THE TWICE-A-WEEK DISPATCH

A PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE UPBUILDING OF AMERICAN HOMES AND AMERICAN INDUSTRIES.

BURLINGTON, ALAMANCE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1915.

SEE ONLY EVIL IN DEMOCRATIC RULE.

Manufacturer From New York Bitterly Denounces the Wilson Administration.

With powerful phrases, Lincoln Cromwell, of William Iselin & Co., New York, taking up each act seriatim yesterday bitterly denounced the Wilson administration at the session of the annual convention of the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers in the First Regiment Armory, Broad and Calhoun Streets.

He defined the income tax as "a fiasco in government benevolence which increased the burden of the poor." The Federal Reserve Act, he said, "was soggy with Bryanism," and he declared that the "Administration scorned the counsel of business men in framing its tariff law, warning them away from Washington as if one and all they were robber barons; also the Administration defied the warning of commercial bodies in trying to force through the ship purchase bill."

For the Federal Trade Commission, however, Mr. Cromwell had a kind word, saying that it was promising and that it might be made of great benefit to American business men.

"These are some of the performances of officials who would redeem America from business men," he said. "With what promises they came into office! The robbery of a protective tariff was to be exchanged for a condition where everything sold cheaper, but wages were higher. Our factories were to run overtime on exports. Our farmers and merchants were to get money for the asking which was formerly kept back for friends of the Money Trust. An income tax was to trim the rich and lessen the burden of the poor. We were going to hearten 15,000,000 peons in Mexico by getting them ballots and making them owners of happy farms and prove ourselves such a model of peace on earth and mercy mild that war the world around would cease to be.

"I would waste your time by detailing the failure of every item in this program. No retail prices were reduced by the Underwood tariff. It decreased our exports and increased the imports from the day it passed until the war broke out in Europe. Our factories have been on part time and our workmen on bread lines. No man borrows easier or in any other place than before the Federal Reserve Banks were opened. The income tax has been shifted on to the poor through higher rent and mortgage rates. There never was such a fiasco in government benevolence.

"It passed the Seaman's Bill, which undoes our conventions, with twenty foreign countries and creates new obstacles for ship owners. Add to this, while our revenues were rapidly shrinking, it appropriated the record sum of $2,231,000,000 in two years, and asked Congress for $34,000,000 more than it got.

"It is a sad thing that high ideals sincerely held and expressed with exquisite grace do not always square their theory with

City Graded School Commencement.

The baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. J. Clyde Turner of Greensboro at the Front Street M. E. church Sunday night marked the beginning of the commencement exercises of the City Graded Schools.

The church auditorium was completely filled by 7:45, and by the time the exercises began the entire seating capacity of the church, including the Sunday school auditorium and balconies, was well taken.

The choir rendered special music and Miss Benbow and Mrs. C. V. Sharpe sang a duet. Rev. Mr. Turner proved himself a most pleasing and inspiring speaker. His text was "Ye are God's Building."

Last night in the auditorium of the Graded School building the commencement debate and declamation contest were engaged in by pupils of the school.

Thursday night will be class night exercises. The senior class will give their exercises beginning at eight o'clock.

Friday night will be the graduating exercises and literary address. This will be the closing event of the commencement.

SCHOOL HOUSE DEMOLISHED.

Newberry, S. C., May 8.—Another storm swept over Newberry and the surrounding community Friday morning. For about an hour there was heavy rain and wind. It was the hardest rain that has fallen here in some time. The wind was so severe that in its paths it blew down several buildings. Garmany school house, about three miles out in the country, was demolished. The roof first blew off and then the walls crushed in. In the building at the time were two teachers and 35 pupils. The occupants all escaped injury, with the exception of a few scratches and bruises.

Bryan, we take it, will go down in history as the man who made grape juice famous. Or will grape juice go down in history as the beverage that made Bryan famous.

facts. Mr. Wilson's theory of the tariff and the high cost of living was wrong. Foreign goods under the new tariff can change very few retail prices under our selling conditions. Imports will be landed just enough under American prices to get the dealer's orders and no lower. The consumer gets no benefit, but our factories close and the workmen lose their wages."

I. F. Stone discussing the manufacture of aniline dye colors and the shortage on account of the war, said that the dyes can be manufactured here if the Government will protect the manufacturer with a tariff after the war is over and give them a chance to develop something that will compete successfully with the Germans in cheapness.

FLAG RAISING BY THE JUNIOR ORDER.

Local Council of the Jr. O. U. A. M. Presents City School With "Old Glory"—Hon. Paul Jones, State Councilor, Principal Speaker.

Last Saturday afternoon was a great and inspiring time for the members of the local council of the Junior Order at this place and the school children of Burlington. The occasion was the presentation of and hoisting upon a pole the American flag to the Burlington Graded Schools.

The members of the Junior order participating in the event numbered about fifty, and marched in a body from their council hall to the school building. The addresses of presentation and acceptance of the flag were delivered to the assembled audience of the Juniors, school children and many visitors, in the school auditorium at four o'clock and the hoisting of the flag upon the pole took place on the school grounds in front of the school building.

Hon. J. H. Vernon, our honored and distinguished representative to the Legislature, was master of ceremonies and presided over the occasion in a most splendid and dignified manner.

Hon. Paul Jones of Tarboro, the State Councilor of the Junior Order in North Carolina, was introduced as the speaker of the afternoon, and delivered the presentation speech. In his opening remarks, Mr. Jones expressed peculiar delight in being present on such an inspiring occasion. He spoke at length on the principles of the Junior Order and why the order presents flags and Bibles to schools throughout the State. He said that about 200 flags had been presented by the order to graded schools in the State during the past twelve months. One of the features of his speech was the strong plea for the Junior Order to cooperate in the great work of educating the children of North Carolina and lend their aid in establishing night schools and wiping out the illiteracy among the thousands of men in the State who cannot read and write. The speaker quoted statistics showing that North Carolina, compared with other states, stood third from the bottom in educational development; that there were 250,000 white men and women in the state who cannot read or write; that 49,000 voters of the state could not read the ballot which they placed in the ballot box on election day. This, he said, is an alarming condition, and should receive the attention of the citizenship of the state in general. He gave assurance that some progress is being made in eliminating the illiteracy of the state, that 38 counties have established moonlight schools as a result of the work of the Junior Order along this line.

Mr. Jones made reference to the Burlington Graded School building, stating that in all his travels over the state, he had not seen a school building as poor and inadequately equipped as our school building. He further stated that the Junior Order had been very influential in many places in causing bonds to be voted for the erection of new school buildings.

The speeches of acceptance were made by Prof. King in behalf of the school and Hon. E. S. W. Dameron on behalf of the school board.

Professor King gave a brief history of the flag, telling of its origin and the significance of its colors, stars and stripes.

Mr. Dameron, in a brief, but very pleasing speech, spoke of the flag as not being a symbol of war and spilling of human blood, but a symbol of patriotism, virtue and liberty.

The two speeches of acceptance were considered by many as the best that have ever been heard on such occasions.

The hoisting and unfurling of the flag took place immediately after the addresses. The school children sang "The Star Spangled Banner" while the flag was being drawn to the summit of the pole. A gentle breeze caused the flag to wave beautifully, presenting a most inspiring and soul-stirring aspect to the happy throng of men, women and children that had gathered around the pole to witness the procedure.

The presentation of the American flag to the City Graded Schools by the Junior Order is a manifestation of the keen interest which the members of the order have in the education of the boys and girls of Burlington, and exemplifies one of the great principles for which the order stands, that of our public school system.

YOUNG GIRL TRIES TO KILL HERSELF.

Miss Willie Hill, An 18-Year-Old Daughter of W. M. Hill, Shoots Herself With Revolver.

An unsuccessful effort at suicide was made yesterday morning by Miss Willie Hill, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hill, who live at 600 North Graham street, when she sent a 32 caliber bullet through her shoulder. She was later removed to the Charlotte Sanatorium, where physicians pronounced the wound not serious.

The attempt at self-destruction occurred at 7 o'clock, while the mother of the young woman was engaged in conversation with a neighbor in the yard. Mrs. Hill heard the report of a revolver but did not comprehend that the shot emanated from her own home until the sound of a fall came from within. An investigation revealed the young woman unconscious upon the floor of her room, bleeding from a wound in the shoulder. The Alarm was instantly given and Dr. Charles E. Walker responded to the call. The victim of the strange incident soon recovered consciousness, and Doctor Walker had her transported to the hospital. The ball had ploughed its way through the fleshy portion of the left shoulder, and although painful, inflicted but a minor wound.

Miss Hill refused to assign any reason for her attempt at suicide, while her family were at a loss to account for the happening of yesterday. Her father, W. M. Hill, has been in the employ of the Standard Ice & Fuel Co., for a number of years and is well known in the city.—Charlotte Observer.

CYCLONE HITS BURLINGTON.

Portions of Burlington Coffin Co. and Sellars' Hosiery Mill Demolished—Loss Estimated At $7,000.

About five o'clock last Friday afternoon a cyclone passed through this section. The barn belonging to Mrs. King, on Tucker street, was first struck, and her cow was killed. The new addition of the Sellars Hosiery Mill, a two-story brick structure, 40x80, just finished and equipped with machinery, was the next scene of the disaster. The roof was hurled to the ground in several pieces, the entire brick wall of the second story was blown down and the west end raised to the ground. The estimated loss is $2,000 with no insurance.

The greatest damage of the cyclone was done to the Burlington Coffin Company's building. The storing and shipping building, which is three stories high, was struck, the entire roof being shattered to the ground in a mangled mass. The wall of the third story was demolished. Several metal vaults were blown some distance out into the yard and the wreckage and debris blown broadcast and piled up all around. Rain descended in torrents and flooded the entire building, damaging goods extensively. The total loss to the building and the goods is $5,000 partially covered by insurance.

Fortunately no one was in either of the buildings when the disaster came and nobody was injured. Mr. J. L. Scott, secretary and treasurer of the Coffin Co., informs us that the partial destruction of the building will not interfere with the operation of the plant.

We understand that both buildings will be rebuilt at once and the Coffin Company will add another new building. The disaster created much excitement, and the scenes of both buildings were visited by hundreds of people.

WILL BE GUEST OF MR. HOLT.

Hon. T. W. Bickett, District Attorney of Raleigh who will deliver the literary address of the City Graded School Commencement on next Friday night, will be the guest of Mr. Erwin A. Holt while in our city. Mr. Bickett married a cousin of Mrs. Holt's.

Burlington should feel highly honored in having such a prominent and distinguished visitor in our midst. Mr. Bickett is being mentioned as a candidate for governor of North Carolina in the next election.

"Mothers' Day" will be observed at the Reformed church next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. All members and friends of the church and especially all mothers are invited to be present. The pastor, Rev. D. C. Cox, will preach a special sermon, and the service promises to be quite interesting and helpful to all who may attend.

The Sinking of The Lusitania.

America is suddenly brought into the maelstrom of this gigantic war by the torpedoing and sinking of the Lusitania with more than thirteen hundred passengers on board, many of them being Americans. How many were lost and how few were saved are not known at this writing. A villainous blow from an unseen craft on the finest and largest ship in service has caused this awful disaster. It proves that American citizens have lost their lives by this form of assassination, what will our government do about it?

Must all Americans be marooned at home during the pending of this war, or if they go abroad as passengers on a merchant vessel are they liable to be sent to the bottom by a German torpedo without notice or adequate notice given to the vessel and a fair chance afforded those on board to escape? This is what has been done in the case of the Lusitania.

Is this savage practice of sinking peaceful vessels and drowning those on board, including citizens of neutral nations, to go unchecked and unrebuked? We have a right to expect some quick and decided action on this foul deed of enormous barbarity, the torpedoing of the Lusitania.

ALBRIGHT-GIBSON.

Mebane, N. C., May 4.—A beautiful wedding was solemnized Thursday afternoon in the presence of nearly a hundred friends and relatives, when Miss Della Gibson, the popular and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Gibson, became the bride of Mr. Frank Albright at the home of the bride. The handsome parlor was decorated with ferns and roses of assorted colors. At the beginning of the wedding march, which was played by Miss Mattie Gibson, the attendants came in, the maids carrying eloquent bouquets of lilies of the valley, followed immediately by the groom, with his best man, Mr. A. E. Gibson. Next came the ring bearer, little Miss Lois Corbett, taking her place beside the officiating minister, Rev. J. W. Goodman. Then came the most beautiful scene of the occasion, when the bride and maid of honor, Miss Fannie Howard, entered, carrying large bouquets of bride's roses. Immediately after the ceremony, delightful courses of refreshments were served in a faultless manner.

The couple accompanied by a host of friends took a pleasant trip in machines to the groom's home where a splendid reception was given in honor of the bride and groom.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, and is one of the state's most attractive women. She will be greatly missed in the social circles of her community.

The groom is a prominent and industrious young man of Durham. After taking their tour through Northern cities, they will reside in Durham.

A long and happy life is the sincerest wish of their many friends.—The Durham Sun.

DEMOCRATIC BISHOP.

Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Darst Visits Kinston Episcopalians.

Kinston, April 27.—Because, in a way, he has no church distinctly his own, Rev. John H. Griffith, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal parish here, has presented Christ Church, East Kinston, to the Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Darst, bishop of East Carolina, for his "really, truly own." Bishop Darst has accepted and promised if he can to attend his church twice a year.

Christ Church is a rather remarkable institution, the congregation of which is comprised of the main by mill workers and their families. There is rarely ever a vacant seat in the church, where gray-haired old people and children, many of them in arms, flock at every opportunity. Because they preferred immersion, Rev. Mr. Griffith baptized a dozen members of this church in Neuse River, after which they were confirmed by Bishop Darst. One youngster who went to St. Mary's to get a glimpse of the new bishop before he was present to the remainder of the congregation in East Kinston, was among those to be taken before the dignitary after the service. He was barefooted, coatless and collarless. The rector of St. Mary's made no hopes of hugging the chap, galluses and all. The bishop was democratic in his greeting to an extent that delighted those around. Bishop Darst is spending the week here. —From Charlotte Observer, April 28, 1915.

SPEAKING OF THE TWIG.

At a dinner party the other evening the conversation turned to the ecstatic way in which we often praise the beauty of our friends' babies, and this story was recalled by Mrs. Bob Swee-ney, wife of the assistant secretary of the interior, says The Philadelphia Telegraph.

Some time ago Uncle Brown called on his nephew, and hardly had he reached the house before the new baby was trotted out for his admiration. Uncle Brown, of course, became very much interested.

"And so this is the great baby," he remarked to the proud parents, as he gazed at the fluffy little bundle, "I trust that you will bring him up to be a conscientious and worthy man."

"I am greatly afraid, Uncle," demurely responded the mother, "that that will be utterly impossible."

"Nonsense, Kitty! Nonsense, was the energetic rejoinder of Uncle Brown. "As the twig is bent the tree is inclined, you know."

"Yes, I know," smiled Kitty, "but this particular twig is bent on being a girl."

THEY RESPOND TO WOMAN'S TEARFUL PLEA FOR CREAM.

But When Men Open Their Purse They Find Joke is on Them.

Raleigh is a city abounding with the spirit of charity, good will, and benevolence. There is not the slightest doubt of it. The spirit struck Fayetteville street yesterday in a whirlwind of fury, if a good thing travels that way, and even a visitor, Walter E. Brock, of Wadesboro, solicitor and politician, was so much overcome by the gentle, seductive influence that he yielded to the persuading graces of the very embodiment of good will, Bob Leach. It was this way:

Standing in front of a drug store, forlornly gazing with longing eyes at the soda fountain through the plat glass window, with a row of men making signs of enjoyment while cooling draughts gurgled down their throats, was a woman, a country woman, lonesome with the loneliness of the wide fields and the wild woods, and the little cabin. Beside her was the husband, in blue overalls, nervously fumbling a cow hide whip. A toddling child clung to the woman's hand.

"You promised to buy me some ice cream," pleaded the woman tearfully.

"I told you I ain't got the money. Come on," replied her husband, "and don't make a show of yourself."

The woman started to weeping. Her tears came rapidly. The inevitable handkerchief went to her eyes and she cried as if her heart were breaking. The man only looked at her with a dumb sort of disgust, apparently miserable in his bankruptcy.

Mr. Walter E. Brock, he of political fame, and Mr. Bob Leach, stood on the same corner and their responsive hearts were touched. One reached into the depth of his pocket and pulled out a coin. The other stepped up to the woman, diffidently.

"Here," he said, "take this and get some ice cream."

His voice was gentle and low. The woman hesitated, weeping the more.

"I can't take money from a strange man," she sobbed.

"Oh, don't mind that," her benefactor replied, and they insisted.

Just then the husband reached in his pocket and pulled out a stack of cards, which he started to distribute.

"Gentlemen," he declared, "we are advertising the best ice cream in the country, the famous—"

Leach and Brock leaned back against the drug store and grinned.

"13" EVER THEIR HOODOO.

Wichita, Kan., May 3.—Many people claim there is nothing to the superstition about "thirteen," but in Wichita is a couple seeking a divorce in the District Court that believes the number is an ill omen. They cite their own lives since they met and were married. Here is the story as told by the man:—

Thirteen years ago the man and woman met in Topeka, on March 13. On October 13, they were married. They were married at No. 213 East Seventh Street and started housekeeping at No. 213 East Eight Street. The rent on the house came to $13 a month, and they had three children.

At one time Joe Jefferson was persuaded to accompany a friend to a new comedy production. The price in itself proved to be inferior and the comedians were even more so. On their way out the friend remarked that the comedians seemed nervous. "What they need is life," he concluded. "You're too severe," said the gentle-hearted Jefferson, his grave face concealing internal laughter. "Ten years would be enough."

POOR

ROBBING THE SICK.

An Exposure of The Most Despicable Form of Quackery.

Note—This is the second in a series of articles telling of the methods and adventures of a quack doctor among farmers in Missouri.

The next morning the doctor was in great good humor. As we drove out into the country we sighted three black crows in a tree.

"Bully!" he exclaimed. "See those three crows? That's a sure sign that the drift will be good today. Never knew it to fail."

We had been driving since 7:30 o'clock in the morning. At 9 o'clock there loomed up a large farm house in the midst of a grove of green cedars.

"We'll stop there and inquire," the doctor said.

I went to the front door and knocked. A woman's voice answered from within.

"I am sick in bed; the men folks are out in the barn," she said.

I found the farmer and his son. I introduced myself and told them the great specialist, Dr. Wilson, was in a buggy at the gate, and inquired if they knew of any one in the neighborhood who was seriously ill.

"Well," the farmer said. "My wife is sick in bed with rheumatism and heart trouble and the doctors say they can't help her any."

We took the old doctor into the house. It was pitiful to see the look of hope in the emaciated face of the woman in the bed when the massive figure and benign countenance of the great specialist loomed before her. He sat down beside her bed.

"I have been suffering terribly, doctor," she said. "Our doctor don't help me, and my rheumatism has gone down into my knees and the pain is awful."

"I will see what is wrong," said the doctor. He took a long time in his examination, making copious notes on his record chart, and saying nothing. When he had finished he arose, beckoned to the husband and together they went into the kitchen and sat down to the table.

Laying the chart before the old man the doctor said with deep solemnity: "Your wife is suffering more than she lets on, poor, patient woman. She has worked hard for you all these many long years. She has toiled and saved that in her old age you and she might be happy and comfortable, that when both of you were called away your son might have a better start in life than you two had."

"We all must die," the doctor went on. "All must part, and in all my travels and experience with the sick and suffering, I never have found a pocket in a shroud. We cannot take away with us any of the money we have saved. And yet we let our dear ones lay there and suffer. You must keep your dear old wife with you as long as you can, no matter what it may cost. But don't let her lie there and suffer."

"But doctor, can she be cured?" the old man asked, with hope in his voice.

"Cured! Absolutely. She can be doing her own housework before the leaves come out this spring, but it will cost you something."

"How much, doctor? I want to keep her and help her, but we are poor, so many pressing debts."

The doctor got up and went in again to the bed of the sick woman. The husband and son followed.

"You want to get out of that bed of pain, don't you?" the doctor asked her.

"Oh, doctor, is it possible?" she pleaded.

"It is possible; it is certain. The medicines are costly. There is just one remedy that will cure you. That is the extracted oil of the hyssop plant from the banks of the Nile, used in our patent nebulizer. There is only one place in America where it can be obtained, and that is in the Old State Hospital with which I am connected in Kansas City."

In this case the doctor guaranteed a cure in four months. The regular price was $200, but because of the advertisement for the hospital he would cure her for $100. He told them that was the exact cost of the medicine, not a cent of profit in it.

"If the cure is not complete in four months, I will personally refund the money to you," the doctor promised.

The son, a fine, strapping young fellow, said: "Father, you've got to do it. The debts that are worrying you can wait."

"I will sell my horse and you can have the money to pay that," said the boy.

"There is a man for you," the doctor said, laying his hand on the boy's shoulder. The father tried to get the price down to $75.

"Why," said the doctor, "the nebulizer costs $30 alone."

The upshot of it was the old man dug up the $100 and handed it to the doctor. We left the poor, suffering woman smiling through her tears and the father followed us to the buggy and talked awhile. Pretty soon the son came out with a basket of apples.

"Mother wanted you to have them," he said.

As we drove off down the road I asked the doctor about the nebulizer. I had never heard of it before.

"It's a tin can with a rubber tube sticking out of it. We put cotton in it, soak it in oil of mustard, and the patient takes a whiff of that once in awhile. It's mighty strong stuff," he laughed.

"You said it cost $30," I ventured.

"I meant $50 a thousand," he replied.

He told me that the "hospital" in Kansas City always sent such nauseating medicine to a patient toward the last of the treatment that they could not allow it, and then, if the patient "kicked" and wanted the money back, or went to law the "hospital" was in a position to say, "Why, how could I be expected to cure you if you wouldn't take our medicine?"

We did no more business in that county, but returned to Kansas City to get a man who could speak German, our intention being to visit a German settlement in Vernon County. We got the German speaking man and went. The first case we found there was one of cancer. The sufferer was a rich farmer and had tried several quacks who had robbed him but failed to cure. Of course his case was incurable, but we went to see him and, as he spoke very little English, we let our German partner handle him.

Finally, after working with him an hour, his wife agreed that her husband should take the treatment if the terms were not too high. Imagine our chagrin when our German friend demanded $500 and stuck to it. That enraged the old doctor so that he and I got in the buggy and drove off, leaving our German friend to get to town the best way he could. We never saw him afterward.

"That hop head could have got $200 easily, but $500; that rumbled the game," said the doctor as we drove away.

By inquiring around I learned of a sick man named Timmons. We found him, hobbling around on his knees, with short crutches under his arms. I explained to him about the great specialist I had with me and he consented to see him.

The doctor made the strongest fight there to get that old cripple's money that I ever saw him put up. The old fellow had a big raw boned son who was suspicious of us and stood off to one side while the examination was being made. The doctor used his special stethoscope in this case. It had a sounder that placed over the heart and two rubber tubes that led up to the doctor's ears. He had a way of manipulating it so that it would exaggerate the sound of the heart beats or deaden them so they could scarcely be heard.

After listening through the stethoscope to the old man's heart, the doctor removed it and called to the son: "Come over here."

He placed the stethoscope over the son's heart, put the tubes to the son's ears and let him hear his own heart thumping loudly.

"What you hear are the heart beats of a normal, healthy man," said the doctor. "Now listen to the beating of your father's heart."

By pressure at a certain point of the device the doctor deadened the sound so it could just be heard.

It took a long, strong argument and guarantee to get the father to sign a check for $75, but we got it and drove away toward town, twelve miles away.

The next morning early the doctor gave me the check to cash the very minute the bank opened.

I cashed the check and went to a barber shop to get shaved. While sitting in the chair I saw in the mirror before me the reflection of the big son as he passed by, and he was in a hurry.

I hunted up the doctor and told him. We paid the hotel bill, hurried by a back street to the livery stable, got a rig and just as we started out we heard some one shouting. We looked back and saw the big son and the town marshal running after us. We whipped up and got out into the country. We circled around the country roads all day and that night, after dark, we drove to the edge of town, abandoned the horse and buggy and got into the caboose of a freight train headed for Kansas City.

We gave the conductor $5 and he was glad to let us ride.

We were uneasy, fearing that our escape might have been discovered and that some town marshal along the line would be notified to arrest us. But after we had pulled into a town, stopped awhile and had started on again the doctor asked the conductor:

"What town was that we just passed?"

"Adrian," was the answer.

"Setting easy, old boy," said the doctor to me, with a chuckle. "Setting easy. We will try Northeast Missouri next."

GETS JOB; DIES FIRST DAY.

John J. Cullen had been out of work since January. Almost every day he had applied for work from the contractors building a bridge across the Passaic River between Belleville and Arlington.

An extra man was needed today and the contractors put Cullen to work. Pleased at getting a job, he worked with zest until noon. As he was leaving the bridge for lunch, he fell into the water a few feet from the shore.

The water was shallow. Cullen rose to his feet and staggered to shore. Then he dropped again. When men reached him he was dead. He was 35 years old, and lived at 216 Cleveland avenue, Harrison.—Newark, N. J. Dispatch to New York Press.

The Family Man—The cost of everything is increasing at a terrible rate.

FROM VICE-PRESIDENT, OF SOUTHERN RAILWAY CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Released For Publication On Receipt.

Spartanburg, S. C., May 5.—To provide a memorial to the Hon. Robert Y. Hayne, of South Carolina, in honor of his railroad services, President Fairfax Harrison, of Southern Railway Company, has given instructions that the name of the junction and terminal where the line from Asheville intersects the Washington-Atlanta line be changed from "Spartanburg Junction" to "Hayne."

Mr. Hayne was, if not the first, the most effective promoters of the construction of a railroad across the mountains from South Carolina to the middle west. It was the Asheville and Spartanburg railroad, beginning at what is now known as "Spartanburg Junction" which first realized Mr. Hayne's plan, and this important Southern Railway point will hereafter bear his name and be a lasting testimonial to the work he did.

WHY SHE GAVE UP HER CARD CLUB.

In The Woman's Home Companion appears a page entitled "An Experience Meeting," in which contributors speak frankly about card clubs. One woman explains in part as follows why she does not belong to a card club:

"As the card season draws near, I am invited every year to join a card club. My reasons for not joining, I feel sure, are good and sufficient ones.

"Once started on the game all play like mad. At the close of the afternoon refreshments are served, and while partaking of them all relax to some extent except the hostess, who is on needless and pins as to whether the "cats" are all right. During the social hour there is a short time for exchange of thoughts and ideas—and the subject of these ideas? Almost without exception you will find it the game just finished.

"I find life all too important and time too precious to give up one afternoon a week or even one in two weeks to that sort of card playing; for we as progressive women have ample opportunity to devote our time to something really worth while."

Whole Family Benefited By Wonderful Remedy

There are many little things to annoy us, under present conditions of life. The hurry, hard work, noise and strain all tell on us and tend to provoke nervousness and irritability. We are frequently so worn out we can neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort. We are out of line with ourselves and others as well.

A good thing to do under such circumstances is to take something like

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills to relieve the strain on the nerves. Mrs. J. B. Hartsfield, 82 Plum St., Atlanta Ga., writes:

"I have on several occasions been vastly relieved by the use of your medicines, especially the Anti-Pain Pills, which I keep constantly on hand for the use of myself, husband and two sons. Nothing in the world equals them as a headache remedy. Often I am enabled by the use of one or two of the Pills to continue my household when otherwise I would be in bed. My husband joins me in my praise of the Anti-Pain Pills and Nervine."

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are relied upon to relieve pain, nervousness and irritability in thousands of households. Of proven merit after twenty years' use, you can have no reason for being longer without them.

ESCAPED JAIL BIRDS STEAL THREE AUTOS.

Break Into Store And Get Guns And Ammunition.

Raeford, April 29.—Two of the negroes who broke jail at Fayetteville and stole Mr. Sam Davis Cadillac car drove within a mile of Raeford. The gasoline gave out and they left the car on the road and hit the woods for shelter. The car was found and returned to owner.

Last night they became active by breaking into Mr. J. A. Nivens' garage and leaving in his Overland. Mr. Nivens was awakened by the sound of the car and getting Chief Cockman gave chase, the negroes avoided main streets of town, going toward Wagram, twelve miles distance, where they broke into a hardware store, taking guns and ammunition and throwing shell boxes in the street as challenges or defiance. They also took Mr. S. T. Thrower's Ford and started on their way. The store breaking kept them long enough for Chief Cockman to put in his appearance. He came upon the Overland car in the road where it had been abandoned because it went bad from over heating. The gang made their escape in the Ford. It was reported that the two negroes had been surrounded near Hoffman late this afternoon.

LEAPED FROM WINDOW TO KILL HIMSELF.

Salisbury, April 30.—The white man who startled passengers by leaping through a window on the westbound train when it was nearing Salisbury last night walked into town this morning and is now in jail while officers are trying to locate his people and ascertain why he acted so queerly. The man gives his name as P. M. Vandike and says he lives at Elizabethtown, Tenn. He was on his way to High Point today. He talks like an insane man. He is fearful of being hung for killing a child which he says died from an overdose of medicine he administered and says he jumped from the train in the hope of committing suicide. While a posse of railroad men and others searched along the track for hours last night Vandike secreted himself nearby. He was bruised and cut up a little by the jump.

That he was not instantly killed is considered miraculous, as the train was going 40 miles an hour and he went straight out the window headforemost.

SAVED BY A WAGER.

When Colonel Hay, notorious for his love of gambling and betting was severely wounded in the peninsula war two brother officers came across his apparently lifeless body, relates Pearson's Weekly.

"Poor Hay! He's gone at last," said one named Windsor.

A faint voice came from the ground, "I'll lay you a hundred he's not." His death seemed only a question of minutes, but he continued, "Enter the bet, and you, Marston," addressing the other officer, "be witness."

He then fainted. When he was taken to the hospital the surgeon told him the bullet could only be removed by sawing thru to extract it, as forceps would not touch it. "The chances are," he added, "that you will die under the operation."

"If Windsor will make his bet double or quits I'll consent," said the colonel.

Windsor agreed. "Now, saw away," said Hay. "I won't die." And he didn't.

"But for that bet," he said afterward, "I should be a dead man. It was my determination to win it that kept me alive."

Now is the time to diversify.

The Dispatch has numerous communications regarding the advisability of providing a primary school at some convenient point in West or North Burlington but nearly all of them request that their names be withheld, and not signed to their communications. We usually do this, but we have decided that all communications regarding this subject must be signed in full and that the name must also be published. This is a matter that should not be fought out in the dark and the Dispatch will not be a party of this kind of a fight. We will help you make the fight if you desire our aid, but if you are ashamed or afraid to stand up for your children's right, then why should we do it for you? We know the most of the writers personally and believe that we know why some do not want their names used, but you must be men and stand up for your rights and the rights of your family if you expect and count upon our help. We have letters from three parties who are likely to be nominated for the position of Alderman and, of course, these gentlemen fear that they may make some enemies and lose some votes if they advocate a division of the school money to provide a primary department for the small children. Now if you are this weak-kneed, you have no business of being city Alderman. Come out into the open and let's convince the fair minded people that we are right, whether the school money is divided or not, and if standing for the right defeats you for city Alderman, you are better off defeated than to be elected. Let those who have written letters re-write them and sign their names, and we will gladly publish them. Remember the columns of the Dispatch are open to all, no matter what their views are. We want the right to win, in the language of that fearless editor of the Mebane Leader, AND RIGHT THE DAY MUST WIN, to doubt would be disloyalty, TO FALTER WOULD BE SIN.

ARE WE MISUNDERSTOOD?
 There seems to be some confusion in regard to our attitude toward the graded school bonds. The Dispatch is not opposed to the school bonds, but the Dispatch tries to be fair to all the people whom it seeks to serve. The Dispatch believes it unfair to expend all the money at one place, but that a part of it ought to be spent for a primary school located in some convenient place in West Burlington near the Union church property for the benefit of the small children living west of Main street. We have no selfish motive in this as the editor of the Dispatch has no children or even relatives who would be benefitted, but in justice to that class of citizens who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow, and who go to work each morning at early dawn and quit by sunset or later. This class of people are numerous in our little city and their children are generally small, from six to twelve years old, and often but six and seven, who have to go to school by themselves with no larger brother or sister to go with them, and parents are uneasy from the time they depart until their return for fear they will get run over by street cars, automobiles or run-away teams and this class of people are not able to pay their way upon the street cars. It is these that the Dispatch asks that good school facilities be provided within reach of them that they may have the opportunity to get at least a primary education that they may be able to read and write and able to register when they become of age. If the powers that be are not willing to provide these facilities for these people, who are taxpayers just like the rest of us and who are entitled to consideration just as the rest of us, then all well and good but in the interest of the boys and girls of tender years whose parents are poor, but honest, we ask that our city fathers consider the welfare of these children, and after prayerful consideration they decide that the merits of the case do not entitle them to have these educational advantages accorded them, then our citizens can make the best of a bad situation and vote the bonds or not vote them as they deem proper, but the Dispatch stands for them and is willing to fight for them if they desire it. Those who know the Editor knows what this means and know they can rely upon our help.

TURN ON THE LIGHT.
 Mr. Editor:—
 I noticed in a recent issue of your paper that a special committee consisting of two Democrats and one Republican has been appointed to value the county property to wit, the courthouse, jail, work house, steel and wooden bridges, etc. What is the object of all this? Is it to try to force the Republican party to help bear the responsibility of bolstering the county finances in order to make a better showing in 1916? How can a non-partisan committee serve partisan administration? Perhaps you remember the fable of the monkey using the cat's paw to pull the chestnut out of the fire. It has not been many years since we had an illustration of that kind, hasn't it? Is any honest, intelligent Republican so near sighted that he cannot see the "nigger in the woodpile?"
 A CITIZEN.

MR. TAFT SEES SIGNS OF A REPUBLICAN SUCCESS.
 Madison, Wis., May 7.—William H. Taft tonight addressed Republicans who gathered here from various parts of the State to hear him make his first political speech since the campaign of 1912.
 "I believe there is a favorable prospect of Republican success at the polls in 1916," Taft said. "I believe it because business men throughout the country are roused to a necessity of staying statutory action opposed to the continued investment of capital. The last 18 months of stagnation in business has had a good effect on the people. It has awakened them—opened their eyes."

ROOSEVELT CALLS IT MURDER ON VAST SCALE.
 Syracuse, N. Y., May 7.—Theo. Roosevelt, former President of the United States, after learning details of the sinking of the Lusitania late tonight, made this statement:
 "This represents not merely piracy, but piracy on vaster scale of murder than any old-time pirate ever practiced. This is the welfare which destroyed

Louvain and Dinant, and hundreds of men, women and children in Belgium. It is warfare against innocent men, women and children, traveling on the ocean, and to our fellow countrywomen, who are among the sufferers.
 "It seems inconceivable that we can refrain from taking action in this matter, for we owe it not only to humanity, but to our own national self-respect."

Kitchener promised to start something in May. Maybe he means to start home.
TAFT URGES CARE IN USING PUBLIC FUNDS.
Warns of Danger in Lavish Appropriations in Speech at Camden Y. M. C. A.

Former President Taft believes the present day national tendency toward progressive legislation is resulting in lavish appropriations of public funds in a manner to threaten pauperism and burdensome taxation. He expressed this opinion at the sixteenth annual dinner of the Camden Y. M. C. A. last night.
 "Nothing seems to exceed the ease with which we vote other people's money for some one else's good," declared Mr. Taft. "It seems to be the assumption that there is always money in the treasury, but few realize that not one dollar gets into the treasury that does not come from the sweat of some man's brow. We should exercise more discretion in spending our public money. Retrenchment in government expenditures is one of our greatest problems of today."—Philadelphia Press of May 3, 1915.

The above clipping covers our own conditions right here in Alamance. It is very easy to vote anyway. Other people's money, as Taft says "that not one dollar gets into the treasury that does not come from the sweat of some man's brow". Wonder if our Representative in the last Legislature thought of this when he voted away $200,000 per year at the behest of our county officers. There is a pay day coming.

TRADE ACTIVITY PUT UP TO THE WAR.
 Consumption having been greater than production during the worst period of the depression, business is slowly going back to normal. Whatever great activity there is in special lines is due entirely to the war orders, which gives the semblance of truth to the Democratic convention that prosperity is here or on the way. The depression was caused by lack of confidence in the Democratic Administration and the tariff. Prosperity will not return until the Democratic regime ends and the confidence of the people in the national Administration is restored.

This is the pith of the opinions on business conditions expressed yesterday by delegates from all over the country attending the sessions of the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers in the First Regiment Armory, Broad and Callowhill Streets.
 These interviews were supplemented by the cheers of the assembled delegates when Director Loeb, in welcoming the delegates to the city, declared that a new protective tariff was essential to the business prosperity of the country. He said that the European war has demonstrated that the United States must be commercially self-sufficient and that the time when American manufacturers are not dependent upon foreign dealers for anything must be hastened by the enactment of the protective tariff. He approved the idea of a tariff board which would weigh and consider every phase of the tariff question with wisdom and discrimination.

 Joseph S. Rambo, of Rambo & Regar, Norristown, criticized Secretary Redfield's prosperity talk in connection with the achievements of the Administration. He said the war has helped the party in power so that they can say the mills are now busy. Seventy-five per cent of the textile mills, he declared, are running on war orders. He said that a restoration of confidence in the acts of Washington was necessary for the return of normal business.

"The increase in the price of cotton," said Mr. Rambo, "and the high prices being paid for wheat are responsible for the orders which are now coming from the South and West. Then, too, the market has been bare for some time and dealers are replenishing their stocks. That is why some improvement is noticeable."
 Fred W. Simons, of the Simons & Struve Hosiery Company, of this city, said that the business barometer was slowly rising, but that conditions were not normal.

"For some time," he said, "the consumption of goods has been greater than that of their production due to the depression which existed in the trade. Now there are some men here to buy but they are not taking enough for their present needs. I look to no return to normal or to prosperous times until the present administration ends."
 E. B. Gaylord, of the Winsted Hosiery Company, Winsted, Conn., who manufactures woolen goods, said that his company was loaded up to the hilt with foreign orders and that all the manufacturers in that part of the country had divided a large order from France between themselves several weeks ago.

said that business would have been stagnant without the orders from the warring nations.
 S. E. Ballard, of the Wildman Manufacturing Company, of Norristown, who manufactures knitting machinery, said that the export trade of the company was taking all the machines the company could make and that they were preparing for extraordinary good times and would increase their plant. He said that before the war started the conditions in the trade were very dull.

Similar conditions were described by Robert P. Smith, of Smith, Drum & Co., of this city, who also manufactures machinery. Mr. Smith said that the company had increased its working force sixty-five per cent in the last six weeks.
 J. L. Rickman, of St. Louis, who manufactures cotton stockings, said that there was a depression in his trade caused by the tariff before the war but that the war had helped business by practically stopping importation of hosiery, forcing the buyers to go into the domestic market for their goods.

 Fred W. J. McKibbin, of Tompkins Brow, Troy, N. Y., manufacturer of textile machinery, said that his company was exporting a great quantity of goods while before the war the firm's business had been very dull.

PASTORS CHIDED BY BILLY FOR LOAFING.

Patterson, N. J., May 5.—As Billy Sunday ended his sermon on "Saving Souls" tonight and was about to call for trail hitters 200 men started for the door.

"Why, you preachers!" shouted Billy, glaring at the section reserved for clergymen; "what are you doing over there? Loafing on the job? You look like a lot of hitching posts. You ought to be able to get half of those men who are going out." Earlier in his sermon the evangelist said: "The devils have you in their grip. I say to you: Tear them away, drive them away, and tell them to go back to hell."

In closing he said: "Won't you make the bells in heaven ring and the devils in hell howl because you are coming home?" A total of 394 hit the trail tonight, making 6,132 since the services started. Tonight's collections were $682.85, making the total to date $25,271.69, or almost enough to pay the expenses of the Sunday campaign here.

Sunday has promised to play center field with the Patterson ministers' baseball nine in a game with the pica club, composed of newspaper men from Passaic, Bergen and Essex counties. The game will be played next Monday afternoon in Patterson if Ma Sunday gives her consent.

Orange, N. J., May 5.—Billy Sunday addressed more than 1,000 women at the Woman's club house in East Orange this morning. Ma Sunday invited all hands to hear her husband talk on "Society and Amusements" in Patterson on Friday afternoon. The Sunday party was entertained at luncheon at the home of David Valentine in Prospect street, East Orange.

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALIVATES

"Dodson's Liver Tone" is Harmless To Clean Your Sluggish Liver and Bowels.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

WOMAN MADE WILL IN PATROL WAGON.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 25.—Never was a will made under stranger circumstances than in the case of Mrs. Minnie Steinbauer of St. Louis, who was shot on New Year's eve by Geo. Steinbauer, her divorced husband, who came here from St. Louis to kill her when he found she was planning to marry Nicholas Thrill of this city. The story of the will was told in Probate Court when Thrill asked for letters of administration for her property. The petition was held over for argument until a latter date.

The will, it was declared was made in the police patrol wagon which was carrying Mrs. Steinbauer to the hospital. Thrill was also wounded but recovered, while the woman lived only two days.

When the two had been shot they were put in a patrol wagon. Thrill was on the floor, while Mrs. Steinbauer was just above him on a stretcher between the seats. Two police officers, as attendants, were at hand, and here was the will as filed in court:

"Nick, here are two officers to listen. In case something happens you take care of me, and the rest of what I have you can keep."

The officers testified in court today that the woman was so near death they could hardly hear her words as she made the will and to the clatter of the wagon along the pavement was added the clanging of the police gong.

Thrill testified that he had been Mrs. Steinbauer's confidential adviser and had kept her private papers. Her only relatives are a sister, Ida Budde of St. Louis, and a father, whose whereabouts are unknown.

When telling the story of the Pilgrims Fathers to the children of a primary grade of a large city the teacher tried to impress upon them the fact that the country was barren at that time. Later they were told of the planting, the harvest, the great feast, and the thankful attitude of those early settlers. Finally she asked:

"What did the Pilgrims do after the great feast?"

After a moment's silence, a little girl said, "They went by the moving pictures."

THE PENALTY OF FUSS-NESS.

This story is vouched for—just as all the others are. It concerns a small maid who had a way of saying startling things, says The Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

Not long ago the family expected a visit from a relative—a distant cousin from the roomy West.

"Now said the mother, "don't you dare say a word if you see Cousin Jim eating with his knife."

All through the dinner the little maid gave the visitor her closest attention. She noticed that his manners were faultless, that he ate as politely and correctly as if kings and queens had been his tablemates. And then she turned to her mother.

"Well, ma," she gravely said, "I guess somebody stung you all right—he didn't use his knife once."

MAY HAVE A GALLON.

Newton, May 3.—C. F. Smith, the Burke County farmer in whose wagon load of cotton seed Hickory officers found five pints of whiskey, and followed to the oil mill here to see if there was any more of the ardent in his cargo, failed to appear when the case was called in Hickory city court, thereby forfeiting a bond of $5, put up here with that much cotton seed left to secure it.

When the case came up, the city attorney gave it as his opinion that the man was not guilty of anything, holding that the quart law does not change the gallon law already obtaining. A man may not receive more than a quart oftener than 15 days; but he may have as much as a gallon, without liability to seizure, say the Hickory attorneys. The officers who followed the wagon here seized the five pints of whiskey; Smith claimed he merely supplied himself to be sociable with friends on his trip.

KENILWORTH OFFICERS ELECT THEMSELVES.

Asheville, May.—At a municipal election at which six of the seven registered voters cast their ballots, the officers of Kenilworth were chosen yesterday. Of the six men who voted, four were elected to office, the unopposed candidates being, Jake M. Chiles, for mayor; E. G. Heston, Roland Wilson and Morris Myers, for board of commissioners.

The election expenses were thirty-five cents which were spent in the purchase of a registration book. Mayor Chiles punched out the tickets over his typewriter and the six voters exercised the right of franchise in a body early in the day in order that two of them, election officers, might be discharged from their duties. The seventh voter, who is out of the city, wired that they needn't hold the polls open for him.

LONDON ANXIOUS FOR THE RUSSIAN SIDE OF THE BATTLE IN THE EAST.

Allies Making Progress.

London, May 4.—The Russians have had at least a partial revenge for their defeat in western Galicia by badly beating the Turks who had invaded Persia.

The Turkish defeat took place in a three days' battle near the frontier and Petrograd reports that the Russians inflicted heavy losses. If the success has been followed up, military observers declared that Persia now should be free of her uninvited guests.

This battle, however, was a small affair compared with what Germany and Austria claim to have done to the Russians in Galicia. Their reports tonight state that some 30,000 Russians were captured and that many guns were taken. There was no mention, however, of any towns, such as Gorlice and Tarnow, which were close to the front, being captured, which leads British military critics to the conclusion that while the German allies have won important local successes, they have not driven the Russians far back. Should they do this, however, it is asserted that a general retreat of the Russians would be imperative and that the whole Carpathian offensive, on which the Muscovites have spent so much time and so many lives, would be nullified.

The Russian side of the story is anxiously awaited, for a big success in the East, it is believed here, would mean an immediate commencement of operations on a large scale in the West for which the Germans already are preparing.

In Belgium thus far the fighting has been confined to the Ppres region, where the Germans claim to have captured some villages which the British say they evacuated in the process of readjusting their line.

Rumors concerning operations against the Dardanelles were confirmed tonight when the British war office and admiralty issued reports stating that after beating off Turkish attacks the allied forces had taken the offensive on the Gallipoli peninsula and now were advancing into the interior. The Turks, on their side, continue to report the defeat of landing parties and damage done to allied warships, which are keeping up a lively bombardment of the Turkish forts, both in the Dardanelles straits and at Smyrna.

It was reported today that Vali of Smyrna was negotiating with the allies for the surrender of his territory. No confirmation of this report has been received. The Germans say they have made further progress with their raid into the Baltic provinces of Russia and that they have defeated the Russians there as well as along the East Prussian frontier.

Germany submarines today sank the steamer Minterne and two trawlers.

The allied fleet may enter the Dardanelles but not without knocking.

Italy is still on the brink of water, but isn't getting any dizzier as time goes on.

RAE TANZER CHANGES HER EVIDENCE AGAIN.

New York, May 1.—Rae Tanzer, the young milliner who sued James W. Osborne for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise to marry, and later withdrew her suit, saying Mr. Osborne was not the man who courted her under the name of Oliver Osborne, changed her testimony again today and under oath identified James W. Osborne as her admirer, Oliver Osborne.

Miss Tanzer's renewed identification came while she was under cross examination by Assistant United States District Attorney Wood. She was on the stand as a defense witness in the trial of Frank D. Stafford, former clerk in the Kensington hotel in Plainfield, N. J., for perjury in connection with the breach of promise case.

Miss Tanzer, on advice of her counsel, had refused to answer many questions put her on direct examination regarding the identity of the "Oliver Osborne" who had promised to marry her.

When Mr. Wood took up his cross examination, questioning her with severity, she apparently lost her temper and forgot the instructions of her counsel. "Yes," she declared, "James W. Osborne is the man I was running around with."

"Do you mean to say," asked Wood, "that the man you saw at 115 Broadway (James W. Osborne's office) was Oliver Osborne?"

"Yes, I do."

"Now, Miss Tanzer, do you mean to say that this is the man you were running around with as 'Oliver Osborne'?" asked Mr. Wood, pointing to Mr. Osborne, who he asked to rise.

Miss Tanzer hesitated as James W. Osborne rose to his feet. She glanced at Osborne for a moment and said:

"Yes, that is the man."

Mr. Osborne smiled broadly at this assertion and then sat down.

At the conclusion of Miss Tanzer's examination, her sister, Dora, also identified James W. Osborne as "Oliver Osborne."

Henry Ford has been suggested as a candidate for president. No particular ticket has been suggested, and he wouldn't need one. He could do his running on a Ford.

ALICE'S OPINION.

In his very, very early youth, Mr. Mumpser had been a pretty child. His friends did not believe this was possible, and even he had forgotten all about it until one day he unearthed a painting of himself at that period from among the old lumber.

This he handed to his wife as some compensation for his present somewhat worn-eaten appearance.

"There, Alice," said Mrs. Mumpser, proudly exhibiting the picture to the servant. "That is a portrait of your master, painted when he was a child."

Alice gazed open-mouthed at the production. "Lor' mum," she said after some moments, "what a pity it is we have to grow up, ain't it?"

SAYS HIS WIFE GLORIED IN BLACKING HIS EYES.

Alleging that she loved to black his eye with a stick of stove wood, a poker, or anything else she could get her hands on, W. J. Davis brought suit for divorce in Fulton Superior court Saturday against Mrs. Elden Davis, to whom he has been married twenty-seven years.

Another divorce was filed in the superior court Saturday by E. E. Bentley, who alleged that Mrs. Ethel Bentley, during their two weeks of married life, called him everything in the vocabulary of profane language and threatened to split his head open with a hatchet when he found her sitting on the edge of her bed embracing and caressing a man.

Bentley said he remonstrated with her for caressing the stranger, telling her such conduct was somewhat indiscreet; it was then he said she threatened to split his skull, and he then left her. When she exhausted the limits of profanity upon him, he stated, "this almost caused him to administer to her a whipping, although he restrained himself from so doing."

Davis, in his petition, stated that his wife was very cruel to him for twelve out of their twenty-seven years of matrimonial relations; he said he stood frequent black eyes from her until September 1, 1913, when he told her he couldn't stand black eyes and the rest of her treatment any longer, and begged her to be more considerate.

Her answer to this, he stated, was to fly into a passion, seize a stick, and strike him over the head with it, giving him his final black eye, one so black that he could not see out of it for several days, he alleged. With this black eye he left her.

Attorneys Thomas E. Scott and C. C. Hornbuckle filed the Bentley suit. Attorney Scott filed the Davis suit.

OLD NAP RUCKER.

Though you, old Nap, with perfect aim
Should some day pitch a No-hit game.
And hold all rival batsmen tame—

Though you should curb the Batting Eye.
Nor yield a run to low or high,
The best you'd get would be a tie.

I wonder under what black star
Your lot was cast that Fate
Should mar
Your record with the Things
That Are?

For when you amble to the pit,
How ever well you spin your skirt,
Your mates can neither field
nor hit.

Your mates, with ineffective blades,
Or foiled on butter-fingered raids,
Are handicaps, in place of aids.

For though you struck out every bloke

That tried to slam you for a poke,
Your catcher, Nap, would faint —or choke.

It falls to many, Nap, to win;
But not so many, in the din,
Can look on Rotten Luck—and grin.

And so I tip my humble cap
To one who doesn't give a rap
For Unkempt Fortune in the scrap—

To one who, in the sombre thrall,
Serene and smiling through it all,
Can stick—and Keep on Pitching ball.

NOTICE.

The citizens and qualified voters in the city of Burlington will take notice of the new registration and election in the city of Burlington.

You are hereby notified that pursuant to the provisions of an act of the General Assembly entitled "AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE AND EMPOWER THE CITY OF BURLINGTON TO ISSUE BONDS TO OBTAIN FUNDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF ERECTING AND EQUIPPING PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDINGS IN SAID CITY," an election will be held at the several voting places in the above named city on the 8th day of June, 1915 upon the proposition of the adoption of said act and determining whether said act shall become law applicable to said city. You will further take notice that an application in writing of sixty qualified voters of said city has been made to the Mayor and Board of Alderman, the said application requesting the order of a special election in said city upon the question of issuing bond of said city in the sum of $40,000.00 for the purpose of erecting and equipping public school buildings in said city. That pursuant to said act and petition a special election has been ordered to be held on said 8th day of June, 1915 upon the question of the issuance of $40,000.00 in bonds for the purpose of erecting and equipping public school buildings in said city, the said bonds, (provided the majority of the qualified voters of the said city shall have voted for the public school building bonds), shall be issued in the denominations of $1,000.00 each carrying interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, all of which bonds shall run for a term of thirty years. When said bonds shall have been issued they shall be sold by the Board of Alderman at the best price which they can obtain, not to be sold for less, however, than the par value of said bonds, and they shall use the proceeds of said bonds for the sole and only purpose of erecting and equipping buildings to be used as public school buildings in said city of Burlington, and said Board of Alderman shall keep accurate account showing the amount received for said bonds and the manner in which the same is expended.

This the 22nd day of April, 1915.

JAS. P. MONTGOMERY,
Secretary & Treasurer.

Whereas, the General Assembly of North Carolina of the year of our Lord One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Thirteen enacted "AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE AND EMPOWER THE CITY OF BURLINGTON TO ISSUE BONDS TO OBTAIN FUNDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF ERECTING AND EQUIPPING PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDINGS IN SAID CITY," and whereas, said act thereof provides that an election shall be held for the purpose of determining whether said act shall become law; and whereas, on the 22nd day of April, 1915, a petition was presented to the Mayor and Board of Alderman, at a regular meeting of said Board, by sixty and a great many more than sixty qualified citizens, taxpayers and free holders of the city of Burlington, asking that the said Mayor and Board of Alderman order an election on the question of issuance of bonds for forty thousand ($40,000.00) dollars for the purpose of erecting and equipping public school buildings in said city.

Now, therefore, it is ordered that on the 8th day of June, 1915, there shall be held in the city of Burlington an election which shall be held in all respects as provided by law for the holding of elections for Mayor and Alderman of said city and at which time all the voters who are then registered and qualified to vote, shall be entitled to vote for the purpose of determining whether it is the will of such voters that the aforesaid act shall become law and applicable to the said city of Burlington. Voters desiring to vote for the adoption of said act favoring the issuing of said bonds shall vote a ballot of white paper on which shall be written or printed the words "For School Bonds" and those opposed to issuing said bonds shall vote a ballot of white paper on which shall be written or printed the words "Against School Bonds."

It is further ordered that a new registration of the qualified voters of said city be had and to this end the registrar herein after named shall open registration books for this purpose in their respective wards on the 3rd day of May, 1915, the same to remain open for the registration of voters on each day in the week, Sundays excepted, from 9 o'clock A. M. to 6 o'clock P. M., until 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, the 5th day of June, 1915.

It is further ordered that notice of said new registration and election be published thirty days prior to the holding of said election and once a week thereafter until said election is held, and that said notice be published in some newspaper of general circulation in the city of which notice shall state the date on which said election shall be held, the amount for which it is proposed to issue bonds, how long said bonds shall run, the rate of interest to carry and the purpose to which the proceeds of bonds shall be applied.

It is further ordered that the said bonds shall be issued in denominations of $1,000.00 each and shall carry interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, all of which bonds shall run for thirty years.

It is further ordered that B. M. WALKER be, and he is hereby appointed registrar for the First Ward, and that S. G. MOORE and H. K. HALL be and are hereby appointed inspectors for the First Ward; that I. J. FONVILLE be, and he is hereby appointed registrar for the Second Ward, and that GEO. SMITH and F. W. HAWKINS be, and they are hereby appointed inspectors for the Second Ward; that RICHARD SEYMOUR be, and he is hereby appointed registrar for the Third Ward, and that J. A. IRELAND and Y. S. MILES be, and they are hereby appointed inspectors for the Third Ward; and that J. T. WELCH be, and he is hereby appointed registrar for the Fourth Ward, and that R. A. FREEMAN and C. B. WAY be, and they are hereby appointed inspectors for the Fourth Ward.

This the 22nd day of April, 1915.

WOULD YOU CALL THIS WOMAN A FAILURE?

In The Woman's Home Companion appears an article entitled "The Woman Who is Owned by the Town." It is an account of the life of a minister's wife showing the tremendous demands made on her by the various communities in which she has lived. She and her husband have never been more than a year in single town. Their salary has never advanced beyond the $600 which they received at the start. The author goes on in part as follows:

"A pitiful case of failure, you say. And yet every one of the towns into which they have gone bears the impress of her spirit. In every one of them there is a village improvement society made up of men and women to whom she gave their first faint appreciation of beauty and good taste. There are boys and girls who gained their first and only knowledge of what is really fine in music and in art from the studies conducted at her home. There are children at whose birth she alone officiated, sometimes without the help of a doctor, and scores of families with whose most sacred experiences her life is forever intertwined. More than 20 towns have owned her, one after the other, and every one of them she has recreated in the image of her own self-searching life."

SWAPPED FARM FOR COLT.

When Charles Watson swapped a two-year-old colt for 160 acres of land near Fort Scott in 1856, the man who got the horse rode it away because he feared Watson would go back on the deal. But Watson held on. Today his land is worth about $14,000.

"Uncle Charlie" came to the state in 1858, moving overland through Iowa, Illinois, and Missouri in a prairie schooner with his parents. He reached Kansas when the country was just being settled, and when there was plenty of game.

When the Civil war broke out Watson joined the Sixth Kansas cavalry near Coon Creek, seven miles from Lamar, Mo., he got wounds which cost him his right leg. It was in an attack on "Old Joe" Shelby's band. He still carries some of the buckshots in his body.

After the war Watson was a mail carrier, running between Osage Mission trading post and Fort Scott. He traveled the 160 miles in four days, with an escort of soldiers. Watson was born in Scotland 73 years ago.—Pittsburgh (Kansas) Dispatch.

TWO BOYS MAKING TRIP.

Many young people of this city will be interested in the trip which two boys, Lloyd Erwin and Lee Smith, are making from Waxahachie, Texas, to Chicago. They plan to leave today from their home and walk the 1250 miles to Chicago in order to attend the World's Convention of Christian Endeavor which convenes in that city July 7.

The young men will carry a message of greeting from Governor Ferguson of Texas to President Wilson, who is expected to deliver the opening address of the convention if affairs of state permit. It is expected that rallies will be held in each town where the boys stop over night. The young people of this vicinity, who belong to the Christian Endeavor society, expect to travel by quicker routes. It is anticipated that there will be 20,000 young people at the convention, which will be addressed by Billy Sunday, William Jennings Bryan, and other leading speakers.

During these warm days we see no reason why people should seriously object to naked truth.

BASE BALL

GIBSONVILLE 3, ELON COLLEGE 2.

Gibsonville, May 8.—In a hotly contested game on the local diamond this afternoon, Gibsonville won from Elon College by a score of 3 to 2. The game was hard fought throughout but the airtight pitching of Al Christopher was too much for the students. Sorrell started for Elon and the first ball pitched was hit for two bases by Al Christopher, who proceeded to third on an error and scored on a long out to center field, hit by Crabtree. In the third, two hits and a base on balls netted the locals two more runs, and in the fourth Sorrell was relieved by Captain Massey, who went through the rest of the game without allowing a hit or run. The features of the game were the pitching of A. Christopher for the locals and the pitch and hitting of Captain Massey for the college boys.

Judging from present appearances, Gibsonville has the best team this year than they have ever had and will probably give any amateur team in North Carolina a hard fight for the State championship. Manager Lee A. Wharton will be glad to hear from other amateur teams in this section.

Batteries for Gibsonville, A. Christopher and Flynn; Sorrell, Massey and Stephenson.

SYLVAN HIGH SCHOOL 16; CHERRYVILLE HIGHS 10.

Hurrah For Alamance!

Cherryville, May 8.—In one of the most exciting games of the season Sylvan High School defeated the local High School team for the Western North Carolina high school championship here this afternoon by a score of 16 to 10. The score was tied twice in the fourth and fifth innings and the game was more hotly contested than might appear from the score.

Until today Cherryville had won 17 games without being defeated. This Spring the local boys won from Charlotte, Bessemer City, Gastonia, Boiling Springs, Shelby, Piedmont and Fallston High Schools. The game this afternoon gives Sylvan the right to meet Eastern North Carolina champion at Chapel Hill for the State championship, which the Alamance boys won last Spring.

Batteries: Graham and Duncan; Friday and Site.

KEYSTONE 20; ELMIRA FIRST NINE 1.

The Keystone Finishing Mill and Elmira Mill teams played Saturday afternoon, the game resulting in a walk-over for the Keystone. This was Elmira's first game of the season, and the players had not practiced as much as the opposing team had. The score stood 20 to 1 in favor of the Keystone team.

ELDERMONT SCHOOL DEFEATS ELMIRA SECOND NINE.

Eldermont School defeated Elmira Second Nine in a very interesting and close game last Saturday on the former's diamond, the score being 10 to 8 in favor of Eldermont.

HAWFIELDS HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS MEBANE.

The Mebane Town team met the Hawfields High School team on the latter's diamond last Thursday afternoon in a game that resulted in a great victory for the Hawfields team, the score being 7 to 2 in favor of Hawfields. With Woods in the box and Jones behind the bat, they fanned the city players with much ease.

ELDERMONT SECOND 10; WEST BURLINGTON 8.

The West Burlington team lost to the Eldermont Second Nine in a warm contest Saturday afternoon. The score was 10 to 8 in favor of Eldermont Seconds.

ELMIRA THIRD WINS OVER CHRISTIAN CHURCH BOYS.

The Third Nine of Elmira Mill carried away the laurels of the game between that team and the boys of the Christian church Saturday afternoon. Of the three Elmira teams which played Saturday, this Third Nine was the only one that proved victorious over their opposing team.

KNOW PAINT.

There's a paint-education in this advertisement.

Buy by the job, not gallon. Buy by the paint put-on; that's the job.

The price of paint is so much a gallon; that can't be helped, but amounts to nothing.

The price of painting is so much a day; that can't be helped, but amounts to nothing.

Put them together. How can you do it? You've got to or lose perhaps half of your money. Devoe, 10 gallons enough for the average job; an average paint, 15. Now reckon your costs. Count labor a day for a gallon. Devoe 10 days; the other 15.

Devoe about $50; the average paint about $70 or $80; the dearer the labor, the bigger the difference, always that way.

But that's for the job. How long is it going to last? One twice as long as the other. DEVOE.

Holt-May sell it.

PREACHED FOR HUSBAND.

Mrs. Harry C. Leach, wife of the pastor of the Morningside Baptist church, in an emergency, filled her husband's pulpit at both morning and evening services here today, preaching two sermons.

Mr. Leach was on Friday called to Maine by the illness of his mother, and his wife volunteered to preach. Her subject was "The Heavenly Vision." Mr. and Mrs. Leach have been married about 12 years. This was her first appearance as his substitute in a pulpit.

"Yes, I have," said Binks dryly. "It reminds me of several men I know—been smoking ever since we left the garage, and the last hill we climbed it puffed something that is less human and more generally satisfactory?"
