MAYOR FRED SUTTON OF KINSTON IS ARRESTED.

Serving of Warrant Due to Conflict of Authority Between Mayor, Judge of Recorder's Court.

Kinston, June 14.--Fred I. Sutton, Kinston's young mayor, was arrested today upon order of Judge T. C. Wooten of the recorder's court and recognized for his appearance in court next week after his return from Asheville, where he went tonight. The serving of the warrant upon Mr. Sutton by the chief of police was the result of a breach between the city's head and the municipal court.

Two prominent young men arrested Sunday morning were released by Mayor Sutton, who, when a city hall employe declined to obey his instructions acted as his own turnkey.

According to Mayor Sutton's counsel, the mayor contends that he has supervision of the police under the charter, and that he had given instructions that resident arrested for very trifling misdemeanors should not be locked up when they could be treated otherwise. Judge Wooten declares the mayor exceeded his authority.

ADVISE BRYAN TO REST HIS TONGUE

Dauphin Democratic Committee Hears "Peerless Leader" Called "Benedict Arnold."

Harrisburg, June 15.--The Dauphin County Democratic Committee today debated ex-Secretary Bryan and adopted a resolution requesting him to give "his tongue and pen a rest."

It was the annual meeting of the committee and Fred L. Morgenthaler, former Councilman, was elected to succeed Edward Moeslein, as chairman. Resolutions were then adopted indorsing the President and complimenting Vance C. McCormick on his campaign. Then Charles D. Stucker presented the measure upholding the President and criticizing Mr. Bryan's retirement at a crisis.

Charles A. Wilhelm endeavored to have all reference to Bryan cut out, and in a hot speech declared him the "Benedict Arnold of the Democracy," and asserted that he should be allowed to remain where he had placed himself and Wilhelm's motion was defeated and the Stucker resolution adopted.

Warren Van Dyke, secretary of the Democratic State Committee, who has been a member of the committee, made a valiant effort to prevent action against Bryan, saying that such matters should not be brought up in a Democratic meeting, but he failed to win much support.

Several members talked about the "split" in the Democracy, but efforts were made to "soft pedal" them.

THE ALAMANCE COUNTY BASE-BALL LEAGUE OPENS

The Alamance County Base-Ball League opened Saturday at the following places: Saxapahaw vs Graham, at Graham.

Sweepsonville vs Mebane, at Mebane. Gibsonville vs Burlington, at Burlington.

This association was recently formed for the purpose of encouraging athletics among the county boys. The league being composed of players residing within the county.

The attendance at Saturday's game was very encouraging indeed and it is hoped the people of the county who enjoy good clean base-ball will encourage the teams by their presence at each game.

The scores of Saturday's games are as follows:
At Graham--Saxapahaw 13; Graham 1; Saxapahaw 8, Graham 3.

At Burlington--Gibsonville 8; Burlington 0.
At Mebane--Sweepsonville 8; Mebane 2; Sweepsonville 4, Mebane 3.

Saxapahaw took a slow double-header from Graham last Saturday by the scores of 13 to 1, and 8 to 3.

The features of the game was the work of the Saxapahaw batteries, and the heavy hitting of Martin and Pickard, each being credited with a home run. The splendid work of Marlette deserves notable mention.

Sweepsonville took a double-header from Mebane Saturday evening by the scores of 8 to 2, and 4 to 3.

The features of the games was the twirling of Ruth and Edwards, allowing the heavy hitting team of Mebane only a few scattered hits.

There will be special exercises in the Sunday School and special sermons at both preaching services. The pastor, Rev. G. L. Curry, will preach an appropriate sermon at the morning service and Rev. C. E. Forlines, D. D., of Westminster Theological Seminary, Westminster, Md., will deliver the anniversary sermon in the evening at eight o'clock. Dr. Forlines is well favorably known by many Burlington people, he being a former resident of this place. He is a deep thinker and a scholarly speaker.

Every member of the Sunday School and church, and all who have ever been members of either the church or Sunday School, are especially invited to attend these services. The public is also cordially invited to attend.

MEETING AT MEBANE SATURDAY NIGHT JUNE 19TH.

There will be a free public health meeting at the Graded School auditorium Saturday night, June 19th, at 8 o'clock. It will be conducted by the government experts who have charge of the anti-typhoid campaign in Orange County. It is understood that the southern manager for this anti-typhoid campaign will be here. He is a government expert of national reputation, and it is fortunate for Mebane for us to be able to hear such a speaker on health subjects.

Let everybody tell his friends, and not only come himself but bring his neighbor along with him. The lecture will be illustrated and will be of unusual interest to the community at large. People from the country and from the neighboring towns are invited to attend. Since this is the only meeting to be held in Alamance county by these experts, every person interested in public health in Alamance county should come and get all the information they can.

Asheville, June 14.--The thirteenth annual convention of the Southern Publishers' Association meeting here this morning for a two days' session devoted considerable time to considering whether the association should advertise the newspapers of its members through circulars sent to prospective advertisers or through trade papers, and if through the latter whether the cost should be raised by assessment or through voluntary contributions of members based on circulation. The matter was referred to a committee for report tomorrow morning when a decision will be reached.

GERMANY CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTORY

Russian Position and 16,000 Prisoners Reported to Have Been Taken--Little Doing in West.

French Hammering Away With Small Success; German Submarines Rake off a Bunch More; Success of Venizelos and Greek War Party Appears Certain.

London, June 14.--Germany today claimed another decided success along the eastern line north west of Mosciska, in the region of Sienawa. The German report said that along a line extending over 43 miles, the entire positions of the Russians were taken and that 16,000 prisoners fell into their hands. The Russian official report, however, only mentioned the locality where this action is said to have taken place in a paragraph declaring the Austro-Germans, after heavy losses in the region of Mosciska Friday and Saturday, did not resume the offensive.

NEWS FROM THE UNIVERSITY.

(Arnold A. McKay.)

Chapel Hill, June 17.--The University Summer School begins its twenty-eighth session, June 15. Tuesday and Wednesday of this week are registration days, and on Thursday work will begin in earnest. Over 400 teachers and students have signified their intention of attending while those who have made no reservations and others who will enter later, will probably bring the number up to 650. There is every indication of this being the most successful and profitable session in the history of the School. The enlarged course of study, the special lectures by well known authorities, the conferences, the varied social entertainments and the ideal surroundings are features which will make the term both profitable and enjoyable. Since the cost to teachers is extremely low--about thirty dollars--there will be an opportunity to combine business with vacation; hence teachers will return to their work prepared in body and mind to serve most effectively the children of the State.

The new athletic field, the gift of Captain Emerson of Baltimore, is now an assured fact. The plans have been drawn, specifications made, and the contract given. It is expected that the field will be ready for use by Fall.

The campus is being enlivened by many little improvements preparatory to the opening of the Summer School. The dormitories are being thoroughly overhauled, walks planned, and everything put in comfortable shape.

Of what value is a college education? Statistics compiled of the class of 1913 present facts bearing on this hazy subject. Of the 188 men who entered the class, 37 are teachers, 29 are farmers, 26 are students, 23 business men, 14 are insurance and real estate men, and the rest are following diverse pursuits. Nineteen of the number are married, while in 18 states there are representatives of the class. The average salary of 50 men who sent in reports is $106.13 a month. The highest salary paid a member of the class is $200 a month; the lowest $50. From such data one may draw interesting conclusions.

VILLA IS MAKING EFFORT TO UNITE MEXICAN FORCES.

Washington Officially Notified of the Acquiescence of Carranza's Note to Carranza.

Proposes to Carranza to Take Wilson's Note Under Consideration and Agree on Government.

Washington, June 15.—The United States was formally notified today by General Villa on behalf of the Mexican convention forces that he had telegraphed General Carranza urging a conference for the restoration of peace and constitutional government in Mexico.

This step is the first tangible development resulting from President Wilson's recent warning to all Mexican factions that unless they came to an agreement among themselves soon, some other means would be employed by the United States to relieve the suffering population from further devastations of the military element.

On General Carranza's reply depends the next move in the situation. Coincidentally the State Department was advised by Miss Mabel Boardman of the American Red Cross that the Mexican authorities at Piedras Negras had denied entry to a carload of foodstuff consigned for the relief of people in Monclova.

Consul Blocker is endeavoring to use his good offices to arrange for the transportation of the supplies and until he reports the details the State Department will take no further action. The announcement that General Villa had initiated a movement for peace was received with satisfaction in official quarters.

Enrique C. Llorente, Washington representative of the Villa-Zapata coalition called on Secretary Lansing with a copy of the Villa telegram to Carranza and a note from General Villa replying to President Wilson's recent pronouncement of policy.

The note referred appreciatively to the President's efforts and outlined the purposes of the Villa-Zapata leaders to bring about a reconciliation with the Carranzistas. In the message to Carranza, dated June 11, stress is laid upon President Wilson's warning that the United States would be "obliged to decide on other methods should a coalition of the factions prove futile."

General Villa says: "In our opinion, this declaration involves two perils, which may frustrate the ends of the revolution and imperil our sovereignty. First the Cientificos with any other group, might again enthrone themselves with American assistance. Second, should the people not submit to this the American Government might have recourse to armed intervention.

In the face of these two imminent dangers, and without recognizing the right of the American Government to intervene in our affairs, we think that we should seek means that would permit the reunion and reorganization of the Constitutional party, even though it be indispensable to make sacrifices of self-esteem.

We believe also that this is what patriotism and the future welfare of our country require of us. "In such sense, we propose to you that we take under consideration President Wilson's note and that if you are so disposed, as we ourselves are, you advise us that we may discuss and agree at once upon the form and terms of procedure in the re-organization of the National constitutional government.

We have already placed ourselves in touch with the chief of the convention government as well as with the commanding general of the army of the South." The telegram was signed by General Villa and Mr. Diaz Lombardo, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs of the Convention Government. In the memorandum filed at the State Department General Villa sums up with the following:

"We of the Convention Government have not been animated by ambitions for power, nor do we desire in any case to obtain it by means other than by the free vote of the Mexican people. But inasmuch as the desire to consult the country relative to the restoration of a legal regime, with constitutional sanction, is accepted by the Carranza faction, we are disposed in the light of possible intervention in our National problems by a foreign Power, to again invite all those Mexicans to unite and collaborate with us in the work of realizing the principles of the revolution especially the agrarian question, and the development of instruction for the masses; and we only expect from this invitation those who, according to the words of President Wilson have ignored the Constitution of the Republic and employed their power against the interests of the people."

General Villa admits the contention that there is no recognized authority throughout the country. He refers, however, to a message to him from Du Val West, President Wilson's representative, stating "it gives me pleasure to inform you of the magnificent impression which the tranquility and order which I have observed everywhere. I have been, has made on me."

He also quotes from a message of Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, British Ambassador to the United States, to a representative in northern Mexico expressing gratification to the Villa Government for "prompt action in protecting British interests."

A PUZZLED PARENT.

Polly, the washerwoman, was deep in a discussion of her family's shortcomings, according to the Louisville Times.

"Mah family suttingly do hab some shawt-comings," she declared. "Fur instance; Mah son Jawge er jes' lak a grasshoppah."

"My goodness!" gasped the mistress. "How, Polly?"

"Well buhcawse only two things in do whole worl' worries him: He worries dat he has to wake up to eat, an' den he worries dat he hab to stop eatin' to go to sleep. Ah suttingly down dahastan' dat boy."

"But how do you conclude that he is like a grasshopper?" queried the perplexed mistress.

"Jes' buhcawse he er de most mis-undahstandable creature dat Ah kin think of, dat's why," he answered.

THE RIGHT AGE.

Bert Willis is a very nervous fidgety young man, says Harper's Magazine. While traveling on a train one day he chanced to be seated next to a woman who held a baby.

The infant's face was covered with a thick veil and every now and then it would utter a sharp cry, which the woman endeavored to suppress. Young Willis watched the proceedings with considerable anxiety for some time and finally, leaning over toward the woman, asked: "Has—has that baby anything contagious, madam?"

The woman turned and looked at him with an expression in which scorn and pity were blended.

"Well, 'twoudn't be for most folks, but maybe 'twould for you," she replied sharply, "he's teething."

HIS REASON.

Mrs. Owens—Mercy, John, there isn't a thing in the house fit to eat.

Owens—I know it, Kate; that's why I brought him home to dinner. I want him to see how frugally we live. He's my principal creditor.—Boston Transcript.

HER SORROW.

"Does your wife show any interest in the war?"

"Yes, indeed. She talks about it. 'What does she say?'"

"Why, she says that she wishes I could go."—Tit-Bits.

NO USE.

Here's an anecdote of the stork variety related by Robert Edison:

"Harry was an only child and the greatest desire of his heart was for a baby brother or sister. He preferred a sister and never failed to ask for one when he said his evening prayer.

"Not receiving an answer, he removed all restrictions by altering his petition to the following: 'Oh God, send us a baby; I don't care whether it's a boy or a girl, or black or white, if it's only a baby.'"

"Shortly after the Denmores, who lived next door, had an addition to their already large family. Harry's mamma, noticing that the little boy no longer prayed for a baby, said to him one day:

"Harry, why is it you don't ask God for a baby any more?"

"Oh, it's no use," he replied, "if one comes along the Denmores I'll gobble it up." August Young's Magazine.

THE JITNEY BUS.

She was all feathers and fuss, So fluffy that no one dare muss; The sporty guy's name was Gus; She wanted a jitney bus, He held up his hand in the air, In an instant a jitney was there, And then from the edge of the curb He helped in the maiden superb.

CHORUS. Oh, they rode in a jitney bus, Though she was all feathers and fuss There was nothing slow about Gus, As they rode in a jitney bus.

She turned to him with a smile, He gave her a smile in return, By that time they'd traveled a mile, And he for a sweet kiss did yearn, The auto ran over a stone, Then into his arms she was thrown, And a sweet jitney bus was his own, While she never uttered a moan.

CHORUS. Oh they rode in a jitney bus, Though she was all feathers and fuss The chauffeur was smiling, the cuss, For she got more than one jitney bus. Howard S. But.

BAD COOKING WRECKS LIVES.

(By H. Addington Bruce.)

Every woman who expects to be married ought to learn how to cook, and how to cook well. This applies even if she be the daughter of wealthy parents, with the expectation of never having to do her own cooking.

She ought to learn how to cook even then. Otherwise she may find herself at the mercy of careless or incompetent servants. And, being unable through ignorance to correct their faults, she may soon or late find her health and happiness wrecked beyond recall.

This may seem an extreme statement, but it is amply borne out by everyday observation.

One of the most striking facts of modern American life is the prevalence of nervous disorders. Hysteria, psychasthenia, neurasthenia, and similar maladies claim victims from every walk in life. Oddly enough, according to the experience of nervous specialists, they attack with greatest frequency married people.

Now, the recognized causes of these functional nervous troubles are worry, anxiety, fear, constant stress and strain of any sort. This means that among married people there must be an unusual liability to these nerve-wrecking conditions.

Neurologists will tell you that such is actually the case.

Those who are quite frank with you will add that domestic unhappiness holds first place as a provocative of nervous disorders among married people. Specifying further they will say that among the chief causes of domestic unhappiness is inability on the part of the wife to have meals cooked well and served well.

As one of Boston's foremost neurologists said to me in the course of conversation:

"It would be difficult to exaggerate the amount of functional nervous disease brought on, directly or indirectly, by bad cooking or the number of homes that have been wrecked from the same cause.

"Bad cooking means food that is unappetizing, hence hard to digest. Indigestion means a strain on the nervous system, with a resultant tendency to restlessness, nervousness, and irritability.

"Many men instinctively try to escape this by resorting to places—clubs, hotels, restaurants—where they may be sure of finding appetizing food. Rightly they are then accused of neglecting their homes.

"Their wives—themselves victims of poor cooking—reproach them, give way to tears, or brood in hurt silence. Marital friction thus increases steadily, until in the end there may be a nervous breakdown or resort to the divorce court.

"This among couples who began by sincerely loving each other, and who doubtless would have gone on loving each other had it not been for the wife's ignorance in culinary matters."

With such results, observed and recorded by medical men of long experience, can it be doubted that every girl ought to be trained to be a first class cook?

Our idea of a good thing not to invest in just now is brewery stock.

SEVERE FIGHTING ALONG THE COURSE OF DNEISTER RIVER.

Russians and Austrians Face Each Other With Stream between.

London, June 12.—Another big battle is being fought along the line of the Dniester River in Galicia in which Russian forces are pitted against those of Austria and Germany. Those German troops which had crossed the Dniester at Zurawno having been driven back, and the Russians in eastern Galicia and Bukowina also having been forced to withdraw to the river, the two armies now face one another across the wide and crooked stream, each making thrusts in an effort to gain the initiative for an offensive.

The Austrians in their official report claim to have succeeded in crossing the river east of Horodenka, a movement which in view of their recent experience near Zurawno, might prove dangerous.

The Austro-Germans, however, still have Lemberg as their objective and they are not likely to allow any reverses they have suffered near Zurawno and east of Przemysl to put them off. So that fighting as severe as any witnessed in recent weeks may be expected during the next few days.

Heavy fighting also continues in the Baltic provinces and on the east Prussian frontier, in which both sides claim advantages. With the view, doubtless, of preventing the Russians from sending reinforcements to either of their wings, the Germans yesterday attacked along the Rawka River, between Boilimow and Zochaszew, the scene of important battle last winter. In yesterday's attack the Germans claim to have broken into the Russian positions and to have taken 5,000 prisoners.

At points between Rheims and north of Arras the French continue their attacks, which they report to have been successful, but which the Germans, however, invariably state have been repulsed.

Although no gib forward movement has been made, fighting is almost continuous along the line from the sea to Champagne and in the west. The British and Belgians are playing an important role in these operations, for to them falls the task of holding large German forces on their front by threatening an offensive and thus preventing the Germans from sending relief to those troops which the French are assailing.

The Italians have scored another success on the Isonzo River by the capture of the town of Gradisca, and it is reported they are carrying out a strong offensive all along the river as far up as Tolmino, which they are trying to outflank.

Unofficial reports state the Allies are steadily progressing on the Gallipoli Peninsula, but no details are given and official confirmations is lacking.

Today's report of German submarine activity shows one steamer and three trawlers were sunk. Since last Saturday German submarines have sunk 54 vessels, of which seven were neutral.

The others comprised two French, two Belgian, three Russian and 40 British. Of the British vessels 32 were fishing craft. In addition two fishing smacks were sunk by a Zeppelin.

In George's primer was the picture of a woman standing in her doorway driving eight or ten wee little pigs away. Mother picked up the book one day and saw that it was torn.

"George, why have you torn your nice book?" she asked.

"Mamma," exclaimed the earnest young disciple of the S. P. C. A., "I tore the woman off so the little pigs can go in the house."

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catren, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

BRIDE OF THREE WEEKS ENDS HER OWN LIFE.

Richmond, Va., June 14.—Another suicide was added to the Richmond list last night when a three-weeks' old bride ended her life by the poison route. Mrs. Kate Evans, wife of W. C. Evans, a chauffeur in the employ of the Richmond Transfer Co., took an ounce of lysol and died in the Virginia hospital four hours later.

Friends of the dead woman can give no reason for the act and assert that she was very cheerful only a short time before the fatal dose was taken. The husband knew nothing about the tragedy until after his wife was dead. Evans had left the house at the time the poison was taken and could not be located. On his return about midnight he was told what had happened and hastened to the hospital, but his wife died just before he reached the institution.

HERBERT CARTER HAS THROAT CUT.

Mrs. Albert Baker and Son, of Duplin County, Arrested.

Kinston, June 15.—Herbert Carter, nineteen, is in the Memorial hospital here with his windpipe almost severed. Mrs. Albert Baker and her son, Harvey Baker, are held under bond in Duplin county—Carter, the ward of Albert Baker, was seized by young Baker in a barn and Mrs. Baker deliberately cut his throat, it is alleged. Both are held under bond. It is the "generally accepted" opinion in the neighborhood of Serecta, where the brutal affair occurred, that Carter, who had recently joined a church, made a confession of improper relations with Mrs. Baker, who is old enough to be his mother.

After the woman had cut his throat with a razor the supposed lifeless body was dragged out of the barn and placed against an outer wall, in a sitting posture, then Harvey Baker spread a suicide report. Physicians say that Carter will recover.

SEVERE DAMAGE TO CROPS.

Wheat Badly Tangled in Catawba—Oats and Corn Almost Ruined.

Newton, June 14.—Farmers reaching town today tell stories of flooded streams, ruined ditches and buried and washed away crops as a result of the terrific storm that visited all this section late Saturday. Wheat, ripe unto the harvest, was badly tangled and thrown down as were oats and hay crops, and corn along the streams in some instances has literally been washed away or buried in the mud. The town felt sure that damage had been done and today it was confirmed from various parts of the lower half of the county. Rains continued yesterday and today, accompanied by electrical disturbances.

H. M. Steece, of the office of investigations, United States department of agriculture, has been thru the county seeking varieties of corn which have done exceptionally well in this section, the purpose being to compare the producing powers of the best grain here with good corn in other parts of the Piedmont. He took samples of the waist must be plain toples from the farms of Gordon Wilfrong, A. L. Sigman, H. G. Seitz and others.

SHERIFF DIES IN DEFENSE OF NEGRO.

South Carolina Mob Kills Officer Who Does Duty; Negro Also Killed—Eight Others Wounded.

Mob Rushes Fairfield Sheriff and He Defends His Office With His Life; Negro Was Being Taken Into Court For Trial For Assault; Part of Mob Arrested.

Winnsboro, S. C., June 14.—A. D. Hood, sheriff of Fairfield county, and Jules Smith, a negro who was to have been tried today on a charge of attempted assault, were killed and eight other men were more or less seriously wounded as a result of an attack upon the sheriff's party as the negro was being taken into court here this morning.

Clyde Isenhower, alleged leader of the mob, and a relative of the woman, Smith was charged with attacking, Ernest Isenhower, his brother; William Morrison, a brother-in-law, and James Rawls, late today were indicted on the charge of murder as result of the attack.

Clyde Isenhower was shot a number of times, and died tonight in a hospital at Chester. J. R. Bouliware, a deputy sheriff, received a bullet in the stomach, and is believed to be fatally wounded.

Smith was arrested in April and officials here, fearing an attempt at lynching, placed the negro in the state penitentiary at Columbia for safe-keeping until time for his trial here.

ed the court house this morning when a mob of approximately 100 armed men attempted to seize the prisoner. The sheriff warned the mob to desist, but his order was disregarded and someone fired a shot at the negro. The firing immediately became general and lasted for about ten minutes.

Of the six other wounded Earle Stevenson, a young deputy sheriff, received two bullets through the left arm, one severing an artery.

A special train was hurried from Columbia here immediately after the tragedy, and Sheriff Hood and his deputy were taken to a Columbia hospital for surgical attention, where Sheriff Hood died tonight. Isenhower and Stevenson were taken to Chester for surgical attention.

Despite his weakened condition from the half dozen bullets in his body, Sheriff Hood led the prisoner up the stairs into the court room. The negro dropped dead beside the dock, and Sheriff Hood staggered on to the bar where a court official eased him to the floor.

OFFERED TO SWAP.

Two Kansas City lawyers, whose names are withheld for obvious reasons, declare they were present when the following incident occurred:

Uncle Mose was a chronic thief who usually managed to keep within the petty larceny limit. One time he miscalculated, however, and was sent to trial on a charge of grand larceny.

"Have you a lawyer, Mose?" asked the court.

"No, sah."

"Well, to be perfectly fair, I'll appoint a couple, Mr. Jones and Mr. Brown will act as counsel."

"What's dat?"

"Act as your lawyers—consult with them and prepare to tell me whether you are guilty or not guilty."

"Yas, sah."

Mose talked with his attorneys for a few moments in husky whispers. The judge caught only the word alibi, several times repeated. Then Mose arose, scratched his head, and addressed the court:

"Jedge, yph Honah," he said "Cou'ne Ah's only an ign'ant niggah, an' Ah don' want toh bothah yoh Honah, but Ah would sutinly like toh trade, yoh Honah, one of dese yeah lawyers for a witness."—Everybody's.

VICE-PRESIDENT, SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY, AT-LANTA, GA.

Washington, June 12.—Commenting on the record of Boy's Corn Clubs throughout the United States for the season of 1914 just published by the United States Department of Agriculture, President Harrison of Southern Railway Company said:

"As in each former year since the inauguration of the Boys' Corn Clubs the championship has gone to the South, having been won by Carl Graves, at Soso, Mississippi, with the production of 202 bushels of corn on a single acre at the remarkable low cost of 14.5 cents per bushel. The highest record made by any boy outside of the South was a Pennsylvania boy who made 148 bushels at a cost of 26.7 cents per bushel. This record was exceeded by ten of the first and second prize-winning boys in the South. The average yield per acre made by the winners of the first and second prizes in the States if Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Kentucky and Tennessee was 159.26 bushels, as compared with an average of 104.22 by the prize winners in the Northern, Central and Western States. Taken into consideration with the records of previous years, these figures show that, with the adoption of proper cultural methods, the South can be made the greatest corn-producing section of the United States."

PRESIDENT WILSON IS CONSIDERING CALLING CONGRESS TOGETHER.

Must Provide Money With Which to Run Government.

May be Asked Either to Extend War Tax Measure or Take Sugar off Free List.

Mr. Cox Says He is Not a Candidate for Governor—He Has Neither the Time nor Inclination—Business Conditions Some Better.

Washington, June 12.—That President Wilson is thinking seriously of calling Congress into extraordinary session to provide money to run the government was the opinion expressed here today by one of the leading members of the house of representatives and a man who has always the confidence of the President.

Whether Congress will be asked to extend the war tax measure or revise the tariff by taking sugar off the free list is not yet settled. It is known, that either one or the other will have to be done. It is no secret in Washington that the government's funds are running low and that the question of raising sufficient money to run the government has caused administration leaders considerable anxiety.

The member of Congress referred to above is a Democrat of high standing. He is a strong supporter of the President and has stood by him in all legislation. It may be that he has been told by Mr. Wilson that the extra session of Congress will be necessary.

Senator Simmons talked with the President tonight but it is said that the tariff was not discussed. It is the opinion of Mr. Simmons that an extra session will not be necessary.

J. Elwood Cox, of High Point, is not a candidate for Governor. He has not the time nor inclination to run. Mr. Cox made the above statement to the Daily News correspondent tonight. The High Point Man has been in New York, the New England states and to Battle Creek, Mich. He was a delegate to the Peace conference recently held at Mohonk, N. Y.

"I found a practical unanimous sentiment in favor of President Wilson's foreign policy," said Mr. Cox. "Business men and all others with whom I talked are enthusiastically supporting the President."

Mr. Cox said he found some improvement in business but thought there was room for a far greater showing than is indicated now.

There has been no positive decision as to the final action that will be taken with reference to the deposited deputy internal revenue collectors. Deputy Commissioner Gates will announce his decision when he returns to Washington the latter part of this week.

It is believed, however, that some of those slated for dismissal will be retained. But some are sure to be dropped.

Representative Pou has been busy in behalf of the four men in his district. Those who may lose out will probably be from that long list carried by Mr. Watts. He may be forced to drag along with about 35 men on his payroll instead of 40-odd as at present.

Representative Pou has secured a daily rural delivery route from Bear Creek and Wake Forest, and has a tentative promise that one will be established from Wendell. He has also had the tri-weekly route from Younsville changed to a daily service. Senator Overman has secured the appointment of Dr. J. H. Foust of Franklin, as a member of the board of pension examining surgeons.

NEW TUBERCULOSIS CURE.

Dr. Genzaburo Koga Uses Potassium Suprocyanide—Peach Leaves Gave Clue.

(From The New York Sun.)

Dr. Genzaburo Koga of the Kyoto Imperial Hospital, Tokio, announces that he has discovered a cure for tuberculosis, according to an article appearing in The Japan Times of May 20. It is said that he has experimented on hundreds of cases and has been successful in every one. The composition of the remedy was suggested by the use of the juice of peach leaves for ptomaine poisoning.

"When Doctor Koga was vice-president of the Morioka Hospital some 10 years ago," says The Japan Times, "he took a keen interest in the domestic remedy used by the late K. Mural, member of the House of Peers, who was in the habit of taking the juice of the peach leaves when spoiled bonito or tunny fish disagreed with him. It served unfaithfully well for the purpose. The observant doctor at once set about investigating the qualities of the peach leaves, which soon proved that they contained hydrocyanic acid. This is the antidote to ptomaine poisoning, which results from eating spoiled tunny or bonito. The almond water preparation, which contains more prussic acid than the peach leaves, therefore, counteracts the ptomaine poisoning more quickly, as was ascertained by his experiments. From this datum he inferred that hydrocyanic acid must be a specific for

TIME TRIED EVERYWHERE WORTH TRYING

IN MEMORY OF WELDON BRYAN

Weldon Boney Bryan, son of John A. and the late Barbara Bryan, was born in Alamance county, July 23, 1893, and departed this life on the night of June the 11th inst. For several years young Bryan had been a lineman in the employ of the Southern Bell Telephone Company.

It was while engaged in this work near Comden, S. C. that he was stricken with typhoid fever. He was taken to the hospital where everything possible was done for his recovery, and after varying changes for the better and worse, he finally died. His father and brother visited him during his illness and only left him when they saw favorable prospects for his recovery.

But God's ways are not our ways and often in His inscrutable providence destroys our fondest hopes. In His infinite wisdom He knows what is best for us and for ours and disposes accordingly.

On Sunday afternoon the funeral service was held at his father's home amid the familiar scenes of his early life, and afterwards his remains laid to rest in Pine Hill cemetery to await the summons of the resurrection morning.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the family in the loss it has sustained.

The father of the deceased, Mr. John A. Bryan is a well known farmer and by his sterling qualities has won the respect of all who know him.

Mrs. M. E. King, 608 Broad Street, Burlington, says: "I had an attack of lumbago that nearly laid me up. My back was so weak that I couldn't lift anything without suffering awful pain. I felt dizzy and when I lay down, it seemed as if everything was going around. I was very nervous. After taking a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills, my back felt much better. I used several boxes in all and the sharp pains in my back left. Now, as soon as my kidneys get out of order, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills give me relief."

BRITISH CRUISER IS SUNK BY SUBMARINE OF AUSTRIA, IS CLAIM.

French and British Lose 2,000 Men. Italians Make Further Headway Against Enemy.

Russians Claim Victory Over Germans in Battle East of the Stry. Little Change in West.

Washington, June 11.—Vienna announced an Austrian submarine had sunk a British cruiser in the Adriatic. The warship is described as of the type of the Liverpool, a light cruiser.

The Italian invasion of Austria over the eastern frontier has made further headway, and according to a report from Innsbruck, Austria, the Italians have captured the town of Ploeken, near the border. A dispatch from Udine, Italy, says the Italian forces are advancing through Predil pass, about six miles from the Austrian line.

Heavy fighting on Gallipoli peninsula has followed the French and British offensive undertaken a week ago. It was announced officially in Paris today that additional territory had been won by the French.

A message from Constantinople states that the French and British lost 2,000 men killed on the night of June 5-6, and that their losses all last week were enormous.

Two Russian vessels—the steamer Dania, of 1,689 tons, and the bark Tomasina—have been sunk by German submarines. There was no loss of life.

Following their success in the Baltic regions, the Russians now claim a considerable victory in Galicia. The Austro-German forces which are attempting to advance on Lemberg from the south are said by the Russian war office to have been defeated in a battle along the Dniester, near Zurawna, east of Stry.

An official dispatch from Geneva says the Teutonic forces were driven back at two points on the Dniester.

The first large battle of the Italian campaign now is under way, having been brought on by the attempt of the Italians to force the Isonzo river, running north from the Gulf of Trieste. Dispatches from Cologne and Geneva mention heavy fighting, particularly near Gorizia, on the east side of the river twenty-two miles northwest of the city of Trieste. The Cologne report states that the Italians were repulsed at this point as well as near Gradisca and Monfalcone. Capture of Monfalcone by the Italians was announced officially from Rome yesterday. According to the Geneva advices of the battle has not been decided. Austrian losses in the Gorizia fight are placed at 8,000 to 10,000.

Two British fishing smacks in the Zeppelins. Submarines sank the British steamer Strathecarron of 2,800 tons, and a Russian bark. No loss of life is reported in any case.

Austrian Submarine Number Four Sinks British Cruiser.

Berlin, June 11.—(By Wireless.)—An official statement issued at Vienna under date of June 10 announces that the Austro-Hungarian submarine, number four commanded by Lieutenant Singule, torpedoed and sank a small British cruiser of the Liverpool type on June 9, thirty miles west of St. Jean Medua, on the Albanian coast. The British cruiser was being protected by six torpedo boat destroyers. Austrians Announce Sinking of Small British Cruiser.

Innsbruck, June 11.—(By courier to the Swiss frontier and Geneva and Paris.)—Announcement has been made here by the Austrians that one of their submarines yesterday sunk a British cruiser of the Liverpool type thirty miles off St. Jean Medua, in the Adriatic.

The Liverpool is a light cruiser, five vessels of this type were built for the British navy in 1909. The other boats are the Bristol, Gloucester, Navy Castle and Glasgow. The last named cruiser sank the German cruiser Dresden off Juan Fernandez island in the Pacific last March.

The boats of the Liverpool type are 430 feet long, 47 feet beam, 15.1 feet deep and displace 4,800 tons. They are built to travel at a speed of 25 knots and carry a crew of 376 officers and men. They are armed with two 18-inch torpedo tubes. St. Jean Medua is a seaport on the Albanian coast between Durazzo and Dulcigno.

2,000 Allied Troops Slain in Battle on Gallipoli

Berlin, June 11.—A wireless dispatch from Constantinople reports that the fighting at Avri Burnu, on the Gallipoli peninsula, during the night of June 5-6, cost the French and British forces more than 2,000 men killed. The losses of the France-British expedition all last week, the message adds, were enormous.

Italians Advancing Through Predil Pass, Near Tarvis.

Udine, Italy, June 11.—(Via Geneva and Paris.)—Italian forces today are advancing through Predil pass on the Junction of the Laibach railway at Tarvis which lies about six miles on the Austrian side of the Italian border. Trains of Italian wounded are arriving at Udine.

Ploeken in Austria, Falls Into Hands of Advancing Italians.

Innsbruck, June 11.—(By Courier to the Swiss Border and Geneva and Paris.)—Italian forces have captured Ploeken, in Austria, close to the frontier. The possession of this location is important, as it endangers Austrian communications.

Ploeken is fifteen miles south of the main highway between Laibach and Innsbruck.

Zeppelins Sink Two British Fishing Smacks.

Maasuis, Holland, June 10 (Via London.)—The British fishing smacks Welfare and Laestina were attacked and sunk by Zeppelins in the North sea. The crews, which took to their boats, were picked up by a Dutch smack and brought here.

Submarine Sinks Another Ship, the Schooner Express.

London, June 11.—The list of ships torpedoed by German submarines, which is printed by the morning papers, contains the same of the schooner Express, the crew of which was landed at Liverpool.

Steamer Strathecarron Sunk by Submarine.

Cardiff, via London, June 11.—The Glasgow steamship Strathecarron was torpedoed yesterday without warning by a German submarine while outward bound from Barry. The crew, which put off in boats, was rescued by a steamer and landed here.

The Strathecarron, 2,807 tons, sailed from Havre May 28 for Barry, where she arrived June 2 and was reported to have entered the government service.

Austrian Lose 10,000 Men in Battle With Italians.

Geneva (Via Paris.) June 11.—A Laibach dispatch to the Tribune says: "The Italians began their march against Gorizia on the morning of June 8. When the first detachments were near the city Austrian artillery opened fire and heavy masses of infantry which were thrown forward forced the Italians to fall back several times.

"Italian artillery posted east of the city opened great gap in the Austrian ranks, but up to the morning of the 9th neither side had gained a decisive advantage. The Austrians lost from 8,000 to 10,000 men. Gorizia is overflowing with wounded who are being cared for at private houses because of a lack of hospital space."

Russians Capture 6,700 Prisoners on the Dniester.

Petrograd, June 11.—Today's official communication announces a Russian success on the River Dniester. After hard fighting the Russians yesterday took from their antagonists seventeen cannon and forty-nine machine guns, and captured approximately 6,700 officers and men. Russians Claim Check to Austrians on Dniester.

Geneva, June 11.—(Via Paris.)—A dispatch to the Tribune from Innsbruck, in the Austrian Tyrol, purports to give details of Russian success in the Galicia campaign. The dispatch says:

"The Russians bombarded the Austrian positions from Stanislaw to Borknik on the left bank of the Dniester. They have driven the Austrians across the river making a large number of prisoners. The Austrians also have been obliged to fall back across the Dniester at Bukaszowice. The Russians stopped the advance of an Austrian column marching on Kolomea. The action was fierce and the losses heavy on both sides." German Campaign on Lemberg Crumbles, Declares London.

London, June 11.—British observers, forming their opinions on the latest dispatches from Russia, believe that the Austro-German advance threatening Lemberg from the southeast has been checked. Russia, they declare, has delivered a return blow, and a hard one.

The great masses of German and Austrian troops which have forced a passage of the Dniester river near Zurawna, according to the latest announcement of the Russian war office have been flung back with heavy losses in both men and material.

Thus for the moment Lemberg is thought to be safe, for nowhere else along the Galician front have the Teutonic allies been making progress recently, with the exception of course, of their southern extension into Bukovina.

News was received yesterday that Russian reinforcements were moving south along the Dniester from Mikelaiov to Rohatyn, but it hardly was expected here they would achieve such quick results. If this victory has been decisive it is the first real check delivered by the Russians since the start of the new Austro-German rush thru Galicia.

Nothing new has been heard in London concerning the fighting in the Baltic provinces.

The Italians now are less than twenty miles from Trieste, the chief port of Austria.

On the western front the methodical French advance appears for the moment to have ceased. German counter attacks however, do not seem to have been successful.

FRENCH CAPTURE MANY GERMAN GUNS.

Three Big Guns, Many Small Ones and Large Amount of Munitions.

London, June 11.—Added importance was attached to the capture by the French of Neuville Saint Vast, north of Arras, when the French war office tonight published the list of booty taken from the vanquished Germans. Besides three big guns of the "seventy-seven" type and fifteen machine guns there fell into the French hands three bomb throwers, thousands of hand Grenades, 1,000 rifles and a quantity of rifle ammunition and shells, which with the other equipment and supplies indicates that the retreat of the Germans, when the final drive came was precipitant.

Progress has been made to the east of the "labyrinth" by the French. This taken with fresh advances within this strongly fortified maze of defenses gives rise to the belief that the stronghold itself must shortly fall before the persistent French attacks.

James Walsh, a Baltimore Millionaire, got jogged, recently and ran over a woman with his automobile, killing her. Now the jag's gone, the woman's gone and Walsh has gone to the penitentiary. Swift work.

NATURE MISSED.

"Nature is no patriot." "Why do you say that?" "Look how easy it would have been for her to make the watermelon red, white and blue!"

"Love rules the world," somebody has said, A thought most bright and sunny; If this be true I'm telling you Then Love has lots of money.

Many a man feels that it is a waste of money to take his wife on a vacation trip when she can get so much pleasure out of hearing him tell of it when he gets back home.

England's policy seems to be: Let the Russians and the French and the Italians do it.

Poverty brings strange bed-fellows, but none so grim as the nightmare that squats on the chest of the high-liver.

June has made matrons out of a lot of fine girls, but we'd like to remind the old bachelors that there's a lot more only waiting to be asked.

OBSERVATION BY YOUTHFUL HORACE.

It ain't so much fun collecting postage-stamps any more since our teacher said we learnt geography that way.

I wouldn't mind so much about my face a-gettin' red if some girl didn't always call out that I was blushin'.
It's funny how most things a feller does don't seem wrong till somebody catches him at it.

I don't like cookies much at the table; but I tell you they taste good when you hook 'em out of the pantry!

I'd a good deal rather have Pa lick me than Ma. Ma, she doesn't hurt me much when she whips me, but she cries so; an' that always makes me feel kinder funny down in me stomach.

Pa won't get me no bicycle, but I don't care so much now, 'cause two kids what's got 'em has just moved here, an' I can lick both of 'em.

A feller don't have no better times than he does thinkin' about the good times he's going to have.

Little boys don't know much, do they? Eddie Brown came over to my house to dinner one day, an' Pa said a blessin'. An' when he got through eatin' Eddie asked me why Pa said his prayers at the table, and why he did not wait till he went to bed, like other people? Eddie's folks ain't stylish, like ours, so I had to tell him that we always did that way so's the soup would have time to cool off some.

I wonder why, when a girl has a new doll an' shows it to some other girls, that the first thing they do is to look at its underclothes to see if they got lace on them. I wouldn't dast.

I don't like funerals much. I had one with our cat, but you couldn't make all of her stay buried to once.
She'd come out at her back feet while you was tryin' to get her head covered up. I tried to get her just to play dead, but cats hain't got no imagin-shun, and they has got claws. A feller don't want to try to make-believe too much with cats.

—William Edgar Fisher.

"What did your father die of," the ance.

"Ah don't know, boss," he replied, latter it is seldom declined.

LETTER FROM N. Y.

BLOUSES ARE IN AGAIN.

With the Coming of the Summer Suit, Separate Waists Find Favor.

PARIS FOSTERS TRANSPARENT EFFECTS.

In this day of revivals, it is not surprising that blouses again find favor. Summer suits foster their popularity. Indeed, the separate waist and skirt may be as smart as the one-piece frock, provided there is a silk coat to top the costume.

Paris takes special delight in turning out new surprises in sheer waists.
There is no name in blousedom that quite covers these transparent confections of the famous couturieres.
Lingerie is too frilly, and tailored is entirely out of the question, for who would ever call a pintucked Swiss or organdy by so harsh a name? They are original in contour. Strange as it may seem, coming from Paris, the source of true color, they are white, pure white, crispness, the chief charm of the garment, bespeaking loudly the midsummer they are made for.

The mystic charm of the French white wear is woven in every stitch of these waists; style is a secondary thought. They are Frenchy, white, and made for warm weather; further scrutiny seems a sacrilege. Since they come from the great fashion center, their long sleeves, and short sleeves, graceful V-neck, soft frills and delicate inserts of embroidery will be copied, modified and twisted about, again and again, in the blouses that are made on this side of the Atlantic.

An Awning-Striped Blouse with the New Quaker Collar and a Transparent Waist with Jabot Frill.

Already the jabot frill, which originated in Paris, is finding favor here.
One of the blouses above, made of white Swiss in true French fashion, shows this feature. It also has the famous two-in-one collar, which can be worn high or turned low, and the raglan sleeve, which has come to be regarded as a staple. It is rumored from the other side that drop-should-ders are the next step in blouse; in view, however, of the popularity of the regulation sleeve, it will take considerable time to bring about the change. Certainly the comfort, the comfort of the high shoulder in wash waists will not be relinquished readily, even if the drop-shoulder style is easier to make.

At the present time, the set-in sleeve dominates the fashion, so far as tailored blouses are concerned, except for now and then a raglan. The treatment of the neck marks the real difference in styles. Stocks and high collars were, in the early season, the ultra mode, but these have given way gradually to the broad Quaker collars, especially for the younger women. These collars come detached, to wear with any blouse or dress, in sets with cuffs to match. The shops show them in organdy and Swiss, picot-edged, hemstitched, or with an inch wide strip of colored organdy or figured cretonne around the edge.

Whole collars of cretonne are offered, too; they are extremely attractive on the blue and pink linen blouses. They carry these broad collars well. Many of the new striped blouses show them.
There is one model in particular, a broad awning stripe, which has been shown from one end of the town to the other—but not always in the same material, but nevertheless always having the same general appearance, for all of these waists are cut absolutely plain. Sometimes the material is linen, again mulle, and ever crepe; but the stripes are ever the broad green, blue, pink or black, and the collar and cuffs always the same Quaker style of sheer transparent organdy.

There is plenty of proof that Solomon never acted as judge at a baby

Even the weather man is willing to admit that there is a limit beyond which forbearance ceases to be a virtue.

Huerta has been looking for a "strong man" to settle this Mexican business. Maybe Wilson is the man he is looking for.

QUIPS AND QUIDDITIES.
"I am surprised," said the person to a youngster indulging in Sunday morning fishing, "to find you fishing here, my boy."
"Why," asked the surprised boy,
"d'ye know any place where they bite better?"—Harper's Magazine.

Mary—Love never did bring me any luck, mum.
Mrs. Smith—Really, I fail to see how that can concern me, Mary.
Mary—No, indeed, mum; only now
I've broken the statue of Venus.—

5,000 MILES TO SINK TWO SHIPS.

German Submarine Captain Tells of The Majestic's and Triumph's Fate.

SPENT FIFTY-TWO HOURS AT PERISCOPE.

Constantinople, June 6, via London, June 11.—Two battleships sunk, the Majestic and the Triumph, after a submarine trip of nearly 5,000 miles is the record of Capt. Otto Hertzig, who told the story here today. How his craft, No. 51, journeyed from Wilhelmshaven to the Dardanelles, passing impregnable Gibraltar in daylight and dodging British torpedo boat destroyers and the hardships of forty-two days in the cramped vessel, form a naval romance never equalled, even in the great war. Capt. Hertzig began Germany's torpedo campaign by sinking the Pathfinder and since his latest double exploit has received the order of Pour le Merite.

"We sailed away. We arrived at Constantinople and we sank two battleships in the Dardanelles. That's all," was Capt. Hertzig's terse summary of the trip.

"We left Wilhelmshaven, thirty-three of us, April 25," Capt. Hertzig finally began when pressed for details. "When I was told that I was going to Constantinople I said, 'Good! That is worth while.' I let only the first officer and the chief engineer into the secret to explain the increased supplies taken aboard.

"We slipped quietly out of Wilhelmshaven like so many other submarines going into the warfare. We kept to the surface most of the time, watching for big enemy ships, but failed to see any for a long time to our great disappointment.

Fired on by Destroyers.

"Off the coast of England we were finally fired upon by a destroyer and had to dive for safety, but along the French coast we encountered no enemy. When 100 miles from Gibraltar we were fired upon by another British destroyer. We waited outside Gibraltar and passed through the strait early in the morning in plain view, but without drawing a single shot or attracting the least attention. Those were tense but gratifying hours.

"One within the Mediterranean the watch already exacting was redoubled. Here again we encountered enemy ships near a small island, but dived to safety under fire. While passing Malta we were fired upon by a French destroyer, but were untouched. We then proceeded south to Greece into the Aegean Sea and to the Dardanelles. We arrived there on the night preceding May 25, having come from Wilhelmshaven in exactly one month.

"In the early morning light we saw the Triumph and Majestic lying off the coast, constantly encircled by destroyers. Through the periscope I saw a destroyer coming directly for us. We dived and the destroyer passed immediately over us with a sound like that of a motor car.

"We came up immediately. I took aim through the periscope, pressed the button, automatically firing the torpedo, and the projectile slipped noiselessly into the water. We dived again. The explosion which followed was as terrific as though it had been in the forepart of the submarine itself.

"Then we lay hidden two days and a half, after which we came up again in the midst of the British ships. Just before noon looking through the periscope I saw the Majestic, surrounded by ten ships steaming around her in a constant circle for her protection. I could see the Majestic's sailors on the deck taking their noontime nap. 'Shall I disturb them?' I thought. Then seeing a welcome space between the encircling ships I pressed the electric button and the torpedo was going. It caught the Majestic a little to the rear of amidship. We dived again in silence.

British Fleet Disappears.

"We remained submerged for several hours and then came to the surface to find that the British had disappeared, and all search for them was in vain. We came to Constantinople, arriving yesterday morning, having spent forty-two days in the submarine without rest or let up."

"A great deal of tommyrot has been written about our having bases on the Irish coast and in the Mediterranean," said Engineer John Heine, "also about the new fuel burned in our engines. We made the trip with the usual fuel, all of which we brought with us."

Most of the crew on the No. 51, had not come on deck during the entire voyage and had forgotten how to climb the ladder or really how to walk. They staged up at Constantinople with clothes damp, shoes whitened and themselves blinking in the sunlight and tottering like babies.

Fifty-two Hours at Periscope.

Once in the Mediterranean Captain Hertzig stayed fifty-two hours at the periscope.

"Training has everything to do with it," said Lieut. Deitrich Niebuhr, son of the famous historian. "One soon learns to stay twenty-four hours standing at the same place, though one does get sleepy at the end of it.

Though the air is oxygenized there is no device to keep it dry. Clothes even of silk are soon shimmering and shoes are whitened by the moisture, while drops of water constantly fall from the low vaulted roof.

"But on such a journey good humor saves the situation," said Capt. Hertzig. "We will know we are facing death, but we have to die some time, be it tomorrow or ten years from now. We make up our minds to it, and so every one is jolly. Another essential is unquestioning discipline, without which the submarine would be lost. Built like a watch, it is impossible to do anything without complete confidence, for if one fails every one is gone. The crew must have confidence in the commander and he in the crew."

Raleigh, June 17.—The happiest of the officeholding Democrats are Bryan Grimes, secretary of State, who hears that Jim Hartness is going to hold on to his job in Statesville; Collector J. W. Bailey, who hears that R. A. Doughton is not going to run for attorney general; Representative R. A. Doughton who hears that Bailey is not going to give up the certain collectorship for the uncertain attorney generalship and District Attorney Francis D. Winston, who learns that Reverend Senator Doctor R. H. Speight, of Windsor wants him to run for governor.

A few more rumors of this character would please Attorney General Bickett mightily. Lieutenant Governor Daughtridge is making great epistolary demonstrations these days despite the fact that somebody has told him to run for treasurer against Ack. They suggest that being a rich man Daughtridge would make a better treasurer than a governor and that somebody of business turn ought to hold the treasurer's office. Such suggestions may not have come from those who will profit most from Daughtridge's appropriation to "expenses." They do come wise heads, though.

Then Hartness has received a Raleigh tip. Somebody has written him that he picked out the one Democrat in the administration who has been all ways on the job, has made an efficient officer and naturally is the hardest man to beat. Hartness goes against Grimes, conceding that he does, with nothing but the years of Grimes in office against the secretary. And Hartness has not suffered at the county trough in its not inconsiderable perquisites and pickings.

And the happy gentlemen mentioned will persevere in their joy until it becomes certain that the late Democratic primary designed to put office ambition within the grasp of every "poor man" must be entered and the price paid. A modest estimate of the entrance cost, a study made by one who helped to pass it is $1,000. The scramble for the lieutenant governorship, for instance, can be duly appreciated.

Republican and Progressives see much that is significant in the visit this week of the representatives of the big railroads which run into North Carolina, because they came here to aid the corporation commission in giving relief to the short line railroads which the act known as the Justice Freight law substantially put out of business.

The bill that the Guilford statesman drew was a thing fearfully and wonderfully made. Everybody admits that now. It was never designed to pass the refractory senate, politicians say, Mr. Justice than having in mind the defeat of Overman for the Senate. As it was popular to denounce the senate as owned by the railroads, Justice had an act which he could have capitalized for campaign purposes, provided nobody knew that it was and did not read it. Reading it would not have told what it was.

And then came those conferences, those mass meetings, those frenzied and glory-looking newspaper articles. Men of wisdom, one of them Justice's daddy on that Justice bill and what they did for it was an overwhelming plenty. The state lost thousands in the investigation.

And the short lines, which Justice meant to help as he said, in many appeals asked to be saved from the Justice act. The long and short haul utterly removed them from all participation in the bulk of freight business. The succeeding legislature gave relief. The roads were here this week to get something of the same privileges to divide business with the small roads as they had prior to the Justice act's passage.

And politicians are saying "as how" pleasant it will be to answer all these questions while economy is enjoined and money grows daily tighter for the State.

New Berians say Simmons had decided that Bickett may be nominated governor and that perpetuation of the Simmons-Kitchin factionalism will not only endanger Simmons but the party.

It is the first thing quoted from the Senator, who, confident enough that Wilson will win in 1916, may not be able to carry a united state in North Carolina's vote, Parker Anderson says Bailey will not run for attorney general. It is likely Bailey has been talking that way several weeks, it is said.

The trend is plain. Simmons wants no trouble about the offices. Altho Democrats are said to have no official cupidity, it isn't wise to have a fight for the spoils.

And then again, the troubles of Pou in the Fourth are manifold. Pou backed Bailey for collector and Gatling became postmaster solely because Pou stood by Bailey and Bailey stood by Pou. This recent history has not been forgotten. Bailey and Gatling led a revolt in the Democracy. They argued passionately that one set of Democrats stole enough votes from another set to nominate one factionalist over another factionalist. And in the end of the country people slaughtered the regular nominee, Bailey and Gatling voting for the independent.

That arrayed the Jones element in the Wake Democracy squarely against Bailey and Gatling. Pou will have the fight of his life to carry Wake and Solicitor Norris is nursing a few articles on Pou. With a district torn to pieces as this one appears destined to be, not only does Pou stand a doubtful chance of the nomination, but disaffection serious enough to threaten the majority in the state is feared. The News & Observer has begun to make its usual fun, abortive attempts at humor, of Republican reunion, but the men of political sense talk very differently.

Collector Bailey is home from Washington. He brought back the five Democratic hides which has been taken by the administration and restored them to his deputies. The official force of the Raleigh collector is apparently as industrious as the best of them and Bailey saw no reason why he should be victimized by the convulsion of economical conscience in Washington. The hold on these places is only temporary, however, and the work may be sharper.
