BURLINGTON GIRL ENTERTAINS WITH A HALLOWEEN PARTY

Burlington, Oct. 30.—Saturday afternoon, little Miss Josephine Thurston gave a Halloween party at her home on Morehead avenue.

The guests were met at the door by Miss Josephine and when all had arrived, many amusing and interesting games were played, directed by Miss Ruth Thurston.

When play time was over, the little guests were ushered into the dining room which was prettily decorated in autumn foliage and large pumpkin faces.

GLENN HOPE SCHOOL NEWS.

All who were present at the Halloween party at Glenn Hope school house Saturday night unite in saying that they had one of the most enjoyable times of their lives.

The program consisted of recitations and a shadow play by the children and the mother of girls' shadows with boxes of candy.

All parents and friends are cordially invited to attend the next meeting of the Women's Club on Friday, November 20th, from 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Sechrest, 1111 North Main street, Burlington.

THE WHITE HOUSE BRIDE.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Twice before presidents of the United States have taken unto themselves wives while in their high office. It is safe to say that Woodrow Wilson and the winsome Edith Galt will follow neither of the two precedents set.

President John Tyler evidently distrusted his public. Two years after the death of his first wife in 1844, he came to New York and while the people were still under the impression that his wedding to Miss Julia Gardner, of New York was several weeks off, they learned suddenly that the chief executive had led his bride to the altar in the church of the Ascension. It was almost an ekpement.

There was a similar lack of warning, though not quite so extreme, when President Cleveland married Frances Folsom, probably the most beautiful of all the brides of the white house, in 1886. The engagement was published two weeks before the day when the ceremony actually took place; but the day and the hour were not announced until about forty-eight hours before the arrival of the bride-elect and her mother in the capital. They had just come from several months in Europe.

The guests at the Cleveland wedding number fewer than forty. The only officials present were the cabinet and the president's private secretary. The scene was set in the blue room.

No foreign diplomatists were invited and the gifts came chiefly from the members of the president's cabinet and the relatives of the bride and bridegroom.

Those in confidence of Mrs. Galt here believe she will arrange everything for a fine, old Virginia wedding, not an unwieldy affair, but on the other hand nothing hurried or ill-considered.

Those who have visited the Galt home in Pennsylvania avenue agree that the future "first lady of the land" is a queen of hostesses and a marvel of forethought and graceful tact. Her mother, who lives with her and is a favorite of Mr. Wilson, is also an adept at the little things which make functions a pleasurable success instead of a bore.

All in all Washington society has learned of the president's coming marriage with a feeling akin to relief. The capital is a distinctly less lively and gay affair with no white house social season to set the pace.

With Mrs. Galt at the head of the president's establishment Washington's great hostesses will breathe easier. She has never figured large on the society pages of the newspapers but she has a large circle of friends and these agree she can be depended upon as a worthy successor to a long line of gracious presidents' wives.

All Washington winter functions are arranged so as not to interfere with white house engagements. For this reason no other invitations can go out until the white house schedule is known. The president and his wife always open the series of state banquets each season with the cabinet dinner, usually held about December 15. This is followed by the diplomatic dinner, the supreme court dinner and the speaker's dinner. Until the dates of these are known no hostess dares to arrange for a dinner of her own.

The cabinet officers entertain the president and others in turn, beginning with the secretary of state.

These dinners are necessarily limited to a small circle.

But there will be at least four formal evening receptions at the white house between January 1 and Shrove Tuesday. It is estimated here that the new Mrs. Wilson will be hostess to at least eight thousand persons the to at least eight thousand persons the coming winter.

Former mistresses of the white house have also given evening musicales, invitations to which are highly prized. As Mrs. Galt is an excellent pianist and has a melodious voice, singing the old songs which the president loves, with great beauty, it is probable that these musicales will be continued. The president's unmarried daughter, Miss Margaret Wilson, also has a fine voice.

The second Mrs. Wilson is an attractive dresser and she may well set the fashion for women of her age. Since she put away her mourning several years ago, Mrs. Galt has usually selected soft greys or combinations of white and black. For her afternoon and evening gown material she has adopted crepe de chine and for street wear serge velours de laine and broadcloth.

While she was the guest of Miss Wilson and incidentally, the sweetheart of Miss Wilson's widowed father at Karlakenden house, Cornish, N. H., last summer, Mrs. Galt was seen usually in white tailored skirts and blouses for morning and either white chiffon or white silk in the evening. She also appeared in a number of exquisite white muslin brothers run for her.

Violets were her favorite corsage bouquet until she returned from Cornish. Since then she has often appeared with a bunch of orchids and it is now realized that these are from the white house conservatories, where at the present moment six thousand chrysanthemums of white and gold are being pushed to quick blossoms for the new white house lady's pleasure.

When walking about Washington, Mrs. Galt was seen in a white serge tailored suit, the jacket decorated in military fashion in white silk braid, white kid low shoes, white silk hosiery and a small black velvet hat.

For a woman of about forty years Mrs. Galt is strikingly handsome. She has dark eyes and wavy dark hair, splendid teeth, a peach bloom complexion and regular features. It is when she smiles, however, that she is irresistible.

Her exceedingly warm, sympathetic nature make those who have the honor of entering her home immediately at ease and she has the faculty of the great French dames of causing those conveying with her to feel they have never before been so brilliant.

The president is not a poor man, but it is probable that Mrs. Galt will bring him a fortune greater than his own. Her husband is understood to have left her about $250,000. As her expenses have never been large, this has been increased considerably. She owns the century-old Galt jewelry store in Washington which two of her

Mrs. Galt is a woman of manifold interests. Her home is full of good books, which share with her music the long winter evenings. She is fond of the theatre. She drives her own electric automobile about Washington.

She plays a fair game of tennis and her golf has improved rapidly under Mr. Wilson's tuition. She proved an ardent baseball "fan" at one of the recent world series games and it is said that the president arranged to see this contest at his fiancée's expressed wish.

Mrs. Galt has not devoted herself to her own amusement by any means. She is active in St. Thomas Episcopal church where she was for some time chairman of the rector's aid society. Besides other local charities she has done much work for the mountain whites of the south, an activity in which the first Mrs. Wilson was also a leader. Mrs. Galt's efforts have always been most unobtrusive.

SHE KEPT HER FACE TURNED TO THE WALL.

That Was Hubby's Order and it Brought About no End of Trouble.

If you were a pretty young woman, absolutely devoted to your husband and really indifferent to every other man, though not entirely free from that susceptibility to flattery that is truly feminine and if your husband was unexpectedly called away one night, leaving one of the twin beds in your apartment vacant and if you were suddenly awakened the next morning and found a strange, foreign looking person, cozily snuggled up under the comforters of that other bed, and if your most vigorous protest against such an inexcusable intrusion was met only with a grunt and a snore, wouldn't it jar you?

Well, just a little, we imagine. It certainly did jar Blanche Hawkins, who, when her husband was called away from home on the evening that was destined to be remembered by them all the rest of their lives, had been cautioned to keep her face turned to the wall and not to go running about in her bare tootsie wootsies when she heard him returning in the small hours of the morning. And Blanche, being an obedient little wife, had followed his instructions. In consequence of which when Signor Monti, an Italian opera singer, living in the same apartment house, blundered into her boudoir after a bibulous night out that had put a crimp into his bump of locality and interfered with his navigating apparatus, how was poor little Blanche to know?

A mistake like this as you may well imagine, would be enough to upset any family and especially when as in the case in point, an overzealous housemaid had proceeded the first thing in the morning to carry what she believed were her master's clothes to the tailor to be pressed.

If we intend to make adequate preparations for standing off all of Europe we will have to be very careful in our selection of white house material.

147 TRESPASSERS KILLED ON SOUTHERN RAILWAY TRACKS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—Making a plea for the conservation of human life, President Fairfax Harrison of Southern Railway Company states that during the fiscal year, ended June 30, 147 trespassers were killed on the tracks of Southern Railway. Mr. Harrison urges the development of a public sentiment that will put an end to the hazardous practice of trespassing on railway property.

"We have prepared a map showing the point at which each trespasser was killed on the Southern Railway during the last year and it looks like a map of the monuments on the Chickamauga battle field," said Mr. Harrison. "Fully one-third of those killed were school boys, 'hopping trains, and a large percentage were valuable wage-earners, walking on the tracks to or from their work. Very few wore tramps in the commonly accepted meaning of the term."

"These figures refer solely to persons walking on tracks, swinging on trains and otherwise intruding on railway property where they have no right or business and do not include persons killed at crossings or those who for any reason have a right or duty to go upon railway property."

"Southern Railway Company is doing all in its power to prevent accidents and injuries and is having splendid co-operation from its employees but no precaution on our part can save the man who deliberately puts himself in the way to be struck by a train. Cannot a public sentiment be developed which will discourse this practice? This is a work in which school teachers and factory superintendents especially and all others with public influence, can render a real service to their committee and their fellow men."

As a matter of fact, Carranza has yet to demonstrate that he is in position to guarantee anything to foreigners in his country.

It's what a man doesn't know about a girl that causes him to fall in love with her.

NEW YORK LETTER.

STRAIGHT LINES IN THE NEW BOX COAT

Variety in Sleeves With Indications of Exaggerated Size—When Does a Cuff Become a Sleeve?

The wealth of artistic and smart ideas in afternoon and street frocks this season, while fascinating, is somewhat bewildering, too.

Of course the chief features are the same, this is out of respect to Fashion's dictates, but there are any number of ways that one may vary these details effectively to meet the demands of one's own personality. Fashion shows are becoming as popular with women in general as any smart social event. The dainty mannequins wear the clothes as if to "The Manor Born" and perhaps a bit more gracefully.

The Popularity of the Box Coat

Since the first showing of Fall and winter fashions there has been much discussion as to whether the regulation tailored suit with normal waistline, snugly fitted, would dominate; at first it seemed as if it would, but since then there has been a decided change toward the looser, belted models, unbelted coats with a half suggestion of waistline, or stranger still, no waist at all, a return in short to the box coat.

These models are now very smart indeed; they appear in tailor-made suits, separate coats and fur coats. Most of the fur coats, in fact, show the box back, even if the front of the coat is belted.

The Modish Box Coat

The effect of these unfitted coats is a bit more youthful than the fitted lines, which demand beauty and grace of figure. The French woman appreciates the line that is most becoming to her figure, and in most instances this is the straight line.

Among the new frocks and suits there are, too, boleros and Etons that are really quite charming. These also are becoming to the average figure.

One seen at a recent fashion show was of gold lace, combined with black charmeuse; it was on an afternoon frock and was simple to a degree but unusually attractive. Another of dark blue serge was made with square cut yoke, back and front, to which the lower portion of the Eton was gathered, forming a soft, full line across the bust, being drawn snugly in at the waist, where it was stitched to a two-inch belt of the serge. The skirts also showed the yoke and was embroidered with a chain-stitch design worked out in silver threads at the joining of yoke and lower portion of the skirt. The same embroidery was carried out on the jacket, on collar, fronts and belt.

The Necessary Touch of Fur

One in talking of fashion must speak again and again of fur—it is so absolutely necessary to gown and suit, that every imaginable animal that has a furry pelt, is being utilized, and the furriers are reaping wonderful harvests. Among the most popular furs for trimming purposes are beaver, seal, and krimmer. The dark blue serge is smartened with a touch of natural gray krimmer, and the satin finished broadcloth is enriched by narrow and wide bands of seal or beaver.

A SNAKE STORY.

C. L. Bowden of Redland, was in our midst Friday and makes affidavit to the following tale: A short time ago he was walking along the road when he spied a large hawk laying in the road. He went up to investigate and found a large black snake with his tail tied in a hard knot around the hawk's neck, which appeared to be choked to death. Mr.

Bowden killed the snake which measured four feet. The hawk was also four feet from tip to tip. Take the case, gentlemen.

WILSON'S DOCTOR SOON TO WED TOO, IS RUMOR.

The engagement of Dr. Cary Grayson, personal physician and naval aide to President Wilson, to Miss Alice Gertrude Gordon is being rumored in Washington society circles.

THE GAME LAWS FOR ALAMANCE.

The recent Legislature enacted a law which makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $50.00 or by imprisonment for thirty days, for anyone to sell or offer for sale, or to buy or offer to buy, quail within the county of Alamance for a period of two years from March 8th, 1915.

Carrying or shipping or in any manner transporting quail out of the county for the purpose of selling same is forbidden. And the fact of taking quail out of the county is prima facie evidence that it was done for the purpose of sale.

The open season for hunting quail is from November 15th to March 1st. The Federal Laws also prohibit the killing of any migratory game or insectivorous birds during the closed season, as prescribed by regulations of the Department of Agriculture under Act of March 4th, 1913, (37 Stat. 847.)

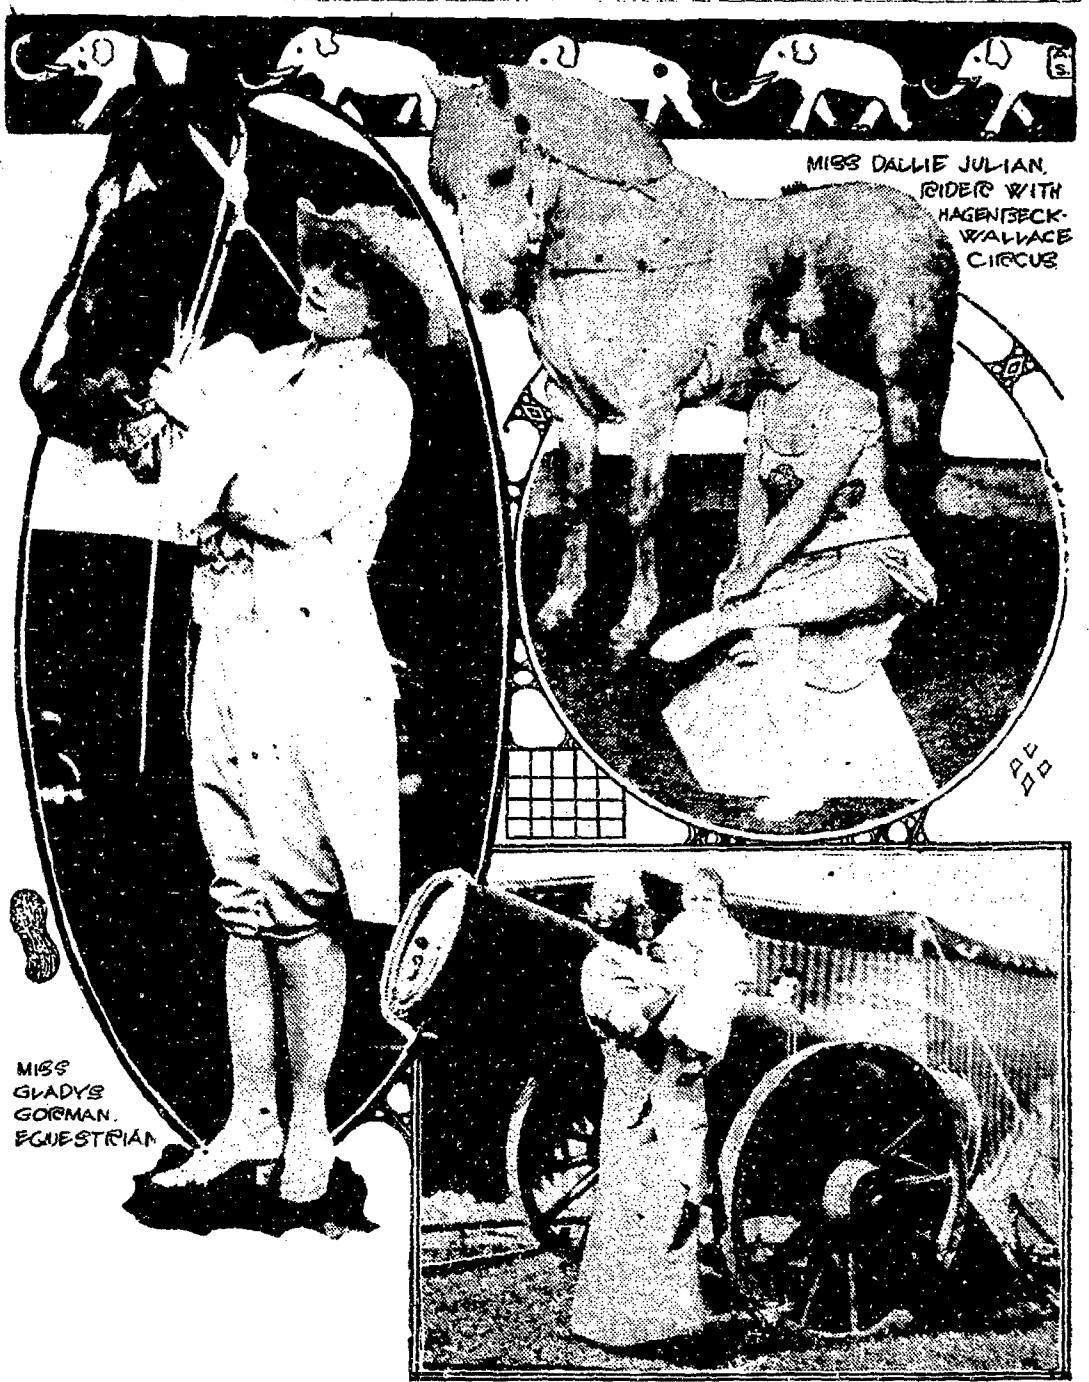

They also prohibit: (a) The shipment from the state of any game the export of which is forbidden by local law.

(b) Export of any games killed in violation of local law during the closed season by illegal methods or for illegal purposes.

(c) Shipment at any time from the state of game in packages not marked so that the name and address of the shipper and the nature of the contents may be readily ascertained by inspection of the outside of the package.

These laws are designed for the protection of the agricultural interests of our county, for the birds are of great value in destroying harmful insects. And it is hoped to stop that practice, indulged in by one, of killing the birds in large numbers, not for the sport of hunting but for the money they can make in selling the birds and without regard to the loss to our county by the extermination of the game.

This new law makes it the duty of every Justice of the Peace and of every township officer to arrest and prosecute any violation that may come to their attention.

Whole Family Benefited By Wonderful Remedy

There are many little things to annoy us, under present conditions of life. The hurry, hard work, noise and strain all tell on us and tend to provoke nervousness and irritability. We are frequently so worn out we can neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort. We are out of line with ourselves and others as well.

A good thing to do under such circumstances is to take something like

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills to relieve the strain on the nerves. Mrs. J. B. Hartsfield, 82 Plum St., Atlanta Ga., writes:

"I have on several occasions been vastly relieved by the use of your medicine, especially the Anti-Pain Pills, which I keep constantly on hand for the use of myself, husband and two sons. Nothing in the world equals them as a headache remedy. Often I am enabled by the use of one or two of the Pills to continue my housework when otherwise I would be in bed. My husband joins me in my praise of the Anti-Pain Pills and Nerveine."

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are relied upon to relieve pain, nervousness and irritability in thousands of households. Of proven merit after twenty years' use, you can have no reason for being longer without them.

At all Druggists, 25 doses 25 cents. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

TRAIN GOES OVER HIM, YET HE WILL RECOVER. Rocky Mount, Oct. 25.—One of the most remarkable escapes from death so far as is recalled by some of the oldest citizens hereabout in railroad history was that of late Friday afternoon at South Rocky Mount, in which B. B. Gregory, a flagman, sustained injuries and severe bruises. The young man was at work on top of a coal car which was being shifted, when in some way, while the train was moving at a fair rate of speed the dumper doors under the bottom of the car, became unlocked or broke and the car load of coal was precipitated under the train and a small quantity, probably a fifth of the car-load through the small holes made by the V shape in the release of the floor. It was through the small V shaped hole that the young man was thrown with great force to the ground, without a wheel striking him, or being mangled in any way by being dragged by the train.

The young man was hustled to the Rocky Mount Sanitarium where a careful examination disclosed severe bruises over his entire body while his greatest injury was in having his left shoulder crushed. While he will never again have normal use of his left arm, so physicians think, they likewise declare that he will recover.

FINDS SON 20 YEARS LOST Mother's Search Ends at Panama Exposition. Concordia (Kna.) Dispatch. Robert Nelson has arrived here from San Francisco to visit his mother who has been searching for him for nearly 20 years. Believing her son might attend the San Francisco Exposition, she inserted advertisements in newspapers there and was rewarded by a message that her son had been found. He was taken from his mother by his father in San Francisco 19 years ago, when he was 8 years old. The mother was left with a 2-year-old daughter, and $50 and told to go to Concordia, Kan., to her mother. A sister, Miss Josephine Nelson, lives in Kansas City. One of the incidents leading up to the discovery was the premonition of the grandmother, Mrs. C. Gilbert, that the hope of her younger days would return to see her before she died. She lies at the point of death at her home. This is the message received by the mother in answer to the advertisement: Dearest Mother: I am coming home to you. My heart is filled with love and gratitude and will wire you latter the exact date of my arrival. Will be there as soon as I can arrange my affairs. With love, I am, ROBERT.

ASKS SLEUTHS TO GET ROBBER OF TRUNK BANK. Kinston, Oct. 27.—Joe Gant, a Greene county planter who never had much faith in banks, has employed detectives to search for $2,200 taken by an unidentified thief from a trunk in his home. The money was the savings of a life-time. After taking it the robber carefully locked the trunk as before. We should perhaps be thankful that some European nation did not gobble us up long ago, being as we were not prepared to offer resistance. When the war is ended there will be so many in the division the chances are that mighty small slice will be left for the little ones.

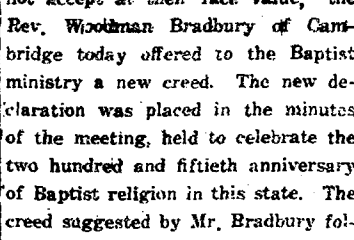

CHIEFS WILL FIGHT IT OUT. Carranza Making Strong Efforts to Vanquish the Villa Army; Troops in Texas—Five Trains With Men and Guns Crossed the Border. El Paso, Texas, Oct. 29.—Two batteries of American artillery numbering eight guns were secretly posted after dark tonight with their muzzles pointed toward Juarez, where a Villa garrison of 1,500 men had given apparently hostile signs toward American troops on border patrol. The first train load of the 5,000 troops, which General Carranza is sending through the United States from Eagle Pass, Texas, to Agua Prieta, Sonora, was expected to pass through this city soon after midnight. The passage of these troops over American soil to fight Villa in Sonora has angered the Juarez garrison and there is danger of trouble. All the American soldiers stationed here, about 5,000 men, were ordered out tonight to guard the railway over which the Carranza train will pass to prevent Villa supporters from attempting to dynamite the troop train. Spofford, Tex., Oct. 29.—Five troop trains, loaded with 5,000 Carranza cavalry men and four three-inch cannon, passed through here this afternoon on their way to Agua Prieta, Sonora, to attack Villa's army from the American side of the border. They were entrained yesterday at Laredo, Texas. This is the first time in the history of the Mexican revolution that Mexican troops have been allowed to cross American territory with arms. General Carranza will arrive at Piedras, Negras, opposite Eagle Pass tomorrow where he will meet John Lind and John Silliman, special agents of the state department. General Obregon, it was reported here, refused to accompany First Chief Carranza to the border owing to a misunderstanding between the two chiefs over the distribution of certain moneys. Obregon remained at Torreon where reports that Carranza had been made a prisoner by his chief military commander were officially denied today.

APOSTLES' CREED IS OPENLY CRITICISED BY CAMBRIDGE MINISTER. Boston, Oct. 26.—After criticising the Apostles' Creed as "containing phrases which the modern mind cannot accept at their face value," the Rev. Wootman Bradbury of Cambridge today offered to the Baptist ministry a new creed. The new declaration was placed in the minutes of the meeting, held to celebrate the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Baptist religion in this state. The creed suggested by Mr. Bradbury follows: "I believe in God, the Father of all races; in Jesus Christ, our Lord, and in the Holy Spirit, the purifier of hearts of men; "I believe in the gospel as the power of God; and the wisdom of God and in Christian good will as the force to transform the world; "I believe in the church universal, the communion of the good, the coming of the kingdom and the life everlasting."

OAKDALE ITEMS.

Mr. Robert Cates died at his home near Cross Roads School on October 18th and was laid to rest in Mt. Zion Cemetery on the following day.

Birthdays are getting to be very common around Oakdale and vicinity. The last one was given to Mrs. Sam Spoon on October 18th by her children and grandchildren.

Miss Stella Allen of Siler City visited at the home of Mr. S. L. Spoon a few days ago.

"Corn shuckings". More than you can shake a stick at every night. Four or five every night—so many we can't go a "possum hunting" one bit.

There is some improvements being made at our schoolhouse. A new stove, cement steps, etc. Our people do not wait for Mr. Joyner to order them, but go on and tend to their own business without consulting Mr. Joyner.

Farmers are working very hard pulling corn, planting and putting seed in as fast as they can, so many got it last year that they fear another next fall. Push is the thing now.

The Denton family bought Mr. Robert Spence a new car. It is a new model and is very nice. We wish them all the best.

THE AMERICAN TARIFF LEAGUE OF NEW YORK.

Dear Sirs:—

Answering your question, "Why do you support the American Protective Tariff League?"

I regard it as highly essential that truthful propaganda in the interests of protection to American industries should be disseminated throughout the United States. I believe that your facilities for doing such work are of an order to justify the encouraging support of every friend of protection.

The inequities associated with the present tariff law must be corrected by the friends of Protection and the day is near when there will be righteous demand from all sources for tariff rates that will prevent this country from being flooded with goods made under economic conditions, such as the world has never known.

As a result of the present war, the great preponderance of women in the European industries who are fitted to maintain an economical status, such as our men and women could not possibly compete with, spell ruin for manufacturing and laboring interests in the United States unless tariff rates are increased to meet those conditions, and which means higher rates than the most ardent protectionist would have advocated a few years ago.

There is also grave apprehension in the minds of many manufacturers in the United States as to their ability to meet the increasing competition from Japan in which country the demand for living and labor costs are much lower than in the European countries, and which our products cannot compete with.

As to the American work people, they are under better conditions than other countries, because of the tariff.

DOUBLE SOMERSAULT.

Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus Has a Remarkable Lady Performer.

The somersault, whether it be single or double, is a feat which requires the most assiduous practice and the most mathematical calculation. The first thing tumblers learn is to jump from a spring board. The sensation of springing through the air is an uncanny one. Next is the "stock" somersault, which consists of merely springing up into the air, and slowly and with practically no physical exertion, turning over. The motion is so slow that the spectator hardly realizes that the performer has revolved. Then begins the drill for the real somersault.

The double somersault has slain scores for in turning in mid-air one is apt to alight on his head or neck, which would mean instant death. There are several men who accomplish this feat. In far-off Hungary, at the Winter Garden Theater, in Austria, Mr. E. E. Wallace, owner of the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus which comes to Burlington, Saturday, Nov. 6th for performances at 2 and 8 P. M., and a parade at 10 o'clock, heard of a woman who was able to accomplish this feat. He deputized his London agent to investigate and he reported that a member of the Great Ward family of aerialists was able to accomplish the double somersault. The act was instantly engaged by cable and their transportation arranged for.

The act is one of the big features of the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus. Miss Miss Wanda, the little aerialist, when she does the feat, spent eight weeks practicing it. At times it seemed as if she would have to give up the idea. However, she finally accomplished the hazardous feat.

There are some people who say they are not interested in the circus. They are wrong. No man has ever seen a double somersault and does not know what it is like. It is a feat that is not to be missed. It is a feat that is not to be missed. It is a feat that is not to be missed.

CENTRAL POWERS OPEN ROAD THROUGH TO CONSTANTINOPLE AND AEGEAN SEA WHEN GERMANS AND BULGARIANS JOIN IN SERBIA.

Teutons Now Can Send Guns and Supplies to Aid Turks Against Allies—Little Slav Nation Faces Doom in North; British and French Fighting Side by Side to Save Part of Their Ally From Being Crushed by Invaders; May Yet Rob Bulgaria of Macedonia; Rumania is Restless.

London, Oct. 27.—The German army which crossed the Danube at Orsova has joined the Bulgarians, who invaded Serbia near Prahovo, and the central powers now have an open road through Northeastern Serbia and Bulgaria to the Aegean Sea and Constantinople. They are thus in a position to send guns and munitions by river and railway to their Bulgarian and Turkish allies, who will be greatly strengthened thereby.

The invasion of Northern Serbia by the Austro-Germans continues apace, while Bulgaria is putting forth a strong effort to secure control of additional sections of the Belgrade-Saloniki railway.

So far as the north is concerned, Serbia, it is felt by her allies, is doomed, but in the south, reinforcements by the British and French who are fighting by her side, Serbia is using all her strength to throw the Bulgarians back. After the French victory at Krivolah, the Serbians, according to the Athens report, were able to re-occupy Voles, an important railway and road junction just south of Ustip, where a big battle is still in progress.

SUFFRAGE LEADERS SEEM CONFIDENT OF NEW YORK VICTORY.

Close Campaign With Rousing Meetings—Ministers to Take up Slogan Today—Election Outlook in Other States.

New York, Oct. 30.—The suffragists closed their campaign for votes tonight and leaders expressed confidence that the woman suffrage amendment to the State constitution will be carried in next Tuesday's election. The climax came in an open-air concert and mass meeting in Madison Square and in the completion of 26 hours of continuous oratory at Columbus circle. The speaking began at 10 o'clock last night students from Columbia University starting it.

Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw presided at the Madison Square rally. The speakers including J. Stilt Wilson of California, Redmond Robins and Katherine B. Davis, commission of connection.

Dr. Shaw Confident. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association declared that she was confident of success next Sunday.

Anti-suffragists also were busy tonight. They held a mass meeting under the auspices of the New York State Association opposed to woman suffrage in Carnegie Hall where last night the suffragists held forth.

There will be no day of rest for suffrage workers tomorrow. Fifty ministers in Manhattan will preach suffrage sermons or make addresses to men's and women's societies that meet in their churches.

Massachusetts Campaign

Boston, Oct. 30.—The candidate of the four leading political parties to meet in a debate last week of their respective platforms in this city. The candidates are: W. M. ...

Governor Walsh, speaking from several platforms in Boston during the afternoon and night, said his tour had convinced him that he was to get the third term which the state has been accustomed to give its executives.

Maryland Outlook. Baltimore, Oct. 30.—After an energetic state campaign by candidates of the two leading parties, which practically closed tonight, both the Democratic and Republican leaders tonight expressed confidence in the victory of their respective standard bearers at next Tuesday's election. Maryland is normally a Democratic state but the Republicans claim that the splendid business record of their gubernatorial nominee, Ovington E. Weller, will influence the independent vote and enable the party to repeat its feat of four years ago when Goldsborough was elected governor.
