The best proof Burlington Citizens Cannot Doubt

Don't Kidney Pills were used by the reader and his family. The story was told to Burlington Drug Co. by Mr. W. H. Sweet.

Time has strengthened the evidences given by all. It has proven the cure permanency. The testimony is from this local drug house.

The proof convincing. A. W. Webber, 219 N. W. St., Graham, N. C., says, "I suffered from kidney trouble for many years. I tried many remedies, but all the claims made for them and the promises given to make me well, were all base. In April, 1910, I took 30 capsules of Burlington Kidney Pills, and as a result my health has been restored and I feel that I am quite well."

RE-ENDORSEMENT.

On January 27th, 1912, Mr. Webster, local farmer, said: "I continue to think highly of Burlington Kidney Pills. I do not believe I would have been alive today were it not for this remedy." For sale by all dealers. Prices: 25c per bottle. Burlington Kidney Pills live up to their name and take no other.

Reep Attacks of Death

"Five years ago two doctors told me I had only two years to live." This startling statement was made by Mrs. G. W. M. Meek, Grandview, Meek. "They told me I would die with consumption. It was up to me then to try the best medicine and I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery. It was well, for it saved my life. I am working and believe I can live another 30 years. I have been cured of consumption and I would not change my medicine for the world."

ROOSEVELT SMASHES THE PENROSE-ARCHBOLD PLOT

THEODORE ROOSEVELT for the attack upon him by Republican Senator Penrose and President Archbold made a great speech the other day in Pa-state, in which he said that he had been beaten in the stand, when he, or himself, had advised Archbold to consider the old saying that a good reputation is better than a good name.

The President's attitude, points to a rise of the standard of public life. The archbald's section of the stands, and the archbald's section of the stand, is due to the fact that he is a publicist, and that the publicists are less sensitive than the politicians.

The President is the most publicist of the publicists. His speech is not only based on his knowledge, but is a full recital concerning the affairs of the nation.

As to the contributions to his campaign fund, Roosevelt says, full statement and letter, and telegram to the Standard Oil people for $100, expressly saying that the Standard Oil money was not only received, but its source was known.

Mr. Roosevelt and I cannot help remembering with wire. The

Our Candidates.

For President: Theodore Roosevelt.

For Vice President: Hiram W. Johnson.

Our Platform: The Sunday News and Observer.

Our Watchword: A SQUARE DEAL.

And Maine too.

Maine said to Mr. Woodrow.

Woodrow's local option does not appeal to Maine.

Remember Maine. She is doing it too.

If it's true that Woodrow has only $175,000 for campaign expenses, the campaign is near the end.

The "Invisible Government," Col. Roosevelt, has been using the language in his Chicago speech. The first essential is the right of the people to the rule of the people. The rule now is in Fourth of July speeches.

On the eve before the election, Governor Poinsett of Maine predicted he would be re-elected by a majority of fifteen thousand. But what he predicted was not said. Let the people rule.

The Waller Injunction.

Sunday's News and Observer considered the Waller Injunction as the present pending petition for an injunction against the State Dispatch Pub. Co., and noted that the injunction failed to be granted.

The facts are these and not otherwise.

The facts are the same.

The facts are all of it in the present circumspect.

Control Of Ohio.

Columbus, O.,--The Progressive party today began its last campaign, the President Taft's Home. State convention platform modelled on the National platform adopted at full State ticket was named and got up in California. Progressive leaders present included the President and the Secretary of State, J. W. G. Carlin. A. J. Garfield of Blythe, Dr. H. W. Carlin, of Blythe, and A. J. Garfield were candidates for the State convention platform modelled on the National platform adopted at full State ticket was named and got up in California.

Governor Johnson's address was read to the delegates and Governor Wilson was interjected his endorsement of the plan of the convention.

Speaker Clark says he is proud of the statement that the country has a right to change the policy of the party, and that the right to rule it was left to a stockholders meeting. Of course the same thing would be done, for that is the way "rule or ruin."
Mr. Epps has been living in North Carolina for the past six months and has been looking for a place to settle. He has finally decided to move to Burlington, N.C., and has leased a house on the north side of town.

The President stated to the Board that some improvements had been made in the town of Burlington and Graham, indicating that the town was growing in population and business. He said that there had been an increase in the number of businesses in the past year, and that the town was becoming more attractive to visitors.

The President also spoke of the need for more public buildings, such as a library and a park, and suggested that the town might consider establishing a public library and a public park.

The President ended the meeting by thanking the Board for their dedication and hard work, and expressing his confidence in the future of the town.

The Progressive Convention

The spirit of the Chicago, convention, was that of a mighty force which, like a tidal wave, swept over the country. The national convention at Chicago was a response to the demands of the people. The delegates assembled thousands into a single working of a mighty force which, as they said, "will assert that we are a nation and a people." The convention was a triumph of popular sovereignty, a demonstration of the power of the people. It was a successful experiment in direct democracy, a step forward in the struggle for democratic government.

Our intellectual and moral systems are intellectually and morally strong enough to be trusted with the power of the people. In the most satisfactory way the convention represented the will of the people, and in the most satisfactory way it was a triumph of popular sovereignty, a demonstration of the power of the people. It was a successful experiment in direct democracy, a step forward in the struggle for democratic government.

Farmers and Tobacco

Farmers of Alamance and adjoining counties doubtless are feeling blue on account of the poor prospects for a good crop of tobacco. I don't say this crop of tobacco will bring about as much money as if the seasons had been good. My reason for saying this is on account of the shortage in pounds. Prices will be much higher than if this had been full grown. I am just back from South Carolina.

The crop was only fair there, still the general average of the entire State will be near $12 per hundred. Here we have an extremely short in this State of tobacco, so it will be high prices. It behooves me to say the Burlington market will be in the best shape in its history, with all the big companies and good tobacco men represented. Morgan, the Hustler, will welcome and most of the best prices for your tobacco that have reached your States in the past year. We will open our Warehouse FRIDAY the 20th. The only way to get the best prices for your tobacco. Don't delay in bringing your tobacco to market.

COME TO SEE ME.

YOUR FRIEND,

Morgan
