, there is no more striking costume than the all-white gown, worn with a white hat, white shoes, white gloves and even white veil.

Wide crushed girdles, buttoning up the back or front, give the basque effect to a dress, and are decidedly the rage. In silk, or in the same cloth as the dress, they are effective. As an addition to an old dress which needs a new touch to bring it up-to-date they are excellent. A straight wide belt of moire is an excellent addition to your white frock of crepe or of organdy.

Summer School Closed for the Year. Chapel Hill, July 28.—The Summer School for Teachers has practically finished its most successful year of work. The enrollment lacked five of reaching the 600 mark, which would have been exactly a hundred gain over the attendance of last year, which was 500. A distinctive feature of the registration this year was the 75 who enrolled for regular University Credit courses counting toward an A. B. or an A. M. degree. The presence of these courses, some twelve in number, has done much to improve the tone of the school. Better work has been done than ever before.

To the teachers in general, however, the thing of greatest convenience has been the plan whereby they are enabled to take many of the regular county examinations while here. The following list of counties have authorized the Authorities to hold the county teachers' examination here and then forward the papers for grading to the regular county officials: Bertie, Camden, Chatham, Chowan, Currituck, Davidson, Durham, Franklin, Gaston, Granville, Guilford, Johnson, Mecklenburg, Orange, Person, Robeson, Wake and Yancey. This is a great convenience, and if its range can be increased in future years it will materially increase the attendance and hold a much larger number toward the close. Heretofore the tendency has been for the large majority to leave before the examinations.

The State Board will hold a complete set of examinations on Wednesday and Thursday. The Five Year State Certificate work will be on Wednesday along with the examination in Public School Law. All remaining subjects and conflicts will be held Thursday.

Rabbi Lyons closed his remarkable series of lectures Thursday night. His ten lectures created a profound impression among the students and especially those that followed his Sunday address on "Jew and Christian," on July 19th. His entire series treated the Old Prophets of Israel. The Prophet, as described by him, is a highly developed, very spiritual, but withal very practical and real religious leader whose chief function was not to prophesy, but to teach and lead. The prophetic power of the Prophets was due more to a keen insight into human forces and progress.

Dr. J. M. Booker, professor of English at the University, and excellent reader, delivered a fine lecture Thursday night on the "Dramatic Monologue." His lecture consisted largely of readings from works of Tennyson and Browning. He illustrated the growth and types of this modern form of poetry. He declared that the Dramatic Monologue is as typical production of the poetry of the nineteenth century as the short story is a product of the prose of the nineteenth century. It is characterized by brevity, compression, intensity of feeling, and swiftness of action. Tennyson unconsciously developed the Dramatic Monologue to a high place, but it took the conscious work of Browning to bring it to its climax.

Rural Carriers to Get More Pay. Raleigh, August 1.—Postmaster W. G. Briggs has received announcement from the postal authorities at Washington that 232 rural carriers of North Carolina will receive an advance in salary for the next year. There are 1,350 carriers in the State. Of the number who will receive increase in salaries, nineteen will receive the maximum of $1,200. Hitherto the maximum salary for a rural mail carrier has been $1,100. The basis of the increase in salary was the weight of the mail matter, the number of pieces, the length of the route.

If you wish to be miserable, you must think about yourself, about what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay you; and then to you nothing will be pure. You will spoil everything you touch. You will make sin and misery for yourself out of everything which God sends you. You will be as wretched as you choose.
