WILL REMAIN IN ORIENT

Japan Will Aid her Ally Only in China Sea--French Loss at Dinant Severe--Montnegrins Are in Bosnia--Great Britain Moves Forces Silently.

FRENCH OUST GERMANS

Wounded Germans Reach Berlin With Story of Brilliant Sortie--Batteries Captured--Teutons Outnumbered and Their Fees Strongly Entrenched--Fought in Hot Sun--Fight Between Ships--French Loss Is Heavy--Austrian Fight Montenegrins in Fierce Battle.

That the Germans are forcing their war through Belgium is indicated by the Brussels report that German cavalry; that measures for the defense of air is parading the Belgian Cap-Brussels are being hastened and that the seat of Government has been removed to Antwerp.

The British press bureau announces that any action which Japan may take against Germany will not extend beyond the China Sea, except for the protection of Japanese shipping.

The British War Council has decided to exclude correspondents from the forces in the field and it is announced that the French War Department intends to take the same action and probably war correspondents in Belgium will be ordered out of that State.

The German Emperor, the Crown Prince and two other Imperial Princes are now at the great fortress of Mianz. The Emperor's departure from Berlin for the front has evoked enthusiasm in the German capital.

The Brazilian Government has instructed its Minister at Berlin to ask for explanations and the punishment of those guilty of the alleged attack by German soldiers on Bernardino Campos, ex-President of the State of Sao Paulo and his wife who are reported to have been beaten and forced across the Swiss frontier.

Several Austrian Army corps, according to advices from Vienna, have invaded Russia, and the Russian advance in Galicia has been checked. Brussels admits that the French casualties in the fighting between Namur and Dinant were heavy, as the Germans were strongly entrenched and their artillery caused great havoc.

The British official news bureau says the French fleet in the Mediterranean has made a sweep up the Adriatic as far as Cattro. Four Austrian warships are reported to have been sunk.

Montenegrin troops have crossed the Bosnia frontier and occupied the town of Tchaintza after a fierce battle. They are also credited with capturing eight Austrian blockhouses and several villages.

The British military and naval movements are still shrouded in mystery.

JAPAN PROTECT EASTERN SHIPPING.

San Francisco, August 17.--"The Japanese fleet will protect American and Japanese merchantment in Asiatic Waters," declared Y. Numana, Japanese Consul General here today in discussing the possibilities of hostilities between Japan and Germany. "American trade with the Orient will not be endangered."

"Japan is 10 times as strong in the Orient as Germany," he added.

WILL STAY IN ORIENT.

London, Aug. 17.--10:32 p. m.--

The following statement was issued tonight by the British official press bureau:

"Any action Japan takes against Germany will not extend beyond the China seas except in so far as may be necessary to protect Japanese shipping lines."

HALTED BY BRITISH.

Boston, Aug. 17.--3:10 p. m.--The liner Marquette, with 113 passengers from the European war zone, arrived tonight from Antwerp. She was halted six times on the voyage by British warships. Three times she was brought to by shots across her bow, the last time within a short distance of Boston light, at 6 o'clock tonight.

TURKS IN GREECE.

London, Aug. 17.--3:10 p. m.--Official dispatches say Greece has received information that Turkish troops are crossing Bulgarian territory and marching in the direction of Greece. The Hellenic government in consequence of these reports has notified Turkey that if this news should be confirmed corresponding military and naval measures will be taken immediately by Greece.

Berlin, via Copenhagen and London, Aug. 17.--2:15 a. m.--German wounded who have arrived here tell of the battle at Logarde. The fighting lasted seven hours under a burning sun. The Germans were opposed by far superior forces, strongly entrenched. The German artillery fire was brilliant, two dangerous French batteries quickly were taken.

FIGHT BETWEEN SHIPS.

London, Aug. 18.--2 a. m.--A Paris dispatch to The Daily Telegraph, says:

"It is reported here, that an engagement between a British and a German warship has occurred off the Canary Islands. It is stated that a German cruiser has been sunk and also that a British cruiser has captured a German ship containing munitions of war."

The British official news bureau has no confirmation of these reports.

FRENCH LOST HEAVILY.

London, Aug. 17.--5:35 p. m.--A Brussels dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says the French casualties in the fighting between Namur and Dinant were heavy as the Germans were strongly entrenched and their artillery at the outset played havoc with the French.

The French wing at Dinant had been badly cut up and nearly routed when suddenly the strains of the Marseillaise resounded in the French lines and the men rallied and reformed. With splendid gallantry they charged, hurling themselves on the German troops breaking through their lines and putting them to flight.

AUSTRIANS FIGHT MONTENEGRINS.

London, Aug. 17.--7 p. m.--In a dispatch from Cetinje, Montenegro, the correspondent of Reuter's News Agency says Montenegrin forces have been engaged the last two days with a strong detachment of Austrian troops near Grahavo. The Montenegrin casualties in dead and wounded were 45. On August 16 the Austrians attacked the Western frontier of Montenegro from Krivosije to Grahavo; at the same time Austrian vessels bombarded the Montenegrin position at Lovien.

MONTENEGRINS CAPTURE VILLAGES.

London, Aug. 17.--5:05 p. m.--A dispatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Company says the Montenegrin troops have crossed the Bosnian frontier and occupied the town of Tchaintza after a fierce battle.

The dispatch adds that the Montenegrins have captured eight Austrian blockhouses in Herzegovina between Bilek and Trebinje. They have also occupied seven villages near Trebinje and have taken 12 Austrian officers prisoner.

SEA FIGHT CONFIRMED.

Rome, via London, Aug. 17.--5:15 p. m.--Confirmation of the naval fight in the Adriatic is given in a dispatch from Cetinje to the Courier d'Italia today which says the Austrian battle Zrinyi and three other battleships whose names could not be ascertain were sunk by the French fleet. A great number of French and English warships are said to be patrolling the coast.

IMMIGRATION HALVED BY WAR.

Washington, Aug. 17.--War's effect upon immigration into the United States was indicated today by official figures showing a decrease of more than 50 per cent. in the number of aliens coming in during the first half of August compared with the same days last year.

Paris, Aug. 14.--The Journal tonight states that it is absolutely certain that Japan will declare war on Germany.

Brussels, Aug. 14.--Italy has ordered all its reservists in Belgium to report to Italian consuls incident to Italy's mobilization to preserve her neutrality.

Southampton, Aug. 14.--A number of wounded soldiers have arrived here from Belgium. Identification is lacking, but they are thought to be troops which were engaged in the fighting at Liege.

London, August 14.--Montenegrin troops with the aid of the inhabitants of Hertafava are successfully invading Austria, whose blockade of Montenegrin coast has practically ceased according to a dispatch from Rome.

Paris, Aug. 14.--It is officially announced that a union has been formed between the French and Belgian armies. An exchange of officers has been effected in order that the two armies may work in perfect accord.

Paris, August 14.--The war office states that two companies of the 18th Bavaria Infantry was surprised by French troops at Chambley and put to flight leaving a "fairly large number of dead and wounded."

Rome, August 14.--Official advices from St. Petersburg confirm reports of a disastrous defeat suffered by the Austrians at the hands of the Russians at Tuzora on the river Dneister. Four regiments of infantry and one of cavalry were cut to pieces.

Paris, August 14.--Field Marshal Sir John French, commander in chief of the English field army, joined Gen. Joffre, the French commander in chief at headquarters today, according to a report received here. The locality was not mentioned. A large body of French troops have entered Belgium and are marching from Charleroi to Gembloux, ten miles northwest of Namur, an official announcement says.

London, Aug. 14.--A Central News dispatch from Brussels says that it is reported there that Gen. Von Emmich, the German commander of the forces in Belgium, committed suicide after being rebuked by the German general's staff for his operations at Liege. The report is doubted here.

Killed by Bandits. Pay Roll Missing.

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 14.--Jos. Shelter, paymaster of the Glen Alum Coal & Coke Co., at Glen Alum, West Virginia; Dr. W. D. Anick, company physician and F. D. Johnson, company electrician, were shot to death today by bandits who took the pay roll of $15,000 and escaped.

The three company employes received the money from a Norfolk & Western train at Glen Alum and started for the mines three miles away on a velocipede car. Traveling salesman walking to the mine, found the car, with the pay roll gone a mile from the station. Two of the men were dead. The third, mortally wounded, said they had been attacked by four Italians.

Posses were sent from here and Bluefield.

Boy Hurt by Automobile.

Harvey Jeffries, the 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jeffries, of Route 3, was seriously hurt by an automobile driven by Hurley Vanderford Sunday. The boy's left leg was broken and he was otherwise injured. The boy was in the ditch just a few steps in front of the machine when by some means the machine became uncontrollable and ran into the ditch, running over the boy's leg and breaking the bone just above the knee. The accident was unavoidable and Mr. Vanderford regrets the accident very deeply.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our many friends who were so kind to us in the accident to our son, Harvey. We assure you every act was appreciated to its fullest extent and we ask God's blessing upon each and every one.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jeffries.

Mr. George W. Vestal, a prosperous and well-to-do farmer of Coble's Township, also Chairman of the Republican County Committee, was in town Saturday conferring, with his party friends and later attended the County Convention.

NEGRO KILLS ENTIRE FAMILY.

Sets Fire to Bungalow and Kills the Occupants as They Fleo From the Burning Structure.

Spring Green, Wis., Aug. 15.--A mad negro armed with a hand axe today ended the life of Mamah Bouton Borthwick, formerly Mrs. Edwin H. Cheney, of Oak Park, Ill. and Frank Lloyd Wright, wealthy Chicago architect, with whom she had lived as a wife since 1911.

Setting fire to the elaborate bungalow built by Wright for Mrs. Borthwick here after his estrangement from his wife, the negro stood outside and attempted to brain Mrs. Borthwick and eight other occupants of the building, members of the family and employes, as they fled from the flames. He ended Mrs. Borthwick's life and the lives of two others, probably fatally injuring three, and seriously wounding the remainder.

Mr. Borthwick is said to have reprimanded the man, Julian Carlton, chef in his kitchen. He brooded over this, it is thought and became insane. Carlton disappeared after the killing, but after a search of several hours had been made for him, reappeared and surrendered. He was hurried into an automobile and rushed to the Iowa county jail, 18 miles away.

DISPLAYS FIENDISH INGENUITY.

The dead are: Mrs. Mamah Bouton Borthwick, John Borthwick Cheney, her 13-year-old son, and Emil Burdell, 36, draughtsman.

The fatally injured are: David Lindblum, a gardener, Ernest Weston, 19, farm hand, Tom Brunkhead, laborer, and Martha Borthwick Cheney, Mrs. Borthwick's 10-year-old daughter.

The seriously injured are: William Weston, carpenter, and Terbert Fritz, Carlton, with his wife, had been in Wright's employ about four months, coming here from Chicago. Carlton's wife was found dazed after the tragedy, walking along the highway, and was taken into custody. She denied participation in the affair.

The negro displayed fiendish ingenuity in arranging his victims for the slaughter. All were in the dining room when he lighted a rug soaked in gasoline in front of the door, according to William Weston, the least seriously hurt. In a moment the room was in flames. One means of egress, a window, was left.

MRS. BORTHWICK WAS FIRST.

Mrs. Borthwick was the first to put her head through the window. The negro, waiting outside, struck her down with one blow, crushing her skull. He then dragged her body out and waited for the next. Little John Cheney followed. His head was split open. Then Burdell fell.

"As each put his head out," said Weston, "the negro struck, killing or stunning his victim. I was the last. The ax struck me in the neck and knocked me down, but left me conscious. It got up and ran, the negro after me. Then I fell and he hit me again."

By this time, Weston said the bungalow was in flames.

The fire was confined to the bungalow and when it had been controlled neighbors, many of whom formerly had been bitter against Mrs. Borthwick, joined the posse in search of the murderer.

MR. WRIGHT PROSTRATED.

Chicago, Aug. 15.--Frank Lloyd Wright was in his office when he received a long distance telephone message informing him of the tragedy. He was prostrated and declined to discuss it. Later he left for Spring Green.

Wright is one of the best known architects in the central States. He was estranged from his wife several years ago after a scandal which linked his name with that of Mrs. Mamah Borthwick Cheney, wife of a neighbor in Oak Park, suburb. Later Cheney obtained a divorce.

Two years ago Wright built a bungalow at Spring Green, Wis., which was called "Love's Cottage," by the neighbors, and the architect and Mrs. Cheney were reported to have made frequent visits to the house in the woods.

The affair of the Wright and Cheney family first became public in 1909 when Mrs. Cheney and Wright went to Europe. On their return Mrs. Cheney did not go to her home in Oak Park, where she had left her children and her husband. Wright, however, went to his family and reports of forgiveness were current.

DIVIDING WALL TORN DOWN.

A wall separating the Wright home into two apartments was erected. Mrs. Wright occupied one and Wright the other. The children divided their time with the parents. Then, after a month or so, a reconciliation was effected and the dividing wall torn down.

Cheney brought suit for divorce, charging desertion and August 5, 1911, an absolute decree was granted. Mrs. Cheney made no defense and Wright's name was not mentioned.

Shortly before Christmas Wright's bungalow at Spring Green, Wis., was completed and just before the holidays, turning their trip a "spiritual healing" Mrs. Cheney and Wright left together for Wisconsin. During Christmas week Wright issued public statements defending his course in leaving his Oak Park home.

Mrs. Wright took no steps toward a divorce but with her children, the object of whom is now a man grown, remained at home in the Chicago suburb.

Cheney was re-married in 1912. About this time the two Cheney children, Martha and John, joined Mrs. Cheney at the Spring Green home and have since lived there.

Gudger Wins in the 10th Over Reynolds.

Asheville, Aug. 15.--Incomplete returns from the district indicate that J. M. Gudger, Jr., has won over R. L. Reynolds in the second congressional primary held today throughout the 10th district by good majorities. A landslide in Buncombe gave Gudger about 700 majority. Reynolds carried the county by 200 last May. Reynolds carried Asheville by 30 votes.

At Reynolds' headquarters it was stated he had carried Henderson, Polk and Rutherford and lost Transylvania, Swain and Buncombe. Throughout the district interest in the primary was lacking. No serious disorder was reported from any section, the election in Asheville being the quietest held in many years. Reynolds' former strength was lacking in nearly every county heard from.

With three counties in the district to hear from, the results from which could not change the result, Mr. Gudger wins by a majority ranging from 200 to 1,200.

THE WEDDING FEAST.

MATTHEW 22:1-14.

1 And Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said.

2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding; and they would not come.

4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

6 And the remnant took his servants and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7 But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth; and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

9 Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless.

13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 For many are called, but few are chosen.

THE KING'S MARRIAGE FEAST.

In our lesson last Sunday we were told in the most solemn manner that the Jews were about to be deprived of their trust as keepers of the Lord's vineyard and their places given to another nation. But our Lord does not lightly renounce the nation that had kept alive the knowledge of God through the ages and that had given him his own human nature in the flesh. He yearned over them as a father yearns over his own son, and even yet he would save them to a greater and more glorious mission if they would heed his invitation. He came as God's last Messenger, reminding those who had already been invited to a wedding feast to hasten to the King's palace, where the King's Son was about to be married. Their places were kept for them until the very last moment, and the King would gladly receive them. Under the figure of a wedding feast Jesus appealed to the sense of courtesy and honor which so nearly touches the heart of Eastern people. Their God and King dealt with them as courteously as they dealt with one another in their social life.

THE INVITATION REFUSED.

Every detail of the parable of the marriage feast was familiar to the Jews. Invitations were sent in advance of the day; and, according to the custom of the times, receiving that invitation was equivalent to a promise to attend. When the wedding day drew near servants were sent with the second invitation. This was courtesy, and to reject it was the grossest insult; on some occasions it was almost in itself a declaration of war.

With all this courtesy the king in the story treated his subjects. He omitted nothing that would appeal to their sense of decorum and good grace. But his subjects valued lightly the king's kindness and favor. Some went about their business as usual, some mistreated the royal messengers, and some even set upon them and killed them. Their conduct displayed not only a strange lack of good breeding, but a spirit of defiance and lawlessness that made them dangerous to the peace of the kingdom. The anger of the king, therefore, was terribly aroused, and he sent his armed men against the murderers and utterly destroyed them. The men who heard this parable would not question in their mind the justice of this punishment.

NEW GUESTS INVITED.

But the day of the marriage of the prince had arrived, and everything was ready for the joyful event. Guests were necessary to do honor to the occasion and to demonstrate the king's authority over his realm. He sent out his servants into the highways to gather in as many as they could find, both bad and good, in order that the wedding might have the proper setting. These good and bad persons on the highways were truly a part of the king's realm; and although they were not used to royal customs, they did not disgrace the king's banquet hall. They had a right to their place at the king's table.

The King is God, and the Prince is Jesus the Son of God. The wedding feast is the kingdom of God established on the earth. The subjects who were first invited to the feast were the Jews, but they refused the invitation to give glory to God in the consummation of his plans through the ages, and they heaped insults upon the messengers of God who came with the appeal from Heaven. The Gentiles were then invited to assist in founding the kingdom of God. It had always been God's purpose to include the Gentiles in his realm of grace, and there was room in the King's palace for both Jew and Gentile. It was only the stubbornness of the Jews that deprived them of their place of chief honor around the banquet table of redeemed nations.

THE WEDDING GARMENT.

The new guests in the king's banquet hall were men from the highways, and it was the king's bounty and graciousness that provided them; the means of appearing at the marriage feast in becoming apparel. The honor to the son, who was about to establish a new kingdom among men, made it impossible to encourage insolence or levity. The king provided wedding garments for the men from the dusty highways.

When the king came in to greet his new guests, a man was found without a wedding garment. He regarded the wedding feast as an occasion for his own pleasure and had no heart to honor the king or to dignify the son. His fellow guests were ashamed at his selfish behavior, and he conferred no honor upon any one by his presence. The king said to him: "Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment?" He had no answer, because the garment was provided by the king himself. Then the king commanded his servants to cast him out into the darkness.

What does the wedding garment mean? Simply this: We who approach the King's presence must honor the King. It is a sin to come flippantly and carelessly into God's presence. God himself requires a clean heart and pure conduct, and without these virtues nothing else we can claim for ourselves will be of any importance.

Our nation has been called to a great and honored place in the affairs of the world, to declare among the nations the truth of God's supremacy and his readiness to save. But no one of us can claim any special favors from the God of all the earth unless our own heart is perfect and right before him.

The man without a wedding garment was only one detail in a great picture. Our Lord was teaching the wonderful truth of the transfer of trust and opportunity from a nation that had been unfaithful to one that would prove trustworthy. His purposes were summed up in that divine conception called the kingdom of God, and the setting up of that kingdom on the earth was an act as sacred and beautiful as a wedding feast. The chosen nation was invited to share the glory of God, but when that nation refused the Gentiles were called. But not all the Gentiles were given admission to that sacred consummation; only those who purified their hearts and humbled their spirits before God. The chosen people are those who know how to present to God a heart sincere, untainted, and full of praise.

QUESTIONS.

Show the relation between the parable we studied last Sunday and that before us today.

Can you detect in the study today the yearnings of Jesus over his own people, the Jews?

What was the wedding feast? Who were first invited? Why did they refuse? How did they treat the king's messengers?

Was this true to the history of Jewish life? Who were called to take the places of the rejected nation?

Who was the man without a wedding garment? How shall we avoid it? What is the place of trust and responsibility offered to our nation? How shall we meet our great national duties?

Women's Rights.

The rights of women, what are they? The right to labor, love and pray; The right to weep when others weep, The right to wake when others sleep.

The right to dry the falling tear, The right to quell the rising fear; The right to smooth the brow of care, And whisper comfort to despair.

The right to watch the parting breath, To sooth and cheer the bed of death; The right, when earthly hopes all fail, To point to that within the veil.

The right the wanderer to reclaim, And win the lost from paths of shame; The right to comfort and to bless The widow and the fatherless.

The right the little ones to guide In simple faith to Him who died, With earnest love and gentle praise, To bless and cheer their youthful days.

The right to live or those we love, The right to die, that love to prove; The right to brighten earthly homes With pleasant smiles and gentle tones.

Are these thy rights? Then use them well;

Thy silent influence none can tell, If these are thine, why ask for more? Thou hast enough to answer for.

Progressives in Middle West Tire of New Party—Cannon Opens the Campaign.

Desertions from the rank and file of the Progressive party to the Republicans continue, but the Progressive leaders remain true to their colors.

Former Speaker Cannon, in the formal announcement of his candidacy for reelection, lays blame for idle men in Illinois and other State at door of new tariff.

Indications are that no one party will be able to control the next Illinois general assembly.

Democratic factions in Wisconsin are engaged in a hot fight.

Judicial elections in Illinois indicate decided Republican gains.

Nebraska Republicans and Progressives apparently are completely reunited.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Dark developments in Europe have served to detract somewhat from the political battles in the middle West. Financial and commercial conditions have required close attention and the public generally, adjusting itself as speedily as possible to the rapid changes, has, for the moment, paid scant attention to politics. At the same time the war in Europe has emphasized the need of this country to have its ablest men in charge of national and state affairs.

Chief of recent political events in the West was the conference held in Chicago by the Republican chairmen from six States. All of them reported encouraging conditions in their States, saying the members who had strayed away in the wake of the bull moose movement were returning to the old colors. This applies only to the rank and file. The leaders, those who have harried themselves from the Republican ranks, and what is of more vital interest to them, from public office at the hands of Republican voters, are still off the reservation, hounding that the Republicans must come to them. Former Governor Charles S. Deneen, discussing this phase of the situation, dubbed these leaders the "Democratic Aid Society." Especial attention was given the congressional situation and plans were laid to recapture many seats lost in the landslide of 1912. Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio and Michigan were represented and West Virginia also sent a delegate to get a line on the situation in the West.

ELECTIONS SHOW CHANGES.

Some idea of changing conditions in Illinois was given by the judicial elections recently held in two districts of which Urbana and Joliet are the centers. In the Urbana, or Sixth district, Frank H. Boggs, Republican, was elected by a plurality of 2,000 over his Democratic opponent, the Progressive candidate finishing a very poor third. In the Joliet district, A. W. Deselm, of Kankakee, Republican, was elected by a plurality of nearly 4,000 over the strongest man the Democrats could name, and also who had hard work carrying his own county. The Progressives did not nominate, but are supposed, as far as their leaders could use their influence, to have supported the Democrat.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, former Speaker, has made his formal announcement of candidacy for Congress from the Eighteenth Illinois congressional district. In his statement he called attention to the large number of idle men in this and other States and laid the blame at the door of the new tariff law. He declared his unfaltering belief in a protective tariff and added: "The Republican party has ever been, and is now, a progressive party, but it stands for progress on sanity, not on hysteria flavored with demagoguery. We are trying the President's Democratic policy. If you like it choose a Democratic House in November next. If you don't like it, return a Republican House that will tie the hands of the President in dictating further destructive legislation."

LEGISLATIVE DEADLOCK POSSIBLE.

Students of political conditions in Illinois do not see where any party has more than a remote chance to control the State Legislature. They figure that another deadlock is inevitable. The Democrats will nominate at least ten fewer candidates for the House than they did two years ago. Republicans will nominate four fewer in Cook county, but will have at least two additional down State. The Progressives alone will increase their quota of nominees. Two years ago the Democrats were able to elect only seventy-two house members, or five short of a majority, under the most favorable conditions. At that time the party had ninety-two nominees. This fall they will have eighty-two nominees and there is no landslide in sight except one that threatens to engulf them. This means they are up against the impossible task of electing all but five of their nominees to gain control. The Republicans had ninety-one nominees two years ago, but only fifty-two emerged from the landslide. This year they expect to do very much better, but admit they cannot gain control. The Progressives elected 26 representatives two years ago with only 29 candidates in the field. This time they will have at least 53 nominees and predict the election of most of them. If successful, they will cut into the Republican and Democratic strength in about equal proportion. The Democrats will probably capture the senate for the first time in many years. There now is a tri-partisan deadlock in the senate as well as in the house, but the Democrats need only two additional senators to dominate the situation.

FIGHT IN DEMOCRATIC RANKS.

The fight between the Davies-Aylward and the Karel-Carpenter factions of the Democratic party in Wisconsin over the nomination and election of a United States Senator and a State ticket has been intensified by a statement issued by J. E. Davies, commissioner of corporations in Washington and a national committeeman of Wisconsin. Mr. Davies, in his statement, recounts his efforts to induce Judge J. C. Karel, of Milwaukee, to withdraw as a candidate for governor, and urging the Democrats to support J. A. Aylward for governor and P. O. Husting for United States Senator. Mr. Davies makes no mention of T. M. Kearney, of Racine, candidate for United States Senator on the Karel ticket. All this means a hot fight in the Democratic ranks, which the Republicans view with equanimity.

The campaign in Indiana this fall will have so much national significance that the Democratic State Committee is making an effort to bring the President into the State to defend his position. The Secretary of State has already been engaged to tour the State in a special train, and other big oratorical guns will be swung into action. When one considers the remarkable change in the vote at Gary and Indiana Harbor, the great industrial centers of the State, this anxiety on the part of the Democrats is very clear. Both these points, which went heavily Democratic in 1912, have almost completely swung back to the Republican column, their latest primaries showing 92 per cent. Republican.

REPUBLICANS TO PRESS CAMPAIGN.

The Republican leaders, with this encouraging sign as a starter, will flood the State with brilliant speakers, armed with statistics. Secretary Henley of the district speakers' bureau estimates that between 300 and 300 Indiana Republicans alone would take the stump, to make no mention of the outsiders. The Bull Moose have Senator Beveridge with them at all times, but they are trying to arrange for a Roosevelt tour. The Republicans will open their headquarters and campaign the first week in September and the Democrats will make their formal declaration of war about one week later and open hostilities along the line. For a "off" year, Indiana is in a fair way to see some of the liveliest sort of political fireworks.

Nebraska, with its appetite whetted by the various conventions, is preparing for the state-wide primary, August 26. Under the laws of the State, all conventions must be held on the same date and thirty days thereafter the primaries of all parties must take place. The conventions were of more than usual importance. The Populists were called upon to decide whether they should disband entirely and scatter as individuals to other parties or continue their organization. After an all-day wrangle in which much hot air was spilled, they determined to keep their party organization, but to put no candidates in the field. In each county they will fuse with the Democrats, taking their chances on what crumbs drop from the Democratic table if the latter are successful.

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS UNITED.

Nebraska Republicans, who had been badly split for two years, appear to have healed the breach with the Progressives and are putting up a solid front, with excellent prospects for success. These chances are greatly enhanced by the old and bitter fight between the factions in the Democratic ranks, headed by the Secretary of State and Senator Hitchcock. Hitchcock comes up for re-election as senator two years hence and very much desired to name the officers of the State committee, or at least wanted men named who would be friendly to his cause, but the Secretary of State and his brother, who represents him, announced they would oppose any such plan, and the fight goes on, more bitter than ever, all of which is not displeasing to the Republicans.

The Nebraska moosers, the irreconcilable branch, whose motto is to rule or ruin, also held their convention. It was announced that they would have nominees for every office from United States Senator down to village dogpelter, but the fact is that in more than half the counties not a single moosener has filed for office and the time for filing candidacies has passed. In fourteen additional counties not more than one or two mooseners have filed, and in five counties the moosers have endorsed the regular Republican candidates.

Leaders of all parties in the West are anxiously watching the results in Maine this year, as giving a definite line on the extent that the moose vote has dwindled. There is no question it is fading in the West and in some States has reached the vanishing point.—Washington Post.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Burlington Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pain that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Keeping the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. P. King, 1016 Dixie St., Burlington, N. C., says: "I had nervous headaches, my back hurt me and I had pains when I lifted anything. The kidney action was quite irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills removed this trouble and made my back strong."

Mrs. King is only one of many Burlington people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. King had—the remedy backed by honest testimony. 50c. all stores. N. Foster, shoemaker, Mill Street, Graham, N. C., says: "I am never without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house. I know that they are the best kidney remedy to be had. I was rheumatic. My joints and back were stiff and lame and my kidneys acted irregularly. The kidney secretions contained sediment and were painful in passage. Finally, I took Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me more good than anything else I had ever used." The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Foster is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Foster had. 50c. all stores. AGREE ON CREDITS PLAN.

Congress of Growers Adjourn After Voting on Means—Would Issue Notes.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The Southern Cotton Congress after endorsing various plans for the relief of the crisis in the cotton market resulting from the European war, concluded its sessions here tonight. The congress authorized various committees to co-operate with the Federal and State authorities in their efforts to enable the cotton grower to weather the financial storm and secure a fair price for the present cotton crop.

After endorsing the work so far done by the Southern representatives in Congress in the matter of furnishing transportation for the export trade, and providing currency to finance the crop, the congress endorsed a bill introduced in the House by Representative Wingo, of Arkansas, authorizing the issuance of Federal reserve notes on cotton.

Later the report from the resolutions committee was adopted outlining a plan to meet the entire situation. This provided for the appointment of a committee of five members to co-operate with Congress, the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Board to seek means of financing and marketing the crop, without unnecessary loss to the farmer.

The report recommended that all growers hold cotton of the present crop for the price of 12 1-2 cents a pound, based on middling cotton.

It urged the Federal Reserve Board and the Secretary of the Treasury to place $200,000,000 in the hands of the South, on the basis of the cotton produced in each State. It then proposed that every farmer should have the right to go to his bank and secure a loan on notes maturing in six months, secured by his cotton on one-half of the crop he raised, to eighty per cent. of the value of the cotton, based on the average price for the last five years.

These notes the report recommended should be made rediscountable in the Federal Reserve banks.

As originally presented the report recommended that the notes contain a stipulation that the farmer would raise only half of a normal crop in 1915, and if the war was still in progress on April 1, should raise only one-quarter of his crop, thus holding down the 1915 production to prevent a glut caused by carrying over this year's surplus.

A vigorous discussion resulted on the striking out of this provision and recommended only that the farmer be urged to cut down his crop without stipulation in the proposed notes.

The report recommended that tobacco and other crops should be handled in the same way, in the discretion of the reserve board.

President E. J. Watson was authorized to appoint a committee to take up the question of providing warehouses to store such of the crop as will be held over till next year. He was also authorized to name a committee of a member from each cotton State, to call a State convention of nine delegates from each county representing farmers, merchants and bankers, to urge Governors to call special sessions of State Legislatures to immediately take up the question of installing State warehouse systems.

Representatives of the congress will remain in Washington to co-operate with the Southern representatives in Congress who are working out plans for legislative aid to the South.

"Originated 'Chew the Rag.'"

"Chewing the Rag" originated in Salisbury, in the printing office of the late J. J. Bruner, and the late James Vogler, who died this week in the State hospital at Morganton. An old resident relates that this expression originated with this old printer and that it came from the printing office of the late J. J. Bruner. A negro, it is said, applied at the printing office where Vogler was working and asked for work of some kind. At that time Mr. Bruner, like many other printers, bought rags which he sold to paper mills and there was a great pile of these in the rear corner of the office and Vogler informed the negro that there was nothing to do but chew rags and he went to work chewing, for what purpose he knew not, the pile of rags. Mr. Bruner spied him and asked Vogler what that "nigger" was doing back there and was informed that the was "chewing the rag," and from that day this expression has been going the rounds until it is used all over the country. That was many years ago.—Salisbury Post.

Another Arrest in Drowning Tragedy.

Asheville, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Lizzie Robinson, a resident of the vicinity of Hot Springs, N. C., was arrested yesterday and lodged in the Marshall jail on a warrant charging her with being connected with the drowning of Mrs. Ethel Woody, last Friday, according to the announcement of Sheriff Backner, when communicated with over the telephone by a representative of The Citizen. The arrest was made yesterday morning following the preliminary hearing given Mrs. Margaret Graham, charged with assault with a deadly weapon on the deceased. Mrs. Graham was held for trial at the next criminal term of the Madison county Superior court which convenes September 7. She was not allowed bail and was sent to jail to await trial.

The case was heard by Magistrate Lerney Fortner and occupied but a short time. The defense introduced no witnesses, and only one was put on the stand by the State. This was Miss Mary Woody, a sister of the deceased, whose evidence was sufficient for the magistrate to find probable cause in the case before him and issue the warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Robinson. The hearing in the case against Mrs. Robinson will be held Tuesday in the same court.

The drowning of Mrs. Woody occurred Friday morning, when she is alleged to have been attacked by Mrs. Graham, who fired at the deceased with a revolver, causing her to become so frightened that she ran into the French Broad river and drowned in an attempt to get away from the enraged woman, who was shooting at her.

WONT USE OFFICE TO AID THE COLONEL.

Hinman, Republican Aspirant for Governor of New York. Denies a Deal With T. R.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Emphatic denial that there had been any "trade, dicker, or deal" between himself and Colonel Roosevelt, or that he would use public office to further Mr. Roosevelt's nomination for President in 1916, was made by H. D. Hinman, of Binghamton, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, in an address before the Republican county convention in Plattsburg, late this afternoon.

"Mr. Roosevelt's support of my candidacy," said Mr. Hinman, "was given by him voluntarily, without the slightest solicitation from me, and carries with it no personal or political obligation of any kind on my part, either expressed or implied."

WONT AID ANY MAN'S AMBITION.

"Some fear that my nomination and election as governor will mean Mr. Roosevelt's nomination for President in 1916. I have no information of any kind that Mr. Roosevelt has any ambition for 1916. If he has such an ambition, the people of this State can rest assured, and I promise them, that if I be elected governor, that office will not be used to further any personal or political ambition of Mr. Roosevelt or of any other man, myself included."

Drank Carbolic Acid and Died.

Wilmington, Aug. 13.—Despondent because pretty Miss Ruth Southerland, of this city, would not marry him, Frank Robinson, aged 24, a railroad man of Charlottesville, Va., drank two ounces of carbolic acid, near the home of his sweetheart at six o'clock this morning, dying soon after.

The young lady after viewing the body of her rejected lover, in talking about the tragedy, asserted that "if that's the way love acts on a person, I don't want to be in love."

The young man, who first came here with a carnival some months ago, has been despondent since his mother's death about a month ago, and when on top of his bereavement, his sweetheart refused to marry him, he decided to end it all. He walked the entire night on Front and Wright streets, brooding over his misfortunes, and just after daylight this morning drank the poison that ended his life.

It Went Down His Neck.

An Ohio farmer took his generous prayers to a county fair in that State. As the party moved about the ground the father felt his fourth horn tugging at his coat tails. He turned and the youngster begged him to buy a certain toy.

"Buy it yourself," said the father. "Where's the dime I gave you a little while ago?"

"It's down my neck."

"Well, shake it out."

"But, father," protested the lad, "I can't. It was in my mouth when it went down."—Houston Times.

POOR

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

Chemise Frocks and Russian Tunics are Among the Standard Style Features.

The Plumb-Line Silhouette

New York, Aug. 15.—For the benefit of the vast army of England's blind a wonderful fancy dress ball was recently given. A wealthy man, himself blind, suggested the idea, and with sympathetic interest English society generously responded. The Savoy Hotel offered the use of its wonderful ballroom, a wealthy Scotchman sent the money for the supper, and others offered to defray other expenses until the costs of the ball were paid for and the entrance fees clear profit.

Like Solomon in all his glory came the beaux and bells of London town arrayed in cubist and futurist costumes, in Elizabethian ruff and Roman toga; but most prominent of all were the costumes of the early Victorian crinolines. Many ruffled skirts, over stiffly swinging hoops, and quaint old waists, with the then fashionable dropped shoulder lines, gave the student of Dame Fashion's whims and fancies an inkling of what the feminine mind is looking for in the near future. Surely it must mean that the women are tired of the tight skirts, if, when allowed the freedom as to choice of style, not one, nor two, but many turned toward the period when the greatest width of skirt was popular.

Not only in England was there a great social event which showed this tendency, but in Paris also a wonderful 'Pal en Crinoline' was given by the Duchesse de Guise, where all the costumes were of this period.

This does not mean, however, that we will necessarily have a revival of the early Victorian styles in all their quaint loveliness, for the woman of today is a widely different creature from the womanly home-maker of that generation. She is not less womanly, but she leads a different life; therefore, she will demand the styles suggested by that time, but made to suit her own life—one belonging to the period in which she lives. Nor will the new gowns resemble the old portraits of this fashion any more than did last year's panniers resemble the panniers of Louis XIV, from which the designs were taken.

A Desirable Coat on the New Little Lines Which are the Vogue.

However, the greatest thing to be dreaded in adapting this style is exaggeration, which, alas, is to be dreaded in all styles. Charming, indeed, are the ruffled skirts if their width is kept within bounds; but, if given the expansion allowed the early part of the last century, will only again prove to what lengths women will go for the sake of dress.

Mingling with these victorian suggestions are the long Russian tunics, which have held their own because of their many variations. Apron tunics scalloped tunics, tunics gradually narrowing in front, double tunics and tunics which start at the hip-line are only a few of the many ways in which tunic effects are applied.

Just as diversified as the tunics are the combinations of fabrics. One model shows an overwaist in basque effect made in velvet, worn over a long-sleeved tulle guimpe and with a skirt whose tight-fitting foundation shows through a filmy, shimmering tunic of tulle.

Chemise dresses inspired by the moyen age frocks are being worn indiscriminately by stout and slim alike—Sometimes with dire results. A frock which hangs like a sacque from the shoulders to the heels is scarcely becoming to a well-developed figure, whose charms may be displayed in many of the other smart styles. But when donned by a slender woman whose charm is youthful buoyancy, it is irresistible. These gowns give a silhouette quite different from the conventionalized one of the day, aptly called plumb-line silhouette. Satin seems to be replacing taffeta in the popularity of the public, but serges and gabardines are continuing their vogue, and for the tailored costume nothing is quite so smart. Usually braid in various widths, plain in weave, binds and trims these suits.

A stunning coat which may be made so practical as to serve for wear during the fall as well, is the stylish redingote in the above illustration. This may be made of linen or golfine for the warmer weather and for motoring, but in serge, gabardine or whip-cord it makes a stunning coat for general wear.

Runaway Reunites Lovers.

A horse ran away out on a country road four miles from here and demolished a new spring wogan and a buggy but reunited sweethearts of 35 years ago and paved the way for a marriage.

Joseph Sheen is a rancher living several miles from Kulbar. He had driven to town and was on his way home, riding in his new wogan. Coming into Kulbar in a carriage Miss Amy Dodd, of Eudora, Kan., was chatting with her hostess, Mrs. T. H. Greenman, with whom she had been visiting. Sheen's horses shied at some paper in the road and bolted. Around a curve they reared madly.

At the curve was the Greenman carriage and the rear of the wagon whirled when the horses turned the curve, crashing into the carriage, overturning it and throwing Mrs. Greenman and Miss Dodd to the ground.

A short distance farther Sheen managed to stop his team. He hastened back to inquire the damage he had done. He assisted the women to their feet, helped them repair the carriage and then introduced himself.

"Do you mean to say you are Joe Sheen, who used to live in Blue Mound, Kansas, a long time ago?" Miss Dodd asked.

Sheen started. Then: "Yes; and I know you now, Amy. I searched 20 years for you and believed you were dead."

They had gone to school together 35 years ago in the little Kansas town. The Miss Dodd's parents moved away and took her with them. Before they went away, however, the couple had become engaged. Miss Dodd's parents died and she went to New York. From there she went to Europe as the companion of an aunt. She wrote several letters to Sheen but he had left for the west.

Miss Dodd came back to Kansas after she returned from Europe, taking a school at Eudora. Sheen never returned, but he wrote many letters searching for his fiancee. He believed her dead until the collision near Kulbar. They were married.—Kulbar, Col., Dispatch.

Invents Music Box for Automobiles.

New Bern, Aug. 11.—Frank Osborn, whose home is near Stella, Carteret county, is at work on a little invention which will doubtless prove of real worth to automobilists, if it turns out as he is expecting it to. The invention in question is a small music box which can be attached to an automobile and which will play the opening bars of some appropriate air when the machine reaches a certain speed. Mr. Osborn says that the main object of the invention is to warn reckless "joy riders" when they begin to speed up in their machines.

Several hymns have been suggested among which is "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and others but the inventor has not yet made a decision as to which he will use. Mr. Osborn is so arranging the mechanism of the player that the music will begin at any desired speed, the driver being allowed to edisignate just how fast he cares to run his machine without being warned. It is said that one of the large automobile manufacturers of the country has already agreed to purchase the invention.

Summer Constipation Dangerous.

Constipation in Summer-time is more dangerous than in the fall, winter of spring. The food you eat is often contaminated and is more likely to ferment in your stomach. Then you are apt to drink much water during the hot weather, thus injuring your stomach. Colic, Fever, Ptomaine Poisoning and other ills are natural results. Po-Do-Lax will keep you well, as it increases the Bile, the natural laxative, which rids the bowels of the congested poisonous waste. Po-Do-Lax will make you feel better. Pleasant and effective. Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root on receipt of ten cents to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

Farmers Hold Great Picnic and Institute.

Elon College, Aug. 17.—Mr. J. N. Cheshire, in charge of the Farmers' Institute, which held its third annual session here today, expressed himself as most agreeably pleased with the large attendance and keen interest displayed. Three years ago when the institute first met here the farmers did not know its practical value to them, and not many of them came out. Last year there was a good attendance and this time it has been phenomenal, considering that the fine rains the last of last week have put the ground in order for plowing and that the farmers are so far behind with their work.

A strong program was presented both for the morning and afternoon and both for the farmers and for their wives. In the morning for the men Mr. M. J. Hendrix lectured on intelligent farming and proved that the only salvation of North Carolina, which is an agricultural State primarily is an increased yield per acre. He showed that while the gross yield is gradually increasing, this is due to increased acreage and increased population. This afternoon he showed the farmers to effect this necessary increased yield. The farmers were delighted with his addresses.

Dr. F. D. Owen also delighted the men with his treatment of the very important subject of hog cholera. He traced the history of the disease and showed how the frightful economic loss it entailed touched every citizen of the land. He said in 1912 the Congress of the U. S. had appropriated $50,000 to try the serum cure in three western counties, which was so successful that in February, 1914, it appropriated $550,000 for its further demonstration. The farmers took notes and expressed their sincere appreciation of his suggestions.

Mr. R. W. Graeber, farm demonstrator of Mecklenburg County, spoke of the particular work of his department and told how he had helped many farmers during the present drought to plow their lands and plant their crops without rain, by crossing harrowing and waiting for the moisture to ascend.

The Farmers' Wives were equally well pleased with their speakers and 150 of them heard the lectures of both sessions. Mrs. John W. Robinson discussed for them in the morning the curing of meats and in the afternoon Health and Sanitation, vital themes which she handled in a vital way.

Miss Lucie Webb told the women how to make bread in the morning, making use of the new domestic science kitchen of the college in her demonstration. In the afternoon she spoke of The Conveniences of the Home.

Toward the close of the day the farmers and their wives left for their homes, having enjoyed the lectures of the day and also the great picnic dinner spread for them under the arching shade trees of the campus. It was unanimously voted to continue the institute for the next year.

Elon Social Events.

Elon College, Aug. 16.—At the hospitable home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, Miss Vivien Hoffman was last evening from 8:30 to 11:30 hostess to a number of friends in a most brilliant and pleasing social event.

The guests upon their arrival were received in the hall by the hostess and her sister, Miss Kathleen Huffman. Immediately they were directed to the punch bowl from which delicious cider-punch was served. The heat of the evening was lost when, immediately following the reception, the guests retired to the cool and spacious veranda where conversation was prevalent.

Featuring the evening was a unique guessing contest. Upon a large canvas was pinned portions of 21 advertisements clipped from the most frequently read magazines. Each clipping was numbered and each guest was given paper and pencil and asked to write the name of the advertisement each clipping represented. The person guessing the most correctly was given a prize, a large bunch of beautiful roses, which was awarded to Miss Lila Newman. For guessing the least number of the advertisements correctly a hooby prize was presented to H. M. Redding.

Following the guessing contest the guests, in groups of four, assembled at tables and indulged in games of cards, rock being featured. In the midst of this and just prior to a downpour of rain, which made it necessary to vacate the veranda, a delicious course of chocolate cream and pound cake was served, this being done by the hostess and her sister.

Music for the evening was furnished by Misses Alma Newman, Jennie Willie Atkinson and Pratie Brown on the piano and Garland Huffman on the cello.

A more pleasing social occasion has not been enjoyed here this season. Those present were: Misses Alma Newman, Lila Newman, Leora Winton, "Dodie" Harris, Rasy Michael, Allene Patton, Gertrude Brown, Pratie Brown, Jennie Atkinson, Thelma Stone, and Kathleen Huffman; A. L. Lincoln, H. E. Jorgenson, Joseph Michael, W. S. Wicker, William Beale, Warren McCulloch, H. M. Redding, W. O. Stone, Garland Huffman and J. P. Reynolds.

Possemen Fire into Each Other in the Dark.

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 15.—After surrounding the five bandits who yesterday killed three guards and stole the $15,000 payroll of the Glen Alum mines, a posse of deputy sheriffs and nine detectives tonight fired into each other in the darkness and killed six or eight of their own number, according to a telegraphic report received here late today from Judge James Damron, of the 22nd circuit court, who is with the posse at War Eagle.

Judge Damron reported that two of the bandits were killed by the pursuing party, but that three probably have escaped.

One of the bandits, Harvey Prater, late tonight entered the Alwick station of the Norfolk & Western railway, several miles from War Eagle, and at the point of a revolver, ordered the telegrapher to signal a light engine to stop. Prater clambered into the cab and forced the locomotive driver to proceed west. Prater rode to within half a mile of Glen Alum and then jumped from the cab.

The mortalities thus far number about 15 including three men slain when the pay roll was stolen, two deputy sheriffs killed today when the bandits ambushed the posse, two robbers killed tonight when they were surrounded, and the pursuers were fired into each other.

Girl's Mother Kills Youth.

Mrs. Florence McGowan, a wealthy woman of Mobile, Ala., shot and killed J. L. Brown, in a room adjoining Judge Bellinger's court after Brown offered to marry her 15-year-old daughter Vivian, who had made charges against him.

Young Brown had waived examination, and his attorney, R. P. Reese had called Mrs. McGowan into the room to make the offer of marriage. "I think it is best," the mother agreed. "But before I agree I want it from Brown's own lips that he will not desert my daughter as soon as he marries her."

The lawyer told a deputy to bring Brown into the room.

Brown entered, and Mrs. McGowan arose, saying:

"You marry my daughter? That is adding insult to injury!"

She immediately began the shooting.—Pensacola, Fla., Dispatch.
