

RUSSIAN CHARACTERISTICS IN WINTER STYLES.

Fur on Sheer Gowns of Lace and Chiffon a Season's Novelty.

RIPPLING CAPE OF FUR.

New York, Oct. 17.—In suits, both long and short coats are shown in a wide variety. Russian lines are among the most favored. Long coats of broadcloth are worn over skirts of velvet, satin, duvetyne and broadcloth.

Most of the suits and costumes are made of velvet, broadcloth, broadtail cloth, duvetyne, serge and garbardine, while combinations of satin and faille, velvet and fur-cloth are the season's favored characteristics.

The full ripple skirt is seen in many attractive models, the ripple being caused by the circular cut of the skirt. This skirt is very short and full at the hem but closer at the hips.

The hip-length suit coat is observed in several clever styles, and is often finished at the lower edge with a broad band of fur. Various types of long coats show a fulness at the hips, and, over all, hovers a suggestion of militarism which will probably materialize later.

The redingote and moyen age styles so closely allied in design, are to be seen developed in various combinations of materials. For instance, a model with a redingote of taupe-colored broadcloth had sleeves and the foundation skirt of self-toned bengaline.

The all-black evening gown is having a great vogue, for the soft laces and clinging satins and silks in which it is developed are vastly more becoming than when the stiffer styles held sway.

This was the chief burden of the Democratic song. Their political literature was filled with the subject. It was the theme of discussion all over the country.

The two years that have passed since that time have brought with them the fulfillment of the conditions demanded by Democracy. Mr. Wilson was elected President, and a tariff law to suit his fancy was passed by a tame and docile Congress.

This is the time that Democratic orators are going forth to tell to the country the accomplishments of the party in power. They are certain to be reminded of the promise of 1912 that low prices were certain to follow Democratic success at the polls. What can they answer? Where can they point to a fulfillment of the pledge?

There is one piece to which he surely cannot turn. That is the campaign text-book of the Democratic party that has just been issued. This book is the law and the gospel of the campaign speaker.

The fur of the season are rich and regal, and conform to the styles in a manner which evidences the new art of the furrier. A handsome wrap of chinchilla was made with a flaring lower line.

The Bapsts and the boys from the U. S. S. Franklin had a fight at Wake Forest the other day. Yet there are those who have maintained that 1914 would not see a naval engagement between two of the great powers that rule the waters.

see if underneath the cape the wrap was fur, and found it merely a wide band of fur around the bottom attached to a foundation of lining. Caracul and broadtail are favorite furs for coats and are trimmed with fox, dyed fitch, skunk and a new fur which is called "kit fox."

Quite the latest snape in muffs is the melon shaped muff. It is cut in melon-like pieces and has a fringe around the opening of silk or velvet. This shaped muff is usually made of a short-haired fur, like chinchilla, kolinsky, or mink.

In the illustration is shown a dress of blue charmeuse with a tunic of ecru net having a margot edge in gold thread. At the bottom this tunic is shown with a fringe of monkey fur. At the shoulder is a bright red rose.

Two years ago the campaign orators of the Democratic party were filling the air with fiery denunciations of the high cost of living which they declared the Republicans had brought about.

ly for this campaign: there is no such subject.

Prominent in the volume is a chapter on "Campaign Promises Kept." But not even a high-powered reading glass can discover any trace of low living cost in that section.

The reason for the silence is plain. There has been no reduction in living cost. The tariff law failed at the acid test. Even the Democratic party now officially admits this fact.

Threatens Congress. Washington, Oct. 6.—A revolt in the South against the Democrat party because of its failure to relieve the cotton growers is threatened by the Southern leaders in Congress.

It is more than probable that the Southern members will drop the effort of Congress to adjourn about the 15th of October and that it will not be able to get away until somewhere near the end of the month.

Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the farmers' union warned the banking and currency committee of the senate that a revolt is to be feared if nothing is done to aid the cotton growers. Dr. Alexander was present to help the Sheppard bill or one like it to relieve conditions in the South.

Alamance County Vouchers Going to Protest

Alamance County vouchers, given by order of the Board of County Commissioners for wares, goods, merchandise, and labor performed, are going to protest because there is no money with which to pay them. Every voucher that is protested for non-payment bears an extra dollar and sixty cents besides its face value. The tax payers are not only having to pay the face value of these vouchers, but a dollar and sixty cents extra, and what is the cause. The present county administration has run the county in debt, until there is no money with which to pay these vouchers. The banks and merchants of the county will not even take them. Democratic merchants, if you please refuse them along with Republicans and Progressives. They will not bring face value. Those who have them and they are numerous, cannot get rid of them, they will not even buy cotton, the most despised commodity in this year 1914. IS IT NOT A SHAME THAT A RICH COUNTY LIKE ALAMANCE has its county vouchers hawked about by note shavers, all because they will not bring face value, Men, Tax Payers, Voters, What are you going to do about it. This is no campaign lie, this is no radical lie, this is no political lie, this is the naked truth. This condition can and will be testified by the Democrats, honest Democrats if you please, men who would not have believed this condition existed unless they themselves had seen and know of it. In fact they are the ones that hold these vouchers, we have seen the protested and refused vouchers, they bear the signature of the Clerk to the Board of County Commissioners, the name of the register of deeds, if you please, and yet they are not worth face value. The banks of Burlington hold three thousand dollars worth and will not take any more, in fact, did not want these, but took them to accommodate their customers who had taken them thinking they were good. The banks at Graham have several thousand dollars worth, but will not take any more. A certain contractor in this county has his pocketbook full and cannot trade them for face value. The people furnishing material for the magnificent Ten Thousand Dollar Jail have not even got vouchers for the material furnished. The outstanding vouchers and the beautiful new county jail will amount to Twenty Thousand Dollars and yet they try to deceive you by saying they are reducing the county debt. Well they are reducing it to bonds, and worthless county vouchers, but these must be paid some time and the interest must be paid all the time. What would people say if this happened under a Republican administration? What are they going to say and do now? It is up to them. There should be action, quick action. This condition should not be allowed to exist, it must not exist. There is a remedy. Will you apply it? The remedy is at the polls, to which party will you give it?

WARNING TO TAX PAYERS.

I understand from a reliable source, that our county has a very large outstanding floating debt, probably more than sixty thousand dollars, the interest alone would be three thousand and six hundred dollars per year. From my understanding of the county exhibit published in a county paper for the year ending November 3, 1913, there has been the awful sum of one hundred and seven thousand dollars worth of bonds issued in the last ten years by the Board of County Commissioners without submitting the question to the vote of the people of this county. In fact I do not believe that there is twenty-five people in the county that know this has been done, and yet it has been done. Why is it that the people do not know of it? They do not know of it because the Board of County Commissioners have not told them. They have not told them because they are afraid to tell them. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their office. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their money. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their position. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their name. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their power. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their influence. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their control. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their authority. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their respect. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their honor. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their pride. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their self-respect. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their integrity. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their conscience. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their soul. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their God. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their heaven. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their eternity. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their life. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their happiness. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their peace. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their joy. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their love. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their friendship. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their family. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their country. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their world. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their universe. They are afraid to tell them because they are afraid to lose their God.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Honorable A. A. Whitener, Republican candidate for United States Senator, will address the people of Burlington and vicinity in the Burlington Brick Warehouse, Friday Night, October 30, 7:30 O'clock. Mr. Whitener is a pleasing speaker, and will entertain his audience. The ladies are especially invited, comfortable seats will be provided. Our friends will please see that due publicity is given to this announcement.

Read Senator Overman's speech delivered in the United States Senate last Saturday upon the cotton situation. While it was upon a most serious subject, yet it is well worth reading. Then read our comments attached, then open your eyes politically speaking, and all will be clear. Do this because it is a Democratic senator speaking. Do this because it will

WHAT ABOUT THIS.

Ossipee Mills, Oct. 26, 1914.

Dear Mr. Editor:—

Will you please ask Mr. Vernon when he points his finger at the other county candidates upon the ticket with him, and says in a burst of eloquence that these are all men of integrity in whom the people have the most confidence, why it was necessary for a Mrs. Eliza Harris, who is a widow woman to employ him to collect money due her daughter from the present clerk of the court, if he is a man of such high integrity. This money was placed in the clerk's office in 1896 while Mr. G. D. Vincent was clerk, and remained there until in the fall of 1913 or about eighteen years, the amount was two hundred and twenty-two dollars, placed with the clerk by Mr. James N. Williamson, to remain until this woman's baby daughter was of age, this girl became of age in September, 1912. Mrs. Harris, Mr. Berry Davidson, and the daughter went to Graham to get this money, but the clerk would not pay it, and later Mr. Davidson and the daughter went again, but could not get the money, finally Mrs. Harris had to employ Mr. Vernon to go down and get the money, and had to pay Mr. Vernon a part of this money to get it for her. Mrs. Harris' husband was killed at Ossipee Mills by the elevator rope breaking and the elevator falling three stories with him, killing him almost instantly. This money was part of the insurance which the mill had upon Mrs. Harris' husband, the remainder was paid to Mrs. Harris at the time, and this amount placed with the clerk for the benefit of the child when of age. Although this money was in the clerk's office for about eighteen years, this widow woman did not receive but about ten dollars in interest, and she is of the opinion that this amount was paid to her by Clerk Vincent. That Lawyer Vernon was unable to collect any money although the money was in the clerk's office for about eighteen years. How much would she have received if she had allowed it to remain another eighteen years? Wonder if Mr. Vernon thinks of this when he points with pride at this candidate's integrity. Mr. rather thinks he do.

One Who Knows the Facts.

Read the letter of Mr. James N. Williamson, Jr., in this issue. Mr. Williamson is the National Committeeman of the Progressive party in this State and he comes out good and strong for the Republican-Progressive ticket in this county. As a large tax payer, and a good business man, he feels and knows that something is wrong with the county management in this county, and he wants to see a change. We commend this letter to the serious and thoughtful consideration of every voter and tax payer in this county. Does any one believe that Mr. Williamson would have issued this letter, unless he knew or believed that there was something wrong with the county finances? The salvation of the tax payers in this county, will be found in a change of county officials.

STAND FIRM.

We ask and urge our party friends to stand firmly by the ticket to be voted for at the coming election; we are all united now, let's stay united. Do not permit any one to mislead you in regard to the county ticket; we have a good ticket as good as any party ever nominated in this county. We are going to get support from unexpected sources; let it not be said after the result is over, that we did not stand loyally by all the candidates. Pay no attention to those who would try to stir up prejudice against this or that candidate; we believe that we know what we are doing, and feel that you will approve our action. We urge each of you to not only go to the election yourselves, but to see that your neighbor does likewise. Do not engage in useless argument with those who are devoid of reason; this is no time for useless argument, it only engenders bitterness. This is a time for action.

Respectfully,

J. ZEB WALLER,
HEENAN HUGHES,
E. S. W. DAMERON,

Republican County Executive Committee for Alamance County.

One of the cheapest pieces of politics we have seen was "pulled off" by the Democratic Legislative Candidate, at "The Hub" last Saturday night. He willfully and maliciously twisted the statements of Mr. Carter as to the Republican nominees, and then declared that these nominees were like hog pens in their offensiveness. Shame on you, Mr. Vernon! The Republican nominees are all gentlemen and do not deserve to be likened to hog pens and the good people of Alamance County will not stand for such a disgraceful type of campaigning and it will react on the speaker and discredit him before the people. Mr. Vernon should confine himself to a discussion of the issues and refrain from such base methods of personal abuse. How can a man who claims to be a Christian bow to such mean methods and abuse his fellow citizens by lying for them to his peril? Do not let us if they do choose to be opposed party, the Republican nominees, gentlemen, and all and the people of Alamance County will see that they are not pulled off.

Suppression of Enterprise.

The Clayton anti-trust bill, which has passed both houses of Congress, and now goes to the President, allows two years for corporations to do away with interlocking directorates, but there are provisions in the bill which are likely to bring about this result more promptly because of the responsibilities and liabilities which the bill places upon directors.

It is provided that whenever a corporation shall violate any of the penal provisions of the anti-trust laws such violation shall be deemed to be also that of the individual directors, officers or agents who shall have authorized or done any of the acts constituting in whole or in part such violation. The penalty is a fine or imprisonment.

Directors of large and important corporations are generally wealthy and experienced men. As a rule they include the most successful men of a community. Seldom do they seek a seat upon a board unless their personal investment in a corporation is so great that they feel they must protect their own interests by giving a close supervision to the affairs of the company. Generally men of the type mentioned are asked to serve as directors because of their standing in the community, because of their favorable banking connections or by reason of their general business acumen and particular knowledge of the line of industry or finance handled by the corporation which extends the invitation.

The forcing of such men off of boards will tend to lessen the earning power of corporations and thus detrimental to small shareholders. This feature of the bill would also seem to be unjust to men of large wealth who possess enterprise enough to devote their capital and time to the building up of more than one company. By depriving them of a voice in the management of a company the bill will discourage investments in capital stock. Capital, instead of being encouraged to establish and develop new enterprises which will give employment to toilers, will be deterred from assuming commercial risks and will naturally seek the safe investment in bonds and mortgages which place a burden upon industry. Thus the Democratic Administration is hewing close to its established policy of throwing every possible discouragement around business enterprise.

Democratic Low Tariff Condemned in Scranton.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 5.—J. Benjamin Pimmick's country formally joined hands for the election of United States Senator Boies Penrose and Republican candidates for Congress through a meeting of representative manufacturers today in the Board of Trade rooms, to organize a Lackawanna County branch of the Pennsylvania Protective Union.

Stanley E. Dolph, of the Scranton Pump Company, was elected chairman of the branch and made a speech, in which he severely arraigned the Democratic party and declared that the only hope for business was to send to the next Congress a majority of men committed to the principle of a square deal for business.

"The hostility of the present national Administration and its Pennsylvania sponsors to the joint and inseparable cause of capital and labor," he said, "has been manifested in various ways.

"The removal of the protective tariff and the substitution of a tariff for less than revenue only was the most striking exhibition of unfriendliness to American business, American industry, American enterprise and American wages."

Editor's Note: This Democratic candidate for the Senate in Pennsylvania blames the railroads for the hard times. Down in this neck of the woods the Democrats blame the war. They have no fixed argument, it is a different argument to suit the different classes, whatever will catch a vote. That is what our Democratic friends use. Read this carefully Mr. Voter, you have been told differently down here.

Buy-a-Bale Song.

A. E. Marcus, an Atlanta citizen, who is very much interested in the buy-a-bale movement, has received from his friend, Lewis F. Muir, a musical composer in New York, the words and music of a new song entitled, "Buy a Bale of Cotton," which is now being sung in New York. The words were written by L. Wolfe Gilbert, a well known song writer, and the music by Mr. Muir. The words follow:

Tell me, tell me, sweetheart, what can I buy for you?
If I only knew what would please you!
Then she tells him she would sacrifice all the rest
Only one thing I'd like best,
I'll be so grateful to you,
There'll be some others glad too—

CHORUS.

Buy a bale of cotton, buy a bale of cotton,
If you want to make me happy;
Keep your diamond rings, other fancy things,
I hear the South calling me.
Trinkets are lovely for a girl like me,
I hate to lose those presents so, but please hear my plea—
I must murmur nixie, just to save old Dixie,
Buy a bale of cotton for me.

Tell me, honey, tell me, honey, what's it about?

I'd like to find out, what's it about?
Seems so funny, seems so funny, what are these tales?

Everyone buys cotton bales,
Sweetheart, the bargain is sealed,
I'll buy you a whole cotton field.

An Only Daughter

Relieved of Consumption
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. He has proved to the world that Consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives his recipe free only asking two 2-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the stomach and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Crossack & Co., Philadelphia, Pa., naming this paper.

POOR

DISGUSTED OVER HOLDING EFFORT.

Mecklenburg Farmers Not Pleased With Effort to Boost Price of Cotton.

Farmers of Mecklenburg County are disgusted with the holding movement as a solution of the cotton problem, if expressions heard yesterday on the streets is a fair criterion of the judgment uniformly prevailing all over Mecklenburg. The continued low and gradual lowering price of cotton despite strenuous efforts that have been made by the farmers to stay off the market has had the effect of thoroughly discouraging the county planters. They are rapidly leaving this plan as an ultimate solution of the enigma and going out into other fields in the hope of finding a wise and expedient course to follow.

IS NOT WISE PLAN.

"I want to confess publicly said Mr. W. J. Craig, of Mint Hill, one of the leaders in the buy-and-hold proposition, addressing the meeting of county farmers yesterday morning, that I have made a mistake and I want to apologize to those I have been instrumental in influencing to hold their cotton. It is doing us no good; on the other hand, this county is being greatly harmed right now by the fact that so many of us have agreed to stay off the market. In my own neighborhood I have made some enemies because I sold some of my cotton and I did sell, because I saw that the holding movement was worth nothing to us. I found that South Carolina was dumping cotton into the local market and that the factors on the Charlotte market did not care whether we sold or not. They knew they could get the cotton elsewhere and they did get it. Texas, so I am told, sent 1,000 bales here last week. As long as this keeps up, the farmers of this county are being hurt. I venture to say that the holding movement has already cost us $6,000 to $9,000 and I am disgusted with it. It might have done some good had the market remained firm and the avenues shut off, but so long as other States and other communities can supply our own market with the commodity we have at home and thereby continually depress the price of cotton I am sure that it is the wrong course.

MERCHANT'S OPINION.

"If the farmers of Mecklenburg had not entered into this holding movement, they would have been vastly better off," declared a prominent Charlotte merchant yesterday and a man who is striving at this hour to be of some real service to the farmers. "If they had sold their cotton as it was picked without resorting to this holding process, they could have disposed of 25 per cent. of their crop at 8 or 8 1/4 cents, whereas the market has now gone down to seven cents and the chances are it is going lower. Of course I did not want to see the farmers sacrifice their cotton, but in the light of what has happened, it seems to me that they should have unloaded at eight cents when they had the opportunity."

This merchant happened to be one of those solicited to canvass the city when the buy-a-bale movement was launched. He refused to have anything to do with it because he said at the time that he was afraid it would not work and did not care to become involved in a plan that he was afraid of.

ANOTHER'S VIEW.

Another leading farmer said to a representative of The Observer a few days ago that he expected to sell all of his cotton as soon as he picked it except so much as he promised during the buy-and-hold campaign to keep off the market. He happens to be chairman of one of the township committees that has taken the lead in the holding proposition. He raises perhaps 50 or 60 bales.

The expressions of Mr. Craig at the meeting yesterday appeared to have found a fine soil to fall upon. His remarks were not challenged and farmers coming away from the meeting commented on his address as one of wisdom and common judgment.

Further South, however, the buy-a-bale propaganda seems to be working out on a more successful basis than it is in this part of the country. While it is not proving itself efficacious in boosting the price of cotton, it is being carried through on a much larger scale, and the hope is held out that ultimately the holding movement will amount to something because of the fact that so much cotton is being kept from the market.

School News.

The Teachers Association held its first meeting of the year on last Saturday. The attendance was large and much interest was manifested in making plans for the opening year. The following meetings of the year will take up definite work. The teachers have already organized into Primary and Upper Grade Divisions for special work in each department. The Primary teachers at the next meeting, the first Saturday in November, will have a demonstration lesson and the Upper Grade teachers will recite on the first three chapters of Geographic Influences in American History.

A number of schools have recently made improvements on buildings and grounds looking to the opening. Mahan has repapered one room, Glenwood has dug a new well and put in a new pump. Hawfields School is finishing a new room. McCray is getting new desks. Friendship is repairing the High School Dormitory and others to follow.

The Teachers Handbook is now out and a copy should be in the hands of each and every teacher. It is a neat little manual of 21 pages containing fundamental information about the school work of the county.

The Graham Hardware Company, through Mr. Chas. Harden, gives $20.00 in gold to the school children of the county as prizes for spelling. No subject needs closer study than spelling, and Mr. Harden and his Company should be complimented for this handsome gift to such a good cause. For the White race he gives $10 to the pupil making the best average in Spelling, and $5 to the one making the second best average. For the Colored race he gives $3 to the student making the best average and $2 to the student making the second best average.

The following are the Rules for the Contest:

This contest is open to every school child in Alamance County except those excluded by the rules given below.

1. No pupil above the seventh grade or below the second grade may compete for these prizes.

2. From the pupil's daily grades the teachers shall get the average for each month. These averages will furnish the average for the year. The County Superintendent will send out, in the Spring, a list of words suitable for each grade. These words will be dictated by the teacher to the pupils of their respective grades. The words must be plainly written by the pupil and the papers of the two pupils (in any grade or grades in the contest) who make the highest averages—the yearly average will count 50 per cent. and the test grade will count 50 per cent.—must be sent to the County Superintendent.

3. In case of a tie the competitors will be given a test at the County Commencement and the final decision reached.

4. A pupil found cheating or attempting to cheat will be excluded from the contest.

The rules will necessitate written spelling in all grades contesting for prizes, and they will necessitate keeping in permanent shape the spelling records. The Superintendent recommends Webster's Spelling Blanks to meet these requirements. These blanks are put up in nice little books and may be secured at Neese's Book Store in Burlington at 5 cents each.

Booker T. Washington Advocates Pigs Clubs for Negro Children.

Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, Oct. 10.—Our race is in constant search of means with which to provide better homes, schools, colleges and churches, and with which to pay debts. This is especially true during the hard financial conditions obtaining on account of the European war. All of this cannot be done at once, but great progress can be made by a good strong pull together, in a simple direct manner. How?

There are 1,400,000 colored families who live on farms or in villages, or small towns. Of this number, at the present time 700,000 have no pigs. I want to ask that each family raise at least one pig this fall. Where one or more pigs are already owned, I want to ask that each family raise one additional pig this fall.

As soon as possible, I want to ask that this plan be followed by the organization of a Pig Club in every community where one does not already exist. I want to ask that the matter be taken up at once through families, schools, churches, and societies, Farmers' Institutes, Business Leagues, etc.

The average pig is valued at about $5.00. If each family adds only one pig, in a few months at the present prices for hogs, $10.00 would be added to the wealth of the owner and $11,000,000 to the wealth of the colored people. If each family adds two pigs it would have in a few months $20.00 more wealth, and $28,000,000 would be added with which to promote the welfare of the race during the money stringency created by the European war.

Let us not put it off, but organize Pig Clubs everywhere. Give each boy and girl an opportunity to own and grow at least one pig.

Regal Shoes Join The "Buy a Bale of Cotton" Movement.

That the patriotic movement to help the South and "Buy a Bale of Cotton" is spreading among the captains of industry and heads of "big business" is indicated by the latest recruit to the ranks—the Regal Shoe Company, which operates 100 stores of its own throughout the United States and has 900 agents.

In the letter, reproduced below, which has been received by the sponsors of the "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement, E. J. Bliss, President of the Regal Shoe Company, pledges the hearty support of that well-known organization to the plan to help the South. The letter is as follows:

Boston, Mass.,
October 1, 1914.

Dear Sirs:—

Accept our congratulations for originating a simple, practical method for financing the cotton crop, and we want to let you know that we cordially endorse your activity in promoting the commercial interests of the South and indirectly benefitting the whole country through the "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement.

We believe you have "started something," and a patriotic movement of this sort that will result in a national benefit to the country as a whole will sweep aside all prejudices and jealousies, and you will receive the hearty co-operation of every big publication in the country. We have joined the movement in a small way, but we want to do more.

For every pair of Regal Shoes sold in our stores for sixty days, beginning October 1st, we agree to purchase one pound of cotton at ten cents a pound. We are instructing each of our stores throughout the country to place an order for cotton every week on this basis.

We might explain that the sales in our stores for corresponding period last year would indicate that our purchases, in accordance with this arrangement, would probably amount to about 192,478 pounds of cotton.

We know the idea will inspire enthusiasm in every man in our employ, and we will devote prominent window space for appropriate display in every store and are making arrangements to give the plan the fullest publicity.

Yours very truly,
REGAL SHOE COMPANY,
E. J. Bliss, Pres.

Mr. Bliss brings down the "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement to a popular level. Instead of talking bales to the philanthropist he talks pounds to the public and allows every purchaser of Regal Shoes to contribute his individual share to move the crop.

In every Regal Store there has been installed a large "sales thermometer," showing the weekly gains in the purchases of cotton, as the sales of shoes send them up.

Moreover, lifesize and miniature bales of cotton are used to keep popular enthusiasm burning and to heighten interest in the welfare of the country's greatest industry.

From the volume of sales already recorded, it is probable that the purchases of cotton in stores operated by the Regal Shoe Company will exceed the surprising total of 200,000 pounds.

Mr. Bliss has received letters from many men eminent in political and commercial life congratulating him on his patronic stand to help the South in its time of need.

Saxapahaw Items.

Mr. Horace Murray and Miss Ola Clark, both of this place, were married in Graham Sunday morning. Mr. V. Uliss, Esq., officiating. The groom is the son of Mr. T. C. Murray, superintendent of Saxapahaw Cotton Mills, while the bride is the daughter of the late Mr. John S. Clark, who was miller at this place for several years. Both are popular in the social and church life of the place, and their many friends here wish for them a long and happy life. They will reside here at present.

Mrs. Banner Willard continues seriously ill at the home of Mr. George T. Williamson. Her sons, Messrs. Will Willard, of Greensboro, Thomas Willard, of Wilmington, and James Willard, of Norfolk, Va., were at her bedside Sunday.

Elizabeth Durham, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Durham, is seriously ill with diphtheria. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

Miss Lona Roney delightfully entertained a number of her friends Saturday evening from seven to eleven. The decorations throughout the house were of autumn leaves and ferns. Various games were played, toward the close of the evening the guests were ushered into the dining room where a delightful fruit course was served. The guests numbered about fifty, and all had a good time.

"Political Theology."

Bro. Bruce Craven comes back at us with the observation that besides repentance and forgiveness of sins the Methodist also believe in "growing in grace" and that he wants to "watch the Republicans grow" a long while before he starts out to help then grow like some of his others Democratic friends are charged with doing. He also inquires of us as to whether or not we know that A. E. Holton is a smart man a politician and a Republican and that he came away from the Raleigh meeting with the record of having started the whole business, thereby fulfilling The Charlotte Observers' prediction that they would try to "hog" the show.

We fear Brother Craven is filled with jealousy. Perhaps Holton is preparing to "jine" the Democratic party. Then Mr. Craven would be—happy?

DID YOU KNOW IT?

Did you know that there was issued in 1903 fifty thousand dollars worth of bonds to pay off a county debt contracted by the Democratic administration, did you know that in 1911, there was issued twenty-three thousand dollars worth of bonds to pay off a county debt contracted by a Democratic administration, did you know that in 1912 there was issued fourteen thousand dollars worth of bonds to pay off a county debt, contracted by a Democratic administration, did you know that in 1913 there was issued twenty thousand dollars worth of bonds to pay off a county debt, contracted by a Democratic administration, did you know there has been issued in the last ten years, (count them) one hundred and seven thousand dollars worth of bonds to pay off a county debt, contracted by a Democratic administration? Yes it is a fact, and not one dollar of this amount was voted upon by the people, the tax payers was not even consulted about it, few if any knew of it, and yet it is the truth. Mr. Tax Payer what are you going to do about it, and lastly, did you know that it will take another hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds to pay off the present floating indebtedness and leave anything in the treasury for working capital, yea, yea, boy, these do sure be troublesome times for the taxpayers of this grand old County of Alamance, and all for what, because the people have blindly voted the Democratic ticket, and more blindly followed a set of leaders who have been deceiving them as to the true condition of the county finances. Even at this date, with your county credit ruined, your county officials, our county officials if you please, will not tell you how your finances stand, and the true condition of your county affairs. What are you going to do, Mr Tax Payer, wait awhile longer, well do it if you will, but great will be the penalty that you will have to pay, have a house cleaning. If there is no one running for office that you have confidence in, of whom you have confidence in, or whom you think can or will do any better. Call you another convention. Lay these facts before the people, and nominate you a ticket, whom you can trust, and who will not deceive you. We tell you in all candor, that the Republican party has men now in the field, who will give you good sound, economical, honest county government. They have done it in the past, they can and will do it in the future, if entrusted with the reigns of county government. Try them, you could not do worse than now. We pledge you that you can do better. Your remedy is at the polls. will you exercise it? We shall see.

DO NOT GET EXCITED.

This is no time for the voters and tax payers to get excited, while financial conditions are bad, very bad in this county, and while our country is heavily in debt, and the interest upon this indebtedness is burdensome, we must keep cool and work these things out with cool calm brain, do not let any political party unduly excite you, do not get wrought up so that you will vote your partisan sentiment rather than your cool intelligent judgment. Times demand a great deal of thinking but think, and after you have thought put your best thoughts into action. We must lay aside partisanship and exercise our privilege as free American citizens, do not believe all that any candidates tell you, not that they would deceive you deliberately, but in their zeal to get elected they might lead you to believe that conditions were better than they are, this especially has reference to the financial condition of our county. The present administration realizes that they have made a mess of the county finances, and are anxious to make matters appear as good as possible. But we tell you, and we tell you the truth that they are just as bad as this paper represents them to be, and they may be worse for all we know, we do know they are the bad. The officials will not tell you the true condition, they will tell you one thing one time, and another thing the next, they have changed the financial condition three different times since they have been out upon the canvass. How can we or you tell which is the correct statement, this being true you will have to judge for yourself just how bad conditions are, we have told the county officials and we now tell you, that if those in authority in this county will tell us the true financial condition we will publish the same, we are anxious to render the tax payers a real service by letting them know how their affairs are being conducted. But you could not go into any business concern in this county and have them hand you their books, and then have you tell them how their affairs stood, neither can you or us go into the clerks, treasurer, or the register of deeds office and look at their books and tell how this county stands financially, and yet this is what our officials tell us to do, they say come look at the books. We say your books may be right, but we are not familiar with them, you tell us how we stand financially, but they say, Nay, Nay, Pauline, come look at the books we will tell you nothing, look for yourself. Now there you are, you cannot tell, we cannot tell, and they wont tell. As tax payers and voters what are you going to do about it? We say vote for some one who will tell you, some one who pledges he will tell you, this is the only sure way to protect your own interest and the interest of the county finances, what will you do, it is up to you. No one else will act for you. will you act for yourself. We shall see.

Read this issue of The Twice-A-Week Dispatch. It is full of good sound political common sense, no matter if the Editor of the paper has none himself, the people who we are quoting from have some, and that is sufficient, we say again read every line in this paper, think upon them, then use your best judgment and you have done your duty to yourself, your neighbor, and your country. What more can a good citizen do?

Registration.

The registration books were opened last Saturday, or should have been for the registration of voters and they will remain open until Saturday, Oct. 24th. Each Saturday till and including October 24th, the registrar shall have the books at their respective polling places. On other days the voters must hunt the registrar up if he desires to register. It is the duty of the registrars to make it as convenient as possible for voters to register. All persons who have attained their majority since last election are entitled to register. If you have moved from one State, County or Township to another, you must register in your new place of residence if you expect to vote. If you have changed your residence from one township or ward to another without leaving the county you must get a transfer from the township or ward in which you formerly lived to the one in which you now reside.

Registration is very important if you expect to vote and the voters should give this matter their immediate attention.
