Germans Capture Antwerp; Heavy Loss

May Be the Turning Point of the War.

Contending Armies Now Stretch Almost to North Sea and Left Grapples With Unabated Fury—Belgians Making a Last Stand at Inner Forts in Face of Terrible Big Gun Fire and Dropping Bombs from Zeppelins, Hoping Help Will Come Within A Short Time.

London, Oct. 8.—10 P. M.—While the immense armies of the belligerent powers of Europe are engaged in a death grapple along lines hundreds of miles in extent in battles which for the numbers engaged, fierceness, and stubbornness, have no precedent in history, the little army of Belgium is making a last stand behind the forts of Antwerp, one of the strongest fortified positions in the world.

For the moment at least the struggle around the chief port of Belgium attracts the most attention for the result of the engagement there must have a considerable effect on the bigger battles between the Anglo-French and German forces, which extend from the Swiss frontiers across France, almost to the North Sea.

The Germans, while attempting to cross the Scheldt, south of Antwerp, made their main attack from the east and broke some days ago, with the aid of their 16-inch guns, through the first line of forts. Between the first and second belt of forts, according to their own accounts, they defeated the Belgian army and captured a number of guns.

Last night shells began to fall in the city itself and from reports coming through Holland the railway stations, the palace of justice and several oil tanks have been damaged.

At the same time six Zeppelin dirigibles flew over the city, dropping bombs, but it has been impossible as yet to ascertain the damage they have done.

King Albert has called on all men of military age, to assist in the defense of the city. Thousands of others, women, children and old men, have left Antwerp hurriedly. Among the non-belligerents remaining are the American Consul General, Henry W. Diederich, and his staff.

REFUGEES CROWD HOLLAND.

The towns of Holland already are crowded with refugees. The mayor of Rotterdam has sent out warning that there is no more room there for the harassed Belgians, and steamers for England are crowded with refugees.

More than 30,000 refugees arrived at Folkestone today and were taken in charge by committees. Many are penniless.

GERMAN GUNS CUT PATH.

Five German army corps are taking part in the siege of Antwerp, which is defended by the Belgian army. The outer forts, like those of other fortresses which have fallen since the war began, have been able to withstand the fire of the big German guns, but the Belgians still are hopeful that, with inner forts, a flooded area and a mobile file army, they may hold the city until assistance may come by the defeat of the Germans in France.

Such a defeat, all realize, is an enormous task, but the official communication issued in Paris late today gives the Allies hopes that the long waited decision is about to be reached. Not for many days has such an encouraging report from the Allies' point of view been published by the French general staff.

ALLIES MORE HOPEFUL.

The strong German reinforcements which appeared on the Belgian frontier in the region of Lille, according to this report, "have made no progress at any point," while "at certain points the enemy has moved back, particularly to the north of Arras, where the fighting is developing under conditions favorable to us."

The cavalry are fighting even further north than this and the French communication says operations here developed almost to the North Sea. Around Roye, where the Germans captured important heights from the French last week, the French have regained some of the positions they were obliged to abandon.

From the north of Aisne, where two forward movements by the Anglo-French troops have been mentioned within the last few days, the Germans seem to have withdrawn some of their own men, principally, to strengthen their extreme right, around which the Allies have been trying to work ever since the battle began, nearly four weeks ago.

CENTER RESTS ON ARMS.

In the center, between Rheims and the Meuse, the armies are resting on their arms, awaiting their turn to take the offensive. But on the heights of the Meuse, between the fortresses of Verdun and St. Mihiel, there the Germans crossed the Meuse two weeks ago, the contest still goes on. The Germans have withdrawn to the north of Hattonchatel. They still, however, hold St. Mihiel and some positions north of that town on the right bank of the river.

The conjecture, therefore, that the French had driven them back across the river soon after they made their advance, and captured, besides the town itself, the forts of Romans and Paroches, proves incorrect.

In the Woever district the Germans, without success, have delivered violent attacks against the French, who doubtless were trying to get behind the German force on the Meuse at St. Mihiel. With the Germans to the north withdrawing and the repulse of their attack west of Apremont, the Germans at St. Mihiel are considered to be a rather dangerous position.

GERMAN FOOD SEIZED.

Paris, Oct. 8.—6:51 P. M.—The French authorities have seized food supplies valued at between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 which had been deposited on the docks at Havre by a German firm. The action was taken to prevent the supplies from being sent abroad.

TERRIBLE DIN OF CANNON.

London, Oct. 8.—6:53 P. M.—The bombardment of Antwerp has been so violent that houses at Rosendaal, a Netherlands town more than twenty miles distant have been shaken visibly, according to a telegram from that town to the Central News by way of Amsterdam.

Wounded civilians have arrived at Rosendaal and the Dutch government has ordered all trains to proceed to the place, to be held in readiness to transport the refugees and injured. Thousands of refugees already have arrived.

Throughout the entire night, the message reads, a red glare illuminated the sky.

GERMANS CLOSE ON ANTWERP.

London, Oct. 8.—10:20 P. M.—An official German dispatch received here tonight from Berlin by the Marconi Wireless Company says:

"It is reported from Dutch sources that fierce fighting occurred yesterday in the Nethe district (province of Antwerp.)

"The Germans approached in a northerly direction from Forts De Wavre and De Waelhem and commenced a bombardment of Antwerp from these positions.

"Early in the morning shrapnel shells already had caused great damage in many places, showing that the investing force is close to the city.

"The whole of the Belgian field army has been concentrated in the district between Antwerp Liere (nine miles to the southeast of the city) and the river Scheldt, in which area fighting is proceeding.

WOMEN DIVERS VOLUNTEER.

Tokio, Oct. 8.—One hundred women shell divers of Shima province offered their services to the navy to clear the mines from Kiao Chow Bay. The offer was declined by the navy as the law prohibits the employment of women in warlike operations.

These divers are accustomed to remain in the water for a long period. Their idea was that, unseen by the enemy, they could dive for the mines near Kiao Chow and remove them to the Japanese warships.

RUSSIANS ANNEX LEMBERG.

London, Oct. 8.—10:17 P. M.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says the Russians have completed the administrative organization of the conquered regions around Lemberg, which has been made into a province divided into thirteen districts.

The Russian troops, adds the dispatch, are advancing slowly, but irresistibly, upon Cracow, the population of which has already been reduced to one-half.

KING LEAVES ANTWERP.

Bordeaux, Oct. 8.—10:15 P. M.—News has been received here that the King of the Belgians marched out of Antwerp today at the head of a portion of his army.

MORE BOMBS ON PARIS.

Paris, Oct. 8.—12:55 P. M.—A German aeroplane flying over Paris and the suburbs of Aubervilliers and St. Denis at 9 o'clock this morning, dropped two bombs, one of which wounded three persons. The other did no harm.

Democratic Headquarters.

Headquarters for the County Campaign have been opened up on Front Street in the Hay building, formerly used by the Gem Theatre, or moving picture show. It would seem by this that the boys are getting busy and well they may. There is some tall pleading ahead to hold the boys in line. These headquarters can truly be called the "War Zone," or "Theater of War."

Now that the pork barrel has been upset there are indications that some of the pork barrel congressmen are afraid to go home before election.

MR. WHITE DECLINES.

To the Republican Executive Committee for Alamance County, Greeting:

I want to thank the convention, and the Republicans of Alamance County who so highly honored me with the nomination for the office of high sheriff in their convention held October 3rd, 1914. And while I did not think then that I could accept the nomination, still I was willing to do what my party required of me, provided I could arrange to spare the time from my business. I have consulted my brother and other associates in business and find it just impossible to accept the nomination. I also learn that Mr. H. Curry Walker, who is a personal friend of mine, has decided to make the race for the position of high sheriff as an independent Democratic candidate. For both of us to remain in the field, neither might be elected, but with only one candidate, and the entire strength of the opposition to the Democratic candidate united upon Mr. Walker, I believe would insure his election. I am very desirous to see Curry Walker elected, I would rather see him elected than to be elected myself. I know him and have faith in his integrity, his ability and his general fitness for this high and honorable position. No man in Alamance County is better qualified to fill this office than Curry Walker, therefore, I decline the nomination tendered me, and ask, sincerely trust that you will take such steps as will insure the election of Mr. Walker and the entire republican ticket as now composed. In a county that is as badly beset and ring ridden as this county (Dear Old Alamance) and as heavily tax burdened, with conditions growing worse all the time, it is our duty to encourage independent thought and action to the end that conditions may be improved and our burdens made lighter. This can only be done by the thoughtful and conservative men of both parties getting together for mutual protection, and supporting such men for all the county officers as will in their judgment best serve the interests of the tax payers of this county.

With best wishes to those who have the manhood to stand up for what they believe to be right and for the best interests of all the people, and trusting that they may be successful at the polls I beg to remain, Gratefully yours, WILLIAM E. WHITE.

Live Hustlers at the Old Brick Warehouse.

We desire to call our readers' attention to the advertisement of the managers of the old reliable Brick Warehouse which appears in this issue. Three as clever gentlemen as you ever had the pleasure of meeting are in charge of this house—W. L. Thornburg, B. O. Guthrie, and R. D. Alfred, are three names to conjure with, they are honest, truthful, clever, hard-working liberal gentlemen, doing all in their power for the interest of the tobacco farmers that patronize the Burlington market. That man Thornburg can just make a tobacco buyer pay as much or more for a pile of tobacco than any other auctioneer in the business. Ben Guthrie has the persuasive powers to make you believe that he is selling wrappers when it is only green tips and Robert Alfred whoops it up, by saying come in here gentlemen, this is too cheap, Mr. Jones is one of our best farmers. We must stand by him, and all the time judg-

Buying Cotton Goods is Practical Patriotism.

Haw River, N. C., Oct 2nd, 1914.
Miss Genevieve Clark, Washington, D. C.

Madam:—
Appreciating your efforts to help the cotton manufacturing industry in the South, we have taken the liberty of sending you by Parcels Post, two dress patterns made in a North Carolina mill, from North Carolina cotton and woven by a North Carolina young lady. One pattern is named after the famous city of fashion—"Paris Suinting" (a fabric suitable for a part of a bride's trousseau). The other pattern is named after the North Carolina home of the late Geo. W. Vanderbilt—"Biltmore Gingham."

We hope you will accept these dress patterns, and if your wardrobe is not complete, use both of them personally. If you have been over supplied, will thank you to present these patterns to some Washington City bride-to-be, as a part of her trousseau.

Your efforts to introduce cotton goods made in American mills is very commendable in you, and the same is highly appreciated by the cotton mill industry in the South, not only by the mill owners, but by the mill operatives as well. Thousands and thousands of young ladies in our South Land derive their entire support from weaving cotton dress goods, which you, in your magnanimous generosity and public spiritedness, are trying to bring such goods into general use with our American women.

The young ladies of our mill send their greetings to you, and hope you will be very successful in creating a greater demand for the handiwork of their skill.

With best wishes for you and the young ladies associated with you in your efforts to create a greater demand for cotton goods woven in American mills, we are,

Yours very truly,

NATIONAL COTTON FASHIONS SHOW
To Be Held at
New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C.
October 7-8, 1914.

Holt-Granite Manufacturing Company,
Haw River, North Carolina.

Gentlemen:—
Thank you very much for the beautiful dress patterns that arrived this morning.

I appreciate them highly and shall have them made into dresses for my wardrobe.

Please convey to the young ladies of your establishment my thanks for their gracious good wishes and my very best wishes for them one and all.

Sincerely yours,
Genevieve Champ Clark.

ALAMANCE COUNTY COTTON FASHIONS SHOW.

Appreciating the efforts of the "National Cotton Fashions Show," which was held in Washington, D. C., on October 7-8, 1914, for the purpose of advertising more extensively the wearing of cotton goods in this country, and especially in our South Land. To further aid in this patriotic move, the "ALAMANCE COUNTY COTTON FASHIONS SHOW" requests the women of Alamance County, to join them in such a "Fashion Show."

Definite plans will be published in this paper in its next issue. Every one interested and willing to aid and further develop the "cotton industry of the South" will please address

The Great State Fair of this year is going to eclipse every other Fair that has been held in the South, in its splendid, costly attractions, clean amusements, and exceptionally fine educational features. This one week, October 19-24, shall be remembered by the thousands of people who come to Raleigh as the home-gathering of yeomanry of the Old North State.

For Free Distribution.

By direction of the General Assembly of 1913, 500,000 copies of the Constitution with the Proposed Amendments have been printed for distribution to the people.

Every voter in the State should be familiar with the provisions of these amendments.

Copies may be had upon application to any Register of Deeds or a copy will be mailed to any address, upon request, by J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, Raleigh, N. C.

CARRYING A HEAVY LOAD--- HOW YOU CAN HELP:

All through the dull, dead summer, now turning into a pale and sickly autumn, the editor of this sheet has been carrying a heavy load.

Many suspected—but few knew—just how heavy the burden was.

Summers in the South are usually dull—or our people go into winter-quarters, financially speaking, until fall brings in its harvest of the golden weed and with it, spring in the hearts of our people.

The past summer has been the dullest in this paper's career.

It has taxed every ounce of the publisher's energy to keep afloat.

But better times are looming ahead.

This is perhaps the biggest and best issue that we have gotten out in a long time.

The white paper bills which this paper has had to meet, paying cash have been weekly nightmares.

How to meet them has been a problem.

Advertising—well, you know the quantities we have been running.

YOU—my good reader friend—CAN HELP US.
How?

By renewing your subscription. Send cash—just as soon as you can.

Those in arrears—remember this: It costs us a cent for every paper we have sent you, and if you have neglected to help us, we have had to go down into our own pockets—or the bank's big till—to get this 2 cents each week.

NOW IT'S YOUR MOVE.

IT'S YOUR TURN TO HELP US!

We are planning to make this paper a BETTER paper than it has been, a real credit to this section—a live wire—a ceaseless booster.

WE CAN NOT DO THIS WITHOUT RECEIVING THE MONEY THAT IS DUE US—and something for next year.

We have carried hundreds of subscribers through the summer. We have been patient—and lenient.

Practically all its income has been put back into the paper—in trying to keep up the high standard which it set in the outset.

Let YOUR NEWSPAPER be one of the FIRST THINGS TO ATTEND TO.

It's a small matter to you—you might forget it.

That is why we are talking loudly about it.

And stay with us. You will never regret it.

When St. Peter opens the book for you to see the record of your good deeds down here in this vale of tears, you will see a white mark for every dollar that you sent in to your home paper.

The Progressive's Demise

From all sections of the country alike come the tidings and the symptoms that denote the dissolution of the Progressive Party. Every test vote of city or of State shows the return of the Progressive voter to the Republican homestead, the place of his true belief and his real opportunity. Even the leaders of the third party are giving up their stand as assistants to Democracy.

In the State primary of New York there was a most significant exhibition of the Progressives, both as to their real numbers and their mental processes. Everything known to the skilled in politics was done to bring out a big Progressive vote. Not only was there a contest for the nomination for Governor, but it was one in which something vital was at stake. The Progressive leaders, headed by Mr. Roosevelt himself, sent a letter to every enrolled member of that party, beseeching him to attend the primary and vote for the hand-picked nominee, Mr. Davenport. Of course, this was an absolute violation of every principle of the direct primary, the very foundation stone of which is that to the individual voter is left the free choice between candidates, uninfluenced and unbossed.

To this urgent call of the leaders, a paltry thirty thousand responded in all that State. Yet in 1912 almost an even four hundred thousand votes were cast in New York for the Progressive candidate for President.

One year ago, when there was a judicial election in the State, the Progressive vote was nearly two hundred thousand. Under the circumstances, the vote in the New York primary was very eloquent of the tremendous decline and the speedy demise of the third party.

And the Progressive party in that State was brought still lower by having to fight to its utmost to prevent it from being captured by the impeached and discredited Democratic Governor. No further commentary upon the left professions of the still obstinate Progressives is needed than the fact that nearly one-half of the party in New York swarmed after and followed the lead of a man of the type of Mr. Sulzer.

At about the same time a primary was held out in Colorado in the city of Denver. In that city, Mr. Roosevelt received twenty-three thousand votes for President two years ago. The Progressive vote in the primary this Fall was but two thousand, a falling off of over ninety percent. Both East and West it is alike a fast disappearing force.

In Massachusetts one of the members of the Progressive State Committee has just resigned the position, and at the same time said this in a public statement: "In 1912 there was a real Progressive party, of which I early became an enthusiastic member. In 1914 that party, torn by internal dissensions, boss rule and non-progressive leadership, has ceased to be of any political power other than that of being the indirect means of electing a minority party.

"The real Progressive movement is today represented in the Republican party, which, being free from those ills which beset the dying Progressive party, will, if put into power, give us a new era of prosperity. I, therefore, at this time withdraw from the Progressive party and publicly affiliate myself with the Republican party; and I earnestly hope that all real Progressives will get together under the Republican standard in the coming campaign."

These are typical proofs of the homeward bound movement of the Progressive voter. Here are three incidents, in New York, in New England and in Colorado, all of the same kind and pitched in the same key. They tell the story well, the story of the country-wide disappearance of a third party that but blocks the path to the ending of Democratic rule in the nation.

In this war, it is the unexpected which happens. Inasmuch as every indication now points to a hopeless deadlock of the armies about the Franco-German frontier, for months and months, perhaps it will soon be over.

Bud Byers says that as a life-long champion of personal liberty for which our forefathers fit, bled and died he considers it a matter of principle to assert that prohibition does not prohibit but he is compelled to admit that it often inconveniences.

PRAYER FOR PEACE.

Rev. D. H. Tuttle.

May we pray for peace between nations at war one with another?

Answer, Yes, but let us pray with an intelligent understanding as to the time when the answer to such a prayer may be expected. The Bible speaks of Peace in a three-fold way. First: It speaks of peace WITH God. Rom. 5:1—"Therefore being justified by faith we have peace with God. This is an individual matter between the sinner and his God, Jesus Christ being the peace-maker. Read Eph. 2:14 to 18.

Second: We have "the peace OF God." Read Phil. 4:6, 7. This peace is the bequest of Jesus Christ to believers, and is an inward state of mind resulting from the believed having committed all his cares and anxieties to God's keeping. St. John 14:28—"Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

Third: "Peace on earth," Luke 2:14. Isa. 9:6, 7. Psa. 72:7. Psa. 85:10. This peace is to be universal, but will not be prevalent in the earth until Christ as the "Prince of Peace" comes to reign on earth. Isaiah in Chapter 9, 6, 7, says: "Of the increase of His Government and of peace there shall be no end, etc." In that day men will be using pruning hooks made from old spears, and plowshares made from old swords. For the present the Church is preaching the gospel that sets men and their families at variance with each other. See Matt. 10:34, 35. During this Dispensation Christ says: "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword." For the present we need only to increase our earnestness in praying "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on Earth as in heaven," adding to this the last prayer of the New Testament. "Even so come quickly, Lord Jesus." To bring about the glorious millennium of peace on earth, good will to men, let us pray like God had to do it all and work at well doing as if we had to do it all.

BUY-A-BALE.
To Superintendents of Schools, Teachers and School Children:

On account of the disturbance of the world's markets and the consequent depression in the price of cotton by the deplorable European war, the farmers of the State and the South are seriously threatened with the loss of millions of dollars and demoralization of business in all lines by the forced sale, under financial distress, of the South's chief money crop, cotton, at prices less than the cost of its production and less than its intrinsic value. To avoid this threatened disaster to the agricultural and other business interests of the State, a co-operative movement, participated in by patriotic citizens in all parts of the State, and of the South, of all classes, vocations and professions, has been started to help the farmers protect themselves and all the rest of us by helping them to store and hold their cotton, by aiding in providing the money to take distress-cotton off the market until normal conditions can be restored.

No class of citizens are more patriotic or more ready to respond according to their ability to any call of public service in any hour of public need than are the teachers and other educational workers of this State. In times of need the schools should always be the rallying places for civic service, teachers should always be among the trusted leaders thereof, and for their training and blessing, the children should always be enlisted therein.

As Superintendent of Public Instruction, therefore, I confidently call upon teachers, superintendents of schools, and all other educational workers for their active aid and loyal support of the "Buy-a-Bale-of-Cotton Movement" for mutual protection against threatened disaster in this hour of common need.

I beg to suggest and to recommend the following plans for helping:

BUY-A-BALE CLUBS FOR TEACHERS:

Let every teacher and every superintendent of schools that can possibly afford it, buy a bale of cotton at 10 cents a pound and hold it. Let the county and city superintendents present the matter to their teachers in their teachers' meetings, and county teachers' associations, and form teachers' clubs of two or more to buy a bale of cotton at 10 cents a pound and store it. When cotton reaches 10 cents it should be purchased at half cent above the market price and held.

BUY-A-BALE CLUBS FOR CHILDREN.

A fine lesson can be taught in thrift and economy, as well as in public service, by having the children of each school, or the children of each teacher in each school, to invest their own money in their own bale of cotton at 10 cents a pound, or a half cent above the market if the market price is 10 cents or over, to be held, and, when sold, the proceeds thereof to be returned to the children themselves, according to the amount invested by each child. Were this plan adopted a certified list of names of the children investing, with the amounts invested by each in the bale of cotton purchased, should be deposited immediately after the purchase with the bank in which the deposit of the proceeds of the sale of the cotton is to be made. When the cotton is sold the fund arising from the sale should be deposited in the bank to the credit of the teacher of the school district, in trust for the investing children, as each child's interest shall appear from the certified list in the banker's hands. The fund being to the credit of the teacher of the district, instead of any individual teacher, in trust for the individual child, will be subject to the check of the teacher, as trustee, for each child according to his interest, irrespective of any changes in individual teachers. At the proper time each child can, in this way determine what disposition he desires to have made of his part, and can be encouraged to use his part of the proceeds to start for himself a separate savings account.

BUY-A-BALE DAY.

Let the county superintendent set apart the earliest possible day after the opening of the public schools of his county as "Buy-a-Bale-of-Cotton Day" in every public school; call a meeting of all the people at the public school house at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon on that day for the purpose of raising the money to buy a bale of cotton at 10 cents a pound and hold it for the school. Let him give notice of this meeting through the county press, instruct the teacher in charge of each school to give notice through the children to the parents of the school and to enlist the children in the campaign for raising the money to buy one bale of cotton, urging them to contribute, and to get their parents to come to the meeting and contribute. Let the superintendent enlist, also, the active cooperation of the school committeemen, the Woman's Betterment Associations, the Women's Clubs, the Farmers' Union and other organizations in the county and in the various school districts. With the funds raised let this bale of cotton be purchased through the school committee or through some other committee designated by the meeting. Wherever possible it should be a bale of cotton raised in the school district, and where it can be done, it should be purchased at 10 cents a pound, or half a cent above the market price if market price is 10 cents, through the organized channels for purchasing distress-cotton and holding it, or where a distress-bale is forced on the market in the community it should be purchased by the committee at the market price and stored and held. It should be stored either in the nearest storage warehouse, or, in rural districts with no convenient storing warehouses near, some member of the school committee or some other reliable farmer in the district would probably be willing to store it, giving a receipt for it. When sold the funds might be placed in the hands of the county treasurer to the credit of the school and paid out upon the voucher of the school committee for such purposes as school improvements as should be recommended by the teacher, the committee, the school betterment association, or other organization for school improvement in the school district. In this way a two-fold service could be rendered by one act—a needed service to the farmers and to all the business interests of the South, and a valuable service to the community school.

Let Superintendents, teachers, and other school officials cooperate with all others in their community for the encouragement and advancement of the "Buy-a-Bale-of-Cotton" movement, and of all other proper means for the protection of the farmers and their interests in this crisis. Let them permit and encourage the use of the school building for community meetings in the interest of such movements.

Yours very truly,
J. Y. JOYNER,
State Superintendent Public Instruction.

Going on "Paid in Advance" Basis.
The Charlotte Semi-Weekly Observer make the important announcement this week that beginning with January 1, 1915, payment will be strictly on the cash in advance basis.

This paper is undoubtedly one of the best Semi-Weekly newspapers in the South, and this announcement will be of much interest in this section. At the same time they are making the announcement that from the present date to January 1, they will accept subscriptions on the basis of three years for $2.00. In this way they expect to collect all old subscription accounts and bring the present subscription list to the point where it is all paid in advance.

This is an unusual proposition for such a high-class paper and should certainly bring them some fine returns.

Father will stand around for two hours and argue that the war in Europe was started by a mere trifle, and then go home and want to burn down the house because his coffee is cold.

The thermometer is the most consistent believer in the fact that there is always room at the top.

Disgruntled Have Ticket

Sore Democrats Join Republicans and Moosers in Carteret.

Beaufort, Oct. 3.—Republicans, Progressives and unsatisfied Democrats have joined hands and put out a full county ticket under the name of "People's party." Simon Styron, a young man of Mit, heads the new party as candidate for Representative. In order to go to the Legislature this winter, he will have to defeat M. Leslie Davis, of this city, who for two successive terms represented this senatorial district in the upper House. He is considered a hard man to beat. Styron is a man of much force and ambition, a dramatic speaker, and it is generally believed that he will give Davis a hard race. The sheriff's office will be the storm center. James R. Morris, of Atlantic, is the People's party candidate. S. P. Hancock, present sheriff is the straight Democratic candidate. He has a strong following in the county and he has been considered invincible, but Morris' friends say this is Hancock's last term as sheriff. Morris is a candidate in the Democratic convention last May for the office of Register of Deeds, but was defeated.

(Editor's Note) The disgruntled would have a ticket in this county if some one would take the lead. It is not that there are no disgruntles, there are hundreds of them, but the court house ring is so all powerful that they have them stood so to speak, but once the movement was started, it would spread like wild fire. The people are chafing under the galling yoke of Democratic extravagance and inefficient management, but without a Moses to lead them seem powerless. But there is a better and brighter day dawning for the tax payers in this grand old county of Alamance. A Moses is pruning the Democratic thorns and will sally forth to slay the Democratic Goliath. Gird your loins and get read to help him do battle.

Now if somebody could cut Representative Bartholdt's communications the world would be distinctly the gainers.

Fifteen million bales of cotton—and the styles still calling for thin, attenuated figures. O tempora, O mores.

"COMMUNIQUES."

Each day we have eagerly scanned the all too brief "Communiques" of the French war office.

Their few words have been pregnant with meaning, tellings of portentous history in tabloid form.

Just as forceful and far more important to our individual lives are the "Communiques" of peace which appear each week in our advertising columns.

They are terse, pithy, messages but full of important news.

They tell of opportunity of expanding trade; of production seeking demand.

They are directly interesting to every individual and every home.

Where the Fault Lies.

Most of the States that have tried the direct primary system are complaining of its workings, while some that still cling to conventions, as does Rhode Island, are denouncing them as boss-ruled. Evidently the American people are hard to suit. Some day they will awaken to the fact that the fault lies not in the system but in the voters. When these devote themselves seriously, and without constant intermissions, to the cause of good government they will have it. But if they go to sleep at the switch they will never achieve the best results, either by direct primary or by convention.—Philadelphia Record.

Editor's Note: The voters and tax payers are asleep at the switch in this good county of Alamance, but they are awakening, and once awake there will be something doing to the court house ring.

Senator Overman is also due to take the stump in North Carolina ere many days.

The occupancy of the Mexican presidential chair is of few days and full of trouble.

AID THE KIDNEYS.

Burlington Sufferers Should Take No Further Risk.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor—why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a tested remedy is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in kidney trouble over 50 years, have been tested in thousands of cases.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, act now, for gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease may set in and make neglect dangerous. Can Burlington residents demand more convincing proof than the following?

E. P. Land, bookkeeper, 109 Eouth Edgewood St., Greensboro, N. C., says: "Four or five years ago I had kidney trouble. I was often dizzy and nervous. My sight blurred and my back hurt me. It was hard for me to straighten after stooping. Doan's Kidney Pills made me better. I still use them once in a while and they keep me well. I am pleased to confirm the statement I gave some time ago, praising this remedy."

50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Land had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

No Aches or Pains
Peruna Did It for Me.

"I find Peruna an excellent spring and summer medicine and am glad to call the attention of my friends to it. I know by experience that Peruna is a good medicine, and always recommend it whenever I have an opportunity. I can truthfully say that I have no traces of my old complaint, and have neither ache nor pain, and enjoy life. Words cannot express my appreciation for the good Peruna has done me."

PERUNA THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE.

"I used to get cramps in my stomach. I had sick headaches. My stomach nearly killed me. My family physician only gave me temporary relief. I got out of patience and had given up all hopes of recovery. I then wrote to Dr. Hartman and he advised me to take Peruna. I got a bottle of Peruna and commenced using it. Soon got better and am now entirely cured and feel like a new woman. Peruna is my comfort. I will never be without it." Mrs. Thomas M. Morgan, R. F. D. 2, Wadsworth Ohio.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for large bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.

Reverend Mr. Gibble, the Rector of the Episcopal Church, of Burlington, has accepted an invitation from the trustees and faculty of the University of North Carolina, to preach the regular University sermon for November, on Sunday, November 15th, at 11:00 A. M., in the University chapel.

Mr. J. C. Buchanan Proprietor of a New 5-10 and 25 Cent Store at Raleigh.

Raleigh's grand stretch of Great White Way from the Union Depot to the Market House is to have very shortly a new 5-10 and 25 cent Store, with Mr. J. C. Buchanan as proprietor. The store is to be located in the Commercial Bank Building, using 3 floors. After making arrangements for the location Mr. Buchanan left for New York for the purpose of laying in stock. The store will be open as soon as the stock arrives.

The new store is one of the Associated Chain of Five and Ten Cent Stores, of which there are scattered four hundred over the country.

The Raleigh Chamber of Commerce is responsible for the bringing to the city the new business. The matter was first taken up through the secretary with the corporation and it was stated that a store might be located at Raleigh if a location could be secured. This was found and the proposition put up to the company so strong that it could not be resisted.

Mr. Buchanan has been proprietor and secretary and treasurer of The Buchanan Five and Ten Cent Store for a number of years and through him the store has gained a reputation of being an up-to-date store, equal to those in much larger cities. He will devote his time to both stores, retaining proprietor of the one here.

Dies Suddenly at her Home on Church Street.

Tuesday night at her home on Church street, Mrs. Ada Compton died very suddenly. Heart failure being the cause of her death.

Mrs. Compton was sitting in the room with her husband doing some sewing when she suddenly fell over in her chair and died before aid could reach her.

Mrs. Compton was about 30 years of age and leaves an infant child, her husband, a father and four brothers. She was buried at Cross Roads.

The funeral was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Sample, assisted by Rev. D. Melver.

The Great State Fair is a good event for neighbors who may become estranged to meet, forgive, forget, shake hands, enjoy the splendid attractions learn new wrinkles in improved farming implements, labor saving machinery and return home wiser and happier for the outing.

They that are loudest in their threats are the weakest in their execution of them. It is probable that he who is killed by lightning hears no noise, but the thunder-clap which follows, and which most alarms the ignorant, is the surest proof of their safety.—Colton.

Go to the Great State Fair, October 19-24, and see the unexcelled exhibit of cattle, sheep and hogs; all thoroughbred and an education to look at, wonder at, and become wise on their various points.

No better opportunity occurs during the year for meeting all classes of citizens of our good old State than at the Great State Fair, October 19-24; where any one can see and learn enough to more than reimburse the small outlay and made the gathering wisdom a vehicle of great profit.

Peremptory Orders.
Murphy was a new cavalry recruit and was given one of the worst horses in the troop.
"Remember" said the sergeant, "no one is allowed to dismount without orders."
Murphy was no sooner in the saddle than the horse kicked and Murphy went over his head.

Hell in Business.
The Damn family of world fame is likely to lose its renown by discovery of the Hell family in the town of Farrell, built by the United State Steel Corporation.
Members of the Hell family are not averse to using their name in a business way. The head of the family, Conrad Hell, an ice cream manufacturer, has signs reading "Go to Hell For Ice Cream" scattered throughout the city. Another sign reads: "Ice Cream from Hell is Guaranteed Pure and Cooling." Still another bears the inscription: "Have You Been to Hell? It's the Coolest place in Farrell."
When a stranger enters Main street he is startled by a big billboard reading: "Hell is Here; Don't Miss the Place." A block further down the street this sign is encountered: "You Will Find Everybody There on a Hot Day; Hell is Always Open." The big sign which however, attracts most attention is in front of Hell's place of business. It represents a young couple eating ice cream and the young woman saying to her escort, "Hell For Mine; Always."—Exchange.

The Rebuke Courteous.
A man hurried up to one of the stamp windows in the General Post Office.
"I'm sorry to bother you," he explained. "I only want a 2-cent stamp and the smallest I've got is a $5.00. Sorry."
The clerk shot a glance of mixed contempt and irritation through the window; slowly detached a stamp; tossed it across the shelf; then with eloquent deliberation passed out 5 pennies, 8 nickles, 5 dimes, 3 silver dollars, and a single dollar bill.
The purchaser gathered up the coppers, the nickles and the silver. The dollar bill he shoved back.
"Sorry to bother you so much," he said softly, "but may I ask you for another silver dollar?"
"What?"
"May I ask you for another silver dollar?"
"Sure," said the potentate of the stamp window, with a sickly smile. He realized that the worm outside had put one across.—New York Times.

The wife of a prominent judge was making arrangements with the colored laundress of the village to take charge of their washing for the summer. Now, the judge was pompous and extremely fat. He tipped the scales at some 300 pounds.
"Missus," said the woman, "I'll do your washing, but I's gwine ter charge you double for your husband's shirts."
"Why, what's the reason for that, Nancy?" questioned the mistress.
"Well," said the laundress, "I do not mind washing for an ordinary man, but I draws the line on circus tents, I sho' do."

One of the shrewd lairds of Lanarkshire had evidently experienced the difficulties of collecting money lent to friends.
"Laird," a neighbor accosted him one morning, "I need 20 pounds. If you'll be guid enough to tak ma note, ye'll hae yere money back again in three monts frae the day?"
"Nae, Donald," replied the laird. "I canna do it."
"But, laird, ye hae often done the like for yere friends."
"Nae, mon, I canna obleege ye."
"But, laird—"
"Will ye listen to me, Donald? As soon as I took yere note ye'd draw the 20 pounds, would ye no?"
Donald could not deny that he would.
"I ken ye weel, Donald," the laird continued, "and I ken that in three months ye'd nae be ready to pay me ma money. Then, ye ken, we'd quarrel. But if we're to quarrel, Donald, I'd rather do it noo, when I hae ma 20 pounds in ma pocket."—Tit-Bits.

Not a Scarecrow.
A certain Chicago business man has had a great deal of trouble with his workmen, a number of whom have from time to time evinced a disposition "soldier."
On one occasion when this gentleman, in company with his brother, was visiting the farm of a friend in southern Illinois the two observed an uncouth figure standing in a distant field.
"Since it isn't moving," observed the brother, "it must be a scarecrow."
"That isn't a scarecrow," said the other, after a long gaze at the figure. "That's a man working by the day."

A Tobacco "Break" Explained.
Col. G. E. Webb, editor of the Southern Tobacco Journal, explains a "tobacco break" in this week's issue of his publication. Being an adept in the business, the colonel's views will no doubt be accepted without any further discussion. Here is what he has to say about it:
"Now comes a question to us that has been asked thousands of times. The writer wants to know, 'why is a tobacco break,' or why is a tobacco sale called a tobacco break. Well, here goes to the best of our ability: Away back, years preceding the civil war, tobacco was carried to the markets in hogsheads. The hogsheads were made heavy and substantial, and at each end was fastened a sapling pole, making shafts for the horse. In this way tobacco was rolled to the nearest markets and in some convenient spot was broken up—hence comes the breaks.
"When tobacco was sold in this crude way, Fayetteville was a great market, also was Milton, in Caswell county. At that time, however, but very little tobacco was raised in North Carolina and all of it was cured in the sun."

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Justice Chester, of the Supreme Court today dismissed the application for a change of venue made by counsel of Col. Roosevelt could obtain a fair trial in Albany county. Chairman Barnes sued for $50,000 damages.

"TO CONQUER"

In time of war may be a matter of superior aeroplanes, rifles and machine guns in the hands of the best trained troops, but in times of war and peace alike, the true independence is best enjoyed by he or she who has his or her money loaned on first mortgage real estate security. This is the only kind of security we handle, therefore, if you wish to loan your funds at the highest lawful rate of interest, with absolutely security, then place it with us for in addition to the real estate security, our company guarantees the payment of principal and six per cent, interest, and we pay the interest promptly semi-annually.

We have at this time several thousand dollars in first mortgage real estate bonds in denominations of $100, $200, $250, $300, $400, $500 and $1,000.

Donating Newspaper Space.

The Milwaukee Free Press publishes a very timely editorial on the subject of giving away newspaper space, and it just about coincides with the situation in most towns and cities of the country. Space and copies of his paper go to make up the newspaper man's entire stock in trade. These two are all that he has to offer for sale to the public, and no one has ever yet given any sort of satisfactory reason why he should ever be asked by anyone to donate either.

One thing newspaper people will never be able to understand is why any person will walk into a newspaper office and make himself or herself an object of charity and insist that they would disdain to do the same thing in any other shop or place of business in the town. The principle is the same in the newspaper office as in the dry goods store, the grocery, the drug store, the book store, or any other store, and when a great many people need it to come to recognize it as the same and get off newspaper charity list.

Advertising space in the newspaper is for sale, not to give away. It has a certain intrinsic value in itself that makes it worth money. Copies of the newspaper are for sale, not to give away. If they are worth having, they are worth the exceedingly small price asked for them. The public, or at least a large portion of it, has some very erroneous ideas about these matters, and it is but just to the newspaper folk that these ideas be corrected in accordance with the same business principles that prevail in all other business establishments. Says the Milwaukee paper:

"Advertising publicity is what a newspaper has to sell. It is as much a commodity marked with a price as the wares in a dry goods store. Yet thousands of citizens who would not think of asking a merchant to give them so much as a necktie, have no compunction in asking that advertisements shall be given them by a newspaper. The thought does not even enter their heads that every inch of space given, in addition to providing them with the most profitable service, actually costs the newspapers in editorial labor, in composition, in material, etc., a very definite sum of money.

"The Free Press, like every other Milwaukee paper, is liberal in giving of its space to further the cause of philanthropic, public and other institutions, enterprises and causes where the object is non-commercial and conducive to the public welfare.

"In return, it expects only appreciation—appreciation of the fact that the press is giving its most costly commodity, a service so valuable that the beneficiaries could not afford to buy it, and without which their institution, enterprise or cause could not exist, as service which always is made at a sacrifice to the news columns and at an actual expense.

"It expects recognition of the fact that while halls, theatres, and other public places, posters and all the other service enlisted in these causes demand compensation with but few exceptions, it is the newspaper that gives its wares free for the sake of public good.

"Yet in the vast majority of cases, this generous service is blissfully taken for granted, and the papers liberality abused. That which is purely a favor is accepted as a matter of course, and what would be requests are couched as demands.

"When the courtesy has been performed there is rarely appreciation, and more often dissatisfaction—generally silence.

"The result in many other cities has been that a prize has been put upon every kind of publicity, no matter what its object—even upon the church notice. In those cities, we warrant, such favors as the press bestows are properly valued."

The war is costing France $7,000,000 a day and she seems to be laboring under the delusion that she is getting the worth of her money.

Junior Order Will Meet in High Point.

The members of the Junior O. U. M., of the 12th district are anticipating an interesting program at the 8th session of the district meeting to be held in High Point, Friday and Saturday, October 16 and 17. The district comprises the counties of Guilford, Randolph, Rockingham, Alamance and Caswell.

A large number of speeches will be made during the two days on the work of the Order. The meeting will be called to order at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon by District Deputy J. W. Sechrist. Prayer will be offered by Rev. J. M. Hilliard. There will then follow the election of secretary, roll call of counties, reading of the minutes of the last meeting, assignment of delegates to homes.

At the night session the address of welcome will be delivered by Delos E. Hammer, Esq., of High Point. The response will be made by Col. C. B. Webb, national vice counselor, of Statesville. A flag will be presented to the High Point Council No. 430 by Paul Jones, State Council of North Carolina, of Tarboro. The speech of acceptance will be made by Rev. D. R. Williams, of High Point Council No. 430.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock the next place of meeting will be chosen. General discussions will be had on "Principles of the Order," "Home for the Aged and Infirma," "Immigration in 1915."

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock exercises will be held at the Methodist Protestant Children's Home. The Bible will be presented by N. L. Eure, of Greensboro. Rev. A. G. Dixon, of High Point, will make the acceptance speech. A flag will be presented by Paul Jones, of Tarboro, and H. A. Garrett, superintendent of the Children's Home, will make the acceptance. The singing class of the Home will follow, singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee." The exercises will close with the hoisting of the flag and the benediction.

The committee of arrangements for these exercises is composed of J. M. Hilliard, Chairman; W. C. Herndon, J. B. Milton, J. L. Sechrist, and W. T. Anderson.

President Enters Campaign.

Washington, Oct. 1.—President Wilson today began his letter writing campaign for the election of Democratic Senators and Representatives. He wrote letters endorsing Senator Shively, of Indiana, and Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon. Others will be written later.

In his letter to Senator Owen endorsing Senator Chamberlain, the President declared that "the maintenance of the Democratic majority in the Senate is of the utmost importance to the country if the present policies and program of the government are to be sustained and continued and I take it for granted that the voters everywhere will feel the force of that motive."

The letter endorsing Senator Shively, addressed to Majority Leader Kern, of the Senate, stated in part:

"I am genuinely surprised that any question should have arisen as to whether I want Senator Shively returned. It would be in my judgment a very great loss to the party and to the Senate if he should not be re-elected. I trust that there is no doubt of his re-election."

Secretary Daniels will begin campaign speaking in Connecticut and New Hampshire. Secretary Bryan announced he would speak not only in Ohio, but also in Indiana, Iowa and Nebraska.

"I am glad that you favor serving only soft drinks in the ball park."

"Yes," replied the man from a rough town. "A soft drink bottle seems better constructed. It goes straighter and lands harder when you toss it at an umpire."—Washington Star.

American Ships to Bring Dyestuffs.

Washington, Oct. 1.—No principle of international law stands in the way of the importation from Germany of sugar beet seed, dye stuffs, cyanide and other chemicals needed by American industries, in the opinion of Solicitor Johnston, of the State Department.

Addressing a conference of representatives of these industries, Mr. Johnston said export cargoes from a belligerent to a neutral nation could not be considered contraband of war or subject to seizure if the good faith of the shipment were established.

The conference was called by the Departments of State and Commerce to bring into concrete form the needs of the commodities named. Whenever a shipment was ready at Rotterdam to be placed aboard an American vessel bound to the United States, Mr. Bryan said inquiries would be made of the belligerents, which he felt little doubt would insure safe transportation.

It was pointed out that Germany had removed the ban first placed on the exportation of the commodities mentioned, but insisted that they be carried in American vessels and under guarantee that they would not be re-exported from the United States to any power at war with Germany. The first agreement obtained by Ambassador Gerard at Berlin specified neutral bottoms, but this was changed later to American bottoms on the theory it was assumed that Dutch vessels might be held up by English cruisers and the goods taken by a prize court if needed in England.

Representative Metz announced that an American steamer would be dispatched soon by the textile industries to bring back a cargo already being assembled in Rotterdam from German factories.

Politics in Randolph.

A press correspondent at Asheboro sends out the following: The political situation is livening up a bit down here, though the times are so hard everybody has to "scratch" too hard to let politics bother him much. The Progressive-Republicans have made about 40 appointments over the county for their candidates, while the Democrats have made about as many and added two big siege guns—Cameron Morrison and J. W. Bailey—to their battle line.

E. O. York, who was nominated for the house by the Democrats at their recent convention, has finally decided not to make the race and Dr. G. A. Foster, of Liberty, has been selected by the executive committee to make the race in his stead.

Editor's Note. The above says times are so hard everybody has to scratch over in Randolph. Same snake bit us in Alamance. Their present candidate on the Democratic ticket, Dr. G. A. Foster, is a former Alamance County citizen, and a splendid medicinal physician, but when it comes to politics, the Genial Doctor is a regular quack.

The Republican County convention is to be a mass convention, everybody welcome, everybody invited.

Route Eight News.
 We regret to hear that our venerable friend, W. S. Caffey, is seriously sick at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. M. Kernodle. There is small hopes of his recovery.
 Mrs. C. E. Tapscott and daughters, Bettie Vann, and Grace, visited Mrs. Robert Keck in Burlington and attended the Fair.
 Not having been on the Route for several days we have been unable to get up any items.
 We are glad to state that Mrs. Hayes, who is in Rex Hospital for treatment is doing as well as could be expected, and we hope for a speedy recovery. We thank our good friends who have tried to lighten our burden by their kind acts and words of sympathy. May God bless you all, and may you never have to pass through such trials. We never know how to appreciate our friends, till we get in trouble and we never appreciate good health till we get sick.
 The management has set aside a sufficient sum of money to attract large fields of high-class horses for the four racing days of the week at the Great State Fair, Oct. 19-24.
A Noted List.
 Just look at this list of names: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Seawell Ford, Roy Norton, Elmore Elliott Peake, Richard Dehan. Each one of these noted authors has written for next Sunday's Press, October 11th.
 The story of Roy Norton entitled "The Optimist," is the beginning of a series of stories on "those who refuse to surrender." They are remarkable stories of faith and courage which this author is famed for writing.
 Do not miss this wonderful array of talent in next Sunday's Press.
