Fleeing Occupants Suffered; Homes Burned and Property Destroyed in Order to Disadvantage the Conquering Hosts of Allies—Comment Sparring.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—By Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.—Warsaw was taken this morning by German troops, according to official announcement made at German Army headquarters. Yesterday and today Bavarian troops under the command of Prince Leopold broke through the forts of the outer and inner lines of the city's defenses where the rear guards of the Russians troops made a tenacious resistance.

Continuing the report from headquarters says: "The German armies under General von Scholtz and General von Call advanced in the direction of the road between Lomza, Ostrov, and Vi-akow and fought a number of the violent engagements. The brave and desperate resistance of the Russians on both sides of the roar between Ostrov and Rozan was without success.

"Twenty-two Russian officers and 4,840 soldiers were taken prisoners. The Germans also captured 17 machine guns. "German cavalry yesterday and the day before defeated in Courland detachments of Russian cavalry at points near Genalze, Birachi and Omiskszakty. A total of 2,225 Russian prisoners were taken.

"The situation near and to the north of Ivangorod remains unchanged.

DR. RANKIN'S APPEAL.

Dr. W. S. Rankin of the State Board of Health, appeared before the county commissioner's last Monday in the interest of disease prevention. His address was bristling with information and sound common sense. He is the best posted man in the South upon the subjects discussed and his advice should be followed if possible. Our county officials know what they have to work with, and if they think that the expenditure is justified, they should give it a trial. Statistics are always dry whether about health or other subjects, yet Dr. Rankin is an interesting talker and seems to know what he is talking about. It is well to have such eminent men as Dr. Rankin to pay a visit to our county occasionally and take a look over the field, he can see things that need attention that we would never dream of. We are of the opinion that our county officials would do well to get Dr. Rankin interested in Alamance county, and to take such steps as will accomplish this end.

Refreshments consisting of iced tea, sandwiches, orange ice and wafers, were served by Misses Gertrude and Helen Coble, and little Nellie May Whitford.

SCHOOLHOUSES.

We are losing too many schoolhouses by fire. During the extreme cold weather in last February an average of one fire a day occurred in the schoolhouse of Illinois. Investigation showed that these fires were caused by overheated furnace or stoves, the teachers in many cases filling up the stoves at night so as to keep the building warm. Defective flues and overheated stoves did the rest.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY AND BASKET PICNIC.

Next Saturday, August 14th there will be an Educational Rally and basket picnic at Apple's Church in Washington Township. This occasion last year attracted a large crowd, and it is expected that this year will even surpass last year. The Board of Education of Guilford county will be present consisting of the Co. Supt. Thos. E. Foust, and Dr. W. T. Whitsett, Chas. H. Ireland, and J. Van Lindley. A number of addresses will be made during the day. The public is invited to attend.

THOMAS RE-UNION.

The descendants of the "White Pilgrims" are hereby called together to pay their honor and tribute to him, from whom they came.

The reunion for this year is to be at Piedmont Park on Thursday, the 19th of August. It will be in the nature of a basket picnic, and all are urged to attend with a full laider. A program of interest is being prepared and the day promises to be most pleasant in every detail.

Not only Burlington nor Alamance county, but the whole of North Carolina remembers vividly the grand celebration held at Piedmont Park last year, when the members of the notable family met to do him honor who did much honor to them. None have forgotten the "White Pilgrim", the deathless life he led the high ideals he held up to the men of his day, and the untiring devotion to a principle that made that life and those ideals, the sacred heritage of those who have come after. All of us remember in the eloquent tribute paid his memory that dominant force of will and intentness of purpose that made him a man whom the people delight to honor.

And so again it is fitting that his descendants gather together and pay their measure of devotion to him who gave his all to make life richer and purer and the day of men brighter and happier.

DENIES SHE HAD ANY PART IN HER HUSBAND'S DEATH. ALAMANCE CALLS FOR JURY.

Mrs. Idia Ball Warren Also Says She and Co-Defendant Lived as Man and Wife.

Winston-Salem, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Idia Ball Warren, who is charged jointly with S. P. Christy and Clifton Stone-street with the murder of G. J. Warren a year ago, testified today at her trial here. She denied having written to Christy, with whom she asserts she lived at Grand Saline, Texas, asking him to come to this State. She likewise denied any part whatever in the death of her husband; said that her husband always carried a revolver and that she had heard him say he would kill Christy if he ever met him. On the morning of Warren's death she testified Warren and Christy engaged in a fight and she ran from the room. She said she learned later that her husband was dead and that she thought Christy used a wrench in the struggle.

Testifying to her age and that of her daughter, Mrs. Clifton Stonestreet, she said that she was 36 years of age, that her daughter was 16 and that Christy was the father of her child. She was never married to Christy and lived with him at Grand Saline under the name of Kearns.

OUR BOYS IN CAMP.

Our soldier boys, The Holt Guards, are in camp near Morehead, with Capt. J. W. Slaughter in charge. From last reports all are well and making good records, they are expected home about the middle of the week.

This annual encampment is one of the biggest events of the North Carolina guard and people from all over the State are attracted to Camp Glenn during the two week's encampment. The two weeks are spent in hard drilling and practice and several sham battles are always a feature of the encampment.

The special train that carried the infantry from this section of the state was made up in Burlington and carried companies from that place, Saxapahaw, Hillsboro and Durham. They will be joined by the militia of Raleigh, Selma, Golsboro and other cities along the route.

COLONEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! AGTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Slays Your Liver Sooner Than Colic—and Quicker! Salvates or Makes You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating colic when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Colic is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Colic, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out" if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, use take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful to-night and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of colic because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

PORTER CHARGED WITH ILLICIT DISTILLING.

Father-in-law of Millionaire Candy Manufacturer Held For Federal Court.

Asheville, Aug. 5.—Upon the testimony of West Patton, charged jointly with Alex Porter with operating an illicit distillery on Porter's property, both men today were held for the next criminal term of the United States District Court. Patton's sensational and unexpected evidence was submitted when he asked to take stand and stated that he wanted to tell of all the circumstances. He swore that he and Porter, the latter a wealthy Asheville land owner, agreed to make brandy at this plant, it being agreed that the profits should be divided. Porter, according to the witness, was to sell the brandy and Patton was to make it. The latter said Porter failed to divide the profits as agreed. Porter is the father-in-law of Coulter Huyler, millionaire candy manufacturer, of New York.

WAR WILL LAST 3 OR 4 YEARS LONGER, SAYS COREY.

New York, August 6.—William E. Corey, ex-president of the United States Steel corporation, who returned to this city on the French liner Espagne, after some time spent in France is of the opinion that the war will last from three or four years longer.

"The allies are going to fight to a finish," said Mr. Corey. "They are now preparing for a war at least three years further duration. This is a war of chemistry and mechanics. The allies will make every effort to keep the friendship of America, and if the war continues as long as I expect it to the allied countries will have to float war loans in America. As for the United States, the only way of keeping ourselves out of trouble is to maintain an army and navy the equal of any in Europe. It will take us two years to get in shape to fight a European war on equal terms. At present about all we could do would be to defeat Spain or Portugal."

Mr. Corey praised President Wilson, although he is a republican himself. "It is masterly the way he has kept out of war," said the steel man. "He will eventually be called one of our ablest and best presidents."

TRIED BLACK SAND GAME

Asheville Man Was Told to Place $400 at Certain Place or Suffer Consequences.

Asheville, Aug. 6.—Receiving a letter this morning to the effect that he would suffer serious harm if he did not leave $400 at a place named in the communication, D. P. Lance turned the letter over to the sheriff and the latter placed deputies at the place mentioned who arrested Edward Frady, a son of Constable William Frady, of Arden.

The letter was the second communication of the sort received. The first one asked that $300 be deposited and warned recipient not to refuse to comply with the demand. He paid no attention to the request for money but turned the letter over to officers. On the day that he was to have left the money his warehouse was burned with a loss of $2,000.

WOMAN OF EUGENIC AGE TO BE PLUMP.

Dr. A. J. Read Tells Race Betterment Conference She Will Wear More Sensible Dress.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Taller, darker women, clothed in more sensible dress, will typify the "eugenic woman" of the future, Dr. A. J. Read, professor of hygiene in the Normal School of Physical Education at Battle Creek, Mich., today told the International Conference on Race Betterment at the exposition.

"The ideal woman of the eugenic age will be plump and well rounded, but not fat," said Dr. Read. "Her complexion will be ruddy or brown, not pale as that of the present day women, because the pale skin is a badge of disease rather than of health."

There are probably few humorists in England who can tell more funny stories than W. Pett Ridge, says Tit-Bits. Some time ago at a public meeting he told of a man who one day entered a London police court. The magistrate happened to recognize him as a fellow club man, and genially invited him to take a seat on the bench. The visitor was delighted at the honor done him, and as he sat down beside the magistrate he looked wonderingly round the crowded court. "I see you have a remarkably tough lot of customers to deal with this morning," he said in surprise to the magistrate. "Hush!" replied the magistrate, shaking his head to impose silence, "those are the lawyers."

An Oklahoma farmer's wife who had read in press dispatches from Washington on that a conscience stricken New Yorker had recently sent $10,000 to the Treasury as reparation for something he conceived he had taken from the Government wrote to Secretary McAdoo asking for $1,000. She said she needed the money worse than the Government did. The writer explained that if she got the concession she intended to purchase a cow, a Ford automobile and a set of false teeth.—Washington Dispatch.

He was a college professor, declares Tid-Bits, greatly beloved because of his kind heart, but with the common scholastic failing of being very absent-minded. He visited his married niece, and listened to her praise of her first born. When she paused for breath the professor felt that he must say something. "Can the little fellow walk?" he asked, with every appearance of interest. "Walk?" cried the mother indignantly. "Why, he's been walking now for five months." SNAKE ATE CHINA NEST EGG.

It's Not a Winsted Story, But It Ought to Have Been. Blacksnakes down Gales Ferry way cannot tell china nest eggs from hen's eggs, according to a story related by Mr. and Mrs. R. B. DeBussy, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., who are guests of Colonel and Mrs. F. M. Chaplin, in Pine Meadow. Recently Mr. and Mrs. DeBussy stopped with Miss Caroline Freeman's guests at the Bouwerie, Gales Ferry. Miss Freeman's guests at that time included Professor Heuser, instructor in German at Columbia University, and his family. Professor Heuser's daughter, six years old, returning from the poultry house at the Bouwerie, reported no eggs, but said a big snake was in a hen's nest. Brown-ups, using an ax, killed the five-footed snake. Miss Freeman then discovered that the China nest egg was missing from the nest. The search led to the interior of the snake, where the missing China egg was recovered. P. S.—This story was first reported to Winsted because, it was explained, it sounded like a Winsted story.

THE SKIRT FOR THE FEMINIST—AN.

Its Width and Length a Matter of Personal Preference

HATS SMALL, MEDIUM AND LARGE.

Did it ever occur to you that the width of your skirt and the line of your frock had much to do with the grace of your carriage and the evenness of your disposition? That we should hop awkwardly or glide gracefully, with the whim of Fashion seems somewhat ridiculous, but such is the case. We cannot walk well or gracefully when kirts are tight. Luxuries are scarce in Paris just now—motors are doing war service; the Parisians must walk or stay at home. She prefers to walk, and as she absolutely refuses to be ungraceful, the wide skirt has come back into favor. This was probably the first excuse for the change. We in America who have always loved the exercise of walking are better to defy Fashion and wear them not slow to accept the fad of making for walking's sake. With the new wide skirts we find our stride lengthening, the worried line between our

Whether she dressed with "Jeff" in mind, or whether her gray serge skirt was just happenstance, I do not know; but certainly the dog was effective with the costume. Her dark-blue eyes and blue-black hair were intensified by the contrast with the gray. The skirt was one of the new Princess styles in gray serge, edged with dark-blue, and trimmed with braid. It had the new suspender straps and was worn with a blouse of sheer, transparent Swiss, cut on simple line, the fabric itself being the chief charm. The hat was in the same shade of gray as the skirt; it was one of the new taffeta turbans, with a tulle band to shade the eyes, that Jeanne Lanvin brought out early in the season. The whole costume gave the effect of long lines and grace. Regarding the Length of the Skirt. Skirts are being worn short—that is, by those to whom they are becoming. If one is slender and youthful, she may wear her skirts to her shoe tops, a trifle below or above; but if one is not slender and youthful, it is better to defy Fashion and wear them at the net becoming length. The matter of fullness, too, is more or less a personal one; Mrs. Jenny, who first launched the very wide skirt, is modifying of two, or two and a half yards is more becoming than the one much wider, the narrower model is quite as modish.

THE THREE FISHERS.

Three fishers went tramping away to the West,
Away to the west as the sun went down,
Each thoughtful of all fisherman he was the best—
Each thought of the fish he'd bring back to the town,
For men will fish and women must wait,
Though the bait be good and they stay out late
Then Ho for the calm waters lying!
Three fishers came wandering back to the town,
Back home to the town in the morning light,
Each one, disappointed, is wearing a frown,
For they haven't caught any, though one and had a bite;
And the few that they carry of boys have been bought;
But think of the big ones they all might have caught,
And hark to the three fishers lying!

Clean Up and Paint Up for Homes and Towns Beautiful

Clean Up and Paint Up—
Get Behind the Brush

SPRINGTIME has at last come to stay, to prepare all nature for summer's flowers and the autumn's harvest.

Even the subject stir about their wretched premises, plant morning glories and try their best to fix up the leaning pickets left from the binding needs of the later frosty mornings. Good housewives tie towels about their heads, gird up their narrow skirts and chase the dust of winter from their rooms. The latest pick and trifle with their belongings to fix themselves better to face the changing seasons.

"Clean up!" is the phrase. Why not enlarge it? Why not "paint up?"

And if "paint up," why not do it so it will LAST and PAY?

Painting is another "art preservative." Rightly done, it saves repair, adds to length of property-life, increases property-attractiveness, brings to the tenant's lips the pleased smile, to the righteous landlord the wholesome feeling of duty well performed.

Between ourselves, there's room for lots on lots of paint here in Ourtown. Well applied, in colors judiciously selected, it would conceal a multitude of architectural and sanitary sins from the discerning eyes of tourists passing this way and from ourselves.

Look over your GWN house, or home, or business structure. Don't YOU agree? Try our prescription—"Clean Up and Paint Up."

Clean Up and Paint Up to Reduce Fire Hazard

THE Indiana State Fire Marshal declares that every city and town should conduct "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigns, to reduce fire hazards, if for no other purpose. And he declares that the application of paint to wooden buildings is quite as important a fire preventative as is the removal of rubbish from gutters and airways. He is therefore strongly urging "Clean Up and Paint Up" weeks for every city in the state.

"Inspections in the larger cities," says the Indiana Fire Marshal, "show that about 10 per cent of all buildings are being endangered by rubbish. Though the residential districts have not been inspected, the proportion, no doubt, is just as large. One of the most effective fire preventatives is clean and tidy premises, both in business houses and in dwellings."

The Fire Marshal is advising everywhere the painting of the shingle roof. "Paint not only makes shingles more durable," says the Fire Marshal, "but it acts as a fire preventative as well. By covering and protecting the fuzzy splinters that form on the outer surface of shingles, the paint greatly reduces the likelihood of fire from falling sparks."

Scores of Indiana cities are following the Fire Marshal's advice this year. A "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign will reduce fire losses in Ourtown.

Club Women Work to Clean Up and Paint Up
Five Thousand Cities

CIVIC LEADERS PUT BAN ON PINK TEAS.

"Clean Yards, a Few Shrubs and Flowers, and a Little Paint, for a Better Hometown"—
Mrs. Clarence Baxter.

THAT the club women of America are not waiting for full suffrage before taking an active part in civic betterment work is proven by the earnest efforts of thousands of women in local "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigns in practically every state in the Union. "The men are too busy, or too chummy," said one of these women, "to see the need of or to do simple beautification and sanitation work. And yet that work is vital to the health of thousands and to the progress of the community in better living conditions to keep pace with increasing population."

"There was a time," she continued, "when pink teas and gossip characterized our local club meetings. But that time is past. There are a million things for the betterment of the town that we are able to do, and we are trying to do them as fast as we can get to them. The 'Clean Up and Paint Up' campaign, in which we are working shoulder to shoulder with the men, embodies a big batch of improvements we have had in mind. This campaign seems to be a fortunate combination of ideas, 'Clean Up and Paint Up.' It gives us work to do now, with a definite program to start things off, and with absolutely no end of possibilities in permanent constructive effort. And the best of it is that this campaign simply forces the men to work with us. A successful campaign means an increased demand for many kinds of merchandise, means conservation of property, means increased realty values—it means a better business town and a better home town. Why shouldn't the men lead a hand?"

And this woman is not alone in her enthusiasm. Mrs. Clarence Baxter, chairman of the Women's Committee of the National "Clean Up and Paint Up" Campaign Bureau, St. Louis, has seen her home town, Kirksville, Mo., refurbished from the city hall to corporation limits entirely through the earnest work of a group of women. As chairman of the civic and health department of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, and as vice chairman of the civic department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Baxter is inspiring and advising thousands of club women in similar work. She will be glad to write to and advise others.

Mrs. George Zimmerman, of Fremont, O., chairman of the civic department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, recently addressed the national "Clean Up and Paint Up" movement, and is a member of the advisory committee of the National Bureau.

The civic departments of several state federations of women's clubs have already arranged for state-wide "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigns this year, with a definite week's program to start: the ball rolling.

One man who always was harping on the old saw, "Woman's place is in the home," has not been heard from since a year ago when his wife led in a "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign which practically regenerated the town. The good woman repaired and painted a place of vacant property belonging to her husband, property that had been a drain on his purse for ten years. She had to fix the place up, she said, because she was proposing "Clean Up, Paint Up, Be Paint" to others, and she believed in practicing what she preached. After convincing his wife for her public activity, and especially for spending real money on "that old shack," the husband was sorely chagrined one day to receive an offer of $200 more for the property than his former valuation. He made the sale, and shut up. This year he is the heaviest contributor to that local "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign fund.

and put over a definite "Clean Up and Paint Up" program?

Here is a suggested program which has been followed for two years in Denver. It was devised by L. T. Minshart of Denver, member of the executive committee, National "Clean Up and Paint Up" Campaign Bureau, St. Louis, and has been followed in hundreds of cities:

Sunday—Civic Uplift Sermons in the churches.

Monday—FIRE PREVENTION DAY. Clean your basements and attics of rubbish, greasy rags and waste paper, wherever possible.

Tuesday—FRONT YARD DAY. Cut lawns, plant flower beds, clean walks and gutters. Salt cracks in sidewalks; exterminate ants.

Wednesday—DANDELION DAY. This day can be very profitably used in ridding your lawn of dandelions, trimming bushes and gardens. There is no more important work which the campaign could accomplish than to rid this city of the dandelion and weed pest.

Thursday—PAINT DAY. Paint up inside and out, porches, fences, woodwork and porch chairs. Business houses clean windows and replace old awnings.

Friday—BACK YARD DAY. Clean alleys, repair fences and sheds, screen garbage cans. Put fly-traps on garbage cans. Put on screen doors.

Saturday—VACANT LOT DAY. Boy Scouts and school children clean vacant lots, removing tin cans, paper and brush. Flow and plant garden plots wherever possible.

TRY THIS ON YOUR OWN.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST PROBLEM

WE ARE LONG ON PRODUCTION,
SHORT ON DISTRIBUTION.

By Peter Radford
Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

The economic distribution of farm products is today the world's greatest problem and the war, while it has brought its hardships, has clearly emphasized the importance of distribution as a factor in American agriculture and promises to give the farmer the co-operation of the government and the business men the solution of their marketing problem.

This result will, in a measure, compensate us for our war losses, for the business interests and government have been in the main assisting almost exclusively on the production side of agriculture. While the department of agriculture has been dumping tons of literature on the farmer telling him how to produce, the farmer has been dumping tons of products in the nation's garbage can for want of a market.

The World Will Never Starve.
At no time since Adam and Eve were driven from the Garden of Eden have the inhabitants of this world suffered from lack of production, but some people have gone hungry from the day of creation to this good hour for the lack of proper distribution. Slight variations in production have caused a change in diet and one locality has felt the pinch of want, while another surfeited, but the world as a whole has ever been a land of plenty.

We now have less than one-tenth of the tillable land of the earth's surface under cultivation, and we not only have this surplus area to draw on but it is safe to estimate that in case of dire necessity one-half the earth's population could at the present time knock their living out of the trees of the forest, gather it from wild vines and draw it from streams. No one should become alarmed; the world will never starve.

The consumer has always feared that the producer would not supply him and his fright has found expression on the statute books of our states and nations and the farmer has been urged to produce recklessly and without reference to a market, and regardless of the demands of the consumer.

Back to the Soil.
The city people have been urging each other to move back to the farm, but very few of them have moved. We welcome our city cousins back to the soil and this earth's surface contains 16,000,000,000 acres of tillable land where they can make a living by tilling the earth with a forked stick, but we do not need them so far as increasing production is concerned; we now have all the production we can use. The city man has very erroneous ideas of agricultural conditions. The commonly accepted theory that we are short on production is all wrong. Our annual increase in production far exceeds that of our increase in population.

The World as a Farm.
Taking the world as one big farm, we find two billion acres of land in cultivation. Of this amount there is approximately 750,000,000 acres on the western and 1,250,000,000 acres on the eastern hemisphere, in cultivation. This estimate, of course, does not include grazing lands, forests, etc., where large quantities of meat are produced.

The world's annual crop approximates fifteen billion bushels of cereals, thirteen billion pounds of fibers and sixty-five billion tons of meat. The average annual world crop for the past five years, compared with the previous five years, is as follows:

Crops—	Decade.	Previous Half
Corn (Bu.)	3,324,174,000	3,403,655,000
Wheat (Bu.)	2,522,769,000	2,257,526,000
Oats (Bu.)	4,120,617,000	3,508,315,000
Cotton (Bales)	19,863,800	17,541,200

The world shows an average increase in cereal production of 13 per cent during the past decade, compared with the previous five years, while the world's population shows an increase of only three per cent.

The gain in production far exceeds that of our increase in population, and it is safe to estimate that the farmer can easily increase production 25 per cent if a remunerative market can be found for the products. In textile fibers the world shows an increase during the past half decade in production of 18 per cent against a population increase of three per cent.

The people of this nation should address themselves to the subject of improved facilities for distribution.

Over-production and crop mortgage force the farmers into ruinous competition with each other. The remedy lies in organization and in co-operation in marketing.

CAROLINA AUTOMOBILES VALUED AT $5,000,000.

Revenue to State From Licenses Since July 1 Estimated at $105,000.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 5.—The number of automobiles licensed in this State for the fiscal year that began July 1, the registration being really for only 35 days, has already reached 17,500 compared with 16,305 licenses issued during the whole previous fiscal year. This includes old machines relicensed and licenses for new machines as sold. There are about 20 licenses per day being issued now to new machines, showing a special activity in the automobile business at this time.

The revenue to the State for automobile licenses since July 1 has been more than $105,000. The estimated value of automobiles in North Carolina during the last fiscal year was $4,000,000 and it is believed that the value of the machines that will be licensed during the present year will round out $5,000,000.

WHITMAN THREATENED.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 6.—Guards furnished by Chief of Police Crawley are protecting Governor and Mrs. Whitman at their summer home as a result of six threatening letters received this week. The subject of health should always interest both, old and young. Many young persons are neglected for the want of knowledge how to proceed. We hope those who make this subject a life study will interest themselves to the extent that they may advise what is best to do.

Ice cream, cigars, cold drinks, etc., can be had at the park all day Sunday and it only cost five cents to go out there for it. Those who want it, will have it if they have the price, and if they want it bad, they usually get the price.

Our restaurant people are still wrestling with the Sunday blue laws, which our city fathers enacted, while our people go elsewhere for something to eat. If our restaurant keepers are law abiding men, why not give them better hours, and if they are not law abiding, cancel their license? This is respectfully referred to our city fathers for their consideration.

Our sister town of Graham is having large crowds from Burlington every Sunday. The street car people are giving half rates in the afternoon, and the enterprising restaurateurs in Graham are doing their part to attract our people over. This is no thrust and the Editor of the Gleaner who gets his on Sunday and hold a commission from the good people of Graham will please take notice.

CARRIERS' PICNIC.

Our genial rural letter carriers, Hays and Brooks each pulled off a successful picnic last Saturday which was largely attended, the good things to eat was too tedious to mention, speeches were made by several prominent gentlemen. It goes without saying that the day was pleasantly spent and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The Dispatch hopes that all and more may be present upon the next annual picnic of these two popular handlers of Uncle Sam's mail.

We kindly ask our readers to overlook any short comings in the make up of the paper this week, as we have been moving, and everything is disarranged. We had one or two bad accidents in moving, having broken two presses, but we hope to be in good form for the next issue, and will try to come out on time. The Dispatch is now located in the rear of the Waller Building on Spring Street and our friends will please call there when looking for us. We will be glad to have all our friends call whenever they feel like doing so, a cordial welcome awaits you. Now we are moved and have more room, our constant aim will be to issue the best Semi-Weekly paper in the State. Compare The Dispatch with any other paper for news and make-up, and you will see what you are getting for half what other weekly papers charge you. Again asking for your kind indulgence for this week, we promise to do better in the future.

OUR POSITION.

The Dispatch is not sufficiently posted in the matter of a whole time health officer to give the matter full endorsement, and we do not want to encourage the county commissioners to incur any expenses that is not absolutely necessary.

the health of a county or community is commendable, and if those who have given the matter much thought and consideration think the task is worth the cost and seek to give it a trial and it proves beneficial. The Dispatch does not condemn them. For it, we stand for something good and beneficial in government, whether administered by Democrats or Republicans, and just because our county officials are all Democrats is no reason from a Republican standpoint that they cannot and will not do what they think best for the county. We want an up-to-date progressive county administration, administered in the interest of the taxpayers, and the taxpayers do not mind paying taxes when they see and know that they are getting value for the expenditure. We would say to our officials to do what they think and believe to be for the best interests of all concerned, and if they do this, the Dispatch will not censure them for it, even if we do disagree with them politically. Democrats usually do the right thing when free from political bias, and as there is no politics involved in the matter of disease prevention, we are willing to trust our officials to do the right thing, and if they do it, we will commend their action. Make Alamance county the equal in health and sanitation of any county in the State and receive the plaudits of a grateful people.

Dear Sir:—
Forty-nine years ago I began growing tobacco. A few years later I decided that there were certain days on which to cut tobacco, better than others, for it to cure up nicely, and have a rich "naxy" and heavy body. To find out the way to tell these dates and to tell them ahead, has been a hard job, but I was finally successful. To explain let me say that tobacco has an oily substance which is its natural possession. It has a sap (water) like other vegetation. When the sap rises it runs the oil out through the pores of the leaves, on the principle, that oil and water won't mix, and oil being the lighter is pushed out by the sap. Tobacco cut in this state will be light and "chaffy", you see, there is nothing but sap in the tobacco, and when cured this sap is gone. It evaporates and leaves the tobacco light and worthless. But to cut tobacco when the sap is down, and the soil has full sway, you can cure it up nicely, and with a heavy body; it will be rich and "naxy." This happens because the tobacco is full of oil, instead of sap, and the oil can't evaporate, and remains in the tobacco to make it rich and heavy. It has been my experience that we must cut tobacco when there is oil in it, if we expect to have oil in when cured. For instance you have experience cutting one week, and having excellent luck, and then cut a few days later probably off the same piece of ground, and with ripper tobacco, and have no luck at all. I shall be pleased to answer any correspondence from tobacco growers, who may want to write to me, provided postage is sent for reply.

WHAT NEXT?

Granted that Germany refuses to recognize the demands of the United States; that she declares her inability or unwillingness to protect the lives and property of sea-going Americans—what next? Setting sentiment aside, looking only from the viewpoint of self-interest, what is the sanest course for us to pursue? It is well to look before one leaps. We are bound to back up our ultimatums, but just how far and in what direction shall we back?
If we set our faces, our arms, our battleships and our mint of money in opposition to Germany then are we to join hands with the allies? Will it be our purpose—as it will assuredly be our fate—to take the hand of Adam-zag the bear that walks like a man, to cling in the brotherly embrace of the wily Jap? What are we able to do across the seas to help the all-encircling foe of Germany, will be of small account—except as normal support; and if we unite with her foes in downing Germany, we must stand by them in the post-war conference, sanction their demands and decrees—or fight them!

And when the fighting league splits up and quarrels over the results of the division of the spoils—as they certainly will, within a decade, or historical precedents predict in vain—with fragment of the victorious union shall we be bound to support? It is futile to say, that after Germany is beaten to her knees, peace will prevail. Let us turn back to the wars of the Bourbon and the Bonaparte. The allies, with Prussia and old Blucher to the fore, tore down the Napoleonic empire and handed France back to her legitimate sovereign, Louis 18th Down with the Bonaparte, up with the Bonaparte! But did France stay put? In something less than thirty years Louis Napoleon, nephew of the dreaded Corsican, sat upon the throne of France. In the Congress of Vienna Catholic Belgium and Protestant Holland were joined in unstable union; fifteen year later, Belgium broke away and defied the autocratic allies and the warlike Dutch, and chose her own king. And there are those who still remember that this monarch's near descendant flaunted in the face of a human world a series of atrocities inflicted upon helpless men, women and children in the Congo; they are today fatalists who, while they turn with open hands and bleeding hearts to Belgium, desolate, whisper under their breath: "Ye who sow the wind shall reap the whirlwind."

Did Norway, wrenched from Denmark by the Conference of the Powers of a hundred years ago, and given to Sweden remain in harmony and union with her appointed ruler? No, she demanded and obtained a king of her own choosing, her own policies, her own system of government; and there are more instances of the kind for the reading.

If German militarism is overthrown how will the allies maintain the land of the Hohenzollern in a state of subordination? Will they not have to cut military militarism to control and command this virile, warlike people? Or is it the purpose of the victors to pen up all surviving Germans on a mid-ocean island and blow up the island? The present problems of neutrality, commerce rights and the protection of our ocean voyagers are bagatelle to those that will dizzy our brains and now discord in "our ain Countrie" if we become companions in arms with the fighting foes of Germany.

The alliance, including the Japanese, alone would menace our internal harmony. The people of the south and east have no conception of the strong anti-Japanese sentiment of the west. There, our citizens live with the "yellow men" and they know whereof they speak and act when they legislate them into the Pacific. With what they believe inherent craft and duplicity, Japan has taken advantage of every body being buys, to corner China—her wealth of men and resources and she will never loose her hold. With a coaling station in Fu-kien and Japanese warships can approach our Pacific ports and pour their fighting legions into our rich and wonderful west. Will westerners smile and shake hands with the Japanese whose arts and craft they know so well? Or will they put their backs to the Rockies and fight both ways for an alliance that excludes the Asiatics?

If we gain our point, "No attacks upon neutrals by submarine," by joining in the war against Germany, what are we going to do about the dictatorial policy of Great Britain as to the commerce of the nations? Having been the first to compass the sovereignty of the seas, it is clearly England's determination never to let any other power rival her in naval supremacy. Also, having for many years, in order to maintain the Balance of Power, supported Turkey in her contentions with Russia, how long after the approaching peace will she be able to look with serenity upon an Imperial Russia, settled at Constantinople and controlling the Dardanelles? Are we to co-operate with the allies while they make a Confederation of States of Germany and the Austro-German provinces? And if this be done—as it is likely—how long will it be before war flames forth from the smouldering embers of Empire—and scorch the plumage of our own American Eagle?

The Balkan States were the result of the Crimean war, fought because of England's determination to limit Russian extension; and the present embroilment is, indirectly, the outcome of the rivalries and jealousies that sprang up in this confederation, culminating in the assassination of the Archduke of Austria. Will not history repeat itself? One's brain whitens at the possibilities of conflict and slaughter that threaten us if we make ourselves one in allegiance with the allies! One's prayer is for a peaceable adjustment of our foreign affairs—the one hope of future growth, serenity and happiness.—Greensboro Daily News.

ENTERTAINS FOR SISTER.

Mrs. W. E. LOWE, of Elon College, Gives Interesting Affair.

Elon College, Aug. 6.—Mrs. W. E. Lowe of Elon College, entertained last night in honor of her sister, Miss Deede Harris. At the appointed hour, the many guests arrived and were ushered into the spacious reception hall. The hall, decorated with evergreens, made a picturesque scene. After being escorted through the receiving line, punch was served.

The most popular game of the evening being rook, the guests chose partners for this by drawing from a silver plate "the lucky number."

During the entire evening music was furnished, and it added to the pleasure of the occasion.

After games of various kinds and various refreshments were served Miss Harris invited the guests to assemble on the side veranda, where they delighted themselves with a watermelon feast.

The only out of town guest was Miss Helen Wicker of Henderson, guest and cousin of Misses Annie Laurie and Ruth Wicker of the city.

MOB OF 75 MEN HANG AN OKLAHOMA NEGRO.

Negro, Who Confessed to Criminal Assault, Taken From Officials And Hanged to Telegraph Pole.

Shawnee, Okla., Aug. 6. Ed. Berry, negro, charged with two cases of criminal assault and suspected in connection with 10 others that have occurred here in the last three years, was taken from officers early today and hanged to a telephone pole at the scene of one of his alleged crimes.

Berry was secretly brought here for trial from the penitentiary at McAlester. When the train arrived and the deputy sheriff and his prisoner alighted they were covered by revolvers in the hands of a dozen masked men. The officer was disarmed. Ten or twelve automobiles loaded with masked men then appeared and the negro was quickly conveyed to the Board street bridge. When the rope was adjusted around Berry's neck he was questioned about the crimes and asked if he were guilty. In each instance he nodded his head affirmatively. In every case the negro's victim was a white woman.

Following the confession the negro was hanged in the presence of about 75 men all masked after which the crowd dispersed.

RECORD-BREAKING TOBACCO SEASON EXPECTED THIS YEAR

Newbern, Aug. 8.—According to A. B. Baines, proprietor of Dill's tobacco warehouse in this city, the approaching tobacco season in eastern North Carolina, bids fair to be the most successful in the history of this section of the State. Mr. Baines is to open his warehouse on the 18th of this month and is going to have the largest corps of buyers on hand ever secured by one warehouse in this city. B. C. Fields of Wilson, representing the Imperial Tobacco Company, is already on hand and J. T. Penn of the American Tobacco Company and Mr. Flowers of the Export Leaf Tobacco Company are expected this week. J. L. Gibbons of Lexington, has been secured to do the auctioneering.

Reports from all parts of Craven, Pamlico, Carteret and Jones are that large crops have been grown and this is to be rushed into the market as soon as the warehouses are opened. Indications are that the amount of sales will far exceed those of any other season.

PUTTING UP TOMATOES.

(From The Wendall Times.)
The Wendell Tomato Club girls are busy at work under the shade of the trees on the campus of the graded school, canning large, juicy tomatoes under the expert direction of Miss Pattie Lee, and the product of their skilled work looks very tempting. Miss Lee and her class are doing some splendid work and putting up large quantities of both corn and tomatoes, their output ranging around 150 cans of the finished product daily.

Malaria or Chills & Fever

Prescription No. 666 is prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

TWO STEAMERS AND TRAWLER SUBMARINED.

London, Aug. 8.—Lloyds announces that the British steamer Glenravel, the Swedish steamer Malmind, and the trawler Ocean Queen have been sunk. The crews were saved.

The Glenravel, 1,092 tons, was owned in Belfast and the Malmind, 3,779 tons, in Gothenburg.

WIMBETTY ITEMS.

Miss Kate McLean left today for a week's visit with friends in and around Winston-Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Summers, accompanied by Mrs. R. W. Davenport, left for Raleigh this morning in their car for a few days' visit with friends in that city.

A pleasant party of our people just back from Piedmont Springs report a delightful trip to that popular resort. Among those who went were: Mrs. Lizzie W. Smith; Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Joyner; and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Summers; Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Davenport and others.

W. E. Sharp of the Alamance Insurance and Real Estate Co., Burlington was a pleasant visitor yesterday.

A handsome pavilion is being built over the well on the school grounds. Other improvement will soon be begun. All indications point to a splendid school the coming year.

Two new students were here yesterday and arranged to enter school for the Fall term. They will return in a few days and spend the remainder of the vacation here.

Wade K. Ramsey returned to Charlotte yesterday after a few days spent here with friends.

G. H. Parker has returned to Spartanburg, S. C., after a week spent here with relatives.

TIRED, ACHING MUSCLES RELIEVED.

Hard work, overexertion, mean stiff, sore muscles. Sloan's Liniment lightly applied, a little quiet, and your soreness disappears like magic. "Nothing ever helped like your Sloan's Liniment. I can never thank you enough," writes one grateful user. Stops suffering, aches and pains. An excellent counter-irritant, better and cleaner than mustard. All Druggist, 25c. Get a bottle today. Penetrates without rubbing.

OAKDALE ITEMS.

The threshermen are about through threshing wheat; they report crop very short except a few. The largest we have heard of in the neighborhood was 450 bushels grown on 25 acres by Mr. Flave Hornaday. We call it very good for this year.

The protracted meeting began last Sunday, August 1st; quite a large crowd was present.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. Lona Daffron and mother who have been sick for a few days are improving very much.

Mr. W. H. Euliss, Administrator of Mr. Frank Britow, deceased will offer some property for sale on August 14, 1915, consisting of farming tools, cows and so on. We learn that on the same day one of our neighbors will offer three fine Belgium colts for sale if not sold before then. The sale is to be near Oakdale School house. Any one wanting a fine colt will do well to attend this sale.

The protracted meetings are now in order. Mt. Zion begins August 8th; Mt. Pleasant, August 15th; Rock Creek August 22; all will continue through each week.

Died at her home July 30, near Mt. Zion Church, Aunt Nellie Foster. If she had lived until August 12, she would have been 85 years old. She was buried at Mt. Zion July 31, where a large congregation assembled to pay their last respects. She was a faithful member of Mt. Zion Baptist church for about 45 years. She leaves 2 sons and one daughter, 8 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren and a host of friends. The funeral was conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. H. Eller of Greensboro.

A NEW NECTARINE.

(From The Wilkes Patriot.)
Mr. B. C. Price of Poors Knob was here Monday, exhibiting a new fruit-nectarine—a large, luscious, red fruit which appears to be a cross between a pear and a plum. It has a beautiful color and the flavor is delightfully fine. Mr. Price says the trees on which this fruit grew were set out two years ago.

Clean Up and Paint Up

In a tenement district lived a family surrounded by filth and dirt. The whole atmosphere of the little room which they called "home" was one of hopeless depression and gloom. To prove the power of suggestion, a good woman placed on the table a miniature scene of the Venus of Milo. Against this grimy back-ground of dirt and wretchedness, the Venus shone out in all her whiteness and purity, elevating and brightening her strange surroundings. The good woman called a week later and found that the place had been cleaned up, the dirt had been washed away and a pathetic but sincere attempt at decoration had been made—the subtle influence was effective. If the homes in a neighborhood become weather-beaten and shabby, values in the whole neighborhood deteriorate. But if some house-owner paints and brightens up his home, it radiates its attractiveness in every direction and soon the whole neighborhood is made bright and attractive.

RUSSIAN ARMY MAY BE CRUSHED BY GERMANS.

Grand Duke Now Moving Strategically to Save His Vast Army.—Is Being Hemmed In.

Austro-German Forces Are Throwing Their Offensive Movements Against Entire Army.

What is certain to have a far-reaching and almost immediate effect on the European war has happened. Warsaw has fallen and the far-flung lines of the Austro-German forces are pressing close upon the Russians, who are retreating to positions prepared for them and offering what military critics regard as greater advantages for a successful defense.

The Bavarian troops led by Prince Leopold were first to enter the Capital, but not without fierce resistance by the Russians, who retired eastward in the direction of Minsk.

The number of Russian prisoners taken has not been estimated. It seems, however, that most of the troops of Grand Duke Nicholas made their way safely out of the city, taking their guns with them.

As to Warsaw itself, it had been virtually dismantled so far as guns, factories, machine shops and probably everything that would be of value to the invaders, is concerned.

The troops of the Teutonic Allies are still continuing their drive against the Russians on the other numerous parts of the line in Poland and in northwestern Russia. They have advanced in the direction of the road to Lomza, Ostov and Wyszkow, to the northeast of Warsaw; Ivangorod is under fire while between the Vistula and the Bug the Russian are still to be retreating northward.

In the northwest, Riga, the important port on the Baltic, is about coming Germans.

The capture of Riga and of Davinsk, against which towns the Germans in the north are operating seemingly gives the Germans an outflanking movement on both the right and left wings of the newly-chosen positions which the Russians are expecting to occupy with their withdrawal from Poland—the Kovno, Grodno, Brest-Litovsk line.

The campaign in France and Belgium presents no new feature, although there have been expectations that the German pre-occupation in Russia would afford the Allies to venture their long-looked-for general offensive.

Unofficial dispatches indicate immense difficulties which the Italians are encountering in their efforts to overcome Austrian opposition on the frontier. They have brought up additional heavy guns and have begun a new bombardment of Gorizia.

The same dispatches, however, are authority for the statement that the Italians have captured several miles of newly-constructed trenches at Polazzo.

A SKIN WITH A SHAVE.

(Philadelphia Record)

Philadelphia is facing 40-cent haircuts and 25c shaves, if the plans announced at a meeting of the master and journey men barbers are carried into effect. Several hundred barbers assembled in the hall and revealed the secrets of their trade in their impassioned speeches, urging all the barbers to get together, join the international union and boost prices. Incidentally Philadelphians may be interested to know that the man with the shears divides them all into two classes—"cheap skates" and "sucker guys."

All the speeches showed what the barbers think of their customers. One of them said:
"Fifteen for a shave and 25 for a haircut—oy-yoy! If we was organized, them suckers could be just as easy made to pay 25 and 40. The slick guys who are afraid their hair might touch their ears will get theirs every week, anyhow, and the old tightwads that wait until their hair dirties their collars will have to come anyway."

SOME EXCUSE NOW.

Fashionable women will be excused from now on for not putting on enough clothing. It will be remembered that thousands of makers of women's garments have gone on a strike.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

WOMAN'S PART.

Miss Vine—"Do you favor women proposing?"
Mrs. Gaks—"Certainly not. When a woman picks out a man she should make him propose."—Houston "Chronicle."

An Englishman, Irishman, and Scotchman made an agreement among themselves that whoever died first should have five pounds placed on his coffin by each of the others, says the Argonaut. The Irishman was the first to die. Shortly afterward the Scotchman met the Englishman and asked him if he had fulfilled the agreement.

"Yes," said the Englishman, "I put on five sovereigns. What did you get on?"

"Oh, I just wrote ma check for ten pounds," said the Scotchman, "an' took your five sovereigns as change."

HE FAILS AS WILLIAM TELL.

(Philadelphia Record)

"Hit this hat!" shouted William Bergen, a fisherman, as he sat in his boat in the Delaware River about 50 yards from the shore at the foot of Wheatseaf lan, Russell Baldwin, of Duffield street, to whom the challenge was addressed, raised his rifle and fired. Instead of piercing the hat, which Bergen held at arm's length, the bullet penetrated the fisherman's arm. He was sent to the Frankford Hospital where the bullet was extracted.

WORMS OF A DUKE.

The grand duke paced restlessly up and down the hall of the palace, relates the New York Sun.

"The Germans must not get to Riga!" he cried over and over again. "The Germans must not get to Riga! They must not, in no circumstances must they, it would be my ruin. I'd never be able to survive it!"

"But why so?" murmured a discreet secretary, seeking to calm the great man's agitation. "Why so? Here we are safe in Petrograd, quite out of range of the biggest guns."
"Suppose we are," retorted the grand duke, peevishly. "Suppose we are. What's the use? Two ancient aunts of mine live in Riga. And if the Germans get Riga, those two old persons will surely come and camp on me here."

MOST OBLIGING.

A street car was getting under way when two women, rushing from opposite sides of the street to greet each other, met right in the middle of the car track and in front of the car, says the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph. There the two stopped and began to talk. The car stopped, too, but the women did not appear to realize that it was there. Certain of the passengers whose heads were immediately made sarcastic remarks, but the two women heeded them not.

Finally the motorman showed that he had a saving sense of humor. Leaning over the dashboard he inquired in the gentlest of tones:

"Pardon me, ladies, but shall I get you a couple of chairs?"

WHY IT IS.

"I think fountain pen is the proper name," said the party of the second part.—Louisville "Courier-Journal."

BY INTERNAL EVIDENCE.

On his return from a long tour of the West this business man's wife was narrating to him the delightful times she had while he was away.

"One night I was invited to a dinner party at a smart cafe," she said, "and one of the guests was the Turkish ambassador. He was well informed on every subject, and was one of the most entertaining dined companions I ever knew."

"Did he wear a fez?" asked the husband.

"No, indeed!" she replied. "He was clean-shaven."

THE NORTH CAROLINA COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND MECHANIC ARTS

Young men seeking to equip themselves for practical life in Agriculture and all its allied branches; in Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering; in Chemistry and Dyeing; in Textile Industry, and in Agricultural Teaching will find excellent provision for their chosen careers at the State's Industrial College. This College fits men for life. Faculty for the coming year of 65 men; 767 students; 25 buildings. Admirably equipped laboratories in each department. County examinations at each county-seat on July 8th.

For catalogue, write E. B. OWEN, Registrar. West Raleigh, N. C.

(LOCAL.)

In this time of industrial opportunity, it is gratifying to see what a firm grasp the men trained at the Agricultural and Mechanical College are taking on the industrial life of the State. These men not only know how to do things, but they are doing them with credit to themselves and to their college. They are making over old farms and dairies. Many of them are directing cotton mills. On our railways and highways you find them with transit and rod. They are sought by men who need draughtsmen and machinists. Young men who are ambitious and determined to make headway in life are in increasing numbers making their way to this busy institution. The fall announcement announcement in this paper will interest scores of young men.

"Clean Up and Paint Up"
By WALLACE JOHNSON

Real Campaign Is Taking Place of Old Time "Clean Up"
"ANNUAL BATH" FOR TOWNS TABOED.
Five Thousand Communities Will This Year Join "Clean Up and Paint Up" Movement.

MORE than 5,000 cities and towns will this year participate in "opening week" in the National Clean Up and Paint Up campaign, according to Allen W. Clark, chairman of the National "Clean Up and Paint Up" Campaign Bureau, St. Louis. Many of these communities, Clark declares, are thus breaking away from the old-established "clean up" or "annual bath" idea and are striving to make their improvement programs continuous performances.

The Work to Be Done.
The work of the bureau this year is more comprehensive than ever before. Everything that will beautify, preserve, improve sanitation, reduce fire risks, and better health conditions has been carefully provided for. Among the things which local "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigners are doing this year are: Cleaning the streets and alleys, front yards, back yards, cellars, stables, attics; the removal of ashes and rubbish; cleaning up vacant lots of rubbish and weeds; eliminating breeding places of flies and mosquitoes; planting and care of trees, hedges and flowers; and the liberal use of paint on everything that needs it.

THE RURAL CHURCH

THE FARMERS THE CUSTODIANS OF THE NATION'S MORALITY.
Co-operation of Church, School and Press Essential to Community Building.
By Peter Radford
Lecturer National Farmers' Union.
The church, the press and the school form a triple alliance of progress that guides the destiny of every community, state and nation. Without them civilization would wither and die and through them life may attain its greatest blessing, power and knowledge. The farmers of this nation are greatly indebted to this social triumvirate for their uplifting influence, and on behalf of the American plowman I want to thank those engaged in these high callings for their able and efficient service, and I shall offer to the press a series of articles on co-operation between these important influences and the farmers in the hope of increasing the efficiency of all by mutual understanding and organized effort. We will take up, first, the rural church. The Farmers Are Great Church Builders.

The American farmer is the greatest church builder the world has ever known. He is the custodian of the nation's morality; upon his shoulders rests the "ark of the covenant" and he is more responsible to religious influences than any other class of citizenship. The farmers of this nation have built 120,000 churches at a cost of $750,000,000, and the annual contribution of the nation toward all church institutions approximates $200,000,000 per annum. The farmers of the United States build 22 churches per day. There are 20,000,000 rural church communicants on the farm, and 54 per cent of the total membership of all churches reside in the country. The farm is the power-house of all progress and the birthplace of all that is noble. The Garden of Eden was in the country and the man who would get close to God must first get close to nature.

The Functions of a Rural Church.
If the rural churches today are going to render a service which this age demands, there must be co-operation between the religious, social and economic life of the community. The church to attain its fullest measure of success must enrich the lives of the people in the community it serves; it must build character; develop thought and increase the efficiency of human life. It must serve the social, business and intellectual, as well as the spiritual and moral side of life. If religion does not make a man more capable, more useful and more just, what good is it? We want a practical religion, one we can live by and farm by, as well as die by.

Fewer and Better Churches.
Blessed is that rural community which has but one place of worship. While competition is the life of trade, it is death to the rural church and moral starvation to the community. Petty sectarianism is a scourge that blights the life, and the church prejudice saps the vitality of many communities. An over-churching community is a crime against religion, a serious handicap to society and a useless tax upon agriculture.

While denominations are essential and church pride commendable, the high teaching of universal Christianity must prevail if the rural church is to fulfill its mission to agriculture. We frequently have three or four churches in a community which is not able to adequately support one. Small congregations attend services once a month and all fail to perform the religious functions of the community. The division of religious forces and the breaking into fragments of moral efforts is oftentimes little less than a calamity and defeats the very purpose they seek to promote.

The evils of too many churches can be minimized by co-operation. The social and economic life of a rural community are respectively united and cannot be successfully divided by denominational lines, and the churches can only occupy this important field by co-operation and co-ordination.

The efficient country church will definitely serve its community by leading in all worthy efforts at community building, in uniting the people in all co-operative endeavors for the general welfare of the community and in arousing a real love for country life and loyalty to the country home and these results can only be successfully accomplished by the united effort of the press, the school, the church and organized farmers.

TOO TEMPERAMENTAL.

HAITIENS LIKELY TO MAKE PEACE

Troops of General Bobo, Leader of Successful Revolution, to Disarm at Port au Prince—Expected in Six Days.

National Assembly Awaiting Word From General Bobo As to Whether He Desired The Presidency: Yacht Eagle Keeps Revolutionists Out of Cape Haitien.

Washington, August 5.—Hopes for a peaceful settlement of disturbances in Haiti were brightened today by receipt of a message from Rear Admiral Caperton commanding the American naval forces at Port-au-Prince and Cape Haitien, announcing that the troops of Resolve Bobo, leader of the successful revolution would disarm on their arrival at Port-au-Prince. General Bobo's men should arrive from Cape Haitien in six days.

The following abstract of Admiral Caperton's report was given out:

"General Blot left Cape Haitien for Santo Domingo on the morning of the 4th instant. The troops of General Bobo have met with no further resistance in the North of Haiti, and Bobo's troops are said to be marching to Port-au-Prince where they will probably arrive in about six days. General Bobo's representatives have promised that his troops will disarm upon arrival at Port-au-Prince.

"Although Cape Haitien is quiet outbreaks are reported at Petitgoabe, Miragoave and Jacmel. The Haitien committee at Port-au-Prince have telegraphed the authorities at these places, directing them to maintain order and Admiral Caperton is of the opinion that the order of the committee will be effective."

General Blot commanded the military forces of the government overthrown with the assassination of President Guillaume. Officials here inferred from his withdrawal from the country that Blot had abandoned hope of being elected president.

News dispatches from Port-au-Prince today said the National Assembly was awaiting word from General Bobo as to whether he desired the office. Assurances that his army will disarm on its arrival at the capital are thought to indicate that there will be no further fighting and that the revolutionists will establish a government. Earlier advices from Admiral Caperton said warning shots fired by the survey yacht Eagle at Cape Haitien had kept the revolutionists out of that city. Only a small force of marines was on duty ashore and a warning was sent that any attempt to enter the town would be met by the guns of the American warships. The battleship Connecticut is now off the port with additional marines.

DU PONTS AGAIN RAISE PAY OF 50,000 POWDER WORKERS.

Men Will Receive Ten Hours' Wages For Eight Hours' Work—Plants Run Night and Day—Hire Hundreds Daily.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 5.—Following the announcement that the 1100 men employed at the Brandywine shops of the du Pont Powder Company were to go on an eight-hour work day basis, receiving ten hours' pay for the eight-hour day, there was issued today by the company a notice to the effect that the 50,000 employes on the operation and construction payrolls of the powder company at all its plants are to go on the same basis. The new schedule becomes effective tomorrow. Office employes are not included in this new arrangement.

The order comes as a big surprise to the workmen, as the short day was not solicited by them, the concessions being entirely voluntary on the part of the powder company. In all the plants the work will be divided into three shifts of eight hours each, and this will mean the employment of several thousand additional workmen in the various plants.

CHARLES WILKINSON'S DEATH

When Driven and Car Collide. Asheville, Aug. 5.—Charles Wilkinson, the twelve-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Durham, met instant death on the street in front of his home on Wagonway this morning, when the bicycle on which he was riding collided with an automobile driven by Roy Smith. The machine was the property of Chambers and Weaver Company, being used as a public service car. The driver was taking J. Locke Erwin, of Concord, a prominent cotton mill man of that city to a sanatorium. The child was riding into the street from the drive way which leads from his father's home, and a retaining wall in front of the property is said to have obstructed his view of the machine. Before either the chauffeur or the bicyclist could stop, the bicycle struck the automobile and the rider was thrown over the handlebars and under the heavy car. Two wheels passed over him breaking his neck and his left jaw. The chauffeur was taken into custody by a member of the sheriff's department but was released upon bail furnished by the firm by which he is employed.

ADAM WINEGAND DROWNED IN MASONBORO SOUND.

Got Beyond His Depth and Became Exhausted in An Effort to Save a Companion.

Wilmington, Aug. 5.—Adam F. Winegand, a young man holding a position with the Atlantic Coast Line here, was drowned at Masonboro Sound at six o'clock this afternoon in an effort to save a companion, Carl Strunk, who had got beyond his depth and became exhausted.

Strunk floated until he could be rescued. Winegand's body remained under water for three-quarters of an hour before it was recovered.

The pulmotor was used for two hours, but there was no spark of life left. There were three young men in bathing, the third being Willie Fuchs. The body of Winegand will be sent to his former home at Wilesgarre, Pa., tomorrow for burial. The young man has been living here about a year.

JAILED ON CHARGE OF BLACK HAND WORK.

Edward Frady Found at Place D. P. Lance Was Ordered to Leave $400 to Avoid Harass.

Asheville, Aug. 6.—Receiving a letter this morning to the effect that he would suffer serious harm if he did not leave $400 at place named in the communication, D. P. Lance today turned the letter over to the sheriff and the latter placed deputies at the place mentioned, who arrested Edward Frady, a son of Constable William Frady of Arden.

The letter received by Mr. Lance today was the second communication of the sort received. The first one asked that $300 be deposited and warned the recipient not to refuse to comply with the demand. He paid no attention to the request for money, but turned the letter over to officers. On the day that he was to have left the money his warehouse was burned with a loss of $2,000.

Officers were stationed today at the point where the letter directed that the money be left and Frady was arrested as he is alleged to have run toward Mr. Lance. The prisoner, however, maintains that he has no knowledge of the blackmailing scheme and the destruction of the warehouse, stating that he was passing the point on his way to the home of a neighbor.

The prisoner was brought to Asheville and placed in the Buncombe County jail pending the arrangement of a date for his preliminary hearing. Officer slept tonight with the announced intention of conducting a further investigation in the hope of ascertaining whether other arrests can be made in connection with the case.

The advice against eating too much is rather superfluous at present. People hardly ever get too much to eat under a Democratic Administration.

HE LOVED HER

He loved her. There was no doubt about that. Anyone could have told that by the way he looked at her. There was no doubt about the joy and pride which was his own that he had her for his own. He had sought her—O, how vigilantly he had sought her, and how long! The thought of parting with her was bitter to him—O, how bitter! She was good; there was no doubt about that. She was fair—What? At any rate she would pass, and that was all that was necessary. She was precious, she was worth her weight in gold. No wonder he adored her and cherished her—the Goddess of Liberty on an American Dollar.

A MESSAGE FROM THE FRONT.

She is standing in the doorway Of a sweet old English home As she dreams of raid and foray On the land and on the foam; She is weaving little pictures Of the battles far away— And for those who left her lonely She has paused to dream and pray.

Down the little street a soldier Bears a message from the front; He is brusque about his business, He is rather hard and blunt; But the woman in the doorway Stirs his nature till again He is back in some green country Where brave women wait lost men.

She has seen him, and she's trembling, For she knows, as mothers must, There is no more frail dissembling In this courier's cloud of dust, He has reached her—she is weeping, And 'down the golden years Just a mother's heart is breaking— Oh, what aching, and what tears!

There were roses ripe for blooming Round the little doorway there; But the shadows wreath their glooming

For the ashes of her hair, Not for her the consolation Of his courage in life's brunt— Just the grief, and desolation, Of her message from the front.

—The Bentztown Bard.
