THE TWICE-A-WEEK DISPATCH

A PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE UPBUILDING OF AMERICAN HOMES AND AMERICAN INDUSTRIES.

BURLINGTON, ALAMANCE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1915.

NAVAL PARADE SHOWS UNCLE SAM'S VESSEL

Most Powerful Array Of Fighting Ships Ever Assembled In American Waters—Mayflower With President On Board Arrives In New York—Wilson Cheered By Huge Crowds Review Naval Parade In The Hudson.

New York, May 17.—A mighty armada of battleships, destroyers, submarines and auxiliary craft swung at anchor in the Hudson today, groomed for review by President Wilson. The most powerful array of fighting ships ever assembled in an American port, sixty-four in all, the fleet stretched for four miles in double line of gray, touched with gayer colors where pennants and ensigns streamed from fighting top and mast head. Each battleship was in readiness to thunder out the presidential salute of twenty-one guns when the yacht Mayflower passed them during the afternoon.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS POSTPONED.

The special series of evangelistic services that have been announced to begin at the Methodist Protestant church next Sunday morning have been postponed one week. The meeting will begin on Sunday, May 30th. Rev. A. G. Dixon, pastor of North Main Street Methodist Protestant Church, High Point, has been engaged as pulpit help. Rev. Mr. Dixon is one of the leading ministers of the denomination in this State and is noted as a successful evangelist. The public is cordially invited to attend these services which will continue for ten days or two weeks.

DR. ANDREW MAY RESIGN

Pressure Brought to Bear on Catawba College President.

Newton, May 17.—President J. D. Andrew of Catawba College is reported to have submitted notice to his board of trustees to the effect that he is considering the subject of resigning the presidency. Friends of the institute believe that pressure that has already been brought to bear on Mr. Andrew will result in his re-considering and remaining at the head of the school. The matter will hardly be developed further before the meeting of Classes and of the trustees at commencement next week.

DURHAM PEOPLE INDICTED FOR FAILURE TO LIST TAXES.

Durham, May 19.—The grand jury late today returned true bills against 503 people of Durham for failure to list their taxes for the year, 1914. The former grand jury took up this matter and presented the bills of indictments. The grand jury this year returned the bills. This action was taken following a great deal of trouble of the officers of the county have had in getting the people to place their names on the books. Among the 500 people in the bills are many prominent people in the city. The bills came as a great surprise to the whole city. None of them have yet been issued, and the people will not be cited to appear before the court till the next term.

Everybody seems satisfied with the president's note to Germany. That is, almost everybody. We haven't heard from Mr. Bryan yet.

SHOT FOUR TIMES AND MAY NOT LIVE.

Family Quarrel Leads to Serious Results—One Man In Hospital And Another In Jail Awaiting Outcome of Wounds.

Durham, May 17.—Mr. George C. Rodenhizer, of Carr street, this city, a linotype operator for The Sun, was shot and probably fatally wounded last night shortly after 8:30 o'clock by his brother-in-law, Mr. Isaac Bear, of 215 Rigsbee avenue, a printer in the J. T. Christian printery. The shooting took place following some trouble between Mr. Rodenhizer and his wife, sister of Mr. Bear. The exact details concerning the affair were hard to obtain, as both Mr. Rodenhizer, who is at the Mercy hospital, and Mr. Bear, who was arrested and placed in the guard house, told a reporter for The Sun that they did not care to talk about the shooting. Mr. Bear had been advised not to make any statement and Mr. Rodenhizer would only say that his brother-in-law became angered at him and did the shooting.

According to those who were near the Rodenhizer home on Carr street, where the trouble occurred, Rodenhizer and Bear came to the Rodenhizer residence late in the evening somewhat under the influence of liquor.

Shortly after 8:30 o'clock Rodenhizer became angered at his wife and is said to have beaten her. During the beating, it is said, that he shoved her through an open window. His brother was standing outside the window and she fell at his feet.

Bear is said to have then jumped through the window, drawing a revolver as he did so, and firing an instant afterwards. Five shots were fired and four of them found their mark. Two of the bullets cut through Rodenhizer's arm, one entered his abdomen and the one that will probably result fatally entered his side from the back and ranged through his stomach. The physicians stated that it penetrated vital portions of his stomach.

Rodenhizer fell to the floor, and was within less than thirty minutes on the operating table at the Mercy hospital. Bear did not attempt to get away and was arrested by Police Chief Pendergrast and Deputy Sheriff Capt. Belvin Mrs. Rodenhizer was greatly perturbed by the shooting, and was today reported to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

It was stated at the hospital this morning that Rodenhizer has a chance for recovery, although the odds are much against him.

Attorney Victor S. Bryant has been secured as counsel for Bear and was this morning in conference with the prisoner, but no statement was given out. Bear when seen by a reporter for The Sun stated that he hoped his brother-in-law would recover.

ICE CREAM AND CAKE.

The Junior Philathea Class of the Methodist Protestant Church will conduct an ice cream and cake sale on the lawn of the church tomorrow (Saturday) night. The proceeds of the sales will be used for the benefit of the class. Everybody is cordially invited to go out and help these young ladies and enjoy the evening in a social manner.

DR. T. A. BOHANNON'S SISTER DEAD.

Dr. T. A. Bohannon received a letter Tuesday morning from his native county, Madison, in Virginia, announcing the death of his aged sister, who died at the age of 77 years. The Dispatch extends sympathy to Dr. Bohannon in his bereavement.

WOULD TAKE YEARS TO EQUIP AN ARMY.

War Authorities Think That It Would Be Impossible to Use Army.

IN ANY POSSIBLE WAY.

Washington, May 18.—War department officials who will discuss today the possibilities of the United States being drawn into the European war, pointed out that it would be several years before the United States could equip a large army with artillery. It was shown also that the whole mobile artillery strength of the United States could not be an important factor if an army had to be prepared for foreign service.

"An army," said an authority, "means artillery, cavalry and infantry. There has been some suggestion that the United States might be expected to send an army of one or two million men to Europe. The general rule is that there must be four artillery guns to every thousand men in an army. We have about seven hundred and fifty available first class mobile artillery guns. These would equip an army of about 190,000 men. For a million men on the accepted basis we should have about 4,000 guns.

"Furthermore this government has at this time none of the peculiarly constructed guns which are proving so effective in the conflicts in Germany, France and Belgium. It is evident from the mere statement of facts as to the enormous quantity of artillery necessary to equip an army from the European viewpoint of strength that it would take several years to provide an army to be sent across the Atlantic."

BELGIUM OPERA SINGER TO BE AT MEBANE, N. C.

Madam Emma Vandezande, the noted Belgium opera singer who is now at the Belgium settlement at Warsaw, this State, will give a concert at Mebane, Wednesday evening, May 26th, 1915.

This a rare opportunity to hear this gifted singer.

A letter from her says in part: "I have a medal of the Royal Society of Harmony of Brussels and have sung in the best classical concerts of Europe."

In addition to the songs she will give a short lecture on Belgium before, during and since the war.

You will do well to come out and hear her.

MEBANE CIVIC LEAGUE.

102 PINTS OF WHISKEY SEIZED

Three Barrels in Greensboro Depot Were Marked "Michigan Seed Potatoes."

Greensboro, May 19.—Policemen and arilway employes today found 102 pints of outlawed whiskey in freight depot here in barrels, marked "Michigan Seed Potatoes," shipped from Richmond to parties in Greensboro.

V. Hyi Bountia, an Abyssinian, one of the consignees has been arrested for retailing. The trick was discovered by a railroad employe seeing something shining through a crack in a barrel. Other barrels from the same place were opened, each of three barrels contained from 30 to 40 pints, it is said. Other "potatoes" from the same house had been delivered here before the trick was discovered. The barrels did contain some potatoes, but in the middle were the bottles.

SEVERE HAILSTORM IN WAX-HAW SECTION.

Waxhaw, May 18.—The worst hailstorm that has visited this section in more than a dozen years crossed the southwestern section of this township yesterday afternoon and last night. The hail was accompanied by a terrific windstorm which blew down several barns and devastated fields and orchards. Fields where yesterday morning the little cotton growing luxuriantly this morning look like the bleak fields of a January day. Farmers of that neighborhood are besieging the merchants here and riding over the country hunting cotton seed for replanting. Some of them declare that they will plant no more cotton but will put their entire farms in corn and peas.

R. T. Niven, who was right in the path of the storm, had his barn blown down. One or two paper roofs were riddled until as some one described them "they looked like a sieve."

The oats fields are mangled and ruined. The only way that the crop can be saved is to put a mower and rake in it, and in many cases it is not worth this. Reaper and the hand-cradle are both out of the question.

AT MT. HERMON CHURCH.

Last 3rd Sunday was a good day with us. The weather was ideal; there was not a cloud to be seen. It seemed that Providence smiled on us on the day set apart for the township Sunday School convention. About nine o'clock wagons, bicycles, buggies, carriages, and automobiles, too, could be seen coming the four meandering roads which lead to the "old church in the grove," where for almost a century congregations have assembled to worship.

The place which our fathers held sacred. One of our oldest members who is pioneer of Methodist Protestantism said, "This is a day that will long be remembered by the Mt. Hermon people and many of the addresses of this convention will be indelible on our minds." Brother H. M. Neese was president of the convention and deserves special praise for arranging such an elaborate program. The addresses were interesting from beginning to end. Four boys came down from Elon College and assisted in the music by singing several selected quartettes. Among them was Mr. John Swain, son of Rev. W. E. Swain, D. D., who so faithfully served Mt. Hermon Circuit for six years and who is so much beloved by the people. It was a pleasure for many of us to meet Mr. John Swain. We hope the Elon boys will come again some time.

The second quarterly conference was held at our church Saturday, May 1. Every church was represented; business was transacted harmoniously. Brother Green A. Nicholson and Brother J. D. Payne were nominated for delegate to the Annual Conference. We were honored by having Brother H. A. Garrett with us. He made an interesting address in behalf of the Children's Home. May his coming so arouse us that we will do more than we have been doing. We are planning to have missionary day the third Sunday in June.—M. P. Herald.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The business of the Curtis-Thornton Bridge Co., has been taken over by Mr. C. L. Whitener, attorney for Mrs. E. C. Thornton, Hickory, N. C. The business at Burlington will be continued with Mr. Curtis in charge of the office. We understand that efforts will be made to enlarge the business and increase the output of the firm.

"SKEPTICISM."

Mr. Dixon made one statement at Wade commencement that should be known by every father and mother in the state. Mr. Dixon says that every fall several of his students come back to Red Springs seminary with their religious beliefs shaken if not destroyed on account of a course of philosophy taught in a certain summer school.

The professor referred to is a deep and learned man but like many other college professors seems to have gone crazy on one subject and dishes out to school girls mental food fit only for maturer minds and the results are mental dyspepsia and skepticism.

Mothers and physicians would never think of feeding mere babies the strongest meals, but here is a college professor handing out to school girls great chunks of mental food from heathen philosophers and scientists which the master minds of the world have never been able to solve. They weigh the moon, stars, measure the sun and delve into all mysteries of creation, life, death, past, present and future and let you down a doubter, a skeptic without faith or religion. It is a grievous mistake, a greater wrong cannot be done a student and teachers and professors should take care that immature minds are not led off into the broad fields of skepticism and uncertainty—away from God and religion and into an outer darkness that is worse than death itself.

Only faith can rob death of its terrors and the grave of its gloom.—Fayetteville Index.

RARE MATRIMONIAL COMBINATIONS.

The county clerk's record of Cook county Illinois show the following named persons who were united in marriage:

- Thomas Black and Mary White, Peter Day and Ellen Knight, Solomon Bank and Katherine Vale, James Hill and Susan Dale, Isaac Slatter and Jane Thatcher, John Barber and Mary Butcher, Stephen Head and Nancy Heart, William Stately and Jessie Smart, Joseph Reed and Julia Hay, Thomas Spring and Mary May, Joseph Brown and Kitty Green, John Robbins and Jennie Wrens, William Castle and Nancy Hall, Peter Chatter and Fanny Call, Joseph Mann and Eliza Child, John Merry and Lucy Wild, Thomas Bruin and Mary Bare, James Fox and Katherine Hare, Andrew Clay and Lucy Stone, Mitchell Blood and Lizzie Bone, John Cloak and Lucy Hood, Edward Cole and Nancy Wood, James Broom and Ellen Birch, Charles Chapel and Susan Church.

GET POSITIONS AT FISH HATCHERIES.

John Lee Aycock, W. A. Erwin, Jr., and H. P. Grier, Jr., To Be Appointed.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—John Lee Aycock, of Raleigh, W. A. Erwin, Jr., of Durham, and H. P. Grier, Jr., of Statesville, will be appointed assistants in the government fish hatcheries at Beaufort, and Woods Hole, Mass., according to information received here today. There are only six of these places, which pay $100 a month each. The appointment will be made within the next month under an act of the last Congress.

Some men who have a reputation for will power married it.

REVIVAL MEETING CONTINUES.

The revival services at the Christian Church continue with much interest. The attendance increases with each service and there is a possibility of it becoming necessary to hold the meetings in the warehouse in order to accommodate the large crowds that are in attendance each night. Rev. Miller is attracting much attention and is giving the people splendid gospel sermons. He is an able and gifted speaker. Mr. Bell, the evangelistic singer and choir director, is delighting the congregation with his beautiful solos and the excellent manner in which he conducts the song services. The services are held at 9:30 A. M. and 8:00 P. M. each day.

ELON'S 25TH COMMENCEMENT BEGINS SATURDAY.

Elon College, May 20.—Class Day Exercises at 2 P. M., Saturday, will mark the beginning of Elon's 25th commencement. The year just closing has been marked by the largest enrollment yet attained, exceeding the 400 limit. "From now on attention will be given to internal development rather than to increase of numbers" seems to be the prevailing sentiment in official circles. The belief in the efficient, small college, definitely Christian, is the chief article in Elon's educational creed.

On Saturday evening at 8 P. M., the Society Representatives, two from each Society will speak for the Representative's Medal.

Sunday morning at 11:00 President F. G. Coffin, Albany, N. Y., of the American Christian Convention, will give the baccalaureate sermon and in the evening Pres. Harper of the College will deliver his address to the graduating class.

Monday will be given the Society Reunions and the Annual Concert of the Music Department.

Tuesday is Commencement Day. In the morning will occur the graduating exercises, to be followed by the Literary Address by Pres. Fairfax, of the Southern Railway, who has announced his subject as "The Choice of Hercules."

The afternoon of Commencement Day is to be given to the Art Exhibit and to the business meeting of the Alumni association. The Alumni Address is to come in the evening and will be given by Rev. A. W. Ambos, Harrisonburg, Va., following which will come the Alumni Banquet.

SOCIETY LEADER NAMES NIECK IN DIVORCE SUIT.

Washington, Pa., May 17.—Naming her own niece, Miss Eleanor Hopkins and Mrs. Cora Sloan, a pretty young widow, of the town's smart set, as correspondents, Mrs. Alice Yarnall, a leader in society at California, this county, today instituted a divorce suit against Dr. C. W. Yarnall, one of the leading physicians of this section. Mrs. Yarnall makes sensational charges of misconduct.

The Yarnalls have been married 29 years and because of their prominence and family connection, the divorce suit has stirred Washington County society.

Miss Hopkins until recently made her home with Dr. and Mrs. Yarnall.

ANOTHER MATTER.

Tommy was writing a long letter to his father at the front when a visitor was brought into the room by his aunt, says The Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

In his haste to clear the table, Tommy upset the ink all over the brand new plush tablecloth. Immediately he began to sob.

"Cheer up!" said the visitor kindly. "Remember, it's no use crying over spilled milk."

"Course it ain't. But when you spill milk you've got to call the cat, and she'll lick it up for you. But this ain't milk, and mother will do the licking."

POOR

IS THE WORLD COMING TO AN END?

Read The Comment of Dr. J. Wilbars Chapman.

These May Be The Last Days Now.

Doctor Chapman had announced that he would preach last night on the "Second Coming of Christ." He did not preach this sermon, however, for three reasons, two of which he gave. He asked that the papers kindly print the sermon, and said that he hoped it would be read the prepared extract giving a very excellent synopsis of his argument on this much discussed question.

Doctor Chapman referred to the sermon on the "Second Coming of Christ" as a sermon of close argument which would require all of his mental strength. The war situation in Europe is weighing heavily on Doctor Chapman's mind and heart, and referring to the great war of the Nations, and also to his sermon on the "Second Coming of Christ," he said, "We may be approaching if we are not already in, the last days, the last ties. It would seem that we may have come to the time of the final apostasy."

Doctor Chapman was last night, also, greatly moved by the news of the sinking of the Lusitania. "I have crossed the ocean eleven times on the Lusitania," said Doctor Chapman. "I know very well many of the officers, and many of the people who sailed on her last voyage. I occupied the same room on my different trips. I can shut my eyes and see it now. I sat at the same table. I can see it now. The Lusitania was not so great as the Aquitania, or so ornate as some of the German boats, but it was a very splendid ship. I may be excused if I am sick at heart. If that is farefare, God pity us. Those living in neutral countries should drop on their knees and pray to God that this awful war end."

SONG SERVICE.

"God Will Take Care of You," was the first song. Rev. W. B. Lindsay, pastor of the First A. R. P. Church offered prayer. The ladies in the choir sang the first verse and everybody the chorus. "I Am Praying for You" was requested. "Don't Stop Playing" was the next song.

Mr. Alexander was then persuaded to leave the platform and Mr. Hunter Marshall, Jr., who so successfully organized the large choir, on behalf of the members of the choir, presented to Mr. Alexander a very handsome suit case with "Charles M. Alexander from the Charlotte Choir" engraved on a gold plate. Mr. Marshall referred appreciatively to the work of Mr. Alexander in Charlotte, and assured him that the Charlotte choir would always affectionately remember him. The suit case, Mr. Marshall hoped would "help him on his return trip to Charlotte." Mr. Alexander thanked the choir for his handsome gift and told of the pleasant memories of his stay in Charlotte which he would always have. Mr. Marshall also presented golden knives on behalf of the choir to Mr. Brown and Mr. Barracough. Doctor Vines, speaking for the Sunbeams and the Charlotte Male Chorus, presented a golden knife to Mr. Alexander and handsome pins to Mr. Everts and Mr. Potts.

"I am going to have the big choir sing 'Good Bye, God Bless You One and All' and that's my message of thanks to the boys and girls."

"I've Found a Friend Who is All to Me," was the next song. The big choir sang the first verse, the Queen College girls the second verse, and everybody the third verse.

"One Day When Heaven Was Filled With His Fraises," a song written by Doctor Chapman, was sung by Mr. Brown. The Queen College girls sang the chorus and Mr. Alexander said it was "Splendid, splendid."

SCRIPTURE LESSON.

Doctor Chapman read the Scripture lesson, the audience standing and repeating it sentence by sentence. The Scripture read was the last verse of the fourth chapter of Romans and the first verse of the fifth chapter of Romans.

Doctor Chapman read a number of requests for prayer, among them "for a father who has not accepted Christ, that he may do so during the meeting," "for my household, especially my son who has been present at a few of the services," "for a revival at Blowing Rock," "for my little daughter who is thinking about accepting Christ," "for my dear boy who has been operated on for the third time this week, and is in a serious condition," "for my seven brothers and three sisters who have not accepted Christ," "for a brother in Richmond," "for my brother and two nieces in a distant city," "for my nephew who is attending school in Tennessee," "for the return of a wandering son. I am his brother," "for my father who once accepted Christ but is now a backslider," "for my sister who has never accepted Christ that she may become a Christian tonight," "for my mother and father," "for my boy who is fighting conviction," "for my husband whom I am trying to get to come to the meetings," "for a dear young lady friend that she may take a stand for Christ."

Rev. J. O. Hughes, pastor of the Pogram Street Presbyterian Church offered prayer.

Doctor Orr urged that a worthy offering be made to Doctor Chapman and Mr. Alexander. While the offering was being taken up, the choir sang, "I Surrender All."

Doctor Chapman announced as the next song, "Some Day the Silver Cord Will Break." The Queens College girls sang the first verse, the men in the choir the third verse, and everybody joined in on the last verse.

Doctor Chapman had been asked to announce the luncheon at the Selwyn at 1 o'clock Monday, tendered by the ushers to Doctor Chapman and Mr. Alexander. The ushers and the ministers of the city will be present. Doctor Chapman welcomed the following delegations: the Queens College girls, the Boy Scouts and the public school teachers. He announced that the Masons of the city would meet at the Masonic Temple at 2:30 Sunday afternoon and march, probably one thousand strong, to the men's meeting at the Tabernacle, where seats will be reserved for them.

The service this evening at the Tabernacle will be for the colored people. The choir will be reserved for the regular choir and the back part of the Tabernacle will be reserved for the white people.

THE THREE PERILS.

Doctor Chapman's subject on Sunday afternoon at the men's meeting will be "The Three Perils Threatening Charlotte." On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Alexander will hold a meeting for women at 3:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church. Doctor Chapman said that the meeting Sunday night would be the last of the meetings in the Tabernacle. "It is a sad thing to say it. These days and nights have been memorable," said Doctor Chapman. "If the weather permits, an open air meeting will be held on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the churchyard of the First Presbyterian Church. I leave at 8:45 on Monday night," said Doctor Chapman. "Mr. Alexander will stay over for a few days and will then go to his old home in Tennessee."

INCIDENT CITED.

Doctor Chapman said that an incident which had been related to him during the evening had suggested the message which he desired to bring. He referred to the messenger boys who had come forward and accepted Christ at one of the earlier meetings and told of how one of these boys had given a Testament to a girl in Charlotte who was leading an immoral life and had invited the girl to accept Christ. The girl read the Testament and had expressed a desire to lead a better life and accepted Christ. Captain Miller of the Salvation Army had taken the girl to a Salvation Army rescue home in Greenville, S. C.

"That's what we need," said Doctor Chapman. "If you would do work of that sort from now until Sunday, you would set Charlotte on fire."

Sanford Simpson, the messenger boy who gave the Testament to the girl, stood up on the platform and Doctor Chapman prayed for him. "I've been in many meetings," said Doctor Chapman, "I've seen many touching things. I've never seen anything more beautiful."

Those who would follow the example of the messenger boy and try to win some one to Christ before Sunday were asked to stand up, and many stood up.

Doctor Chapman made a short and earnest appeal based on the Scripture text, "No man cared for my soul." He urged his hearers to speak to those about them concerning Christ, and told of his failure to speak for Christ to his room-mate at college.

"God is moving up and down the streets of Charlotte," said Doctor Chapman. "The hush of God has fallen on this audience. This audience is the greatest we have had considering the rain. It is the greatest in spiritual power."

Those who desired to ask for prayer for a relative or friend were invited to stand up, and many stood up. Church members whose lives were not right and desired prayer were asked to stand up, and a number stood up. Those who would say "Pray for me that I may accept Christ" were asked to hold up their hands, and a number of hands were raised. Doctor Chapman offered prayer and invited those to come forward who would accept Christ. Several of the songs of the meeting were sung and a number came forward. They gathered about Doctor Chapman at the end of the meeting and he urged them to join the church of their choice promptly.

For the benefit of those who would like to obtain Doctor Chapman's views on the second coming of Christ, the following synopsis of his sermon, as prepared, is reproduced. It is the sermon that Doctor Chapman had in his mind but his heart was so surging with emotions incident to the great upheaval abroad, that he could not deliver it in full. It follows here-with:

THE SECOND COMING.

Doctor Chapman's sermon on "The Second Coming" was as follows:

Taking as his text, "And not be ashamed before Him at His Coming," Doctor Chapman said:

"When St. Paul wrote his epistle to the Corinthians, he said: 'I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ,' and now that St. John is writing his epistles he is expressing the wish that he might say faithful to Jesus Christ and to His teaching that he would not be ashamed before Him at His coming."

"The second coming of Christ is one of the most important and inspiring subjects presented in all the Bible, and at this particular time it is proper that we should study the subject carefully. There are many people who believe that we are approaching the last times, if indeed, we are not already in them, and that there are the clearest indications that we may at no far distant date find Him coming for His saints. It has been said that this subject has been mentioned no less than 385 times in the New Testament, but this would include the Revelation, and I do not refer to the verses in this book because its entirely prophetic character. But the second coming of Christ is mentioned 48 times in the Gospels, nine times in the Acts, 74 times in the Epistles, making a total of 131 and, as a matter of fact, taking the New Testament as a whole, one verse in 25 refers to this great event. We make very much of baptism, and rightly so, but St. Paul says far more about the Lord's return than about this great doctrine. More is said concerning His return than concerning His Deity. He must have meant exactly what he said, when he declared that he was coming back. Some have said that His second coming means death, or that he came at the destruction of Jerusalem, or on the day of Pentecost, or that He will come at the end of the world, but if you take the verses referring to His second coming and insert the word 'death,' or the words which have to do with the great events I have mentioned, in the place of the expressions which tell of His coming again, these Scriptures will all lose their meaning."

BIBLE VERY EXPLICIT.

"The Bible is very plain and explicit concerning this great day, as for example, Acts 1:11: 'This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven.' I have always been interested in the remark of a little girl who said: 'If Jesus did not mean what He said, why did He not say what He meant,' and I can imagine one who has been indifferent to the Lord's return meeting Him, and having the Master say to him, 'but did I not say that I was coming back?' and the indifference one replying 'yes, but I thought--' and before this sentence could be finished, I can quite imagine that one standing before Him would be exceedingly ashamed."

"As a matter of fact, the evangelical denominations are agreed as to His coming back again, but the manner of His coming, and the time, and the attendant circumstances concerning things we differ. It is not my purpose in my message this evening to take up the disputed points. I shall not discuss the question as to whether the Church is to pass through what is known as the 'tribulation,' but I shall certainly strive to make it plain that He is coming back, and that He may come soon."

"To me it is not a matter for argument; certainly it is not a question to divide Christians. I have always been much impressed with the words of St. Paul in First Thessalonians 4:18, where he says: 'Wherefore comfort one another with these words.' To me the doctrine is a great comfort and a great cause for cheer."

"His Coming Personal, Hebrews 9:28: 'Unto them that look for Him shall He appear the second time without sin unto salvation.' He Himself, is coming back, this same Jesus whom children loved and men and women adored, and we shall see Him, O glorious day!"

"His Coming Visible, Revelation 1-7: 'Behold, He cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see Him, and they also which pierced Him: and all kindreds of the earth shall avail because of Him. Even so, Amen!' Some day the skies will brighten beyond the brightness of the sun, and we shall see Him face to face, and then when we remember the words of the prophets that He is the chiefest among 10,000, and the one altogether lovely, we shall realize how inadequately language describes Him. O wonderful vision!"

"He is Coming to the Earth, Zechariah 14:4: 'And His feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the East.' He ascended into Heaven from the mount of Olives, and He is coming back again to stand upon that sacred mountain."

"I should like to tell you why I believe as I do. I did not always hold to this precious doctrine. I did not think it made any difference to me as a preacher, and I know that many people had advocated this truth, and had become extremely fanatical, but the following when I became thoughtful made a deep impression upon me."

"I came in contact in my study and observation with some of the great men of the Church. I read John Wesley closely and found that this was his belief and the inspiration of his preaching. I became familiar with the teaching of John Calvin, and was inspired when I found that he, too, was looking for the Lord. Charles H. Spurgeon, the greatest preacher of his day, stood in the same class. D. L. Moody never lost an opportunity to declare his belief in the second coming of Christ, while Dr. A. J. Gordon, of Boston, inspired me beyond measure in his messages concerning the second coming. I found that God had used or was using these men in a great way, and soon I came to accept this truth which revolutionized my thinking, increased my love for the Bible and helped me to be truer to humanity and to Christ."

ALWAYS TROUBLED ABOUT QUESTION.

"I was always troubled about the question of the judgment. I could not understand how there could be a general judgment, and all who hold to the second coming of Christ believe that there are many judgments, as, for example, the judgment at the cross, where the sin question is settled; the judgment seat of Christ, Second Corinthians 5:10, where Christians are judged for the way they have used their time and talents; the judgment of the nations. St. Matthew 5:22, where there is nothing spoken of the dead, but all of the living, and the judgment of the great, white throne. Revelation 20-11:15, where there are no living, but only the dead stand before God.

"The world didn't seem to me to be growing better, but rather worse. The two views held by the Church may be described as follows: First. The post-millennial, i. e. the world will grow better and better until at last the millennium will be ushered in, and then the Lord will come. Second. The pre-millennial view, i. e. the world will not grow better until Christ Himself comes and He will usher in the thousand years of peace. My view is the pre-millennial. Surely no one could look upon the world at war today and say the world is getting better. I think I should be utterly discouraged did I not believe that all these wrongs could be righted by the return of Jesus. Read Second Timothy, second chapter, the first five verses, and you will find a description of the days in which we live."

THE IMPORTANCE OF TRUTH.

"When He comes He will complete the body of Christ, i. e. the last soul shall be won to make the church complete. Two. When He comes the whole of the Jewish race will be affected and there will be an opportunity again for Israel. Three. When He comes it will be possible for the whole world to be converted; because these things are true, I long for His coming."

THE TIME.

"No one knows when He is to come; it may be soon, but I beseech you be ready for His coming; God pity you if you are not."

"The Attending Circumstances. Read First Thessalonians 4:16-17. When He comes the tents of the righteous dead shall be opened and our loved ones shall be caught up to meet Him in the air. Your mother and mine, your child and mine, then we which are alive shall be taken up. We sometimes speak of the things as being sure as death, but death is not sure."

"O joy, O delight we should go without dying. No sickness, no sadness, no dead and no crying; Caught up through the clouds with our Lord into glory."

When Jesus returns for His own.

"In St. Luke's Gospel, 17th chapter, verses 3-37, that day is described when it is said: 'One shall be taken and another left.' Some day the Christian people of this city will be caught up to meet Him. You will seek your mother and she will be gone, your father and he will be translated, your brother and he shall be with Jesus, and you will walk the streets of the city realizing that you have missed your chance, that the Lord has come and your friends have gone. I beseech you heed His teaching that you may not be ashamed at His coming."

"The times in which we live are exceedingly serious; the wars and rumors of wars startle us from day to day. Surely we are facing a world crisis of some sort. I would suggest that all Christian people give themselves most diligently to the study of prophecy. As for myself I have not the slightest question but that we are approaching the last days. I do not mean that Jesus may come today or tomorrow; it may be that He will delay His appearing, but surely these great events, the like of which the world has never known, ought to impel us to turn away from frivolity and sin and seek in every way to please Him, lest we be ashamed of His coming."

PARKER.

And Judge Alton B. Parker—he would have made a good President, also. Called on for his views, he said the attempt to persuade the public what action the Lusitania disaster requires President Wilson to take, is unfair to him and might work great injury to us. Judge Parker wisely says there is every reason for making haste slowly and the President should be given his time. "Have we forgotten the Maine?" he asks. "Can we not see President McKinley, standing with his back to the wall in the face of the hoarse cry of angry men demanding war—and his refusal to hurry. True, in the end war came—but not as a result of passion—and in the meantime the sentiment of the world had come to our sides." But what the people need to keep in mind more than anything else is the fact, as stated by Judge Parker, that President Wilson has information that we have not. When to announce a decision may be almost as important as what the decision shall be.—Charlotte Observer.

getting what you voted for?

If you haven't got enough of Democracy, increased assessments and increased taxes, vote for some more.
You will realize what a blind partisan
you have been when tax paying time comes.

Democratic government, in either city, county, state, or nation means increased taxes and a large floating or bonded debt, and yet our Democratic friends insist upon everything being Democratic.

Why all this dissatisfaction with existing conditions in our little city, is it imaginary or real, if imaginary, what caused it, if real, what is the remedy? We all know that it exists, we all know that it is retarding the growth of our town and community.
What is the cause and what is the remedy? Will some one answer, and will some one seek to bring about the remedy?

NEEDED IMPROVEMENTS.

Our genial postmaster, Mr. O. F.
Crowson, has had some needed improvements made around the postoffice building in the way of screened doors and this is a much needed improvement and we are glad to note that Mr. Crowson is alive to the benefit of swatting the fly as well as the pleasure and comfort of his clerks and carriers. There is nothing like having officials alive to the public interest.

We presume some day, some one with sufficient pull will get behind the Government postoffice building and then there will be something doing.
There are several towns in this State that have secured sites and now have buildings long since we first secured the site. The treasury officials would have us believe that all towns are treated alike and that we have to take our turn like going to mill, but we happen to know better. What we need, is a strong friend at court, can't some of our influential Democratic friends here spend some of their surplus energy in trying to get our building started, instead of trying to control Municipal politics. Are there none here patriotic enough to undertake this work?

NO REPUBLICAN TICKET.

We have been asked several times recently if the Progressive Republicans would put out a Municipal ticket for Mayor and Alderman, and while we are not authorized to speak for the party, yet it is our opinion that no such ticket will be placed in the field. We know that some of our Democratic friends are anxious for us to run a municipal ticket, but we are opposed to running the city into politics and have always been, but of course if our Democratic friends continue to inject partisan politics in our municipal affairs, there will be no alternative for us but to do likewise, but not this time. Let those who are such blind partisan realize what a partisan controlled municipality means and then some day, there will be an opportunity for the good men in all parties to come together and inaugurate an ideal city government for an already overburdened people.

We notice that our Democratic friends are again going to run the municipal campaign into politics, and that they are going to insist that as this is a Democratic city, all the town officials should be Democrats. Well if they look at it that way, and a majority of our citizens are with them in this view, we have no kicking coming, but if we are to have a united citizenship and all working for the city's good, then we should not bring partisan politics into the municipal election. We insist and maintain that the best administrations that this city has ever had was when the citizens regardless of politics joined hands and controlled the municipal affairs. We believe this is the best way to get the best men to fill the various offices, and we would like to see it done. Our Democratic friends have had charge of the affairs now for several years and what do we find, a large city debt piled up, taxes increased and our affairs in bad shape financially. We ran so far in debt under Democratic city government that we had to sell our electric light plant because we did not have, and could not secure enough money to make the needed improvements at the power plant to keep the plant going and take care of the increased business. Everybody knows this true and if our Democratic friends are proud of their record, let them make the most of it.

WHAT ARE THEY DOING?

What are the representative so-called leading citizens doing for the uplift and upbuilding of Burlington?
What are they doing to hurry along the Government building? What are they doing to induce capital to locate here and give employment to our people? These are vital questions, and can only be answered by what one sees, apparently they are doing nothing for the uplift and upbuilding of the city, but they are engaged in their old occupation of playing partisan politics at the expense of the taxpayers, increasing the city and county debt, and adding additional burdens to the already heavy load that our people are carrying. Have we no patriotic citizen who will offer himself in the interest of the people, and help to lead them out of the wilderness of fear and despair? Our representatives are leaving and going to their lawns hunting for work, while our supposed leading citizens are putting to elect certain men and contract certain patronage for the benefit of some special friend. We have many good loyal and patriotic citizens here, but they seem completely under the domination of others who are less loyal and patriotic and do not care what becomes of the city or its people so long as they and their friends are in control of its affairs, cannot our good people shake off this domination and get together and save us from ourselves.

Editor Dispatch.

Dear Sir:—

Will you allow me a little space in your pizen sheet to say just a few words about the many lies we Democrats said you were telling last Fall during the campaign? I am guilty along with many other good citizens of Alamance county, who said the same thing about you and your paper.
We knew then you were telling the truth, but our bosses said you were a miserable liar and we said you are, but Mr. Editor, some things are transpiring now that will make us all ashamed of what we said about you and your pizen sheet as they called it. You said the county was heavily in debt and that the taxes would have to be increased, that the member of Legislature or rather the nominee of the Democratic party was in favor of increasing them, but they said there is no truth in the Dispatch or its Editor either, and we said the same thing, all the time knowing that you were telling the truth and doing what you could in the interest of the taxpayers, but the yoke of bossism was hanging so heavy around our necks and we could not shake it off, but it is off now to stay off. What do these same bosses say now when they are increasing taxes and property assessment? We are badly in debt and we need and must have the money, well you said they were then, they say they are now, but our honest, hard working taxpayers are getting their eyes open to true conditions and they cannot fool them much longer. We are glad that there is such an Editor, and much a fearless paper as the Dispatch. You have made, and are making friends by the hundred. People who abused, vilified and lied about you last Fall are your friends now.

Let the good work go on, continue to turn on the light and we will continue to lend our support to the pizen sheet and its lying Editor, and in return continue to be as bold, and as fearless and as truthful in the future as in the past and above all do not fail to send me the little pizen sheet right on time, it's my best friend
now, and I cannot do without it.

Yours for publicity,
TAXPAYER.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN THE EDI- TOR IS SNUBBED.

Don't blame the editor for not mentioning all the parties and social affairs that take place, consider the fact that some one must hand us the news in order for it to appear in the Review. Having always been ignored in the matter of invitations to these events the editor does not feel that he is under any obligations to seek details of social affairs of which his knowledge is but unconfirmed hearsay.—Alba (Mich.) Review.

COULDN'T PROVE IT BY HIM.

"It—er—seems," said he regarding the unfortunate with scientific interest, "that the attacks of fever and chills appear on alternate days. Do you think, is it your opinion, that they have so to speak, decreased in violence, if I may use that word?"
The patient smiled feebly.
"Doc," said he, "on fever days my head's so hot I can't think, and on ague days I shake so I can't hold an opinion."—Pittsburgh Press.

EXTRACTS FROM BILLY SUN- DAY'S SERMON.

It was Sunday who declared with his usual artistry of speech, that little can be said in justification of the women of the smart set. He went on to say "they are silly, frivolous, extravagant; they have thrown to the winds all modesty, prudence, religion and the virtues that are so attractive in women, and have allowed themselves to be flattered, cajoled and bamboozled by a lot of jilted jays with crooked characters, and turn their homes into third-rate gambling dens and booze joints.

"The average society woman of today," he went on with dramatic climax, "is more familiar with poker chips and the names of fancy wines and champagnes than she is with the relics of classic literature. She couldn't quote a verse of the Scriptures of God's holy word to save her good-for-nothing hide."

"God has marked out the same path for men and for women to follow,"
he said. "Away with the hellish doctrine of a double standard of living in this twentieth century! It makes no difference whether the one who sins wears a plug hat or a petticoat.
Young fellow, your sister has as good a right to live as you have. Your wife has as good a right to walk up the street smoking a cigarette as you have. Your wife has as good a right to line up before a bar and fill up her skin with liquor as you have.

"She has as good a right to go to the corner grocery in the evening and

THAT TERRIBLE "MAY."

(By Billy Sunday.)

I don't look like a man that would die very quickly, do I? I have just as good physique as you ever gazed at. I wouldn't trade with any man I know. A lot of you fellows are stronger than I, but I have as good physique as you ever looked at. I have been preaching at this pace for fourteen years, and I've stood it, although I begin to feel myself failing a little bit. But may I die, and on that "may," on that possibility, I carry thousands and thousands of dollars of life insurance. I don't believe that any man does right to himself, his wife, or his children if he doesn't provide for them with life insurance, so when he is gone they will not be thrown on the charity of the world.

And next to my faith in God, if I should die tonight, that which would give me the most comfort would be the knowledge that I have in a safe deposit vault in Chicago life insurance papers paid for up to date, and my wife could cash them in and she and the babies could listen to the wolves howl for a good many years. I don't expect to die soon. I may die, and on that "may," I carry thousands and thousands of dollars in life insurance.

Dr. Dernberg is going to leave us.
Well, the best friends must part.
Good-bye, Doc; take keer o' yerself.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

Burlington, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidney ill want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Burlington evidence of their merit.

Mrs. H. P. White, Front St., Burlington, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have proven a splendid kidney medicine in our family. I have taken them on several occasions when my back has been lame and sore and they have always given me quick relief. Another of my family had a very bad case of kidney trouble. The doctor said the only thing to do was to go to the hospital. However, Doan's Kidney Pills were used and the first few doses gave great relief. After taking a couple of boxes, the trouble disappeared and hasn't returned."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. White had, FOSTER-MILBURN CO., Prop., Buffalo, N. Y.

CIGARS AND BLUE EYES.

A gray-haired man who wore a skull cap had operated the cigar and newsstand for years. An air of quiet and peace, sometimes the ominous forerunner of commercial disaster, had lately hung over the place. Even the few old cronies and hangers on who formerly frequented the place, talking much and spending little, had been reduced to a few faithful who clung apathetically to a former haunt. The magazines were noticeably slow in moving, the cigars dry, and the room usually unaired and vaguely untidy, although no instance of actual dirt could be pointed out. In answer to inquiry as to business the old man's reply was invariably "quiet," "pretty quiet, sir," an opinion which only needed a glance about to verify.

One day there was a change. Even from across the street it could be discerned that a metamorphosis had taken place. An air of brightness and business surrounded the old newsstand. On closer investigation it was found that the outside had been repainted and an attractive window display arranged. A new name had been painted in gold letters across the window. And just outside the door stood the new proprietor. She was a vision in a light blue, carefully tailored dress, big blue eyes and a mop of blood hair arranged in an intricate but extremely attractive pattern. A bystander continued to gaze surreptitiously at the apparition under the pretense of looking at some magazines fastened in the window. When the vision started toward him he was too startled to retreat. The door opened and soft voice inquired if he would not come in and look at the better things that were on display inside. He went in, although he wanted neither magazines nor cigars. Inside there was an unworldly air of order and business. Under the spell of the blue eyes and the blond hair, the man bought two two-for-a-quarter cigars, although he had always found 5-cent ones perfectly satisfactory before, and a 35-cent magazine that he had never seen before and in which he was not at all interested.

Soon others discovered a new interest in cigars and magazines. Business grew better with each day. A group of young fellows who spent money as well as talked hung constantly about the place, and its presiding genius served all with impartiality. Business was good. Another chapter, however, remained to be added to a story which properly should end here. The young woman proprietor was missing one day and a young man was in her place. He was one of the young men who had hung most faithfully about the place for some time preceding. He seems now to be a permanent fixture at the old stand. Occasionally the young woman relieves him for an afternoon, and some times she comes just before closing time, and they go away together, but the young man seems to be directing the business. And business is not so good now.

UNCLE WALT MASON.

Alas, poor Johnson, badly whipped and of his wreaths and honors stripped! When he appeared in yonder ring, he was that ring's unconquered king, and when he left it, sick and sore, he was a has-been, nothing more, and all the country felt relief when Brother Johnsing came to grief. No words encouraging he heard; no breasts with sympathy were stirred, but all were glad to see him slump before Jess Willard's cultured thump, and even the men of his own race exulted in his loss of place. 'Twas not because his skin was brown that men rejoiced when he came down. But Johnson, since he gained his fame seemed destitute of sense of shame, and laughed with foul, unholy glee, at all the claims of decency. An outcast from his native land, and by most other countries banned, he'll skulk, since from the height he's hurled, along the edges of the world, a blot on every decent scene, a leper with the sign, "Unclean." A man all morals can't defy, and with that sort of thing get by; and when he falls, he'll fall he must, rejoicing follows long digust.

LISTEN, MR. SPENDTHRIFT!

Did you ever have the toothache 'long in the wee hours of the night and vow that when the tomorrow came you would have it treated? But when the tomorrow came the tooth was easy and you put it off and forgot it until those little "devils" began to prance in the tooth again? You just knew for certain then that you would have it attended to the next day? And so on, until you'd suffered infinitely more with toothache than you would have had you had the tooth treated at first?

Exactly! You are in hard lines today simply because you have resolved in hard times that if easy times came again you would get yourself in shape for hard times and when easy times came you would pass up the opportunity. Let's go deeper into the matter in the Tuesday issue of this paper.

NOTICE.

The citizens and qualified voters in the city of Burlington will take notice of the new registration and election in the city of Burlington.

You are hereby notified that pursuant to the provisions of an act of the General Assembly entitled "AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE AND EMPOWER THE CITY OF BURLINGTON TO ISSUE BONDS TO OBTAIN FUNDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF ERECTING AND EQUIPPING PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDINGS IN SAID CITY," an election will be held at the several voting places in the above named city on the 8th day of June, 1915 upon the proposition of the adoption of said act and determining whether said act shall become law applicable to said city. You will further take notice that an application in writing of sixty qualified voters of said city has been made to the Mayor and Board of Alderman, the said application requesting the order of a special election in said city upon the question of issuing bond of said city in the sum of $40,000.00 for the purpose of erecting and equipping public school buildings in said city. That pursuant to said act and petition a special election has been ordered to be held on said 8th day of June, 1915 upon the question of the issuance of $40,000.00 in bonds for the purpose of erecting and equipping public school buildings in said city, the said bonds, (provided the majority of the qualified voters of the said city shall have voted for the public school building bonds), shall be issued in the denominations of $1,000.00 each carrying interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, all of which bonds shall run for a term of thirty years. When said bonds shall have been issued they shall be sold by the Board of Alderman at the best price which they can obtain, not to be sold for less, however, than the par value of said bonds, and they shall use the proceeds of said bonds for the sole and only purpose of erecting and equipping buildings to be used as public school buildings in said city of Burlington, and said Board of Alderman shall keep accurate account showing the amount received for said bonds and the manner in which the same is expended.

This the 22nd day of April, 1915.

JAS. P. MONTGOMERY,
Secretary & Treasurer.

Whereas, the General Assembly of North Carolina of the year of our Lord One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Thirteen enacted

"AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE AND EMPOWER THE CITY OF BURLINGTON TO ISSUE BONDS TO OBTAIN FUNDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF ERECTING AND EQUIPPING PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDINGS IN SAID CITY," and whereas, said act thereof provides that an election shall be held for the purpose of determining whether said act shall become law; and whereas, on the 22nd day of April, 1915, a petition was presented to the Mayor and Board of Alderman, at a regular meeting of said Board, by sixty and a great many more than sixty, qualified citizens, taxpayers and free holders of the city of Burlington, asking that the said Mayor and Board of Alderman order an election on the question of issuance of bonds for forty thousand ($40,000.00) dollars for the purpose of erecting and equipping public school buildings in said city.

Now, therefore, it is ordered that on the 8th day of June, 1915, there shall be held in the city of Burlington an election which shall be held in all respects as provided by law for the holding of elections for Mayor and Alderman of said city and at which time all the voters who are then registered and qualified to vote, shall be entitled to vote for the purpose of determining whether it is the will of such voters that the aforesaid act shall become law and applicable to the said city of Burlington. Voters desiring to vote for the adoption of said act favoring the issuing of said bonds shall vote a ballot of white paper on which shall be written or printed the words "For School Bonds" and those opposed to issuing said bonds shall vote a ballot of white paper on which shall be written or printed the words "Against School Bonds."

It is further ordered that a new registration of the qualified voters of said city be had and to this end the registrars herein-after named shall open registration books for this purpose in their respective wards on the 3rd day of May, 1915, the same to remain open for the registration of voters on each day in the week, Sundays excepted, from 9 o'clock A. M. to 6 o'clock P. M., until 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, the 5th day of June, 1915.

It is further ordered that notice of said new registration and election be published thirty days prior to the holding of said election and once a week thereafter until said election is held, and that said notice be published in some newspaper of general circulation in the city of which notice shall state the date on which said election shall be held, the amount for which it is proposed to issue bonds, how long said bonds shall run, the rate of interest to carry and the purpose to which the proceeds of bonds shall be applied.

It is further ordered that the said bonds shall be issued in denominations of $1,000.00 each and shall carry interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, all of which bonds shall run for thirty years.

It is further ordered that B. M. WALKER be, and he is hereby appointed registrar for the First Ward, and that S. C. MOORE and H. K. HALL be and are hereby appointed inspectors for the First Ward; that L. J. FONVILLE be, and he is hereby appointed registrar for the Second Ward, and that GEO. SMITH and F. W. HAWKINS be, and they are hereby appointed inspectors for the Second Ward; that RICHARD SEYMOUR be, and he is hereby appointed registrar for the Third Ward, and that J. A. IRELAND and Y. S. MILES be, and they are hereby appointed inspectors for the Third Ward; and that J. T. WELCH be, and he is hereby appointed registrar for the Fourth Ward, and that R. A. FREEMAN and C. B. WAY be, and they are hereby appointed inspectors for the Fourth Ward.

This the 22nd day of April, 1915.

JAS. P. MONTGOMERY,
Secretary & Treasurer.

No wonder women are good actors. When they are small girls they play they are old, and when they are grown up they play they are young.

SONG OF STEAM.

Harness me down with your iron bands,
Be sure of your curb and rein,
For I scorn the strength of your puny hands
As the tempest scorns a chain.
How I laughed as I lay concealed from sight,
For many a countless hour,
At the childish boast of human might,
And the pride of human power.

When I saw an army upon the land,
A navy upon the seas,
Creeping along a snail-like band,
O, waiting a wayward breeze,
When I marked the peasant paddy reel,
With the toil which he daily bore,
As he feebly turned the tardy wheel,
Or toiled at the weary car.

When I measured the painting courses speed,
The flight of the Courier dove,
As they bore the law a king decreed,
Or the lines of impatient love.

I could not but think how the world would feel
As these were outstripped afar,
When I should be bound to the rushing keel
Or chained to the flying car.

Ha! ha! na! they have found me at last,
They invited me forth at length,
And I rushed to my throne with a thunder blast,
And laughed in my iron strength.

Oh, then ye saw a wondrous change,
On the earth and ocean wide,
Where now my fiery armies range,
Nor wait for wind or tide.

Hurrah! Hurrah! the water's o'er,
The mountains steep decline,
Time space have yielded to my power,
The world, the world is mine.

The rivers, the sun hath earliest blest,
Or those where his beams decline,
The giant streams of the queenly west,
Or the Orient floods divine.

The ocean pales wherever I sweep,
To hear my strength rejoice,
And the monsters of the briny deep,
Cower, trembling at my voice.

I carry the wealth and ore of earth,
The thoughts of his god-like mind,
The wind logs after my flying forth,
The lightning is left behind.

In the darksome depths of the fathomless mine,
My tireless arm doth play,
Where the rocks never saw the sun decline,
Or the dawn of a glorious day.

I bring earth's glittering jewels up,
From the hidden cave below,
And I make the fountains granite cup,
With a chrysal gush, o'erflow.

I blow the bellows, I forge the steel,
In all the shops of trade,
I hammer the ore and turn the wheel,
Where my arms of strength are made.

I manage the furnace, the mill, the mint,
I carry, I spin, I weave,
And all my doings, I put into print,
On every Saturday eve.

I've no muscle to weary, no breast to decay,
No bones to be laid on the shelf,
But soon I intend you may go to play,
While I manage the world myself.

But harness me down with your iron bands,
Be sure of your curb and rein,
For I scorn the strength of your puny hands,
As the tempest scorns a chain.

—G. W. CUTTER,
Covington, Ky.

Dr. Harvey Wiley's notion that everybody ought to take an hour to dinner might not be a bad one if everybody in these Democratic times could get enough to eat to require all that while.

NOTHING BETTER.

For the man of modern means and a wage-earner, the building and loan association ranks above any other financial institution both as regards safety and fair returns. The loans are all made on first-mortgage security, which eliminates the element of speculation and makes security as safe as it can possibly be made, while the economic management of the association enables them to pay a higher rate of dividend than any other financial institution.

THE REAL QUESTION.

"My son," said the father, impressively, "suppose I should be taken away suddenly, what would become of you?"

"Why," said the son, irreverently, "I'd stay here; the question is, what would become of you?"

When the President notified Germany last February that he would hold it to strict accountability for the loss of American lives or American ships through the hostile operations in the war zone, he, of course, knew just what he would do to bring Germany to terms. A mere idle threat such a responsible authority would have been improper, but there are very many evidences that the President does not now know what to do about it. Some day we shall get an American administration once more, and then things will be different.

Dernburg just had to quit talking because all America is talking now, and he couldn't possibly get a word in edgewise.

That Syracuse jury is expected to decide what is a boss, but when it has been shown—as the evidence does show—that there were many bosses the job looks somewhat complicated.

When there is a one-man job to be attended to it is of very importance that the man shall be as big as the job.

ROBBING THE SICK.

An Exposure of the Most Despicable Form of Quackery.

This is the fourth and last article by a Kansas City man who traveled with a quack doctor until his conscience would not permit him to be a party to such robbery any longer.

The doctor decided to work in Marian and Shelby counties, in Missouri, the following week, so, after a quiet Sunday in Quincy, we crossed the river to Hannibal, got a livery rig and drove west over a fine gravel road. We found several cases of chronic disease, but the people were too poor to pay, and we were after the almighty dollar. We reached Withers Mills at noon. From there we drove to Warren and a few miles beyond there we found a man and his wife, named Johnson, both badly crippled with rheumatism.

The ingenuity and resourcefulness of the doctor was shown strikingly in the way he landed this case. He noticed when he entered the house a motto on the wall: "God Bless Our Home," and there was a Bible on the center table. The doctor took the cue from this that they were Christian folks, and so he at once assumed a pious air.

"God bless you, brother," and "God bless you, sister," he said as he shook hands, and while they were telling him of their suffering he quoted Scripture: "Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth."

I was amazed at his adroitness. He got this case by posing as a devout man and by talking up his "nebulizer," which he told them was never sold, but only lent to a patient. They would have to be very careful with it and return it to the hospital when cured. The doctor got $100 from this couple without extra trouble.

The Doctor's Cunning. Our next case was a Mr. McFarland, who had a goiter. The keeness and cunning of the doctor was again shown in his handling this case. When he was examining the old man his wife said:

"Pa, take that tobacco out of your mouth, you're eternally chaw, chaw, chawing tobacco."

That gave the doctor his cue. He realized instantly that the wife was in the habit of nagging her husband about tobacco chewing, so when he finished his examination he arose, closed his instrument case and began putting on his coat.

"Why, what's the matter doctor?" asked the man anxiously. "Can't my case be cured?"

Dramatically the great specialist lifted his hand and said:

"I would not take your case if you gave me your whole farm."

I was dumfounded, and wondered what was up.

"Why, doctor?" the farmer pleaded. "A man who chews as much tobacco as you cannot be cured."

The wife instantly interrupted: "There, what have I told you a thousand times?"

"I can quit tobacco," the farmer said. "If I do, can you help me, doctor?"

"No, you can't quit, pa—you know you have tried," said the wife.

The great specialist held up his hand for silence.

"I can take from you all desire for tobacco if you will take the tablets I send you free of charge. But, even if you do quit tobacco the goiter, which is now enraged and violent, will go on. You must be treated for that. Take my tablets which will forever remove the tobacco habit, and my other medicines will dissolve and absorb the goiter within four months."

"I will see that he takes the medicines, doctor," the wife said.

The upshot of it was the old farmer hitched up and drove three miles to Warren with us and drew $100 from the bank and gave it to the doctor for a guaranteed cure.

We drove out of town in another direction and the doctor said to me:

"That old rube will chew his tobacco in spite of hell and high water, and of course the treatment will not cure his goiter."

"It Grows on Trees." As the doctor handed me my share of the $100 he said:

"I told you it grows on the trees." That was a successful day and that night at the hotel in Hannibal the doctor said to me:

"The drift is good here. We'll take a thousand dollars out of here."

The next morning we drove out through the village of Philadelphia and on toward Shelbyville. We found a rich farmer, Mr. Knapp, suffering from what the local doctor called adhesive bowels and appendicitis, and his wife had a rupture.

These people were unusually intelligent and had experience with physicians. Their son was in business in Hannibal. I doubted if they would take any stock in a traveling doctor, a stranger, whose pretensions might easily be exposed by any one who cared to telephone to Kansas City. But I had a lot to learn yet. The gullible are not always the ignorant.

The doctor went to unusual trouble to make an impressive diagnosis here. He first had Mr. Knapp strip naked to his hips, and he divided his body into small squares with a soft lead pencil, marking upon the skin a number for each square, and a like number on his chart. Then he used the stethoscope, as he tapped with his fingers and listened and felt every portion of his trunk, and this impressed the old couple very decidedly. When he was through he told them about the great method of absorption used by the specialists at the Old State Hospital, which he assured them would absorb the adhesive growths inside and make him well. The doctor was playing for a big fee here. He agreed to cure them both for $250, and they wrote him a check for that amount, and then made us stay for dinner.

The Son Suspicious.

The check was on a bank in Hannibal. The doctor cashed it next morning. It snowed that day and we could not go into the country. That afternoon Mr. Knapp and his son, who lived in Hannibal, came to the hotel together. The father had called his son over the telephone and told him of giving the $250 check to us and the son had him to come to town, and here they were after us.

"I know you and your joint in Kansas City. You're both fakes," said the son to us. "You're got to give that money back."

Now I saw the doctor in a new role, that of a bluffer, corned but determined to keep up his bluff as long as he could.

"Give you back nothing," reported the doctor.

"Come on dad, we'll get the sheriff," said the son, and they left the hotel.

The doctor turned to me and said: "Hell isn't a half mile away. We must get away."

We packed up our grips, paid our hotel bills and went to the depot. A train was going to Quincy in twenty minutes. We got on board and just as it was about to start the son and the sheriff came running. Behind them limped old Mr. Knapp. The son pointed us out; the sheriff ordered us to get off. The father shouted from the station platform:

"Hold him, sheriff, hold him!"

The doctor looked straight into the sheriff's eyes and asked calmly:

"Got a warrant?" The sheriff shook his head.

"Get a warrant and I'll go with you," said the doctor.

"It's no use," the sheriff said to the young Knapp, "I daren't arrest him without a warrant."

In that way we escaped to Quincy with the $250, of which I got $100. I had now more money than I had ever earned before in two months, and I had accumulated it all in less than two weeks. It would keep my home going for three months. My last experience had brought it home to me that I was in a dangerous business. I decided to quit. The doctor made it easy for me to do that by going on a big drunk in Quincy. He bought two quarts of whiskey, took them to his room and in less than three hours he had drunk half a quart and was lying in a stupor on the bed.

"This is my time to go," I said to myself, and I went, first leaving a note for the doctor which he might read when he awoke, telling him that I had enough of the medical business.

The Tragedy of False Hopes. As I said in the beginning, I am sorry I ever went into the business. I knew it to be a wicked swindle. It is not so much the taking of money and giving nothing in return; that is bad enough; but the great crime of all this business of medical quackery is that it raises false hopes in the breasts of the afflicted, and keeps them from proper medical treatment while they are taking the fake medicines of the quack.

If what I have written will save some sick person from falling into the trap of the traveling quack, or the advertising doctor, I shall be thankful.

SUN GRINS.

"Could you be satisfied with love in a cottage, dearest?" sighed the poor young man. "Certainly I could," responded the girl, who really loved him; "but there must be a breakfast room, a music room, parquet flooring and a big marble fireplace in the front hall."

"How is it that nobody ever ventures to discuss the war with Jinks and he has all the talking to himself?"

"Well, you see, he's the only fellow in the club who knows how to pronounce the names of those Russian and Polish jaw-breaker towns."

We gazed plyingly on the listless drug store clerk leaning against the soda counter.

"Haven't you any ambition?" we queried kindly and all that.

"No," he replied, with brightening intelligence, "but I have something just as good."

While on a parade a colonel noticed a careless man to have very muddy heels, while the remainder of his attire was in keeping with military propriety.

"Corporal Moriarity," said the chief "you have very muddy heels."

"Yes, colonel, a good soldier never looks behind him."

Mother told her small son she would punish him if he ever asked for anything to eat while at a neighbor's house.

The next time he went over to call on a neighbor he sat still for a few minutes, then he said:

"Now, I must go. Do you know why I must go? Well, I'm hungry, that's why."—Woman's Home Companion.

The youngster insisted however, that he had obeyed her orders and had not lingered unnecessarily on the way.

"Do you expect me to believe," said mother, "that it took you two hours to walk a quarter of a mile?" She reached for the whip. "Now, sir, will you tell me the truth?"

"Yes-es, mamma," sobbed the boy. "Charlie Wilson gave me a mud turtle—and I was afraid—to carry it—so I led it home."—Boston Transcript.

In making a telephone call always call by number and not by name. Operators deal only in numbers, and a call by name results in delayed service.

Always consult the telephone directory before making a call. When you call from memory you are likely to transpose numbers and call the wrong party.

If, after you have looked in the directory, you cannot find the party wanted call "Information."

TWO VICTORIES FOR SYLVAN HIGH SCHOOL.

Graham, May 17.—Last Saturday was the one day that brought two victories to the Sylvan high school. The baseball team on that day won the State Championship in high school baseball for 1914-15 at Chapel Hill. Sylvan nine had won the first place in the western part of the State and the Raleigh team had won first place in the east. So it remained for Sylvan and Raleigh to cross bats for the first place in the State. The test was made at the University last Saturday and it resulted in victory for Sylvan—the score being 7 to 6. This is Sylvan's second victory of this kind. She won this same distinction in baseball last year.

While the boys were away at Chapel Hill winning a victory the men were at home winning another by voting special tax for high school purposes. Sylvan was one of the first schools in the State to establish a State high school, and has maintained one all the while. Most of this time the community has raised its one-third of the maintenance fund by private subscriptions. The election last Saturday was to place a small tax on all to support the high school. The vote was about 4 to 1 for the special tax. Thus two victories for Sylvan in one day. The high school tax is in addition to the local tax of 30c and 90c for elementary school purposes that Sylvan has collected for years. Hurrah for Sylvan!

BELGIUM.

O Belgium, thou art a garden swept by storm!
A country seared by flames that lick the sky!

Thy queen an angel kneels in woman's form,
And bends with helpless hand and streaming eye

Above the ground whereon her starving subjects lie,
"Where thy country's heroes?" This to thy king.

"In trenches dead and dying," his reply
That crowned the men uncrowned with greater thing

Than coronets or titles grand to royal blood can bring.
O grateful king! Far nobler on thy head

Is tender love entwined in mournful cypress wreath
Than all the laurels worn by tyrant, dead

To the soldier's sacrifice, the widow's grief—
The unhistoric names that crown him chief.

And Belgium, least to blame, severest torn!
Thou yet from all thy woes shall find relief.

From darkest night shall come thy darkest morn,
And sweetest roses bloom from every piercing thorn.

The God of Peace thy bleeding heart hath seen,
His hosts on earth have loved thee from afar,

His angels paint upon the sky thy hapless queen
Enveiled in lurid clouds that scarce can mar

Her sad, sweet face—we call that picture war.
O Innocence! thou art the sacrifice for sin.

The lamb must bleed to wash the vulture's scar, Alas, O Christ, that thou so oft hast been Upon earth's cruel cross, but ne'er her heart within,

—ERNEST NEAL.

THE DREAM FADES.

When a girl is growing up she dreams some day a knight will come dashing up on his charger—after she has been on the matrimonial counter awhile she is content if she can marry a plain ordinary man who stays at home one night in the week and lets her do the the charging at a dry goods store.—Jacksonville Time-Union.

CONFESSED THE CRIME.

Express Clerk Robbed Safe of Eight Thousand Dollars.

Mobile, May 17.—William Merriweather, former money order clerk of the local Southern Express Company office, confessed to the public here today that he robbed the express company's safe at an early hour Saturday morning of $8,000. He led the officers to an alley in the down town district where he secreted $7,200 under a small box. He exonerated two other men.

ALL NOT LOST.

A boy who had been instructed to switch to a certain track all dirt trains that came off the cut, let a long train of dump cars start on the wrong track before he bethought himself and pulled the switch; the train was split in two and several of the cars were derailed. #### ALTRUISTS.

A retail grocer reported to the police the other day, that certain sacks of flour had been feloniously abstracted from in front of his store, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. A Sleuth was put on the job, and very soon this sleuth saw a man whose clothes were white and therefrom, argued that this person must be the flour thief. The detective followed the suspect to his home, and there he discovered six bags of flour.

The man the detective detected was the thief. He confessed before the Municipal court judges the next morning.

"Yes, your honor," he said, "I did take that flour, but I didn't steal it. There it laid on the sidewalk and the grocer wasn't taking care of it and I thought some thief might come along and swlpe it. So I took it home to save it for the grocer."

"Yes," commented Judge Saunders, "You were a noble citizen. Your story reminds me of a fellow who was arrested for burglary and larceny, not long ago. He explained it like this: He was going along the street and he saw a house on fire. He went in and rescued an old lady from burning to death. In her gratitude she gave him the articles the police found in his room, to wit: Six silver spoons, six silver forks, six silver knives, a silver teapot, a revolver, a blackjack, a billy and a dark lantern."

NOT DESIRABLE.

John was grieving because he had no gift for his mother's birthday, says the New York Evening Post.

"Do not quarrel with little sister all day," suggested grandmother.

"That would be the best gift she could have," John agreed.

"Can't you see how much mother enjoyed your gift, John?" asked grandmother at night. "Why don't you do this every day?"

John drew a breath that came from his boots. "I'd rather die, Gram, than live like this every day," he said fervently.

BILLY SUNDAY ON THE TANGO.

"They dance the tango," said Billy Sunday in Patterson, N. J., Saturday, "the rottenest, most putrid dance that ever wriggled out of the pit of hell. I can understand why young bloods go in for it, but some of you old ginks—Good night!"

"You old lobsters! You don't want to dance with your wife. It is some other fellow's wife. You had just as soon go out and husk corn all night by moonlight as to dance with your wife."

Billy says he does not fight the theatre as an institution, but is against the things the theatre stands for. "Take the leg off the stage and the theatres will go bankrupt. While the Shakespearean play is losing money, the burlesque show is playing to full houses across the street."

"To war or not to war," is the position that is agitating the Italian king and his cabinet. It is so difficult to tell just how the biggest slice of territory can be obtained that it keeps them turning like tops.
