

Miss Middleton At The First Baptist Church.

Miss Minnie Middleton, of the Louisville Training School, spoke to a small audience of ladies at the First Baptist Church Wednesday night. Had the ladies of the city known what they were missing by staying away, no doubt a very great number of people would have been out to hear Miss Middleton, who, by the way, is surprisingly young and a charming speaker bubbling over with spontaneous enthusiasm for her chosen field, telling of the life and work of girls at the training school.

Miss Middleton is still a student in the training school, and with all a young girl's beautiful zeal for a noble work she related to the ladies present little stories of her experience in working in the slums of Louisville and in other phases of her life as a missionary in training.

The purpose of the training school is to train young women for Christian service, not only in the foreign, but also in the home field. The school is supported by the Baptist women of the South. The present school is inadequate to meet the demands made upon it, especially in the matter of room. In other words, it is not large enough. A new building has been planned and the money to put it into reality pledged by the women of the Baptist churches through out the South. North Carolina's women have promised to raise $5,000 for the cause.

In this school no tuition is charged. The average expenses of a young woman for one year range from $175 to $200. The salaries of the teachers are paid out of the appropriation from the women of the South.

Each student each fall are assigned to special missionary work to do by Mrs. McClure, the head of the school. Some of the work in the congested tenement districts doing good among the lowest classes of criminal and unfortunate poor. Their work is restricted to the women and the children of these communities. They organize and look after such beneficent organizations as the "Blue Bird" girls composed of small girls, and the "Camp Fire Girls," made up of older girls. They work among the women and children, regardless of race or nationality.

Other hands of missionary work. Other hands do missionary work around the city hospitals, orphan homes, and city churches throughout the city of Louisville.

In spite of the serious war they have chosen, Miss Middleton says that the training school girls do not go round with the long face and gloomy manner sometimes attributed to the conventional saint. Through all their Christian work gleams the spirit of youthful faith and hope, and they are withal gay, girlish and joyous with the joy of living and doing good.

Some Inequalities.

Where a widow has to pay 43 per cent of her income in taxes, while the owner of a big building on Tryon street gets off with eight per cent, it's bad enough. That's about the ratio when they are both honest and list their property. But the worst happens when the widow on account of discrimination decides not to list her notes and mortgages at all. Then the shoe is on the other foot and the Tryon street man is the one who is hit.

Nobody knows how many millions of dollars of solvent credits—notes, mortgages, bonds, stocks—repose in the vaults, safes, trunks, desks and other hiding places in North Carolina, whose names never grace the page of our tax books. If Jesus of Nazareth, were applying the supreme test to a rich young man in North Carolina today, I think instead of admonishing him to sell all he had and give to the poor He would advise him to list his solvent credits; for if on his personal property and swear to six per cent, securities hid away in a safe-deposit box can walk up to our friend Abernethy at the listing board and display as optimistic attitude toward them as if he were interviewing a Broadstreet man for the purpose of obtaining a rating, then he's ready to go.

The law as it is administered encourages the listing of real property at 2 to 30 per cent of its value. The sworn officers of the law fix the value. Yet the owner of personal property is required to place the true value on his personal property as sworn to himself. The poor man who has a mule and wagon lists them, because the list taker knows he has them. The rich man does not list his solvent credits because they are hid and nobody knows anything about them. He refuses to give up 42 per cent of his income by way of taxes without a struggle.

I know a minor child who has $11,000 in solvent credits. The annual income from which is $600. His guardian lists them in full. The taxes amount to $277.20. Thus the government takes nearly half of this child's income.

No wonder that the amount of solvent credits that are listed is woefully small. No wonder that in states where the constitutional fetter has been stricken from the hands of the legislature, permitting classification of subject of taxation this class of property has come out of hiding and appeared on the tax books. Men want to be honest as a rule. Give them a chance and they will be.

In my judgment the inequality of our system of taxation is a greater stain to the State of North Carolina, and does more to hold her back, than discrimination in freight rates or any other evil that we are suffering from. I believe that constitutional amendment to help means of remedying the evil, and I think it deserves the support of all air-minded people.—P. C. Whitlock in Charlotte Observer.

Thirty-Eight Persons Killed and Twenty-Five Injured in Collision.

Joplin, Mo., Aug. 5.—Thirty-eight persons were killed and 25 injured in a collision between northbound passenger train No. 2 on the Kansas City Southern Railway and a Missouri & North Arkansas Railroad gasoline motor car, running on the Kansas City Southern tracks near Tipton Ford, 10 miles north of here tonight. Mistaken orders are said to have caused the accident.

According to reports received here, both the motor car and the train were running at a high rate of speed when they met at Tipton Ford, a small siding. With the collision came the explosion of the gasoline reservoir of the motor car, setting both the motor car and the train afire. Every person in the motor car was killed; it was reported here tonight.

The motor car was shoved back 300 yards by the train and was left suspended over the locomotive.

None of the passengers on the train were killed although the engineer and fireman were injured.

Because of the rapid spread of the flames the exact number of the dead was not known hours after the accident. Some reports said it would reach 60.

The motor crew is said to have had orders to pass the northbound passenger train at Tipton Ford. The train crew had similar orders.

Instead of waiting for the train to pass, however, the motor car is said to have proceeded south, and upon reaching a curve a mile beyond, the collision came.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Burlington Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pain that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Keeping the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that is endorsed by people you know. Mrs. P. King, 1016 Dixie St., Burlington, N. C., says: "I had nervous headaches, my back hurt me and I had pains when I lifted anything. The kidney action was quite irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills removed this trouble and made my back strong."

Mrs. King is only one of many Burlington people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. DOING THEIR DUTY.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak. Backache and other kidney ills may follow. Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy. Proof of their worth in the following: N. Foster, shoemaker, Mill Street, Graham, N. C., says: "I am never without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house. I know that they are the best kidney remedy to be had. I was rheumatic. My joints and back were stiff and lame and my kidneys acted irregularly. The kidney secretions contained sediment and were painful in passage. Finally, I took Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me more good than anything else I had ever used." The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Foster is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. FOOD PRICES ARE CLIMBING UPWARD.

The Manufacturers Bearish, Withdraw Goods From the Market
They May Descend.

The isolation of America by the flame of war which has enveloped all Europe is being reflected here by a stiffening of the market for all classes of products which are usually imported in large quantities. The cutting of the foreign sources of supply, whether temporary or destined to be of long duration, inevitably has a tendency to boost the prices. Since many of these articles are used for food, Charlotte housewives are watching the progress of events with an interest unfeigned.

It is entirely possible that even if the war should continue for some months, the effect would not be appreciably felt by the consumer. The initial rises would be borne by the wholesaler, jobber or retail merchant, each accommodatingly absorbing a certain percentage of the loss in order to hold trade before inviting the ultimate consumer to put his shoulder to the wheel.

As soon as the new widely prevalent uncertainty is removed, the effect of this isolation will be discernible along well-defined lines, wrought by the immutable law of supply and demand. If intercourse with foreign countries is suspended a rising tendency may be expected in those classes that are ordinarily imported and a declining tendency will be noted in those products that are exported. There are comparatively few articles in the latter class, cotton and wheat being the principal items. The price of wheat is rising because of the confidence that some way of exporting it will be found, owing to the necessity of the foreign countries, such as Russia, which has had a rather disappointing wheat crop. The price of cotton is at present indeterminate, but there is a good reason to believe that a system for withholding it from the market will be formulated and put into effect. A rise may be expected in articles of food in demand abroad, as soon as exportation becomes possible.

List of commodities which are expected to climb in price is along one, and a study of it illustrates the wide range from which the articles found on one's family menu every day are drawn.

SOME OF THE INCREASES.

Dry salt meat is up from 2 1-2 cents to 3 cents a pound, an increase of about 20 per cent. Ham is reported to have been sold at the record price of 21 3-4 cents a pound to the dealer, but is being sold, say some, at 30 cents a pound to consumers, and bacon is expected to take the same jump. Sugar which formerly sold at 8 1/2 for 18 pounds has climbed one cent a pound, or from $3 to $3.50 a barrel, and flour is also on the rise. A rise of ten cents a bushel in wheat—and it has already made more of an ascension than that—means an increase for flour of 50 cents a barrel, and the consumer pays 25 cents more than usual for a 48-pound sack of the raw material for the staff of life. Most of the wheat used here is Winter wheat, Spring wheat flour is used by bakers, because it will absorb more water and the bread will be larger and heavier at no greater expense.

Coffee has been advanced two cents a pound, owing to the uncertainty of future importations. Foreign rice, coming principally from Holland, has been withdrawn entirely from the market, according to Mr. W. J. Edwards, a local merchandise broker who was interviewed yesterday on the subject of the war's effect on prices. Quite a large quantity of domestic rice is raised in Louisiana and this will have a stimulating effect on that commodity. Much higher prices are being waited and hence the crop is just beginning to be harvested.

No effect has yet been noted on the local apple market, but a rise later is not unlikely, as between six and ten million barrels are exported annually. This climb is of course conditioned on the failure of the United States Government to secure export facilities.

OFF THE MARKET.

The Corn Products Refining Co., a large manufacturer of syrup, has withdrawn entirely from the market.
So much business has been booked for the next six months that the owners are afraid to take chances on the prices that may prevail later. Starch is up 16 per cent.

The Virginia canners have withdrawn all their canned goods from the market, said Mr. Edwards, expecting enhanced prices. Wheat, corn and oats are advancing every day.
All the manufacturers of flour have withdrawn their products from the market, waiting speculatively for a rise.

Sugar is regarded as likely to go higher because America gets much of it from Austria, which is very busy now. An aviation of $1.50 or $2 a hundred pounds would not be surprising.

A sporadic jump caused partly by the war and partly by the dry weather in Ohio, is that of Michigan beans, which have advanced 40 cents a bushel in one week. This country imports large quantities of Lima beans from Madagascar. From Brazil come the Brazil nuts and from France come walnuts. Currants, owing to unsettled conditions in Greece, may command a nifty price. There will not likely be a perceptible change in the cheese quotations.

PRICE OF SALT.

A large percentage increase in the price of salt is expected, but this commodity is so cheap that no householder will be driven to the wall by it.
So much of it has already been looked at low prices that the consumer is not likely to feel the effects unless conditions should be prolonged. Much salt is imported from Liverpool, both common and ice cream salt. Jobbers are buying large quantities of both varieties. Salt for ice cream is imported extensively at Retsoff, N. Y., and also Avery Island, La.

"One thing is certain," added the broker with whom The Observer man was conversing, "there is a tremendous fruit crop this year, of both apples and peaches and we could almost live off those if necessary."—The Charlotte Observer.

Mr. Morehead Thinks Factions Will Unite.

Charlotte, Aug. 8.—In regard to the bridging of the breach made in the Republican party two years ago at the convention in Charlotte and the probabilities of the two wings of the party uniting to present a solid front of opposition to the Democratic party, Chairman John M. Morehead, of the Republican State Executive Committee believes that the Republican party's chance of success lies in the different factions uniting.

Interviewed today as to the Republican situation, he said:

"I believe that 95 per cent. of the rank and file of the Republican party in North Carolina are most heartily in favor of all factions arising from the decision as between supporting Taft or Roosevelt, uniting the party in a solid anti-Democratic phalanx.
The remaining five per cent. are men who entertain ambition for political preferment and are staking their hope in this respect on Mr. Roosevelt's popularity and his future candidacy for the presidency.

"There is of course no issue at this day as between Mr. Taft and Mr.
Roosevelt, and there is absolutely no occasion for any one who prior to 1912 had voted the Republican ticket failing to re-enroll himself in his party and let the dead past bury its dead.

"It is my belief that this will be done in spite of the unfavorable action that has met the efforts of the State Republican organizations. The approaching State Republican convention to be held in Raleigh, August 20 will be a most important meeting and we have every reason to believe that its attendance will be greater than any ever gathered at a Republican convention in this State.

"It is believed that many men of sound political acumen that there is not room in North Carolina for three political parties and most assuredly the drift in every section of the United States goes to prove that the same condition exists practically throughout the country."

That Salary System Again.

To the Editor of The Dispatch:

I am disappointed and surprised at the action of our County Officials, in not publishing a statement showing the amount paid our county officials, either in fees or salaries, and the amount of the fees turned into the county. I am under the impression that the laws say that this must be done. Our county officials were placed on salaries on December 8th, 1912, nearly two years ago. I think that it is due the tax-payers of the county that this statement be given to them.
Without further delay, now Gentamen, as a taxpayer of the county, I ask that you give the public at an early date as possible the amount of salaries and fees if any, that has been paid to each one of the county officials. Also the amount of fees or costs that has been collected by the county, from each official who is on a salary basis. The taxpayers of Alamance County do not know whether the county is saving or losing money by the change to salaries. Let us have the facts—we are entitled to know.

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN CON- VENTION.

The Republican State Executive Committee calls a convention to meet in the City of Raleigh on Thursday, August 20, at noon.

This convention is called for the purpose of nominating for such State offices as are to be voted for in the coming election, for ratifying any other nominations, for selecting a State Executive Committee and a Chairman, and for the transacting such other business as its wisdom may elect.
The counties, by their primaries and through their committees, are requested to arrange at once for their full quota of delegates.

All Republicans, present and past, regardless of any former differences, who are still sympathetic to tried and true Republican principles, to protection and its ever-attendant prosperity, are invited by the committee to attend this meeting with the assurance that their presence will be most heartily welcomed and their aid and advice most earnestly sought.

To all those who have followed the party of Lincoln and Grant, of Garfield and McKinley, of Roosevelt and Taft, as well as to those who are willing to follow in the footsteps of these patriotic statesmen, this home-coming invitation is most cordially extended.

Realizing the evil days to which Democratic misrule has brought us, let all who hold anti-Democratic views render assistance in returning our common country to its wonted progress and prosperity.

ALAMANCE COUNTY BOY HONORED.

Joseph C. Long, Son of Dr. Dan A. Long, formerly of Graham, Receives Big Promotion.

We clip the following article from The Merom (Ind.) Herald, of August 6, which will be interesting to many of our readers, as Mr. Long is well remembered here, having lived in Graham for a number of years:

A son of Merom was delighted to hear Friday that Joseph C. Long had been elected vice president of the Commercial Bank & Loan Co., one of the largest banks in Indianapolis. This bank is a great corporation and has on its board of directors such men as Ex-President Charles W. Fairbanks, Ex-Mayor Charles Brookwater, Ben Cor and George H. Craft. The appointment came unsolicited and was quite a surprise to Mr. Long when he received a telegram announcing his election Friday morning. The appointment carries a salary of $5,000 a year and Mr. Long will be able to hold it and retain his cashiership of the Merom State Bank.

The appointment is a reward for the remarkable business ability shown by Mr. Long in the two years he has been at the head of our bank and he is deserving of all the honor it carries. He has had a wonderful successful business career here. The Commercial Bank & Loan Co., are to be congratulated on their selection of a vice president.

The Beautified Hair.

To the Editor of The Observer:

Some years since at a German banquet a Frenchman made the statement that you could not give a Frenchman anything he could not beautify. An old German pulled a rough hair from his head and said "I would like to see you beautify that." With a courtly bow the Frenchman accepted it and sent it to a French jeweler with the request that he spare no expense to make it a thing of beauty. In a few weeks, there came back to the French diplomat an eagle, holding it in its bill; the hair and at each end golden balls on which were inscribed "Alace and Lorraine," signifying that Germany held them by a hair.

OUR FASHION LETTER.

Many Ruffled Skirts of Lace With Basques of Colored Taffeta For This Summer.

Low Neck Bodices.

New York, August 8.—The magic name of Newport brings forth visions of society's elite enjoying the pleasures of the ocean in bathing suits much better suited to the drawing room, except for their length, than to the living deep. But for all these visions, practical or impractical, Newport is the place to find the ultra smart in summer clothes.

At Bailey's Beach in the morning may be seen stunning tailored and cutting clothes, and wraps. All white is used a great deal, and yellow in every known shade of the dyer's art. Sleeveless basques in yellow taffeta are worn over white long sleeved blouses of net or tulle.

Some bodices are all white tulle or net with lace cut low in the front with a sailor collar and high crushed ruffles of silk to match the color of the skirt.

The style of waists which have sash ends attached are very much the rage as well as the wide Vogue for sashes or girdles, which are crushed over the hips and tie in the back. These are worn with skirts having the long tucks or double skirts.

For evening wear black tulle over satin is used extensively. The satin is usually of black or of white, and sometimes colored. A bit of blue or yellow is often used at the belt to give the desired color touch.

Dancing dresses are made of white tulle with pleated ruffle and tucks. Roman striped in light colors, such as light blue, green, and pink are worn with these dresses. They are tied deep over the hips, with a waist-like flowing tunic below. These dresses are all very simple, mostly made of some gauzy fabric like chiffon, tulle, net, or organdy, and no lace. Very large flowers are placed at the belt, sometimes being the only color on the costume.

Skirts of the elaborate influence are trimmed with ruffles of lace and have an excess of material attached. What would our great grandmothers say to such a combination?

Cape Coat and Pleated Skirt are in Fashion's Foremost Rank.

Capes of every description are used and are made of all sorts of materials from flannel to broadcloth, and felle silk. These are sometimes lined and sometimes not, often finished merely with a lining of braid in black or the color of the cape. The smartest ones are short in front and long in the back, with deep collars. Gossamer and velvet are also used for these capes and for other wraps this summer. They sound hot, but in reality are light in weight and soft and supple in their texture.

The striking cape suit in my illustration is made of serge and voile. The cape is made with a vest having long sleeves. On to this vest is attached the rippling cape. Three large onyx buttons fasten the vest. The collar, cuffs and lining of the cape are of white charmeuse. The skirt is made with a fitted yoke of the serge and the long pleated lower-section of pleated blue voile which has a pin stripe of white. All in all the costume is a stunning example of the tailored cape suit.

Negligees follow the costume style closely and are made with cape and basque effects. The long loose line of the moyen age are distinctively suited to the loose comfort of these garments. Another style well suited to the young woman fond of ultra effects, even in the privacy of her bedroom, is the Turkish trouser negligee. These are made of crepe de chine or heavy China silk and closely resemble the pajama.

Petticoats are coming to their own again and are being made with deeper flounces and somewhat wider at the hem. The summer tubbable petticoats are made of nainsook and longcloth with a single flounce of embroidery, with so little fullness in it, that it seems no fuller than the skirt. A petticoat of material resembling pique, but not quite as heavy with a plain scalloped edge is a practical petticoat for summer wear.

Underwear is being made of fine nainsook, longcloth, and crepe, but trimmed very little. Crepe de chine is a practical material for underwear, though a trifle more expensive than the French batiste, whose soft, fine qualities are so alluring to the eye.

Footing is used a great deal for trimming blouses, and crocheted or embroidered headings are extensively used to join seams.

165 Tourists Are Held Up.

Mammoth Hot Springs, Wyo.—The hold-up hold-up in the history of the West took place when two masked bandits held up forty-five stage coaches in Yellowstone Park and robbed the passengers of more than $4,000.

The robbers refrained from taking any jewels. They made their escape.

The hold-up occurred about 10 o'clock near Shoshone Point, between Old Faithful Inn and Thumb Latch Station. The 165 tourists were traveling through the part on forty-five stage coaches owned by the Yellowstone Park Transportation Company, the Yellowstone Western Stage Company, the Wylie Camping Company.

As each of the forty-five coaches reached the point of the hold-up, a lone highwayman, about 5 feet 8 inches in height and armed with a Winchester rifle, compelled the passengers to descend from the vehicle and deposit their money in a sack which the robbers had prepared for the purpose. The lone highwayman politely informed the disarmed passengers that he required "cash only."

The second highwayman had taken up a position a short distance down the trail, preventing the coaches from returning to Old Faithful Inn to give the alarm.

Lieut. Francis of the Yellowstone Western Stage Company, with Lieut. R. P. Padden and a party in one of the coaches somewhat behind the others, on coming to the top of Shoshone Point, saw in the road below the stages lined up and being robbed. Francis turned and made a lively retreat to Old Faithful, where he reported the hold-up to Col. Brent, Superintendent of the Park.

One man in the party reported to have had $1,000 discreetly dropped in a convenient place in the extended sack and got away in safety with the rest of his money.

Some of the passengers who had cameras and who had somewhat regained their nerve asked for leave to take pictures of the hold up. The bandits agreed and several passengers took photographs.

After an hour's delay the bandits consented to the coaches proceeding and Thumb Latch Station was reached about an hour later, none of the 165 passengers having suffered any physical injury. The robbers had cut the wires to the Yellowstone Park Hotel before starting the hold-up and some time elapsed before an alarm could be given.

The point at which the hold-up occurred is the wildest in Yellowstone Park, thickly timbered on both sides of the road with lodge pole pines. It is impossible to see any distance. The bandits went into the timber and headed for Black Horse Canyon in the Jackson Hole country.

PECULIAR AFTER EFFECTS OF GRIP THIS YEAR.

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition.

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root on receipt of ten cents to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

THE WICKED HUSBANDMEN.

MATTHEW 21:33-46.

33 Hear another parable: There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine press in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country:

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

39 And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When the lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

41 They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46 But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet.

GOLDEN TEXT:

"The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner." (Matt. 21:42.)

THE WICKED VINE-DRESSERS.

We must not forget that Jesus was in his own person both the Son of man and Son of God. He was the Brother of man, the Teacher of truth, duty, and right living, and he was also the Lord of life, the Ruler of nations, and the Author of Salvation for the whole race of man. His authority over man embraced the duty of every individual and the conduct of nations. In his teachings, therefore, he declared both how men who follow him ought to live and what the principles of the kingdom of God are in their fullness and completion. We have met in our studies many of the duties and privileges of those who call themselves by his name, and today we are to study the privileges of a nation in sharing his plans for the salvation of the whole world. The kingdom of God in the hands of men is the thought that runs through this parable.

THE STORY OF THE VINE-DRESSERS.

The owner of a vineyard built a stone wall to protect his vines from wild beasts, hewed a wine press out of stone, and erected a tower for the watchman to guard against thieves. When the vines were planted and everything made ready, he rented the vineyard to certain husbandmen, or vine-dressers, who bound themselves by contract to return him a certain portion of the fruit. At the proper season he sent his servants to receive the yield of the vines, but the vine-dressers took the servants and shamefully mistreated them. Some they beat, some they stoned, and some they killed. Finally the owner sent his son, thinking surely they would treat his son and heir with the respect due one of full authority. But the vine-dressers agreed among themselves that if they destroyed the son the vineyard would become their own, since there was no one else to claim the possession of it. But could they really expect to claim the vineyard by such measures? The Jews who listened to the story said that the owner of the vineyard would not quietly submit to such injustice. He would come with power and remove the vine-dressers and put the vineyard into the hands of others who would give an account of it according to the purpose of the owner.

THE MEANING OF THE PARABLE.

The vineyard is the kingdom of God, the owner is God, and the vine-dressers are the Jews. Just as the lord of the vineyard made every preparation for the welfare of his vineyard, so God had prepared the Jews for the care of his kingdom. By his care and protection and unfailing love he made of the Jewish nation a people peculiar in religious life and fitted through knowledge of his will, to extend the kingdom of salvation over all the earth. But just as the vine-dressers mistreated the servants that came for the fruit of the vineyard, so the Jews had mistreated the prophets and teachers who came from God. The vine-dressers said: "We will destroy the son and make the vineyard our own." So the Jews finally said of the Son of God: "We will destroy him, and the blessings of salvation through knowledge of God will be ours alone." What, therefore, will the lord of the vineyard do unto those husbandmen? The Jews who heard Jesus themselves gave the answer: "He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons."

THE TRUST REMOVED.

Without knowing it, the Jews pronounced sentence upon themselves and their nation. Jesus called their attention to an old tradition in their national life which declared that when the builders of the temple in Solomon's time found a stone which seemed to fit nowhere they discovered finally a place for which it was intended, at the very top of the corner. That old proverb was embodied in the devotional literature of the people (Psalms 118:22-23), and Jesus now declared that he was that capstone, disregarded, but destined to honor and praise. Whoever should stumble over that stone should be broken to pieces, but whoever should be rolled under it should be ground to powder. This was a fearful threat, and the Jews who heard Jesus were not slow to comprehend it. They had been forced to confess that the glory should be taken away from them by a divine act and the Gentiles, whom they despised, put in their place of trust.

WHAT IS A NATION'S DUTY.

God does not bestow his gifts to be selfishly used. He does many things for a man to prepare him for a larger service, and he calls upon that man to convey a blessing to another man. God blesses a nation by a nation. It is not possible to think that a nation possesses wealth, honor, security, an influence in the destiny of civilization without an obligation to the less favored nations. It is not possible to suppose that our great nation possesses its marvelous resources for its own use and the progress of its own citizens. The nation is a part of the kingdom of God, and it does not fulfill its mission as a nation unless it makes the affairs of the kingdom of God its first and most serious obligation. Failing to do this, it stumbles over the Capstone of nations and shall be broken to pieces. If our nation does not perform its spiritual obligation to the world, it will be removed and its place given to another. But if it is, true to its trust, God will honor it as a faithful servant in the promotion of the Kingdom of his Son.

Summer Constipation Dangerous.

Constipation in Summer-time is more dangerous than in the fall, winter or spring. The food you eat is often contaminated and is more likely to ferment in your stomach. Then you are apt to drink much water during the hot weather, thus injuring your stomach. Colic, Fever, Typhoid, Poisoning and other ills are natural results. Po-Do-Lax will keep you well, as it increases the Bile, the natural laxative, which rids the bowels of the congested poisonous waste. Po-Do-Lax will make you feel better. Pleasant and effective. Take a dose to-night. 50c. at your Druggist.

Cline-Ingle.

At Asheville, Aug. 10.—The parlors of the Clifford Hotel at Greensboro were the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding this morning at 7:30 o'clock, when Miss Mary Gussie Ingle became the bride of Mr. Alvin Wade Cline. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Andrew, president of Catawba College, Newton. Only a few friends and relatives were present. Immediately after the ceremony they boarded No. 11 for a trip to Blowing Rock and other summer resorts in the mountains. They will return in ten days and be at home at Asheboro.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Ingle, of Elm College. Her education was received at Eion College and upon its completion she accepted an important position with the Greensboro Daily News, which she filled admirably for several years. In the fall of 1911 she was elected as teacher of shorthand, typewriting and bookkeeping in Catawba College, Newton, which position she filled with credit to herself and the institution. It was while she was teaching there that Mr. Cline, who was then local editor and business manager of the Catawba County News, met her. It was a fitting culmination to the courtship of these young people that the president of the college should perform the ceremony.

Mr. Cline is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cline, of Conover, Catawba County, and is a rising young newspaper man, now holding the position of associate editor and business manager of the Asheboro Courier, Asheboro, N. C. He did his first newspaper work on the Hickory Democrat three years ago which was at that time owned and edited by Howard A. Banks, now private secretary to the Secretary of the Navy. Later, he went to the Catawba County News at Newton and from there to Asheboro, where he has been at work on The Courier for the past three months.

The marriage of these two popular young people will be a distinct surprise to their many friends throughout the state, all of whom will join in wishing them much happiness.

The following announcement was received in the city Tuesday:

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Ingle announce the marriage of their daughter

Gussie Mary

to

Mr. Alvin Wade Cline

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, on the 24th day of May, 1914, our beloved P. [Name] and Fellow-Member, A. F. [Name], departed this life; and whereas, in his death this class has lost one of its most faithful members, the Church one of its most loyal supporters and the State one of its most upright and virtuous citizens; and whereas, the members of the Baraca Class of First Street Methodist Church do most deeply deplore the loss of our beloved fellow-member: Now, therefore, be it resolved:

First:—That we do most heartily commend his life and character to all those who would attain to the full measure of Christian manhood. As a friend, he was faithful and true. As a citizen, he was always upright, he was always upright and patriotic. As a Christian, by the manner of his life and conduct, he always reflected honor and credit upon the Church and did all in his power to support her institutions and to advance the cause of Christ upon the earth. Under the difficulties of ailing health, he made great sacrifices in order to attend the meetings of this class and of the Church. He was always meek and humble, and the Christian virtues of his life were most worthy like those of the lowly Nazarene. He lived in kind deeds and not in vain professions, and in his death, our class has lost one of its most faithful members.

Second:—That we tender our sincerest sympathy to the bereaved members of his family and to his relatives and commend them to the consolation of the Christian faith.

Third:—That our secretary be instructed to spread these resolutions upon the minutes of the class and to hand a copy of them to The Twice-A-Week Dispatch and the Burlington News with request to publish.

T. L. CURLEE,

President.

C. D. STORY,

Secretary.
